WHere at the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter in the fifth year of your Majeſties Reign, there was among other, made and provided an Act touching certain politick Conſtitutions made for the maintenance of the Navy, and in the ſame amongſt other things, It was enacted, That from the firſt day of April, in the year of our Lord God, M.D. lxiiii. and ſo from thenceforth it ſhould be lawful to all and every the Subjects of your Majeſty, your Heirs and Succeſſors, at his and their will and pleaſure, to carry and tranſport out of this Realm in their Ships and other Veſſels of any the Subjects aforeſaid, all and every kind of Herring, and other Sea-fiſh to be taken upon the Sea by any the Subjects aforeſaid: any Act of Parliament or Law to the contrary notwithſtanding. And that all and every perſon and perſons, which ſhould by vertue of that Act, tranſport or carry any Herring or Sea-fiſh from out of any Port or Harbour of this Realm, to any place out of the Dominions of your Majeſty, your Heirs and Succeſſors, ſhould be free from payment of any Cuſtoms, Subſidy, or Poundage-money, for the ſame fiſh ſo carried or tranſported, during the ſpace of four whole years, beginning at the ſaid firſt day of April, M. D. lxiiii. and ſo further during your Majeſties pleaſure; which term of four years is now expired and ended.

And where it is by experience found, That the ſaid Act hath been a very good Act, and greatly encreaſed the Navy and Fiſhermen, and cauſeth many poor men to be ſet a work, and is in great likelihood daily to encreaſe the ſame more and more: It may pleaſe your moſt excellent Majeſty, of your abundant grace, that it may be enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That ſo much of the ſaid Act as is above recited for liberty of tranſporting of Herring and Sea-fiſh, by the natural born Subjects of your Majeſty, your Heirs or Succeſſors, and for freedom from paying of any Cuſtome, Subſidy, or Poundage-money, ſhall be revived, and ſhall from thenceforth continue for the ſpace of ſix years from the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, and from thenceforth during your Majeſties moſt gracious pleaſure, ſo that ſuch tranſporting be in Veſſels with croſſe ſailes.

A continuance of part of the Statute of 5 El. for 6. years. EXP.

And where alſo in the ſaid Act made in the ſaid fifth year, amongſt other things, all manner of perſons are generally forbidden to bring into this Realm any Coddes or Lings, in Barrels or other Casks, upon pain of forfeiture of all the Coddes and Lings ſo to be brought in, or the value thereof, contrary to the tenour of this Act. Foraſmuch as by that branch of the ſaid Statute, it was well intended and meant to meet with the fraud of ſtrangers and other which brought into this Realm great quantity of Coddes and Lings deceitfully packed in Barrels, and not meant to hinder any the Queens Majeſties Subjects, uſing uprightneſſe and truth in the barrelling of ſuch fiſh: May it therefore pleaſe your Majeſty, that it be further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That after the Feaſt of Eaſter, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God, 1575. it ſhall be lawful from thenceforth to all your Majeſties loving Subjects born within this Realm, or within any other your Majeſties Dominions (uſing no fraud or deceit in packing or barrelling thereof) for the term of ſix years next enſuing, to bring into this Realm, or any other your Highneſſe Dominions, all ſuch Coddes and Lings as they ſhall happen to take upon the Sea by their own fiſhing in Veſſels with croſſe Sailes, without incurring any forfeiture or penalty therefore: Any thing in the ſaid Act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

5 Eliz. 5.

What Coddes may be brought into the Realm in barrels and casks. EXP. 27 Eliz. 15.

And for the avoiding of the lewd Outrages committed and done upon the Sea-coaſts of Norfolk and Suffolk by the Catches, Mongers and Picards, pretending to buy freſh-Herrings, and which do cut in ſunder divers pieces of Fiſhermens Nets, travelling the high Seas to take freſh-Herrings, to the utter undoing of the ſaid poor Fiſhermen: Be it therefore enacted, ordained, and eſtabliſhed by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That no perſon or perſons uſing any Ship, Boat or Veſſel, called Catch, Monger or Picard, or other Veſſel of like uſe, ſhall in the time of common fiſhing upon the ſaid Sea-coaſts of Norfolk and Suffolk, between the fourteenth day of September, and the fourteenth day of November, from Sun ſetting to Sun-riſing, ankor upon the main Sea, or in the common ſtream or trade of fiſhing, where the Fiſhermen uſe to drive, upon pain to forfeit their Catch, Monger, Picard or Veſſel, with the tackle and all the fiſh in the ſame, or the value thereof: the one half to your Majeſty, your Heirs and Succeſſors, the other half to the Bayliffs, Burgeſſes, and Commonalty of the Town of great Yarmouth, to be imployed to the recompencing his damages to the Party whoſe Nets ſhall ſo be cut, and to the building and repairing of the decayed Haven there, and to be taken by way of ſeizure, or otherwiſe to be recovered by Bill, Action or Information, in any of your Majeſties Courts of Record: any Statute, Law, or Uſe to the contrary notwithſtanding.

What kind of ſhips ſhall not ankor upon the Sea in the time of common-fiſhing.

And where your Subjects uſing the Trade of Fiſhing for Herring, having of many years, and time out of mind, uſed to pack their Herring in Cask of Barrels, containing about two and thirty gallons of uſual Wine meaſure, and with ſuch Aſſiſe hath been uſually gaged and allowed at your honourable City of London, and do contain the ſame meaſure of two and thirty gallons, according to ſuch uſual braſſe meaſure as is out of your honourable Court of Exchequer delivered to your ſaid honourable City of London: which meaſure yet hath lately been quarrelled at by certain Informers, for that the ſame contain not two and thirty gallons by the old meaſure of Standard, which they never did, though peradventure the extremity of old Statutes in words, by ſome mens conſtruction might be ſtretched to require ſo much. And for that the uſual Barrels now be as great as ever within the time of any memory they have been known to be, and the alteration thereof would be a great decay and peril of undoing to the ſaid Fiſhermen: It may alſo pleaſe your moſt excellent Majeſty, that it be alſo enacted and declared, That the ſaid Aſſiſe of two and thirty gallons of Wine meaſure, which is about eight and twenty gallons by old Standard well packed, and containing in every Barrel uſually a thouſand full Herrings at the leaſt, is and ſhall be taken for good, true, and lawful Aſſiſe of Herring-barrels, throughout the whole liberty of the ſaid Town of great Yarmouth, and elſewhere: Any ancient or former Law or Statute to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The aſſiſe of Herring-barrels.

Be it further enacted, That no fiſh hereafter to be taken or brought in this Realm by any ſtranger, nor any fiſh commonly called Scotiſh-fiſh, or Flemiſh-fiſh, ſhall be dryed within England to be ſold, upon pain of forfeiture of all ſuch fiſh to be dryed, contrary to the meaning of this Act, or the value thereof: which forfeiture ſhall be to ſuch perſon dwelling at any Town where is any Port, Peer or Haven, as will ſeize the ſame fiſh, or will ſue for the ſame value in any Court of Record, to be imployed to the reparation and maintenance of ſuch Port, Peer or Haven, as is next to the place where the offence ſhall be committed.

No foreign fiſh ſhall be dryed within England to be ſold.

b Coke li. 6. fol. 29.

That the Churches of the Queens Majeſties Dominions may be ſerved with Paſtors of ſound Religion: Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That every perſon under the degree of a Biſhop, which doth, or ſhall pretend to be a Prieſt or Miniſter of Gods holy Word and Sacraments, by reaſon of any other form of Inſtitution, Conſecration, or ordering, than the form ſet forth by Parliament in the time of the late King of moſt worthy memory, King Edward the ſixth, or now uſed in the reign of our moſt gracious Soveraign Lady, before the Feaſt of the Nativity of Chriſt next following, ſhall in the preſence of the Biſhop or Guardian of the ſpiritualties of ſome one Dioceſſe where he hath or ſhall have Eccleſiaſtical living, declare his aſſent, and [a] ſubſcribe to all the Articles of Religion, which only concern the confeſſion of the true Chriſtian Faith, and the Doctrine of the Sacraments, compriſed in a Book imprinted, entituled, Articles, whereupon it was agreed by the Archbiſhops and Biſhops of both Provinces, and the whole Clergy in the Convocation holden at London in the year of our Lord God, a thouſand five hundred ſixty and two, according to the computation of the Church of England, for the avoiding of the diverſities of Opinions, and for the eſtabliſhing of conſent touching true Religion, put forth by the Queens authority: and ſhall bring from ſuch Biſhop or Guardian of ſpiritualties, in writing under his Seal authentick, a teſtimonial of ſuch aſſent and ſubſcription, and openly on ſome Sunday in the time of ſome publick Service, afternoon, in every Church where by reaſon of any Eccleſiaſtical living he ought to attend, read both the ſaid Teſtimonial, and the ſaid Articles, upon pain that every ſuch perſon which ſhall not before the ſaid Feaſt do as is above appointed, ſhall be ([b] ipſo facto) deprived, and all his Eccleſiaſtical promotions ſhall be void, as if he then were naturally dead.

The penalty for maintaining of doctrine againſt the Articles.

And that if any perſon Eccleſiaſtical, or which ſhall have Eccleſiaſtical living, ſhall adviſedly maintain or affirm any Doctrine directly contrary or repugnant to any of the ſaid Articles, and being convented before the Biſhop of the Dioceſſe, or the Ordinary, or before the Queens Highneſſe Commiſſioners in cauſes Eccleſiaſtical, ſhall perſiſt therein, or not revoke his errour, or after ſuch revocation eftſoon affirm ſuch untrue Doctrine: ſuch maintaining or affirming, and perſiſting, or ſuch eftſoon affirming, ſhall be juſt cauſe to deprive ſuch perſon of his Eccleſiaſtical promotions: And it ſhall be lawful to the Biſhop of the Dioceſſe, or the Ordinary, or the ſaid Commiſſioners, to deprive ſuch perſon ſo perſiſting, or lawfully convicted of ſuch eftſoons affirming, and upon ſuch ſentence of deprivation pronounced, he ſhall be indeed deprived.

Severall things required in him which ſhall be admitted to a Benefice.

And that no perſon ſhall hereafter be admitted to any Benefice with Cure, except he then be of the age of three and twenty years at the leaſt, and a Deacon, and ſhall firſt have ſubſcribed the ſaid Articles in preſence of the Ordinary, and publickly read the ſame in the Pariſh Church of that Benefice, with declaration of his unfained aſſent to the ſame. And that every perſon after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, to be admitted to a Benefice with Cure, except that within two moneths after his induction he do publickly read the ſaid Articles in the ſame Church whereof he ſhall have Cure, in the time of Common-Prayer there, with declaration of his unfeigned aſſent thereunto, and be admitted to miniſter the Sacraments within one year after his induction, if he be not ſo admitted before, ſhall be upon every ſuch default, ipſo facto, immediately deprived.

And that no perſon now permitted by any diſpenſations or otherwiſe, ſhall retain any Benefice with Cure, being under the age of one and twenty years, or not being Deacon at the leaſt, or which ſhall not be admitted as is aforeſaid, within one year after the making of this Act, or within ſix moneths after he ſhall accompliſh the age of xxiiii. years, on pain that ſuch his diſpenſation ſhall be meerly void.

The age of a Miniſter or Preacher, and his Teſtimonial.

And that none ſhall be made Miniſter, or admitted to preach or adminiſter the Sacraments, being under the age of four and twenty years, nor unleſſe he firſt bring to the Biſhop of that Dioceſſe, from men known to the Biſhop to be of ſound Religion, a Teſtimonial both of his honeſt life, and of his profeſſing the Doctrine expreſſed in the ſaid Articles: nor unleſſe he be able to anſwer and render to the Ordinary an accompt of his Faith in Latine, according to the ſaid Articles, or have ſpecial gift and ability to be a Preacher: nor ſhall be admitted to the order of Deacon or Miniſtry, unleſſe he ſhall firſt ſubſcribe to the ſaid Articles.

Who may have a Benefice of the yearly value of xxx. li.

And that none hereafter ſhall be admitted to any Benefice with Cure, of or above the value of thirty pounds yearly in the Queens Books, unleſſe he ſhall then be a Batchelour of Divinity, or a Preacher lawfully allowed by ſome Biſhop within this Realm, or by one of the Univerſities of Cambridge or Oxford.

All Admiſſions, Inductions, Tolerations.

And that all admiſſions to Benefices, Inſtitutions and Inductions, to be made of any perſon contrary to the form or any proviſion of this Act, and all tolerations, diſpenſations, qualifications and licences whatſoever to be made to the contrary hereof, ſhall be meerly void in Law, as if they never were.

No lapſe upon deprivation, but after notice.

a Dyer, fol. 377. 346. 369. Co. li. 6. fol. 29.

Provided alway, That no title to confer or preſent by [a] lapſe, ſhall accrue upon any deprivation, ipſo facto, but after ſix moneths after notice of ſuch deprivation given by the Ordinary to the Patron.

CAP. XIII.

When Corn may be tranſported, and when not.

For the increaſe of Tillage, and for maintenance and increaſe of the Navy and Mariners of this Realm: Be it enacted, That from and after the Feaſt of the Nativity of St. John Baptiſt next coming, it ſhall be lawful to all and every perſon and perſons, being Subjects of the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and inhabiting within her Highneſſe, neſſe Realms and Dominions, only out of ſuch Ports and Creeks where are or ſhall be reſident a Cuſtomer or Collector of Subſidy of Tonnage and Poundage, or one of their Deputies, and not elſewhere, to load, carry or tranſport any Wheat, Rye, Barley, Malt, Peaſe or Beans, into any parts beyond the Seas, being in amity with this Realm, and not prohibited by any reſtraint or Proclamaiton, only to ſell as a merchandize in Ships, Crayers, or other Veſſels, bearing croſſe Sailes, whereof any Engliſh born Subjects, inhabiting within her Highneſſe Realms and Dominions, then ſhall be the only Owners, at ſuch times as the ſeveral prices thereof ſhall be ſo reaſonable and moderate in the ſeveral Counties where any ſuch tranſportation ſhall be intended, as that no prohibition ſhall be made either by the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs or Succeſſors, by Proclamation to be made in the Shire Town, or in any Port Towns of the County, or elſe by ſome order of the Lord Preſident and Councel in the North, or the Lord Preſident and Councel in Wales, within their ſeveral juriſdictions, or of the Juſtices of Aſſiſe at their Seſſions in other Shires, out of the juriſdiction of the ſaid two Preſidents and Councels, or by the more part of the Juſtices of the Peace of the County at their Quarter Seſſions, in this manner following: that is, The ſaid Lord Preſidents and Councels for the Shires within their Juriſdictions, the Juſtices of Aſſiſe at their ſeveral Seſſions in other Shires out of the ſaid Juriſdictions belonging to the ſaid Councels in the North, and in Wales, yearly ſhall upon conference had with the Inhabitants of the Country, of the cheapneſſe and dearth of any the ſaid kinds of Grain within the Counties within the Juriſdictions of the ſaid Councels, or in the other Countries within the limits of the ſaid Juſtices of Aſſiſe, by their diſcretion determine whether it ſhall be meet at any time to permit any Grain to be carried out of the Realm, by any Port within the ſaid ſeveral Juriſdictions or Limits, and ſo ſhall in writing under their Hands and Seals cauſe and make a determination either for permiſſion or prohibition, and the ſame cauſe to be by the Sheriffs of the Counties publiſhed, and affixed in as many accuſtomed Market Towns and Ports within the ſaid Shire, as they ſhall think convenient, and in ſuch manner as the Queens Majeſties Proclamations are uſually publiſhed and affixed: which determination of the ſaid Preſidents and Councels in their Juriſdictions, and of the Juſtices of Aſſiſe in their limits ſhall continue in force for the time, place and manner therein expreſſed, untill the ſaid Preſidents and Councels ſhall otherwiſe order, or untill the Juſtices of Aſſiſe at their being in their ſaid Circuits, in every of the ſaid Counties, ſhall alter or otherwiſe order the ſame, except the ſame ſhall be otherwiſe in the mean time altered or countermanded by the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs or Succeſſors, or by ſome order of the Juſtices of the Peace in the Counties ſituated out of the Juriſdictions of the ſaid two Councels in their Quarter Seſſions to be holden in the mean time, or the greater part of them, which ſhall find the ſame determination of the Juſtices of Aſſiſe to be hurtful to the County by means of dearth, or to be a great hinderance to Tillage by means of too much cheapneſſe, and ſhall by their writings, under their Hands and Seals make any determination to the contrary, either for permiſſion or prohibition of carriage of any kind of Grain out of the Realm, and the ſame determination ſhall cauſe to be in like manner publiſhed and affixed, as above is ſaid: which determination ſhall alſo continue in force, except the ſame ſhall be altered by the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, or untill the Juſtices of Aſſiſe, at their being in their ſaid Circuits, in every of the ſaid Counties afore to them limited, ſhall alter, or otherwiſe order the ſame, who ſhall and may upon new conference had, by their diſcretions from time to time alter and change the ſaid determinations in the whole, or in part, as to their diſcretions ſhall ſeem meet, and the ſame ſhall alſo cauſe to be publiſhed, as is before preſcribed.

Corn may be tranſported out of ſome Ports, and with ſome kind of ſhips, when the prices be allowed reaſonable.

Who ſhall have authority to determine of the tranſporting of Corn, or the reſtraint thereof.

Provided neverthleſſe, That neither any of the ſaid Preſidents and Councels, nor the ſaid Juſtices of Aſſiſe, nor the ſaid Juſtices of Peace above mentioned, ſhall publiſh any their determinations above mentioned, untill the ſame ſhall be firſt by writing notified to the Queens Majeſty, or to her Privy Councel, and by her Majeſty or her Privy Councel ſhall be liked or allowed.

The Juſtices order ſhall be firſt notified to the Queen or her Councel, and then allowed.

Provided alſo, That the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, ſhall have and receive by the Cuſtomers and Officers of her Ports for the Cuſtome or Poundage of every quarter of Wheat to be tranſported by force of this Statute, xii. d. and of every quarter of any other grain, viii. d. and of every quarter of Wheat that ſhall be by any ſpecial licence hereafter to be granted, tranſported out of the Realm, and not by force of this Statute, ii. s. and of every quarter of other grain, ſixteen pence, notwithſtanding any manner of words that ſhall be contained or inſerted in any Licences to the contrary: which ſaid ſeveral ſums ſo to be had or taken as Cuſtome or Poundage, to be in full ſatisfaction of all manner of Cuſtome or Poundage for the ſaid Corn or Grain, by any Conſtitution, Order, Statute, Law or Cuſtome, heretofore made, uſed, or taken for tranſporting of any ſuch manner of Corn or Grain.

The Cuſtome due to the Queen of corn tranſported either by force of this Statute, or by Licence.

Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, may at all times by her Writ of Proclamation to be publiſhed generally in the whole Realm or in the Counties of the Realm where any Port-Towns are, command that no perſon ſhall by vertue of this Act tranſport or carry out any manner of grain to any parts out of her Dominions, either generally out of any Port in the Realm, or particularly out of any ſpecial Ports, to be in the ſame Proclamation named, and that it may not be lawful for any perſon to carry out any ſuch grain, contrary to the tenour of the ſame Proclamation, upon ſuch pains as by the Laws of the Realm are and have been provided. Stat. 1 & 2 P. & M. 5. 1 Jac. 25. 21 Jac. 28. 3 Car. 4.

The Queen by Proclamation may reſtrain the tranſporting of Corn.

The Statute of 12 Ed. 4. 2. touching Bowſtaves, confirmed; and for every Tunne weight of Merchandize, four Bowſtaves ſhall be brought into this Realm.

The benefit of Archery, and the cauſe of the decay thereof.

A confirmation of the Stat. of 12 Ed. 4. 2. touching the bringing into this Realm of Bowſtaves.

What ſort of Merchants are compellable to bring Bowſtaves into this Realm.

Who ſhall have the forfeitures, and by what means. Stat. 1 R. 3. 11. 33 H. 8. 9.

WHereas the uſe of Archery not only hath ever been, but alſo yet is by Gods ſpecial gift to the Engliſh Nation, a ſingular defence of this Realm, and an occaſion of many noble Victories, and both a very wholeſome exerciſe for the health and ſtrength of mens bodies, and a maintenance of a great number of the Queens true Subjects and Artificers, as Bowyers, Fletchers, Stringers, Arrowhead-makers, & others of this Realm: and for that among other cauſes of the decay of Archery, one great cauſe is the exceſſive price of Bowſtaves, which groweth principally by the ſcarcity of Bowſtaves brought into this Realm. For reformation whereof, Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That all the Statutes made in the xii. year of the reign of King Edward the fourth, concerning bringing in of a certain number of Bowſtaves, according to the weight or value of other Wares to be brought into this Realm, ſhall from henceforth be duly put in execution. And be it enacted and declared by this preſent Statute, that all Merchant-ſtrangers, uſing to bring Wares into this Realm from the Eaſt parts, as well from the 72. Hanſe Towns, be compriſed and meant under the name of, and bound as the Merchants mentioned and bound by the ſaid Statute, to bring in Bowſtaves, upon like pains and forfeitures as by the ſaid Statutes are appointed. And where the greateſt cauſe of not putting the ſaid Statute in execution hath been, that the forfeitures thereby limited, are by the ſaid Statute given only to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, without any reward to the perſon that ſhall ſue for the ſame: Be it enacted, That from henceforth all the forfeitures appointed by the ſaid Statutes, ſhall be imployed in form following, that is to ſay, the one half thereof to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, the other half to ſuch perſons as ſhall ſue for the ſame in any Court of Record, wherein no eſſoine, protection, nor wager of Law for the Defendant ſhall be admitted or allowed. And it may pleaſe the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, That it be on her Highneſſe part ſtraightly charged and commanded, That all the Statutes now remaining in force, for repreſſing of unlawful Games, and for the maintenance and uſe of Archery, ſhall be duly put in execution for ever, under the pains in the ſaid Statutes contained.

The Statute of 1 Eliz. 13. prohibiting the croſſing of the Sea with a Hoy, or Plate of an Engliſh mans, revived: and a repeal of the Statute of 5 Eliz. 5. that repealeth that Statute.

1 Eliz. 13.

5 Eliz. 5.

A reviver of the Statute of 1 El. 13. and repeal of the Statute of 5 El. touching Hoyes croſſing the Seas.

WHere at the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter in the firſt year of your Highneſſe Reign, It was amongſt other things enacted, That no Hoy or Plate, whereof any Engliſh Subject then was or ſhould be Owner or Owners, at any time after the firſt day of January next enſuing the Seſſion of the ſame Parliament, from any Port, Creek or place of this Realm of England, or any of the Dominions of the ſame, ſhould traverſe or croſſe the Seas into or for any of the Ports beyond the Seas, with any Wares, Goods or Merchandizes, upon pain that the ſaid Owner or Owners ſhould forfeit and loſe the ſame Hoy or Plate, with all and every the munition, tackling, and other neceſſaries pertaining thereunto, as by the ſame Statute more at large doth and may appear. And whereas by an Eſtatute made in the fifth year of your Highneſſe Reign, It is amongſt other things enacted, That from thenceforth all Engliſh Hoyes and Plates might croſſe the Seas as far as Cane in Normandy, and Eaſtward as far as Norway: the ſaid Statute made in the firſt year of your Highneſſe Reign to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding. And foraſmuch as the ſaid branch in the ſaid Eſtatute, made in the fifth year of your Reign, tendeth greatly to the decay of Mariners and Ships, by the marvellous increaſe of Hoyes: Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That from the Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel next coming, the ſaid clauſe contained in the ſaid Eſtatute made in the ſaid fifth year of your Reign, for the croſſing of the Seas by Hoyes and Plates, ſhall be utterly repealed and made void, and of none effect. And that from the ſaid Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel next, the ſaid Eſtatute made in the firſt year of your Reign, prohibiting the croſſing of the Seas by Hoyes and Plates, be obſerved and kept: the ſaid Eſtatute made in the fifth year of your Majeſties Reign to the contrary hereof notwithſtanding. This Act to continue untill the end of the next Parliament. EXP.

CAP. XX.

How long Leaſes made of Eccleſiaſtical Livings with Cure, may ſtand in force; and how they may be avoided.

That the Livings appointed for Eccleſiaſtical Miniſters, may not by corrupt and indirect dealings be transferred to other Uſes: Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That no Leaſe after the fifteenth day of May next following the beginning of this Parliament, to be made of any Benefice or Eccleſiaſtical promotion with Cure, or any part thereof, and not being impropriated, ſhall endure any longer than while the Leſſor ſhall be ordinarily reſident, and ſerving the Cure of ſuch Benefice without [a] abſence above fourſcore dayes in any one year, but that every ſuch Leaſe, ſo ſoon as it, or any part thereof, ſhall come to any poſſeſſion or uſe above forbidden, or immediately upon ſuch abſence, ſhall ceaſe and be void, and the Incumbent ſo offending, ſhall for the ſame loſe one years profit of his ſaid Benefice, to be diſtributed by the Ordinary among the poor of the Pariſh. And that all chargings of ſuch Benefices with Cure, hereafter with any penſion, or with any profit out of the ſame to be yielded or taken, hereafter to be made, other than Rents to be reſerved upon Leaſes hereafter to be made, according to the meaning of this Act, ſhall be utterly void.

CAP. XXI.

In what caſes the Queens Purveyors may take Victuals, &c. in Cambridge or Oxford, or within five miles thereof; and in what not.

Whereas in the ſecond and third years of the late King Philip and Queen Mary, It was with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in that preſent Parliament aſſembled, enacted, ordained and eſtabliſhed, That from thenceforth no manner of Purveyor, Taker, Badger, Loader, or other miniſter, might or ſhould take or bargain for any kind of victual or grain, in any of the Markets of the Town of Cambridge, and the City of Oxford, or ſhould take or bargain for any victual within the compaſſe of five miles thereunto adjoyning, without the conſent, agreement, or good will of the Owner or Owners, neither ſhould attempt to carry, take away, or bargain for any manner of grain, or other victual, bought or provided within the ſaid ſpace of five miles, by any common Miniſter of any Colledge, Hoſtel or Hall, to be ſpent within any of the ſaid Colledges, Hoſtels or Halls, upon pain of forfeiture of the quadruple value of any ſuch manner of grain or victual, ſo taken or bargained for in any of the ſaid Markets, or within the ſaid ſpace of five miles, againſt the will of the Owners as is aforeſaid, or attempted to be taken or carried away, or bargained for, being provided as is aboveſaid, for to be ſpent within any of the ſaid Colledges, Hoſtels or Halls, and further, ſhould ſuffer impriſonment for the ſpace of three moneths, without bail or mainpriſe: and that the Chancellour or Vice-Chancellour, or his Commiſſary for the time being, in either of the ſaid Univerſities, with two Juſtices of Peace of the County wherein the ſaid Univerſities be ſet, ſhall have full power by authority of the ſaid Act, to enquire by the Oaths of twelve men, of and upon the defaults and offences committed contrary to the tenour thereof, and to ſee due puniſhment and reformation thereof in form aforeſaid, from time to time: the one half of which foreſaid forfeitures to be to the common Treaſurers of either of the ſaid Univerſities, reſpectively to the fault committed againſt the ſaid priviledge, the other half to the party that will ſue for the ſame by action of debt, bill, plaint, or otherwiſe, in any Court of Record, or before the foreſaid Chancellour, his Vice-chancellour or Commiſſary, or their Deputies for the time being, and two Juſtices of Peace, as is before expreſſed, as by the ſaid Act more at large appeareth. Sithence the making of which Act, divers of the Townſhips, Inhabitants and Reſiants within the limits and precinct aforeſaid, have converted the benefit of the ſaid Act to their private uſe and commodity, without any profit or commodity to the poor Schollars of either of the ſaid Univerſities, contrary to the true intent and meaning of the ſaid Act, whereby the Queens Majeſty is not only not ſerved of proviſion of Corn, Grain, and other Victual, to be taken for her Majeſties proviſion, but alſo the ſaid Univerſities are defrauded of the benefit and commodities to them intended and granted, as is aforeſaid.

A rehearſal of the Statute of 2 & 3 P. & M. 15. reſtraining Purveyors to take victual in Cambridge or Oxford.

By what means the Univerſities be defrauded of the benefit of the ſaid Act.

For remedy whereof, Be it enacted and ordained by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That from henceforth no manner of Purveyour, Taker, Badger, Loader, Poulter, or other miniſter for the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs or Succeſſors, nor any other common Poulter, ſhall or may take or bargain for any victual or grain in any of the ſaid Markets or Town of Cambridge and the City of Oxford, or either of them, nor ſhall take or bargain for any victual or grain within the compaſſe of the foreſaid five miles thereunto adjoyning,

In what caſes the Purveyors may take victual in Cambride, or within five miles.

without the conſent, agreement, good will and licence of either of the ſaid Chancellors or Vice-Chancellors for the time being, in writing had and obtained under the Seal or Seals of the Office of the ſaid Chancellour or Vice-Chancellour of either of the ſaid Univerſities, and in no other form than in the ſaid licence in writing ſhall be contained and expreſſed, ſo as the ſame give not to any of the foreſaid Purveyors, Takers, Badgers, Loaders, Poulters, or others, any further authority and power, than they have or may lawfully uſe in other parts of the ſame Country, being without the ſaid limits of five miles: Neither ſhall attempt to carry, take away, or bargain for any manner of grain, and other victual bought and provided within the ſaid five miles by any common miniſter of any Colledge, Hoſtell, or Hall, to be ſpent within any of the ſaid Colledges, Hoſtels or Halls, without like licence and aſſent, and in no other form than is next aforeſaid mentioned; upon like pains, forfeitures and impriſonments, and to like uſes as are limited and ordained by the ſaid former Statute. And that the ſaid Chancellors or Vice-Chancellors for the time being of either of the ſaid Univerſities, with two Juſtices of Peace of the ſaid Univerſities, City, Town or County, wherein the ſaid Univerſities be ſet, ſhall have like power and authority by this Act, to enquire upon the default and offences contrary to the tenour hereof, and to ſee due puniſhment and reformation thereof in form aforeſaid, as was to them limited and appointed by the ſaid former Act.

Who may enquire of and puniſh the defaults committed contrary to this Statute.

The Queens Purveyors may take of them which refuſe to ſerve the Univerſity.

And be it further by the authority aforeſaid enacted and ordained, That if any perſon or perſons within the ſaid precinct of five miles, ſhall refuſe reaſonably to ſerve the neceſſary proviſion of the ſaid Univerſities, according to the true meaning of this preſent Act, that then it ſhall be lawful to any of the Queens Majeſties Takers or Purveyors, to provide any corn or victual of any ſuch perſon or perſons within any part of the precinct aforeſaid, for the uſe of the Queens Majeſty, as ſhall be declared and notified to the ſaid Purveyors or Takers, to be perſons not worthy of the ſaid priviledge, for not reaſonable ſerving the neceſſities of the ſaid Univerſities, by the Chancellor or Vice-Chancellour for the time being of either of the ſaid Univerſities, with the aſſent and conſent of two Juſtices of Peace, reſiant within either of the ſaid Univerſities, City, Town or County, under the Hands and Seals of the ſaid Chancellour or Vice-Chancellour, and the ſaid two Juſtices of Peace, as the ſaid Purveyors or Takers lawfully may in any other place, without the ſaid precinct of five miles, and not otherwiſe. The ſaid former Act, or any thing therein contained, or any other clauſe, article, ſentence, or matter whatſoever to the contrary notwithſtanding.

This Act ſhall be in ſuſpence during the Queens abode within ſeven miles.

Provided, That this Act ſhall not be put in execution at any time or times whenſoever the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs or Succeſſors, ſhall come to any of both the ſaid Univerſities, or within ſeven miles of either of them, but ſhall be in ſuſpence during that time only, and no longer.

The liberties of Oxford and Cambridge reſerved.

Provided alwayes, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe be prejudicial or hurtful to the Mayor, Bayliffs, and Commonalty of the City of Oxford, nor the Mayor or Commonalty of the Town of Cambridge, or to their Succeſſors, for and concerning any of their liberties or priviledges: but that they and every of them, and their Succeſſors, reſpectively may have and uſe the ſame, in ſuch manner and form, as they, or any of them might or ought to have done before the making of this Act: any thing in this Act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Provided alwayes, That this Act ſhall continue unto the laſt day of the next Parliament. 14 Eliz. 11. 18 Eliz. 20. 27 Eliz. 11. 3 Car. 4. continued untill the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

CAP. XXII.

The Statute of 8 Eliz. 16. touching the diviſion of Sheriff-wikes in divers Counties, made to continue for ever: Saving the Sheriffs of Surrey and Suſſex.

A rehearſal of the Statute of 8 Eliz. 16. touching the ſeverance of the Sheriffs of ſeveral Counties.

Where in the Parliament by prorogation holden at Weſtminſter the laſt day of September, in the eighth year of the Reign of our moſt gracious Soveraign Lady Queen Elizabeth and there continued to the end and diſſolution of the ſame: It was ordained and enacted amongſt other things, That where the Counties and Shires of Surrey and Suſſex, Eſſex and Hertford, Somerſet and Dorſet, Warwick and Leiceſter, Nottingham and Derby, Oxon and Berks, of long time have had but one Sheriff to ſerve for two of the ſaid Counties; that is to ſay, one for Surrey and Suſſex, and one other for Hertford and Eſſex, and one other for Somerſet and Dorſet, and one other for Warwick and Leiceſter, and one other for Nottingham and Derby, and one other for Oxon and Berks, that from and after the firſt day of November, which was in the year of our Lord God, 1567. the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, Kings and Queens of this Realm, ſhould and might from and after the ſaid firſt day of November, in the ſaid year of our Lord God, 1567. yearly chooſe and make for every of the ſaid Counties before named one ſufficient and able perſon to be Sheriff in every of the ſaid ſeveral Counties, in ſuch like manner and form as is and hath been uſed to be choſen, made and done for any other County or Shire within this Realm: any Law, Cuſtome or Uſage heretofore had or uſed to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding: with divers other articles, clauſes, branches, and proviſoes therein contained, as by the ſaid Act more at large doth and may appear: the ſame Act to continue and endure to the end of three whole years, to be accompted from the Feaſt of All Saints, in the ſaid year of our Lord God, 1567. and from thence to the end of the next Parliament then next following the end of the ſaid three years.

And for as much as the charges and burthen of Sheriffs are partly eaſed thereby, and alſo an occaſion of the better execution Juſtice miniſtred, by reaſon that the Gentlemen appointed to be Sheriffs, do beſt know, and are beſt acquainted with thoſe Counties and Shires wherein they inhabit, and are commorant (as by the experience thereof hath been well ſeen:) Be it therefore enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the ſaid Act made in the ſaid eight year of her Majeſties Reign, for, touching and concerning the choice, election, and making of Sheriff and Sheriffs in the ſaid ſeveral Counties of Surrey, Suſſex, Eſſex, Hertford, Somerſet, Dorſet, Warwick, Leiceſter, Nottingham, Derby, Oxon and Berks, and every of them, and that all and every article, clauſe, ſentence, branch, and proviſo therein contained, ſhall from henceforth for all and every the ſaid Shires and Counties, and every of them, except the ſaid Shires of Surrey and Suſſex, ſtand, remain, and continue in full force, ſtrength, vertue and effect, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, to be holden and kept for ever: Any Act, Statute, Law, Cuſtome or Uſage, to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The Shires of Surrey and Suſſex ſhall continue united for the Sheriffwike.

CAP. XXIII.

A Way without Algate in the Suburbs of London, ſometime called the Bars without Algate: And a Way leading from the old Cage to the North end of Nightingale-lane: And another Way between the ſaid old Cage and Craſſe Mill in the Pariſh of S. Mary, ſhall be paved with ſtone, and ſo ſhall be for ever continued by thoſe which be ſeized in Fee-ſimple, fee-tail, or for term of life, of lands adjoyning to the ſaid High-way, on the one ſide, or on the other, unto the midſt of the ſaid wayes, upon pain to forfeit iii. s. iiii. d. for every yard ſquare not paved. PR. 23 Eliz. 12.

CAP. XXIV.

The Streets of Ipſwich in the County of Suffolke, and the Suburbs thereof, ſhall be paved with good paving ſtone, and for ever repaired by the Owners, Landlords, or terre-Tenants, along, from and againſt their Houſes, Lands and Tenements adjoyning to the ſtreet, viz. ſo much of the ſaid ſtreet in length, as his Houſe, Lands, &c. ſo adjoyning extendeth unto, and in breadth, during all the ſaid length to the Channel, or to ſuch place as the channel there ſhall be appointed by the Bailiffs, on pain of forfeiture for every yard ſquare, not ſufficiently repaired, viii. d. The Bailiffs of Ipſwich, and the Portmen there, the Church-wardens, and four of every Pariſh ſhall have authority to tax upon every Houſe, Ground, and Tenement free and copy, ſcituate within the ſeveral Pariſhes of Ipſwich, reaſonable ſums of mony to be yearly payed, as well toward the finding of a convenient ſtipendary Miniſter within every Pariſh, as for the reparation of the Churches there. PR.

CAP. XXV.

Divers ſtatutes for winding of wooll touching attaints, for preſervation of Woods, againſt Foreſtallers, &c. keeping of milch kine, and breeding of Calves, made perpetual: and other ſtatutes revived, &c.

WHere in the Parliament begun and holden at London the third day of November in the one and twentieth year of the Reign of our late moſt dread Soveraign Lord of famous memory King Henry the eighth, and from thence adjourned to Weſtminſter, and there holden and continued by divers prorogations, untill the diſſolution thereof, An Act was made for the true winding of wools. 21 H. 8. 17.

And where alſo in the ſame Parliament, one other Act was made and eſtabliſhed for attaints to be ſued for the puniſhment of perjury upon untrue verdicts. 23 H. 8. 3.

And where in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the xxxv. year of the Reign of our ſaid late Soveraign Lord King Henry the eighth, one Act was made for the preſervation of Woods. 35 H. 8. 17.

And where alſo at the Seſſion of Parliament by prorogation holden at Weſtminſter the three and twentieth day of January, in the fifth year of the Reign of our late Soveraign Lord King Edward the ſixth, one Act was then and there made againſt Regrators, Foreſtallers and Ingroſſers. 5 & 6 Ed. 6. 14.

And where alſo at a Parliament begun and holden at Weſtminſter the xxi. day of October, in the ſecond and third years of the Reign of the late King Philip and Queen Mary, and there continued untill the diſſolution of the ſame, one Act was made then and there for keeping of milch kine, and for the breeding and rearing of Calves: all which Acts were by ſundry Acts of Parliament continued in force and effect, until the end and diſſolution of the laſt Parliament of our Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty that now is, at which time the ſame ſeveral Acts, and every of them were diſcontinued, and loſt their force and effects. Which Acts above mentioned, and every of them, by proof and experience have ſince the making of the ſame, been tryed, and found to be very neceſſary, beneficial and profitable for the Commonwealth, and therefore are thought good to be made perpetual. Be it therefore enacted by the Queens Majeſty our ſaid Soveraign Lady, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the ſaid Acts above remembred, and every of them, and all and every the branches, clauſes and proviſions, in them and every of them contained, ſhall be revived, and from henceforth remain and continue in force and effect for ever.

2 & 3 P & M. 3.

Anno 8 Eliz,

The five former ſtat. revived, to continue for ever.

And where alſo in the ſaid Parliament begun and holden at London, on the third day of November, in the ſaid one and twentieth year of the Reign of the ſaid late King Henry the eighth, and from thence adjourned to Weſtminſter, and there continued by prorogation untill the diſſolution thereof, one Act was there made, entituled, An Act againſt the killing of young Beaſts, called Weynlings. 21 H. 8. 8.

And where in the Seſſion of a Parliament ended at Weſtminſter in the firſt day of February, in the fourth year of the Reign of our ſaid late Soveraign Lord King Edward the ſixth, one Act was made concerning the buying and ſelling of Rother beaſts. 3 & 4 Ed. 6. 19.

And alſo one other Act was then and there likewiſe made, entituled, An Act for the buying and ſelling of Butter and Cheeſe: all which Acts were continued untill the end of the laſt Parliament of our Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty that now is, at which time the ſame were likewiſe for defect of further continuance, diſcontinued, and loſt their force and effects.

5 Eliz. 2.

And where alſo an Act was made in the firſt Seſſion of the ſaid Parliament, holden in the fifth year of her Majeſties Reign, entituled, An Act for the maintainance and increaſe of Tillage.

5 Eliz. 3.

And one other Act then alſo made, entituled, An Act for the relief of the poor: which were to endure to the end of the next Seſſion of the ſame Parliament, and then alſo in the end of the ſaid Parliament, diſcontinued and loſt their force and effect, for defect of further continuance.

1 Eliz. 17.

And where alſo in the Parliament begun and holden at Weſtminſter, in the xxiii. day of January, in the firſt year of the Reign of the Queens Majeſty that now is, and there continued by prorogation untill the diſſolution thereof, one Act was then and there made, entituled, An Act for the preſervation of ſpawn and fry of fiſh: which Act was to endure to the end of the next Parliament, and then in the ſame next Parliament was not any further continued, and ſo likewiſe loſt his force and effect.

The laſt mentioned 4 Acts revived and continued untill the end of the next Parliament.

Foraſmuch as all the ſaid ſeveral Acts, and every of them laſt recited, do ſeem by tryal and experience of them hitherto had, to be good, profitable, and neceſſary for the Common-wealth of this Realm, and therefore to be revived, and to have yet further continuance: Be it therefore enacted by our ſaid Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, that all the ſaid laſt mentioned Acts, and every of them, and all the articles, clauſes and proviſions in them and every of them contained, ſhall be likewiſe revived, and ſhall from henceforth continue and endure in full force and effect, untill the end of the next Parliament.

Anno 23 H. 8. 3.

1 M. 14.

5 Eliz. 14.

The ſtat. of 23 H. 8. 2 & 5 El. 24. ſhall extend to the County of Cambridge, and endure ten years.

And where alſo one Act entituled, An Act for the making of Gaols in divers Shires of this Realm was made in the aforeſaid Parliament, begun and holden in the third day of November, in the xxiii. year of the Reign of our ſaid late Soveraign Lord King Henry the eighth, and ſithence by divers Acts continued untill the death of the ſame late King: and after in the laſt Seſſion of the Parliament begun and holden upon prorogation at Weſtminſter, the xxiiii. day of October, in the firſt year of the Reign of our ſaid late Soveraign Lady, Queen Mary, the ſame Act, and all clauſes and ſentences therein contained, was then made to continue and endure untill the end of ten years then next enſuing to the ſame Parliament: which Act afterwards in the firſt Seſſion of Parliament, begun and holden at Weſtminſter the xii. day of January, in the fifth year of the Reign of our ſaid Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty that now is, and there by prorogation continued untill the diſſolution thereof, was by one Act then and there made, and entituled, An Act for the reviving of a Statute made Anno 23. Henrici octavi, touching the repairing of Gaols, made to continue and endure in full force and effect, and to be obſerved and kept in all things, unto the end and term of ten years next enſuing the laſt day of the ſame Parliament, and was alſo by the ſaid Act made in the fifth year of her Majeſties Reign, in certain points and articles enlarged, as by the ſaid Act more fully appeareth. And foraſmuch as the ſaid Acts made in the ſaid xxiii. year of the Reign of the ſaid late King Henry the eighth, and in the ſaid Seſſion of Parliament holden in the fifth year of our ſaid Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty that now is, touching the making and repairing of Gaols, are thought to be very good and beneficial for the Common-wealth of this Realm, and do not yet extend to the County of Cambridge: Be it therefore enacted, That the ſaid Act ſhall extend to the ſaid County of Cambridge, & to and for the making and repairing of Gaols in the ſame County, in all and every thing and article, as fully and in as ample manner and form as the ſame Acts, and either of them, do extend to the Counties and Gaols in them, and either of them, ſpecially mentioned; and as though the ſaid County of Cambridge, and the Gaol in the ſame County, had been in the ſame Acts, and either of them, ſpecially mentioned: and that the ſaid Acts, and every clauſe, ſentence, and proviſion in them, and either of them contained, ſhall continue and endure, and be obſerved in all things, as well within them ſpecified, for ten whole years next enſuing the end and determination of the ten years mentioned in the ſaid Act made in the ſaid fifth year of the Reign of our ſaid Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty that now is.

5 El. 9.

And where in the firſt Seſſion of the Parliament begun and holden at Weſtminſter, in the fifth year of the Reign of our Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty that now is, and from thence continued by prorogation, untill the diſſolution thereof, one Act was then and there made, entituled, An Act for the avoiding of divers foreign Wares made by Handy-craftſmen beyond the Seas, and one other Act entituled, An Act for the puniſhment of ſuch perſons as ſhould procure or commit any wilful perjury: which Acts were limitted to endure to the end of the next Parliament.

8 El. 10.

And where alſo in the laſt Seſſion of the ſame Parliament holden by prorogation at Weſtminſter, in the eighth year of the Reign of the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty that now is, one Act was then and there made, entituled, An Act for Bowyers, and the prices of Bows, and was made to continue to the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

8 El. 15.

The foreſaid ſtat. of 5 El. 7. & 9. and of 8 El. 10. & 15. continued untill the end of the next Parliament.

And alſo withall one other Act then made, entituled, An Act for the preſervation of Grain, and to continue to the end of the next Parliament enſuing: All which ſeveral Acts without further continuance, will end and diſcontinue in this preſent Parliament, and alſo loſe their force and effects. Wherefore, and foraſmuch as the ſame ſeveral Acts, and every of them, do ſeem good, beneficial and needful to be further continued for the weal and profit of this Realm: Be it therefore further enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the ſame Acts, and every of them, and each and every article, clauſe, and ſentence in them and every of them contained, ſhall continue, be, and endure in full force and effect, untill the end of the next Parliament.

14 El. 11. this Proviſo is repealed.

Provided nevertheleſſe, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that the ſaid Act concerning the avoiding of foreign wares, made by Handy-craftſmen beyond the Seas, or any clauſe, article or meaning therein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe extend or be prejudicial to any entercourſe or treaties of any entercourſe now ſtanding in force, had or made between the Progenitors of the Queens Majeſty, or her Highneſſe, and any others: any thing heretofore, or now, ordained or enacted to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

For the more encreaſe of Woods, where, by an Act of Parliament made in the xxxv. year of the Reign of King Henry the eighth, intituled for the preſervation of Woods, &c. there are ſeveral clauſes limiting how many years all manner of Lands, or Coppice-woods, being ſeveral or in common, ſhall next after the felling thereof, be ſufficiently incloſed, or the ſprings thereof otherwiſe ſaved and preſerved from deſtruction, as by the ſame Act more particularly appeareth. For that by experience it is found, that the ſpace and time of the ſaid ſeveral years of incloſure or preſervation is not ſufficient: Be it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, that from the twentieth of June next, all manner of Woods or Coppice, intended by the ſaid Act to be incloſed, and the ſprings thereof preſerved, ſhall be ſufficiently incloſed, or the ſprings thereof otherwiſe ſaved from deſtruction, by the ſpace of two full years more then in the ſeveral clauſes of the ſaid Acts is ſeverally limited, according to the age of the Woods felled, upon like pains as are contained in the foreſaid clauſes of the ſaid Act, concerning incloſure or preſervation of the ſaid Woods, Coppice or Springs: and that from the ſaid twentieth of June next following, it ſhall not be lawful for any manner of Cattel in any Coppice-woods incloſed to be preſerved, from the time of the ſale thereof, untill the end of five years, nor from the end of five years, any other Cattel but Calves and yearling Colts only, untill the end of ſix years, if the Wood was under the age of xiiii. years at the laſt fall, or untill the end of eight years, if the Wood was above the age of xiiii. years at the time of the laſt fall, &c.

35 H. 8. 17.

How long time the ſpring of woods ſhall be preſerved in ſeveralty.

At what age of wood, cattel may be put into them and then what cattel.

Provided, that this addition to the ſtatute of Woods, ſhall continue as long in force as the aforeſaid ſtatute made in the xxv. year of the Reign of King Henry the eighth.

Provided alwayes, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons ſhall be a Buyer, Badger, Kydder, or Carrier of Corn, Cattel, Butter, Cheeſe, and ſuch like kind of Victual, in none other manner nor form then is contained in a ſtatute made in the fifth year of the Reign of our Soveraign Lady Queen Elizabeth, nor ſhall be any other ways admitted or licenced to be a Buyer, Badger, Kydder or Carrier, as is aforeſaid, then is mentioned and appointed by the ſaid ſtatute: any thing in this or any other Act heretofore to the contrary notwithſtanding.

5 El. 12.

Who may be buyer, badger, or carrier of corn, butter, &c.

Provided alwayes, and be it enacted, That the ſaid Act againſt Regrators, Foreſtallers, and Ingroſſers is not meant to extend, nor ſhall extend to any Wines, Oyls, Sugars, Spices, Currans, nor other foreign Victuals, brought, or to be brought into this Realm from beyond the Seas; fiſh and ſalt only excepted.

To which foreign victuals the ſtatute of 5 & 6 Ed. 6. cap. 14. ſhall not extend.

Aſſeſsments ſhall be made of the Pariſhioners of every Pariſh, for the relief of the Poor of the ſame Pariſh. Every Biſhop ſhall viſit and reform Hoſpitals within his Dioceſſe. No perſon ſhall bring any Rogue out of Ireland, or the Iſle of Man, into England. EXP.

A Proviſion for the relief of the priſoners in the common Gaol. 1 Jac. 25. 21 Jac. 28. 3 Car. 4.

It ſhall and may be lawful for the Juſtices of Peace of every Shire within this Realm, at their general quarter Seſſions of the Peace to be holden within the ſame Shires, or the moſt part of the ſaid Juſtices, being then preſent, to rate and tax every Pariſh within the ſaid Shires, at ſuch reaſonable ſums of money, for and towards the relief of the ſaid priſoners, as they ſhall think convenient by their diſcretions: ſo that the ſaid taxation and rate doth not exceed above ſix pence or eight pence by the week out of every Pariſh: and that the Church-wardens of every Pariſh within this Realm for the time being, ſhall every Sunday levy the ſame, and once every quarter in the year pay to the High Conſtables, or head Officers of every Town, Pariſh, Hundred, Riding or Wapentake within this Realm, all ſuch ſums of money, as their Pariſh ſhall be rated and taxed, for and towards the relief of the ſaid priſoners within their ſaid ſeveral Pariſhes: And that the ſaid High-Conſtables and head Officers, and every of them, ſhall pay all ſuch ſums of money ſo to them payed by the ſaid Church-wardens, at every general quarter Seſſions to be holden within the ſaid ſeveral Shires, to ſuch ſufficient perſons dwelling nigh the ſaid Gaols, as ſhall be appointed by the ſaid Juſtices in their ſaid open quarter Seſſions, to be there ready to receive the ſaid money ſo collected, as is aforeſaid. And that the Collectors for the ſaid priſoners ſhall weekly diſtribute and pay all ſuch ſums of money, as they and every of them ſhall receive for the relief of the ſaid priſoners, as aforeſaid, upon pain as well the ſaid Church-wardens of every Pariſh, Conſtables and head Officers of every Hundred, or Wapentake, as alſo the ſaid Collectors appointed for the collection and contribution of the ſaid priſoners, ſo making default, as aforeſaid, to forfeit five pounds, the one moiety thereof ſhall be to the uſe of the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety to the relief of the priſoners: Any Statute, Law, Cuſtom, Uſe, or other thing to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The forfeiture of the Church-wardens, Conſtables or Collectors committing their duties.

Provided alwayes, That the Juſtices of Peace within any County of this Realm, or Wales, ſhall not intromit or enter into any City, Borough, place or Town corporate, where be any Juſtice or Juſtices of Peace, for any ſuch City, Borough, place or Town corporate, for the execution of any branch, article or ſentence of this Act, for or concerning any offence, matter, or cauſe growing or ariſing within the precincts, liberties or juriſdictions of ſuch City, Borough, place or Town corporate: but that it may and ſhall be lawful to the Juſtice and Juſtices of Peace, Mayor, Bayliffs, and other head-Officers of thoſe Cities, Boroughs, places, and Towns corporate, where there be Juſtice or Juſtices, to proceed to the execution of this Act, within the precinct and compaſſe of their liberties, in ſuch manner and form as the Juſtices of Peace in any County may or ought to do within the ſame County by vertue of this Act: Any matter or thing in this Act expreſſed to the contrary thereof, notwithſtanding.

Juſtices of Peace ſhall not meddle in any City, Borough, &c. but the Mayors or Officers of the ſame.

And that every Juſtice and Juſtices of the Peace, within every ſuch City, Borough, place, and Town corporate, for every offence by them, or any of them to be committed, contrary to the intent and meaning of this ſtatute, ſhall be puniſhable, and chargeable, as other Juſtices of Peace at large in the Counties, are by this Act above appointed to be.

CAP. VII.

The Queen may make Grants by copy of Court-roll, uſual wood ſales, or other things of fugitives lands, as tenant pur terme dauter vie, may do. The rents of fugitives lands ſhall be anſwerable in the Exchequer, and of Dutchy lands, in the Court of the Dutchy of Lancaſter. EXP.

CAP. VII.

The Statute of 13 Eliz. 4. enabling Treaſurers and Receivers Lands to be liable to the payment of the Queens debts, ſhall extend to under-collectors of Tenths and Subſidies.

FOr avoiding and redreſſe of great deceits done to the Queens Majeſty, and to the Prelates and Clergy of this Realm, by under-collectors of the Tenths and Subſidies of the Clergy, appointed by and under the Archbiſhops and Biſhops of this Realm, and Deans and Chapters (Sede vacante:) Be it enacted, that the ſtatute made in the thirteenth year of her Majeſties reign to make the Lands, Tenements, Goods and Chattels of Tellers, Receivers, &c. to be liable to the payment of their debts, ſhall to all intents and purpoſes, as amply and largely extend, and be conſtrued to extend to all ſuch under-collectors of Tenths, Subſidies of the Clergy, and to their Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, Goods and Chattels, for ſatiſfying of ſuch money as they have collected, or ſhall collect of the ſaid Tenths and Subſidies, to the uſe of the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs or Succeſſors (of what yearly ſum ſoever the charge of their collection is, or ſhall be) in like form as it doth extend to the Tellers, Receivers, and other perſons accomptant, whom the ſaid Act ſpecially and expreſly concerneth, and in as ample wiſe, as if ſuch under-Collectors were immediately accomptant to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs or Succeſſors: any proviſion in the ſaid ſtatute, or other matter whatſoever to the contrary, notwithſtanding.

The Stat. of 13 El. 4. ſhall extend to make the lands of under-collectors liable to their debts.

And that every ſuch under-Collector, ſhall upon proceſſe to be awarded ont of the Court of Exchequer, be chargeable to account for his receipt of ſuch Tenths and Subſidies, as any Receiver immediately accomptant to her Majeſty, is or ought to be: and that every Archbiſhop and Biſhop, and Dean and Chapter (Sede vacante) to whoſe charge the collection of ſuch Tenths or Subſidies doth or ſhall appertain, ſhall be diſcharged of ſo much of the ſaid Tenths and Subſidies, as ſhall be ſatisfied to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs or Succeſſors of, or by the Lands, Tenements, Hereditaments, Goods or Chattels, of ſuch under-Collector or his Heirs, without any other warrant whatſoever in that behalf to be obtained. 1 Jac. 25.

The under-collectors ſhall accompt in the Exchequer.

The Biſhop ſhall be diſcharged of ſo much as is levied of his under-collectors lands or goods.

CAP. VIII.

A recovery had by the aſſent of parties againſt Tenant for term of life, without the aſſent of him in reverſion or remainder, ſhall be void: And the Statute of 32 H. 8. 31. repealed.

WHere divers perſons being ſeized, or that have been ſeized of Lands, Tenements, and Hereditaments, as Tenants by the courteſie of England, Tenants in tail after poſſibility of iſſue, extinct, or otherwiſe, only for term of life or lives, or of eſtates determinable upon life or lives, have heretofore permitted and ſuffered other perſons, by agreement or covin between them had to recover the ſame Lands and Tenements, and other Hereditaments, againſt the ſame partcular Tenants, in the Queens Majeſties Court, or have permitted and ſuffered themſelves to be vouched by other perſons, by agreement or covine between them had, in recoveries ſuffered of the ſame Lands, Tenements, and other Hereditaments, in the Queens Majeſties Court to the great prejudice of thoſe to whom the reverſion or remainder thereof hath appertained, or ought to appertain.

Coke pla. f. 655. 670.

a 5 Aſſ. pl 1. Coke l. f. 15. lib 1. f. 60. Cro. El. 562.

For remedy whereof, be it enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That all ſuch recoveries hereafter to be had or proſecuted by agreement of the parties, or by covine, as is aforeſaid, againſt any ſuch particular [a] tenant of any Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, whereof the ſame particular tenant is or hereafter ſhall be ſeized of any ſuch particular eſtate, as is aforeſaid, or againſt any other with voucher over of any ſuch particular tenant, or of any having, or that had right or title to any ſuch particular eſtate of tenancy, as is aforeſaid, ſhall from henceforth, as againſt ſuch perſon or perſons to whom any reverſion or remainder thereof, by force of any conveyance or device before that time had or made, ſhall, ought, or lawfully may appertain and againſt their Heirs and Succeſſors, be clearly and utterly void and of none effect, any law or uſage heretofore had to the contrary thereof, in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Recoveries againſt tenants for life, &c. by covin ſhall be void.

Provided alway, that this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall extend or be prejudicial to any perſon or perſons, that ſhall hereafter by good title recover any lands, tenements, or hereditaments, without fraud or covin, by reaſon of any former right or title: but that all and every ſuch recovery and recoveries, ſo to be had or proſecuted upon former rights or titles, ſhall ſtand and be in like force, ſtrength and effect, as they were before the making of this Act: Any thing herein contained to the contrary, in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Recovery by good title.

b Cok. l. 10. fol. 43.

Provided alſo, that all and every ſuch recovery and recoveries, to be had or proſecuted of any Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, as aforeſaid, by the aſſent and agreement of any perſon or perſons, to whom any reverſion or remainder thereof then ſhall or ought to appertain (ſo that the ſame aſſent [b] and agreement do appear of record in any Court of our Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs or Succeſſors) ſhall ſtand and be in like force, ſtrength, and of like effect, againſt ſuch perſon and perſons that ſhall ſo aſſent and agree, their Heirs and Succeſſors, as they were before the making of this Act: Any thing herein contained to the contrary, in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

A recovery by the aſſent of him in the reverſion or remainder.

Be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That one Act made made in the two and thirtieth year of our late Soveraign Lord King Henry the eight, entituled, An Act for the avoiding of recoveries, by colluſion by tenants for term of life, ſhall be from the firſt day of July next enſuing, re-pealed, and ſhall no longer ſtand in force. CAP. IX.

In what caſes a Tales de Circumſtantibus may be granted at the Tenants or Defendants requeſt.

Stat. 35 H. 8. 6. 5 Eliz. 25.

FOr the avoiding of great and chargeable delayes oftentimes happening unto tenants and defendants: be it enacted, That in all caſes whereas the party plaintiff or demandant, by any Statute heretofore made, may have upon his or their requeſt made unto the Juſtices of Niſi Prius, within this Realm of England, or to the Juſtices of Oyer, [a] or of Aſſiſes, or the xii. Shires of Wales, and of the Counties Palatines of Lancaſter, Cheſter, and Durham, a Tales de Circumſtantibus, that in all and every ſuch caſe and caſes, the party and parties, tenants, actors, avowants, and defendants (if the plaintiffs or demandants ſhall upon the calling of the principal pannel or Jury, forbear or refuſe to pray the ſame) ſhall and may upon his or their requeſt or deſire have upon the ſame record, and by the ſame Juſtices the Tales or Taleſſes unto them granted, in like manner, form and degree, to all reſpects and purpoſes, as the plaintiff or demandant in any ſuit, or action may have the ſame, by any Statute or ordinance heretofore made, or ſet forth; and the rather for the ſpeedy tryal of the iſſue and iſſues joyned, or hereafter to be joyned in any plea, ſuit, or action: any Law, cuſtome, or uſage heretofore uſed to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

In what caſe a Tales de Circumſtantibus ſhall be granted at the tenants or Defendants ſuit.

[a] Dyer, fol. 318.

The Defendant may have a Tales in popular actions.

Provided alſo, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That in all popular actions, Informations, Bills, or Suits, commenced or had, or hereafter to be commenced or had in any the Queens Majeſties Courts of Record, upon any penal Laws or Statutes, wherein any perſon doth, or ſhall ſue or proſecute, or inform, as well for the Queens Majeſty her Heirs, and Succeſſors, as for himſelf, whereupon iſſue is or ſhall be joyned to be tryed by the County: that therein the party defendant, or defendants, ſhall be admitted to pray, and have a Tales de Circumſtantibus, as in other caſes aforeſaid.

Several Statutes made in the reigns of King H. 8. King Ed. 6. and Queen Eliz. revived, continued and explained, &c.

24 H. 8. 7.

VVHere in the Parliament holden upon prorogation at Weſtminſter the fourth day of February, in the four and twentieth year of the raign of the late King Henry the eight, one Act was there made, entituled, An Act to continue, and renue the Act made againſt killing of Calves: and one other Act entituled, An Act againſt killing of young beaſts, called wainlings.

24 H. 8. 9.

Anno 3 & 4 Ed. 6. 19.

And where in the Seſſion of a Parliament, ended at Weſtminſter on the firſt day of February, in the fourth year of the reign of our late Soveraign Lord King Edward the ſixth, one Act was made concerning the buying and ſelling of Rother beaſts.

3 & 4 Ed. 6. 21.

And alſo one other Act was then and there likewiſe made, entituled, An Act for the buying and ſelling of Butter and Cheeſe.

5 Eliz. 2.

And where alſo an Act was made in the firſt Seſſion of the Parliament, holden in the fifth year of the Queens Majeſties reign, entituled, An Act for the maintenance and increaſe of Tillage.

1 Eliz. 17.

And where alſo in the Parliament begun at Weſtminſter on the three and twentieth day of January, in the firſt year of the raign of the Queens Majeſty that now is, and there continued by prorogation until the diſſolution thereof, one Act was then and there made, entituled, An Act for the preſervation of ſpawn and fry of fiſh.

5 Eliz. 7.

And where alſo in the firſt Seſſion of the Parliament begun and holden at Weſtminſter, in the fifth year of the reign of our Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty that now is, and from thence continued by prorogation until the diſſolution thereof, one Act was then and there made, entituled, An Act for the avoiding of divers forein wares, made by handicraftsmen beyond the Seas.

5 Eliz. 9.

And one other Act, intituled, An Act for the puniſhment of ſuch perſons as ſhould procure or commit any wilful perjury, which Acts were limited to endure to the end of the next Parliament.

8 Eliz. 10.

And where alſo in the firſt Seſſion of the ſame Parliament holden by prorogation at Weſtminſter, in the eighth year of the raign of the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty that now is, one Act was then and there made, entituled, An Act for Bowyers,, and the prices of Bowes, and was made to continue to the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

8 Eliz. 15.

And alſo one other Act was then made, entituled, An Act for the preſervation of grain: All which ſeveral Acts and Statutes were made to continue but for certain times, and all which Acts made in the ſaid fourth year of King Edward the ſixth, and in the ſaid firſt, fifth, and eight years of the Queens Majeſties reign, were at the laſt Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the ſecond of April, in the thirteenth year of the reign of our ſaid Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty, made to continue and ſtand in force unto the end of the next Parliament then next following.

13 Eliz. 25.

13 Eliz. 5.

And where alſo in the Parliament begun and holden at Weſtminſter, the ſecond day of April, in the thirteenth year of the reign of our ſaid Soveraign Lady the Queen, one Act and Statute was then and there made, for the avoiding and aboliſhing of feigned, covenous, and fraudulent feoffments, gifts, grants, alienations, conveyances, bonds, ſuits, judgments, and executions, entituled, An Act againſt fraudulent deeds, gifts, grants, alienations, &c. which Act and Statute was then made to endure unto the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament, as by the ſaid Act more plainly will appear.

13 Eliz. cap. 20.

And where alſo in the ſaid Parliament begun and holden at Weſtminſter the ſaid ſecond day of April, there was alſo one other Act and Statute made for the avoiding of ſome Leaſes in certain caſes to be made of Eccleſiaſtical promotions with Cure, entituled, An Act touching Leaſes of Benefices, with other Eccleſiaſtical livings with cure, which Act was likewiſe made to continue to the end of the next Parliament.

13 Eliz. 21.

And where alſo there was one other Act and Statute made in the ſaid Parliament begun and holden at Weſtminſter the ſaid ſecond day of April, in the ſaid thirteenth year, entituled, An Act that Purveyors may take grain, corn, or victuals within five miles of Cambridg and Oxford in certain caſes, which was made likewiſe to continue to the laſt day of the next Parliament.

A repeal of a Proviſo contained in the Statute of 13 Eliz. 25.

And where in the Statute made in the thirteenth year of the Queens Majeſties reign, entituled, An Act for the reviving and continuance of certain Statutes is contained one Proviſo, That the ſaid act concerning the avoiding of foreign wares made by handicrafts-men beyond the Seas, or any clauſe, article, or meaning therein contained ſhould not in any wiſe extend or be prejudicial to any entercourſe or treaties of any entercourſe then ſtanding in force, had, or made between the progenitors of the Queens Majeſtie or her Highneſſe, and any others. Now for good conſiderations, and ſpecially that ſtrangers may not be at liberty, and the Queens Majeſties natural Subjects reſtrained: be it enacted, That the ſaid Proviſo, and every clauſe, article, and matter therein contained, ſhall from henceforth be repealed and utterly void.

Certain words contained in the Statute of 13 Eliz. 20. diſcontinued.

Provided alſo, and be it enacted, That theſe words, [So ſoon as it, or any part thereof, come to any poſſeſſion or uſe above forbidden, or] which words are contained in the ſaid Statute made in the ſaid thirteenth year, touching leaſes of Benefices and other Eccleſiaſtical livings with Cure, ſhall not be revived by this Act, but remain diſcontinued, and ſhall from henceforth be omitted out of the ſaid Act, any thing in the ſaid Act, or in this Act, to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Coke pla. f. 205. Bonds and covenants for the enjoying of leaſes, ſhal be void. 43 El. 9.

And where ſundry evil diſpoſed perſons, have defrauded the true meaning of the laſt mentioned Statute, made in the ſaid thirteenth year by bonds and covenants of ſuffering other perſons to enjoy Eccleſiaſtical livings, and the fruits thereof, for that ſuch bonds and covenants are not in Law taken to be Leaſes, although indeed they amount to as much: Be it therefore enacted, That all bonds, contracts, promiſes, and covenants hereafter to be made for ſuffering or permiting any perſon to enjoy any Benefice, or Eccleſiaſtical promotion with Cure, or to take profits or fruits thereof other than ſuch bonds and covenants, as ſhall be made for aſſurance of any leaſe heretofore made, ſhall be to all intents and purpoſes adjudged of ſuch force and validity, and not otherwiſe, as leaſes by the ſame perſons made of ſuch Benefices and Eccleſiaſtical promotions with Cure.

Leaſes made by Curates of Benefices with Cure.

And be it further declared and enacted, That all leaſes, bonds, promiſes, and covenants of and concerning Benefices and Eccleſiaſtical livings with Cure to be made by any Curate, ſhall be of no other, nor better force, validity or continuance, than if the ſame had been made by the beneficed perſon himſelf, that demiſed, or ſhall demiſe, the ſame to any ſuch Curate.

13 El. 10.

And where, in one other Act made in the ſaid thirteenth year, entituled, An Act againſt fraudulent gifts, to the intent to defeat dilapidations of Eccleſiaſtical livings, and for leaſes to be granted by Collegiate Churches, there is one branch to avoid certain leaſes to be made by Maſters and Fellowes of Colledges, Deans and chapters of Cathedral or Collegiate Churches, Maſters or Guardians of any Hoſpital, or by any Parſon, Vicar, or any other having any Spiritual or Eccleſiaſtical living: Be it enacted, That the ſaid branch, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to any grant, aſſurance, or leaſe of any houſes belonging to any perſons, or bodies politick or corporate aforeſaid, nor to any grounds to ſuch houſes appertaining, which houſes be ſituate in any city, borough, town corporate, or market town, or the ſuburbs of any of them, but that all ſuch houſes and grounds may be granted, demiſed, and aſſured, as by the Lawes of this Realm and the ſeveral Statutes of the ſaid Colledges, Cathedral Churches and Hoſpitals, they lawfully might have been before the making of the ſaid Statute or lawfully might be, if the ſaid Statute were not, ſo alway that ſuch houſe be not the Capital or dwelling houſe uſed for the habitation of the perſons aboveſaid, nor have ground to the ſame belonging, above the quantity of ten acres: any thing in the ſaid Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Leaſes made by ſpiritual perſons of houſes in Cities or corporate Towns.

Money recovered for dilapidations ſhall be imployed in repair of the ſame houſes.

And be it further enacted, that all ſums of money hereafter to be recovered, for or in name of dilapidations, by ſentence, compoſition, or otherwiſe, ſhall within two years after ſuch receipt, be truly imployed upon the buildings and reparations, in reſpect whereof ſuch money for dilapidations ſhall be payed, on pain that every perſon ſo receiving, and not imploying, as aforeſaid, ſhall forfeit double as much, as ſo ſhall be by him received, and not imployed; the which forfeiture ſhall be to the uſe of the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors.

Certain obſervations in the Leaſes to be made by ſpiritual perſons according to this Statute. No Colledg ſhall alien any houſe without preſent and ſufficient ſatisfaction.

Provided alway, and be it enacted, That no Leaſe ſhall be permitted to be made by force of this Act in reverſion, nor without reſerving the accuſtomed yearly rent at the leaſt, nor without charging the Leſſee, with the reparation, nor for longer term than forty years at the moſt: Nor any houſes ſhall be permitted to be aliened, unleſſe that in recompeuce thereof there ſhall be afore, with or preſently after ſuch alienation, good, lawful, and ſufficient aſſurance made in Fee-ſimple abſolutely to ſuch Colledges, houſes, bodies politick or corporate, and their ſucceſſors, of lands of as good value, and of as great yearly value at the leaſt, as ſo ſhall be aliened: any Statute to the contrary notwithſtanding.

And foraſmuch as all the ſame ſeveral Acts and Statutes, and every of them do ſeem good, beneficial, and needful to be further continued for the weal and profit of this Realm: Be it therefore now enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the ſame ſeveral Acts and Statutes, and every of them, and all and every article, clauſe, and ſentence in them and every of them contained, ſhall continue, be, and endure in full force and effect, until the end of the next Parliament. Stat. 39 Eliz. 18.

CAP. XII.

So much of the Statute of 8 Eliz. 7. as reſtraineth any of the Inhabitants of Shrewsbury to buy Welſh Cloth, Cottons or Frizes, repealed.

A rehearſal of the Statute of 8 El. 7. limiting which of the Inhabitants of Shrewsbury may buy Welſh Cloth, and which not.

Where at the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the laſt day of September, in the eight year of the reign of our Soveraign Lady the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, there was an Act made, entituled, An Act touching Drapers, Cottoners, and Frizers, in the Town of Shrewsbury, in the County of Salop: and in the ſame Act there is contained matter then ſuppoſed for the benefit of the ſaid Town of Shrewsbury, in advancing the Corporation of Drapers, Cottoners, and Frizers of the ſaid Town. And it was thereby enacted, That from and after the Feaſt of Eaſter then next enſuing, no manner perſon or perſons whatſoever, inhabiting and dwelling within the ſaid Town of Shrewsbury, or the liberties or franchiſes of the ſame Town (other than ſuch as then had, or then after ſhould ſerve as Apprentice in the Occupation and Science of Drapers, or then had been, or thereafter ſhould be free of the ſaid Science or Myſtery) ſhould occupy, uſe exerciſe, or frequent the ſaid Trade, Art, Myſtery or Science of buying of the ſaid Welſh Cloth, or Lining, Cottons, Frizes, or Plains: nor have any Factor or doer for him or them in the ſame, nor by any colour, engine, or fraud, buy any of the ſaid Frizes, Linings, Cottons, and Plains, upon pain that every perſon and perſons inhabiting, as is aforeſaid, and occupying, uſing, or exerciſing the ſaid Trade, Art, Myſtery, Occupation, or Science of buying of Welſh Clothes, and Linings, &c. and not authorized by the ſaid Act, ſhould loſe and forfeit for every peece of the ſaid Clothes bought, ſix ſhillings eight pence.

The inconveniences enſuing upon the making of the aforeſaid Act, to the poor Inhabitants of Shrewsbury, and others.

And where ſithence the making of the ſaid Act, experience hath plainly taught in the ſaid Town, that the ſaid Act hath not only not brought the good effect that then was hoped and ſurmiſed, but alſo hath been, and now is likely to be the very greateſt cauſe of the impoveriſhing and undoing of the poor Artificers and others, at whoſe Suit the ſaid Act was procured for that there be now ſithence the making of the ſaid Statute, much fewer perſons to ſet them awork than before: and by reſtraining all other inhabitors of the ſaid Town of Shrewsbury, from the former lawfull Trade ever heretofore uſed of buying of Welſh Clothes, Frizes, Cottons, Linings, and Plaines (leaving the ſame neverthleſſe free for all the Subjects of England without any reſtraint, Saving for the ſaid Inhabitants of the Town of Shrewsbury, and the liberties and franchiſes of the ſame Town onely) hath been the evident occaſion of great decay, not only to the ſaid Town, and the liberties and franchiſes of the ſame, but alſo to a great and infinite number of poor people in Northwales, that is to ſay in the Counties of Montgomery, Denbigh, Merioneth, and alſo the Town of Oſweſter, and the greateſt part of the Countrey thereabouts, where the ſaid Welſh clothes, frizes, cottons, linings, and plains, are made and ſold which were wont to be maintained and relieved by trade of making or working of the ſaid Frizes, Cottons, &c. contrary to the expectation that then was wrongfully received.

A repeal of part of the Statute of 8 Eliz. 7. and a confirmation of the reſidue.

Be it therefore, at the humble Suit of the Inhabitants of the ſaid Town, and alſo of the ſaid Artificers, for whoſe benefit the ſaid Act was ſuppoſed to be provided enacted, That the ſaid Act, and all the matter in the ſaid Act contained, ſhall from henceforth be repealed and made void: any thing in the ſaid Act to the contrary, notwithſtanding.

Provided alwayes, That ſo much of the ſaid Statute of the eight year of our Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty that now is, and every article and branch therein contained as toucheth the preſent and ready payment of money to Sheremen, Cottoners, and Frizers, for their work, and alſo as toucheth the reſtraint of ſuch as ſhall, or do occupy or uſe the trade of buying of Frizes, Cottons, or Plaines, from the uſe or exerciſe of the faculty of frizing or cottoning, ſhall ſtand and be in force; any thing in this Statute to the contrary, notwithſtanding.

CAP. XIII.

Hexam and Hexamſhire, with the Liberties there, ſhall be within the County of Northumberland.

Anno decimo octavo Reginæ Elizabethæ.

AT this preſent Seſſion of Parliament by Prorogation holden at Weſtminſter, the eighth day of February, in the eighteenth year of the Reign of our moſt gracious Soveraign Lady, ELIZABETH, by the Grace of God, of England, France and Ireland, Queen, Defender of the Faith, &c. And there continued until the fifteenth day of March following. To the high pleaſure of Almighty God, and weal-publick of this Realm, were enacted as followeth.

CAP. I.

Diminiſhing, skaling, or lightning of any Coyn current within this Realm, ſhall be high Treaſon.

By the Stat. of 5 Eliz. 11. the clipping, waſhing, and filing of money, ſhall be high treaſon.

Whereas the offences of clipping, rounding, waſhing, and filing, for wicked lucre or gains ſake, of any the proper moneys or Coyns of this Realm, or the Dominions thereof, or of the Moneys or Coyns of any other Realm, allowed by Proclamation, and ſuffered to be current within this Realm, or the Dominions thereof, by a Statute made in the fifth year of the Queens Majeſties reign, are taken, deemed, and adjudged to be Treaſon, and the offendors therein, the councellors, conſenters, and ayders likewiſe deemed and adjudged as offenders in Treaſon, and being thereof lawfully convicted or attainted, according to the due order and courſe of the Lawes of this Realm, are to ſuffer pains of death, and to loſe and forfeit all his and their goods and chattels, and alſo all his and their lands and tenements, during his and their natural life or lives only, as by the ſaid Eſtatute thereof made, among other things therein contained, more at large it doth and may appear. Sithence the making of which good Law and Statute, divers falſe and evil diſpoſed perſons knowing that the ſaid Law, being, as it is, penal, ought to be taken and expounded ſtrictly, according to the words thereof and the like offences not by any equity to receive the puniſhment or pains, have ſithence the making of the ſaid Law and Statute, moſt wickedly deviſed and practiſed, for wicked lucre and gains ſake, other Arts, undue wayes, and means, to falſifie, impair, diminiſh, and lighten, as well the proper Moneys and Coyns of other Realms, allowed and ſuffered to be current within this Realm, and the Dominions thereof, by her Majeſties Proclamation to the great damage, loſſe, hurt, and deceit, as well of her Majeſty, as of all her faithful and loving Snbjects, and more is like hereafter to be practiſed and done if the ſame be not ſpeedily met withall. For reformation and remedy whereof, be it enacted, declared, and eſtabliſhed by authority of this preſent Parliament, that if any perſon or perſons, of what eſtate, degree, or condition ſoever he or they be, ſhall from and after the firſt day of April next coming, for wicked lucre or gains ſake, by any art, wayes or means whatſoever, impair, diminiſh, falſifie, ſcale, or lighten the proper Moneys or Coyns of this Realm, or any the Dominions thereof, or the Moneys or Coyns of this Realm allowed and ſuffered to be current at the time of the offence committed within this Realm of England, or any the Dominions of the ſame, by the Proclamation of the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs or ſucceſſors, ſhall be taken, adjudged and deemed to be Treaſon, and the offendors therein, their councellors, conſenters, ayders, ſhall be likewiſe deemed and adjudged as offendors in Treaſon, and being thereof lawfully convicted or attainted according to the due order of the Lawes of this Realm, ſhall ſuffer pains of death, and loſe and forfeit all their goods and chattels to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors and ſhall alſo loſe and forfeit to the Queens Highneſſe, her Heirs and Succeſſors, all their lands, tenements, and hereditaments, during his or their natural life or lives onely.

By the Stat. of 5 Eliz. 11. the clipping, waſhing, and filing of money, ſhall be high treaſon.

Other undue means practiſed to falſifie the money not within the ſtrict words of the foreſaid Statute.

The diminiſhing ſcaling or lightening for gains ſake, of any money current within this Realm, ſhall be high treaſon.

Provided alwayes, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, nor any attainder or attainders of any perſon or perſons for any offence or offences made Treaſon by this Act, ſhall in any wiſe extend, or be judged, interpreted, or expounded, to make any corruption of blood to any the heir or heirs of any ſuch offendor or offendors, or to make the wife of any ſuch offendor to loſe or forfeit her Dower of, or in any lands, tenements, or hereditaments, or her title, action, or intereſt to the ſame: any thing in this Act contained, or any attainder or attainders hereafter to be had, for any offence or offences made Treaſon by this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

No corruption of blood, or forfeiture of Dower for this treaſon.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any the Lords of the Parliament, or Peer of this Realm, for the time being, ſhall fortune at any time hereafter to be indicted of any offence made Treaſon by this Act, that then they and every of them ſhall have his or their tryal by their Peers, as hath been uſed heretofore in caſes of high Treaſon. CAP. V.

The duty of an Informer in proſecuting a Suit upon a penal Statute, and his puniſhment if he abuſe it.

The duty of an Informer in proſecuting a ſuit upon a penal Statute.

Cro. El. 77. 434.

For redreſſing of divers diſorders in common Informers, and for better execution of penal laws: Be it enacted, That every informer upon any penal Statute ſhall exhibit his Suit in proper perſon, and purſue the ſame only by himſelf, or by his Atturney in Court, and that none ſhall be admitted or received to purſue againſt any perſon or perſons upon any penal Statute, but by way of Information, or original action, and not otherwiſe, nor ſhall have, ne uſe any Deputy or Deputies at all, and that upon every ſuch Information which ſhall be exhibited, a ſpecial note be made of the very day, month, and year of the exhibiting thereof into any office, or to any officer, which lawfully may receive the ſame without any manner of antedate thereof to be made, and that the ſame Information be accompted and taken to be of Record from that time forward, and not before. And be it likewiſe enacted for the conſideration aforeſaid, That no proceſſe be ſued out upon ſuch Information, until the Information be exhibited in form aforeſaid, and that upon every ſuch proceſſe ſhall be indorſed as well the parties name that purſueth the ſame proceſſe, as alſo the Statute upon which the information in that behalf made, is grounded. And that every Clerk making out proceſſe contrary to the tenor and proviſion of this Act, ſhall forfeit and loſe forty ſhillings for every ſuch offence, the one half to be to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other half to the party againſt whom any ſuch defective proceſſe ſhall be awarded, to be recovered in any Court of Record by action of debt or Information, in which, no eſſoine, protection, injunction, or wager of law ſhall be permitted or allowed.

A note of the day, month, and year of the exhibiting of an Information.

Indorſment of the proceſſe awarded upon an Information.

Where the triall of an iſſue ſhall be in a ſuit upon a penall Statute.

And be it further enacted, That no Jury ſhall be compelled to appear in any of the Queens Majeſties Courts of Weſtminſter, for the tryal of any iſſue in any ſuch ſuit upon any penal law, for any offence committed above thirty miles from the City of Weſtminſter, except in caſe where the Atturney general for the time being, for ſome reaſonable cauſe in that behalf to be ſhewed, ſhall require the ſame to be tryed at the barr, in any of the Courts of the Queens Maieſty, her Heirs or Succeſſors at Weſtminſter aforeſaid: which requeſt ſhall be noted on the backſide of the Writ of Diſtringas thereupon awarded, to the end the Sheriff or his Bayliff may and ſhall ſignifie the ſame to the Jury that are in ſuch caſe impanelled.

No Informer ſhall compound with the offendant, but by conſent of the Court.

And be it further enacted, That no ſuch Informer or plaintiff, ſhall or may compound or agree with any perſon or perſons, that ſhall offend, or ſhall be ſurmiſed to offend againſt any penal Statute, for ſuch offence committed, or pretended to be committed: but after anſwer made in Court unto the Information or Suit in that behalf exhibited or proſecuted: nor after anſwer, but by the order or conſent of the Court in which the ſame information or Suit ſhall be depending, upon pains and penalties hereafter in this preſent Act ſet down and declared. And that if any ſuch Informer or Plaintiff, as aforeſaid, ſhall willingly delay his ſuit, or ſhall diſcontinue, or be non ſuit in the ſame, or ſhall have the trial or matter paſt againſt him therein by verdict or judgment of Law: that then in every ſuch caſe the ſame Informer or Plaintiff ſhall yield, ſatisfie and pay unto the party Defendant, his coſts, charges and damages, to be aſſigned by the Court in which the ſame ſuit ſhall be attempted: For the recovery and execution whereof, every ſuch Defendant ſhall immediatly upon the ſame coſts, charges, and damages aſſigned have his capias ad ſatisfac', fieri fecit, or elegit, to be awarded unto him out of the ſame Court in which the ſame ſhall be ſo aſſigned, as is aforeſaid, as in other caſes of execution.

The penalty of an Informer delaying or diſcontinuing his ſuit or being non-ſuit &c.

The puniſhment of an Informer miſbehaving himſelf in the proſecution of his ſuit, &c.

And be it alſo enacted, that if any perſon or perſons (except in the Clerks of the Court only, for making out of proceſſe otherwiſe than is above appointed) ſhall offend in ſuing out of proceſſe, making of compoſition, or other miſdemeanour, contrary to the true intent and meaning of this Statute, or ſhall by color, or pretence of proceſſe, or without proceſſe, upon color or pretence of any matter of offence againſt any penal Law, make any compoſition, or take any mony, reward, or promiſe of reward, for himſelf, or to the uſe of any other, without order or conſent of ſome of her Majeſties Courts at Weſtminſter, that then he or they ſo offending, being therof lawfully convicted ſhall ſtand on the pillory in ſome market Town next adjoyning where the ſame offence ſhall be committed in the open market time, and therein remain by the ſpace of two hours, and ſhall from and after ſuch conviction, for ever be diſabled to purſue, or be Plaintiff or informer in any Suit or information upon any Statute popular or penal: and ſhall alſo for every ſuch offence forfeit and loſe ten pounds of lawful Engliſh money, the one half thereof to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other half to the party grieved thereby, to be recovered in any Court of Record, by action of debt or information: in which no eſſoine, protection, injunction, or wager of Law, ſhall be permitted or allowed. And that Juſtices of Oyer and Terminer, Juſtices of Aſſiſe in their circuits, and Juſtices of Peace in their quarter Seſſions, ſhall have full power and authority to hear and determine all offences to be committed or done contrary to the true intent and meaning of this preſent Act.

Which Juſtices may hear and determine theſe offences.

Provided alwayes, and nevertheleſſe be it Enacted, That it ſhall and may be lawfull to and for any perſon or perſons grieved by means of any manner of maintenance, champerty, buying of titles or imbracery, to purſue upon any the ſtatutes provided and ſet forth againſt maintenance, champerty, buying of titles or imbracery, as he or they might have done, before the making of this Act: Any thing in this Act contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Purſuing upon the Statute againſt Maintenance, Champerty, &c.

Provided alſo, That this Act ſhall not extend to any ſuit already depending, nor ſhall reſtrain any certain perſon, body politick or corporate, to whom or to whoſe uſe any forfeiture, penalty or ſuit, is or ſhall be ſpecially limited or grantes by vertue of any Statute, and not generally to any perſon that will ſue, but that every ſuch certain perſon, body politick or corporate, which might ſue or inform, as if this Act were not made, may in ſuch caſe ſue, inform and purſue, as he or they might have done, if this Act were never had nor made.

Penalties given to perſons certain, and not generally.

And provided alſo, That neither this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall in any wiſe extend to any ſuch officers of Record, as have in reſpect of their offices heretofore lawfully uſed to exhibit informations, or ſue upon penal Laws, nor to any officers informing or purſuing for matters only concerning his or their offices, but that they and every of them, may inform and purſue in that behalf, as they might have done before the making of this Act: Any thing in this Act contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Officers uſing to exhibit Informations.

This Act to take force and effect from the Feaſt of Eaſter next coming, and from thenceforth to endure unto the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament. 27 Eliz. made perpetual, 31 Eliz. 5.

CAP. VI.

Upon Leaſes made by Colledges, the third part of the Rent ſhall be reſerved in Corn.

For the better maintenance of Learning, and the relief of Scholers in the Univerſities of Cambridge and Oxford, and the Colledges of Wincheſter and Eaton: Be it Enacted by the Queens Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That no Maſter, Provoſt, Preſident, Warden, Dean, Governor, Rector or chief Ruler of any Colledg, Cathedral Church, Hall, or Houſe of Learning in any of the Univerſities aforeſaid, nor any Provoſt, Warden, or other head-Officer of the ſaid Colledges of Wincheſter or Eaton, nor the corporation of any of the ſame, by what title, ſtyle or name ſoever they now be, ſhall, or may be called, after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall make any leaſe for life, lives, or years of any Farm, or any their lands, tenements or other hereditaments, to the which any tithes, arable land, meadow or paſture, doth or ſhall appertain, except that the one third part at the leaſt of the old rent be reſerved in corn, for the ſaid Colledges, Cathedral Church, Halls and Houſes; that is to ſay, in good wheat, after vi.s. viii.d. the quarter, or under, and good mault at v.s. the quarter or under, to be delivered yearly upon days prefixed, at the ſaid Colledges, Cathedral Church, Halls or Houſes; and for default thereof, to pay to the ſaid Colledges, Cathedral Church, Halls or Houſes, in ready money, at the election of the ſaid Leſſees, their executors, adminiſtrators and aſſigns, after the rate of the beſt wheat, and mault in the Market of Cambridg, for the Rents that are to be paid to the uſe of the Houſe or Houſes there; and in the Market of Oxford, for the Rents that are to be paid to the uſe of the houſe or houſes there; and in the Market of Wincheſter, for the rents that are to be paid to the uſe of the houſe or houſes there; and in the Market at Windſor, for the rents that are to be paid to the uſe of the houſe or houſes at Eaton, is or ſhall be ſold the next Market day before the ſaid rent ſhall be due, without fraud or deceipt: And that all Leaſes otherwiſe hereafter to be made, and all Collateral bonds, or aſſurance to the contrary by any of the ſaid Corporations, ſhall be void in law to all intents and purpoſes. The ſame wheat, mault, or money coming of the ſame, to be expended to the uſe of the relief of the Commons and Diet of the ſaid Colledges, Cathedral Church, Halls and Houſes only, and by no fraud or colour, let or ſold away from the profit of the ſaid Colledges, Cathedral Church, Halls and Houſes, and the Fellows and Schollers in the ſame, and the uſe aforeſaid, upon pain of deprivation of the Governour and chief Rulers of the ſaid Colledges, Cathedral Church, Halls and Houſes, and all other thereunto conſenting.

Upon Leaſes made by Colledges, a third part of the rent ſhall be reſerved in Corn.

Provided always, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend, or be in any wiſe prejudicial to any Leaſe to be made of a Barn called Mouncken Barn, with a certain portion of tithes, riſing, growing and being in the Pariſh of Southweek in the County of Suſſex, being parcel of the poſſeſſions of Maudlin Colledg in Oxford, ſo that the term demiſed in and by the ſaid Leaſe exceed not the number of ten years, from and after the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel next coming: Any thing therein ſpecified to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Mouncken Barn in Suſſex.

Provided alſo, That this Act ſhall not extend to any Leaſe to be made by the Preſident and Schollers of the ſame Colledg of Saint John Baptiſt in Oxford, to any heir male of Sir Thomas White, late Knight and Alderman of London, Founder of the ſaid Colledg, which Leaſe ſhall be made according to the meaning of the foundation, and ſtatutes of the ſaid Colledg of the Manor of Fifield, and no other hereditaments.

CAP. VII.

Offendors in Rape and Burglary ſhall not have Clergy, and how Clerks Convict ſhall be delivered without purgation.

For the repreſſing of the moſt wicked and felonious Rapes or Raviſhments of women, maids, wives, and damoſels, and of felonious Burglaries, and for the avoiding of ſundry perjuries and other abuſes, in and about the purgation of Clerks convict, delivered to the Ordinaries: Be it enacted and ordained by the authority of this preſent Parliament

None ſhall have Clergy, that committeth Rape or Burglary.

That if any perſon or perſons ſhall fortune at any time after the firſt day of June next enſuing, to commit or do any manner of felonious Rape, Raviſhment, or Burglary, and to be found guilty by verdict, of any ſuch felonious Rape or Burglary, or that any perſon or perſons ſhall fortune to be [a] outlawed for any the offences aforeſaid, or upon his or their arraignment ſhall confeſſe any ſuch felonious Rape or Burglary; that in every ſuch caſe, every perſon and perſons ſo being found guilty, outlawed, or confeſſing any of the ſaid felonious Rapes or Burglaries, ſhall ſuffer pains of death, and forfeit, as in caſes of felony hath been uſed and accuſtomed by the common laws of this Realm, without any allowance of the priviledg or benefit of Clergy: Any law, cuſtom or uſage heretofore had, made or uſed to the contrary notwithſtanding.

[a] Cok. 11. fol. 31.

No man allowed his Clergy, ſhall be committed to the Ordinary, but preſently delivered. 4 H. 7. 13. 3 E. 1. 2.

And moreover be it further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every perſon and perſons, which at any time after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall be admitted and allowed to have the benefit or priviledg of his or their Clergy, ſhall not thereupon be delivered to the Ordinary, as hath been accuſtomed, but after ſuch Clergy allowed, and burning in the hand, according to the Statute in that behalf provided, ſhall forthwith be enlarged [b] and delivered out of priſon by the Juſtices before whom ſuch Clergy ſhall be granted, that cauſe notwithſtanding.

[b] Cok. l. 5. fol. 110. Cro. Jac. 450.

The Juſtices may retain offendors in priſon for a time.

Provided nevertheleſſe, and be it alſo Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Juſtices before whom any ſuch allowance of Clergy ſhall be had, ſhall and may for the further correction of ſuch perſons to whom Clergy ſhall be allowed, detain and keep them in priſon for ſuch convenient time, as the ſame Juſtices in their diſcretions ſhall think convenient, ſo as the ſame do not exceed one years impriſonment: Any law or uſage heretofore had or uſed to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

To know a woman carnally under the age of ten years ſhall be felony.

And for plain declaration of law, Be it Enacted, That if any perſon ſhall unlawfully and carnally know and abuſe any woman-child under the age of ten years, every ſuch unlawful and carnal knowledg ſhall be felony, and the offendor thereof being duly convicted, ſhall ſuffer as a felon, with allowance of Clergy.

He that is allowed his Clergy ſhall anſwer to other felonies. 25 Ed. 3. 5. 8 El. 4.

Provided always, That all and every perſon and perſons, which ſhall hereafter be admitted to have the benefit of his or their Clergy, ſhall notwithſtanding his or their admiſſion to the ſame be put to [c] anſwer to all other felonies whereof he or they ſhall be hereafter indicted or appealed, and not being thereof before acquitted, convicted, attainted, or pardoned; and ſhall in ſuch manner and form be arraigned, tried, adjudged, and ſuffer ſuch execution for the ſame, as he or they ſhould have done, if, as Clerk or Clerks convict, they had been delivered to the Ordinary, and there had made his or their purgations: Any thing in this Act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

CAP. VIII.

The Queen may appoint Juſtices of Aſſiſes in Wales, and of what things they may hold Plea.

27 H. 8. 26. 34 H. 8. 26.

WHereas by divers laudable ſtatutes, uſages, and laws of this Realm, for the good government and adminiſtration of Juſtice within the principality and Dominion of Wales, and the County Palatine of Cheſter, it hath been eſtabliſhed, uſed, and enacted among other things, That there ſhall be holden and kept Seſſions twice in every year, in every of the Shires in the ſaid dominion and principality of Wales; that is to ſay, in the ſhires of Glamorgan, Brecknock, Radnor, Caermarthen, Pembroke, the Town and County of Haverford Weſt, Cardigan, Mountgomery, Denbigh, Flint, Caernarvon, Merioneth, and Angleſey, and in the ſaid County Palatine of Cheſter, the which Seſſions are called the Kings great Seſſions, and that the Juſtice of Cheſter for the time being, ſhall hold and keep Seſſions twice in every year in the Shires of Cheſter, Denbigh, Flint, and Mountgomery: And likewiſe that the Juſtice of Northwales ſhall hold and keep Seſſions twice every year, in every of the ſaid Shires of Caernarvon, Merioneth and Angliſey: And that alſo one perſon learned in the laws of this Realm of England, by the Queens Majeſty to be appointed, ſhall be Juſtice of the Shires of Radnor, Brecknock, and Glamorgan, and ſhall in like wiſe hold and keep Seſſions twice in every year in every of the ſame Shires: And that one other perſon learned in the Laws of this Realm, to be appointed as is aforeſaid, ſhall be Juſtice of the Shires of Caermarthen, Pembroke, and Cardigan, and the Town and County of Haverford Weſt, and ſhall likewiſe hold and keep Seſſions twice in every year, in every of the ſaid Shires. And that the ſaid perſons or Juſtices, and every of them then being, or that hereafter ſhould be, ſhould have ſeveral Letters Patents and Commiſſions for their offices under the great Seal of England, to be exerciſed by themſelves, or their ſufficient deputies, according to the purports and intents in the Ordinances ſpecified.

The benefits enſuing by the adminiſtration of Juſtice in Wales, Cheſhire, &c.

Foraſmuch as by the good adminiſtration of Juſtice within the ſaid Shires and Counties, the ſame principality and dominion of Wales, and the ſaid County Palatine of Cheſter, are reduced to great obedience of her Majeſties Laws, and the ſame greatly inhabited, manured and peopled, and for all and all manner of cauſes, pleas, actions, as well real, perſonal, and mixt, as treaſons, pleas of the Crown, attaints, conſpiracies, aſſiſes, quare impedit, appeals of murder, maims, and felony, and trial upon all murders, man-ſlaughters and felonies whatſoever, ariſing within the ſaid ſeveral Circuits, are by the ſaid laws, uſages and ſtatutes impleadable, impleaded, and determinable before one only Juſtice, as is aforeſaid: And for that many great and weighty cauſes, matters, queſtions, demurrers, and ambiguities in law do hereupon daily ariſe, encreaſe, and are like more and more to encreaſe within the ſaid Shires, to the infinite trouble of ſuch one Juſtice within every of the ſaid ſeveral Circuits, and to the great decay and hinderance of adminiſtration of Juſtice.

To have one Judge over-charged with the hearing of many cauſes, is a great delay of Juſtice.

For the better and more ſpeedy remedy whereof, her Majeſties Subjects of the ſaid principality and dominion of Wales, and County Palatine of Cheſter, have made their moſt humble petition and ſuit to her Highneſſe, to have two Juſtices learned in the Laws in every of the ſaid ſeveral Circuits. And foraſmuch as ſome queſtion, ambiguity, and doubt hath been heretofore made, whether her Highneſſe by her Letters Patents under the great Seal of England, might or may authorize, conſtitute or appoint two perſons or more, to be her Highneſſe Juſtices in every of the ſaid ſeveral Circuits, or grant Commiſſion or Commiſſions of aſſociation or aſſociations, to or with every or any ſuch ſeveral Juſtice and Juſtices, or no: and alſo whether after ſuch grant the adminiſtration of Juſtice in thoſe offices and function done by two, may be ſufficiently rewarded by law, or no. For plain explanation whereof, and for the better redreſſe and more ſpeedy adminiſtration of Juſtice to be had touching the premiſſes: Be it declared, explained, enacted and eſtabliſhed by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the Queens Highneſſe, her Heirs and Succeſſors, may and ſhall at her and their will pleaſure have full power, prerogative, and authority from time to time, to conſtitute, authorize, name or appoint two or more learned, as aforeſaid, in the Laws of this Realm, to be Juſtices of and for the ſaid Counties of Cheſter, Flint, Denbigh and Mountgomery: and two or more learned, as aforeſaid, to be Juſtices of Northwales, viz. of and for the ſaid Shires of Angliſey, Caernarvan, and Merioneth: and likewiſe two or more learned, as aforeſaid, to be Juſtices of and for the ſaid Circuit and Shires of Radnor, Glamorgan and Brecknock: and alſo two or more learned, as aforeſaid, to be Juſtices of and for the ſaid Circuit and Shires of Cardigan, Caermarthen, and Pembroke, and the Town and County of Haverford-weſt: Any law, uſage, opinion, or ſtatute to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The Queen ſhall appoint two or more to be Juſtices for every Circuit in Wales.

And that her Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, may and ſhall, at her and their good will and pleaſure, from time to time, aſſociate and grant commiſſion and commiſſions of aſſociation or aſſociations under the great Seal of England, to any perſon or perſons learned as aforeſaid, to be aſſociate to or with every or any ſuch ſeveral Juſtice or Juſtices for the time being, of the ſaid ſeveral circuits and counties aforeſaid, or in any of the ſaid counties: And that all and every ſuch two Juſtices or more, within every of the ſaid ſeveral Circuits and Counties, and alſo that every ſuch Juſtice or Juſtices, together with ſuch perſon or perſons aſſociate (if any ſuch aſſociation or aſſociations ſhall happen to be, as aforeſaid) during ſuch aſſociation, and after ſuch aſſociation ended, or without ſuch aſſociation, ſuch Juſtice or Juſtices ſhall have the like full power, preheminence, authority and juriſdiction from henceforth, to all intents, conſtructions, purpoſes and effects, as any one Juſtice within any of the ſaid Circuits or Shires aforeſaid, now hath, or at any time heretofore had or ought to have: and alſo ſhall have like power, authority, preheminence and juriſdiction to keep and hold the ſeveral Seſſions aforeſaid, twice in every year, in every of the ſaid Shires, within their ſeveral Circuits aforeſaid, and to hear, determine, order, award, adjudge, receive, take knowledge of, and execute all and ſingular cauſes, matters, plees of Aſſiſes, treaſons, murders, felonies, indictments, appeals of murder, felony, and maims, actions reals, perſonals, and mixt ſuits, plaints, informations, quarrels, attaints, conſpiracies, quare impedit, and all actions grounded upon any ſtatute or ſtatutes, writs, proceſſes, returns, eſſoins, verdicts, judgments, fines, acknowledges, confeſſions, warrants and executions, actions and acts whatſoever, and to do, perform, obſerve, accompliſh, and make all and every other act and acts, matter and matters, thing and things whatſoever, in like, and in as ample, beneficial, lawful and effectual manner and form, to all conſtructions, qualities, intents and purpoſes, as any of the now ſeveral Juſtices, or any one of the now Juſtice or Juſtices, within the ſame ſeveral Circuit or Circuits, and Counties aforeſaid, may, ought, hath, or might lawfully do by force of any law, uſage or ſtatute heretofore had, made or uſed, before the making of this Act: and that from henceforth all and ſingular writs, proceſſes, returns, eſſoins, verdicts, judgmeuts, fines, recoveries, recogniſances, acknowledges, confeſſions, act and acts, thing and things, matter and matters, as aforeſaid, had, made, taken, done, returned, heard, determined, awarded, adjudged or executed by or before any ſuch two Juſtices or more, or any ſuch Juſtice or Juſtices, and aſſociate or aſſociates, as aforeſaid, to be appointed, nominated, authorized, or conſtituted, as aforeſaid, ſhall be allowed, taken, conſtrued, expounded and adjudged as good, effectual and available, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as if the ſame had been made, taken, done, returned, heard, determined, awarded, adjudged or executed by or before any ſuch one Juſtice, or one of the Juſtices now, or late being Juſtice or Juſtices of the ſame Circuit, or ſeveral Circuits aforeſaid: Any law, uſage, ſtatute, act, ordinance or preſcription to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The Queen may grant Commiſſions of Aſſociation to any perſon licenſed to be aſſociate with Juſtices.

Of what things the two Juſtices or they with the Aſſociates may hold.

CAP. IX.

The Statute of 1 El. 10. and 14 El. 4. touching the tranſporting of Leather, repealed. The penalty for ſhipping Leather, &c. to the intent to tranſport it beyond the Sea.

Where in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter in the firſt year of the reign of the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, one Act was made, that the carrying of Leather, Tallow, and raw Hydes, out of the Realm for Merchandizes, ſhould be felony: which Act was made to endure but for a certain time, and afterwards was diſcontinued, and ſithence, viz. in the firſt Seſſion of this preſent Parliament renued to have continuance for certain years yet to come. And where alſo in the Parliament holden in the fifth year of her Majeſties reign, one other Act was made, upon great advice, conference, and deliberation, concerning Tanners, Curriers, Shoomakers, and other Artificers occupying the cutting of Leather, and thereby all former Acts were repealed concerning the ſame, by which means it was hoped that the goodneſſe of Leather, and the exceſſe prices thereof, as alſo of Tallow ſhould have been remedied, which notwithſtanding daily hath increaſed, and yet doth: the cauſe whereof is, that being ſhipped for forein parties, or tranſported out of the Realm, no forfeiture is given to him or them that will ſeize or ſue for the ſame. For remedy whereof, be it enacted by the Queen our Soveraign Lady, and by the authority of this preſent Parliament, that the ſaid Act made in the ſaid firſt year, and continued in the firſt Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, ſhall be repealed, and that ſo much of the ſaid Act made in the ſaid fifth year, and proviſoes therein contained, as do or doth concern the tranſporting of Leather or Hides, ſhall be continued, and duly put in execution.

The penalty for ſhipping or loading of any leather, tallow, or raw hides, to the intent to be tranſported.

The forfeiture of the owner of a ſhip, Maſter and Mariners offending.

And be it further enacted, That it ſhall not be lawful for any perſon or perſons, to lade, ſhip or carry in any Veſſel or Ship, or otherwiſe, any Leather, Tallow or raw Hides, of intent to tranſport or carry the ſame into any place or places of the parts beyond the Seas, or into the Realm of Scotland, by land or by Sea, other then Scottiſh Hides, according to the ſaid proviſo in the ſaid Act, made in the ſaid fifth year upon the pain and forfeitures hereafter enſuing: that is to ſay, upon the pain of the forfeiture of the ſaid Leather, Tallow, or raw Hides, ſo laden or tranſported and treble the value thereof; to be forfeited by the owner or owners: and alſo the owners of the ſaid Ships or Veſſels, knowing of ſuch offence, to forfeit the ſaid Ships or Veſſels, with all their apparrel and furniture to them and every of them belonging, and the Maſter and Mariners knowing of ſuch offence, to forfeit all their goods and chattels, and to have impriſonment by the ſpace of one year without bail or mainpriſe: the one moiety of all which forfeitures to be to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, the other moiety to him or them that will ſue for the ſame: by action of debt, or information in any Court of Record, in which ſuit, no protection nor wager of Law ſhall be admitted.

By what means the Maſter or owner of a ſhip, or mariner may eſcape the penalty aforeſaid.

Provided always, that if any owner of any ſuch Ship or Veſſel, or any Maſter or Mariner knowing any ſuch tranſportation of Leather, Tallow, or raw Hides, ſhall within three months next after his knowledge thereof, or after his return into this Realm, give good information, bona fide, before any of the Barons of the Queens Majeſties Court of the Exchequer, or before the Lord Preſident or Councel in the North, or in the Marches of Wales, or before the head-officer of any Port where he ſhall firſt arrive, upon his or their oath, of the number and quantity of Leather, Tallow, raw Hides, ſo carried, conveyed and tranſported, and whom, where, and in what Ship or Veſſel, and afterwards ſhall be ready upon reaſonable warning by proceſſe to juſtifie and prove the ſame for the Queens Majeſty, that then ſuch owner or owners, Maſter, Mariner or Mariners, ſhall not forfeit his or their Ship, Veſſel or Veſſels, nor incur the forfeitures aforeſaid: Any thing herein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The ſubſidy of hides, calves skins, and tallow tranſported.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that every perſon or perſons whatſoever that ſhall Ship or carry any Leather, Tallow or raw Hides, otherwiſe than by force of the ſaid proviſo made in the ſaid fifth year, into the parts of beyond the Seas from henceforth, ſhall pay to the Queens Majeſty her Heirs and Succeſſors for every Hide ſo to be carried, by the name of Subſidy, the ſum of ten ſhillings, and for every dozen of Calve-skins, three ſhillings four pence, and for every hundred pound weight of Tallow, ſix ſhillings eight pence.

Cuſtomers, comptrollers and farmors ſhall be accomptant for the ſaid Cuſtoms.

3 H. 6. 3.

And further, that Cuſtomers, Comptrollers, Farmors and Superviſors of Cuſtoms and Subſidy, ſhall be accomptant to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, to pay the ſaid Cuſtom and Subſidy, for all ſuch goods entred and laden, upon the pains and penalties contained in the ſtatute made for falſe concealment of Cuſtoms and Subſidy, in the third year of the reign of King Henry the ſixth. Stat. 14 Car. 2. cap. 7.

CAP. X.

Who, and for what every perſon ſhall be charged toward the amending and maintenance of High-wayes.

2 & 3 P. & M. 8.

Where, in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, in the ſecond and third year of the reign of our late Soveraign Lord and Lady King Philip and Queen Mary, an Act was made and ordained for the amending and repairing of the high-ways.

5 El. 13.

And whereas there is one other Act made in the fifth year of our Sovereign Lady the Queen that now is, for the better amendment of high-ways, wherein ſome doubts and defects have been, For explanation thereof, and better proviſion hereafter to be made for amendment of high-wayes: Be it explained and enacted by the Queens Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, that every perſon or perſons except ſuch as ſhall dwell in the City of London) that ſhall be aſſeſſed to the payment of any Subſidie to her Majeſty to five pounds in goods, or forty ſhillings in lands, or above during all ſuch time as he ſhall ſtand ſo aſſeſſed & not altered, and being none of the parties chargeable for the amendment of high-ways, by any former Law, but as a Cottager, ſhall find two able men yearly to labour in the high-ways, at ſuch days and times, as by the ſaid ſeveral ſtatutes are limited & appointed.

The charge of each perſon towards the repairing of High-ways, having v. l. in goods, or xl. s. in lands.

The charge of him that hath one plough-land in ſeveral Pariſhes.

And every other that hereafter ſhall occupy a plough-land in tillage or paſture, lying and being in ſeveral Pariſhes, ſhall be chargeable to the making of the wayes within the Pariſh where he dwelleth, as far forth, and in ſuch manner & form as any perſon, having a plough-land, in any one Pariſh, is, or ought to be chargeable by reaſon of the ſaid former ſtatutes or either of them.

The charge of him that hath ſeveral plough-lands in ſeveral Pariſhes.

And that every perſon or perſons, occupying and keeping in his or their hands or poſſeſſion, ſeveral or divers plough-lands, as aforeſaid, in ſeveral or divers Towns, ſhall be charged to find in each Town or Pariſh (where the plough-lands, being in his occupying, do lye) one cart, wain, tumbrel, dungpot, or court, ſleads, carres, or dragg, furniſhed for the amendment and repairing of the high-ways within the ſeveral Pariſhes where the ſaid plough-lands do ly, in ſuch manner and form, as if he or they were a Pariſhioner dwelling within the Pariſhes where the ſame ſeveral plough-lands do lye.

The penalty for not ſcouring ditches, hyes, and fences, or not cutting down of buſhes.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every perſon and perſons that ſhall not repair, ditch or ſcour any hayes, fences, ditches, or hedges adjoyning to any high-way or common fairing way, or ſhall not cut down or keep low all trees and buſhes growing in, or next adjoyning to any the ſaid wayes, according to the true intent and meaning of the above recited Act made in the fifth year of the Queens Majeſties Reign that now is, for every offence committed therein, contrary to the true intent thereof, ſhall forfeit and loſe for every default x. ſhillings.

And that all and every perſon and perſons, that ſhall occupy any Lands adjoyning to the ſaid ground ſo adjoyning to any ſuch high-way, or common fayzing way, where any ditching or ſcouring ſhould or ought to be, as aforeſaid, ſhall from time to time, as need ſhall require, ditch and ſcour in his and their ground ſo adjoyning, whereby the water conveyed from the ſaid high-way, or common fayzing way, over the ground next adjoyning, may have paſſage over the ſaid ground ſo next adjoyning upon pain of forfeiture for every time ſo offending, for every rod not ſo ditched and ſcoured, xii. d.

And for the better keeping of the high-wayes paſſable for her Majeſties people: Be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons, having any ground by leaſe, or otherwiſe, adjoyning to any high-way, or common fayzing way, leading to any Market Town, ſhall caſt or ſcour any ditch, and throw or lay the ſoyl thereof into the high-way, and ſuffer it to lie there by the ſpace of ſix moneths, to the annoyance of the ſaid high-way, or common fayzing way, upon pain of forfeiture for every load of Soyl ſo caſt into the high-way, or common fayzing way, in ditching or ſcouring, twelve pence. And where any heretofore have been ſo caſt into the high-way or common fayzing way, that there is a bank between the ſaid way and the ditch, it ſhall be lawful for the Surveyors and Workmen by the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, appointed for the amendment of the ſaid wayes, to make ſluces or other devices by their diſcretions to convey the water out of the ſaid way into the ditch: Any Law, Right, Intereſt, Cuſtome, or Uſage to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The penalty for caſting of ſoyl into the way.

Making of ſluces to convey the water.

And that all and every penalty, ſum or ſums of money forfeited for any cauſe within this Statute, ſhall be levied in every Pariſh by the Surveyors of the wayes within that Pariſh for the time being, by diſtreſſe and ſale of diſtreſſe, in manner and form as fines or amerciaments in Leets have been uſed, and the money ſo levied to be imployed upon the high-way, or common fayzing way, where the offence was committed. And if the Surveyors ſhall not or will not levy and imploy the ſame within one year after the offence ſo committed, that then the ſaid ſum or ſums, forfeiture or forfeitures, ſhall be levied in form aforeſaid, by the Conſtables or Church-wardens of the Town or Pariſh where the work ought to be done in the high-way (as aforeſaid) and that he or they ſo levying any of the ſaid penalties or forfeitures, ſhall make and yield ſuch account appointed in the before recited Statutes, or either of them.

How the forfeitures ariſing by this Statute, ſhall be levied and imployed.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every Juſtices of Aſſize, Juſtices of Oyer and Terminer, Juſtices of the Peace in the Seſſions, and Stewards of Leets and Lawdayes, in their Leets and Lawdays, ſhall hear and determine all and every offence, matter and cauſe that ſhall grow, come or riſe by reaſon of this Statute.

Which officers may hear and determine the offences aforeſaid.

And where the Ferry or paſſage, called the Kings Ferry, within the Iſle of Shippey, in the County of Kent, before the making of the Statute of high-wayes, was uſually repaired and maintained time out of memory of man, at the charges of all the Inhabitants and Land-occupiers within the whole Iſle, by taxation and ſeſſement at one Court or Law-day, time out of mind, yearly holden on the Monday next after the Feaſt of Pentecoſt, at Kingsborow, within the ſaid Iſle in the name of the Queens Majeſty and her Progenitors, only for the maintenance of the ſame Ferry: Be it therefore enacted, That the ſaid Court ſhall be duly kept, in ſuch manner and form as hath been heretofore accuſtomed, and that it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the Jury impannelled and ſworn at the ſame Court for the time being, by their diſcretions reaſonably to aſſeſſe and tax themſelves, and all other the Inhabitants and Land-occupiers of the ſaid Iſle indifferently, according to the rate of Land in every mans occupying, towards the maintenance of the ſaid Ferry and paſſage, and the wayes belonging or leading to the ſame, ſo as no acre of freſh marſh and upland be taxed above the rate of a peny in one year, nor of every ten acres of ſalt marſh above the rate of a peny in one year. And that all and every thing, profit, benefit and commodity, which heretofore hath been given by any perſon or perſons whatſoever, towards the maintenance of the ſaid paſſage or Ferry, ſhall be had and levied to the maintenance of the ſaid paſſage or Ferry, and that the Ferry-warden for the time being ſhall have full power and authority to levy, recover, and receive the ſame, and the taxes and aſſeſſements of every perſon and perſons by way of diſtreſſe, upon the Extreats made out by the Steward of the ſaid Court, as all amerciaments are uſed to be levied that are extreated out of other the Queens Majeſties Leets and Lawdays: and that the ſaid Ferry-warden ſhall beſtow the money ſo levied upon the repairing and maintenance of the ſaid Ferry, Paſſage and Wayes, and thereof ſhall give accompt, as they have been accuſtomed, to the Steward of the ſaid Court and Homage, there to be ſworn at the next Lawday following, and all arrearages in his hands remaining, ſhall deliver over to the next Ferry-warden, on pain to forfeit the double of the ſaid arrearages, to be levied as other pains and amerciaments in the Court aforeſaid aſſeſſed, and to be imployed to the maintenance of the ſaid Paſſage or Ferry.

By what perſons and means Kings-Ferry in the Iſle of Shippey in Kent, ſhall be repaired.

How freſh and upland Marſh ſhall be taxed, and how ſalt marſh, by the acre.

Things given to the maintenance of the Ferry.

The Ferry-warden ſhall beſtow the money upon the repair thereof, and make payment of the arrearages.

And foraſmuch as the uſual high-way, leading from the Market-Town, called Middleton, to the ſaid Ferry, is preſently in ſuch decay, that neither Man nor Beaſt without great danger, is able to paſſe, whatſoever neceſſity ſhould ſuddenly happen for men to repair into or out of the ſaid Iſle, and the Pariſh where the ſame lieth is not able to repair the ſame: Be it therefore further enacted, That it ſhall be lawful from henceforth yearly, during the ſpace of ten years, for three Juſtices of Peace, whereof one to be of the Quorum, next inhabiting to the ſaid Town of Middleton within the ſaid County of Kent, reaſonably to aſſeſſe and take all and every Land-occupiers, dwelling out of the ſaid Iſle, and within four miles diſtant from the ſaid Ferry, as to their diſcretion ſhall ſeem convenient, not exceeding the ſum of one peny upon every acre of freſh marſh and upland, in one year, and upon every ten acres of ſalt marſh,

CAP. XI.

A Leaſe or other Conveyance to be made of any ſpiritual living, whereof there is a Leaſe in being, not to be determined within three years; and all Bonds and Covenants for renewing thereof, ſhall be void, &c.

A rehearſal of the Statute of 13 Eliz. 10. touching aſſurances made by ſpiritual perſons, of their lands, tythes, &c.

WHereas by the Statute made in a Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the ſecond day of April, in the thirteenth year of the Reign of our moſt gracious Soveraign Lady, entituled, An Act againſt fraudulent gifts, to the intent to defeat dilapidations of Eccleſiaſtical livings, and for leaſes to be granted by Collegiate Churches: It was amongſt other things enacted by the authority of Parliament, That from thenceforth all leaſes, gifts, grants, feoffments, conveyances, or eſtates to be made, had, done or ſuffered by any Maſter and Fellows of any Colledge, or by any Dean and Chapter of any Cathedral or Collegiate Church, Maſter or Guardian of any Hoſpital, Parſon, Vicar, or any other, having any Spiritual or Eccleſiaſtical living, or any houſes, lands, tythes, tenements or other hereditaments, being any parcel of the poſſeſſions of any ſuch Colledge, Cathedral Church, Chapter, Hoſpital, Parſonage, Vicarage, or other ſpiritual promotion, or any ways appertaining or belonging to the ſame, or of any of them, to any perſon or perſons, bodies politick or corporate, other then for the term of xxi. years, or three lives, from the time of any ſuch leaſe or grant ſhall be made or granted, whereupon the accuſtomed yearly Rent or more ſhall be reſerved, and payable yearly during the ſaid term, ſhall be utterly void and of none effect, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes: Any Law, Cuſtom or Uſage to the contrary notwithſtanding, as in the ſaid Act more plainly appeareth.

Practiſes to defeat the meaning of the foreſaid Statute.

Sithence the making of which ſaid Eſtatute, divers of the ſaid Eccleſiaſtical and Spiritual perſons, and others, having Spiritual or Eccleſiaſtical livings, having from time to time made leaſes for the term of xxi. years, or three lives, long before the expiration of the former years, contrary to the true meaning and intent of the ſaid Eſtatute: Be it therefore enacted by this preſent Parliament, That all leaſes hereafter to be made by any of the ſaid Eccleſiaſtical, Spiritual or Collegiate perſons or others, of any their ſaid Eccleſiaſtical, Spiritual or Collegiate lands, tenements or hereditaments, whereof any former leaſe for years is in being, not to be expired, ſurrendred or ended, within three years next after the making of any ſuch new leaſe, ſhall be void, fruſtrate, and of none effect: Any Law, Uſage or Cuſtom to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Leaſes by ſpiritual perſons, of their lands in leaſe.

A bond or covenant for the renewing of a Leaſe.

And be it likewiſe enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every Bond and Covenant whatſoever hereafter to be made, for renewing or making of any leaſe or leaſes, contrary to the true intent of this Act, or of the ſaid Act made in the ſaid xiii. year, ſhall be utterly void: Any Law, Statute, Ordinance, or other thing whatſoever to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Leaſes made before this Statute.

Provided alwayes, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall extend or be prejudicial to make fruſtrate or void any leaſe or leaſes heretofore made by any of the ſaid Spiritual or Eccleſiaſtical perſon or perſons, or any of them: but that the ſame, and every of them are of the like force and effect, as they or any of them were before the making of this preſent Statute: This Act, or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Sir Thomas White Founder of S. Johns Colledge in Oxford.

And where Sir Thomas VVhite, late Knight and Alderman of London, for advancement of good Learning, hath founded one Colledge in the Univerſity of Oxford, called S. John Baptiſts Colledge, and being ſeized of the Mannor of Fiſhyde, alias Fifielde, in the County of Berks, did together with all other his Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, give and aſſure the ſaid Manor, with all the appurtenances, to the Preſident and Schollars of the ſaid Colledge for ever: And nevertheleſſe the ſaid Sir Thomas VVhite, having then one Ralph VVhite his Brother living, and ſundry Kinſmen, to whom by courſe of the Common Law his Lands might have deſcended, did deviſe and order, and by the Statutes which he provided for the ſaid Houſe, and by order of the now Viſitor of the ſaid Colledge; It is Ordained, That the ſaid Manor of Fiſhyde, alias Fifield, with the appurtenances, ſhould be demiſed by the ſaid Preſident and Schollars for the time being, to the ſaid Ralph, for the term of xcix. years, if the ſaid Ralph ſhould ſo long live, and ſo it is intended that from heir-male to heir-male of the ſaid Sir Thomas VVhite, new deviſes ſhould from time to time be made of the ſaid Manor with the appurtenances, to every ſuch heir-male ſucceſſively, for the term of fourſcore and nineteen years, if ſuch heir-male ſhould ſo long live, yielding to the ſaid Preſident and Schollars for the time being, ſuch Rent as now is reſerved with ſuch further Covenants and Conditions, as by the ſaid Sir Thomas VVhite or Viſitor is agreed and appointed.

A Leaſe may be made to Ralph White of the Manor of Fifelde by Saint Johns Colledge in Oxford.

And where ſince the deceaſe of the ſaid Sir Thomas VVhite, the ſaid aſſurances to the ſaid Preſident and Schollars, in all, or the moſt part of the lands, tenements, and hereditamens of the ſaid Founder, were found in ſome reſpect unperfect, and inſufficient in law, and that thereupon the ſaid Ralph VVhite, to whom the advantage of ſuch imperfection came by law, did nevertheleſſe take no ſuch advantage, but did willingly make perfect the ſaid aſſurances, according to the true meaning of the ſaid Sir Thomas VVhite his Brother, accepting only one leaſe of the ſaid Manor, in ſuch ſort as the ſaid Viſitor was appointed, with the Copyholds, and other Appurtenances of the ſaid Manor. For remedy whereof, Be it enacted, That the Preſident and Schollars of the ſaid Colledge may from time to time demiſe the ſaid Manor, Copyholds, and other Appurtenances, to every heir-male of the ſaid Sir Thomas VVhite ſucceſſively, according to the form of leaſe thereof already made to the ſaid Ralph, and that every ſuch leaſe ſo to be made, and every covenant made, or to be made for the performance of the ſame, ſhall be good in law, as if the ſaid Act made in the ſaid xiii. year had never been had nor made: Any thing in the ſaid Act made in the xiii. year, or any other Act or matter whatſoever to the contrary notwithſtanding.

And whereas in one other Statute made in the ſaid thirteenth year of her Majeſty, entituled, An Act touching Leaſes of Benefices, and other Eccleſiaſtical livings with Cure, one clauſe is contained, That the Incumbent offending the purport of the ſaid Statute, ſhall for the ſame loſe one years profit of his ſaid Benefice, to be diſtributed by the Ordinary among the poor of the Pariſh, as by the ſaid branch in the ſaid laſt recited Statute appeareth: Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That after complaint made to the Ordinary, and ſentence given upon any offence committed by the Incumbent, whereby he ſhall or ought to loſe one years profit of his benefice, as afore ſhewed, that the Ordinary within two moneths after ſuch ſentence given, and requeſt to him made by the Church-wardens of the ſaid Pariſh, or one of them, ſhall grant the ſequeſtration of ſuch profits, to ſuch Inhabitant or Inhabitants within the Pariſh where ſuch Benefice ſhall be, as to him ſhall ſeem meet and convenient; and upon default therein by the Ordinary, that it may and ſhall be lawful to every Pariſhioner where the Benefice is, to retain and keep his or their Tythes, and likewiſe for the Church-wardens of the ſaid Pariſh, to enter and take the profits of the Glebe-lands, and other Rents and Duties of every ſuch Benefice, to be imployed to the uſe of the poor, as aforeſaid, untill ſuch time as ſequeſtration ſhall be committed by the Ordinary, and then as well the Church-wardens as Pariſhioners, to yield account of, and make payment to him or them, to whom ſuch Sequeſtration ſhall be committed; and that he or they, to whom ſuch Sequeſtration ſhall be committed from time to time, ſhall juſtly and truly imploy and beſtow the ſaid profits, or the true and juſt value thereof, without fraud or guile, to ſuch uſes as by the ſaid Statute is limited and appointed, upon pain of forfeiture of the double value of ſuch uſes as by the ſaid Statute is limited and appointed, upon pain of forfeiture of the double value of ſuch with holden profits, to be recovered in the Eccleſiaſtical Court by the poor of the ſaid Pariſh. CAP. XII.

Iſſnes joyned in the Chancery, Kings-Bench, Common-Pleas, or Exchequer, may be tryed by Niſi prius in Weſtminſter-Hall.

Whereas heretofore all iſſues joyned in any of the Courts of Record at Weſtminſter, triable in the County of Middleſex, have been uſually tryed at the bars in the ſaid Courts in Weſtminſter: And whereas a great number of actions have of late years been brought in the ſaid County of Middleſex, for ſpeedineſſe of tryal, and that for ſmall cauſes, by reaſon whereof, the Judges of the ſame Courts have not only been letted and hindered in their proceedings in matters of great weight depending before them by demurrer or otherwiſe, to the great delay of Juſtice, and occaſion of great expences and charges of a number of the Queens Majeſties moſt loving Subjects, but alſo to the trouble and charge of the Freeholders of the ſaid County, who are compelled to give daily attendance at the ſeveral bars of the ſame ſeveral Courts, for the tryal of the ſaid Iſſues. For reformation whereof, Be it enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, our Soveraign Lady, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That from henceforth the Chief Juſtice of England for the time being, upon iſſues joyned, or to be joyned in the Court called the Kings-Bench, or in the Court of Chancery, the Chief Juſtice of the Common-Pleas for the time being, upon iſſues joyned or to be joyned in the Court of Common-Pleas, & the Chief Baron of the Exchequer for the time being, upon iſſues joyned or to be joyned in the Court of the Exchequer; or in the abſence or default of any of them, two other Judges or Barons of the ſame ſeveral Courts where it ſhall happen either of the ſame Chief Juſtices or the Chief Baron for the time being to be abſent, ſhall or may at their diſcretions within the ſaid Hall, called Weſtminſter-Hall in Weſtminſter, or in the place where the Court of Excheq. is commonly kept in the ſaid County of Middl. as Juſtices of Niſi prius, for the ſaid County of Middl. within the Term-time, or within four days next after the end of every, or any Term ſeverally try all manner of iſſues joyned or to be joyned in any of the ſaid ſeveral Courts, which by the ordinary courſe of the Laws of the Realm, ought to be tryed in any of the ſaid Courts by an inqueſt of the ſaid County of Middl. and that Commiſſioners and Writs of Niſi prius ſhall be awarded in ſuch caſes, & in ſuch form as they are or have been uſed in any other Shire of this Realm: and that it ſhall be lawful for any perſon or perſons from henceforth, upon reaſonable warning given to the adverſe party, or his or their Atturney, as hath been accuſtomed in ſuch like caſes, to take or ſue for Writs and Records of Niſi prius, for the tryal of the ſaid Iſſues in the ſaid County of Middleſex, as they may do upon any iſſue joyned, tryable in any other County, and thereupon take Jury in ſuch manner and form, and with awarding of Tales de Circumſtantibus, and awarding the nonſuit, as is uſed for the tryal of iſſues joyned, or nonſuits to be awarded in the ſaid Courts, or any of them, tryable within the City of London, or within any other County of this Realm of England, and that the Sheriffs of the ſaid County of Middleſex for the time being, ſhall make return of all Writs of Niſi prius, which ſhall be delivered to them, or to their, or any of their ſufficient Deputy for the time being, before the ſaid Judges, Baron or Barons, and every of them, and ſhall give their attendance upon the ſaid Juſtices, Baron and Barons, as well for the returning of ſuch Tales as ſhall be prayed de circumſtantibus, for the trying of the ſaid iſſues, as for the doing and executing of all other thing and things, to the office of Sheriff in ſuch caſe belonging or appertaining. And that all perſons to be impannelled in ſuch Juries, and the parties to the ſame Iſſues and ſuits, and the witneſſes for the ſame, ſhall be charged and bound in ſuch and the like ſort, and upon like pains and penalties, for their not appearance and attendance, or for their, or any of their mis-

CAP. XIII.

Tranſcripts of Offices found before Eſcheators or Commiſſioners within the Counties Palatines, ſhall be certified into the Court of Wards.

The prejudices which have enſued by not tranſcripting of offices found in Counties Palatine into the Court of Wards.

Whereas the Queens moſt royal Majeſty, by the Laws and Statutes of this her Highneſſe Realm of England, ought to have the cuſtody, wardſhip and marriage of the body lands and tenements of the heirs of every her Highneſſe tenements, holding of her Majeſty by Knights-Service in chief, as of her Crown, or otherwiſe by Knights-Service, or of a third part thereof, and alſo primer ſeiſin and livery of their Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, as the caſe doth require, as well within the County Palatines of the Dutchy of Lancaſter, and the Earldome of Cheſter, and in the County Palatine of the Biſhoprick of Dureſme, as alſo in all other places within the Dominions of this her Highneſſe Realm of England and Wales. And whereas heretofore all ſuch offices and inquiſitions, as have been found by vertue of Writs of Diem clauſit extremum, or by other Writs or Commiſſions or virtute Officii, concerning Lands or Hereditaments, after the death of any of her Majeſties ſaid Tenants within the ſaid County Palatines, are alwayes, and have been returned into the Court of the ſaid Dutchy of Lancaſter, and into the Exchequers of the ſaid County Palatines of Cheſter and Dureſme, or in ſuch Offices, or Officers hands therefore ſpecially appointed, and ſo being returned, there do remain. By reaſon whereof, and for that the ſaid Offices and Inquiſitions are not tranſcripted into her Majeſties Court of Wards and Liveries, like as other Offices and Inquiſitions are certified out of her Highneſſe Court of Chancery, her Majeſties Title hath been oftentimes long delayed and deferred, from the knowledge of the Maſter and Councel of the ſaid Court of Wards and Liveries, ſo that ſundry times it hath happened, that the heirs of her Majeſties Tenants, being within age, have died before compoſition made for their Wardſhips and Marriages, and other of full age likewiſe died before they have entred into Bonds, or paid their primer Seiſin, and ſued their Livery, whereby oftentimes great intruſions and arrearages of the Rents, Iſſues and Profits of their Lands hath accrued and grown before Livery ſued, to the great prejudice and hinderance as well of her ſaid Highneſſe, and other her Majeſties Progenitors for times heretofore paſſed, as alſo to divers her Majeſties Subjects, Occupiers, Farmers and Takers of the Rents, Iſſues and Profits of the ſaid Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments.

Offices found in Counties Palatine, ſhall be certified into the Court of Wards.

For ſpeedy remedy whereof, Be it therefore enacted by the Queens Majeſty, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled: That all ſuch Inquiſitions and Offices to be found from and after the firſt day of July next coming, before any Eſcheators or Commiſſioners, by vertue of any ſuch Writs or Commiſſion, or otherwiſe, within the ſaid County Palatines of the ſaid Dutchy of Lancaſter, Cheſter and Dureſme, or any of them, ſhall be returned by the ſaid Eſcheators and Commiſſioners, within one moneth next after the taking of any ſuch Office or Inquiſition, into ſuch place or places, and to ſuch Office and Offices as heretofore they have uſually been accuſtomed to be certified and returned into, upon pain to forfeit for every default forty pounds, to the uſe of our ſaid Soveraign Lady the Queen, her Heirs and Succeſſors. And that the Clerk of the ſaid Dutchy of Lancaſter, the Vice-Chamberlain of the ſaid Earldom of Cheſter, and the Chancellor of the ſaid County Palatine of the ſaid Biſhoprick of Dureſme, or other the ſaid Officers or Miniſters within the ſaid County Palatines, or their Deputy or Deputies, and every of them for the time being, having authority to receive any ſuch Office or Inquiſition, to whoſe hands any ſuch office or inquiſition ſhall come, ſhall certifie, or cauſe to be certified under his or their hands in parchment, the true tranſcript of every ſuch Office or Inquiſition, taken before any of the Eſcheators or Commiſſioners, unto the Maſter of the ſaid Court of Wards and Liveries, in ſuch like manner, form and ſort, as is limited and appointed to the Clerks of the Petibag, in her Highneſſe ſaid Court of Chancery to tranſcript the ſame, upon pain to forfeit for every ſuch default, five pounds to the uſe of our ſaid Soveraign Lady, her Heirs and Succeſſors: which tranſcript ſo to be certified, ſhall there remain of Record, in like manner and form to all intents and purpoſes, as the tranſcripts of other Offices already certified into the ſaid Court, by the Clerks of the Petibag in her Majeſties High Court of Chancery are uſed: Any Cuſtome, Statute, Act, Proviſo or Proviſoes heretofore had, made, or uſed to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

After Verdict given in a Court of Record, there ſhall be no ſtay of Judgment, or reſerving thereof for want of form, falſe Latine, variance, &c. when an Atturney ſhall deliver his Warrant of Record.

After verdict given in a Court of Record, there ſhall be no ſtay of judgment, or reverſing thereof for want of form, &c.

Be it enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That if any verdict of twelve men or more ſhall be given in any action, ſuit, bill, plaint or demand, in any Court of Record, the Judgment thereupon ſhall not be ſtayed or reverſed, by reaſon of any default in form, or lack of form, touching falſe Latine, or variance from the Regiſter, or other [a] defaults in form in any Writ original or judicial, count, declaration, plaint, bill, ſuit or demand, or for want of any Writ original or judicial, or by reaſon of any im-

By whom and at whoſe charge the Bridges and High-wayes within one mile of Oxford, ſhall be repaired.

FOraſmuch as your Highneſſes Univerſity and City of Oxford, hath received from your Highneſſe, and your noble Progenitors, great priviledges and prerogatives, as alſo the Inhabitants and Dwellers within the compaſſe and precinct of five miles thereunto adjoyning, as chiefly by a Statute made in the ſecond and third year of King Philip and Queen Mary, entituled, An Act that no Purveyor ſhould take any Grain, Corn, or other Victual within the compaſſe or precinct of five miles of the ſaid City; and in the thirteen year of your Majeſties Reign, hath been renewed and enlarged. By means whereof, the Inhabitants aforeſaid, not only to themſelves, but to their poſterity, by the Markets of your ſaid City, is like to reap much gain, profit, commodity and advantage, by utterance of their Corn, Grain and Victual: ſaving that the waies, bridges, and paſſages leading from your Highneſſe Manors, and other places of this Realm to your Highneſſes City (being for the moſt part Water-works) within theſe two years, by force of waters are ſo decayed, faln down, and not repaired, that your Highneſſe and Subjects, with your and their Carriage, travelling that way, as others travelling out of all parts of this Realm, are much annoyed and incumbred, and the Inhabitants there are not able without great danger, to travel or repair unto the ſaid City, or bring to the Markets their Corn, Grain, Victual, or other neceſſaries, to the great hurt of the ſaid City, as dearth like to enſue within the Univerſity and City.

The Wayes near Oxford decayed, and the Inhabitants not able to repair them.

May it therefore pleaſe your Highneſſe, That it may be enacted by this preſent Parliament, That every perſon and perſons, reſiant, dwelling or inhabiting within the compaſſe, circuit, or precinct of five miles of your Highneſſes Univerſity and City of Oxford, or franchiſes of the ſame, having in his or their hands or occupation, to the uſe of himſelf, or any other, the quantity of one yard-land or upward, in tillage, paſture, or other ground: or having, keeping, uſing or occupying as Draught, Cart, Plough or Wain, at his or their own proper Coſts and Charges, ſhall find and ſend, or cauſe to be found and ſent, for and to the mending, repairing, and up-building of the decayed bridges, wayes and paſſages, ſcituate, lying and being within one mile of the ſaid City of Oxford, for every yard-land, one Wain or Draught Cart, furniſhed after the cuſtom of the Country, with Oxen, Horſe and other Cattel, with all other neceſſaries meet and convenient to carry things for ſuch manner of purpoſe, with able men to load and unload the ſame Draught, Cart or Wain. And every other Houſe-holder, Cottager or Labourer, dwelling or inhabiting within the aforeſaid compaſſe, precinct, or circuit (being no hired Servant) ſhall by his or their ſelves, or other ſufficient Labourer, having with them ſufficient Tools, at their like proper Coſts and Charges, find and ſend in, and to the mending, repairing, and building of the decayed bridges, wayes, cawſeyes, and paſſages, one ſufficient man or labourer, to work and labour in, and upon the aforeſaid decayed premiſſes. And that every perſon or perſons that by the meaning of this Act, is chargeable with Cart, Carriage, work or labour, ſhall by the commandment or commandments of certain Superviſors hereafter to be appointed and nominated by the Vice-chancellor and Mayor, with other Juſtices of the Univerſity and City of Oxford for the time being, by the ſpace of ſix whole dayes, ſhall do their Carriages, keep their work, fetch their Carriages, and do their labour, at ſuch place and places, and in ſuch works, as to them or any of them ſhall be nominated and appointed. And upon pain that every perſon or perſons making default aboveſaid, for every days default, or any part thereof, ſhall loſe and forfeit five ſhillings, to be levied and imployed only to the mending of the ſaid bridges and cawſeys.

How they that have land, meadow, or paſture in occupation next to Oxford, ſhall be charged towards the repair of the wayes there. Alt. 35 E. 7.

The cottager and labourers charge.

The forfeitures of them which make default.

And that it ſhall be lawful to and for the aforeſaid Superviſors for the time being, for the more ſpeedy amendment of the aforeſaid decayes, in ſuch place and places, as by the diſcretion of the Vice-chancellor, Mayor or Superviſors, ſhall be thought neceſſary, to digg or cauſe to be digged, within the ſeveral grounds of any perſon or perſons, for gravel, ſand, rubbiſh, ſtone or ſinders, and other things, according to the ſtatute made in the ſecond and third year of King Philip and Queen Mary for High-wayes. And that the aforeſaid ſix dayes carriages, works or labours, and according to the true meaning, intent and purport of this preſent Act, ſhall be done, finiſhed and performed, by all manner of perſon or perſons by this Act chargeable, between the Feaſt of Saint John Baptiſt, next after this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, and the Feaſt of All Saints next after that. And upon twelve days warning given, or ſent in writing from the Vice-chancellor and Mayor of the City of Oxford for the time being, or from either of them, to the Conſtable or other Officer of any Burrough, Pariſh, Head-Officer, or Governour of every other place whatſoever, that by this Act ought to ſerve.

Digging of gravel, ſand, rubbiſh, or ſtone in other mens grounds. 2 & 3 P. & M. 8.

And for the performance of this Act, Be it enacted, That if any perſon or perſons ſhall make any default, as is aforeſaid, having not made any manner of reaſonable compoſition or agreement for the ſame default, that then it ſhall be lawful for the Vice-chancellor and Mayor of the City of Oxford for the time being, or other their Officers appointed, to diſtrain within any the Boroughs, Towns, Pariſhes, or other places where ſuch perſon or perſons dwelleth, that maketh default or refuſeth. And the ſame diſtreſſe to lead, drive, and carry away, and the ſame to with-hold till they and every of them have, or ſhall pay the forfeitures limited and appointed in this preſent Act, as alſo the charges of keeping ſuch diſtreſſe ſo taken.

Diſtreſſe for default of payment of the forfeiture.

Provided alwayes, and be it enacted, That this Act ſhall endure for the ſpace of ſeven years next enſuing the end of this preſent Parliament, and from thence to the end of the Parliament then next following, and no longer. 3 Car.4. continued untill the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

Anno viceſimo tertio Reginæ Elizabethæ.

AT this preſent Seſſion of Parliament by prorogation holden at Weſtminſter, the ſixteenth day of January, in the three and twentieth year of the Reign of our moſt gracious Soveraign Lady, Elizabeth, by the Grace of God, of England, France, and Ireland, Queen, Defender of the Faith, &c. and there continued untill the eighteenth of March following. To the high pleaſure of Almighty God, and the weal publick of this Realm, were enacted as followeth.

CAP. I.

An Act for retaining the Queens Subjects in their due Obedience.

Where ſithence the Statute made in the thirteenth year of the Reign of the Queen our Soveraign Lady, entituled, An Act againſt the bringing in, and putting in execution of Buls, Writings and Inſtruments, and other ſuperſtitious things from the See of Rome, divers evil affected perſons have practiſed, contrary to the meaning of the ſaid Statute, by other means than by Buls or Inſtruments, written or printed, to withdraw divers the Queens Majeſties Subjects from their natural Obedience to her Majeſty, to obey the ſaid uſurped authority of Rome, and in reſpect of the ſame, to perſwade great numbers to withdraw their due Obedience from her Majeſties Laws, eſtabliſhed for the due Service of Almighty God.

13 Eliz. 2.

For reformation whereof, and to declare the true meaning of the ſaid Law: Be it declared and enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That all perſons whatſoever, which have, or ſhall have, or ſhall pretend to have power, or ſhall by any ways or means put in practiſe to abſolve, perſwade, or withdraw any of the Queens Majeſties Subjects or any within her Highneſſe Realms and Dominions, from their natural Obedience to her Majeſty: or to withdraw them for that intent from the Religion now by her Highneſſe authority eſtabliſhed within her Highneſſe Dominions, to the Romiſh Religion, or to move them, or any of them, to promiſe any Obedience to any pretended authority of the See of Rome, or of any other Prince, State or Potentate, to be had or uſed within her Dominions, or ſhall do any overt Act to that intent or purpoſe, and every of them, ſhall be to all intents, adjudged to be Traytors: And being thereof lawfully convicted, ſhall have Judgment, ſuffer and forfeit, as in caſe of high Treaſon. And if any perſon ſhall after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, by any means be willingly abſolved, or withdrawn, as aforeſaid, or willingly be reconciled, or ſhall promiſe any Obedience to any ſuch pretended authority, Prince, State or Potentate, as is aforeſaid: that then every ſuch perſon, their Procurers and Counſellers thereunto, being thereof lawfully convicted, ſhall be taken, tryed and judged, and ſhall ſuffer and forfeit, as in caſes of high Treaſon.

Treaſon to withdraw any from the Religion eſtabliſhed to the Romiſh Religion. St. 3 Jac. 4.

It ſhall be treaſon to be reconciled or withdrawn to the Romiſh Religion.

And be it likewiſe enacted and declared, That all and every perſon and perſons, that ſhall wittingly be Ayders or Maintainers of ſuch perſons ſo offending as is above expreſſed, or of any of them knowing the ſame, or which ſhall conceal any offence as aforeſaid, and ſhall not within twenty dayes at the furtheſt, after ſuch perſons knowledge of ſuch offence, diſcloſe the ſame to ſome Juſtice of Peace, or other high Officer, ſhall be taken, tryed and judged, and ſhall ſuffer and forfeit as Offendors in miſpriſion of Treaſon.

The penalty of Ayders, Maintainers, and Concealers.

And be it likewiſe enacted, That every perſon which will ſay or ſing Maſſe, being thereof lawfully convicted, ſhall forfeit the ſum of two hundred marks, and be committed to priſon in the next Gaol, there to remain by the ſpace of one year, and from thenceforth till he have paid the ſaid ſumme of two hundred marks: and that every perſon which ſhall willingly hear Maſſe, ſhall forfeit the ſumme of one hundred Marks, and ſuffer Impriſonment for a year.

The forfeiture for ſaying or hearing of Maſſe.

The penalty for not coming to the Church by the ſpace of a moneth, according to the Stat. 1 El. 2. Stat. 29 Eliz. 6. 35 Eliz. 1. 1 Jac. 4. 3 Jac. 4. 5.

Co. l. 11. fo. 56. lib. 11. 2. Cro. Jac. 480.

Be it alſo further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every perſon above the age of ſixteen years, which ſhall not repair to ſome Church, Chappel, or uſual place of Common Prayer, but forbear the ſame, contrary to the tenour of a Statute made in the firſt year of her Majeſties Reign, for Uniformity of Common Prayer, and being thereof lawfully convicted, ſhall forfeit to the Queens Majeſty for every Moneth after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, which he or ſhe ſhall ſo forbear, twenty pounds of lawful Engliſh money, and that over and beſides the ſaid forfeitures, every perſon ſo forbearing, by the ſpace of twelve Moneths, as aforeſaid, ſhall for his or her obſtinacy, after Certificate thereof in writing made into the Court, commonly called the Kings Bench, by the Ordinary of the Dioceis, a Juſtice of Aſſiſe and Goal-delivery, or a Juſtice of Peace of the County where ſuch Offendor ſhall dwell or be, be bound with two ſufficient Sureties in the ſum of two hundred pounds at leaſt to the good behaviour, and ſo to continue bound, untill ſuch time as the perſons ſo bound do conform themſelves, and come to the Church, according to the true meaning of the ſaid Statute made in the ſaid firſt year of the Queens Majeſties Reign.

The forfeiture for keeping of a School-maſter not repairing to the Church, or be allowed by the Ordinary. 1 Jac. 4.

And be it further enacted, That if any perſon or perſons, body politick or corporate, after the Feaſt of Pentecoſt next coming, ſhall keep or maintain any School-maſter, which ſhall not repair to Church as is aforeſaid, or be allowed by the Biſhop or Ordinary of the Dioceſſe, where ſuch School-maſter ſhall be ſo kept, ſhall forfeit and loſe for every moneth ſo keeping him, ten pounds.

Provided, That no ſuch Ordinary, or their Miniſters, ſhall take any thing for the ſaid allowance). And ſuch School-maſter or Teacher, preſuming to teach contrary to this Act, and being thereof lawfully convict, ſhall be diſabled to be a Teacher of Youth, and ſhall ſuffer impriſonment without bail or mainprize for one year.

Which Juſtices may inquire of offences done againſt the Stat. of 1 El. 1. 5 El. 1. 13 El. 2.

Co. l. 11. fol. 56. Cro. Jac. 481. Cro. Car. 10.

And be it likewiſe enacted, That all and every offences againſt this Act, or againſt the Acts of the firſt, fifth, or thirteenth years of her Majeſties Reign, touching acknowledging of her Majeſties Supream Government in cauſes Eccleſiaſtical, or other matters touching the Service of God, or coming to Church, or eſtabliſhment of true Religion in this Realm, ſhall and may be inquirable, as well before Juſtices of Peace, as other Juſtices named in the ſame Statutes, within one year and a day after every ſuch offence committed: Any thing in this Act, or in any other Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

29 Eliz. 6.

Be it likewiſe enacted, That Juſtices of Oyer and Terminer, and Juſtices of Aſſiſe, and of Gaol-delivery, in their ſeveral limits, ſhall have power to enquire, hear and determine of all offences againſt this Statute: and Juſtices of Peace in their open Quarter Seſſions of Peace, ſhall have power by vertue of this Act to enquire, hear, and determine of all offences againſt this Act (except Treaſon, and miſpriſion of Treaſon.)

A remedy for a guilty perſon conforming himſelf. Co. la. 10, 569. St. 29 El. 6.

Provided alway, That every perſon guilty of any offence againſt this Statute, other then Treaſon, and miſpriſion of Treaſon, which ſhall, before he be thereof indicted, or at his arraignment or tryal before judgment, ſubmit and conform himſelf before the Biſhop of the Dioceſſe where he ſhall be reſident, or before the Juſtices where he ſhall be indicted, arraigned or tryed, (having not before made like ſubmiſſion at any his tryal, being indicted for his firſt like offence) ſhall upon his recognition of ſuch ſubmiſſion in open Aſſiſes or Seſſions of the County where ſuch perſon ſhall be reſident, be diſcharged of all and every the ſaid offences againſt this Act (except Treaſon and miſpriſion of Treaſon) and of all pains and forfeitures for the ſame.

Who ſhall have the mony forfeited by this Statute.

And be it likewiſe enacted, That all forfeitures of any ſums of money limited by this Act, ſhall be divided in three equal parts, whereof one third part ſhall be to the Queens Majeſty, to her own uſe, one other third part to the Queens Majeſty, for relief of the poor in the Pariſh where the offence ſhall be committed, to be delivered by warrant of the principal Officers in the receit of the Exchequer, without further warrant from her Majeſty, and the other third part to ſuch perſon as will ſue for the ſame in any Court of Record, by action of debt, bill, plaint or information: in which Suit, no Eſſoine, Protection, or wager of Law, ſhall be allowed: And that every perſon which ſhall forfeit aay ſums of money by vertue of this Act, and ſhall not be able, or ſhall fail to pay the ſame within three moneths after Judgment thereof given, ſhall be committed to priſon, there to remain, untill he have paid the ſaid ſums, or conform himſelf to go to Church, and there do as is aforeſaid.

He ſhall be impriſoned, that is not able, or doth not pay the forfeiture.

Service in a mans private houſe.

Provided alſo, That every perſon, which uſually on the Sunday ſhall have in his or her houſe Divine Service which is eſtabliſhed by the Law of this Realm, and be thereat himſelf or her ſelf uſually or moſt commonly preſent, and ſhall not obſtinately refuſe to come to Church, and there to do as is aforeſaid, and ſhall alſo four times in the year at the leaſt be preſent at the Divine Service in the Church of the Pariſh where he or ſhe ſhall be reſident, or in ſome other open common Church, or ſuch Chappel of eaſe, ſhall not incur any pain or penalty limited by this Act for not repairing to Church.

Fraudulent aſſurances to defeat forfeitures.

And be it likewiſe enacted and declared, That every Grant, Conveyance, Bond, Judgment and execution had or made ſince the beginning of this Seſſion of Parliament, or hereafter to be had or made, of covenous purpoſe to defraud any Intereſt, Right or Title, that may or ought to grow to the Queen, or to any other perſon by means of any Conviction or Judgment, by vertue of this Statute, or of the ſaid Statute of the ſaid thirteenth year, ſhall be, and be adjudged to be, utterly void againſt the Queen, and againſt ſuch as ſhall ſue for any part of the ſaid penalties in form aforeſaid.

29 Eliz. 6. Tryal of a Peer by his Peers.

Provided alwayes, That if any Peer of this Realm ſhall happen to be indicted of any offence made Treaſon or miſpriſion of Treaſon by this Act, he ſhall have his tryal by his Peers, as in other like caſes is accuſtomed.

Eccleſiaſtical Cenſures.

Provided alſo, That neither this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall extend to take away or abridge the authority or juriſdiction of the Eccleſiaſtical cenſures for any cauſe or matter, but that the Archbiſhops and Biſhops, and other Eccleſiaſtical Judges may do and proceed, as before the making of this Act they lawfully did or might have done: Any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding. Stat. 5 Eliz. 1.

CAP. II.

If any perſon ſhall adviſedly and with a malicious intent, of his own imagination, ſpeak any falſe and ſlanderous News or Tales againſt the Queen that now is, then he ſhall have both his Ears cut off, except he pay two hundred pounds to the Queens uſe in the Exchequer, within two Moneths after Judgment. And if he ſpeak ſuch ſlanderous News of the Report of any other, he ſhall have one of his Ears cut off, except he pay two hundred marks, &c. And if any perſon once convict, ſhall offend again, it ſhall be adjudged felony. And if any perſon within this Realm, or without, ſhall deviſe, write, print, or ſet forth any Book, Rime, Ballad, Letter or Writing, containing any falſe, ſeditious and ſlanderous matter, to the defamation of the Queen, or to the ſtirring or moving of any Rebellion: Or ſhall cauſe any ſuch Book, Rime, Writing, &c. to be written, printed or publiſhed: Or ſhall, by ſetting of any Figure, caſting of Nativity or by Calculation, Prophecying, Witchcraft, Conjuration, &c. ſeek to know, and ſhall ſet forth by expreſſe words, deeds or writings, how long the Queen ſhall live: Or who ſhall Reign as King or Queen after her deceaſe: Or ſhall utter any Prophecies to any ſuch intent: Or ſhall wiſh or deſire the death or deprivation of the Queen, or any thing to the ſame effect: Then every ſuch offence ſhall be adjudged Felony. EXP. 1 & 2 P. & M. 9. 1 Eliz. 6.

CAP. III.

Fines and Recoveries may be inrolled: The Errors therein may be reverſed, and by whom, &c.

Inrolment of Fines and Recoveries.

For the appeaſing of Suits, the avoiding of falſe practices, deceits, devices and miſdemeanours, and for helping of negligences and miſpriſions of Clerks and Officers, dangerous to aſſurances of mens Lands and Hereditaments: Be it enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, our Soveraign Lady, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That every Writ of Covenant, and other Writ, whereupon any fine heretofore hath been levied, or hereafter ſhall be levied, the return thereof, the Writ of Dedimus poteſtatem, made for the knowledging of any of the ſame Fines, the return thereof, the concord, note and foot of every ſuch Fine, the Proclamations made thereupon, and the Kings Silver: and alſo every Original Writ of Entry in the Poſt, or other Writ, whereupon any common Recovery hath been ſuffered, or hereafter ſhall be ſuffered or paſſed, the Writs of Summon. ad Warrantizandum, the Returns of the ſaid Originals and Writs of Summon. ad Warrantizandum, and every Warrant of Atturney, had or to be had, as well of every Demandant and Tenant, as Vouchee extant and remaining, or that ſhall be extant and in being, may upon the requeſt or election of any perſon be inrolled in Rolls of Parchment by ſuch perſons, and for ſuch conſiderations, as hereafter in this Act ſhall be mentioned: and that the Inrolments of the ſame, or of any part thereof, ſhall be of as good force and validity in Law, to all intents, reſpects and purpoſes, for ſo much of any of them ſo inrolled, as the ſame being extant and remaining, were or ought by Law to be.

The validity of the Inrolment.

For what Errours, Fines and Recoveries are not reverſable.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no Fine, Proclamations upon Fines, or common Recovery, heretofore had, levied, ſuffered, or paſſed, or hereafter to be had, levyed, ſuffered or paſſed, ſhall be reverſable by any Writ of Errour, for falſe or incongrue Latine, raſure, enterlining, miſ-entring of any Warrant of Atturney, or of any Proclamation, miſ-returning or not returning of the Sheriff, or other want of form in words, and not in matter of ſubſtance.

What perſons may have writs of Errour to reverſe Fines or Recoveries, and in what caſes.

Provided alwayes, That this Act nor any thing therein contained, ſhall bar or exclude any perſon or perſons from any Writ of Errour which ſhall be had, taken, or purſued, within five years next after the end of the Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, upon any Fine or Recovery heretofore had or ſuffered: Nor from any Writ of Errour which ſhall be had, taken, or purſued, upon any Fine or Recovery heretofore levyed, knowledged or had: Which Fine or Fines, Recovery or Recoveries, or any part or parcel of them, or any of them now is, or at any time before the firſt day of June, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God, One thouſand five hundred eighty two, ſhall be exemplified under the Great Seal of England, at and by the ſuit of any perſon, that is or may be entituled to have or ſue any Writ of Errour upon any the Fines or Recoveries heretofore paſſed: Nor to bar any Feme Covert, or any perſon within the age of one and twenty years, or to any that is non compos mentis, in priſon, or beyond the Seas, of or from any Writ of Errour to be had or proſecuted for the reverſing of any Fine or Recovery heretofore paſſed, levyed or ſuffered, ſo that ſuch Feme Covert, or her heirs, within ſeven years next after that ſhe become ſole, and ſuch perſon within the age of one and twenty years, and ſuch perſon that is non compos mentis, within ſeven years next after he ſhall become of ſane memory, and in default thereof, the Heirs of ſuch perſon that is non compos mentis, within ſeven years next after the death of ſuch perſon being non compos mentis. And ſuch perſon in Priſon, or his Heirs, within ſeven years next after the ſame perſon ſhall be at liberty. And ſuch perſon beyond the Seas, or his Heirs, within ſeven years next after the return of ſuch perſon into this Realm of England, or the death of the ſaid perſon, if he ſhall before his return dye in any foreign Country, ſhall ſue, take and proſecute their Writs of Errour, as their caſes ſeverally ſhall require, for reverſing of any the ſaid Fines or Recoveries heretofore paſſed, levied or ſuffered.

Provided alwayes, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons ſhall within the time and years afore mentioned, commence or ſue his or their Writs of Errour, for the reverſing of any the ſaid Fines or Recoveries heretofore paſſed, which Suit ſhall fortune to abate by the death of any the parties to the ſame: That then it ſhall and may be lawful for his and their Heirs, at any time within one year next after the ſaid ſeven years expired, to have, ſue, and take the Writ of Errour, for the reverſing of every ſuch Fine and Recovery: And, if ſuch Heir be an Infant within the age of one and twenty years, then within one year next after the full age of ſuch Infant: Any thing in this preſent Act contained to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The day and year ſhall be certified of the knowledge of a Fine or Warrant of Atturney for the ſuffering of a Recovery.

Cro. El. 175.

And be it further enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That every perſon that ſhall at any time hereafter take the knowledge of any Fine or Warrant of Atturney of any Tenant or Vouchee, for ſuffering any common Recovery, or ſhall certifie them or any of them, ſhall with the Certificate of the Concord or Warrant of Atturney, certifie alſo the day and year wherein the ſame was knowledged: And that no perſon that taketh any ſuch knowledge of any Fine or Warrant for any Recovery, ſhall be bounden, or by any means inforced to certifie any ſuch knowledge or warrant, except it be within one year next after the ſaid knowledge taken. And that no Clerk or Officer ſhall receive any Writ of Covenant, or Writ of Entry, whereupon any Fine or common Recovery is hereafter to paſſe, unleſſe the day of the knowledge of the ſame Fine and Warrant ſhall appear in or by ſuch Certificate, upon pain, that every Clerk that ſhall receive any ſuch Writ, ſhall forfeit for every time that he ſhall ſo offend, the ſum of five pounds. And that no Atturnment in or upon any Fine be entred upon Record, except the party mentioned to attuin therein, firſt have appeared in the Court in perſon, or by Atturney warranted by the hand of one of the Juſtices of the one Bench or the other, or of one Juſtice of Aſſiſe, upon a Writ of Quid juris clamat, Quem Reditum reddit, or Per quæ ſervitia, as the caſe requireth: And that every Entry of Atturnment hereafter to be made, where there ſhall be no appearance, as afore is ſaid, ſhall be utterly void, and of none effect, without any Writ of Errour, or other means to be uſed for the avoiding thereof.

Atturnment upon a Fine.

The Office of Inrolments of Writs for Fines and Recoveries.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that there ſhall be for ever one Office for the Inrolment aforeſaid, which ſhall be and continue an Office for ever, called the Office of Inrolment of Writs for Fines and recoveries: And that the Juſtices of the Common Pleas for the time being (other than the chief Juſtice) ſhall have and take the care and charge of and for the Inrolments aforeſaid, and ſhall have and enjoy the ſaid Office, and the diſpoſition thereof, and carefully ſee and look to the execution thereof: and in conſideration of their charges, pain and travel there, ſhall have and take the ſums of money hereafter following, and no more: That is to ſay, for the Inrolment and examination of every Fine, and the parts thereof before mentioned, the ſum of ſix ſhillings eight pence. And for the Inrolment of the ſaid parts of every Recovery, and the examination thereof, ſix ſhillings eight pence. And for every Exemplification of the Inrolment of any Fine, five ſhillings. And for the exemplification and Returns of every Writ of Entry, Summons and Warrantizands, and Warrants, five ſhillings. And for the ſearch of the Rolls of one year, four pence. And for the Copy of one Sheet of paper containing fourteen Lines, four pence. And that the ſaid Juſtices, or one of them, ſhall examine the Inrolments of every ſuch Fine and parts of Recoveries, and forthwith, after examination thereof, and immediately after the Inrolment of every ſuch Fine and parts of Recoveries, write his name that ſo examineth with his own hand in the Roll thereof, upon pain, that the ſaid Juſtices ſhall forfeit to our Soveraign Lady, the Queens Majeſty, the ſum of five pounds, for every time that they, or ſome one of them, ſhall make default of ſuch Examination, or writing of his, or their name, as afore is ſaid. And that it ſhall and may be lawful to, and for the Juſtices of the ſaid Court of Common Pleas, from time to time, to take order in all things that ſhall be convenient and needful for the Inrolments aforeſaid. And upon examination in the ſaid Court, to aſſeſſe ſuch Fine or Americament upon any Clerk, Sheriff, Deputy, Atturney, and other perſon, for his and their Miſpriſion, Contempt, and Negligence, for not doing or miſdoing in any thing, of, in, or concerning the ſaid Fines and Recoveries, or any part of them, or either of them, as by the ſaid Juſtices of the ſaid Court of Common Pleas for the time being, ſhall be thought meet and convenient: The ſaid Fine and Americament to be eſtreated amongſt other Fines and Americaments of that Court, where ſuch offence or miſpriſion ſhall be committed.

The fees for Inrolment of Fines and Recoveries.

The Juſtices may aſſeſſe Fines for miſpriſion, contempt, negligence.

A Table containing the content of every Fine, ſhall be ſet up in the Common Pleas, and at every Aſſiſes.

And be it further enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the Chirographer of Fines of the Common Pleas for the time being, for ever ſhall write and make, or cauſe to be written and made for every County, where her Majeſties Writ runneth, one Table wherein ſhall be contained ſuch contents of every Fine that ſhall paſſe in any one Term, as hereafter is mentioned: that is to ſay, the name of the County wherein the Tenements mentioned in any Fine be, the name of every Plaintiff and Deforciant, and of every Manor named in the Fine, if any ſuch be, and of the Towns and Places where the Tenements in ſuch Fine compriſed do lie. And the firſt day of the next Term after the ingroſſing of every ſuch Fine ſhall fix every of the ſaid Tables upon ſome open place in the Court of Common Pleas, and ſo every day of the ſaid Term, during the time of ſitting of the ſaid Court: And that the ſaid Chirographer ſhall deliver to every Sheriff of every County, his under-ſheriff or deputy, fair written in parchment, a perfect content of the table ſo to be made for that Shire, in the Term that ſhall next before the Aſſiſes be holden in the ſaid County, or elſe where between that Term and the ſaid Aſſiſes. And that every ſuch Sheriff, to whom ſuch parchments, with the contents aforeſaid, ſhall be delivered the firſt day of the next Aſſiſes after the delivery thereof unto him, and every day during the ſaid Aſſiſes ſhall fix and ſet up the ſame writing undefaced in ſome open place in the Court, where the Juſt. of the Aſſiſe of that County ſhall ſit and ſhall ſee the ſame open place in the Court, where the Juſtices ſhall ſit there in Court, upon pain, that every Chirographer and Sheriff offending againſt any thing in this Act contained, ſhall forfeit to our Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty, the ſum of five pounds: the one moyety whereof ſhall be to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moyety to him or them that will ſue for the ſame in any Court of Record, wherein no Eſſoine, Protection, or wager of Law ſhall be allowed. And that the Chirographer for the time being, ſhall have and take for every ſuch content of every Fine ſo ſet down in the Table aforeſaid, four pence.

The Chirographers fee for writing the content of a Fine.

And foraſmuch as upon great examination it appeareth, that divers Fines and Recoveries have been heretofore levied and ſuffered of divers Manors, Meſſuages, Lands, Tenements, and Hereditaments which ſometime were the Inheritance of George ſometimes Earl of Kent, great Grandfather to Henry now Earl of Kent, in uſe, poſſeſſion, reverſion or remainder, whereunto the ſaid now Earl of Kent pretendeth title, in uſe, poſſeſſion, reverſion or remainder, which if they be erronious, as is pretended, do much vary from the general cauſe and miſchief, for which this Statute meaneth to provide: Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That neither this Statute, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall extend to take away any Writ of Errour, whereunto any perſon or perſons is now, or hereafter ſhall be, lawfully intituled, for the reverſing of the ſaid Fines and Recoveries, or any of them, heretofore levied or ſuffered of any of the ſaid Manors, Meſſuages, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, which late were any part or parcel of the Inheritance of the ſaid George, ſometime Earl of Kent, in uſe, poſſeſſion, reverſion or remainder: Any thing in this Statute contained to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The Earl of Kent his Title.

Provided alwayes, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall be lawful for the Juſtices Clerks, authorized by their warrant in the ſaid ſeveral Offices and Places where the ſame Records, or any of them do or ſhall remain, to write out or inrol the ſame Records, and every part thereof, without any thing to be paid therefore. And that the ſaid Records, nor any of them, for the writing out, or making the Rolls thereof by the Clerks of the ſaid Juſtices, otherwiſe than for the examination thereof by the Juſtices, ſhall be brought or carried forth of the ſaid Offices or Places.

The Records ſhall not be carried forth of the Office.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That none of the Fines or Recoveries heretofore levied, paſſed or ſuffered, which ſhall be exemplified under the Great Seal, according to the form of this Act, ſhall after ſuch exemplification had, be in any wiſe amended, 27 Eliz. 9.

No amendment of fines, &c. after exemplication.

CAP. IV.

The Queen ſhall and may, as need ſhall require, by Commiſſion under the Great Seal, give authority to certain Commiſſioners, in all and every the Counties of Northumberland, Cumberland, Weſtmerland, and the County Palatine of Durham, or in any one of them, to enquire what Tenancies, and Houſes of Habitation, ſithence Anno 27 H. 8. be decayed, and not occupied by men able to ſerve as Horſemen or Footmen, according to the ancient duty of thoſe Tenancies, and to examine the probable cauſes of thoſe Ruines, and of all the wants and evil furnitures of the ſaid Horſemen and Footmen: and to give order for the reformation thereof with all ſpeed, for the defence of the Frontiers toward Scotland. CAP. VIII.

Penalty for uſing deceit by mixture in melting of Wax, &c.

Deceits uſed in mixture of Wax and Hony.

WHere by the goodneſſe of God this Land doth yield great plenty of Honey and Wax, as not onely hath and doth ſuffice the neceſſary uſes of the Queens Majeſty and her Subjects, to be ſpent within this Realm, but alſo a great quantity to be ſpared, to be tranſported unto the Realms and Countries beyond the Seas, by way of Merchandize, to the great benefit of her Majeſty and the Realm; and yet nevertheleſs, a great part of the Wax made and melted within this Realm, hath been found to be of late very corrupt, by reaſon of the deceitful mixture thereof, and the makers and ſellers of Honey alſo have not only uſed to put the ſaid Honey in Cask of deceitful aſſize, but have uſed alſo deceitful mixtures of the ſame: Be it therefore enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That every perſon within this Realm, or the Dominions of the ſame, which ſhall after the Feaſt of Pentecoſt next enſuing, in the making and melting of Wax, by any way or means uſe or practice, or cauſe to be uſed and practiſed any manner of deceit by mixture and mingling the ſame with Roſin, Tallow, Turpentine, or any other deceitful thing, to the intent to ſell and utter the ſame, or offer the ſame to be ſold or uttered for Wax, to any perſon or perſons whatſoever, ſhall forfeit and loſe the ſame mingled or corrupted Wax. And if the ſame corrupted Wax ſhall happen to be ſold, before ſuch fault and corruption ſhall be found, that then the ſaid Melter, Mingler or corrupter, cauſer or procurer thereof, ſhall forfeit for every pound two ſhillings, whereof the one half to the Queens Majeſty, the other half to the party deceived, if he will ſue for it, or any other perſon or perſons that will ſue for the ſame, in any the Queens Majeſties Courts of Record.

The forfeiture for uſing deceit by mixture in melting of Wax.

And to the intent that the offendors in theſe kinds of deceits, may be the better and ſooner known and found out: Be it Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every Melter and Maker up of unwrought Wax, ſhall have for himſelf a Stamp or Mark, of the breadth of ſix pence, wherein two letters ſhall be plainly graven, ſignifying his name and ſirname; and with the ſame ſhall ſtamp every piece of Wax, to be printed or ſtamped triangle, in three places upon the outſide of the upper part of every piece ſo melted & caſt, upon the pain to forfeit the value of every piece or Cake ſold or offered to be ſold, and not ſo ſtamped or marked.

Every Melter of Wax ſhall have a mark.

And be it further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no manner of perſon ne perſons within this Realm, or the Dominions thereof, ſhall from the ſaid Feaſt of Pentecoſt, melt, mix, work, or ſell any manner of wrought Wax, Stuff, or Wares wrought with Wax, as in Lights, Staffe-torches, red Wax, or ſealing Wax, Book-candle, Searing-candle, ſearing of dead Corps, Links, green Wax, red Wax, or any other work or thing whatſoever, to be done or wrought with Wax to be put to ſale, but with good, wholſome, pure, and convenient ſtuffe, meet in ſuch Wares or work in convenient quantity to be uſed. And that every perſon or perſons that ſhall work or ſell ſuch ſtuff, or wares of Wax, have a Mark, Stamp, or Seal, to ſet on his or their work, by him or them wrought, or ſold, to the intent, that if any deceit be uſed or done, it may be known who were the workers thereof, and ſuch perſon or perſons as ſhall be found or known to work, or ſell, or to ſale put any ſuch falſe Wax, or wares wrought with Wax to be put to ſale, ſhall forfeit and loſe the ſame corrupted or deceitful Wax and Wares, the one half to be to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other to the party deceived, if he ſhall ſue for the ſame; or otherwiſe to him or them that will ſue for the ſame by Action of Debt, Bill, Plaint, or Information, in any the Queens Majeſties Courts of Record, wherein no Eſſoyn, Protection or Wager of Law ſhall be allowed.

Wrought Wax ſhall be good ſtuff, and marked with a ſtamp or Seal.

And be it further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every perſon and perſons whoſoever, which after the Feaſt of Pentecoſt aforeſaid, ſhall ſell or offer to be ſold, any corrupted and falſe mingled Wax, ſhall loſe and forfeit the ſaid Wax: The one moiety thereof to be to the Queens Maieſty, and the other to the party deceived, if he ſhall ſue for the ſame; or otherwiſe, to him or them that will ſue for the ſame, as is aforeſaid. And that all Barrels, Kilderkins and Firkins filled with honey, by the maker and filler, ſhall be marked with two letters ſtanding for his name and ſirname, each letter of an inch and a half of length at the leaſt, burnt upon the head of the Caſk with a hot iron, upon the pain to forfeit ſix ſhillings eight pence, for every Barrel, Kilderkin, Firkin or Caſk, ſold or offered to be ſold, and not ſo marked: and that if any perſon or perſons do, or ſhall, after the four and twentieth day of Auguſt next coming, after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, fill and ſell, or cauſe to be filled or ſold, or offered to be ſold, any Barrel, Kilderkin or Firkin with honey, for or in the name of a Barrel, Kilderkin or Firkin, containing leſs than two and thirty Wine Gallons the Barrel; ſixteen Wine Gallons the Kilderkin; and eight Wine Gallons the Firkin: every perſon and perſons ſo offending, ſhall forfeit and loſe for every half Gallon ſo lacking, five ſhillings of Engliſh money: And every perſon and perſons, that ſhall corrupt the honey ſo ſold or to be ſold, with any deceitful mixture, ſhall forfeit the Barrel or Veſſel, and Honey therein contained: the one moiety whereof to be to our Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty, and the other to him or them that will ſue for the ſame, as aforeſaid.

The forfeiture of him that will work or ſell wrought Wax corrupted.

Veſſels of honey ſhall be marked with two letters.

The content of every Veſſel for honey to be ſold.

The penalty for corrupting of honey.

Provided alwayes, That this Act as touching the marking of Wax, ſhall not extend to any perſon or perſons, ſelling the Wax of their own Bees in open Market, in ſmall pieces, nor to any ſervant or ſervants, or other perſons, mingling or corrupting any Wax, by commandment of their Maſter or other perſon having authority over them, ſo as they will confeſs the ſame.

Selling Wax of their own Bees.

And be it further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons, ſhall at any time hereafter counterfeit any the marks above-mentioned, or ſhall ſet to the mark or marks of any other perſon or perſons, without the conſent of the ſame perſon or perſons, whoſe names the ſaid marks ſhall ſignifie; that every ſuch offendor in the premiſſes, ſhall forfeit for every ſuch default v. li. The one moiety thereof to be to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety to the party deceived, if he will ſue for the ſame; or otherwiſe to any other perſon or perſons that ſhall ſue for the ſame, by bill, action, or information, in any the Queens Majeſties Courts of Record, wherein no Eſſoyn, Protection or Wager of law ſhall be admitted or allowed for the Defendant. And for non-ſufficiency of payment thereof, to be ſet on the Pillory, in the next Market Town to the place where ſuch offence ſhall be committed, and to ſuffer three moneths impriſonment, without bail or mainpriſe, for every offence committed contrary to this article of this preſent Act.

The penalty for counterfeiting of marks, or marking with anothers mark.

CAP. IX.

Logwood and Blockwood ſhall not be uſed in dying of Cloth, &c.

WHereas of late years there hath been brought into this Realm of England, from beyond the Seas, a certain kind of Ware or Stuffe called Logwood, alias Blockwood, wherewith divers Dyers, Clothiers, Hat-makers and others, have and do die daily, divers broad Clothes, Kerſies, Woolls, Penneſtones, Bayes, Cottons, Hoſe-yarn, Hats, Caps, Flannels, Woodmalls, Mockadoes, Raſhes, Buffins, tuft Mockadoes, and other things, Foraſmuch as the colours made with the ſaid ſtuff called Logwood, alias Blockwood, is falſe and deceitful, and the Clothes and other things therewith dyed, are not onely ſold and uttered, to the great deceit of the Queens loving Subjects within this her Realm of England, but alſo beyond the Seas, to the great diſcredit and ſlander, as well of the Merchants, as the Dyers of this Realm.

For reformation whereof, be it ordained, enacted, and eſtabliſhed, by the Queen our Soveraign Lady, and by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That all ſuch Logwood, alias Blockwood, in whoſe hands ſoever the ſame ſhall be found, after the Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel next enſuing, ſhall be forfeited, and openly burned by authority of the Mayor or other head-Officer of the City or Town corporate, or of two Juſtices of Peace of the County where it ſhall be found, and that from and after twenty days after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, no perſon of what degree ſoever he be, ſhall dye, or cauſe to be dyed, any Cloth, Wooll, or any other of the premiſes above mentioned, or any thing whatſoever, with any of the ſaid Ware or Stuff called Logwood, alias Blockwood, upon pain that the Dyer of every ſuch ſeveral thing ſo dyed, ſhall forfeit the value of the thing ſo dyed, the one moiety to the uſe of the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs or Succeſſors, and the other moiety to him that will ſue for the ſame, by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, in any Court of Record, in which ſuit, no eſſoyne, protection, wager of Law, nor writ of priviledg for the Defendant, ſhall be admitted or allowed: and the party offending, being thereof convicted, to remain in priſon without bail or mainpriſe, till he have ſatisfied the ſame value.

Logwood ſhall be forfeited, openly burned, and no cloth or wooll ſhall be dyed therewith.

And where Clothes, Kerſies, and Hoſen have been dyed with a colour which is commonly called a galled and mathered black, or with a color commonly called a ſhoomake and mathered black, which colors, although they carry a ſhew of a good, true and perfect color of woaded and mathered black, & of ſuch as do buy the ſaid colors, either in Cloth, Kerſie, or Hoſe taken ſo to be notwithſtanding in proof and wearing prove contrary to the great deceit of the Queens Subjects, and diſcrediting of the Cloth and other things ſo dyed: For reformation whereof, be it enacted, That no kind of Cloth or Clothes, Kerſies, Bayes, Friſadoes broad or narrow, Hoſen, or other things, being in the nature of Cloth, ſhall from henceforth forth be mathered for a black, except the ſame be firſt grounded with Woad onely, or with woad and a nele, alias blew Inde, unleſſe the madder be put in with ſhoomake or gallis. And that from and after twenty dayes after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament no perſon of what degree ſoever, he be, ſhall dye or cauſe to be dyed any Cloth or Clothes, or other things aboveſaid, of what kind or nature ſoever, mathered for a black, not having a ground of woad onely, or of woad and a nele, alias blew Inde, unleſſe the madder be put in with ſhoomake or gallis, upon pain that the Dyer of every ſuch ſeveral thing ſo dyed, ſhall forfeit the value of the ſame thing, ſo dyed, the one moiety thereof to the uſe of the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs or Succeſſors, and the other moiety to him that will ſue for the ſame, by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, in any Court of Record; in which ſuit, no eſſoyn, protection, wager of Law, nor writ of priviledg for the Defendant, ſhall be admitted or allowed, and the party offending being thereof convicted, to remain in priſon, without bail or mainpriſe, till he have ſatisfied the ſame value.

No cloth ſhall be mathered for black, unleſſe it be firſt grounded with Woad.

Galle black, ſhoomake black, plain black.

Provided alwayes, That it ſhall and may be lawful to dye all manner of galle black, ſhoomake black, alias plain black wherein no mather ſhall be uſed, as heretofore lawfully hath been done: this, or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A Dyer ſhall fix a ſeal of lead to his cloth, with the letter M.

Provided alwayes, That every Dyer that ſhall after the Feaſt of Pentecoſt next enſuing the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, dye any of the ſaid Clothes, Kerſies, or Friſadoes mathered and not woaded, ſhall before he deliver any of the ſame forth of his hands, fix a Seal of Lead to every of them, in which the letter M. ſignifying Mathered, ſhall be contained, upon pain that every Dyer offending to the contrary, ſhall forfeit for every yard of the ſaid Cloth, Kerſies, Bayes, or Friſadoes, the ſum of iii.s. iiii. d. And that if any perſon ſhall ſell any Cloth, Kerſies, Bayes or Friſadoes mathered and not woaded, after the ſaid Feaſt of Pentecoſt, and ſhall not firſt give notice to the buyer thereof, that the ſame is not woaded, ſhall forfeit alſo the double value of all ſuch Cloth, Kerſies, Bayes, and Friſadoes, as he ſhall ſo ſell: which forfeitures ſhall be to the party that ſhall ſue for the ſame in any Court of Record, by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, wherein no eſſoine, protection, or wager of Law ſhall lie. CAP. X

Penalty for deſtroying of Pheaſants and Partridges in the night, and for hawking in eared or codded Corn growing.

Where the game of Pheaſants and Partridges is within theſe few years in manner utterly decayed and deſtroyed in all parts of this Realm by means of ſuch as take them with nets, ſnares, and other engines and devices, as well by day as by night, and alſo by occaſion of ſuch as do uſe hawking in the beginning of Harveſt, before the yong Pheaſants and Partridges be of any bigneſſe, to the great ſpoyl and hurt of Corn and Graſſe then ſtanding and growing in the fields.

The penalty for taking or killing of Pheſants, or Partridges in the night. 11 H. 7. 17.

For reformation thereof, be it enacted, eſtabliſhed, and ordained by the Queen our Soveraign Lady, the Lords, Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That no manner of perſon or perſons, of what eſtate, degree or condition ſoever, ſhall at any time or times, from and after the firſt day of April next enſuing, take, kill, or deſtroy any Pheſants or Partridges, with any manner of nets, ſnares, gins, engins, rowſting, lowſing, or other devices whatſoever, in the night time, upon pain of forfeiture for every Pheſant ſo taken, killed or deſtroyed, contrary to the true meaning of this Act the ſum of xx.s. and for every Partridg ſo taken, killed, or deſtroyed, the ſum of x. s. the which ſaid penalties and forfeitures, if every perſon or perſons ſo offending, do not pay within x. dayes next after his or their conviction, then to have one moneths impriſonment, without bail or mainpriſe; and further over and beſides ſuch forfeiture or impriſonment, to put in bond with good ſureties, for the ſpace of two years, that he ſhall not take, kill, or deſtroy any Partridges, or Pheſants, contrary to the true meaning of this Act, the ſame bond to be taken by ſome Juſtice of the Peace of the County where the ſaid offence ſhall be committed: the one half of all which ſaid ſeveral forfeitures to be to the chief Lord or Lords of the Liberties, Lordſhips, or Manors, upon and in which the ſame ſhall be ſo taken, killed, or deſtroyed: and the other moiety to ſuch perſon or perſons as will ſue for the ſame in any of her Majeſties Courts of Record, by, bill, plaint, or information: in which ſuit, no eſſoyn, protection, or wager of Law ſhall be allowed.

Who ſhall have the forfeitures, and by what means they ſhall be recovered.

Provided alwayes, That if ſuch perſon to whom the one half of the ſaid forfeiture is appointed for the taking, killing, or deſtroying of Partridges or Pheſants, contrary to the tenour and true meaning of this Act, ſhall diſpence with, licence, or procure any taking, killing, or deſtroying of any Partridges or Pheſants, contrary to the form of this Act: That then all ſuch forfeitures, and penalties as ſuch perſon or perſons ſhould have, by vertue of this act ſhal be to the poor of the Pariſh where ſuch taking, killing, or deſtroying, ſhall be committed: and that to be levied or recovered in manner and form aforeſaid, by any one of the Church-Wardens of the Pariſh where the offences ſhall be committed.

The forfeiture for hawking in eared or codded Corn, ſtanding, or before the Corn ſhall be ſhocked.

And be it likewiſe further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no manner of perſon or perſons from and after the ſaid firſt day of April ſhall hawke, or with his Spaniels hunt, in any ground where Corn or other Grain ſhall then grow, (except it be in his own ground) at ſuch time as any eared or codded Corn or Grain ſhall be ſtanding and growing upon the ſame, nor before ſuch time as ſuch Corn and Grain ſhall be ſhocked, cocked, hiled, or copped, upon pain of forfeiture for every time that he ſhall ſo hawke or hunt as aforeſaid (without the conſent of the owner of the Corn or Grain) to ſuch perſon or perſons as ſhall be owner of the ſaid eared or codded Corn or Grain, xl. s. and the ſame to be levied or recovered in manner and form aforeſaid.

Provided alwayes, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Juſtices of Aſſiſes in their circuits, and Juſtices of the Peace in every Shire, County and Town corporate within this Realm, in their Seſſions, within their ſeveral limits of their Commiſſion, and Stewards of Leets, Liberties, and Lawdayes, with their ſeveral Juriſdictions, ſhall and may by vertue hereof, hear, enquire and determine of all and every offence or offences, which ſhall be committed within the precinct of their Liberties, Juriſdictions, or Franchiſes, againſt the the tenor of this Act. And further, That every Juſtice of the Peace within every County of this Realm, ſhall within the limits of his Commiſſion, have power and authority by vertue hereof, to examine all offendors in the premiſſes within the County where he is or ſhall be Juſtice, if ſo be that the ſaid offence or offences ſhall not before be heard or determined by the Juſtices of Aſſiſe in their circuits, or by the Stewards of Leets, Liberties, or Lawdayes, within their ſaid ſeveral Juriſdictions, and alſo take bond with good ſureties for his and their appearance that ſhall ſo offend, to appear at the next general Seſſions of the Peace, to be holden within the ſame County where the ſame offence ſhall be committed, to anſwear the ſaid offence, and to pay the penalties, or receive the puniſhment by this Act appointed or limited.

Which Officers may hear and determine the offences aforeſaid.

A Juſtice of Peace may examine an offendor, and bind him to appear at the next Seſſions.

Provided alwayes, That this Act ſhall not in any wiſe extend to Lowbellers, Trammellers, or others, which ſhall unwillingly happen to take any Partridges, or Pheſants by night, under any Tramell, Lowbell, Roadnet, or other Engine, ſo as they and every of them do preſently looſe and let go every Pheſant and Partridg ſo taken and ſuffer them preſently to fly and go at large, at the place where they ſhall happen ſo to be taken without willingly killing, or wilfully hurting any ſuch Pheſant or Partridge ſo taken in any manner of ſort: Any thing in this Act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding. 1 Jac. 27. 7 Jac. 11.

Pheſants or Partridges unwillingly taken, and letten go again.

the Queens Majeſties Dominions, of purpoſe (as it hath appeared), as well by ſundry of their own examinations and confeſſions, as divers other manifeſt means and proofs) not only to withdraw her Highneſs Subjects from their due obedience to her Majeſty, but alſo to ſtir up and move ſedition, rebellion, and open hoſtility within the ſaine her Highneſs Realms and Dominions, to the great indangering of the ſafety of her moſt royal Perſon, and to the utter ruine, deſolation and overthrow of the whole Realm, if the ſame be not the ſooner by ſome good means foreſeen and prevented.

All Jeſuits and Prieſts ſhall depart forth of the Realm.

For reformation whereof, be it ordained, eſtabliſhed, and enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame Parliament, That all and every Jeſuits, Seminary Prieſts, and other Prieſts whatſoever, made or ordained out of the Realm of England, or other her Highneſs Dominions, or within any of her Majeſties Realms or Dominions by any authority, power or juriſdiction, derived, challenged, or pretended from the See of Rome, ſince the Feaſt of the Nativity of Saint John Baptiſt, in the firſt year of her Highneſs Reign, ſhall within forty dayes next after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, depart out of this Realm of England, and out of all other her Highneſs Realms and Dominions, if the wind, weather and paſſage ſhall ſerve for the ſame: or elſe ſo ſoon after the end of the ſaid Forty days, as the wind, weather and paſſage ſhall ſo ſerve.

No Jeſuits or Prieſts ſhall come into, or remain in this Realm.

And be it further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall not be lawful to or for any Jeſuit, Seminary Prieſt, or other ſuch Prieſt, Deacon, or Religious or Eccleſiaſtical perſon whatſoever, being born within this Realm, or any other her Highneſs Dominions, and heretofore ſince the ſaid Feaſt of the Nativity of Saint John Baptiſt, in the firſt year of her Majeſties Reign, made, ordained, or profeſſed, or hereafter to be made, ordained, or profeſſed, by any authority or juriſdiction, derived, challenged, or pretended from the See of Rome, by or of what name, title or degree ſoever the ſame ſhall be called or known, to come into, be, or remain in any part of this Realm, or any other her Highneſs Dominions, after the end of the ſame Forty dayes, other than in ſuch ſpecial caſes, and upon ſuch ſpecial occaſions onely, and for ſuch time only as is expreſſed in this Act: and if he do, that then every ſuch offence ſhall be taken and adjudged to be high Treaſon, and every perſon ſo offending, ſhall for his offence be adjudged a Traytor, and ſhall ſuffer, loſe and forfeit, as in caſe of high Treaſon.

Receiving or relieving a Jeſuit or Prieſt ſhall be Felony.

And every perſon, which after the end of the ſame Forty dayes, and after ſuch time of departure, as is before limited and appointed, ſhall wittingly and willingly receive, relieve, comfort, ayd, or maintain any ſuch Jeſuit, Seminary Prieſt, or other Prieſt, Deacon, or Religious or Eccleſiaſtical perſon, as is aforeſaid, being at liberty, or out of hold, knowing him to be a Jeſuit, Seminary Prieſt, or other ſuch Prieſt, Deacon, or Religious or Eccleſiaſtical perſon, as is aforeſaid, ſhall alſo for ſuch offence be adjudged a Felon, without benefit of Clergy, and ſuffer death, loſe and forfeit, as in caſe of one attainted of Felony.

They which be in Seminaries, ſhall after Proclamation return and take the Oath.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, If any of her Majeſties Subjects (not being a Jeſuit, Seminary Prieſt, or other ſuch Prieſt, Deacon, or Religious or Eccleſiaſtical perſon, as is before mentioned) now being, or which hereafter ſhall be of, or brought up in any Colledge of Jeſuits or Seminary already erected and ordained, or hereafter to be erected or ordained in the parts beyond the ſeas, or out of this Realme in any forein parts, ſhall not within ſix moneths next after Proclamation in that behalf to be made in the City of London, under the great ſeal of England, return into this Realme, and thereupon within two days next after ſuch return, before the Biſhop of the Dioceſſe, or two Juſtices of Peace of the County, where he ſhall arrive, ſubmit himſelf to her Majeſty and her Laws, and take the Oath ſet forth by Act in the firſt year of her Reign: That then every ſuch perſon which ſhall otherwiſe returne, come into, or be in this Realm, or any other her Highneſſe Dominions, for ſuch offence of returning, or being in this Realm, or any other her Highneſſe Dominions, without ſubmiſſion, as aforeſaid, ſhall alſo be adjudged a Traytor, and ſuffer, loſe, and forfeit, as in caſe of high Treaſon.

Sending relief to any Jeſuit, Prieſt, or other perſon abiding in a Seminary.

And be it further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, if any perſon under her Maieſties ſubjection or obedience, ſhall at any time after the end of the ſaid Forty dayes, by way of exchange, or by any other ſhift, way or means whatſoever, wittingly and willingly, either directly or indirectly convey, deliver or ſend, or cauſe or procure to be conveyed or delivered, to be ſent over the Seas, or out of this Realm, or out of any other her Maieſties Dominions or Territories into any forein parts, or ſhall otherwiſe wittingly or willingly yield, give or contribute any money or other relief, to or for any Jeſuit, Seminary Prieſt, or ſuch other Prieſt, Deacon, or Religious or Eccleſiaſtical perſon, as is aforeſaid, or to or for the maintenance or relief of any Colledg of Jeſuits or Seminary, already erected or ordained, or hereafter to be erected or ordained in any the parts beyond the Seas, or out of this Realm in any forein parts, or of any perſon then being of or in the ſame Colledges or Seminaries, and not returned into this Realm with ſubmiſſion, as in this Act is expreſſed, and continuing in the ſame Realm: That then every ſuch perſon ſo offending, for the ſame offence ſhall incur the danger and penalty of Præmunire, mentioned in the Statute of Præmunire, made in the ſixteenth year of the reign of King Richard the ſecond.

16 R. 2. 5.

None ſhall ſend his child or other, beyond the Seas without licence. EXP. 3 Jac. 5.

And be it further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhell not be lawful for any perſon of, or under her Highneſs obedience, at any time after the ſaid Forty dayes, during her Maieſties life (which GOD long preſerve) to ſend his or her child, or other perſon, being under his or her government, into any the parts beyond the Seas, out of her Highneſſe obedience, without the ſpecial licence of her Maieſtie, or of four of her Highneſſe Privy Councel, under their hands in that behalf firſt had or obtained (except Merchants, for ſuch onely as they or any of them ſhall ſend over the Seas, onely for or about his, her, or their trade of Merchandize, or to ſerve as Mariners, and not otherwiſe) upon pain to forfeit and loſe for every ſuch their offence, the ſum of one C. li.

And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every offence to be committed or done againſt the tenor of this Act, ſhall and may ve enquired of, heard and determined, as well in the Court commonly called the Kings Bench in the County where the ſame Court ſhall for the time be, as alſo in any other county within this Realm, or any other her Highneſſe Dominions, where the offence is or ſhall be committed, or where the offendor ſhall be apprehended and taken.

Where the offences committed againſt this Act ſhall be enquired of and determined.

Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that it ſhall and may be lawful for and to every owner and maſter of any Ship, Bark, or Boat, at any time within the ſaid Forty dayes or other time before limited for their departure, to tranſport into any the parts beyond the Seas any ſuch Jeſuit, Seminary Prieſt, or other ſuch Prieſt aforeſaid, ſo as the ſame Jeſuit, Seminary Prieſt, or other Prieſt aforeſaid ſo to be tranſported do deliver unto the Mayor or other chief Officer of the Town, Port or place where he ſhall be taken in to be tranſported, his name, and in what place he received ſuch order, and how long he hath remained in this Realm, or in any other her Highneſſe Dominions, being under her obedience.

Tranſporting of Jeſuits, Prieſts, &c.

Provided alſo, that this Act or any thing therein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe extend to any ſuch Jeſuit, Seminary Prieſt, or other ſuch Prieſt, Deacon, or Religious or Eccleſiaſtical perſon, as is before mentioned, as ſhall at any time within the ſaid forty dayes, or within three dayes after that he ſhall hereafter come into this Realm, or any other her Highneſſe Dominions, ſubmit himſelf to ſome Archbiſhop or Biſhop of this Realm or to ſome Juſtice of Peace within the County where he ſhall arrive or land, and do thereupon truely and ſincerely before the ſame Archbiſhop, Biſhop, or ſuch Juſtice of Peace, take the ſaid Oath ſet forth in Anno primo, and by writing under his hand confeſſe and acknowledge, and from thenceforth continue his due obedience unto her Highneſſe Laws, Statutes, and ordinances made and provided, or to be made or provided in cauſes of Religion.

A Jeſuit or Prieſt ſubmitting himſelf, and taking the Oath, and obeying the Laws.

Provided alwayes, if it happen at any time hereafter, any Peer of this Realm to be indicted of any offence made treaſon, felony, or Præmunire, by this Act, that he ſhall have his tryal by his Peers, as in other caſes of treaſon, felony, or Præmunire is accuſtomed.

Provided neverthleſſe, and it is declared by authority aforeſaid, that if any ſuch Jeſuit, Seminary Prieſt, or other Prieſt aboveſaid, ſhall fortune to be ſo weak or infirm of body, that he or they may not paſſe out of the Realm by the time herein limited without imminent danger of life, and this underſtood as well by the corporal Oath of the party, as by other good means, unto the Biſhop of the Dioceſſe, and two Juſtices of Peace of the ſame County where ſuch perſon or perſons do dwell or abide, That then and upon good and ſufficient bond of the perſon or perſons, with ſureties of the ſum of C C. li at the leaſt, with condition that he or they ſhall be of good behaviour towards our Sovereign Lady the Queen, and all her liege people, then he or they ſo licenced and doing as is aforeſaid, ſhall and may remain and be ſtill within this Realm, without any loſſe or danger to fall on him or them by this Act, for ſo long time as by the ſame Biſhop and Juſtices ſhall be limited and appointed ſo as the ſame time of abode exceed not the ſpace of ſix months, at the moſt: And that no perſon or perſons ſhall ſuſtain any loſſe, or incurr any danger by this Act, for the receiving or maintaining of any ſuch perſon or perſons ſo licenſed, as is aforeſaid, for and during ſuch time only as ſuch perſon or perſons ſhall be ſo licenſed to tarry within this Realm: Any thing contained in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

And be it alſo further enacted by authority aforeſaid, that every perſon or perſons being ſubjects of this Realm, which after the ſaid forty dayes ſhall know and underſtand that any ſuch Jeſuit, Seminary Prieſt, or other Prieſt aboveſaid, ſhall abide, ſtay, tarry, or be within this Realm, or other the Queens Dominions & Countries, contrary to the true meaning of this Act, and ſhall not diſcover the ſame unto ſome Juſtices of Peace or other higher Officer, within twelve dayes next after his ſaid knowledge, but willingly conceal his knowledge therein: that every ſuch offendor ſhall make fine, and be impriſoned at the Queens pleaſure, that if ſuch Juſtice of Peace, or other ſuch Officer to whom ſuch matter ſhall be ſo diſcovered, do not within eight and twenty days then next following, give information thereof to ſome of the Queens privy Councel, or to the Preſident of the Queens Councel eſtabliſhed int he North or in the Marches of Wales for the time being: That then he or they ſo offending, ſhall for every ſuch offence forfeit the ſum of two hundred marks.

One knowing a Jeſuit or Prieſt to remain in the Realm, doth not diſcover it to a Juſtice of Peace.

And be it likewiſe enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that ſuch of the privy Councel, Preſident or Vice preſident, to whom ſuch information ſhall be made, ſhall thereupon deliver a note in writing ſubſcribed with his own hand, to the party by whom he ſhall receive ſuch information, teſtifying that ſuch information was made unto him.

And be it alſo enacted, That all ſuch Oaths, Bonds and ſubmiſſions, as ſhall be made by force of this Act, as aforeſaid, ſhall be certified into the Chancery by ſuch parties before whom the ſame ſhall be made, within three months after ſuch ſubmiſſion, upon pain to forfeit and loſe for every ſuch offence, C. li. of lawful Engliſh money, the ſaid forfeiture to be to the Queen, her heirs and ſucceſſors.

All Oaths, bonds, and ſubmiſſions certified unto the Chancery.

And that if any perſon ſo ſubmitting himſelf, as aforeſaid, do at any time within the ſpace of ten years after ſuch ſubmiſſion made, come within ten miles of ſuch place where her Majeſty ſhall be, without eſpecial licence from her Majeſty in that behalf to be obtained in writing under her hand: that then, and from thenceforth, ſuch perſon ſhall take no benefit of his ſaid ſubmiſſion, but that the ſame ſubmiſſion ſhall be void, as if the ſame had never been. 1 Jac. 4, 3 Jac. 5.

None ſubmitting himſelf ſhall come within ten miles of the Queen.

CAP. III.

The Statute of 13 Eliz. 4. making the lands and goods of Tellers, Receivers, &c. liable to the payment of the Queens debts, explained.

A queſtion ariſing upon the expoſition of the Stat. of 13 Eliz. 4.

VVhere in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the ii. day of April, in the xiii. year of the reign of our Soveraign Lady Queen Elizabeth, there was amongſt other things an Act made, entituled, An Act to make the lands, tenements, goods and chattels of Tellers, Receivers, &c. liable to pay their debts upon which Act ſome doubt and queſtion hath bin moved, whether the Queens Highneſſe, her heirs & ſucceſſors, might for the ſatisfaction of her and their debts and farmes, by her or their Letters Patents under the great Seal of England, make ſale of any the lands, tenements, and hereditaments, whereof her Highneſſe, her heirs and ſucceſſors, have power or authority to make ſale, by vertue of the ſame Act, after the death of ſuch accomptant or debtor, as is mentioned in this ſaid Act, or where the accompt of ſuch accomptant or debtor was not or is not made, or his or their debt known in the life time of the ſame accomptant or debtor.

Sale of the accomptants lands after his death.

The accomptants debt known within eight years after his death.

For declaration and explaining whereof, Be it declared and enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, that the ſaid Act (of 13 Eliz. 4.) in every part thereof touching the power given by that recited Act unto her Highneſſe, her Heirs and Succeſſors, to make ſale of any the Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, by the ſame Act limited to be ſold, is, ſhall and ought to be expounded and intended as well in caſe where the ſale is to be made after the death of ſuch accomptant or debtor, as where it is to be made in his or their life time: and alſo as well in caſe where the accompt is made, or the debt known within eight years after the death of ſuch accomptant or debtor, as where the ſame accompt is made, or the debt known in the life time of the ſame accomptant or debtor: Any ambiguity or queſtion that hath riſen or grown, or may ariſe, grow, or be conceived upon the letter of the ſame Act to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Proceſſe againſt the accomptants heir before the ſale of his lands.

Provided alwayes, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that after the death of ſuch accomptant, and debtor as is mentioned in the ſaid recited Act, & before ſuch time as any the Lands, Tenements, and Hereditaments, deſcended unto the Heir of ſuch accomptant or debtor, as heir unto the ſame accomptant or debtor, ſhall be ſold, as aforeſaid, a Scire facias ſhall be awarded out of her Majeſties Court of Exchequer unto the Sheriff of the County where any ſuch Lands do lie, to garniſh the ſame heir, to ſhew cauſe why the ſame Lands, Tenements, and Hereditaments ſo to him deſcended, as aforeſaid, ſhould not be put to ſale for ſatisfaction of the ſaid debts or farms in the ſame Act mentioned, according to the tenor of the ſaid Act; whereupon if the heir do not within a convenient time upon a garniſhment or two Nichils returned, ſhew and prove unto the ſaid Court, that the Executors or Adminiſtrators of ſuch accomptant or debtor have ſufficient which ought to anſwer or be liable for the ſame debt or ferme, and whereby the ſaid debt or farme ſhall and may be duly and fully ſatisfied: That then after ten months next after ſuch two Nichils, or garniſhment returned, the ſame Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments ſhall be ſold by her Majeſty, her Heirs or Succeſſors, and the money thereof coming, diſpoſed according to the true intent and meaning of the ſaid former recited Act.

The heirs ſale good to him which is not conſenting to defraud the Queen.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that the ſaid recited Act, and this ſtatute of explanation alſo as touching only the ſale of any Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, to be made after the death of ſuch accomptant or debtor, as aforeſaid, ſhall not extend to any Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, which any perſon or perſons not being privy or conſenting unto any ſuch intent to defraud the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs or Succeſſors, as in the ſaid recited Act is mentioned, now have or enjoy, or have purchaſed or obtained, or before any Scire facias, ſo be awarded, as aforeſaid, ſhall have or enjoy, purchaſe or obtain bona fide, and upon good conſideration. Any thing in this Act or in the before-mentioned Act to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

To which accomptants this Stat. of explanation ſhall extend.

Provided alwayes, and be it enacted, That this Act of explanation ſhall extend only unto ſuch as have been or ſhall be Tellers, Receivers, Treaſurers, Cuſtomers, Cofferers of the houſhold, Farmors of Impoſt, Collectors, Bayliffs, Victuallers, and other Officers of receipts and accompts unto our Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and to every of them, their heirs, executors and adminiſtrators, and to no other.

Proceſſe againſt the heir where the debt groweth in the Court of Wards or Dutchy.

Provided alſo, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That in ſuch caſes where any accompt ſhall or ought to be made, or any debt ſhall be owing in the Courts of the Dutchy of Lancaſter, and Wards and Liveries, or in any of them: Then after the death of ſuch accomptant or debtor, as is mentioned in the ſaid former Act in any of the ſaid laſt mentioned Courts and before ſuch time as any of the lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, deſcended unto the heir of ſuch accomptant or debtor, as heir unto the ſame accomptant or debtor, ſhall be ſold as aforeſaid, ſuch Proceſſe ſhall be awarded, as hereafter is expreſſed, that is to wit, Firſt a privy Seal commanding the ſame heir to make perſonal apperance in the Court, out of which the ſame privy Seal ſhall be awarded, to ſhew cauſe as in the writ of Scire facias to be awarded out of the exchequer is before appointed: And if the ſame heir ſhall make default at the day of the return of the ſame privy Seal, That then upon the Affidavit made that the ſame privy Seal was duly ſerved, either upon the perſon of the ſame heir, or left at the place of his or her dwelling or moſt uſual abode, an attachment with Proclamation ſhall be awarded againſt the ſame heir and ſhall be openly publiſhed and proclaimed in ſome Market Town in the County, where the ſame heir was laſt dwelling, or made his or her uſual abode, upon ſome Market day there in the time of open Maket, twenty dayes at the leaſt before the return thereof: And if upon return thereof the ſaid heir ſhall eftſoon make default, That then all things ſhall be done and executed for the ſale of the ſame lands, tenements, and hereditaments, and for the full ſatisfaction of the ſame debt or farme, in like and as large and ample manner and form to all intents and purpoſes, as before in this act is limited and appointed, in caſes where default is made upon a garniſhment, or two Nichils returned upon a Scire fac' awarded out of the ſaid Court of Exchequer.

No ſale of the heirs lands during his minority.

Provided alſo and be it likewiſe enacted, That if the heir of any accomptant or debtor before mentioned, ſhall happen to be within the age of xxi. years when any ſuch proceſſe ſhall fortune to be awarded, that then during the time of his or her nonage, this Act, or any thing therein contained ſhall not in any wiſe be extended, executed, or put in ure as touching or concerning only the ſelling of the lands, tenements, or hereditaments of any ſuch heir: Any thing in the ſame Act contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding. And yet nevertheleſſe after ſuch time as any ſuch heir ſhall accompliſh the full age of twenty one years, all and ſingular the lands, tenements and hereditaments deſcended unto the ſame heir from any ſuch debtor or accomptant, as aforeſaid, ſhall at all times during the ſpace of eight years then next enſuing, be ſubject and liable to be ſold for the payment and ſatisfaction of her Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, according to the intent and true meaning of this Act, in ſuch manner and form to all intents and purpoſes, as if the ſame heir had been of full age at the time of the death of ſuch debtor or accomptant.

The heirs lands liable to ſale 8. years after he ſhall accompliſh his full age.

No ſale of lands where the accomptant hath a Quietus eſt.

Provided alwayes, and be it further enacted, that this Act or any thing therein contained ſhall not extend to the ſale of the lands, tenements, or hereditaments of any ſuch heir for or by reaſon of any accompt, debt, or farme, whereof any ſuch debtor or accomptant have, or ſhall have a Quietus eſt, or diſcharge in his or their life time. St. 39 Eliz. 7. 1 Jac. 25.

CAP. IV.

Fraudulent conveyances to defeat Purchaſers ſhall be void, and the penalty of thoſe which juſtifie them, &c.

FOraſmuch as not only the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, but alſo divers of her Highneſſe good and loving Subjects, and Bodies politick and corporate, after conveyances obtained or to be obtained and purchaſes made or to be made of Lands, Tenements, Leaſes, Eſtates, and Hereditaments, for money or other good conſiderations, may have, incurr, and receive great loſſe and prejudice by reaſon of fraudulent and covenous conveyances, eſtates, gifts, grants, charges, and limitations of uſes heretofore made, or hereafter to be made, of, in, or out of lands, tenements, or hereditaments ſo purchaſed, which ſaid gifts, grants, charges, eſtates, uſes, and conveyances, were or hereafter ſhall be meant and intended by the parties that ſo make the ſame, to be fraudulent and covenous of purpoſe and intent to deceive ſuch as have purchaſed, or ſhall purchaſe the ſame: Or elſe by the ſecret intent of the parties, the ſame be to their own proper uſe, and at their free diſpoſition, coloured nevertheleſſe by a fained countenance, and ſhew of words and ſentences, as though the ſame were made bona fide, for good cauſes, and upon juſt and lawful conſiderations.

Fraudulent conveyances made to deceive purchaſers, ſhall be void.

Mortgages lawfully made.

Provided nevertheleſs, That no lawful mortgage made, or to be made bona fide, and without fraud or covin, upon good conſideration, ſhall be impeached or impaired by force of this Act, but ſhall ſtand in the like force and effect, as the ſame ſhould have done, if this Act had never been had nor made: Any thing in this Act to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

St. Merchant, &c. ſhall be entred in the Office of the Clerk of Recognizances. Stat. 23 H. 6.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all the whole tenor and contents of all ſtatutes Merchant, and ſtatutes of the Staple, hereafter to be knowledged, ſhall within ſix months next after ſuch knowledging, be entred in the Office of the Clerk of Recognizances, taken according to the ſtatute made in the three and twentieth year of the reign of the late King Henry the eight by the ſhewing forth of the ſaid ſtatute Merchant, or ſtatute Staple ſo knowledged unto the ſaid Clerk, which ſaid Clerk of the Recognizances ſhall enter, or cauſe to be entred, the ſame ſtatutes into a Book for that purpoſe to be provided, and ſafely kept by him, taking, viii. d. and no more, for every ſuch entry.

The Statute not entred, void againſt the purchaſer.

And be it further enacted, That if the party to whom any ſuch ſtatute Merchant or of the Staple ſhall be knowledged, his executors or adminiſtrators, do, or ſhall not within Four Months next after the knowledging of any ſuch ſtatute, bring and deliver, or cauſe to be brought and delivered unto the ſaid Clerk, or his deputy or deputies for the time being, all and every ſuch ſtatute and ſtatutes as ſhall be ſo knowledged to him or to his uſe, whereby and to the intent that the ſaid Clerk, his deputy or deputies may take and enter a true copy thereof, That then every ſuch ſtatute Merchant and of the Staple not ſo entred, ſhall be void, fruſtrate and of none effect againſt all and every ſuch perſon and perſons, and bodies politick and corporate their heirs, ſucceſſors, executors, adminiſtrators and aſſigns, only as ſhall after the knowledging of the ſaid ſtatutes, or any of them purchaſe for money or other good conſideration the lands, tenements, or hereditaments, which are liable to the ſame ſtatute Merchant, or of the Staple, or any part or parcel thereof, or any rent, leaſe or profit of, or out of the ſame.

The forfeiture of the Clerk not entring or not endorſing a ſtatute.

And if the ſaid Clerk or his deputy or deputies for the time being, ſhall not upon ſuch ſhewing and delivery unto him or them of any ſtatute Merchant, or of the Staple, enter or cauſe to be entred the ſame in his ſaid Book within the ſaid time of ſix months, and alſo endorſe upon every ſuch ſtatute ſo by him entred, the day and year of the ſaid entry, with his or their own name: that then every ſuch Clerk failing or defective in that behalf, ſhall forfeit and loſe for every ſtatute Merchant and of the Staple ſo brought unto him or them, and not entred and endorſed, or cauſed to be entred and endorſed, as aforeſaid, the ſum of twenty pounds: The one moiety whereof to be to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors; and the other moiety to him or them that will ſue for the ſame in any of the Queens Courts of Record by action of debt, bill, plaint or information, wherein no eſſoin, protection, or wager of Law ſhall be allowed.

Clerk of the Recognizances fees to ſearch.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no Clerk of the ſaid Recognizances ſhall or may take for, or in reſpect of any ſearch to be made, for or concerning any ſtatute Merchant, or of the Staple ſo to be entred, as aforeſaid, above two pence for one years ſearch, and ſo after the rate of two pence for every year, and not above, upon pain to forfeit and loſe to the party or parties grieved thereby twenty times as much as he ſhall take contrary to the true meaning of this act to be recovered in any of the Queens Majeſties Courts of Record, by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, wherein no protection or wager of Law ſhall be allowed: This Act to continue for the ſpace of ten years, and from thenceforth unto the end of the Parliament then next following.

Provided always, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend or be conſtrued to make good any purchaſe, grant, leaſe, charge or profit, of, in, or out of any lands, tenements or hereditaments heretofore made void, defeated or undone by reaſon of any former conveyance, grant or aſſurance, ſo as the party or parties, or their heirs or aſſigns, which have ſo defeated or made void the ſame, were in actual poſſeſſion the firſt day of this preſent Parliament, of, or in the ſaid lands, tenements or hereditaments, whereof, or out of which, any ſuch purchaſe, grant, leaſe, charge, or profit was made.

Aſſurance of lands defeated, and the party in poſſeſſion at the time of the Statute.

CAP. V.

After Demurrer joyned and entred, Judgment ſhall be given, notwithſtanding any defect in proceſs or pleading: What defects in form ſhall be amended by the Court; and what not.

FOraſmuch as exceſſive charges and expences, and great delay and hindrance of Juſtice hath grown in actions and ſuits between the Subjects of this Realm, by reaſon that upon ſome ſmall miſtaking or want of form in pleading, Judgments are often reverſed by writs of Error, and oftentimes upon demurrers in Law, given otherwiſe than the matter in Law, and very right of the cauſe doth require, whereby the parties are conſtrained either utterly to loſe their right, or elſe after long time and great trouble and expences, to renew again their ſuits: For remedy thereof, Be it Enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That from henceforth after demurrer joyned and entred in any action or ſuit, in any Court of Record within this Realm, the Judges ſhall proceed and give Judgment according as the very right of the cauſe and matter in Law ſhall appear unto them, without regarding any imperfection, defect or want of form in any writ, return, plaint, declaration, or other pleading, proceſs or courſe of proceeding whatſoever: except thoſe only which the party demurring ſhall ſpecially and particularly ſet down and expreſſe together with [a] his demurrer: and that no Judgment to be given, ſhall be reverſed by any Writ of Error, for any ſuch imperfection, defect or want of form, as is aforeſaid, except ſuch only as is before excepted.

After demurrer judgment ſhall be given, notwithſtanding any defect in proceſſe or pleading.

a Co. 10. fol. 88.

And be it further Enacted, That after demurrers joyned and entred, the Court where the ſame ſhall be, ſhall and may, by vertue of this Act, from time to time amend all and every ſuch imperfections, defects and wants of form, as is before mentioned, other then thoſe only, which the party demurring ſhall ſpecially and particularly expreſſe and ſet down, together with his demurrer, as is aforeſaid.

The Court may amend defects of form after demurrers joyned. 8. H. 6. 12.

Provided always, and be it further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to any writ, declaration, or ſuit of appeal of felony or murther, nor to any indictment or preſentment of felony, murder, treaſon or other matter, nor to any proceſs upon any of them, nor to any writ, bill, action or information upon any popular or penal ſtatute: Any thing aforeſaid to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Appeal indictment and preſentment of felony, murder, treaſon.

CAP. VI.

What Jurors and Iſſues ſhall be returned upon every perſon impannelled; how the Sheriff ſhall be puniſhed for returning one ſummoned that is not, or for taking reward to ſpare any, &c.

FOr the returning of more able and more ſufficient Jurors for tryals, to be hereafter had between party and party, and for reformation of abuſes in Sheriffs and other Miniſters, who for reward oftentimes do ſpare at home the moſt able and ſufficient Freeholders, and return the poorer and ſimpler ſort, leaſt able to diſcern the cauſes, in queſtion, and moſt unable to bear the charges and appearance and attendances in ſuch caſes: Be it ordained and enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, that in all caſes where any Jurors to be returned for tryal of any iſſue or iſſues, joyned in any of the Queens Majeſties Courts of the Kings Bench, Common Pleas, and the Exchequer, or before Juſtices of Aſſiſe by the Lawes of this Realm now in force ought to have eſtate of freehold in lands, tenements or hereditaments, of the clear yearly value of xl. s. that in every ſuch caſe, the Jurors that ſhall be returned, from and after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall every of them have eſtate of Freehold in lands, tenements or hereditaments, to the clear yearly value of [a] iiii. l. at the leaſt, and that the Writs of Venire facias, which from and after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall be awarded and directed for the impannelling of Juries in caſes aforeſaid, ſhall be in this Form, Regina, &c. Writ that ſhall be further awarded to try any ſuch iſſues, to double the iſſues laſt afore ſpecified, until a full Jury be ſworn, or the proceſſe otherwiſe ceaſed or determined, upon pain to forfeit for every return of iſſues contrary to the form aforeſaid, v. li.

Iſſues returned upon a Juror not ſummoned.

And be it further enacted, That if any Sheriff, Under-Sheriff, Baylif, or other miniſter, from and after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, do return any perſon or perſons to be ſummond to appear in any Jury, wherein he ſhall for default of his appearance, loſe or forfeit any iſſues, where in truth ſuch perſon ſhall not be lawfully ſummoned, that then the ſame Sheriff, Under-Sheriff, Bayliff, or other miniſter, by whoſe default ſuch perſon ſhall be returned ſummoned, as aforeſaid, ſhall forfeit, loſe, and pay unto the ſaid perſon and perſons ſo returned, double the value of the iſſues, by ſuch Juror or Jurors loſt or forfeited for his default of appearance.

Receiving reward for the not returning of a Juror.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any Sheriff, Under-Sheriff, Sheriffs Deputy, Sheriff or Under-Sheriffs Clerk, or any Bayliff of Franchiſe, ſhall at any time after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, receive, take, or have, by himſelf, or by any other, any ſum of money, reward, or any other profit directly or indirectly, or do take any promiſe, make any agreement or aſſent, to have any ſum of money, reward, or other profit, directly or indirectly, of any perſon or perſons, for the ſparing, not warning, or not returning of any ſuch perſon to be ſworn as a Juror, for the tryal of any iſſue joyned, or to be joyned in any of the Queens Majeſties Courts, aforeſaid, or before any Juſtices: that then every Sheriff, Under-Sheriff, Sheriffs Deputy, Sheriff or Under Sheriff his Clerk, or Bayliff of Liberty or Franchiſe ſo offending, to forfeit for every ſuch offence the ſum of v. li. the one moiety thereof to our Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty, and the other moiety thereof to ſuch perſon and perſons as will ſue for the ſame in any Court of Record, by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, wherein no eſſoyn, protection or wager of Law ſhall be allowed to the Defendant.

Two Hundreders ſufficient in a perſonal action.

And further be it ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That from and after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, at or upon the tryal of any iſſue joyned in any perſonal action, no further challenge for the Hundred ſhall be admitted, if two ſufficient Hundreders do appear at and upon the tryal of ſuch iſſue.

Other challenges.

Provided nevertheleſſe, That all other challenges principal or for other cauſe, ſhall be admitted, allowed and tryed in ſuch order and form, as if this Act had never been had or made.

Juries returned in a Corporate Town, or Wales.

Provided alſo, That this Act ſhall not extend to any Juries or Iſſues to be returned in any City or Town corporate, or other Town or place priviledged to hold plea, or in the twelve Shires of Wales, but that they ſhall and may be returned, as heretofore they lawfully might have been: This Act, or any thing therein contained to the contrary in any wiſe, notwithſtanding. CAP. VII.

No Juror ſhall be returned without addition of his dwelling place, and how Iſſues loſt ſhall be levied

How Bayliffs do abuſe ſeveral men of one name.

WHereas there are within this Realm of England, in ſundry Counties of the ſame, divers Freeholders of one name, and often and ſundry times ſome one or moe of them been returned and impanelled in Juries, for tryal of matters between party and party: and if it happen any one of them ſo returned to make default or loſe iſſues, when the ſame are eſtreated to be levied, the Bayliff or other Collectors thereof, for lucre and gain to demand and require the ſame of every one within the ſaid County that is of that name, and do perſwade every perſon that is dwelling in that County, and ſo named, that he is the party that hath loſt thoſe iſſues, and compel him to pay the ſame by the diſtreſs of his or their goods and chattels, to their great moleſtation and trouble, and yet nevertheleſs many times do detain and keep all, or the more part of the iſſues ſo collected to their own uſe, in contempt of the Queens Majeſties Laws, and to the great grievance of her loving Subjects, and contrary to all equity and good conſcience.

The dwelling place of every Juror ſhall be returned.

For remedy whereof, be it Enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That from and after Forty days after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, no Sheriff, Coroner or other perſon, to whom it ſhall appertain, to make return of any Writ, ſhall return any Juror dwelling out of any Liberty, without the true addition of the place of his dwelling or abode at the time of the ſaid return, or within one year next before the making of any ſuch return, or ſome other addition, by which the party returned may be known: nor any Juror within any Liberty with other addition then ſuch as ſhall be delivered to him by the Bayliff of the ſaid Liberty, or his deputy, certified under his or their hand: nor any Bayliff of any Liberty, nor any his or their deputy or deputies, ſhall of himſelf return any Juror, or deliver to the Sheriff, his under-Sheriff, deputy or deputies, the names of any perſons to be returned upon any Pannel or Jury, without the true addition certified under his or their hands to the Sheriff, of the place of dwelling or abode of every perſon ſo to be returned at the time of the ſaid return, or within one year next before the ſaid return, or ſome other addition, by which the party returned may be known: And that no extract of iſſues againſt any Juror returned, as aforeſaid, ſhall be delivered out, received or put in ure, without ſuch addition as is put in the original Pannel or Tales wherein ſuch Juror ſhall be ſo returned: And that no Under-Sheriff, Bayliff, or other Officer or perſon whatſoever, ſhall collect, levy, or gather any iſſues ſo eſtreated, of any other perſon or perſons, then of ſuch perſon and perſons, as by vertue of the ſaid eſtreat is of right charged or chargeable with the payment of the ſaid iſſues, upon pain that every Clerk that ſhall write or deliver, or cauſe or procure any ſuch eſtreat to be delivered out, received or put in ure; and every other perſon offending contrary to the intent and meaning of this Act, ſhall Forfeit to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, five marks, and to the party grieved, or which ſhall ſuſtain

In every extract of iſſues againſt a Juror, his addition ſhall be put.

ſtain any loſſe thereby, the ſum of five marks of lawful Engliſh money: All which Forfeitures and penalties ſhall and may be recovered by Action of Debt, Bill, Plaint, or Information, in any Court of Record, wherein no Eſſoyn, Protection, or Wager of Law ſhall be allowed.

And be it further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That Juſtices of Oyer and Terminer within the limits of their Commiſſion, Juſtices of Aſſiſe in their Circuits, and Juſtices of Peace as well within liberties as without, within the limits of their Commiſſion ſhall by vertue of this preſent Act have full power and authority to enquire, hear and determine all and every the offences aforeſaid committed, or to be committed within the ſeveral limits, circuit or precinct of their ſeveral Commiſſion or Commiſſions, and to award forth proceſſe of execution for the levying of the Forfeitures: This Act to endure to the end of the next Parliament. 39 Eliz. 18 made perpetual.

Which officers have authority to hear and determine the offences aforeſaid.

CAP. VIII.

How erroneous Judgments in the Kings-Bench upon certain perſonal actions, may be redreſſed.

Foraſmuch as erroneous Judgments given in the Court called the Kings-Bench, are only to be reformed by the High Court of Parliament, which Court of Parliament is not in theſe days ſo often holden, as in ancient time it hath been, neither yet (in reſpect of greater affairs of this Realm) ſuch erroneous Judgments can be well conſidered of and determined, during the time of the Parliament, whereby the Subjects of this Realm are greatly hindered and delayed of Juſtice in ſuch caſes.

Cro. El 731. Cro. ac. 171 3 4. Cro. ar. 280. 300.

Erroneous judgments given in the Kings-Bench by the Common Law, are only reverſible in Parliament.

Be it therefore Enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That where any Judgment ſhall at any time hereafter be given in the ſaid Court of the Kings-Bench in any ſuit or action of debt, detinue, covenant, account, action upon the Caſe, Ejectione firmæ, or treſpaſſe, firſt commenced, or to be firſt commenced there (other then ſuch only, where the Queens Majeſty ſhall be party) the party plaintiff or defendant, againſt whom any ſuch Judgment ſhall be given, may at his election ſue forth out of the Court of Chancery a ſpecial Writ of Error to be deviſed in the ſaid Court of Chancery, directed to the Chief Juſtice of the ſaid Court of the Kings-Bench for the time being, commanding him to cauſe the ſaid Record, and all things concerning the ſaid Judgment, to be brought before the Juſtices of the Common-Bench, and the Barons of the Exchequer, into the Exchequer Chamber, there to be examined by the ſaid Juſtices of the Common-Bench, and Barons aforeſaid, which ſaid Juſtices of the Common-Bench, and ſuch Barons of the Exchequer as are of the degree of the Coyfe, or ſix of them at the leaſt, by vertue of this preſent Act, ſhall thereupon have full power and authority to examine all ſuch errors as ſhall be aſſigned or found in or upon any ſuch Judgment, and thereupon to reverſe or affirm the ſaid Judgment, as the Law ſhall require, other then for errors to be aſſigned or found for, or concerning the juriſdiction of the ſaid Court of Kings-Bench, or for any want of form in any writ, return, plaint, bill, declaration, or other pleading, proceſſe, verdict or proceeding whatſoever: And that after the ſame ſhall be removed and brought back into the ſaid Court of the Kings-Bench, that ſuch further proceeding may be thereupon, as well for execution as otherwiſe, as ſhall appertain.

Before whom Judgments given in certain Actions in the Kings-Bench, may be examined.

And be it further Enacted, That ſuch Reverſal or Affirmation of any ſuch former Judgment, ſhall not be ſo final, but that the party who findeth him grieved therewith, ſhall & may ſue in the High Court of Parliament, for the further and due examination of the ſaid Judgment, in ſuch ſort as is now uſed upon erroneous Judgments in the ſaid Court of Kings-Bench. CAP. IX.

Fines acknowledged, and Recoveries ſuffered of Lands in the twelve Shires of Wales, Counties Palatine, &c. may be enrolled: for what Errors, Fines and Recoveries are not reverſible; and in what caſes Writs of Error ſhall be allowed.

Whereas in the Parliament by prorogation holden at Weſtminſter, in the three and twentieth year of her Maieſties reign that now is, one good and beneficial Statute was made and ordained for the appeaſing of Suits, the avoiding of falſe practices, deceits, devices and miſdemeanors, and for helping of negligences and miſpriſions of Clerks and Officers, dangerous to aſſurances of mens Lands and Hereditaments, entituled, An Act for the reformation of errors in Fines and Recoveries: Foraſmuch as the ſaid Statute, or ſundry good and neceſſary clauſes and parts thereof, doth not extend to Fines and Recoveries levied, had and ſuffered in the twelve Shires of Wales, that is to ſay, Glamorgan, Brecknock, Radnor, Caermarthen, Pembroke, Cardigan, Mountgomery, Denbigh, Flint, Caernarvon, Angliſey, and Merioneth, the Town and County of Haverford Weſt, and the Counties Palatine of Cheſter, Lancaſter, and Dureſm: Be it Enacted by our Soveraign Lady the Queens moſt Excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That every Writ of Covenant, and other Writ, whereupon any fine heretofore hath been levied, or hereafter ſhall be levied, the return thereof; the Writ of Dedimus poteſtatem, made for the acknowledging of any of the ſame Fines, the return thereof; the concord note, and foot of every ſuch Fine, the Proclamations made thereupon, and the Kings Silver; and alſo every Original Writ of Entry in the Poſt, or other Writ, whereupon, any common Recovery hath been ſuffered, or hereafter ſhall be ſuffered or paſſed, the Writs of Summon. ad Warrantizandum, the Returns of the ſaid Originals and Writs of Summon. ad Warrantizandum, and every Warrant of Atturney, had or to be had, as well of every Demandant and Tenant, as Vouchee extant and remaining, or that ſhall be extant and being in the Courts of Aſſiſes or great Seſſions within the ſaid twelve Shires of Wales, Town and

Stat. 23 Eliz. 3.

Inrolment of Fines and Recoveries in Wales, and the Counties Palatine.

County of Haverford-Weſt, and Counties Palatines, or in the cuſtody of the Officers, to whom the charge of keeping thereof doth appertain, may upon the requeſt or election of any perſon or perſons be inrolled in Rolls of Parchment by ſuch perſons, and for ſuch conſiderations, as hereafter in this Act ſhall be mentioned. And that the Inrolments of the ſame, or any part thereof, ſhall be of as good force and validity in Law, to all intents, reſpects and purpoſes, for ſo much of any of them ſo inrolled, as the ſame being extant and remaining, were or ought by Law to be.

For what Errors Fines and Recoveries are reverſable.

Be it further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no Fine, Proclamations upon Fines, or common Recovery, heretofore had, levied, ſuffered or paſſed, or hereafter to be had, levied, ſuffered or paſſed in any of the ſaid twelve Shires of Wales, Town and County of Haverford-Weſt, or Counties Palatine, ſhall be reverſed or reverſable by any Writ of Error, for falſe or incongrue Latine, raſure, interlining, miſ-entring of any Warrant of Atturney, or of any Proclamation, miſ-returning or not returning of the Sheriff, or other want of form in words, and not in matter of ſubſtance.

In what caſes, and what perſons may have Writs of Error to reverſe Fines or Recoveries.

Provided alwaies, That neither this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall barr or exclude any perſon or perſons from any Writ of Error which ſhall be had, taken or purſued within five years next after the end of the Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, upon any Fine or Recovery heretofore had or ſuffered in any of the Courts aforeſaid: Nor from any Writ of Error which ſhall be had, taken, or purſued, upon any Fine or Recovery, heretofore levied, acknowledged or had in any of the ſaid Courts aforeſaid, within any of the ſaid twelve Shires of Wales, or Town and County of Haverford-Weſt: Which Fine or Recovery, or any part or parcel thereof now is, or at any time before the firſt day of June, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God, 1585. ſhall be exemplified under the Judicial Seal the ſaid Courts, at or by the ſuit of any perſon, that is or may be entituled to have or ſue any Writ of Error upon any the ſame Fines or Recoveries heretofore paſſed: Nor from any Writ of Error which ſhall be had, taken or purſued upon any Fine or Recovery heretofore levied, acknowledged or had in any of the Courts aforeſaid, within any of the ſaid Counties Palatine: which Fine or Recovery, or any part or parcel thereof now is, or at any time before the ſaid firſt day of June, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God 1585. ſhall be exemplified under the Seal of the ſame County Palatine, where the ſame Fine or Recovery ſhall be ſo levied, knowledged or had, at or by the ſuit of any perſon where the ſame Fine or Recovery ſhall be ſo levied, knowledged or had, at or by the ſuit of any perſon that is, or may be entituled to have or ſue any Writ of Error upon the ſame Fine or Recovery ſo heretofore paſſed: Nor to barr any Feme Covert, or any perſon within the age of one and twenty years, or any perſon that is non compos mentis, in priſon, or beyond the Seas, or of, or from any Writ of Error to be had or proſecuted for the reverſing of any Fine or Recovery heretofore paſſed, levied or ſuffered in any of the ſaid twelve Shires of Wales, Town and County of Haverford-Weſt, or Counties Palatine, ſo that ſuch Feme Covert or her heirs, within vii. years next after that ſhe become ſole, and ſuch perſon within the age of one and twenty years, or his heirs within ſeven years next after he ſhall come and be of full age of one and twenty years, and ſuch perſon that is non compos mentis, within ſeven years next after he ſhall become of ſanæ memoriæ; and in default thereof, the heirs of ſuch perſon that is non compos mentis within ſeven years next after the death of any ſuch perſon being non compos mentis. And ſuch perſon in priſon, or his heirs, within ſeven years next after the ſame perſon ſhall be at liberty, and ſuch perſon beyond the Seas, or his heirs, within ſeven years next after the return of ſuch perſon into this Realm of England, or the death of the ſaid perſon, if he ſhall before his return die in any foreign Countrey, ſhall ſue, take and proſecute their Writs of Error, as their cauſes ſhall ſeverally require for reverſing of any of the ſaid Fines or Recoveries heretofore paſſed, levied or ſuffered.

A remedy for the heir, where the anceſtor dyeth hanging the ſuit.

Provided always, and be it further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons ſhall within the time and years aforeſaid, commence or ſue his or their Writs of Error, for reverſing of any of the ſaid Fines or Recoveries heretofore paſſed, which Suit ſhall fortune to abate by the death of any of the parties to the ſame, that then it ſhall and may be lawful for his and their heirs at any time within one year next after the ſaid ſeven years expired, to have, ſue, and take their Writ of Error for the reverſing of every ſuch Fine and Recovery; and if ſuch heir be an infant within the age of one and twenty years, then within one year next after the full age of ſuch infant: Any thing in this preſent Act contained to the contrary thereof, in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The day and year of the knowledg of a Fine or Warrant of Atturney for a Recovery, ſhall be certified.

And be it further Enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That every perſon that ſhall at any time hereafter take the knowledg of any Fine or Warrant of Atturney, of any Tenant or Vouchee for ſuffering any common Recovery to be levied, knowledged, paſſed or had within any of the twelve Shires of Wales, Town and County of Haverford-Weſt, or Counties Palatine, or ſhall certifie them or any of them, ſhall with the certificate of the Concord or warrant of Atturney, certifie alſo the day and year wherein the ſame was acknowledged: And that no perſon that taketh any ſuch knowledg of any fine or warrant for any Recovery, ſhall be bound, or by any means inforced to certifie any ſuch knowledg of any fine or warrant, except it be within one year next after the ſaid knowledg taken.

And that no Clerk or Officer in any of the ſaid twelve Shires of Wales, Town and County of Haverford-Weſt, or Counties Palatine, ſhall receive any Writ of Covenant, or Writ of Entry, or any other Writ, whereupon any Fine or common Recovery is hereafter to paſs, unleſs the day of the knowledg of the ſame Fine and Warrant ſhall appear in, or by ſuch certificate, upon pain that every Clerk that ſhall receive any ſuch Writ, ſhall forfeit for every time that he ſhall ſo offend, the ſum of Forty ſhillings.

Attornment.

And that no Attournment in or upon any ſuch Fine, in any of the Courts aforeſaid, be entred upon Record, except the party mentioned to attourn therein, firſt have appeared in the Court in perſon, or by Atturney, warranted by the hands of one of the Juſtices of the ſame Court, upon a Writ of Quid Juris Clamat, quem redditum redd', or per quæ ſervitia, as the cauſe requireth. And that every entry of Attornment hereafter to be made in any of the Courts aforeſaid, wherein there ſhall be no appearance as aforeſaid, ſhall be utterly void and of none effect, without any Writ of Error, or other means to be uſed for avoiding thereof.

The Office of Inrolments.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that there ſhall be for ever an Office for the Inrolments aforeſaid, in every of the ſaid twelve Shires of Wales, Town and County of Haverford Weſt: and Counties Palatine, which ſhall be and continue an Office for ever called, the Office of Inrolments of Fines and Recoveries, and that the Juſtices of the ſaid twelve Shires of Wales, Town and County of Haverford Weſt, and Counties Palatines for the time being, that is to wit, every of them within the limits and precincts of their ſeveral authorities and Commiſſions, ſhall have and take the care and charge of, and for the Inrolments aforeſaid, and ſhall have and enjoy the ſaid Office, and the Diſpoſition thereof, and carefully ſee and look to the execution thereof; and in conſideration of their charges, pain and travel therein ſhall have and take the ſums of money hereafter following and no more, that is to ſay, for the Inrolment and examination of every Fine and the parts thereof, five ſhillings: and for the Inrolment and exemplification of every Recoverie and the parts therof, five ſhillings: and for every exemplification of the Inrolment of every Fine, and the parts, thereof, three ſhillings four pence: and for every exemplification of the Inrolment of every Recovery, and the parts thereof, three ſhillings four pence: and for the ſearch of the Rolls for one year, four pence: and for the copy of one ſheet of paper, containing fourteen lines, four pence. And that the Juſtices of the ſaid Courts of Aſſiſes, or great Seſſions for the time being, within the ſaid twelve Shires of Wales, Town and County of Haverford Weſt, and Counties Palatine, or any one of them, within the ſeveral limits and precincts of their ſaid ſeveral Commiſſions, ſhall examine the Inrolment of every ſuch Fine and Recovery, and of the parts thereof, and after ſuch examination of the Inrolment of every ſuch Fine and Recovery, and of the parts thereof, ſhall immediately write his name that ſo examineth with his own hand in the Roll thereof, upon pain that the ſaid Juſtices ſhall forfeit to our Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty, the ſum of forty ſhillings, for every time that they or one of them ſhall make default of ſuch examination or writing of his or their name, as is aforeſaid: and that it ſhall and may be lawful for the ſaid Juſtices or any of them for the time being, to take order in all things that ſhall be convenient and needful for the Inrolments aforeſaid, and upon examination in the ſaid Courts, to aſſeſſe ſuch Fine or Amerciament upon any Clerk, Sheriff, Deputy, Atturney, or any other perſon for his and their miſpriſion, contempt and negligence, for not doing, or miſ-doing in any thing, of, in or concerning the ſaid Fines or Recoveries, or any part of them, or either of them, as by the ſaid Juſtices for the time being, or any one of them ſhall be thought meet and convenient. The ſaid Fine and Amerciament to be eſtreated amongſt other Fines, and Amerciaments of that Court where ſuch offence or miſpriſion ſhall be committed.

Fees for Inrolments and exemplifications of Fines and Recoveries.

Aſſeſſing of Fines for miſpriſion, contempt, or negligence.

The exemplification, of as good force as the original record.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that the exemplification of any ſuch Inrolment of any Fine or Recovery, or of any part thereof, within any of the ſaid twelve Shires of Wales, or the ſaid Town and County of Haverford Weſt, under the judicial Seal of the ſaid Shire, Town or County where ſuch Fine or Recovery was, levied, had or paſſed, and the exemplification of any ſuch Inrolment of any Fine or Recovery or of any part thereof, within any of the ſaid Counties Palatine, under the Seal of that County Palatine where ſuch Fine, or Recovery was levied, had or paſſed, ſhall be of as good force and validity in the law, to all intents, reſpects and purpoſes, for ſuch part, and ſo much of any of them as ſhall be ſo exemplified, as the very original Record it ſelf being extant and remaining, were, or ought by Law to be.

Records ſhall not be carried forth of the Offices.

Provided alwayes, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall be lawful for the Juſtices Clerks, authorized by their Warrent in the ſaid ſeveral offices and places where the ſame Records, or any of them do or ſhall remain, to write out or inroll the ſame Records, and every part thereof, and that the ſaid Records, nor any of them, for the writing out or making the Rolls thereof by the Clerks of the ſaid Juſtices, ſhall be brought or carried forth of the ſaid offices or places.

No Fine or Recovery ſhall be amended after exemplification.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid That none of the ſaid Fines, or Recoveries aforeſaid, heretofore levied, paſſed or ſuffered, which ſhall be exemplified under any judicial Seal of any of the ſaid Shires of Wales, or Town or County of Haverford Weſt or under the Seal of any of the ſaid Counties Palatine according to the form of this, Act, ſhall after ſuch exemplifications had, be in any wiſe amended.

The heirs of the Lord Powys, Sir Edward Herbert, Vernon.

Provided alwayes, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe extend to the prejudice of the heirs of Sir Edward Grey, Knight, Lord Powys deceaſed, or of Sir Edwerd Herbert, Knight or his Heirs or aſſigns, Henry Vernon, or John Vernon, Eſquires, or their heirs or aſſigns, for, or concerning any Fine levied, or Recovery ſuffered, by or againſt the ſaid Lord Powys, of any Baronies, Honors, Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments in the County of Mountgomery, or any exemplification therof, or for or concerning any writ of error, brought, or to be brought for the reverſing of any ſuch Fine or Recovery: But that they and every of them, ſhall have and enjoy the ſame right, title, benefit and advantage to all intents and purpoſes, as if this Act had never been had or made.

The Earl of Kent his title.

And foraſmuch as upon great examination it appeareth, That divers Fines and Recoveries have been heretofore levied and ſuffered of divers, caſtles, manors, meſſuages, lands, tenements and hereditaments, which ſometime were the inheritance of George, ſometime Earl of Kent, great Grandfather to Henry now Earl of Kent in uſe, poſſeſſion, reverſion or remainder, whereunto the ſaid now Earl of Kent pretended title, in uſe, poſſeſſion, Reverſion or Remainder, which if they be erronious, as is pretended, do much vary from the general cauſe and miſchief for which this Statute meaneth to provide: Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That neither this Statute, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall extend to take away any Writ of Error, whereunto any perſon or perſons is now or hereafter ſhall be lawfully entituled to have for the reverſing of the ſaid Fines and Recoveries, or any of them heretofore levied or ſuffered of any of the ſaid Caſtles, Manors, Meſſuages, Lands, Tenements, which late were any part or parcel of the Inheritance of the ſaid George, ſometime Earl of Kent, in uſe, poſſeſſion, Reverſion or Remainder: Any thing in this Statute contained to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding. 23 Eliz. 3.

CAP. X.

The Stat. of 18 Eliz. 5, touching Informers upon penal Statutes, made perpetual.

Where in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the eighth day of February, in the eighteenth year of the Reign of our moſt gracious Soveraign Lady, Queen Elizabeth, there was amongſt others, an Act made, entituled, An Act to redreſſe diſorders in common Informers upon penal Laws; which Act is to continue in force and effect but unto the end of this Seſſion of this preſent Parliament: Foraſmuch as the ſaid Act is found by experience ſince the making of the ſame Act, to be very neceſſary, beneficial, and expedient for the Common-wealth.

The Statute of 18 El. 5. provided to redreſſe diſorder in common Informers, made perpetual.

Be it therefore enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the ſame Act above remembred, and all and every the Branches, Clauſes and Proviſions in the ſame contained, ſhall remain, continue, and be from henceforth in full force and effect for ever.

CAP. XI.

Certain Statutes, viz. xix. made in the Reigns of King Hen. 8. King Edw. 6. and Queen Eliz. revived, and made to continue untill the end of the next Parliament. EXP. A repeal of ſo much of the Statute of 5 Eliz. 5. as concerneth the eating of Fiſh, and reſtraineth the eating of Fleſh upon the Wedneſday. Sea-fiſh may be ſold any day in the week, ſaving Sunday. Victuallers ſhall utter no fleſh in Lent, nor upon Fridayes or Saturdayes. All manner of Pins may be brought into this Realm. EXP. 35 El. 7. 39 El. 18. Cok. pla. fol. 371.

CAP. XII.

Under-Sheriffs, Bayliffs of Liberties, Sheriffs Clerks and Deputies, ſhall be twice ſworn.

Complaints of the miſdemeanour of Under-Sheriffs.

Foraſmuch as grievous complaints are many times made of the miſdemeanour and evil behaviour of Under-Sheriffs, who oftentimes having to them committed by the high Sheriff, the whole, or part of the exerciſing and executing of the Office of the high Sheriff, and not taking any corporal Oath, as the high Sheriff doth, for the executing and diſcharging of the ſame office, do therefore daily moſt injuriouſly, through corruption and affection, impannel Jurors for the Queens Majeſty, and betwixt party and party, to the great loſſe, damage and hinderance of divers her Majeſties loving Subjects of this Realm.

Two Oaths ſhall be taken by every Under-Sheriff.

1 Eliz. 1. The Oath of Supremacy.

The Under-Sheriffs oath touching the impannelling of Juries.

For reformation whereof, Be it enacted by the authority of this Parliament, That all and every perſon and perſons, that from, and after the laſt day of the Seſſion of this preſent Parliament ſhall be admitted to, or take upon him the executing of the Office of an Under-Sheriff in any Shire or County within this Realm of England, before he intermeddle with the uſe or exerciſe of the ſaid Office, ſhall receive and take a corporal Oath upon the holy Evangeliſts, before the Juſtices of Aſſiſe, or one of them of the ſame circuit wherein that County is, whereof he ſhall be Under-Sheriff, or before the Cuſtos Rotulorum, or two Juſtices of the Peace, whereof one to be of the Quorum of the ſaid County whereof he ſhall be Under-Sheriff, as aforeſaid, for and concerning the Supremacy, in ſuch manner and form as that Oath is expreſſed and declared in one Act of Parliament made, and ordained in the firſt year of the Reign of our Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty, together with which Oath he ſhall in like ſort, before the ſame perſon or perſons, receive and take another corporal Oath as followeth, (that is to ſay:) I A. B. ſhall not uſe or exerciſe the Office of Under-Sheriff corruptly, during the time that I ſhall remain therein, neither ſhall or will accept, receive, or take by any colour, means, or device whatſoever, or conſent to the taking of any manner of fee or reward of any perſon or perſons for the impannelling or returning of any Inqueſt, Jury, or Tales in any Court of Record for the Queen, or betwixt party and party, above two ſhillings, or the value thereof, or ſuch fees as are allowed and appointed for the ſame by the Laws and Statutes of this Realm: But will, according to my power, truly and indifferently with convenient ſpeed, impannel all Jurors, and return all ſuch Writ or Writs touching the ſame as ſhall appertain to be done by my duty or office, during the time that I ſhall remain in the ſaid Office. So help me God. And likewiſe be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act ſhall be a ſufficient warrant to the perſons appointed by this Act to miniſter the Oath aforeſaid, for the miniſtring thereof accordingly.

The Under-Sheriff choſen at the time of the Statute making.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every Under-Sheriff that is already choſen and appointed for the executing of the ſaid Office of Under-Sheriff for the year or time begun, of, or upon the laſt change of Sheriffs, ſhall within forty days next enſuing the Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, receive and take the Oaths mentioned in this Act, before ſuch perſon or perſons, as by this Act is, or are limited and appointed to miniſter the ſame.

Bayliffs of Franchiſes, Sheriffs Clerks and Deputies, ſhall take the aforeſaid oath.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every Bayliff of Franchiſes, Deputy and Clerk of every Sheriff and Under-Sheriff, and every other perſon and perſons, which after forty dayes after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall have authority, or take upon him to impannel or return an Inqueſt, Jury or Tales, or to intermeddle with execution of Proceſſe in any Court of Record, ſhall before he or they intermeddle with any further execution thereof, receive and take the Oaths aforeſaid corporally before the perſon or perſons appointed by this Act to miniſter the ſame, or before the Head-Officer of the place, if it be a Town Corporate, changing only the words (the Office of the Under-Sheriff) contained in the Oath expreſſed in this Act, to ſuch words as are convenient for the Deputation, Office or Place, in which the party which taketh the Oath is to be exercued in. And if any the ſaid perſons, limited to take the Oath aforeſaid, do take upon him to impannel or return any Inqueſt, Jury or Tales, or to intermeddle with the execution of proceſſe, not having before taken the Oaths aforeſaid, that then every ſuch perſon ſhall loſe and forfeit the ſum of forty pounds of currant Engliſh money; the one moyety to be to the uſe of our Soveraign Lady the Queen, the other moyety to him or them that will ſue for the ſame.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if an Under-Sheriff, or other perſon mentioned in this Act, or any of them, at any time and times, from and after forty dayes next enſuing the laſt day of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall do or commit any act or acts contrary to the Oaths aforeſaid, or either of them, or contrary to the true intent and meaning of this Act; that then every ſuch perſon ſo offending, ſhall forfeit and loſe for every ſuch offence to the party or parties grieved, his or their treble damages. All which ſeveral forfeitures before-mentioned, ſhall or may by the authority of this preſent Act be recovered, had, and levied by action of Debt, Bill, Plaint or Information, in any of the Queens Majeſties Courts of Record: in which Actions, Suits, Plaints or Informations, no Wager of Law, Eſſoine or Protection ſhall be allowed.

The forfeiture of the offenders, and how it may be recovered.

And be it further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That the Juſtices of Aſſiſe, and Juſtices of Peace in their open Seſſions, ſhall have full power within the limits of their authority, to hear and determine the defaults done contrary to this Act, as well by preſentment and information, as indictment: And upon conviction of the Offendors, to award execution for the levying of the forfeitures aforeſaid, by Fieri facias, Attachment, Capias or Exigent.

Which Officers may hear and determine the forfeitures aforeſaid.

CAP. XIII.

How and by whom Hue-and-Cries are to be made, and the penalty for default thereof, &c.

Whereas by two ancient Statutes, the one made in the Parliament holden at Wincheſter, in the thirteenth year of the Reign of King Edward the firſt, and the other in the eight and twentieth year of the Reign of King Edward the third, it was for the better repreſſing of Robberies and Felonies (amongſt other things) enacted to this effect, That if the Country do not anſwer for the Bodies of ſuch Malefactors, that then the pain ſhould be ſuch, that is to wit, that the People dwelling in the Country ſhall be anſwerable for the Robberies done, and the Damages: ſo that the whole Hundred where the Robbery ſhall be done, with the Franchiſes which are within the precinct of the ſame Hundred, ſhall anſwer the Robberies done. And if the Robbery chance to be done in the diviſion of two Hundreds, that then both the Hundreds together, with the Franchiſes, within the precinct of them, ſhall be anſwerable, as in the ſaid two ſeveral Statutes it doth more at large appear.

The effect of the Statutes of 13 Ed. 1. & 2. & 28 Ed. 3. 11. touching anſwering for robbery.

Foraſmuch as the ſaid parts of the ſeveral Statutes being of late dayes more commonly put in execution, then heretofore they have been, are found by experience to be very hard and extream to many of the Queens Majeſties good Subjects, becauſe by the ſame Statutes they do remain charged with the penalties therein contained, notwithſtanding their unability to ſatiſfie the ſame, and though they do as much as in reaſon might be required in purſuing ſuch Malefactors and Offendors, whereby both large ſcope of negligence is given to the Inhabitants and Reſiants in other Hundreds and Counties, not to proſecute the Hue and Cry made, followed, and brought unto them, by reaſon they are not chargeable for any portion of the Goods robbed, nor with any Damages in that behalf given, and alſo great encouragement and emboldning is likewiſe given unto the Offendors to commit daily more Felonies and Robberies, as ſeeing it in manner impoſſible for the Inhabitants and Reſiants of the ſaid Hundred and Franchiſes, wherein the Robbery is committed, to apprehend them without the aid of the other Hundreds and Counties adjoyning, and for that alſo the party robbed having remedy by the aforeſaid Statutes for the recovering of his Goods robbed, and damages againſt the Inhabitants and Reſiants of the Hundred wherein the Robbery was committed, is many times negligent and careleſs in proſecuting and purſuing the ſaid Malefactors and Offendors: Our Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty, not willing therefore that her People ſhould be impoveriſhed by any ſuch pain or penalty, which ſhould be hard or grievous to them, and having ſpecial regard to abate the power of Felons, and to repreſs Felonies, doth for remedy hereof, with the conſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and of the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame Parliament, eſtabliſh and enact, That the Inhabitants and Reſiants of every, or any ſuch Hundred (with the Franchiſes, within the precinct thereof) wherein negligence, fault or defect of purſuit, and freſh ſuit, after Hue-and-Cry made, ſhall happen to be from and after forty dayes, next after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall anſwer and ſatiſfie the one moyety or half of all and every ſuch ſum and ſums of money and damages, as ſhall by force or vertue of the ſaid Statutes, or either of them be recovered or had againſt, or of the ſaid Hundred, with the Franchiſes therein, in which any Robbery or Felony ſhall at any time hereafter be committed or done. And that the ſame moyety ſhall and may be recovered by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, in any of the Queens Majeſties Courts of Record at Weſtminſter, by, and in the name of the Clerk of the Peace for the time being, of or in every ſuch County within this Realm, where any ſuch Robbery and Recovery, by the party or parties robbed ſhall be, without naming the Chriſtian name or ſurname of the ſaid Clerk of the Peace; which moyety ſo recovered, ſhall be to the only uſe and behoof of the Inhabitants of the ſaid Hundred where any ſuch Robbery or Felony ſhall be committed or done.

Several inconveniences enſuing the aforeſaid Statutes touching Hue and Cry.

The Inhabitants of the hundred where freſh ſuit ſhall not be made, ſhall anſwer half damages.

The moyety ſhall be recovered by the Clerk of the Peace.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any Clerk of the Peace, of or

The death or removing of the Clerk of the Peace ſhall not ceaſe the ſuit.

or in any County within this Realm, ſhall at any time hereafter commence or prefer any ſuch Suit, Action or Information, and ſhall after the ſame ſo ſued, commenced or preferred, happen to die, or to be removed out of his Office, before recovery or execution had: that yet no ſuch Action, Suit, Bill, Plaint or Information, ſued, commenced, or preferred, ſhall by ſuch diſplacing or death be abated, diſcontinued or ended, bnt that it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the Clerk of the Peace next ſucceeding in the ſaid County, to proſecute, purſue, and follow all and every Action, Bill, Plaint and Information, for the cauſes aforeſaid, ſo hanging and depending in ſuch manner and form, and to all intents and purpoſes, as that Clerk of the Peace might have done, which firſt commenced or preferred the ſaid Suit, Bill, Plaint or Information.

And although the whole Hundred, where ſuch Robberies and Felonies are committed with the Liberties, within the precinct thereof, are by the ſaid two former Statutes, charged with the anſwering to the party robbed his damages: yet nevertheleſs the recovery and execution, by and for the party or parties robbed, is had againſt one or a very few perſons of the ſaid Inhabitants, and he and they ſo charged, have not heretofore by Law had any mean or way to have any contribution, of or from the reſidue of the ſaid Hundred, where the ſaid Robbery is committed, to the great impoveriſhment of them againſt whom ſuch recovery or execution is had.

A remedy for thoſe againſt whom recovery and execution is had to have contribution.

For remedy whereof, Be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That after execution of damages by the party or parties ſo robbed had, it ſhall and may be lawful (upon complaint made by the party or parties ſo charged) to and for two Juſtices of the Peace (whereof one to be of the Quorum) of the ſame County, inhabiting within the ſaid Hundred, or near unto the ſame, where any ſuch execution ſhall be had, to aſſeſſe and tax rateably and proportionably, according to their diſcretions, all and every the Towns, Pariſhes, Villages and Hamlets, as well of the ſaid Hundred where any ſuch Robbery ſhall be committed, as of the Liberties within the ſaid Hundred, to and afterwards an equal contribution to be had and made, for the relief of the Inhabitant and Inhabitants, againſt whom the party or parties robbed, before that time had his or their execution: And that after ſuch taxation mads, the Conſtables, Conſtable, Head-boroughs, or Head-borough of every ſuch Town, Pariſh, Village and Hamlet, ſhall by vertue of this preſent Act, have full power and authority within their ſeveral limits, rateably and proportionably to tax and aſſeſſe according to their abilities, every Inhabitant and Dweller in every ſuch Town, Pariſh, Village and Hamlet, for, and towards the payment of ſuch taxation and aſſeſſement, as ſhall be ſo made upon every ſuch Town, Pariſh, Village and Hamlet, for, and towards the payment of ſuch taxation and aſſeſſement, as ſhall be ſo made upon every ſuch Town, Pariſh, Village and Hamlet, as aforeſaid, by the ſaid Juſtices: And that if any Inhabitant of any ſuch Town, Pariſh, Village or Hamlet, ſhall obſtinately refuſe and deny to pay the ſaid taxation and aſſeſſement, ſo by the ſaid Conſtables, Conſtable, Headboroughs, or Head-borough taxed and aſſeſſed, that then it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the ſaid Conſtables and Head-boroughs, and every of them within their ſeveral limits and juriſdictions, to diſtrain all and every perſon and perſons ſo refuſing and denying, by his and their Goods and Chattels, and the ſame diſtreſſe to ſell, and the money thereof coming, to retain to the uſe aforeſaid; and if the Goods or Chattels ſo diſtrained and ſold, ſhall be of more value then the ſaid taxation ſhall come unto, that then the reſidue of the ſaid money, over and above the ſaid taxation, ſhall be delivered unto the ſaid perſon or perſons ſo diſtrained.

The taxation of the Towns by the Juſtices.

The taxation of the Inhabitants by the Conſtables.

Diſtraining and ſale of diſtreſſe for default of payment.

The Conſtables ſhall deliver the money collected to the Juſtices.

And be it further enacted, That all and every the ſaid Conſtables and Headboroughs, after that they have within their ſeveral limits and juriſdictions, levied and collected their ſaid rates and ſums of money ſo taxed, ſhall within ten days after ſuch collection, pay and deliver the ſame over unto the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, or one of them, to the uſe and behoof of the ſaid Inhabitant or Inhabitants, for whom ſuch rate, taxation, and aſſeſſement ſhall be had or made as aforeſaid: which money ſo paid, ſhall by the Juſtices or Juſtice ſo receiving the ſame, be delivered over (upon requeſt made) unto the ſaid Inhabitant or Inhabitants, to whoſe uſe the ſame was collected.

Levying of the contribution in the Hundred, where default of purſuit ſhall be.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the like taxation, aſſeſſement, levying by diſtreſſe and payment, as aforeſaid, ſhall be had and done within every Hundred, where default or negligence of purſuit and freſh ſuit ſhall be, for and to the benefit of all and every Inhabitant and Inhabitants of the ſame Hundred, where ſuch default ſhall be, that ſhall at any time hereafter by vertue of this preſent Act, have any damages or money levyed of them, for or to the payment of the one moyety, or half of the money recovered againſt the ſaid Hundred, where any Robbery ſhall be hereafter committed.

No penalty where any of the offendors be apprehended.

Provided alſo, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That where any Robbery is, or ſhall be hereafter committed by two, or a greater number of Malefactors, and that it happen any one of the ſaid Offendors to be [a] apprehended by purſuit to be made according to the ſaid former mentioned Laws and Statutes, or according to this preſent Act, that then, and in ſuch caſe, no Hundred or Franchiſe ſhall in any wiſe incur, or fall into the penalty, loſſe, or forfeiture mentioned either in this preſent Act, or in any the ſaid former ſtatutes, although the reſidue of the ſaid Malefactors ſhall happen to eſcape, and not be apprehended: Any thing in this ſtatute, or in the ſaid former ſtatutes to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The ſuit ſhall be commenced within one year after the robbery.

Provided alſo, That no perſon or perſons hereafter robbed, ſhall take any benefit by vertue of any the ſaid former ſtatutes, to charge any Hundred where any ſuch Robbery ſhall be committed, except he or they ſo robbed, ſhall commence his or their ſuit or action within one year next after ſuch Robbery ſo to be committed.

In what ſort Hue-and-Cry and purſuit of felons ſhall be made.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no Hue-and-Cry, or purſuit hereafter to be done or made by the County, or Inhabitants of any Hundred, ſhall be allowed and taken to be [b] a lawful Hue-and Cry, or purſuit, upon or after the ſaid Felons or Offendors, a Cok. lib. 7. fol 7. Cro. Jac. 41.

And be it further enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That no perſon or perſons that ſhall hereafter happen to be robbed, ſhall have or maintain any action, or take any benefit by vertue of the ſaid two mentioned ſtatutes, or either of them, except the ſame perſon and perſons ſo robbed, ſhall with as much [a] convenient ſpeed as may be, give notice and intelligence of the ſaid Felony or Robbery ſo committed unto ſome of the Inhabitants of ſome Town, Village, or Hamlet near unto the place where any ſuch Robbery ſhall be committed, Nor ſhall bring or have any action, upon and by vertue of any the ſtatutes aforeſaid, except he or they ſhall firſt within twenty days next before ſuch action to be brought, be examined upon his or their corporal Oath to be taken before ſome Juſtice of the Peace of the County where the Robbery was committed, inhabiting within the ſaid Hundred where the Robbery was committed, or near unto the ſame, whether he or they do know the parties that committed the ſaid Robbery, or any of them. And if upon examination it be confeſſed, that he or they do know the parties that committed the ſaid Robbery, or any of them, that then he or they ſo confeſſing, ſhall before the ſaid action be commenced or brought, enter into ſufficient Bond by Recognizance before the ſaid Juſtice, before whom the ſaid examination is had, effectually to proſecute the ſame perſon and perſons ſo known to have committed the ſaid Robbery by Indictment, or otherwiſe, according to the due courſe of the Laws of this Realm. 29 Eliz. 25.

CAP. XIV.

Stat. of 2 & 3 Ed. 6. 10. touching the true making of Malt, revived.

Whereas in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, upon prorogation the fourth day of November, in the ſecond year of the year of the late King of moſt famous memory, King Edward the ſixth, moſt dear Brother to our Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty that now is, there was amongſt other things, one good and neceſſary Act of Parliament made and eſtabiſhed, entituled, An Act for the true making of Malt: Which ſaid ſtatute was after diſcontinued, and ſo reſteth and remaineth as yet, albeit in truth, during the continuance thereof, the ſame did much good to the Common-wealth, and ſo would it do ſtill, if the ſame might be revived, and ſtand in force, as heretofore it hath done.

A reviver of the ſtat. made 2 Ed. 6. 10. for the making of Malt.

In conſideration whereof, may it pleaſe her Highneſſe, with the conſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That it may be enacted, that the ſaid former Act and Statute abovementioned, and every branch, article and proviſo therein contained, ſhall be revived, and from henceforth continue, ſtand and endure in force and ſtrength, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, and ſhall be obſerved and kept in all things according to the tenor, effect, and true meaning of the ſame. This Act to continue for the time of three years now next following, after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament: and after the end of the ſaid three years, then to the end of the Parliament then next after following. 3 Car. 4. Continued untill the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

CAP. XV.

It ſhall be lawful to any of the Queens Subjects to bring into this Realm from the parts beyond the Sea, in Engliſh Ships or Crayers, being ſailed by Engliſh Mariners with croſſe Sails, Herring, Staple-fiſh, and Ling-fiſh, for ſerving of the North parts, paying the Queens cuſtom and ſubſidy for the ſame. So as none of the ſaid fiſh be ſhipped from any of thoſe North parts into any place of England, South or South-weſt from Boſton: Any ſtatute or proviſo notwithſtanding, &c. But this ſhall not be prejudicial to the Town or Burgeſſes of Berwick. EXP. 5 Eliz. 5. 13 Eliz. 11. & 23 Eliz. 7.

CAP. XVI.

It ſhall not be lawful to any perſon (ſaving a Tanner, his Executors, Adminiſtrators, or Legatories, or to them to whom tanned Leather ſhall be forfeited) to ſell or put away any tanned Leather, unwrought, not converted into made wares, in defrauding the true meaning of the Statute of 5 Eliz. 8. EXP.

CAP. XVII.

Of what length, bredth, and weight Whites made in the Counties of Glouceſter, Somerſet, and Wiltſhire, and elſe-where, ſhall be.

The length, breadth and weight of Whites and Reds made in certain Counties by the ſtat. of 5 & 6 Ed. 6. 6.

Whereas in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter in the fifth and ſixth years of the Reign of our late Soveraign Lord King Edward the ſixth, one Statute was made, intituled, An Act for the true making of woollen Cloth: whereby amongſt other things) it was enacted, That all Whites and Reds, which after the Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel, then next coming, ſhould be made in the Shires or Counties of Wiltſhire, Glouceſter and Somerſet, or any of them, or elſewhere of like making, and all other Whites which ſhould be made in any other parts of this Realm of England, and not before in the ſame Statute remembred, ſhould contain in length, being thorow wet, between ſix and eight and twenty yards, and ſhould be ſeven quarters of the yard in breadth within the liſts, at the leaſt, and liſted according to the ancient cuſtome; and being well ſcoured, thicked, milled and fully dryed, ſhould weigh every piece xliiii. li. being white, and lx. li. being coloured at the leaſt, as by the ſaid Act among divers clauſes, articles and proviſions contained in the ſame, more plainly is expreſſed.

The weight of the ſaid Clothes. 4 & 5 P. & M. 5.

And whereas alſo in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, in the fourth and fifth years of the Reigns of our late Soveraign Lord and Lady King Philip and Queen Mary, one other ſtatute was made, entituled, An Act touching the making of Woollen Clothes, whereby alſo (amongſt other things) it was ordained, eſtabliſhed, enacted and provided, that every white Cloth which ſhould be made in the Counties of Wiltſhire, Glouceſter and Somerſet, or any of them, or elſewhere of like making, appointed by the ſaid Act made in the ſaid fifth and ſixth years of King Edward the ſixth, to weigh threeſcore and four pound, ſhould weigh, being well ſcoured, thicked, milled, and fully dryed threeſcore and one pound at the leaſt, with a proviſion in the ſame laſt recited Act contained, that no perſon or perſons ſhould incur the danger, penalty, or forfeiture limited and appointed for any offence in the ſaid former recited Act, which was mitigated or otherwiſe appointed by the ſame Act, made in the fourth and fifth years of King Philip and Queen Mary, as by the ſame Act made in the fourth and fifth years of King Philip and Queen Mary, amongſt divers Clauſes, Articles, and Proviſoes therein contained, more plainly is expreſſed. Sithence the making of which ſaid ſeveral Statutes, although the makers of the ſaid Clothes have endeavoured themſelves according to their beſt skill and induſtry, to perform and fulfil the ſaid recited Statute in every of their Clothes, as much as in them did lie, as touching the breadth of Clothes, and to that end and purpoſe have allowed, and do allow ſo much yarn and ſtuff to every ſuch Cloth as might ſufficiently ſerve to make all the ſaid Clothes full out in length and breadth, according to the ſaid former Statute made in the fifth and ſixth years of King Edward the ſixth, and in weight according to the ſaid branch of the ſaid Statute made in the fourth and fifth years of the Reigns of the late King Philip and Queen Mary: yet notwithſtanding many times by reaſon of the divers natures in the Woolls, and by the great diverſities in the ſpinning, carding and milling, many of the ſaid Clothes made within the ſaid Counties of Wiltſhire, Glouceſter, Somerſet and Oxon, and elſewhere of like making, do not contain full ſeven quarters in breadth, according to the ſaid Statute made in the fifth and ſixth years of King Ed. 6. and yet do hold their full weight or more, according to the former Statute made in the time of the ſaid King Philip and Queen Mary, and no default touching the breadth can juſtly be imputed to the Maker thereof, for that the ſaid Cloth-makers (as experience daily ſheweth) cannot obſerve the ſaid former Statute in all the ſaid Clothes as touching the breadth, although they endeavour themſelves never ſo much thereunto, which Clothes not containing their full aſſiſe in breadth, as is aforeſaid, are many times taken and ſeized by the Searchers of London when they come to their Market at Blackwell-Hall, to the great loſſe and damage of the ſaid Cloth-makers, and to the great hinderance of Cloth making within the ſaid Counties.

The reaſons wherefore the foreſaid Stat. of 5 & 6 Ed. 6. & 4 & 5 P. & M. cannot be performed, and yet no default in the Clothier.

The breadth of clothes made in Wiltſhire, Glouceſter, Somerſet and Oxfordſhire.

In conſideration whereof, albeit it is not hereby intended to repeal or make void the ſaid former recited Eſtatutes, or either of them, otherwiſe than is hereafter expreſſed, yet nevertheleſſe, Be it enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons of this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, that no perſon or perſons ſhall be hereafter charged for any ſuch default, which hereafter ſhall be in any of the ſaid Clothes mentioned in this Act for want of breadth of ſeven quarters, ſo that the ſame Cloth do contain in breadth, being throughly wet, ſix quarters and an half at the leaſt within the liſts unwrought, and liſted, according to the ancient cuſtom: Any thing in any of the former Statutes mentioned to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The penalty if the cloth do not contain in breadth ſix quarters and an half.

Provided alwayes, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any of the ſaid Clothes ſhall not contain ſix quarters and an half at the leaſt within the liſts, as aforeſaid, that then every perſon offending in that behalf, ſhall for every ſuch Cloth be ſubject to ſuch pains, penalties and forfeitures, as were by force of the former recited Statute of the fifth and ſixth years of King Edward the ſixth, to have been forfeited for want of breadth of ſeven quarters within the liſts.

The weight of Narrow-liſted Whites, and Broad-liſted Whites.

The length of Narrow-liſted and Broad-liſted Whites. REP. 43 El. 10.

The penalty of the Clothiers offending.

And be it nevertheleſſe enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any Cloth to be made within any of the ſaid Counties or elſe-where of like making, called Narrow-liſted Whites, being well ſcoured, thicked, milled and fully dryed, ſhall contain in weight any leſſe than lxi. li. at the leaſt; or of any Cloth to be made within any of the ſaid Counties, or elſewhere of like making, called Broad-liſted Whites, being well ſcoured, thicked, milled, and fully dryed, ſhall contain in weight any leſſe than lxiii. li. at the leaſt; or if any of the ſaid Clothes, called Narrow-liſted or Broad-liſted Whites, ſhall contain in length any more than twenty and eight yards at the moſt: that then every of the ſaid Clothiers therein offending, ſhall incur double ſuch penalties and forfeitures for every pound ſo wanting of the ſeveral weights above limited, and for every yard ſo exceeding in length, and not weighing after ſuch rate as is before expreſſed, as by the ſaid Statute of the fourth and fifth years of King Philip and Queen Mary is provided and appointed. This Act to indure and continue for the ſpace of five years next after the end of this Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, and from the end of the ſaid five years, untill the end of the next Seſſion of Parliament then next enſuing. 35 Eliz. 7. made to continue for ever.

CAP. XVIII.

Part of the Statute of 5 Ed.6.6. and the whole Statute of 7 Ed.6.9. reſtraining the putting of hair, flocks, or Lambs-wooll into plain white Straits, and pinned white Straits, made in Devon and Cornwall, repealed, &c.

5 Ed. 6. 6.

Where in the Parliament upon prorogation holden at Weſtminſter the xxiii. of January, in the fifth year of the Reign of the late King of famous memory, Ed. 6. one Act was made for true making of woollen Clothes: by which Act, amongſt other things it was enacted, that from and after the Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel next enſuing the making of the ſaid Act, no perſon or perſons ſhould put any hair, flocks, or any yarn of Lambs-wooll into any Cloth, Kerſie, Frize, or Cotton made and ſold, or offered to be ſold, as in the ſaid Act is expreſſed, upon pain to forfeit every ſuch Cloth, Kerſie, Frize and Cotton, wherein any ſuch yarn, hair, or flocks ſhould be put, or the value of ſuch Cloth, Kerſie, Frize or Cotton, as by the ſaid Act it doth and may appear.

And whereas by another Act made in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter in the ſeventh year of the Reign of the ſaid late King, entituled, An Act for the making of plain white Straights, and pinned white Straights, in Devon and Cornwall, the ſaid former Act was altered, and liberty given to the Makers of the ſaid Clothes, called plain white Straights, and pinned white Straights, to uſe in making of the ſaid Clothes, Flocks, Hair or Yarn made of Lambs wooll, and by the Statute divers Rules and Orders were appointed for making of the ſaid Clothes, called plain white Straights, and pinned white Straights, as by the ſaid Statute doth appear: Now for that the Orders and Rules both by the ſaid Statute made in the ſaid fifth year, as alſo in the ſaid ſeventh year of the ſaid late King Edward the ſixth, tend to the utter undoing and decay of great numbers and multitudes of people which live by the Trade of Clothing, and are not profitable any longer to be kept in theſe Counties and Places, where the ſaid Clothes, called plain white Straights, and pinned white Straights are uſually made, the ſame Clothes being but a baſe and courſe kind of Clothes, uſually made for the uſe of poor people beyond the Seas, and moſt commonly ſhipped into Britain, and there uttered for a Merchandize, to ſerve the uſe of the poorer ſort there: And eſpecially for that ſithence the making of the ſaid Statutes, the yarn, wherewith the ſaid Clothes, called plain white Straights, and pinned white Straights are uſually made, to the great benefit of the poor people where the ſame are made, is grown ſmaller and finer, whereby many more poor people are ſet on work with ſpinning of the ſame, than either at or before the making of any the ſaid ſeveral Statutes they were, ſo that the weight, length and bredth cannot agree as before it did in making of the ſaid Clothes.

7 Ed. 6. 9.

Be it therefore enacted by the Queens Majeſty our Soveraign Lady, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the branch made in the ſaid fifth year, which prohibiteth putting of Hair, Flocks, or Yarn made of Lambs wooll into any Cloth or Frize, having regard unto the ſaid Clothes, called plain white Straights, and pinned white Straights, be utterly repealed and made void.

A repeal of part of the ſtat. of 5 Ed. 6. and of the whole ſtat. of 7 Ed. 6. 9. touching the making of certain clothes in Devon and Cornwall.

And that the ſaid Statute alſo made in the ſaid ſeventh year of the Reign of the ſaid late King, and every Branch, Article, and Clauſe therein, be from henceforth utterly repealed and void for ever.

And that it be further enacted, That from henceforth it ſhall be lawful to all and every the Queens Majeſties Subjects inhabiting, or which ſhall hereafter inhabit within the ſaid Counties of Devon and Cornwall, as well in Towns corporate, Market Towns, or elſewhere, to weave and make the ſaid Clothes, called plain white Straights, and pinned white Straights, and to uſe and occupy in making the ſaid Clothes, called white Straights, and pinned white Straights, flocks, hair, and yarn made of Lambs wooll, and to have, keep, and uſe in his or their houſes three Looms, and not above for making of the Clothes aforeſaid, and to make the ſame Clothes of ſuch length, weight and bredth as the Merchant ſhall like or accept, to buy the ſame for Merchandizes, or appoint the ſame to be made for the uſe and moſt acceptable allowance of the Country people where the ſame ſhall be tranſported for Merchandizes, for that in truth none of the ſame are worn or occupied within this Realm: The ſaid Statute made in the ſaid fifth year of the Reign of the ſaid late King Edward the ſixth, or any other Law or Statute heretofore made to the contrary notwithſtanding.

What ſtuffe may be put into cloth made in Devon and Cornwall. 43 El. 10.

How many Looms a workman may keep in his houſe in Devon, &c.

Provided alwayes, That in defrauding of her Majeſties Cuſtom, no piece of the ſaid Clothes ſhall be made above twelve pounds in weight, or above fourteen yards in length, or one yard in bredth, upon pain of forfeiture of all ſuch Clothes made over and above the ſaid length, bredth or weight, or the value thereof: The one moyety to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moyety thereof to him that will ſue for the ſame by Writ, Bill, Plaint, or Information in any Court of Record, wherein no Eſſoine, Protection or Wager of Law ſhall be allowed, 43 El. 10.

CAP. XIX.

No new Iron Mills ſhall be made in Suſſex, Surrey or Kent, nor good Timber ſhall be conſumed by the making of Iron, and the High-wayes there ſhall be repaired and amended.

Whereas by the over great negligence or number of Iron-works which have been and yet are in the Wields of the Counties of Suſſex, Surrey and Kent; it is thought that the great plenty of Timber which hath grown in thoſe parts, hath been greatly decayed and ſpoiled, and will in ſhort time be utterly conſumed and waſted, if ſome convenient remedy therein be not timely provided: Be it therefore enacted by our Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That no perſon or perſons from and after the Feaſt of Eaſter, next after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall make, erect, build, or new ſet up, at or in any place within the Counties of Suſſex, Surrey or Kent, or any of them, any manner of Iron-Mills, Furnace, Finary or Blomary, for the making and working of any manner of Iron, or Iron metal, other than either upon ſuch old and former Bayes or Pens, whereupon hath lately been, or at the time of the new erection ſhall be then ſtanding ſome Iron-Mills, Furnace or Hammer, or elſe in and upon ſuch Lands as the party or parties ſo erecting any ſuch intended new work, ſhall continually furniſh the ſame with ſufficient ſupply of his or their own proper Woods, ſtanding or growing in and upon his or their own proper Soil or Land, being to him or them in Fee ſimple, Fee-tail, or for term of life, or lives, without impeachment of waſte at the leaſt, and not otherwiſe: nor ſhall convert or imploy, or cauſe to be converted or imployed to Coals, or other Fewel, for the making or working of Iron or Iron metal, in or about any manner of Iron-Mills, Furnace, Hammer, Finary, Forge or Blomary, the body or bodies of any ſound Timber tree or trees, apt for the making of good and ſufficient Cleft-wares or ſawing Timber of Oak, Aſh or Elm, growing of the bredth or bigneſſe of one foot ſquare at the ſtub, or any

A remedy for the repair of High ways in Suſſex, Surry and Kent, R & P. 39 Eliz. 19.

Two ſhillings and ſix pence ſhall be in lieu of every Cart load of gravel, &c. uncarried.

In what caſe the Surveyors ſhall appoint where the gravel ſhall be laid.

How the forfeitures ſhall be imployed.

A remedy where the offendor doth not pay the forfeiture.

Provided alwayes, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the Owners of ſuch trees (the bodies whereof have been, or ſhall be from time to time converted and imployed to, or for any manner of timber or cleft-ware within the Weilds of Suſſex, Surrey or Kent, or any of them, the ſame not being within eighteen miles of the City of London, or eight miles of the River of Thames, or four miles of the Towns of Rye and Winchelſey, or within three miles of Haſtings, or within four miles of the foot of the hills called the Downs, between Arundel and Pemſey in the County of Suſſex aforeſaid, or any of them) to imploy the tops and offals of all ſuch trees, to or for Coals, or other fewel, ſerving to or for Iron-works at their own will and pleaſures, this Statute or any other to the contrary hereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding. And foraſmuch as the High wayes in the ſaid Counties of Suſſex, Surrey and Kent, are in many places greatly impaired and ſpoyled by means of carriages of Coals, Mines and Iron, to and from the Iron works in the ſaid Counties, to the great hinderance of the common paſſages of the Queens Majeſties Subjects travelling through the ſame: For remedy whereof, Be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Occupiers of all manner of Iron works whatſoever, as Owners or Farmors of the ſame, by or for any eſtate or eſtates of Inheritance for life, lives, or for term of year or years, which ſhall at any time hereafter carry, or cauſe to be carried any Coals, Mine or Iron, to, or for any their Iron-works, between the xii. day of October, and the firſt day of May yearly, ſhall likewiſe yearly carry and lay, or cauſe to be carried and layed for every ſix loads of Coals or Mine, as well as alſo for every Tun of Iron which ſhall be carried by any manner of Wain or Cart, between the ſaid xii. day of October, and the firſt day of May, yearly by the ſpace of one mile thorow any High-wayes, being under any the Hills commonly called the North Downs of Surry and Kent, to or from any manner of Iron-work, one uſual Cart-load of Sinder, Gravel, Stone, Sand or Chalk, meet for the repairing and amending of the ſaid High-wayes, to be laid and imployed in ſuch place and places of the ſaid High-wayes, as by any Juſtice of Peace of any of the Counties aforeſaid, dwelling near unto the places where the High-wayes within the limits aforeſaid, ſhall be moſt annoyed by any the means aforeſaid, according to the greater and more preſent neceſſity ſhall be appointed or aſſigned; or elſe pay or cauſe to be paid, for and in allowance of every Cart-load, in manner and form aforeſaid, to have been ſo carried and laid, ii. s. vi. d. within eight days after the demand thereof, to the hands of the ſaid Juſtice of Peace, or his aſſigne, the ſame to be levied after default of payment upon the demand thereof from time to time, upon ſuch Iron as ſhall be by and thorow the ſame high-wayes ſo carried, by way of diſtreſſe. And if ſuch Juſtice of Peace, by reaſon of abſence or other occaſion, do not or ſhall not within forty dayes next after the ſaid firſt day of May, yearly aſſign or appoint where and in what place of the high-wayes the ſaid ſinder, gravel, ſtone, ſand or chalk, to be carried, as aforeſaid, ſhall be laid, or where, and how the mony thereof due, or ſo paid ſhall be imployed and beſtowed: That then the ſame ſinder, gravel, ſtone, ſand or chalk, ſhall be laid and imployed by ſuch perſon and perſons, as by this Act are to carry and lay the ſame, or to cauſe the ſame to be carried and laid in ſuch place and places of the high-wayes, as the Surveyors of the High wayes within the Pariſh for the time being, where the High-wayes ſhall be moſt annoyed, as is aforeſaid, ſhall aſſign or appoint, or in default thereof, pay to the ſaid Surveyors for every ſuch load due, and uncarried, ii. s. vi. d. in manner and form aforeſaid, upon pain of forfeiture of x. s. for every load of ſinder, gravel, ſtone, ſand or chalk not carried, laid and imployed in the high-wayes, or ii. s. vi. d. unpaid, as is aforeſaid, to be forfeited, and paid by the perſon and perſons which by this Act ought to carry and lay, or cauſe to be carried and laid, the ſinder, gravel, ſtone, ſand or chalk, or therefore to have paid, as is aforeſaid, after due preſentment and conviction thereof had before the Juſtices of Oyer and Terminer, or Juſtices of Peace in any of their open Seſſion or Seſſions to be holden before them or any of them. All which ſum and ſums of money to be forfeited by reaſon of this Act, for or in default of carriage and laying of the ſaid ſinder, gravel, ſtone, ſand or chalk, or payment thereof due, as aforeſaid, ſhall be likewiſe beſtowed and imployed upon the amendment and repairing of the high-wayes in the ſaid Pariſhes, where the cauſe of forfeiture by default or refuſal grow and was given, at and by the diſcretion of any ſuch Juſtice of Peace as ſhall dwell and be reſiant next unto the place or places being moſt annoyed by the carriages aforeſaid, and where the money therefore due ſhould have been paid, as aforeſaid, and the ſame to be levied by way of diſtreſſe by any Conſtable, Tything-man, Headborough, or other Officer thereunto to be aſſigned by warrant made in open Seſſions by any Clerk of the Peace of the County where any offence or offences aforeſaid ſhall be committed, or by any two Juſtices of the Peace, whereof one to be of the Quorum, which were preſent at the Seſſions, wherein the ſaid conviction of or for any the offences aforeſaid ſhall be had. And if no ſufficient diſtreſſe can be found by the ſaid Officer appointed to levy the ſame, or if the ſaid offendor ſhall obſtinately refuſe to pay the ſame forfeiture, or do not pay the ſame within xx. days after a lawful demand of the ſame, by the ſaid Officer to be appointed for the levying thereof, as aforeſaid, that then every perſon ſo denying or refuſing, and not paying the ſame forfeiture within xx. days, as aforeſaid, to forfeit the double ſum he ſhould before have paid, to be levied by ſuch ways and means, as to two of the Juſtices of Peace of the ſame County where the ſaid offence ſhall be committed, whereof one to be of the Quorum, ſhall be thought moſt meet; the ſame forfeiture to be likewiſe imployed upon the amendment of the high ways, as the other forfeiture ſhould have been, if the ſame had been levied according to the true intent and meaning of this Stat.

What perſons in Boxſted and Langham in the County of Eſſex may make, weave, or row Woollen Cloth there.

Wheras by a certain Act of Parliament, beginning at Weſtminſter the twentieth day of January, in the fourth and fifth years of the Reigns of the late King Philip and Queen Mary, and there continued untill the ſeventh day of March, in the ſaid fourth and fifth years of the Reigns of the ſaid late King and Queen, amongſt other things it was enacted, That from and after the firſt day of May then next following, no perſon or perſons whatſoever ſhould uſe or exerciſe the feat or myſtery of making, weaving, or rowing of Woollen Clothes long or ſhort, or Kerſies, plain Whites, or plain Straights, to the intent to put the ſame to ſale, but only in a Market Town where Cloth had continually been uſed to be made by the ſpace of ten years then laſt paſt, or in a City, Borough, or Town corporate, upon pain of forfeiture for every ſuch Woollen Cloth, or Kerſie made, woven, or rowed out of ſuch City, Borough, Town corporate, or Market Town, five pounds: And where alſo it is provided in the ſaid Act, That it ſhall be lawful to any perſon then uſing or exerciſing the feat or myſtery of making, weaving, or rowing of Cloth or Kerſie, to inhabit or dwell where they then did dwell, and there to uſe the making, weaving, or rowing of Cloth or Kerſie, as he hath heretofore, Any thing in the ſaid Act notwithſtanding. And where it is further provided by the ſaid Act, That it ſhall be lawful to all and every perſon or perſons which then did, or after that time ſhould inhabit or dwell in any of the Shires of North-Wales, Cheſhire or Lancaſhire, Weſtmerland, Cumberland, Northumberland, Biſhoprick of Durham, Cornwall, Suffolk, Kent, the Town of Goddelmine in the County of Surrey or Yorkſhire, being not within twelve miles of the City of York, or in any of the Towns or Villages near adjoyning to the Waters of Strowd in the County of Glouceſter, where Clothes have been uſually made by the ſpace of twenty years then laſt paſt, and having been Apprentice to the Occupation of Cloth-making, or uſed the ſame by the ſpace of ſeven years, to ſet up, uſe, and exerciſe the Feat or Myſtery of making, weaving, or rowing of Woollen Cloth out of a City, Borough, or Market Town, as before they might have done: Any thing in the ſaid Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A rehearſal of the Statute of 4 & 5 P. & M. 5. limiting in what places Wollen cloth may be made, and by what perſons.

And whereas by one other Act of Parliament beginning at Weſt. the xxiii. of Jan. in the firſt year of the Reign of our Soveraign Lady Elizabeth, the Queen that now is, and there prorogued untill the xxv. day of the ſame moneth, then and there holden and continued untill the viii. day of May then next following, amongſt other things it was enacted in manner and form following, That foraſmuch as the Towns and Villages of Bocking, Weſtbargholl, Dedham and Cockſhall, in the County of Eſſex, be fair large Towns, and as well planted for Cloth-making, as the ſaid Town of Goddelmine, or better, and fewer Towns in this Realm better planted for that purpoſe, and have been inhabited of a long time with Cloth-makers, which have made, and daily do make good and true Cloth, to the great Common-wealth of the Country there, and nothing prejudicial to, or for the Common-wealth of this Realm, It was therefore ordained and enacted by the authority of the ſaid laſt recited Parliament, That it ſhould be lawful to all and every ſuch perſon or perſons which now do inhabit or dwell, or hereafter ſhall dwell in the ſaid Towns or Villages of Bocking, Weſtbargholl, Cockſhall and Dedham, or in any of them, now uſing or exerciſing, or that hereafter ſhall uſe or exerciſe the Feat or Myſtery of making, weaving, or rowing of Cloth or Kerſie, by the ſpace of ſeven years at the leaſt, or have been Prentices thereto by the like ſpace of ſeven years, to inhabit and dwell in the ſame Villages and Towns of Bocking, Weſtbargholl, Cockſhall, and in every or any of them, and to uſe the making and weaving, or rowing of Cloth or Kerſie, as before that time they might have done, if the ſaid Act had never been made: Any thing in the ſaid Act to the contrary thereof made, or in any other Act, Statute, or Law heretofore made, or hereafter to be made, to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The Inhabitants of Boxſtead and Langham in Eſſex may make cloth, &c.

And foraſmuch as the Towns of Boxſtead and Langham in the County of Eſſex, are fair ancient Towns, and as well planted for Cloth-making, as any of the ſaid Towns of Bocking, Weſtbargholl, Dedham and Cockſhall, and few Towns in this Realm better planted for that purpoſe, and have been inhabited a long time with Cloth-makers, which have made, and daily do make good and true Cloth, to the great Common-wealth of the Country there, by ſetting to work a great number of poor people, as well within the ſaid Towns of Boxſtead and Langham, as in divers other Villages and Towns there round about, and being nothing prejudicial to or for the Common-wealth of this Realm: Be it therefore enacted and ordained by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That it ſhall ſhall be lawful to and for all and every ſuch perſon or perſons which now do inhabit or dwell in the ſaid Towns or Villages of Boxſtead and Langham, now uſing or exerciſing, or that hereafter ſhall uſe or exerciſe the Feat or Myſtery of making, weaving, or rowing of Cloth or Kerſie, by the ſpace of ſeven years at the leaſt, or have been, or ſhall be hereafter Prentice thereunto by the ſpace of ſeven years, to inhabit and dwell in the ſaid Towns or Villages of Boxſtead and Langham, and there to uſe the making, weaving or rowing of Cloth or Kerſie, as before the making of the ſaid Statute of the fourth and fifth years of the Reign of King Philip and Queen Mary they might have done, and as if the ſaid Act had never been had nor made: Any thing in the ſaid Act to the contrary thereof made, or any other Act, Statute or Law heretofore to the contrary hereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

CAP. XXIV.

Juſtices of Peace within the County of Norfolk, ſhall take order for the keeping of the Sea-banks and Sea-Works within the ſame County, in repair.

2 & 3 P.& M.8.

5 Eliz. 13.

18 Eliz. 10.

Whereas in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, in the ſecond and third years of the Reign of the late King Philip and Queen Mary, one Act was made and ordained for the amending and maintaining of High-wayes; which ſaid Act having no longer continuance but for ſeven years after the end of the ſame Parliament, was afterwards by one other Act of Parliament made in the fifth year of the Queens Majeſties Reign that now is, revived to have further continuance for a certain time yet enduring; in which ſaid Act made in the fifth year, and one other Act made in the eighteenth year of her Majeſties Reign, there were contained divers further Additions and Ordinances, tending to the amendment and maintenance of the ſaid High-wayes. And whereas the Sea-banks and Sea-works in ſundry parts of the Sea-coaſts within the County of Norfolk (not being within the particular charge of any perſon or perſons, or of any Townſhip, or to be maintained by any other common charge) are by the working of the Sea ruined and decayed, to the great hurt and prejudice of many Townſhips within three miles of the ſaid Banks and Sea-works, and likely daily more and more to grow in ruine and decay, if convenient remedy be not provided in that behalf: And whereas the High-wayes within three miles of the ſaid Sea-banks and Sea-works be ſo gravelly and ſandy, as neither need nor require for the amendment of the ſame ſo many of the ſaid day-works, as be limited and appointed by the ſaid Statutes, the ſurpluſage of which ſaid day-works, if it might be yearly imployed towards the repairing, amending, and maintenance of ſuch of the ſaid Sea-banks and Sea-works, as are not or ought not to be made and maintained at the particular charge of any perſon or perſons, or at the charge of any Townſhip, or by acre ſhot, or other common charge, would be a ſingular benefit and help to the aforeſaid Townſhips, within three miles of the ſaid Sea-banks and Sea-works ſo yearly to be made and maintained.

The Juſtices of Peace in Norfolk ſhall take order for the repair of Sea-banks and Sea-works within the ſame County.

For remedy whereof, Be it enacted and ordained by authority of this preſent Parliament, That from and after the Feaſt of Pentecoſt now next enſuing, the Juſtices of Peace within the ſaid County of Norfolk ſhall and may yearly, at any general Seſſions to be holden within the ſaid County, for and towards the making and amending of the ſaid Sea-banks or Sea-works (now being, or that hereafter ſhall be in ruine or decay) limit and appoint ſo many of the aforeſaid day-works, as by their diſcretions ſhall be thought ſuperfluous and not needful, to be imployed towards the amendment of the aforeſaid High-wayes within three miles of the ſaid Sea-banks or Sea-works, which ſhall needfully require any ſuch reparation or amendment.

Every perſon chargeable for the repair of Sea-banks, as they ſtand charged for the amending of High-ways.

And be it further enacted, That every perſon and perſons, dwelling within three miles of the ſaid Sea-banks and Sea-works needfully to be amended, as is aforeſaid, ſhall yearly upon reaſonable warning given during ſo many dayes as ſhall be limited and appointed in the ſaid Seſſions, in reſpect of his and their labour and carriages, ſtand and be in that degree charged and chargeable towards the making, repairing, and amending of the ſaid Sea-banks or Sea-works, as by the aforeſaid Statutes they ſtand charged and chargeable for the amendment of any High-wayes; and that they and every of them for the not doing and performing the ſame, ſhall incur the like pain, penalty and forfeiture, as is contained in the foreſaid Statutes made for the amendment of High-wayes, and every of them. And that the ſaid Juſtices likewiſe in their aforeſaid general Seſſions, ſhall and may nominate and appoint the High-Conſtables of every Hundred, that ſhall be charged or chargeable by force of this Act towards the making or amending of the ſaid Sea-banks or Sea-works, to be Surveyors of the ſaid Sea-works and Sea-banks, and that they and every of them ſhall take upon them the execution of the ſaid Charge and Office, and duly perform the ſame, upon ſuch like pain and forfeitures as by the ſaid Statutes, or any of them, to be impoſed upon any Surveyor or Surveyors, for not taking upon him or them the office of Surveyor for the amending of High-wayes. And that every perſon and perſons which ſhall be yearly charged to the making and maintenance of the ſaid Banks or Sea-works, ſhall be diſcharged of ſo many dayes towards the making of the ſaid High-wayes, as ſhall be imployed and beſtowed towards the making and amending of the ſaid Sea-works and Sea-banks, all the ſaid penalties and forfeitures to be levied in manner and form as in the ſaid Statutes are limited and appointed. This Act to endure and continue for the ſpace of five years, and from thenceforth unto the end of the Parliament next enſuing the ſaid five years. 3 Car. 4. Continued untill the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

They which ſhall be charged with the amendment of Sea-works, ſhall be diſcharged of the repair of high-wayes.

And where alſo in the firſt Seſſion of Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the twelfth day of January, in the fifth year of her Highneſſe Reign, one Act was then and there made, entituled, An Act for maintenance and encreaſe of Tillage.

5 Eliz. 2.

And one other Act was then and there likewiſe made intituled, An Act for the avoiding of divers foreign wares made by handy crafts men beyond the Seas.

5 Eliz. 7.

And where alſo in the laſt Seſſion of the Parliament holden by prorogation at Weſtminſter, the laſt day of September, in the eight year of her Majeſtes reign, one Act was then and there made, entituled, An Act for Bowyers, and the prices of Bowes.

8 Eliz. 10.

And where alſo in the Parliament begun and holden at Weſtminſter the ſecond day of April, in the thirteenth year of her Majeſties Reign, there was one Act and Statute made for the avoiding of ſome Leaſes in certain caſes to be made of Eccleſiaſtical Promotions with cure, entituled, An Act touching Leaſes of Benefices, and other Eccleſiaſtical Livings with cure.

13 Eliz. 20.

And where alſo there was one other Act and Statute made in the ſaid Parliament begun and holden at Weſtminſter, the ſaid ſecond day of April, in the ſaid thirteenth year, entituled, An Act that Purveyors may take Grain, Corn or Victuals within five miles of Cambridg and Oxford in certain caſes.

13 Eliz. 21.

And alſo one other Act was then and there made, entituled, An Act againſt Uſury.

13 Eliz. 8.

And where in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the eighth day of May, in the fourteenth year of her Highneſs reign, there was one other Act made, entituled, An Act for the continuation and explanation, perfecting and enlarging of divers Statutes: in which Statute are contained divers branches, clauſes and proviſions touching and concerning the explanation, perfecting and enlarging of divers of the Statutes before mentioned.

14 Eliz. 11. continuance of Statutes.

And where alſo in the firſt Seſſion of the Parliament begun and holden at Weſtminſter, the eighth day of May, in the fourteenth year of the Queens Highneſs Reign that now is, and from thence continued by prorogation till the diſſolution thereof, there was one other Act made, entituled, An Act for the puniſhment of Vagabonds, and for the relief of the poor and impotent.

14 Eliz. 5.

And where in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter aforeſaid, in the eighteenth year of her Majeſties Reign, there was one other Act made, entituled, An Act for the ſetting of the poor on work, and for the avoiding of idleneſs.

18 Eliz. 3.

And where in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the three and twentieth day of November, in the ſeven and twentieth year of her Majeſties reign, one other Act was made for the reviving, continuance, explanation and perfecting of divers Statutes, in which are contained divers branches, proviſions and clauſes touching and concerning certain additions and alterations unto, and of divers of the ſaid former recited Statutes, and other new proviſions.

27 Eliz. 11. continuance of Statutes.

And where in the ſaid Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the three and twentieth day of November, in the ſeven and twentieth year of the Queens Majeſties reign that now is, there was an Act made for the levying of Iſſues loſt by Jurors.

27 El. 7. levying of Iſſues loſt by Jurors.

And whereas alſo in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the three and twentieth day of November, in the ſeven and twentieth year of the Queens Majeſties reign that now is, there was one other Act made, entituled, An Act for the good government of the City or Borough of Weſtminſter: foraſmuch as all the ſame ſeveral Acts and Statutes, branches, clauſes and proviſions, and every of them do ſeem good, beneficial and needful to the weal and profit of this preſent Parliament, Be it therefore further Enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the foreſaid ſeveral laſt recited Statutes and Acts, and the ſaid mentioned branches, clauſes, proviſions, additions, alterations and explanations, and every of them, and all and every article, clauſe and ſentence in them and every of them contained, ſhall be continued and endure in full force and effect during the time hereafter mentioned, that is to ſay, till the end of the next Parliament next enſuing.

Anno 27 El. The laſt mentioned 7 Statutes ſhall continue until the end of the next Parliament. EXP.

And where alſo in the firſt Seſſion of Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the twelfth day of January, in the ſaid fifth year of her Majeſties Reign, one Act was then and there made, entituled, An Act touching certain politick Conſtitutions made for the maintenance of the Navy: Be it further Enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That ſo much only of the ſaid laſt mentioned Act, as at this preſent ſtandeth in force, and not heretofore at any time repealed, ſhall continue and endure in full force and effect, unto the end of the next Parliament next enſuing.

5 El. 5 politick conſtitutions for the maintenance of the Navy.

Provided always, That whereas divers her Majeſties loving Subjects dwelling in the remote parts of this Realm, are many times maliciouſly troubled upon Informations and Suits, exhibited in the Courts of the Kings-Bench, Common-Pleas, and Exchequer, upon penal Statutes, and are drawn up upon Proceſs out of the Countries where they dwell, and driven to attend and put in bail, to their great trouble and undoings: For reformation whereof, Be it Enacted, That if any perſon or perſons ſhall be ſued or informed againſt, upon any penal Law in any the ſaid Courts of the Kings-Bench, Common-Pleas, or Exchequer, where ſuch perſon or perſons are bailable by Law, or where by the leave or favour of the Court ſuch perſon or perſons may appear by Atturney: that in all and every ſuch caſe, the perſon or perſons ſo to be impleaded or ſued, ſhall and may at the day and time contained in the firſt Proceſs ſerved for his appearance, appear by Atturney of the ſame Court where the Proceſs is returnable, to anſwer and defend the ſame, and not be urged to perſonal appearance, or to put in bayl for the anſwering of ſuch Suit; Any former Law, Cuſtome, or Uſage to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The defendant in ſuits upon penal ſtatutes may appear by Atturney 13 Eliz. 10.

This branch extends not to aliens. 31 Eliz. 10.

CAP. VI.

Certain aſſurances made by Recuſants of their Lands, ſhall be void to the Queen. In what Courts they ſhall be convicted.

23 Eliz. 1.

Certain aſſurances made by Recuſants, ſhall be void againſt the Queen.

FOr avoiding of all frauds and delayes heretofore practiſed, or hereafter to be put in ure to the hinderance of the due and ſpeedy execution of the Statute made in the Seſſion of Parliament holden by prorogation at Weſtminſter the ſixteenth day of January, in the three and twentieth year of the Reign of our moſt gracious Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty, entituled, An Act to retain the Queens Majeſties Subjects in their due obedience: Be it Enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That every Feoffment, Gift, Grant, Conveyance, Alienation, Eſtate, Leaſe, Incumbrance, and limitation of uſe, of, or out of any lands, tenements or hereditaments whatſoever, had or made at any time ſince the beginning of the Queens Majeſties reign, or at any time hereafter to be had or made by any perſon which hath not repaired, or ſhall not repair to ſome Church, Chappel, or uſual place of Common-Prayer, but hath forborn or ſhall forbear the ſame contrary to the tenour of the ſaid Statute: and which is or ſhall be revokable at the pleaſure of ſuch offendor, or in any wiſe directly or indirectly meant or intended, to or for the behoof, relief, or maintenance, or at the diſpoſition of any ſuch offendor, or wherewith, or whereby, or in conſideration whereof, ſuch offendor or his Family ſhall be maintained, relieved or kept, ſhall be deemed and taken to be utterly fruſtrate and void, as againſt the Queens Majeſty, for or concerning the levying and paying of ſuch ſums of money as any ſuch perſon by the Lawes or Statutes of the Realm already made, ought to pay or forfeit for not coming or repairing to any Church, Chappel, or uſual place of Common-Prayer, or for ſaying, hearing, or being at any Maſſe, and ſhall alſo be ſeiſed and had, to and for her Majeſties uſe and behoof, as hereafter in this Act is mentioned: any pretence, colour, fained conſideration, or expreſſing of any uſe to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Conviction of Recuſancy ſhall be certified unto the Exchequer.

And further be it Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every conviction heretofore recorded for any offence before mentioned, not already eſtreated or certified into the Queens Majeſties Court of Exchequer, ſhall from the Juſtices before whom the Record of ſuch conviction ſhall be remaining, be eſtreated and certified into the Queens Majeſties Court of Exchequer, before the end of Eaſter Term next coming in ſuch convenient certainty for the time and other circumſtances, as the Court of Exchequer may thereupon award out Proceſs for ſeiſure of the lands and goods of every ſuch offendor, as hath not paid their ſaid Forfeitures, according to the Lawes and Statutes in ſuch caſe provided: And that every conviction hereafter for any offence before mentioned, ſhall be in the Court commonly called the Kings-Bench, or at the Aſſiſes, or general Gaol-delivery, and not elſewhere, and ſhall from the Juſtices before whom the Record of ſuch conviction ſhall remain, be eſtreated and certified into the ſaid Court of Exchequer, before the end of the Term next enſuing after every ſuch conviction, in ſuch convenient certainty as is afore mentioned.

In what Courts convicted of Recuſancy ſhall be.

At what time the money forfeited for not going to the Church, ſhall be paid.

And be it alſo Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every ſuch offendor in not repairing to Divine Service, but forbearing the ſame contrary to the ſaid Eſtatute, as hath been heretofore convicted for ſuch offence, and hath not made ſubmiſſion, and been conformable according to the true meaning of the ſaid Statute, ſhall without any other Indictment, or Conviction, pay into the Receit of the ſaid Exchequer all ſuch ſums of money, as according to the rate of twenty pounds for every moneth ſithence the ſame conviction, do yet remain unpaid, in form as hereafter enſueth: that is to ſay, the one moiety thereof before the end of the next Trinity Term, and the other moiety thereof before the end of the next Hillary Term, or at any ſuch other times, as by the Lord Treaſurer, Chancellor, and Chief Baron of the Exchequer, or any two of them, ſhall by compoſition, upon good bond and ſurety taken, be limited, before the end of the ſaid next Trinity Term, if any ſuch compoſition ſhall happen to be: And ſhall alſo in every Eaſter and Michaelmas Term, untill ſuch time as the ſame perſon do make ſubmiſſion, and be conformable, according to the true meaning of the ſaid Statute, pay into the ſaid Receipt of the Exchequer twenty pounds for every moneth, which ſhall incur in all that mean time.

And be it alſo Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every ſuch offendor, in not repairing to Divine Service, but forbearing the ſame contrary to the ſaid Eſtatute, as hereafter ſhall fortune to be thereof once convicted, ſhall in ſuch of the Terms of Eaſter or Michaelmas, as ſhall be next after ſuch [a] conviction, pay into the ſaid Receit of the Exchequer after the rate of twenty pounds for every moneth, which ſhall be contained in the indictment whereupon ſuch conviction ſhall be: And ſhall alſo for every moneth after ſuch conviction, without any other Indictment or conviction, pay into the Receit of the Exchequer aforeſaid at two times in the year; that is to ſay, in every Eaſter Term, and Michaelmas Term, as much as then ſhall remain unpaid, after the rate of twenty pounds for every moneth after ſuch conviction. And if default ſhall be made in any part of any payment aforeſaid, contrary to the form herein before limited, that then and ſo often the Queens Majeſty ſhall and may, by Proceſs out of the ſaid Exchequer, take, ſeize, and enjoy all the goods, and two parts as well of all the Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, liable to ſuch ſeizures or to the penalties aforeſaid, by the true meaning of this Act, leaving the third part only of the ſame Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, Leaſes and Farms, to and for the maintenance and relief of the ſame offendor, his wife, children and family.

[a] Cok, 11 fol. 57.

The Queen may take all the offendors goods, and two parts of his lands and leaſes, which payeth not twenty pounds a moneth.

And for the more ſpeedy conviction of ſuch offendor, in not repairing to Divine Service, but forbearing the ſame contrary to the ſaid Eſtatute: Be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Indictment of every ſuch offendor mentioning the not coming of ſuch offendor to the Church of the Pariſh where ſuch perſon at any time before ſuch Indictment, was, or did keep houſe or reſidence, nor to any other Church, Chappel, or uſual place of Common-

Prayer, ſhall be ſufficient in the Law: and that it ſhall not be needfull to mention, in any ſuch Indictment, that the party offendor was or is, inhabiting within this Realm of England, or any other the Queens Majeſties Dominions. But if it ſhall happen any ſuch offendor then not to be within this Realm, or other her Majeſties Dominions, that in ſuch caſe the party ſhal be relieved by Plea to be put in, in that behalf, and not otherwiſe. And that upon the Indictment of ſuch offendor, a Proclamation ſhall be made at the ſame Aſſiſes or Goal delivery, in which the Indictment ſhall be taken (if the ſame be taken at any Aſſiſe or Goal delivery) by which it ſhall be commanded, that the body of ſuch offendor ſhall be rendred to the Sheriff of the ſame County, before the ſaid next Aſſiſes or general Gaol delivery to be holden in the ſame County. And if at the ſaid next Aſſiſes or Goal delivery, the ſame offendor ſo proclaimed, ſhall not make appearance of record, that upon ſuch default recorded, the ſame ſhall be as ſufficient a conviction in Law of the ſaid offence whereof the party ſo ſtandeth indicted, as is aforeſaid, as if upon the ſame Indictment a Tryal by Verdict thereupon had proceeded, and been recorded.

The Indictment ſufficient, though it be not mentioned that the party is within the Realm.

A Proclamation, that the party indicted ſhall yield his body to the Sheriff.

Provided always, That whenſoever any ſuch offendor, as is aforeſaid, ſhall make ſubmiſſion, and become conformable, according to the form limitted by the ſame Eſtatute, made in the three and twentieth year of the Queens Majeſties reign, or ſhall fortune to die: That then no forfeiture of twenty pounds for any Month, or ſeiſure of the Lands of the ſame offendor, from and after ſuch ſubmiſſion and conformity, or death, and full ſatisfaction of all the arrearages of twenty pounds monthly, before ſuch ſeiſure due, or liable, ſhall enſue, or be continued againſt ſuch offendor, ſo long as the ſame perſon ſhall continue in coming to Divine Service, according to the intent of the ſaid Eſtatute.

The offendor ſubmitting, or dying, no forfeiture ſhall enſue.

And where by the ſaid former Eſtatute, the third part of the forfeitures for not coming to Divine Service, is limitted to the poor: be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall and may be lawfull to and for the Lord Treaſurer of England, Chancellor, and chief Baron of the Exchequer for the time being, or two of them, to aſſign and diſpoſe of the full third part of the twenty pounds for every month paid or to be paid into the Receit of the Exchequer, as is aforeſaid, for the relief and maintenance as well of the poor, and of the houſes of Correction, as of impotent and maimed Souldiers, as the ſame Lord Treaſurer, Chancellor, and chief Baron, or any two of them, ſhall order or appoint: Any thing in the ſaid Eſtatute made in the ſaid three and twentieth year of her Majeſties reign mentioned, to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The third part of the forfeiture aſſigned to the poor. 35 Eliz. 1.

Provided alwayes, that this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe extend or be conſtrued to make void or impeach any Grant or leaſe heretofore made bona fide, without fraud or covin, whereupon any yearly rent or payment is reſerved, or payable, or any Grant or Leaſe hereafter to be made bona fide, without fraud or covin, whereupon the accuſtomed yearly rent or payment is reſerved, or any other conveyance, aſſurance, or aſſignment whatſoever heretofore made bona fide, without fraud or covin, which is not or ſhall not be revokable at the pleaſure of ſuch offendor, otherwiſe than to give benefit and title to her Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, to have, perceive, and enjoy ſuch rents, and payments during the continuance of ſuch Leaſe and Grant, according to the true meaning of this Act.

Aſſurances made bona fide, not impeached.

And provided alſo, that this Act or any thing therein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe extend or be conſtrued to continue any ſeiſure of any Lands or Tenements of ſuch offendor in her Majeſties hands, or in the hands of her Heirs or Succeſſors, after the offendors death which Lands or Tenements he ſhall have or be ſeiſed of, only for term of his life, or in the right of his wife: Any thing in this Act to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding. 23 Eliz. 1. 3. 5 El 1. & 2. 1 Jac. 4. 3 Jac. 4. 5.

Seiſure of lands, whereof the offendor hath but eſtate for life.

A confirmation of the Queens general and free Pardon: Except. &c. EXP.

Anno triceſimo primo Reginæ Elizabethæ.

AT a Seſſion of Parliament begun and holden at Weſtminſter the fourth day February, in the one and thirtieth year of the Reign of our moſt gracious Soveraign Lady, ELIZABETH, by the Grace of God, of England, France and Ireland, Queen, Defender of the Faith, &c. And there continued until the diſſolution thereof, being the nine and twentieth day of March. To the high pleaſure of Almighty God, and the weal-publick of this Realm, were enacted as followeth.

CAP. I.

The not coming of the Lord Chancellor, and Lord Treaſurer, or either of them, in a Writ of Error purſued according to the Statute, ſhall be no diſcontinuance of ſuch Writ: But three Juſtices of the Common-Pleas, and Barons of the Exchequer, may receive Writs of Error, and award Proceſs according to the Statute, &c.

WHereas by an Eſtatute made in the one and thirtieth year of the reign of King Edward the third, it is enacted, That upon complaint concerning Error made in the Exchequer touching the King or other perſons, the Lord Chancellor, and Lord Treaſurer ſhall do to come before them in any Chamber of Councel nigh to the Exchequer, the Record and Pro-

ſhall

ces of the Exchequer, and taking to them ſuch Juſtices and other ſage perſons as to them ſhall be thought meet, ſhall hear and determine ſuch errors, as by the ſaid Eſtatute more at large appeareth: And whereas thoſe two being great Officers of the Realm, are imployed not only in their ſeveral offices and places of Juſtice elſewhere, but alſo for the other weighty affairs of the Realm, in Councell attendant on the Queens Majeſties perſon, and otherwiſe, they be many times upon ſudden warning called away in ſuch wiſe, as they both many times, and ſometimes neither of them can be preſent in the Exchequer at their day of Adjournment in ſuch ſuit of Error: And then by not coming of them at the day of Adjournment, every ſuch writ of errour depending, is by the Laws of the Realm diſcontinued, and the party cannot proceed, but muſt begin his ſuit of new, to the great loſſe of the party, and hinderance of Juſtice, For remedy whereof, Be it ordeined and Enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That the not coming of the Lord Chancellor and Lord Treaſurer, or either of them, at the day of Adjournment in any ſuch ſuit of error depending by vertue of the ſaid former Eſtatute, ſhall not be any diſcontinuance of any ſuch Writ of Error. But if both the Chief Juſtices of either Bench, or any one of the ſaid great Officers, the Lord Chancellor, or Lord Treaſurer, ſhall come to the Exchequer-Chamber, and there be preſent at the day of Adjournment in ſuch ſuit of error, it ſhall be no diſcontinuance, but the Suit ſhall proceed in Law to all intents and purpoſes, as if both the Lord Chancellor and Lord Treaſurer had commen and been preſent at the day and place of Adjournment.

The not coming of the Lord Chancellor, or L. Treaſurer, at the day of adjournment, in a Writ of Error, doth not diſcontinue the ſuit.

Provided always, That no Judgment ſhall be given in any ſuch Suit or Writ of Error, unleſſe both the Lord Chancellor and the Lord Treaſurer be preſent thereat.

There ſhall be no Judgment unleſs both the L. be preſent.

A rehearſal of the ſtat. of 27 El. 8. touching reverſing of erroneous Judgments given in the Kings-Bench.

And whereas in the Parliament holden in the ſeven and twentieth year of the reign of our moſt gracious Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty, one Act or Statute was made, entituled, An Act for redreſſing of erroneous Judgments in the Court commonly called the Kings-Bench: By which, it is amongſt other things Enacted, That where any Judgment ſhall at any time, then after be given in the ſaid Court of Kings-Bench, in any ſuit or action of debt, detinue, covenant, accompt, action upon the caſe, Ejectione firme, or treſpaſſe firſt commenced, or to be firſt commenced there, other then ſuch only where the Queens Majeſty ſhall be party: The party Plaintiff or Defendant, againſt whom any ſuch Judgment ſhall be given, may at his election ſue forth out of the Court of Chancery a ſpecial Writ of Error, to be deviſed in the ſaid Court of Chancery, directed to the Chief Juſtice of the ſaid Court of Kings-Bench for the time being, commanding him to cauſe the ſaid Record, and all things concerning the ſaid Judgment to be brought before the Juſtices of the Common-Bench, and the Barons of the Exchequer, into the Exchequer-Chamber, there to be examined by the ſaid Juſtices of the Common-Bench, and Barons aforeſaid. Which ſaid Juſtices of the Common-Bench, and ſuch Barons of the Exchequer as are of the degree of the Coyfe, or ſix of them at the leaſt, by vertue of the ſame Act, ſhall thereupon have full power and authority to examine all ſuch errors as ſhall be aſſigned or found in or upon any ſuch Judgment, and thereupon to reverſe or affirm the ſaid Judgment as the Law ſhall require, other then for errors to be aſſigned or found, for or concerning the juriſdiction of the ſaid Court of Kings-Bench, or for any want of form in any writ, return, plaint, bill, declaration, or other pleading, proceſſe, verdict or proceeding whatſoever.

Foraſmuch as it doth many times fall out, that the full number of the ſaid Juſtices of the Common Bench, and Barons of the Exchequer ſo authorized by the ſaid ſtatutes, ſometimes for want of health, ſometimes through other weighty ſervices, and earneſt occaſions cannot be preſent at the dayes and times of the returns and continuances of the ſame Writs of error: And by reaſon of their abſence and not coming, the ſaid Writs of error are diſcontinued, Juſtice delayed, and the parties to begin new Suit, to their great charges and prejudice: For remedy thereof, be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that from henceforth, if the full number of the Juſtices and Barons authorized by the ſaid Act, come not at the day or time of return, or continuance of any ſuch writ of error, That it ſhall be lawful for any three of the ſaid Juſtices and Barons, at every of the ſaid days and times, to receive writs of error, to award proceſſe thereupon, to make and prefix dayes from time to time, of and for the continuance of all ſuch writs of error as ſhall be there returned, certified, or depending. And that the ſame ſhall be to theſe reſpects as good and available, as if all the Juſtices and Barons authorized by the ſame Act, were preſent. And that the Juſtices and Barons authorized by the ſaid ſtatute, may after that lawfully proceed in all thoſe caſes, in ſuch ſort to all intents, as they may do in other caſes mentioned in the ſaid ſtatute any not coming of any the ſaid Juſtices or Barons notwithſtanding.

Three Juſtices and Barons may receive writs of Error, and award Proceſſe.

Provided nevertheleſſe, that no Judgment ſhall be given in any ſuch ſuit of error, unleſſe it be by ſuch full number of the ſaid Juſtices and Barons, as are in that behalf authorized and appointed by the ſaid Act.

Judgment ſhall not be given but by ſix Juſtices, &c.

Provided alſo, and be it neverthelesſe enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that the party Plaintiff or Defendant, againſt whom any ſuch Judgment hath been heretofore or hereafter ſhall be given in the ſaid Court of Kings Bench, may at his election ſue in the high Court of Parliament, for the reverſal of any ſuch Judgment as heretofore hath been uſual or accuſtomed: Any thing in this ſtatute, or in the ſaid former Act, to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding. Stat. 16 Car. 2. ca. 2.

Erroneous Judgment may be reverſed in Parliament.

CAP. II.

A Fine levied in the Common Pleas, ſhall be proclaimed four times, viz. every term once, of four Terms.

4 H. 7. 24.
1 R. 3. 7.
Co. Inſt, 2 part, 519.

Whereas the ſtatute made in the fourth year of King Henry the ſeventh hath ordained, That every Fine to be levied with proclamations in the Kings Court, afore his Juſtices of the Common Pleas, ſhould be proclaimed in the ſame Court that Term in which it is engroſſed, and in three Terms then next following, at four ſeveral dayes in every term:

By reaſon whereof they ought to be proclaimed four times in every of the four ſeveral Terms. And that during the time of proclamation of ſuch Fines all Pleas ſhould ceaſe: which to do according to the ſaid ſtatute (conſidering the multitudes of Fines now uſually levyed) would require ſixteen dayes in every Term: And by reaſon of the many Cauſes and Suits in that Court, is a far greater trouble then heretofore hath been, ſo as ſcarcely one day in every Term can be ſpared for the proclaiming of Fines: Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, that all Fines with Proclamations, from and after the Feaſt of Eaſter next enſuing to be levied in the ſaid Court, ſhall be proclaimed four times; that is to ſay, once in the Term wherein it is engroſſed, and once in every of the three Terms holden next after the ſame engroſſing. And that every Fine proclaimed as aforeſaid ſhall be of as great force and effect in Law to all intents aud purpoſes, as if the ſame had been ſixteen times proclaimed, according to the ſtatutes heretofore made.

A Fine levied in the Common Pleas ſhall be proclaimed only every Term once of four Terms.

CAP. III.

Three Proclamations ſhall be made in every Action perſonal, wherein any Writ of Exigent ſhall be awarded, &c.

FOr the avoiding of ſecret Outlawries in actions perſonal againſt the Queens Subjects: having known places of their dwellings, by reaſon that Proclamations are made in the County Courts, and in Quarter Seſſions, which are places remote from their dwellings, aad thereby they have not any convenient notice of ſuch Suits againſt them: Be it enacted and ordained by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That in every action perſonal, wherein any writ of Exigent ſhall be awarded out of any Court, in or after the Term of Eaſter next coming, one writ of proclamation ſhall be awarded and made out of the ſame Court, having day of Teſte and return, as the ſaid writ of Exigent ſhall have, directed and delivered of record to the Sheriff of the County where the Defendant at the time of the Exigent ſo awarded, ſhall be dwelling, which writ of proclamation ſhall contain the effect of the ſame Action. And that the Sheriff of the County unto whom any ſuch writ of proclamation ſhall be directed, ſhall make three proclamations in this form following, and not otherwiſe: that is to ſay, one of the ſame proclamations in the open County Court and one other of the ſame proclamations to be made at the general quarter Seſſions of the Peace in thoſe parts where the party Defendant, at the time of the Exigent awarded ſhall be dwelling, and one other of the ſame proclamations to be made one month at the leaſt before the quint. exact. by vertue of the ſaid writ of Exigent, at or near to the moſt uſual door of the [a] Church or Chappel of that Town of Pariſh where the Defendant ſhall be dwelling at the time of the ſaid Exigent ſo awarded: and if the Defendant ſhall be dwelling out of any Pariſh, then in ſuch place as aforeſaid of the Pariſh, in the ſame County, and next adjoyning to the place of the Defendants dwelling, and upon a Sunday immediately after Divine Service and Sermon, if any Sermon there be; and if no Sermon there be, then forthwith after Divine Service. And that all Outlawries had and pronounced after the end of the next Eaſter Term, and no writs of proclamations awarded and returned, according to the form of this ſtatute, ſhall be utterly void and of none effect: and that the Officer in whoſe Office ſuch writs of Exigent and proclamation ſhall be made, ſhall and may take ſuch fees as by the ſtatute made in the ſixth year of the reign of the late King of famous memory, King Henry the eight, is limited and appointed in that behalf, and no greater fees in any wiſe: and that the Sheriff for making of the proclamation at or near to the Church or Chappel door as is aforeſaid, ſhall have twelve pence.

[a] Cro. El. 371.

How many proclamations ſhall be made in a perſonal action where an Exigent ſhall be awarded, and where not.

The Officers fee for the making of the writ of proclamation by the ſtat. of 6 H. 8. 4.

The Sheriffs fee for the making of the proclamation at the Church door.

And for the avoiding of ſecret ſummons in all real actions, without convenient notice of the Tenants of the freehold, Be it alſo ordained and enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That after every ſummons upon the Land in any real action, fourteen dayes at the leaſt before the day of the return thereof, Proclamation of the ſummons ſhall be made on a Sunday in form aforeſaid, at, or near to the moſt uſual door of the Churches or Chappel of that Town or Pariſh where the Land, whereupon the ſummons was made, doth lye, and that Proclamation ſo made, as aforeſaid, ſhall be returned, together with the names of the ſummoners: and if ſuch ſummons ſhall not be proclaimed and returned, according to the tenour and meaning of this Act, then no Grand Cape to be awarded, but an Alias and Pluries ſummons, as the cauſe ſhall require, until a ſummons and proclamation ſhall be duly made and returned, according to the tenour and meaning of this Act.

A proclamation ſhall be of the ſummons in a real action at the Church door.

And be it further enacted, That before any allowance of any writ of Error, or reverſing of any Outlawry, be had by Plea, or otherwiſe, through or by want of any Proclamation to be had or made, according to the form of this ſtatute, after the end of Eaſter Term next: the Defendant and Defendants in the original action ſhall put in bail, not only to appear and anſwer to the Plaintiff in the former Suit in a new action, to be commenced by the ſaid Plaintiff for the cauſe mentioned in the firſt action, but alſo to ſatisfie the condemnation, if the Plaintiff ſhall begin his Suit before the end of two Terms next after the allowing the writ of Error, or otherwiſe avoyding of the ſaid Outlawry.

The Defendant upon a Writ of Error ſued ſhall be bound to anſwer the plaintiff, and to ſatisfie the condemnation.

CAP. IV.

Imbezelling the Queens Ordnance, Armour or Victuals, to the value of twenty ſhillings, provided for Souldiers, ſhall be felony.

BE it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That if any perſon or perſons, having at any time hereafter the charge or cuſtody of any Armour, Ordnance, Munition, Shot, Powder or habiliments of War, of the Queens Majeſties, her Heirs or Succeſſors or of any Victuals provided for the victualling of any Souldiers, Gunners, Mariners, or Pioneres, ſhall for any lucre, gain, wittingly, adviſedly, and of purpoſe, to hinder or impeach her Majeſties ſervice, imbezel, purloyn, or convey away any the ſame Armour, Ordnance,

It ſhall be felony to imbezel the Queens Ordnance, Armour or Victual to the value of xx s. provided for Souldiers.

Ordnance, Munition, Shot or Powder, habiliments of War, or Victuals, to the value of twenty ſhillings, at one or ſeveral times: that then every ſuch offence ſhall be judged felony, and the offendor and offendors therein to be tryed, proceeded on, and ſuffer as in caſe of felony.

Within what time the offendors ſhall be impeached.

No corruption of blood, nor loſs or forfeit the inheritance of lands or dower of this felony.

The defendant may bring proof for his diſcharge.

Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That none ſhall be impeached for any offence againſt this Statute unleſſe the ſame impeachment be proſecuted or begun within the year next after the offence done. And that this Act nor any thing therein contained, nor any attainder or attainders of any perſon or perſons, for any offence made felony by this Act ſhall in any wiſe extend or be adjudged, interpreted or expounded, to make the offendor or offendors to forfeit or loſe any Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments any longer then only during his or their life or lives, or to make any corruption of blood to any the Heir or Heirs of any ſuch offendor or offendors, or to make the wife of any ſuch offendor to loſe or forfeit her dower, or title of dower, of or in any Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, or her action or intereſt to the ſame. Any thing in this Act contained, or any attainder or attainders hereafter to be had for any the offence made felony by this Act to the contrary, notwithſtanding. And that ſuch perſon and perſons as ſhall be impeached for any offence made felony by this eſtatute, ſhall by vertue of this Act be received and admitted to make any lawful proof that he can, by lawful witneſſe or otherwiſe, for his diſcharge and defence in that behalf: any Law to the contrary notwithſtanding.

CAP. V.

None reſtrained by order of any of the Queens Courts, may be an Informer: In-information upon penal ſtatutes, the County where the offence was done, muſt be expreſſed, &c.

Many be diſquieted by common Informers.

Informers reſtrained to ſue by order of ſome Court.

FOr that divers of the Queens Majeſties ſubjects be daily unjuſtly vexed and diſquieted by divers common Informers upon penal ſtatutes notwithſtanding any former ſtatute that hath been heretofore made againſt their diſorders: For remedy whereof Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament that all former ſtatutes made for reformation of diſorders of ſuch common Informers not repealed or altered by this Act, ſhall be put in due execution. And that no perſon, other then the party grieved, after twenty dayes after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall be received to inform or ſue upon any penal ſtatute that before that time hath been for any miſdeameanour, by any order of any the Queens Majeſties Courts, ordered not to follow or purſue any ſuit upon any penal ſtatute.

The County ſhall be expreſſed where the offence was done.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that in any Declaration or Information at any time after twenty dayes after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament to be had, brought, ſued or exhibited, the offence againſt any penal ſtatute ſhall not be laid to be done in any other County, but where the contract, or other matter alledged to be the offence, was in truth done. And that every defendant, in ſuch action or information, ſhall and lawfully may traverſe and alledge, that the offence ſuppoſed by the ſame ſuit to be committed, was not committed in the County where ſuch offence is alledged, Which being tryed for the defendant, or if the plaintiff be thereupon Nonſuit in his information or ſuit, that then the Plaintiff ſhall be barred in that action or information: Any law or uſe to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Cro. El. 645. 736. Cro Jac. 85. 178.

Officers of Record ſhall not be bound by this Act.

Provided always, that this Act, nor any thing herein contained, ſhall in any wiſe extend to any ſuch Officers of Record, as have in reſpect of their Offices heretofore lawfully uſed to exhibit informations, or ſue upon penal Laws, But that they and every of them may inform and purſue in that behalf, as they might have done before the making of this Act: Any thing in this Act to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Certain offences whereof information may be given in any County

And provided alſo, That this Act, nor any thing herein contained, ſhall extend to the laying or alledging of any offence in any declaration or information, for or concerning any Champerty, buying of Titles, or Extortion or any offence committed, or to be committed againſt the ſtatute made in the firſt year of the Queens Majeſties reign, entituled, An Act limiting the times for laying on land Merchandize from beyond the Seas, and touching Cuſtoms of ſweet Wines: And one other Act made in the ſaid firſt year of her Majeſties reign, entituled, An Act of a Subſidy of Tonnage and Poundage, or any thing in any of them contained or for the concealing or defrauding the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors of any Cuſtom, Tonnage, Poundage, Subſidy, Impoſt, or Priſage, or for any matter of corrupt Uſury, or for any offence comprized in any ſtatute made againſt engroſſing, regrating or foreſtalling, where the penalty or forfeiture ſhall appear to be to the value of twenty pounds or above: But that every ſuch offence ſhall or may be laid in any County, at the pleaſure of any ſuch Informer: Any thing in this Act to the contrary, notwithſtanding.

Within what times ſuits upon penal ſtatutes ſhall be purſued.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all actions, ſuits, bills, indictments or informations, which after twenty days next after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament ſhall be had, brought, ſued, or exhibited, for any forfeiture upon any ſtatute penal, made, or to be made, whereby the forfeitures is or ſhall be limited to the Queen, her Heirs or Succeſſors only ſhall be had, brought, ſued or exhibited, within two years after the offence committed or to be committed againſt ſuch Act penal, and not after two years. And that all actions, ſuits, bils, or informations, which after the ſaid twenty dayes ſhall be had, brought, ſued or commenced, for any forfeiture upon any penal ſtatute made, or to be made, except the ſtatutes of Tillage, the benefit and ſuit whereof is or ſhall be by the ſaid ſtatute limited to the Queen, her Heirs or Succeſſors, and to any other which ſhall proſecute in that behalf, ſhall be had, brought, ſued or commenced by any perſon that may lawfully purſue for the ſame, as aforeſaid, within one year next after the offence committed, or to be committed againſt the ſaid ſtatute; and in default of ſuch purſuit, that then the ſame ſhall be had, ſued, exhibited or brought for the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs or Succeſſors, at any time within two years after that year ended. And if any action, ſuit, bill, indict-

CAP. VI.

Penalties for taking reward for election of Schollers, &c. and for preſentation of Benefices.

Whereas by the intent of the Founders of Colledges, Churches Collegiate, Churches Cathedral, Schools, Hoſpitals, Halls, and other like Societies within this Realm, and by the ſtatutes and good orders of the ſame, the elections, preſentations and nominations of Fellows, Schollers, Officers and other perſons to have room or place in the ſame, are to be had and made of the fitteſt and moſt meet perſons, being capable of the ſame elections, preſentations, and nominations freely, without any reward, gift, or thing given or taken for the ſame: And for true performance whereof ſome electors, preſentors, and nominators in the ſame, have or ſhould take a corporal Oath to make their elections, and nomination accordingly: yet notwithſtanding it is ſeen and found by experience, that the ſaid elections, preſentations, and nominations be many times wrought and brought to paſſe with money, gifts and rewards, whereby the fitteſt perſons to be elected, preſented or nominated wanting money or friends, are ſeldom or not at all preferred, contrary to the good meaning of the ſaid Founders, and the ſaid good ſtatutes and ordinances of the ſaid Colledges, Churches, Schools, Halls, Hoſpitals and Societies, and to the great prejudice of learning and the Common wealth and eſtate of the Realm.

Cro. El. 645. 716. Cro. Jac. 83. 378.

Elections, preſentations, &c. in Colledges, &c. wrought contrary to the intent of the Founders.

For remedy whereof, be it enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame,, That if any perſon or perſons, bodies politick or corporate, which have election, preſentation, or nomination, or voice, or aſſent in the choice, election, preſentation or nomination of any Fellow, Scholler, or any other perſon, to have room or place in any of the ſaid Churches, Colledges, Schools, Hoſpitals, Halls or Societies, ſhall at any time after forty dayes next after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, have, receive or take any mony, fee, reward, or any other profit directly or indirectly, or ſhall take any promiſe, agreement, covenant, bond or other aſſurance to receive or have any mony, fee, reward, or any other profit, directly or indirectly, either to him or themſelves, or any other of their, or any of their friends for his or their voyce or voyces, aſſent or aſſents, or conſents in electing, chuſing, preſenting or nominating any Officer, Fellow, Scholler, or other perſon to have any room or place in any the ſaid Churches, Colledges, Schools, Halls, Hoſpitals or Societies: that then and from thenceforth the place, room, or office which ſuch perſon ſo offending ſhall then have in any the ſaid Churches, Colledges, Schools, Halls, Hoſpitals or Societies, ſhall be void. And that then as well the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and every other perſon and perſons, or their Heirs and Succeſſors, to whom the preſentation, donation, gift, election or diſpoſition ſhall of right belong or appertain of any ſuch of the ſaid rooms or places of the ſaid perſon offending as aforeſaid, ſhall or may at their pleaſure elect, preſent, nominate, place or appoint any other perſon or perſons in the room, office, or place of ſuch perſon or perſons ſo offending, as if the ſaid perſon or perſons ſo offending then were naturally dead.

The forfeiture of him which taketh reward for his voice in electing a Fellow, Scholler, &c. into a Colledg, &c.

And be it further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any Fellow, Officer or Scholler of any the ſaid Churches, Colledges, Schools, Halls, Hoſpitals or Societies, or other perſons having room or place in any of the ſame, ſhall at any time hereafter directly or indirectly take or receive, or by any way, device or means contract to agree, or have, or receive any money, reward or profit whatſoever, for the leaving or reſigning up of the ſame his room or place, for any other to be placed in the ſame: that then every perſon ſo taking or contracting, or agreeing to take or have any thing for the ſame, ſhall forfeit and loſe double the ſum of money, or value of the thing ſo received and taken, or agreed to be received and taken: And every perſon by whom, or for whom any money, gift or reward as aforeſaid, ſhall be given or agreed to be paid, ſhall be uncapable of that place or room for that time or turn, and ſhall not be, nor had, nor taken to be a lawful Fellow, Scholler or Officer of any of the Churches, Colledges, Halls, Hoſpitals, Schools or Societies, or to have ſuch room or place there:

The penalty for giving or taking of money for reſigning a place in a Colledge, Society, &c.

Cro. Jac. 603.

there: but that they to whom it ſhall appertain at any time hereafter, ſhall and may elect, chuſe, preſent and nominate any other perſon fit to be elected, preſented and nominated into the ſaid room or Fellowſhip, as if the ſaid perſon, by or for whom any ſuch money, gift or reward ſhall be given or agreed to be paid, were dead, or had reſigned and left the ſame. And for more ſincere election, choyce, preſentation and nomination of Fellows, Scholiers, Officers, and other perſons, to have room or place hereafter in any of the ſaid Churches, Colledges, Halls, Schools, Hoſpitals, and other the like Societies:

At every election this ſtatute, and the ſtatutes of the houſe ſhall be read.

Who ſhall have the forfeitures, and by what means.

Be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That at the time of every ſuch election, preſentation or nomination hereafter to be had, as well this preſent Act, as the orders and ſtatutes of the ſame places, concerning ſuch election, preſentation, or nomination to be had, ſhall then and there be publickly read, upon pain that every perſon, in whom default thereof ſhall be, ſhall forfeit and loſe the ſum of forty pounds. All which forfeitures ſhall and may be had and recovered in any her Majeſties Courts of Record, by any perſon or perſons, bodies politick and corporate, that will ſue for the ſame by Bill, Plaint, or Action of Debt, in which no Eſſoyn, Protection or Wager of Law ſhall be allowed. The one moiety whereof ſhall be to him or them that will ſue for the ſame; the other moiety to the uſe of the ſaid Church, Colledg, Hall, Hoſpital, School or Society where ſuch offence ſhall be committed. And for the avoiding of Simony and corruption in preſentations, collations and donations, of and to Benefices, Dignities, Prebends and other Livings and Promotions Eccleſiaſtical, and in admiſſions, inſtitutions and inductions to the ſame:

The penalty for preſenting to a Benefice, or for being preſented for reward. Coke pla f.516. Co. l.12. 101.

Be it further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons, bodies politick and corporate, ſhall or do at any time after the end of forty dayes, next after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, for any ſum of money, reward, gift, profit or benefit, directly or indirectly, or for, or by reaſon of any promiſe, agreement, grant, bond, covenant, or other aſſurance, of, or for any ſum of money, reward, gift, profit or benefit whatſoever, directly or indirectly, preſent or collate any perſon to any Benefice with cure of ſouls, Dignity, Prebend or Living Eccleſiaſtical, or give or beſtow the ſame, for, or in reſpect of any ſuch corrupt cauſe or conſideration, that then every ſuch preſentation, collation, gift and beſtowing, and every admiſſion, inſtitution, inveſture, and induction thereupon, ſhall be utterly void, fruſtrate, and of none effect in Law. And that it ſhall and may be lawful, to and for the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, to preſent, collate unto, or give or beſtow every ſuch Benefice, Dignity, Prebend and Living Eccleſiaſtical for that one time or turn onely, and that all and every perſon or perſons, bodies politick and corporate, that from thenceforth ſhall give or take any ſuch ſum of money, reward, gift or benefit, directly or indirectly, or that ſhall take or make any ſuch promiſe, grant, bond, covenant or other aſſurance, ſhall forfeit and loſe the double value of one years profit of every ſuch Benefice, Dignity, Prebend, and Living Eccleſiaſtical: and the perſon ſo corruptly taking, procuring, ſeeking or accepting any ſuch Benefice, Dignity, Prebend or Living, ſhall thereupon, and from thenceforth be adjudged a diſabled perſon in Law, to have or enjoy the ſame Benefice, Dignity, Prebend or Living Eccleſiaſtical.

The penalty for preſenting or collating, or for being preſented to a Benefice with cure for reward.

Cro. El 642. Cro. Jac. 385. Cro. Car. 330.

And be it further enacted, That if any perſon ſhall at any time after forty dayes next after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament for any ſum of money, reward, gift, profit or commodity whatſoever, directly or indirectly (other then for uſual and lawful fees) or for, or by reaſon of any promiſe, agreement, grant, covenant, bond, or other aſſurance, of, or for any ſum of money, reward, gift, profit, or benefit whatſoever, directly or indirectly, admit, inſtitute, inſtall, induct, inveſt or place any perſon in, or to any Benefice with cure of ſouls, Dignity, Prebend, or other Living Eccleſiaſtical: that then every ſuch perſon ſo offending, ſhall forfeit and loſe the double value of one years profit of every ſuch Benefice, Dignity, Prebend and Living Eccleſiaſtical. And that thereupon immediately from and after the inveſting, inſtallation or induction thereof had, the ſame Benefice, Dignity, Prebend, and Livings Eccleſiaſtical, ſhall be eftſoons meerly void: And that the Patron, or perſon to whom the advowſon, gift, preſentation, or collation ſhall by vertue of this Act, preſent or collate unto, give and diſpoſe of the ſame Benefice, Dignity, Prebend or Living Eccleſiaſtical, in ſuch ſort, to all intents and purpoſes, as if the party ſo admitted, inſtituted, inſtalled, inveſted, inducted, or placed, had been, or were naturally dead.

No title to confer by lapſe, but after ſix moneths after notice.

Provided alwayes, That no title to confer, or preſent by lapſe, ſhall accrew upon any voydance mentioned in this Act, but after ſix moneths next after notice given of ſuch voydance by the Ordinary to the Patron.

The penalty for corrupt reſigning or exchanging of a Benefice with cure of ſouls.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any Incumbent of any Benefice with cure of ſouls, after the end of the ſaid forty dayes, do, or ſhall corruptly reſign or exchange the ſame, or corruptly take for, or in reſpect of the reſigning or exchanging of the ſame, directly or indirectly, any penſion, ſum of money, or benefit whatſoever: that then as well the giver, as the taker of any ſuch penſion, ſum of money, or other benefit corruptly, ſhall loſe double the value of the ſum ſo given, taken or had; the one moiety as well thereof, as of the forfeiture of double value of one years profit before mentioned, to be to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors; and the other moiety to him or them that will ſue for the ſame, by action of debt, bill or information, in any of her Majeſties Courts of Record, in which no eſſoin, protection or wager of Law or Priviledg ſhall be admitted or allowed.

Penalties inflicted by the Eccleſiaſtical law be not taken away by this ſtatute.

Provided alwayes, That this Act, or any thing herein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe extend to take away or reſtrain any puniſhment, pain or penalty limited, preſcribed or inflicted by the Lawes Eccleſiaſtical, for any the offences before in this Act mentioned, but that the ſame ſhall remain in force, and may be put in due execution, as it might before the making of this Act: this Act, or any thing therein contained to the contrary thereof, in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Provided further, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons whatſoever, ſhall or do at any time after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, receive or take any money, fee, reward, or any other profit, directly or indirectly, or ſhall take any promiſe, agreement, covenant, bond, or other aſſurance, to receive any money, fee, reward or any other profit directly or indirectly, either to him or themſelves, or to any other of their or any of their friends (all ordinary and lawful fees only excepted) for, or to procure the ordaining or making of any Miniſter or Miniſters, or giving of any orders, or licence or licences to preach: that then every perſon and perſons ſo offending, ſhall for every ſuch offence forfeit and loſe the ſum of forty pounds of lawful money of England: and the party ſo corruptly ordained or made Miniſter, or taking Orders, ſhall forfeit and loſe the ſum of ten pounds. And if at any time within ſeven years next after ſuch corrupt entring into the Miniſtery, or receiving of Orders, he ſhall accept or take any Benefice, Living or promotion Eccleſiaſtical, that then immediately from and after the induction, inveſting, or inſtallation thereof, or thereinto had, the ſame Benefice, Living, and Promotion Eccleſiaſtical, ſhall be eftſoons meerly void, and that the Patron or perſon to whom the advowſon, gift preſentation or collation, ſhall by Law appertain, ſhall and may by vertue of this Act, preſent or collate unto, give and diſpoſe of the ſame Benefice, Living or Promotion Eccleſiaſtical, in ſuch ſort to all intents and purpoſes, as if the party ſo inducted, inveſted or inſtalled had been or were naturally dead: Any law, ordinance, qualification or diſpenſation to the contrary notwithſtanding: The one moiety of all which forfeitures ſhall be to our Soveraign Lady the Queen her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety to him or them that will ſue for the ſame, by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, in any of her Majeſties Courts of Record, in which no eſſoyn, Protection, Priviledg, or Wager of Law, ſhall be admitted or allowed. Coke Inſt. 120. a.

The penalty for giving or taking of rewards to make Miniſters or to give licence to preach.

Who ſhall have the forfeitures, and by what means.

CAP. VII.

Penalty for building a Cottage without four acres of Land to it, and the like for placing or ſuffering Inmates.

Co Inſt. 2. Par. 736.

For the avoiding of the great inconveniences which are found by experience to grow by the erecting and building of great numbers and multitude of Cottages, which are daily more and more encreaſed in many parts of this Realm: Be it enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, no perſon ſhall within this Realm of England, make, build, or erect, or cauſe to be made, builded or erected, any manner of Cottage for habitation or dwelling, nor convert or ordain any building or houſing, made or hereafter to be made, to be uſed as a Cottage for habitation or dwelling, unleſſe the ſame perſon do aſſign and lay to the ſame Cottage or building, four Acres of ground at the leaſt to be accompted according to the Statute or Ordinance de terris menſurandis, being his or her own freehold or inheritance lying near to the ſaid Cottage, to be continually occupied and manured therewith, ſo long as the ſame Cottage ſhall be inhabited, upon pain that every ſuch offendor ſhall forfeit to our Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, x. li. of lawful money of England, for every ſuch offence.

No new Cottage ſhall be erected without four acres of land laid to it. Stat. 34 Ed.

Cro. Jac. 603.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every perſon which after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament ſhall willingly uphold, maintain, and continue any ſuch Cottage hereafter to be erected, converted, or ordained for habitation or dwelling, whereunto four acres of ground as is aforeſaid, ſhall not be aſſigned and laid to be uſed and occupied with the ſame, ſhall forfeit to our ſaid Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, forty ſhillings for every moneth that any ſuch Cottage ſhall be by him or them upholden, maintained and continued.

The forfeiture for continuing of a new Cottage.

Provided alſo, and be it enacted, That from and after the Feaſt of All Saints next coming, there ſhall not be any Inmate, or more families or houſholds then one, dwelling or inhabiting in any one cottage, made, or to be made or erected, upon pain that every owner or occupier of any ſuch Cottage, placing, or willingly ſuffering any ſuch Inmate, or other family then one, ſhall forfeit and loſe to the Lord of the Leet, within which ſuch Cottage ſhall be, the ſum of ten ſhillings of lawful money of England, for every moneth that any ſuch Inmate, or other family then one ſhall dwell or inhabit in any Cottage as aforeſaid. And that all and every Lord and Lords of Leet and Leets and their Stewards within the precinct of his and their Leet and Leets, ſhall have full power and authority within their ſeveral Leets, to enquire and to take preſentment by the Oath of the Jurors of all and every offence and offences, in this behalf, and upon ſuch preſentment had or made, to levy by diſtreſſe to the uſe of the Lord of the Leet, all ſuch ſums of money as ſo ſhall be forfeited: And moreover, that it ſhall be lawful for the Lord of every ſuch Leet where ſuch preſentment ſhall be made, to recover to his own uſe any ſuch forfeiture, by action of debt, in any of the Queens Majeſties Courts of Record, wherein no eſſoyn, protection, or wager of Law ſhall be allowed.

The penalty for receiving of an Inmate. Coke pla. f. 663.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all Juſtices of Aſſiſes, and Juſtices of Peace in their open Seſſions, and every Lord within the precinct of his Leet, and no others, ſhall have full power and authority within their ſeveral limits and juriſdictions, to enquire of, hear and determine all offences contrary to this preſent Act, as well by indictments, as otherwiſe by preſentment or information, and to award execution for the levying of the ſeveral forfeitures aforeſaid, by Fieri facias, Elegit, Capias, or otherwiſe, as the cauſe ſhall require.

Who may hear and determine the offences aforeſaid, and by what means.

Provided alwayes, That this Statute, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe be extended to any Cottage which ſhall be ordained or erected to, or for habitation or dwelling in any City, Town corporate, or ancient Borough or Market Town within the Cottages in Cities or Market Towns, or for workmen in mineral works, Quarries, &c.

Realm, nor to any Cottages or Buildings, which ſhall be erected, ordained, or converted to, and for the neceſſary and convenient habitation or dwelling of any workmen or labourers in any mineral works, cole-mines, quarries or delfs of ſtone, or ſlate, or in or about the making of brick, tyle, lime, or coales within this Realm: So as the ſame Cottages or Buildings be not above one mile diſtant from the place of the ſame mineral, or other works, and ſhall be uſed only for the habitation and dwelling of the ſaid workmen, nor ſhall in any ſort prejudice, charge or impeach any perſon or perſons for the erecting, maintaining, or continuing of any ſuch Cottages, as are before in this proviſo mentioned and ſpecified.

Certain Cottages to which this Statute ſhall not extend.

Provided alwayes, That this Act ſhall not extend to any Cottage to be made within a mile of the Sea, or upon the ſide of ſuch part of any navigable River where the Admiral ought to have juriſdiction, ſo long as no other perſon ſhall therein inhabit, but a Sayler, or man of manual occupation to, or for making, furniſhing, or victualling of any Ship or Veſſel uſed to ſerve on the Sea, nor to any Cottage to be made in any Foreſt, Chaſe, Warren or Park, ſo long as no other perſon ſhall therein inhabit, but an under-keeper or warrener, for the good keeping of the Deer, or other game or warren, nor to any Cottage heretofore made, ſo long as no other perſon ſhall therein inhabit, but a common herd-man or ſhepheard, for keeping the cattel or ſheep of the Town, or a poor, lame, ſick, aged or impotent perſon, nor to any cottage to be made, which for any juſt reſpect upon complaint to the Juſtice of Aſſiſe at the Aſſiſes, or to the Juſtices of Peace at the Quarter-Seſſions, ſhall by their order entred in open Aſſiſes or quarter-Seſſions, be decreed to continue for habitation, for and during ſo long time only, as by ſuch decree ſhall be tolerated and limited. Stat. 35 Eliz. 6. 43 Eliz. 2.

CAP. VIII.

Veſſels brought from beyond Sea for Beer or Ale into London, or within two miles compaſſe, ſhall be gawged, and what ſhall be taken for gawging of them.

Veſſels brought from beyond the Sea for Ale and Beer in London, ſhall be gawged.

WHere Beer and Ale are now very commonly uttered, ſold and put to ſale by the Beer-Brewers and Ale-Brewers, as well within the City of London, as elſewhere within the Realm of England, in Buts, Pipes, Puncheons, Hogſheads, Tierces, and ſuch other Veſſels brought from beyond the Seas, which were never lawfully gawged for that purpoſe within this Realm, to the great loſſe as well of the Queens Highneſſe, as of her Subjects: Be it therefore enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That no Brewer ſhall after the end of forty dayes next after the end of this Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, ſell, utter or put to ſale, any Beer or Ale in ſuch Veſſel or Veſſels, within the City of London, or Suburbs of the ſame, or in any other place or places within two miles compaſſe without the ſame Suburbs, before the ſame ſhall be lawfully gawged, and the true content of every ſuch Veſſel ſet down, upon the ſame by the gallon, appointed and allowed for Beer and Ale, according to that Standard, by the Maſter and Wardens of the art or myſtery of Freemen of the Cowpers of the City of London, or their Deputy or Deputies: nor ſhall (after the time before limited) ſell, utter, or put to ſale any Beer or Ale, in any ſuch Veſſel or Veſſels, in any other place or places within the Realm of England and Wales, before the ſame ſhall be lawfully gawged, and the true content of every ſuch Veſſel ſet down upon the ſame by the gallon aforeſaid, according to the Standard, by ſuch, as by the Statute in that behalf made in the three and twentieth year of the Reign of the late King of famous memory, King Henry the eighth, are to have the gawging of Barrels, Kilderkins and Firkins, made for Beer or Ale to be put in, in ſuch other place or places within the Realm of England and Wales, upon pain to forfeit all and every ſuch Veſſel and Veſſels, wherein any Beer or Ale ſhall be uttered, ſold, or put to ſale, contrary to the true meaning hereof. And alſo all the Beer or Ale, which ſhall be at the time of ſuch uttering, ſelling, or putting to ſale therein contained, to him or them that will ſeize the ſame; and upon pain alſo to forfeit for every ſuch Veſſel wherein Beer or Ale ſhall be ſo uttered, ſold, or put to ſale, ten ſhillings; the one moyety of which forfeitures ſhall be to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moyety to him or them that will ſue for the ſame, by action of Debt, Bill, Plaint, Information, or otherwiſe, wherein no Eſſoine, Protection, Wager of Law or Injunction ſhall be admitted or allowed for the Defendant. And that there ſhall be taken for the gawging of every ſuch Veſſel, within the City of London, and Suburbs of the ſame, and in all and every place and places within two miles compaſſe without the ſame Suburbs, by the Maſter and Wardens of the art or myſtery of Freemen of the Cowpers of the City of London, for every Butt one peny, for every Pipe one peny, for every Puncheon one half-peny, for every Hogſhead one half-penny, for every Tierce one half-peny, and for every other Veſſel which ſhall at any time (after the time before expreſſed) be brought into this Realm, from any the parts beyond the Seas, wherein Beer or Ale ſhall be uttered, ſold, or put to ſale, within the ſaid City or Suburbs, or any other place or places within two miles compaſſe without the ſame Suburbs, after like rates, and no more: and that there ſhall be taken for the gawging of every ſuch Veſſel or Veſſels, in all and every other place and places within the Realm of England and Wales, by ſuch perſon and perſons, as by the ſaid Statute made in the ſaid three and twentieth year of the Reign of King Henry the eight, are appointed for gawging thereof, after ſuch rates as are herein before appointed to be taken, for gawging within the City of London, and Suburbs of the ſame, and in other places within two miles compaſſe without the ſame Suburbs.

Veſſels brought from beyond the Sea to other parts of the Realm. 23 H. 8. 4.

What ſhall be taken for the gawging in London, and elſewhere.

The Veſſels may be retained untill the gawging Mony be paid.

And it is further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act ſhall extend to all and every perſon and perſons, which ſhall uſe or occupy the myſtery of brewing, as well Engliſh born, as Strangers: And that it ſhall be lawful to all and every perſon and perſons, which ſhall have authority by vertue of this Act, to gawge any Veſſel or Veſſels by this Act meant or intended to be gawged, to retain every Veſſel which ſhall be gawged, according to the true meaning of this Act, until the money which ſhall be due for the gawging thereof ſhall be truly ſatisfied and paid.

Provided alwayes, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Maſter and Wardens of Cowpers aforeſaid, or their ſufficient deputy or deputies, within the ſpace of eight and forty hours next after any reaſonable requeſt (to them or any of them made) ſhall come to any Brewer or Brewers houſe, or other place in the ſaid City of London, or Suburbs thereof, or two miles diſtance of the ſame, whereas their Caſks ſhall be, and there with all reaſonable expedition ſhall gawge and mark the ſame Caſks and every of them, upon pain for every default, to forfeit and loſe to the party by or for whom ſuch requeſt as aforeſaid ſhall be made, the ſum of twenty ſhillings of lawful money of England, to be had and recovered by the ſaid party againſt the Corporation of Cowpers aforeſaid, by action of debt, in any of her Majeſties Courts of Record at Weſtminſter, or elſewhere: in which action no eſſoyn, protection or wager of Law ſhall be admitted or allowed.

The Wardens of Cowpers ſhall come to the Brewers houſes to gawge veſſels.

Provided alſo, That if any Scottiſh-man, or any ſtranger ſhall bring from Scotland, or from beyond the Seas, to the ſaid Brewers, or any of them, any manner of foreign Caſk, and ſhall require to have Beer put into the ſame, and will tranſport the ſame Beer from hence, either into Scotland, or over the Seas, there to be drunk: that then in every ſuch caſe, it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the ſaid Brewers, and any of them, to fill all ſuch Caſks with Beer, at ſuch rate and reckoning as he and his Merchant can agree, without having the ſaid Caſks, or any of them, gawged or marked as is aforeſaid, and without incurring any penalty therefore: This Act, or any thing therein contained to the contrary thereof, in any wiſe notwithſtanding. This Act to continue to the end of the next Seſſion of the next Parliament. 3 Car. 4. Continued untill the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

Veſſels which ſhall be filled with Ale or Beer, and tranſported.

CAP. IX.

Writs upon Proclamations and Exigents againſt any perſon dwelling within the County Palatine of Durham, ſhall be directed to the Biſhop of Durham, &c.

Where the Biſhoprick of Durham is, and of long time hath been an ancient County Palatine of it ſelf: in which Biſhoprick the Queens Writ hath not, nor yet doth run, ſo that the Writ of proclamation awarded upon any Exigend, againſt any perſon or perſons inhabiting within the ſame County, in any action wherein proceſſe of Outlawry doth lye, according to the Statute made in the ſixth year of the reign of the late King Henry the eighth, cannot be directed to any Sheriff, or other Officer within the ſaid Biſhoprick, but unto the Sheriff of the County next adjoyning unto the ſaid Biſhoprick, ſo that the party dwelling within the ſaid Biſhoprick, againſt whom any ſuch Exigend and proclamation hath been or ſhall be awarded, hath not had, nor hereafter can have any knowledg of the ſame ſuit or proceſſe: by reaſon whereof, many perſons inhabiting within the ſaid Biſhoprick, without knowledg have been outlawed, and hereafter are like to be outlawed in like manner, to their utter undoings, if ſome ſpeedy remedy be not the ſooner provided.

6 H. 8. 4.

Be it therefore, and for divers other good conſiderations, enacted, ordained and eſtabliſhed by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That whenſoever any Writ of Exigend, at any time after the firſt day of April next coming, ſhall be awarded at the ſuit of our Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, Kings or Queens of this Realm, or at the ſuit or ſuits of any other perſon or perſons, plaintiff or plaintiffs, in any action or ſuit in any of the Courts of our ſaid Soveraign Lady, her Heirs or Succeſſors, Kings and Queens of this Realm, commonly called the Kings-Bench, and the Common-Pleas, againſt any perſon or perſons dwelling within the ſaid Biſhoprick: That then immediately upon the awarding of every ſuch Exigend, the Juſtice or Juſtices before whom any ſuch Writ of Exigend, upon ſuch ſuit or action ſhall be ſued, ſhall have full power and authority by vertue of this Act, to award one Writ of proclamation, according to the tenour and effect of writs of proclamation awarded upon Exigends, and commonly directed out of any of the ſaid Courts into London, or into any other Shires of this Realm, againſt any perſon or perſons dwelling in other Shire or Shires of this Realm, where the Queens Writ doth run according to the order and form of the ſaid Act, made in the ſixth year of the reign of the ſaid late King, to be directed to the Biſhop of Durham for the time being, and during the vacation of the Biſhoprick, then to the Chancellor of the ſaid Biſhoprick or County Palatine for the time being, where it ſhall happen the ſaid defendant againſt whom any ſuch action ſhall be ſued, as is aforeſaid, to be dwelling, and not to the Sheriff of any other Shire next adjoyning to the ſaid Biſhoprick or County Palatine (any Law, Cuſtome or Uſage heretofore uſed to the contrary notwithſtanding.) And that every ſuch Writ of proclamation ſo to be hereafter awarded to ſuch Biſhop or Chancellor of the ſaid Biſhoprick or County Palatine, ſhall have the ſame Teſte and day of return, as the Exigents, whereupon every ſuch Writ of proclamation ſhall be awarded ſhall have: And that every ſuch Biſhop or Chancellor, to whom any of the ſaid Writ or Writs of proclamation ſhall be directed, ſhall by his or their Mandate, directed to the Sheriff of the ſaid County Palatine, cauſe proclamation to be made of the ſame Writs of proclamation, according to the tenour of the ſame, and ſhall make true returns of the ſame in ſuch Court and Courts, and before ſuch Juſtices as the tenour of the ſame Writ and Writs of proclamation ſhall require and demand: And that all Outlawries hereafter to be promulged or pronounced againſt any perſon or perſons, upon any ſuch Exigent or Exigents awarded againſt any perſon or perſons, dwelling within the ſaid Biſhoprick or County Palatine, and no writs of proclamation awarded in form aforeſaid, to the Biſhop or Chancellor aforeſaid, where the party defendant ſhall be, as is aforeſaid dwelling or not returned, as aforeſaid, to be clearly void, and of none effect nor force in the Law.

A Writ of proclamation upon an Exigent againſt any perſon dwelling in the Biſhoprick of Durham.

The Biſhops Mandate to the Sheriff, to make Proclamation.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every Biſhop of the ſaid Biſhoprick for the time being, and during the vacation of the ſaid Biſhoprick, the Chancellor of the ſaid County Palatine for the time being, ſhall have in every of the ſaid Courts of the Kings-

The Biſhop of Durham ſhall have a deputy in the Kings Bench and Common-Pleas. 23 H. 6. 10.

Kings-Bench and Common-pleas, one ſufficient deputy at the leaſt, to receive all ſuch Writs of proclamations which ſhall be hereafter directed to every ſuch Biſhop or Chancellor of the ſaid Biſhoprick or County Palatine, for whom the ſame deputy or deputies ſhall be appointed, in like manner and form, and upon like pains, as by the former Statutes and Lawes of this Realm, the Sheriffs of other Shires or Counties within this Realm of England, be bound to have in either of the ſame Courts, and that all ſuch Writs of proclamation, as aforeſaid, ſhall be delivered unto every ſuch deputy or deputies of Record in the ſame Courts, and either of them, and alſo like fees ſhall be paid for making of every ſuch Writ of proclamation, and for enrolling the ſame of Record, as is limited in the ſame Statute, made in the ſixth year of the ſaid King Henry the eighth.

The forfeiture of the Biſhop or Chancellor that doth not return the proclamation.

And be it further enacted and eſtabliſhed by the authority aforeſaid, That if any ſuch Writ or Writs of proclamation hereafter to be directed to any Biſhop or Chancellor of the ſaid Biſhoprick or County Palatine, be delivered unto any of the ſaid Biſhops for the time being, or during the vacation of the ſaid Biſhoprick to the Chancellor of the ſaid County Palatine for the time being, or to his or their deputy or deputies, in manner and form aforeſaid, the ſame Biſhop for the time being, or during the vacation of the ſaid Biſhoprick, the ſaid Chancellor of the County Palatine, for the time being, do not make true return of every ſuch Writ and Writs of proclamation to them directed into ſuch Court and Courts, out of which the ſaid Writ or Writs of proclamation ſhall be awarded: that for every ſuch default of non-return, every ſuch Biſhop for the time being, and during the vacation of the ſaid See, the ſaid Chancellor for the time being, ſo failing to make due return, ſhall loſe and forfeit five pounds, the one half whereof ſhall be to the Queen, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other half thereof to any ſuch perſon or perſons as will ſue for the ſame, in any Action of debt to be grounded upon this Act in any of the Queens Courts of Record, wherein no eſſoine, protection or wager of Law ſhall be allowed or admitted.

A proviſion for the Biſhop of Durhams other Liberties.

Provided alwayes, That this Act, or any thing herein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe extend, or be prejudicial to any Biſhop of the ſaid Biſhoprick of Durham, for or concerning ſuch liberties, franchiſes or priviledges as belong to the ſame Biſhops, Biſhoprick or See, or to any miniſters or officers of the ſame Biſhoprick or County Palatine, otherwiſe, or in any other manner, then by the true meaning of this Act is before provided or declared: Any thing in this Act mentioned to the contrary notwithſtanding.

To whom writs ſhall be directed againſt any perſon outlawed in the ſaid Biſhoprick.

Provided alſo, That if any perſon or perſons dwelling within the ſaid Biſhoprick or County Palatine, after the foreſaid firſt day of April, ſhall be outlawed in any ſuch ſuit or action as is aforeſaid: That then all Writs of ſpecial Capias Utlagatum, ſingle Capias utlagatum non moleſtandum, and all other proceſſe, for or againſt any perſon or perſons ſo outlawed, ſhall and may from henceforth be directed from time to time to the Biſhop of the ſaid Biſhoprick and County Palatine for the time being, and during the vacation of the ſaid See, to the Chancellor there for the time being, who ſhall make like Writs and proceſſe thereupon, and of like effect, ſealed with the ſeal of their ſaid offices, to be directed to the Sheriff of the ſaid County Palatine for the time being, as heretofore hath been uſed and accuſtomed in ſuch caſes.

One onely Fee ſhall be taken for the Proclamation, Mandate and Execution.

Provided alway, and be it further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That upon any Writ of proclamation to be awarded by vertue of this Act, and the Mandate thereupon to be made to the Sheriff, and the execution thereof, there ſhall be but one only fee taken, received or demanded for the ſame, by the ſaid Biſhop, Chancellor and Sheriff of the ſaid County Palatine for the time being.

29 Eliz. 5. Where in the Parliament now laſt paſt holden at Weſtminſter, an Act was then made, entituled, An Act for the continuance and perfecting of divers ſtatutes, in the end of which Act one proviſo is contained in theſe words following, viz. Provided alwayes, That whereas divers her Majeſties loving Subjects dwelling in the remote places of this Realm, are many times maliciouſly troubled upon informations and ſuits exhibited in the Courts of Kings-Bench, Common-Pleas, and Exchequer, upon penal ſtatutes, and are drawn up upon proceſs out of the Countries where they dwell, and driven to attend and put in bail, to their great troubles and undoings: For reformation whereof, Be it Enacted, That if any perſon or perſons ſhall be ſued or informed againſt upon any penal Law in any the ſaid Courts of the Kings-Bench and Common-Pleas, or Exchequer, where ſuch perſon or perſons are bailable by Law, or where by the law or favour of the Court ſuch perſon or perſons may appear by Atturney, that in all and every ſuch caſe the perſon or perſons ſo to be impleaded or ſued, ſhould and might at the day and time contained in the firſt proceſs ſerved for his appearance, appear by Atturney of the ſame Court where the proceſs is returnable, to anſwer and defend the ſame, and not be urged to perſonal appearance, or to put in bail for the anſwering of ſuch ſuit: Any former law, cuſtome or uſage to the contrary notwithſtanding. Be it now Enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the ſame branch of the ſaid Act ſhall extend, and ſhall be interpreted, expounded and underſtood, to extend only to the natural ſubjects born or to be born within the Dominions of the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and to perſons made free Denizens, and to no others: Any thing therein contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The ſtatute of 28 Ed. 5. touching appearing by Atturney in ſuits upon penal laws, ſhall extend only to natural born Subjects or free Denizens.

CAP. XI.

There ſhall be no reſtitution upon an Indictment of forcible Entry, or with-holding with force, where the Defendant hath been three years in quiet poſſeſſion, and his eſtate not ended.

8 H. 6. 9.

Whereas there is one good Act made and eſtabliſhed in the eighth year of the Reign of King Henry the ſixth, againſt ſuch perſons as ſhould make forcible Entry into Lands, Tenements, and other poſſeſſions, or them ſhould forcibly hold: And one very good proviſo or clauſe in the ſaid Act contained, as enſueth.

Provided alwayes, that they which keep their poſſeſſions with force, in any Lands and Tenements whereof they or their Anceſtors have continued their poſſeſſion in the ſame by three years or more, be not endamaged by force of the ſaid Statute.

The proviſo in the ſtat. of 8 H. 6. 9. touching continuance of poſſeſſions by three years.

And whereas divers of the Queens Majeſties good and loving Subjects, and their Anceſtors, or thoſe whoſe eſtate they have for many years together, above the ſpace of three years or more have been in quiet poſſeſſion of their dwelling-houſes, and other their Lands and Poſſeſſions: And now of late divers of her Majeſties ſaid Subjects having Entries made upon their Poſſeſſions, having had ſuch quiet and long poſſeſſion, for diſturbing of ſuch Entrers, and for keeping of their Poſſeſſion againſt ſuch Entrers, by colour of Indictments of forcible Entry, or forcible keeping Poſſeſſion found againſt them, by means of the Oaths of ſuch Entrers, have been removed and put out of their dwelling-houſes, and other their poſſeſſions, which they have quietly held by the ſpace of three years together, or longer time, next before ſuch Indictments found againſt them, againſt the true meaning and intent of the ſaid Proviſo or Clauſe contained in the ſaid Act. For remedy of which inconvenience, and for true declaration and explanation of the Law therein: Be it ordained, declared, and enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, that no Reſtitution upon any Indictment of forcible Entry, or holding with force, be made to any perſon or perſons, if the perſon or perſons ſo indicted hath had the occupation, or hath been in quiet poſſeſſion by the ſpace of three whole [a] years together, next before the day of ſuch Indictment ſo found, and his, her, or their eſtate or eſtates, therein not ended or determined: which the party indicted ſhall and may alledge for ſtay of reſtitution, and reſtitution to ſtay untill that be tried, if the other will deny or traverſe the ſame. And if the ſame allegation be tried againſt the ſame perſon or perſons ſo indicted, then the ſame perſon or perſons ſo indicted to pay ſuch coſts and damages to the other party, as ſhall be aſſeſſed by the Judges or Juſtices before whom the ſame ſhall be tried, the ſame coſts and damages to be recovered and levied, as is uſual for coſts and damages contained in Judgments upon other Actions. Stat. 5 R. 2. 7. 15 R. 2. 2. 4 H. 4. 8. 8 H, 6. 9. 21 Jac. 15.

No reſtitution ſhall be made if the party indicted hath been three years in quiet poſſeſſion, and his eſtate not ended.

[a] Dyer, fol. 141.

Coſts ſhall be awarded againſt the party indicted, if his ſaid allegation be found againſt him.

CAP. XII.

Sellers of Horſe in Fairs or Markets, muſt be known to the Toll-taker, or ſome other, who will avouch the ſale which ſhall be entred into the Toll-Book, &c.

Co. Inſt. 2. p. 713.

The cauſe of the furthering of ſtealing of horſes. 2 & 3 P. & M. 7.

Whereas through moſt Counties of this Realm, horſe-ſtealing is grown ſo common, as neither in Paſtures or Cloſes, nor hardly in Stables the ſame are to be in ſafety from ſtealing, which enſueth by the ready buying of the ſame by Horſe-courſers and others in ſome open Fairs or Markets far diſtant from the Owner, and with ſuch ſpeed as the Owner cannot by purſuit poſſibly help the ſame: And ſundry good Ordinances have heretofore been made touching the manner of ſelling and tolling of Horſes, Mares, Geldings and Colts in Fairs and Markets, which have not wrought ſo good effect for the repreſſing or avoiding of Horſe-ſtealing, as was expected.

The ſeller of a horſe muſt be known to the Toll-taker, or, &c.

Now for a further remedy in that behalf, Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That no perſon after twenty days next after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall in any Fair or Market, ſell, give, exchange, or put away any Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly, unleſſe the Toll-taker there, or (where no toll is paid) the Book-keeper, Bailiff, or the chief Officer of the ſame Fair or Market, ſhall and will take upon him perfect knowledge of the perſon that ſo ſhall ſell, or offer to ſell, give, or exchange any Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly, and of his true Chriſtian name, ſirname, and place of dwelling or reſiancy, and ſhall enter all the ſame his knowledge in a Book there kept for ſale of Horſes: or elſe, that he ſo ſelling or offering to ſell, give, exchange, or put away any Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly, ſhall bring unto the Toll-taker, or other Officer aforeſaid of the ſame Fair or Market, one ſufficient and credible perſon that can, ſhall or will teſtifie and declare unto, and before ſuch Toll-taker, Book-keeper, or other Officer, that he knoweth the party that ſo ſelleth, giveth, exchangeth, or putteth away ſuch Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly, and his true name, ſirname, myſtery and dwelling place: and there enter, or cauſe to be entred in the Book of the ſaid Toll-taker or Officer, as well the true Chriſtian name, ſirname, myſtery, and place of dwelling or reſiancy of him that ſo ſelleth, giveth, exchangeth, or putteth away ſuch Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly, as of him that ſo ſhall teſtifie or avouch his knowledge of the ſame perſon, and ſhall alſo cauſe to be entred the very true price or value that he ſhall have for the ſame Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly ſo ſold. And that no perſon ſhall take upon him to avouch, teſtifie or declare, that he knoweth the party that ſo ſhall offer to ſell, give, exchange, or put away ſuch Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly, unleſſe he do indeed truly know the ſame party, and ſhall truly declare to the Toll-taker, or other Officer aforeſaid, as well the Chriſtian name, ſirname, myſtery, and place of dwelling and reſiancy of himſelf, as of him, of, and for whom he maketh ſuch teſtimony and avouchment. And that no Toll-taker, or other perſon, keeping any Book of Entry of any ſales of Horſes in Fairs or Markets, ſhall take or receive any toll, or make entry of any ſale, gift, exchange, or putting away of any Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt, or Filly, unleſſe he knoweth the party that ſo ſelleth, giveth, exchangeth or putteth away any ſuch Horſe, Mare, Gelding,

A ſufficient and credible perſon ſhall avouch the horſe-ſeller.

The price of the horſe ſhall be entred into the Tollers Book.

Gelding, Colt or Filly, and his true Chriſtian name, ſirname, myſtery, and place of his dwelling or reſiancy, or the party that ſhall and will teſtifie and avouch his knowledge of the ſame perſon ſo ſelling, giving, exchanging, or putting away ſuch Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly, and his true Chriſtian name, ſirname, myſtery, and place of dwelling or reſiancy, and ſhall make a perfect entry into the ſaid Book of ſuch his knowledge of the perſon, and of the name, ſirname, myſtery, and place of the dwelling, or reſiancy of the ſame perſon, and alſo the true price or value that ſhall be bona fide, taken or had for any ſuch Horſe, Mare, Colt, Gelding or Filly ſo ſold, given, exchanged, or put away, ſo far as he can underſtand the ſame, and then give to the party ſo buying, or taking by gift, exchange, or otherwiſe, ſuch Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly, requiring and paying two pence for the ſame, a true and perfect note in writing of all the full contents of the ſame, ſubſcribed with his hand, on pain that every perſon that ſo ſhall ſell, give, exchange, or put away any Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly, without being known to the Toll-taker, or other Officer aforeſaid, or without bringing ſuch a Voucher or Witneſſe, cauſing the ſame to be entred, as aforeſaid, and every perſon making any untrue teſtimony or avouchment in the behalf aforeſaid, and every Toll-taker, Book-keeper, or other Officer of Fair or Market aforeſaid, offending in the premiſſes contrary to the true meaning aforeſaid, ſhall forfeit for every ſuch default the ſum of five pounds: but alſo that every ſale, gift, exchange, or other putting away of any Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt, Filly, in Fair or Market not uſed in all points according to the true meaning aforeſaid, ſhall be void: the one half of all which forfeitures to be to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other half to him or them that will ſue for the ſame before the Juſtices of Peace, or in any of her Majeſties Ordinary Courts of Record, by Bill, Plaint, Action of Debt or Information, in which no Eſſoine or Protection ſhall be allowed.

A note in writing ſhall be given to the Buyer.

The penalty of the perſon offending in any of the caſes aforeſaid.

Every ſale otherwiſe made ſhall be void.

And be it further enacted, That the Juſtices of Peace of every Place and County, aſwell within Liberties as without, ſhall have authority in their Seſſions within the limits of their authority and commiſſion, to enquire, hear, and determine all Offences againſt this Statute, as they may do any other matter triable before them.

The Juſtices of Peace may hear and de-determine the offences aforeſaid.

And be it further enacted, That if any Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly, after twenty dayes next enſuing the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall be ſtollen, and after ſhall be ſold in open Fair or Market, and the ſame ſale ſhall be uſed in all points and circumſtances, as aforeſaid, that yet nevertheleſſe, the ſale of any ſuch Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly, within ſix moneths next after the felony done, ſhall not take away the property of the Owner from whom the ſame was ſtollen, ſo as claim be made within ſix moneths by the party from whom the ſame was ſtollen, or by his Executors or Adminiſtrators, or by any other by any of their appointment, at, or in the Town or Pariſh where the ſame Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly, ſhall be found, before the Mayor or other head-Officer of the ſame Town or Pariſh, if the ſame Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly, happen to be found in any Town Corporate, or Market Town, or elſe before any Juſtice of Peace of that County near to the place where ſuch Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly ſhall be found, if it be out of a Town Corporate, or Market Town, and ſo as proof be made within forty dayes then next enſuing, by two ſufficient witneſſes to be produced and depoſed before ſuch head-Officer or Juſtice, (who by vertue of this Act, ſhall have authority to miniſter an Oath in that behalf) that the property of the ſame Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly ſo claimed, was in the party, by, or from whom ſuch claim is made, and was ſtollen from him within ſix moneths next before ſuch claim of any ſuch Horſe, Gelding, Mare, Colt, or Filly, but that the party from whom the ſaid Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly was ſtollen, his Executors or Adminiſtrators ſhall and may at all times after notwithſtanding any ſuch ſale or ſales in any Fair or Market thereof made, have property and power to have, take again, and enjoy the ſaid Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly, upon payment or readineſſe, or offer to pay the party that ſhall have the poſſeſſion and intereſt of the ſame Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly, if he will receive and accept it, ſo much money as the ſame party ſhall depoſe and ſwear before ſuch head-Officer or Juſtice of Peace, (who by vertue of this Act ſhall have authority to miniſter and give an Oath in that behalf) that he paid for the ſame bona fide, without fraud or colluſion: any Law, Statute, or other thing to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The Owner may redeem a horſe ſtollen from him within ſix moneths after paying the price.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That after twenty dayes after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, not only all acceſſaries before ſuch felony done, but alſo all acceſſaries after ſuch felony, ſhall be deprived and put from all benefit of their Clergy, as the principal by Statute heretofore made, is, or ought to be.

An acceſſary to a Horſe-ſtealer ſhall not have his Clergy. St. 1 E. 6. 12. 2 & 3 E. 6. 33.

Anno triceſimo quinto Reginæ Elizabethæ

AT the Parliament begun and holden at Weſtminſter, the nineteenth day of February, in the five and thirtieth year of the Reign of our moſt gracious Soveraign Lady, Elizabeth, by the Grace of God, of England, France, and Ireland, Queen, Defender of the Faith, &c. and there continued untill the diſſolution thereof, being the tenth of April. To the high pleaſure of Almighty God, and the weal publick of this Realm, were enacted as followeth.

CAP. I.

Puniſhment of perſons obſtinately refuſing to come to Church, and perſwading others to impugne the Queens authority in Eccleſiaſtical Cauſes, &c.

The penalty of a Recuſant perſwading others to impugne the Queens Eccleſiaſtical Laws.

The penalty for being preſent at unlawful Conventicles for Religion.

FOr the preventing and avoiding of ſuch great inconveniences and perils as might happen and grow by the wicked and dangerous practiſes of ſeditious Sectaries and diſloyal perſons: Be it enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, and by the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That if any perſon or perſons above the age of ſixteen years, which ſhall obſtinately refuſe to repair to ſome Church, Chappel, or uſual place of Common Prayer to hear Divine Service, eſtabliſhed by her Majeſties Laws and Statutes in that behalf made, and ſhall forbear to do the ſame by the ſpace of a moneth next after, without any lawful cauſe, or ſhall at any time after xl. days next after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, by printing, writing, or expreſſe words or ſpeeches adviſedly or purpoſely practiſe, or go about to move or perſwade any of her Majeſties Subjects, or any other within her Highneſſe Realms or Dominions, to deny, withſtand and impugne her Majeſties power and authority in caſes Eccleſiaſtical, united and annexed to the Imperial Crown of this Realm, or to that end or purpoſe ſhall adviſedly and maliciouſly move or perſwade any other perſon whatſoever to forbear or abſtain from coming to Church to hear Divine Service, or to receive the Communion according to her Majeſties Laws and Statutes aforeſaid, or to come to, or to be preſent at any unlawful Aſſemblies, Conventicles or Meetings, under colour or pretence of any exerciſe of Religion, contrary to her Majeſties ſaid Laws and Statutes. Or if any perſon or perſons which ſhall obſtinately refuſe to repair to ſome Church, Chappel, or uſual place of Common Prayer, and ſhall forbear by the ſpace of a moneth to hear Divine Service, as is aforeſaid, ſhall after the ſaid forty dayes, either of him, or themſelves, or by the motion, perſwaſion, inticement or allurement of any other, willingly joyn in, or be preſent at any ſuch Aſſemblies, Conventicles or Meetings, under colour or pretence of any ſuch exerciſe of Religion, contrary to the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, as is aforeſaid, That then every ſuch perſon ſo offending, as aforeſaid, and being thereof lawfully convicted, ſhall be committed to priſon, there to remain without bail or mainprize, until they ſhall conform and yield themſelves to come to ſome Church, Chappel, or uſual place of Common Prayer, and hear Divine Service, according to her Majeſties Laws and Statutes aforeſaid, and to make ſuch open ſubmiſſion and declaration of their ſaid conformity, as hereafter in this Act is declared and appointed.

An Offendor not conforming himſelf, ſhall abjure the Realm.

Provided alwayes, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any ſuch perſon or perſons which ſhall offend againſt this Act, as aforeſaid, ſhall not within three moneths next after they ſhall be convicted for their ſaid offence, conform themſelves to the obedience of the Laws and Statutes of this Realm in coming to the Church to hear Divine Service, and in making ſuch publick confeſſion and ſubmiſſion, as hereafter in this Act is appointed and expreſſed, being thereunto required by the Biſhop of the Dioceſſe, or any Juſtice of the Peace of the County where the ſame perſon ſhall happen to be, or by the Miniſter or Curate of the Pariſh, that in every ſuch caſe, every ſuch Offendor, being thereunto warned or required by any Juſtice of the Peace of the ſame County where ſuch Offendors ſhall then be, ſhall upon his and their corporal Oath before the Juſtices of the Peace in the open Quarter-Seſſions of the ſame County, or at the Aſſiſes and Gaol-delivery of the ſame County, before the Juſtices of the ſame Aſſiſes and Gaol-delivery, abjure this Realm of England, and all other the Queens Dominions for ever, unleſſe her Majeſty ſhall licence the party to return: And thereupon ſhall depart out of this Realm at ſuch Haven or Port, and within ſuch time as ſhall in that behalf be aſſigned and appointed by the ſaid Juſtices, before whom ſuch abjuration ſhall be made, unleſſe the ſame Offendor be letted or ſtayed by ſuch lawful and reaſonable means or cauſes, as by the Common Laws of this Realm are permitted and allowed in caſes of abjuration for felony. And in ſuch caſes of let or ſtay, then within ſuch reaſonable and convenient time after as the Common Law requireth in caſe of abjuration for felony, as is aforeſaid. And that the Juſtices of Peace before whom any ſuch abjuration ſhall happen to be made, as is aforeſaid, ſhall cauſe the ſame preſently to be entred of Record before them, and ſhall certifie the ſame to the Juſtices of Aſſiſes and Gaol-delivery of the County at the next Aſſiſes or Goal-delivery to be holden in the ſame County.

The puniſhment for refuſing to abjure, not departing or returning without licence.

And if any ſuch offendor which by the tenor and intent of this Act is to be abjured, as is aforeſaid, ſhall refuſe to make abjuration, as is aforeſaid, or after ſuch abjuration made, ſhall not go to ſuch Haven, and within ſuch time as is before appointed, and from thence depart out of this Realm, according to this preſent Act, or after ſuch his departure, ſhall return or come again into any her Majeſties Realms or Dominions, without her Majeſties ſpecial licence in that behalf firſt had and obtained, That then in every ſuch caſe the perſon ſo offending, ſhall be adjudged a Felon, and ſhall ſuffer as in caſe of felony, without benefit of Clergy.

An Offendor ſhall be diſcharged upon his open ſubmiſſion.

I A. B. do humbly confeſſe and acknowledge that I have grievouſly offended God, in contemning her Majeſties godly and lawful Government and Authority, by abſenting my ſelf from Church, and from hearing Divine Service, contrary to the godly Laws and Statutes of this Realm, and in uſing and frequenting diſordered and unlawful Conventicles and Aſſemblies, under pretence and colour of exerciſe of Religion. And I am heartily ſorry for the ſame, and do acknowledge and teſtifie in my conſcience, that no other perſon hath, or ought to have any power or authority over her Majeſty. And I do promiſe and proteſt without any diſſimulation, or any colour or means of any diſpenſation, That from henceforth I will from time to time obey and perform her Majeſties Laws and Statutes, in repairing to the Church, and hearing Divine Service, and do my uttermoſt endeavour to maintain and defend the ſame.

The form of the ſubmiſſion.

And that every Miniſter or Curate of every Pariſh where ſuch ſubmiſſion and declaration of conformity ſhall hereafter be ſo made by any ſuch offendor as aforeſaid, ſhall preſently enter the ſame into a Book to be kept in every Pariſh for that purpoſe, and within ten days next following ſhall certifie the ſame in writing to the Biſhop of the ſame Dioceſs.

The Miniſter ſhall enter the ſubmiſſion into a Book.

Provided nevertheleſſe, that if any ſuch Offendor after ſuch ſubmiſſion made, as is aforeſaid, ſhall afterwards fall into relapſe, or eftſoons obſtinately refuſe to repair to ſome Church, Chappel, or uſual place of Common Prayer to hear Divine Service, and ſhall forbear the ſame, as aforeſaid, or ſhall come or be preſent at any ſuch Aſſemblies, Conventicles or Meetings, under colour or pretence of any exerciſe of Religion, contrary to her Majeſties Laws and Statutes: That then every ſuch Offendor ſhall loſe all ſuch benefit as he or ſhe might otherwiſe by vertue of this Act have or enjoy by reaſon of their ſaid ſubmiſſion, and ſhall thereupon ſtand and remain in ſuch plight, condition, and degree to all intents, as though ſuch ſubmiſſion had never been made.

The Offendor ſubmitting falleth into a relapſe.

And for that every perſon, having houſe and family, is in duty bound to have ſpecial regard to the good government and ordering of the ſame: Be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons ſhall at any time hereafter relieve, maintain, retain, or keep in his or their houſe or otherwiſe, any perſon which ſhall obſtinately refuſe to come to ſome Church, Chappel, or uſual place of Common Prayer to hear Divine Service, and ſhall forbear the ſame by the ſpace of a moneth together, contrary to the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, That then every perſon which ſhall ſo relieve, maintain, retain, or keep any ſuch perſon offending as aforeſaid, after notice thereof to him or them given by the Ordinary of the Dioceſs, any Juſtice of Aſſiſes of the Circuit, or any Juſtice of Peace of the County, or the Miniſter, Curate, or Church-wardens of the Pariſh where ſuch perſon ſhall then be, or by any of them, ſhall forfeit to the Queens Majeſty for every perſon ſo relieved, maintained, retained, or kept, after ſuch notice as aforeſaid, x. li. for every moneth that he or they ſhall ſo relieve, maintain, retain, or keep any ſuch perſon ſo offending.

The forfeiture for the keeping a Recuſant in his houſe after notice.
REP. 3 Jac. 4.

Provided nevertheleſſe, that this Act ſhall not in any wiſe extend to puniſh or impeach any perſon or perſons for relieving, maintaining, or keeping his or their wife, father, mother, child or children, wards, brother or ſiſter, or his wives father or mother, not having any certain place of habitation of their own, or the huſbands or wives of any of them: or for relieving, maintaining, or keeping any ſuch perſon as ſhall be committed by authority to the cuſtody of any by whom they ſhall be ſo relieved, maintained or kept: Any thing in this Act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

What ſort of Recuſants may be kept in houſe.

And for the more ſpeedy levying and recovering for and by the Queens Majeſty of all and ſingular the pains, duties, forfeitures and payments which at any time hereafter ſhall accrue, grow, or be payable by vertue of this Act, or of the Statute made in the three and twentieth year of her Majeſties Reign concerning Recuſants: Be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every the ſaid pains, duties, forfeitures, and payments ſhall and may be [a] recovered and levied to her Majeſties uſe by action of debt, bill, plaint, information, or otherwiſe in any of the Courts commonly called the Kings Bench, Common Pleas, or Exchequer, in ſuch ſort, and in all reſpects as by the ordinary courſe of the common Laws of this Realm, any other debt due by any ſuch perſon in any other caſe, ſhould or may be recovered or levied, wherein no Eſſoine, Protection, or Wager of Law ſhall be admitted or allowed.

And this Act to continue no longer than to the end of the next Seſſion of Parliament. 3 Car.4. Cont. 16 Car. 2. cap. 4.

CAP. II.

Penalty of a convicted Popiſh Recuſant removing above five miles from his houſe: Where a Recuſant having no houſe ſhall make his abode.

FOr, the better diſcovering and avoiding of ſuch traiterous and moſt dangerous conſpiracies and attempts as are daily deviſed and practiſed againſt our moſt gracious Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty, and the happy eſtate of this Common weal, by ſundry wicked and ſeditious perſons, who terming themſelves Catholicks, and being (indeed) Spies and Intelligencers not only for her Majeſties foreign Enemies, but alſo for rebellious and traiterous Subjects born within her Highneſſe Realms and Dominions, and hiding their moſt deteſtable and deviliſh purpoſes under a falſe pretext of Religion and Conſcience, do ſecretly wander and ſhift from place to place within this Realm, to corrupt and ſeduce her Majeſties Subjects, and to ſtir them to Sedition and Rebellion.

A convicted Popiſh Recuſant ſhall repair to his houſe, and not remove above five miles.

Be it ordained and enacted by our Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty, and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, that every perſon above the age of ſixteen years, born within any of the Queens Majeſties Realms and Dominions, or made Denizen, being a Popiſh Recuſant, and before the end of this Seſſion of Parliament convicted for not repairing to ſome Church, Chappel, or uſual place of Common Prayer to hear Divine Service there, but forbearing the ſame contrary to the tenor of the Laws and Statutes heretofore made and provided in that behalf, and having any certain place of dwelling and abode within this Realm, ſhall within forty dayes next after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament (if they be within this Realm, and not reſtrained or ſtayed either by impriſonment, or by her Majeſties Commandment, or by order and direction of ſome ſix or more of the privy-Councel, or by ſuch ſickneſſe and infirmity of body, as they ſhall not be able to travel without imminent danger of life, and in ſuch caſes of abſence out of the Realm, reſtraint, or ſtay, then within twenty days next after they ſhall return into the Realm, and be enlarged of ſuch impriſonment or reſtraint, and ſhall be able to travel repair to their place of dwelling where they uſually heretofore made their common abode, and ſhall not at any time after paſs or remove above five miles from thence.

Recuſants which ſhall be convicted hereafter, ſhall repair to their uſual dwelling.

And alſo that every perſon being above the age of ſixteen years, born within any her Majeſties Realms or Dominions, or made Denizen, and having, or which hereafter ſhall have any certain place of dwelling and abode within this Realm, which being then a Popiſh Recuſant, ſhall at any time hereafter be lawfully convicted for not repairing to ſome Church, Chappel, or uſual place of Common Prayer to hear Divine Service there, but forbearing the ſame, contrary to the ſaid Laws and Statutes, and being within this Realm at the time that they ſhall be convicted, ſhall within forty dayes next after the ſame conviction (if they be not reſtrained or ſtayed by impriſonment, or otherwiſe, as is aforeſaid, and in ſuch caſes of reſtraint and ſtay, then within twenty dayes next after they ſhall be inlarged of ſuch impriſonment or reſtraint, and ſhall be able to travel) repair to their place of uſual dwelling and abode, and ſhall not at any time after paſſe or remove above five miles from thence, upon pain that every perſon and perſons that ſhall offend againſt the tenor and intent of this Act in any thing before mentioned, ſhall loſe and forfeit all his and their Goods and Chattels, and ſhall alſo loſe and forfeit to the Queens Majeſty all the Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, and all the Rents and Annuities of every ſuch perſon ſo doing or offending during the life of the ſame Offendor.

Cro. Jac. 352.

The penalty of an offendor.

What a Recuſant ſhall do that hath no place of abode.

And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that every perſon above the age of ſixteen years born within any her Majeſties Realms or Dominions, not having any certain place of dwelling and abode within this Realm, and being a Popiſh Recuſant, not uſually repairing to ſome Church, Chappel, or uſual place of Common Prayer, but forbearing the ſame, contrary to the ſame Laws and Statutes in that behalf made, ſhall within forty days next after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament (if they be then within this Realm, and not impriſoned, reſtrained, or ſtayed as aforeſaid, and in ſuch caſe of abſence out of the Realm, impriſonment, reſtraint or ſtay, then within twenty dayes next after they ſhall return into the Realm, and be inlarged of ſuch impriſonment or reſtraint, and ſhall be able to travel) repair to the place where ſuch perſon was born, or where the Father or Mother of ſuch perſon ſhall then be dwelling, and ſhall not at any time after remove or paſſe above five miles from thence, upon pain that every perſon and perſons which ſhall offend againſt the tenor and intent of this Act in any thing before mentioned, ſhall loſe and forfeit all his and their Goods and Chattels, and ſhall forfeit to the Queens Majeſty, all the Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, and all the Rents and Annuities of every ſuch perſon ſo offending during the life of the ſame perſon..

The forfeiture of a Recuſant removing above five miles from his place of abode.

A Recuſant Copyholder departing five miles from his place of abode

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every ſuch Offendor as is before mentioned, which hath or ſhall have any Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, by copy of Court Roll, or by any other cuſtomary tenure at the will of the Lord, according to the cuſtom of any Manor, ſhall forfeit all and ſingular his and their ſaid Lands, Tenements, and Hereditaments ſo holden by copy of Court Roll, or cuſtomary tenure as aforeſaid, for and during the life of ſuch Offendor (if his or her eſtate ſo long continue) to the Lord or Lords of whom the ſame be immediately holden, (if the ſame Lord or Lords be not then a Popiſh Recuſant, and convicted for not coming to Church to hear Divine Service, but forbearing the ſame, contrary to the Laws and Statutes aforeſaid, nor ſeiſed or poſſeſſed upon truſt to the uſe or behoof of any ſuch Recuſant as aforeſaid) and in ſuch caſe the ſame forfeiture to be to the Queens Majeſty.

Recuſants ſhall notifie their living, and deliver their names to the Curate.

Provided always, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that all ſuch perſons as by the intent and true meaning of this Act, are to make their repair to their place of dwelling and abode, or to the place where they were born, or where their Father or Mother ſhall be dwelling, and not to remove or paſſe above five miles from thence as is aforeſaid, ſhall within twenty dayes next after their coming to any of the ſaid places (as the caſe ſhall happen) notifie their coming thither, and preſent themſelves, and deliver their true names in writing to the Miniſter or Curate of the ſame Pariſh, and to the Conſtable, Headborough, or Tythingman of the Town, and thereupon the ſaid Miniſter or Curate ſhall preſently enter the ſame into a Book to be kept in every Pariſh for that purpoſe.

And after the ſaid Miniſter or Curate, and the ſaid Conſtable, Headborough or Tythingman, ſhall certifie the ſame in writing to the Juſtices of the Peace of the ſame County at the next general or quarter Seſſions to be holden in the ſame County, and the ſaid Juſtices ſhall cauſe the ſame to be entred by the Clerk of the Peace in the Rolls of the ſame Seſſions.

Recuſants names certified to the Juſtices.

And to the end that the Realm be not peſtered and overcharged with the multitude of ſuch ſeditious and dangerous people as is aforeſaid, who having little or no ability to anſwer or ſatisfie any competent penalty for their contempt and diſobedience of the ſaid Laws and Statutes, and being committed to priſon for the ſame, do live for the moſt part in better caſe there, than they could if they were abroad at their own liberty: The Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, do moſt humbly and inſtantly beſeech the Queens Majeſty, that it may be further enacted, That if any ſuch perſon or perſons being a Popiſh Recuſant (not being a Feme Covert, and not having Lands, Tenements, Rents or Annuities, of an abſolute eſtate of Inheritance or Freehold, of the clear yearly value of twenty marks, above all charges, to their own uſe and behoof, and not upon any ſecret truſt or confidence for any other, or Goods and Chattels in their own right, and to their own proper uſe and behoof: And not upon any ſuch ſecret truſt and confidence for any other, above the value of xl. pounds) ſhall not within the time before in this Act in that behalf limited and appointed, repair to their place of uſual dwelling and abode, if they have any, or elſe to the place where they were born, or where their Father or Mother ſhall be dwelling, according to the tenor and intent of this preſent Act: And thereupon notifie their coming, and preſent themſelves, and deliver their true names in writing to the Miniſter or Curate of the Pariſh, and to the Conſtable, Headborough or Tythingman of the Town, within ſuch time, and in ſuch manner and form as is aforeſaid, or at any time after ſuch their repairing to any ſuch place, as is before appointed, ſhall paſs or remove above five miles from the ſame: And ſhall not within three moneths next after ſuch perſon ſhall be apprehended or taken for offending, as is aforeſaid, conform themſelves to the obedience of the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, in coming uſually to the Church to hear Divine Service, and in making ſuch publick confeſſion and ſubmiſſion, as hereafter in this Act is appointed and expreſſed, being thereunto required by the Biſhop of the Dioceſs, or any Juſtice of the Peace of the County where the ſame perſon ſhall happen to be, or by the Miniſter or Curate of the Pariſh: That in every ſuch caſe, every ſuch Offendor being thereunto warned or required by any two Juſtices of the Peace, or Coroner of the ſame County where ſuch Offendor ſhall then be, ſhall upon his or their corporal Oath before any two Juſtices of the Peace, or Coroner of the ſame County, abjure this Realm of England, and all other the Queens Majeſties Dominions for ever: And thereupon ſhall depart out of this Realm at ſuch Haven and Port, and within ſuch time as ſhall in that behalf be aſſigned and appointed by the ſaid Juſtices of Peace or Coroner, before whom ſuch abjuration ſhall be made, unleſſe the ſame Offendors be letted or ſtayed by ſuch lawful and reaſonable means or cauſes, as by the common Laws of this Realm are permitted and allowed in caſes of abjuration for felony. And in ſuch caſes of let or ſtay, then within ſuch reaſonable and convenient time after, as the Common Law requireth in caſe of abjuration for felony, as is aforeſaid.

The penalty of a Recuſant of ſmall ability not repairing to the place appointed, or departing thence.

Recuſants abjuring and departing the Realm.

Entring abjuration of record, and certifying the ſame.

And that every Juſtice of Peace and Coroner, before whom any ſuch abjuration ſhall happen to be made, as is aforeſaid, ſhall cauſe the ſame preſently to be entred of Record before them, and ſhall certifie the ſame to the Juſtices of Aſſiſes or Gaol-delivery of the ſaid County at the next Aſſiſes or Gaol-delivery to be holden in the ſame County.

It ſhall be felony for a Recuſant not to abjure, not going or returning without licence.

And if any ſuch Offendor, which by the tenor and intent of this Act, is to be abjured, as is aforeſaid, ſhall refuſe to make ſuch abjuration, as is aforeſaid, or after ſuch abjuration made, ſhall not go to ſuch Haven, and within ſuch time, as is before appointed, and from thence depart out of this Realm, according to this preſent Act, or after ſuch his departure ſhall return or come again into any her Majeſties Realms or Dominions, without her Majeſties ſpecial licence in that behalf firſt had and obtained, That then in every ſuch caſe, the perſon ſo offending ſhall be adjudged a Felon, and ſhall ſuffer and loſe as in caſe of Felony, without benefit of Clergy.

A Jeſuite or Prieſt refuſing to anſwer, ſhall be impriſoned.

And be it further enacted and ordained by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon which ſhall be ſuſpected to be a Jeſuite, Seminary, or Maſſing Prieſt, being examined by any perſon, having lawful authority in that behalf, to examine ſuch perſon which ſhall be ſuſpected, ſhall refuſe to anſwer directly and truly whether he be a Jeſuite, or a Seminary, or Maſſing Prieſt, as is aforeſaid, every ſuch perſon ſo refuſing to anſwer, ſhall for his diſobedience, and contempt in that behalf, be committed to priſon by ſuch as ſhall examine him, as is aforeſaid, and thereupon ſhall remain and continue in priſon without bail or mainpriſe, untill he ſhall make direct and true anſwer to the ſaid queſtions, whereupon he ſhall ſo be examined.

Licence to travel above five miles. Al. 1. 3 Jac. 5.

Provided nevertheleſs, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any of the perſons which are hereby limited and appointed, to continue and abide within five miles of their uſual dwelling place, or of ſuch place where they were born, or where their Father and Mother ſhall be dwelling, as is aforeſaid, ſhall have neceſſary occaſion or buſineſs to go, and travel out of the compaſs of the ſaid five miles, That then, and in every ſuch caſe, upon licence in that behalf to be gotten under the hands of two of the Juſtices of the Peace of the ſame County, with the privity and aſſent, in writing, of the Biſhop of the Dioceſs, or of the Lieutenant, or of any Deputy-Lieutenant of the ſame County, under their hands, it ſhall and may be lawful for every ſuch perſon to go and travel about ſuch their neceſſary buſineſs, and for ſuch time only for their travelling, attending and returning, as ſhall be compriſed in the ſame licence: Any thing before in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Perſons urged to proceſs or commandment.

Provided alſo, that if any ſuch perſon ſo reſtrained, as is aforeſaid, ſhall be urged by Proceſſe, without fraud or covin, or be bounden without fraud or covin, to make appearance in any of her Majeſties Courts, or ſhall be ſent for, commanded, or required by any three or more of her Majeſties Privy Council, or by any four or more of any Commiſſioners to be in that behalf nominated and aſſigned by her Majeſty, to make appearance before her Majeſties ſaid Council or Commiſſioners, That in every ſuch caſe, every ſuch perſon ſo bounden, urged, commanded, or required to make ſuch appearance, ſhall not incur any pain, forfeiture or loſs, for travelling to make appearance accordingly, nor for his abode concerning the ſame, nor for convenient time for his return back again upon the ſame.

Perſons which are to yield their bodies to the Sheriff.

And be it further provided and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any ſuch perſon or perſons ſo reſtrained, as is aforeſaid, ſhall be bound, or ought to yield and render their bodies to the Sheriff of the County where they ſhall happen to be upon Proclamation in that behalf, without fraud or covin to be made, That then, in every ſuch caſe, every perſon which ſhall be ſo bounden, or ought to yield and render their body, as aforeſaid, ſhall not incur any pain, forfeiture or loſs for travelling for that intent and purpoſe only, without any fraud or covin, nor for convenient time taken for their return back again upon the ſame.

An offendor upon open ſubmiſſion, ſhall be diſcharged.

And furthermore, Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That if any perſon or perſons that ſhall at any time hereafter offend againſt this Act, ſhall before he or they ſhall be thereof convicted, come to ſome Pariſh Church on ſome Sunday or other Feſtival day, and then and there hear Divine Service, and at Service time, before the Sermon or reading of the Goſpel, make publick and open ſubmiſſion and declaration of his and their conformity to her Majeſties Laws and Statutes, as hereafter in this Act is declared and appointed, that then the ſame Offendor ſhall thereupon be clearly diſcharged of and from all and every pains and forfeitures inflicted or impoſed by this Act, or any of the ſaid offences in this Act contained, the ſame ſubmiſſion to be made as hereafter followeth: That is to ſay,

The form of the ſubmiſſion.

I A.B. do humbly confeſſe and acknowledge, that I have grievouſly offended God, in contemning her Majeſties godly and lawful Government and Authority, by abſenting my ſelf from Church, and from hearing Divine Service, contrary to the godly Laws and Statutes of this Realm, and I am heartily ſorry for the ſame, and do acknowledge and teſtifie in my conſcience, that the Biſhop or See of Rome hath not, nor ought to have any power or authority over her Majeſty, or within any her Majeſties Realms or Dominions. And I do promiſe and proteſt without any diſſimulation, or any colour or means of any Diſpenſation, that from henceforth I will from time to time obey and perform her Majeſties Laws and Statutes, in repairing to the Church, and hearing Divine Service, and do my uttermoſt endeavour to maintain and defend the ſame.

The Miniſter ſhall enter the ſubmiſſion.

And that every Miniſter or Curate of every Pariſh where ſuch ſubmiſſion and declaration of conformity ſhall hereafter be ſo made by any ſuch Offendor as aforeſaid, ſhall preſently enter the ſame into a Book to be kept in every Pariſh for that purpoſe, and within ten dayes then next following ſhall certifie the ſame in writing to the Biſhop of the ſame Dioceſs.

A Recuſant ſubmitting, falleth into a relapſe.

Provided nevertheleſſe, that if any ſuch Offendor, after ſuch ſubmiſſion made, as is aforeſaid, ſhall afterward fall into relapſe, or eftſoons become a Recuſant in not repairing to Church to hear Divine Service, but ſhall forbear the ſame, contrary to the Laws and Statutes in that behalf made and provided: that then every ſuch Offendor ſhall loſe all ſuch benefit as he or ſhe might otherwiſe by vertue of this Act have or enjoy, by reaſon of their ſaid ſubmiſſion, and ſhall thereupon ſtand and remaine in ſuch plight, condition, and degree to all intents, as though ſuch ſubmiſſion had never been made.

Women bound, ſaving for abjuration.

Provided alwayes, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every woman married, or hereafter to be married, ſhall be bound by all and every article, branch, and matter contained in this Statute, other than the branch and article of abjuration before mentioned. And that no ſuch woman married, or to be married, during marriage, ſhall be in any wiſe forced, or compelled to abjure, or be abjured by this Act: Any thing therein contained to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding. 23 Eliz. 1. 29 Eliz. 6. 1 Jac. 4. 3 Jac. 4. 5.

CAP. III.

All Abbey-Lands which came to the hands of King Hen. 8. &c. ſhall be adjudged to have been in his actual and lawful poſſeſſion, &c. and all Letters Patents made by him for the foundation of any Dean and Chapter, or Colledge, ſhall be reputed good.

FOraſmuch as divers ambiguities, doubts and queſtions have riſen and been moved, as well touching divers Surrenders, Grants, and Conveyances made and granted by ſundry late Abbots, Priors, and other religious and Eccleſiaſtical perſons, to the late King of famous memory King Henry the eighth, after the fourth day of February, in the ſeven and twentieth year of his Reign, of divers their Honors, Manors, Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, as alſo touching and concerning the validity of the erections of ſuch Deans and Chapters, and ſuch Colledges as were erected, ordained, made or founded by the ſaid late King Henry the eighth, after the ſaid fourth day of February, in the ſaid ſeven and twentieth year of his Reign. And foraſmuch as the ſame doubts and queſtions ſeem not to be ſufficiently remedied or provided for, by the Statute made in the four and thirtieth year of the Reign of the ſaid late King Henry the eighth, entituled, An Act for confirmation of Letters Patents, notwithſtanding miſnaming of any thing contained in the ſame.

34 & 35 H. 8. 21.

Be it therefore declared, explained, and enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, that all and every Honors, Manors, Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, which at any time heretofore were the poſſeſſions of any Abbey, Monaſtery, Priory, Nunnery, or other religious or Eccleſiaſtical houſe or houſes, and which after the ſaid fourth day of February, in the ſaid ſeven and twentieth year of the ſaid late King Henry the eighth, came to the hands or poſſeſſion of the ſaid late King Henry the eighth, or which were put in charge to or for his Highneſſe, in his Court of Exchequer, or any other Courts of the ſaid late King concerning his Majeſties Revenues, or by any Auditor, or other Officer of the ſaid late King, or which after the ſaid fourth day of February, in the ſeven and twentieth year aforeſaid, were granted or conveyed, or mentioned to be granted or conveyed, in or by any Letters Patents whatſoever, made by the ſaid late King Henry the eighth, to any perſon or perſons, bodies politick or corporate, were, and ſhall be reputed, taken and adjudged to have been lawfully and perfectly in the actual and real poſſeſſion of the ſaid late King, and his Heirs and Succeſſors, at ſuch time as the ſame did ſo come to his Majeſties hands and poſſeſſion, or were ſo put in charge, or granted or conveyed by the ſaid late King Henry the eighth, as aforeſaid, notwithſtanding any defect, want or inſufficiency of, or in any Surrender, Grant, or Conveyance of the ſame Honors, Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, or any part thereof, to the ſaid late King Henry the eighth, or any other matter or cauſe whatſoever, by which his Highneſſe was or might have been entituled to the ſame.

Coke lib 11. fol. 11.

All grants made by King H. 8. of any Abbey lands that were in his poſſeſſion ſhall be good.

And be it further declared and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and ſingular Letters Patents made by the ſaid King Henry the eighth, at any time after the ſaid fourth day of February, in the ſaid ſeven and twentieth year of his Reign, for the erection, foundation, incorporation, or endowment of any Dean and Chapter, or Colledge, were and ſhall be reputed, taken, and adjudged to have been good, perfect and effectual in the Law for all things therein contained, according to the true intent and meaning of the ſame: Any thing, matter, or cauſe to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Coke lib 3. fol. 73.

King H. 8. Letters Patents for the foundation of Dean and Chapter, or Colledge, ſhall be good.

Saving always unto all perſon and perſons, bodies politick and corporate, their Heirs and Succeſſors, and every of them, (other than the late Abbots, Abbeſſes, Priors, Prioreſſes, and other Governors of ſuch Abbeys, Monaſteries, Priories, Nunneries, and other Religious and Eccleſiaſtical houſes, and their Succeſſors, and ſuch as pretended to be Founders, Patrons or Donors of the ſame, or any of them: or of any Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments belonging to the ſame, or to any of them (and their, and every of their Heirs and Succeſſors) all ſuch Right, Title, Intereſt, Claim and Demand, as they, or any of them, or their, or any of their Anceſtors or Predeceſſors might or ought to have had of, in, to, or out of any ſuch Honors, Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, before the ſaid fourth day of February, in the xxvii. year of the Reign of the ſaid King Henry the eighth, or before the making of ſuch Letters Patents by the ſaid King Henry the eighth, as if the ſaid Letters Patents made by the ſaid King Henry the eighth, and the foreſaid Statute made in the ſaid four and thirtieth year of his Reign, and this preſent Act had never been made: This Act, or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Other mens Rights ſaved.

Provided alwayes, and be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every ſuch branch and branches of the ſaid Statute, made for the maintenance and encreaſe of Tillage, as concern the earing, ploughing, uſing and keeping in Tillage for ever, of ſuch Lands or Grounds, or ſo much in quantity, as before the making of that Statute had been eared or ploughed, and put in tillage in any one year, and ſo kept in tillage by the ſpace of four years at any time ſithence the Feaſt of S. George the Martyr, in the twentieth year of King Henry the eighth, and every matter, clauſe, article, proviſion, penalty and forfeiture in the ſaid Statute concerning the ſame, ſhall ſo far forth onely, as they concern the ſame, from henceforth be repealed, ceaſe, and be utterly void: Any thing in the ſaid Statute, or in this preſent Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A repeal of the ſtat. of 5 El. 5. and 24 H. 8. touching ſowing of Hemp and Flax.

Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That ſo much of the ſaid Statute made for the maintenance of the Navy, as heretofore at any time was repealed, and all and every ſuch branch and branches of the ſaid Statute as concern the ſowing of Flax or Hemp, or the reviving of one Statute concerning ſowing of Flax or Hemp, made and provided in the Parliament, holden in the four and twentieth year of the Reign of King Henry the eighth, and every matter, clauſe, article, proviſion, penalty and forfeiture in the ſaid Statute, concerning the ſame, ſhall ſo far forth only as they concern the ſame, from henceforth be repealed, ceaſe, and be utterly void: Any thing in the ſaid Statute, or in this preſent Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A diminution of the penalty licenſed by the ſtat. of 5 El. 5. for eating of fleſh upon fiſh-days.

Provided alſo, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every perſon eating any fleſh upon any fiſh days, contrary to the form of the ſaid Statute made for the maintenance of the Navy, ſhall forfeit only twenty ſhillings, or elſe ſuffer only one moneths cloſe impriſonment without bail or mainprize. And every perſon or perſons within whoſe houſe any ſuch offence ſhall be done, and being privy, or knowing thereof, and not effectually publiſhing or diſcloſing the ſame to ſome publick Officer having authority to puniſh the ſame, for every ſuch offence to forfeit only xiii. s. iiii. d. Any thing in the ſaid Statute contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

5 Eliz. 5. 27 Eliz. 12. Tranſporting of corn. ALT. 3 Car. 4.

Provided alſo, and be it further enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That when the price of corn or grain exceedeth not the rates hereafter following, at the times, and havens, and places where and when the ſame corn or grain ſhall be ſhipped or loaden, viz. the quarter of wheat at xx. s. the quarter of rye, peaſe and beans at xiii. s. iiii. d. the quarter of barley or malt at xii. s. of currant Engliſh money: That then it ſhall be lawful for all and every perſon and perſons, being Subjects of her Majeſty, her heirs or ſucceſſors, to load, carry, or tranſport any of the ſaid corn or grain in ſuch manner and form, as in the ſaid Act made for the maintenance of the Navy, is limited and appointed: And that the Queens Majeſty, her heirs and ſucceſſors, ſhall have and receive by the Cuſtomers and Officers of her Ports, for the cuſtom or poundage of every quarter of wheat to be tranſported by force of this ſtatute, ii. s. and of every quarter of any other grain, xvi. d. Which ſaid ſeveral ſums ſo to be had or taken as cuſtom or poundage, to be in full ſatisfaction of all manner of cuſtom or poundage for the ſaid corn or grain, by any conſtitution, order, ſtatute, law or cuſtom, heretofore made, uſed or taken for tranſporting of any ſuch manner of corn or grain.

The Queens Cuſtom for every quarter of corn tranſported.

So much of the ſtat. of 14 El. 5. and 18 El. 3. as doth concern the goaling, boaring, and death of Vagabonds repealed.

Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That ſo much of the ſaid Statute made in the fourteenth year of her Majeſties Reign, entituled, An Act for the puniſhment of Vagabonds, and for the relief of the poor impotent, and of the ſaid Statute made in the eighteenth year of her Majeſties Reign, entituled, An Act for ſetting the poor on work, and for avoiding of idleneſſe, as concerneth the puniſhment of Vagabonds, by goaling, boaring through the Ear, and death in the ſecond degree, and every matter, clauſe, article and proviſion in the ſaid Statute contained, concerning the ſame, ſhall ſo far forth only as they concern the ſame, from henceforth be repealed, ceaſe, and be utterly void: Any thing in this Statute contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A reviver of the ſtat. of 28 H. 8. 12. touching the order of aged, poor, and impotent perſons. R. P. 39 El. 4.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That ſo much of one Act made in the two and twentieth year of King Henry the eighth, entituled, An Act concerning how aged, poor, and impotent perſons, compelled to live by Almes, ſhall be ordered, and how Vagabonds and mighty ſtrong Beggars ſhall be puniſhed, as concerneth the puniſhment of any ſuch Beggar, impotent or vagabond perſon by whipping, and all branches, articles and clauſes depending upon the ſame (other than the compelling of ſuch perſons to be ſworn) ſhall from henceforth ſtand and be revived, and remain in his full force and ſtrength.

18 El. 19.

Provided alwayes, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Act made in the eighteenth year of her Majeſties Reign, for the repairing and amending of the bridges and high-wayes near unto the City of Oxon, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not charge with any thing towards the amending of the ſaid bridges and high-wayes, any perſon or houſholder inhabiting within five miles of the Univerſity and City of Oxon, not having in poſſeſſion one yard-land. And that every perſon having one yard-land or more in his poſſeſſion, lying within the ſaid five miles, ſhall pay yearly the ſum of four pence only, for every yard land, before the Feaſt of Pentecoſt, unto the Vice-Chancellor and Mayor for the time being, or their deputy or deputies, towards the amending of the ſaid bridges and high-ways, and no other penalty, with like remedy by diſtreſs for every ſum of four pence, which ſhall be due, and not paid, as aforeſaid, as is contained in the ſaid Statute for any penalty therein limited.

He that hath a yard land within five miles of Oxford, ſhall yearly pay 4 d. towards the repair of bridges.

It is lawful to give land towards the maintenance of the houſe of correction, or of the poor. 39 Eliz. 3. 39 Eliz. 5.

And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall be lawful for every perſon, for and during the ſpace of twenty years next enſuing, to make feoffments, grants, or any other aſſurances, or by laſt Will in writing to give and bequeath in fee ſimple, as well to the uſe of the poor, as for the proviſion, ſuſtentation or maintenance of any houſe of correction, or abiding houſes, or of any ſtocks or ſtores, all or any part of ſuch his Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, and in ſuch manner and form as he might have done, to and for the proviſion, ſuſtentation, or maintenance of any houſes of correction, or abiding-houſes, or of any ſtocks or ſtores, by force of the ſaid ſtatute.

23 Eliz. 6. Repair of Dover haven.

Provided alwayes, and be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That all Ships, Barks, Veſſels or Crayers, whereof any of her Majeſties Subjects ſhall be Owners, or part Owners, of the burthen of twenty tun, or upwards, loading or diſcharging within this Realm, and paſſing to and fro any foreign Country, that are of any Port, Haven or Creek in Severn, from the Lands end in Cornwall to Briſtow, and from thence to Glouceſter, and from Milford Haven to Cheſter, Lyrpool, and all the Ports and Creeks to them, or either of them belonging, in S. Georges channel, and from the ſaid places back again, ſhall after the eighth day of May, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God, one thouſand five hundred ninety and ſix, be diſcharged of the three pence of every tun, for the reparation of Dover Haven, The ſaid ſtatutes made for the repairing of Dover Haven, or either of them, or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding: Except any of the ſaid Ships, Barks, Veſſels or Crayers, ſhall go for Dover, or to the Eaſtward. And that as well the ſaid Ships, Barks, Veſſels and Crayers, that ſhall go for Dover, or to the Eaſtward, as alſo all the Ships, Barks, Veſſels and Crayers, which ſhall croſs the narrow Seas, ſhall pay in manner and form as hereafter is expreſſed, and no more: that is to ſay, if they go forward with any manner of loading, not a quarter loaden, then to pay after the rate of a quarter loading, and ſo rateably upwards, according to their loading: but homeward to pay according to the full rate of the entry of their loading of every Ship, Bark, Veſſel or Crayer.

27 El. not imprinted, for the maintenance of the Peer of Lyme Regis.

And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That one Act made in the ſeven and twentieth year of her Majeſties Reign, entituled, An Act for the maintenance of the Peere and Cobbe of Lyme Regis, in the County of Dorſet, ſhall be renewed, and ſtand in his full force and ſtrength, for and during the ſpace of ten years next enſuing, and ſo from thenceforth, to the end of the next Parliament then next enſuing.

27 Eliz. 17. The breadth of woollen cloths in Wiltſhire, Glouceſter, Somerſet and Oxfordſhire. 43 Eliz. 10.

And be it further enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That one Act made in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the three and twentieth day of November, in the ſeven and twentieth year of her Highneſſe Reign, entituled, An Act touching the bredth of white woollen Clothes, made in the Counties of Wiltſhire, Glouceſter, Somerſet and Oxenford, &c. and all and every the branches, clauſes and proviſions in the ſame contained, ſhall from henceforth be, remain, and continue in force and effect for ever.

The Queens licence for tranſporting of corn at leſs cuſtom than is before expreſſed.

Provided alwayes, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall not be prejudicial or hurtful to any former Letters Patents, or Licence granted by her Majeſty, to any perſon or perſons, bodies politick or corporate, for the tranſportation of any Corn or Grain, either at any leſſer Cuſtoms or Subſidies than is contained in this preſent Act, or without any Cuſtom or Subſidy, but that they, and every of them, their Deputies and Aſſigns, ſhall and may tranſport Grain hereafter, for the time in their ſeveral Letters Patents ſpecified, either at ſuch prices and rates, or without Cuſtom or Subſidy, in ſuch manner and form as in the ſaid Letters Patents is contained, according to the form and effect of the ſame Letters Patents, and in ſuch manner and form, and not otherwiſe, to all intents and purpoſes, as if this preſent Act had never been had or made.

The Queen may reſtrain tranſporting of corn by Proclamation.

Provided alwayes, and be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, may at all times by her and their writ of Proclamation to be publiſhed generally in the whole Realm, or in any the Counties of the Realm, where any Port Towns are, command, That no perſon ſhall by vertue of this Act tranſport or carry any manner of Grain out of her Highneſſe Dominions generally, or out of any ſpecial Ports to be in the ſame Proclamation particularly named, for ſuch time as ſhall be therein limited and appointed.

1 & 2 P. & M. 5. 13 Eliz. 13.

And that it ſhall not be lawful for any perſon to carry out any ſuch Grain, contrary to the tenor of the ſame Proclamation, upon ſuch pains and forfeitures as by the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, are and have been provided and ordained in that behalf: This Act, or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

CAP. VIII.

Several penalties for making of Cables of old ſtuff, being above or under ſeven inches in compaſs.

The inconveniences enſuing the deceitful making of Cordage.

Foraſmuch as it is found by common experience, that ſundry perſons uſing the trade of making Cables, Halſors, and other kind of Cordage within this Realm, have of late for their private lucre and gain uſed to make the ſame of old, caſt, and over-worn Cables, Halſors and Cordage: and yet have craftily and deceitfully uttered and ſold the ſame being tarred, as new, good and ſtrong, and as made of new and perfect ſtuff, covering and hiding the falſe and corrupt making thereof, by tarring of them before the ſame be put to ſale, by reaſon whereof, not only divers Ships, Veſſels and Goods, as well of her Majeſties, as of ſundry her Highneſſe Subjects, but alſo the lives of divers of her ſaid Subjects have been loſt, periſhed, and caſt away.

For remedy thereof, and for the avoiding of ſuch great loſſes, inconveniences and dangers as might otherwiſe hereafter enſue by ſuch corrupt, falſe, and deceitful making of Cables, Halſors, and other Cordage as is aforeſaid.

Be it Enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That if any perſon or perſons, ſhall after forty dayes next after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, make, or cauſe to be made any Cables of any old and over-worn ſtuffe, which ſhall contain above ſeven inches in compaſſe: Then every perſon ſo offending, ſhall forfeit and loſe four times the value of every ſuch Cable ſo by him or them made, or cauſed to be made, as is aforeſaid. And if any perſon or perſons, after the ſaid forty dayes next after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall tarre, or cauſe to be tarred, any Halſors or other Cordage, made within this Realm of ſuch old and over-worn ſtuffe as aforeſaid, being of leſſer aſſize, and not containing in compaſſe ſeven inches, and ſhall after by way of retail, ſell or put to ſale, or cauſe to be ſold or put to ſale the ſame being ſo tarred: That every perſon ſo offending ſhall forfeit and loſe the treble value of every Cable, Halſor and other Cordage, being of leſſer aſſize, and made of ſuch old and over-worn ſtuffe as is aforeſaid, which ſhall be ſo ſold or put to ſale, being tarred as aforeſaid: The one moiety of all which forfeitures ſhall be to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety to ſuch perſon or perſons as will ſue for the ſame by Action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, wherein no eſſoyn, protection or wager of Law ſhall be allowed.

Old ſtuffe put unto new cables.

The penalty for tarring of cables, cordage, &c.

And furthermore, that every perſon which ſhall in any wiſe offend againſt the tenour and meaning of this Act, ſhall be impriſoned for the ſame during her Majeſties pleaſure.

Impriſonment.

CAP. IX.

The length, breadth, and weight of Plunkets, Azures, Blewes, and other coloured Clothes, made in the Counties of Glouceſter, Sommerſet, and Wiltſhire.

Whereas in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter in the fifth and ſixth years of the Reign of our late Soveraign Lord King Edward the ſixth, one ſtatute was made, entituled, An Act for the true making of woollen cloth, whereby (among other things) it was enacted, That all broad Plunkets, Azures, Blewes, and other coloured cloth, which after the Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel then next coming, ſhould be made within the Shires of Wiltſhire, Glouceſter or Somerſet, or elſewhere, of like making, ſhould contain in length, being through wet, betwixt xxv. and xxviii. yards, yard and inch of the Rule, and ſhould be ſeven quarters within the liſts at the leaſt, and liſted according to the ancient cuſtome, and being well ſcowred, thicked, milled, and fully dyed, ſhould weigh lxviii. pounds the peece, at the leaſt, as by the ſaid Act, among divers clauſes, articles and proviſions, contained in the ſame, more plainly is expreſſed: Sithence the making of which ſaid Statute, although the makers of the ſaid coloured clothes have endeavoured themſelves, according to their beſt skill and induſtry, to perform and fulfil the ſaid recited ſtatute in every of their clothes, as much as in them did lie, as touching the breadth of clothes, and to that end and purpoſe have allowed, and do allow ſo much yarn and ſtuffe to every ſuch cloth as might ſufficiently ſerve to make all the ſaid coloured clothes full out in length, breadth and weight, according to the ſaid ſtatute made in the fifth and ſixth years of King Edward the ſixth: Yet notwithſtanding, many times, by reaſon of the divers natures in the wools, and by the great diverſities in the ſpinning, carding and milling, many of the ſaid coloured clothes made within the ſaid County of Somerſet, and elſewhere of like making, do not contain full ſeven quarters in breadth, according to the ſaid ſtatute made in the fifth and ſixth years of King Edward the ſixth, and yet no default touching the ſaid breadth can juſtly be imputed to the maker thereof, for that the ſaid Cloth-makers (as experience daily ſheweth) cannot obſerve the ſaid former ſtatute in all the ſaid clothes, as touching the breadth, although they endeavour themſelves never ſo much thereunto: which clothes not containing their full breadth, as is aforeſaid, are many times taken and ſeized by the Searchers of London, when they come to their Market at Blackwell-Hall, to the great loſſe and damage of the ſaid Cloth-makers, and to the great hinderance of Cloth-making within the ſaid County: In conſideration whereof, albeit it is not hereby intended to repeal or make void the ſaid former recited ſtatute, otherwiſe than is hereafter expreſſed; yet neverthelesse, Be it Enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons of this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That no perſon or perſons ſhall be hereafter charged for any ſuch default, which hereafter ſhall be in any of the ſaid broad Plunkets, Azures, Blews, or other coloured clothes, for want of breadth of ſeven quarters, ſo that the ſame Cloth do contain in breadth, being throughly wet, ſix quarters and a half at the leaſt within the liſts unwrought, and liſted according to the ancient cuſtome: Any thing in the ſaid former recited ſtatute mentioned to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The effect of the ſtat. of 5 & 5 Ed. 6. 6. touching the making of plunkets, &c. in Wiltſhire, Glouceſter, and Somerſetſhire.

The Stat. of 5 & 6 Ed. 6. 6. not performed for the breadth of Cloth, and yet no default in the Cloth-makers.

The cloth ſix quarters and a half broad being wet.

Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any of the ſaid clothes ſhall not contain ſix quarters and an half at the leaſt within the liſts, as is aforeſaid, that then every perſon offending in that behalf, ſhall for every ſuch cloth be ſubject to ſuch pains, penalties, and forfeitures as were by force of the former recited ſtatute of the fifth and ſixth years of King Edward the ſixth, to have been forfeited for want of breadth of ſeven quarters within the liſts.

The penalty, if any of the ſaid clothes be not in breadth ſix quarters and a half.

And be it nevertheleſs enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any of the ſaid broad Plunkets, Azures, Blews, or other coloured clothes, being well ſcoured, thicked, milled, and fully dyed, ſhall contain in weight any leſs than lxviii. pounds at the leaſt: that then every of the ſaid Clothiers therein offending, ſhall incur double ſuch penalties and forfeitures for every pound ſo wanting of the ſaid weight, and not weighing after ſuch rate as is before expreſſed in, and by the ſaid ſtatute, made in the fifth and ſixth years of King Edward the ſixth, is limited and appointed.

The penalty for want of weight. Examined by the Parliament Roll.

And be it nevertheleſs enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any of the Clothes to be

Weight, 68. pounds. Length, 27. yards. REP. 43 El. 10, made within the County of Somerſet, or elſewhere of like making, called Plunkets, Azures and Blews, being well ſcoured, thicked, milled, and fully dryed, ſhall contain in weight any leſs than lxviii. pounds at the leaſt: or if any of the ſaid clothes ſhall contain in length any more than xxvii. yards at the moſt: That than every of the ſame Clothiers therein offending, ſhall incur double ſuch penalties and forfeitures for every pound ſo wanting, as by the ſaid ſtatute of the fifth and ſixth years of the reign of King Edward the ſixth, are to ſuch defaults limited and appointed: And for every yard that any ſuch cloth ſhall contain above 27 yards in length, and not weighing after ſuch rate as is before expreſſed, the maker of every ſuch cloth ſhall incur double the penalties by the ſtatute of the fourth and fifth years of the reign of King Philip and Queen Mary, to ſuch defaults limited and appointed.

CAP. X.

The weight and length of a Devonſhire Kerſie raw, and of a Rudge Waſh Kerſie, &c.

In their moſt humble and dutiful wiſe ſhewen, and beſeechen your Highneſs, your true and faithful Subjects, the Clothiers, Merchants and Chapmen of your County of Devon, and of the Counties adjoyning, That where in the moneth of January, in the four and thirtieth year of your Majeſties moſt happy reign, as well at the humble ſuit and petition of ſundry your ſaid ſubjects, as upon certificate of divers Juſtices in your Highneſſe ſaid County of Devon, and upon complaint of the States of Holland, it pleaſed your Highneſs, with the advice of your moſt honourable Privy Council, by your Highneſs Proclamation, for the reformation of the inſufficiencies grown in the Clothes called Devonſhire Kerſies or Dozens, (a commodity heretofore in great requeſt, price and eſtimation, both amongſt your natural ſubjects, and in foreign Nations and Countries) but of late marvellouſly (and not without occaſion) diſcredited by the inventions and new devices of the Weavers, Tuckers and Artificers, To command that the Lawes before that time made, and ſtanding in force not repealed, for and concerning the premiſſes, ſhould be duly accompliſhed in all things: And that every Officer ſhould diligently perform his Office accordingly: And that the weight of the ſaid Kerſies or Dozens being raw, and wrought with clean ſtuff, without any deceitful addition, ſhould weigh fifteen pounds, and contain in the Market at the leaſt between fifteen and ſixteen yards at length, and that the ſame ſhould be ſewantly woven throughout of like ſorted yarn, forbidding all other deceits in weaving, and all diminiſhing and unreaſonable drawing, ſtretching, and other deceits in Tuckers: And that each Weaver ſhould weave his ſhop-mark in each Dozen, and a purrel in each end thereof: And that Officers ſhould be appointed in Market Towns, to view, weigh, and try the ſame Kerſies, whether they were in length, weight or goodneſs, according to the rate and proportion ſet forth in the ſame Proclamation: The ſame Proclamation to endure till the firſt day of this preſent Parliament, as by the ſame more at large may appear.

The Queens Proclamation touching the weight, length and goodneſs of Devonſhire Kerſies.

Now, moſt gracious Soveraign, foraſmuch as by the ſaid Proclamation, great order and better making of the ſaid Clothes for weight and length thereof hath enſued, and to the end that hereafter further diſcovery and reſtraint of all abuſes and deceits, contrary to the former laws and ſtatutes of this Realm, may be provided for, to the reviving of the reputation of ſo good, profitable and neceſſary a commodity, It may pleaſe your Majeſty, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the whole Commonalty aſſembled in this preſent Parliament, and by the authority of the ſame, That it may be enacted and eſtabliſhed as followeth, that is to ſay, That from and after the firſt day of July now next coming: each Kerſie called Devonſhire Kerſie or Dozen, which ſhall be made and woven within the ſaid County of Devon, or any other County next adjoyning thereunto, being raw, unſcoured, untucked, and unwet, as it cometh from the Weavers beam, and being made of clean and perfect ſtuff, that is, to wit, of Wooll ſhorn, cleanſed, and throughly waſhed or ſcoured, after the ſhearing, and before the weaving, without any fraud, deceit, policy, or device, or any ſtuff thereunto deceitfully or unlawfully added in the working, or after the working thereof, for the increaſe of the weight, ſhall weigh in the Market fifteen pounds or upwards.

Stat. 5 & 6 Ed. 6. 6. 4 & 5 Ph. & M. 5.

The weight of a Devonſhire Kerſie or Dozen raw.

And that from and after the ſaid firſt day of July, every raw Devonſhire Kerſie or Dozen from thenceforth to be woven and made in the ſaid County of Devon, or any of the other Counties adjoyning, being a Rudge Waſh Kerſie, that is to ſay, being made of Fleece Wooll waſhed only on the ſheeps back, and the Wooll not being cleanſed, waſhed and ſcoured after it is ſhorn, and before it is woven, ſhall (without any fraud, deceit, policy, device or addition of ſtuff whatſoever, to encreaſe the weight thereof) weigh in the Market ſeventeen pounds at the leaſt, being raw as it cometh off the Weavers beam, and each, and every of the ſame Devonſhire Kerſies or Dozens ſo being raw, and as it cometh forth of the Weavers Loom (without racking, ſtretching, ſtraining, or other device to encreaſe the length thereof) ſhall contain in length between fifteen and ſixteen yards by the meaſure of yard and inch by the Rule, without which obſervation of weight being raw, they cannot fall out (after they be well ſcoured, thicked, and fully dyed) to contain the length and weight expreſſed and limited in the ſtatute of the fourth and fifth years of Philip and Mary, viz. twelve yards in length, and twelve pounds in weight, as hath been ſufficiently made known, and teſtified to your Highneſs ſaid Privy Council before the ſaid Proclamation.

The weight and length of Rudge Waſh Kerſie.

4 Jac. 2.

And if any Weaver ſhall work or make any of the ſaid kinds of Kerſies of leſs weight or meaſure than is before mentioned after their kind, every ſuch offendor, ſhall forfet for every quarter of a pound in weight, which any of the ſaid raw Kerſies or Dozens which ſhall be brought to any Market, or ſold, or offered to be ſold, ſhall want of their weight aforeſaid, twelve pence: and for every quarter of a yard which ſhall be wanting in length of either ſort of the ſaid Kerſies, likewiſe being ſold, or offered to be ſold, twelve pence. And that each ſort of the ſaid Kerſies or Dozens ſhall be ſewantly woven throughout of well and like ſorted yarn. And that no Weaver ſhall uſe any diverſity in the bigneſs or goodneſs of his yarn in any part of the ſaid Kerſies, ſaving only in the Liſts, nor uſe any other practice in edging or weaving of any the ſame Kerſies or Dozens, to make the ſame ſeem finer neer the edge or liſts, than in any other part of the ſame Cloth.

The forfeiture of the offendor.

The Weavers duty in weaving of Dozens.

A Weavers Shop mark. A purrel at each end.

And that it may be further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that each weaver ſhall weave his Shop-mark of ſome coloured yarn in the end of every Kerſie, which he ſhall hereafter weave or make, and ſhall alſo at each end of every of the ſame Kerſies weave one purrel likewiſe of coloured yarn, of the breadth of three quarters of an inch at the leaſt whereby the deceitful cutting and diminiſhing of ſuch Clothes by Tuckers or Fullers heretofore uſed, may henceforth be prevented. And if any Weaver ſhall uſe any deceit in mingling his yarn, or ſhall omit his Shop-mark, or ſhall not weave in every Kerſie two purrels, according to the tenor of this act, he ſhall forfeit and loſe for every offence to the contrary, ten ſhillings.

Dozens ſhall be viewed, weighed and marked.

And to the end that the weight and goodneſs of all the ſaid Kerſies, called Dozens, being raw, may be the better & more certainly known, It may further be enacted, That no Weaver nor any other perſon whatſoever, ſhall offer or put to ſale any of the ſame raw Kerſies, called Dozens, before the ſame have been viewed, weighed and marked in ſome City, Town corporate or market Town, and allowed by ſuch Officer, and marked with ſuch marks as ſhall be there in ſuch City or Town, uſed and appointed for that purpoſe, upon pain to forfeit and loſe for every cloth ſold, or offered to be ſold to the contrary, ten ſhillings: the one half of all which forfeitures ſhall be to the uſe of your Highneſs, your heirs and ſucceſſors, and the other half to the principal Officer or Magiſtrate of the City, Town corporate, or market Town next adjoyning to the dwelling or working place of ſuch Weavers as ſhall offend in any of the premiſes, if he the ſame Officer or Magiſtrate ſhall firſt make ſeiſure thereof: or elſe to the principal Officer of that City, Town corporate, or market Town where the ſame ſhall be ſold, or offered to be ſold, to be recovered by action of debt, bill, plaint or information, with coſts, in any Court of Record, wherein no protection, wager of law, or eſſoine ſhall be allowed.

Searchers of Devonſhire Kerſies, and their Duties.

And for the better diſcovery of the offences aforeſaid, and the more perfect accompliſhing of the premiſes, it may be alſo enacted, That the principal Officer or Magiſtrate for the time being, in every City, Town corporate, or market Town of the ſaid county. or of any other of the Counties adjoyning, where any ſuch Kerſies called Devonſhire Kerſies, or Dozens now are, or hereafter ſhall be woven, made, offered or put to ſale, ſhall every year from henceforth appoint and have in readineſs at all times needful, two or more diſcreet perſons, which ſhall be ſpecial and known Officers and Searchers, which ſhall attend, and ſhall be at his or their entry into his or their ſaid Office ſworn, during his or their continuance in the ſaid Office, truly to view, weigh and mark each Kerſie called a Dozen, in ſuch City or Town, or any of them, made, ſold or offered to be ſold, or put to ſale, and to preſent each offence or defect which ſhall there fall out contrary to the true meaning of this ſtatute: Every which Searcher or Officer ſo to be hereafter appointed for this purpoſe in any ſuch City, Town corporate, or market Town, ſhall by force of this act have power and authority to enter in the day time into all ſhops, ware-houſes, work-houſes, and other places convenient of the ſame City or Town, where he or they ſhall be ſo appointed, there to view, ſearch, and ſee whether any Kerſie or Dozen be made, ſold, or offered to be ſold, contrary to the true meaning of this act, and alſo to ſee what pains, penalties, and forfeitures ſhall be grown due to her Majeſty by any Weaver, ſeller or buyer, within the liberties and precincts of the ſame town, taking only of and for the weighing and marking of every Kerſie, a farthing for his pains, and ſo according to the number, and no more; which farthing upon every Kerſie is to be paid by the ſeller of the ſame Kerſie.

What ſhall be forfeited, and by whom, if Searchers be not appointed, or not attendant.

And if ſuch Searchers and Officers ſhall not be yearly appointed, and attendant at all times reaſonable and convenient, or ſhall neglect his or their duties in the true ſearch, weighing and marking of the ſaid Kerſies, or any of them, or ſhall mark any one Kerſie which wants of his weight, as is aforeſaid, that then, and in every ſuch caſe the chief Magiſtrate of every ſuch City and Town, ſhall forfeit and loſe for every ſuch offence of their Searcher or Searchers, twenty ſhillings, and for every market day they ſhall want two, or one at the leaſt of ſuch Searchers, the ſum of forty ſhillings, to be levied as hereafter is expreſſed.

No Dozen ſhall be bought or dreſſed, before it be tryed.

And that it may further be enacted, That from and after the firſt day of July no manner of perſon or perſons whatſoever ſhall buy any ſuch raw Kerſie, called Devonſhire Kerſie, or Dozen, in any market, or elſewhere, unleſs the ſame ſhall be firſt tryed, weighed, and marked by the Officers of ſome City, or Town corporate, or market Town, as is aforeſaid, And that no Weaver, Tucker, Fuller, or other whatſoever, ſhall dreſs or cauſe to be dreſſed any of the ſaid raw clothes, called Devonſhire Kerſies or Dozens, unleſs the ſame be firſt tryed, weighed and marked in ſome one Market town by the Searcher or Searchers, there in that behalf appointed, upon pain of forfeiture of every ſuch Kerſie ſo bought, dreſſed, or put to dreſſing, which ſhall not be tryed and marked, as is afore mentioned.

The length of a Dozen ſhall not be diminiſhed.

And for the avoyding of deceit of Tuckers or Fullers, that it may be enacted, That no Clothier, Tucker, Fuller, or other perſon whatſoever, ſhal at any time from henceforth cut or diminiſh the length of any Kerſie called a Devonſhire Kerſie or Dozen, and after offer or put the ſame to ſale as a whole Kerſie or Dozen, upon pain of forfeiture of twenty ſhillings for every of the ſame Kerſies or Dozens ſo cut or diminiſhed, the one half of all and every which forfeitures, not before limited and appointed, ſhall be to our Soveraign Lady the Queen and the other half to him or them that will ſue for the ſame by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, in any Court of Record wherein the plaintiff is to recover his coſts. Alſo wherein no protection, wager of Law, or eſſoyn ſhall be allowed. This act to endure till the end of the next Parliament. 3 Car. 4. CAP. XI.

A quantity of Clapboord ſhall be brought into this Realm, for Beer or Fiſh tranſported. Wine Cask ſhall not be tranſported, but for certain purpoſes.

WHereas of late years Timber is greatly decayed and conſumed within this Realm, the want thereof is greatly to be feared, and ſpeedily to be provided for, and foraſmuch as there is great occaſion of ſpending and conſuming thereof, by ſelling of great quantities of timber and converting the ſame into cloven boord for the making of Cask, which is uſually tranſported out of the Realm, into the parts beyond the ſeas. And foraſmuch alſo as Wine cask brought into this Realm, is very ſerviceable, as well for her Majeſties Houſhold and Navy, in time of her Highneſs ſervice, for victualling of her Highneſs ſhips, and alſo for victualling of Merchants ſhips, and a great cauſe of ſparing Timber within this Realm.

For Beer tranſported, Clapboord or Cask ſhall be brought in. Be it therefore enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That all and every perſon and perſons, which ſhall after the Feaſt of the Nativity of St. John Baptiſt next enſuing, ſhip, carry or tranſport any Beer into the parts beyond the Seas, to be ſold or exchanged for other Merchandize, ſhall (if he be a ſtranger, then) before the ſame tranſporting (if he be a ſubject born, then) either before the ſame tranſporting, or within four moneths after, bring or cauſe to be brought into this Realm, from the parts beyond the Seas, for every ſix Tuns of Beer, two hundred of Clapboord, fit for to make Cask of, to contain in length, three foot and two inches at the leaſt, or elſe the ſame Cask again, or ſo much other good and ſweet cask in quantity, and the ſame to be entred at the Cuſtom-houſe without any colouring, or if the ſame tranſporting ſhall be into the Realm of Ireland, then to bring in, in manner and form as aforeſaid, ſo much of Shaffold-boord in quantity as the ſaid Clap-boord amounteth unto.

Clapboord ſhall be brought into this Realm, for Fiſh tranſported. And alſo be it further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no ſtranger born, ſhall after the laſt day of June, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord, M. D. X C. III. ſhip, carry or tranſport beyond the Seas, any Pilchers or other Fiſh in cask, unleſs the ſame perſon have before ſuch ſhipping, brought or cauſed to be brought into this Realm, from the parts beyond the Seas, for every ſix Tuns of Pilchers, or other Fiſh, according to the rate and manner aforeſaid, of Clapboord fit for cask, or elſe cask as aforeſaid, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſaid Beer, Pilchers, and Cask that ſhall be ſhipped or laden, to be tranſported into the parts beyond the Seas.

In what caſes onely Wine cask may be tranſported. 3 Jac. 11. And be it further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall not be lawful for any perſon or perſons after the ſaid Feaſt of S. John the Baptiſt next enſuing, to tranſport or carry any Wine Cask out of this Realm, with any Beer or Beereager, nor any Wine cask ſhaken, and ſell the ſame Beer or Beereager, or Cask, except for the victualling of any Ship or portable Veſſel, or of any of her Majeſties Garriſons and Forces in the parts beyond the Seas, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſum of xl. s. for every Tun of Cask ſo carried or tranſported.

Provided always, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to the tranſportation of any Herrings whatſoever in Casks: This Act to continue to the end of the next Parliament. 3 Car.4. continued untill the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

And be it alſo further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all perſons calling themſelves Scholars, going about begging, All Seafaring men pretending loſſes of their ſhips or goods on the ſea, going about the Countrey begging, All idle perſons going about in any Countrey either begging, or uſing any ſubtil craft or unlawful games or playes, or faining themſelves to have knowledge in Phiſiogmony, Palmeſtry or other like crafty ſcience, or pretending that they can tell deſtinies, fortunes, or ſuch other like fantaſtical imaginations, All perſons that be, or utter themſelves to be Proctors, Procurers, Patent-gatherers, or Collectors for Goals, Priſons or Hoſpitals, All fencers, beare-wards, common players of Enterludes, and minſtrels, wandering abroad, (other than players of Enterludes, belonging to any Baron of this Realm, or any other honourable perſonage of greater degree, to be authorized to play, under the hand and ſeal of Arms of ſuch Baron or perſonage) All juglers, tinkers, pedlers, and petty chapmen wandering abroad, All wandering perſons and common labourers, being perſons, able in body, uſing loytering, and refuſing to work for ſuch reaſonable wages as is taxed, or commonly given in ſuch parts, where ſuch perſons do or ſhall happen to dwell or abide, not having living otherwiſe to maintain themſelves, All perſons delivered out of Gaols, that beg for their fees, or otherwiſe do travel begging, All ſuch perſons as ſhall wander abroad begging, pretending loſſes by fire, or otherwiſe, And all ſuch perſons not being felons, wandring, and pretending themſelves to be Egyptians, or wandring in the habit, form or attire of counterfeit Egyptians, ſhall be taken, adjudged and deemed rogues, vagabonds and ſturdy beggars, and ſhall ſuſtain all pain and puniſhment, as by this Act is in that behalf appointed.

Who ſhall be accompted rogues, vagabonds and ſturdy beggars.

And be it Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every perſon which is by this preſent Act declared to be a rogue, vagabond or ſturdy beggar, which ſhall be at any time after the ſaid Feaſt of Eaſter next coming, taken begging, vagrant, wandring or miſordering themſelves in any part of this Realm, or the Dominions of Wales, ſhall upon their apprehenſion by the appointment of any Juſtice of the Peace, Conſtable, Headborough or Tythingman of the ſame County, Hundred, Pariſh or Tything where ſuch perſon ſhall be taken, the Tything-man or Headborough being aſſiſted therein with the advice of the Miniſter, and one other of that Pariſh, be ſtripped naked from the middle upward, and ſhall be openly whipped until his or her body be bloody: and ſhall be forthwith ſent from pariſh to pariſh, by the Officer of every the ſame, the next ſtraight way to the pariſh where he was born, if the ſame may be known by the parties confeſſion or otherwiſe. And if the ſame be not known, then to the pariſh where he or ſhe laſt dwelt before the ſame puniſhment, by the ſpace of one whole year, there to put him or her ſelf to labour as a true ſubject ought to do: Or not being known where he or ſhe was born or laſt dwelt, then to the pariſh through which he or ſhe laſt paſſed without puniſhment. After which whipping, the ſame perſon ſhall have a Teſtimonial ſubſcribed with the hand, and ſealed with the ſeal of the ſame Juſtice of the Peace, Conſtable, Headborough or Tythingman, and of the Miniſter of the ſame pariſh, or of any two of them, teſtifying that the ſame perſon hath been puniſhed according to this Act, and mentioning the day and place of his or her puniſhment, and the place whereunto ſuch perſon is limited to go, and by what time the ſaid perſon is limited to paſs thither at his peril. And if the ſaid perſon through his or her default do not accompliſh the order appointed by the ſaid Teſtimonial, then to be eftſoons taken and whipped, and ſo as often as any default ſhall be found in him or her contrary to the form of this Statute, in every place to be whipped, till ſuch perſon be repaired to the place limited: the ſubſtance of which Teſtimonial ſhall be regiſtred by the Miniſter of that pariſh, in a Book to be provided for that purpoſe, upon pain to forfeit v. s. for every default thereof: and the party ſo whipped, and not known where he or ſhe was born, or laſt dwelt by the ſpace of a year, ſhall by the officer of the ſaid Village where he or ſhe ſo laſt paſt through without puniſhment, be conveyed to the houſe of Correction of the limit wherein the ſaid Village ſtandeth, or to the common gaol of that County or place, there to remain and be employed in work, until he or ſhe ſhall be placed in ſome ſervice, and ſo to continue by the ſpace of one year; or not being able of body, until he or ſhe ſhall be placed, to remain in ſome Almes-houſe in the ſame County or place.

The puniſhment and uſing of a rogue.

A Teſtimonial for the puniſhment of a rogue.

A Teſtimonial regiſtred.

A rogue conveyed to the houſe of Correction, or to the gaol.

Provided alwayes, and be it enacted, if any of the ſaid rogues ſhall appear to be dangerous to the inferiour ſort of people where they ſhall be taken, or otherwiſe be ſuch as will not be reformed of their roguiſh kind of life by the former proviſions of this Act, that in every ſuch caſe it ſhall and may be lawful to the ſaid Juſtices of the limit where any ſuch rogue ſhall be taken, or any two of them, whereof one to be of the Quorum, to commit that rogue to the houſe of Correction, or otherwiſe to the gaol of the County, there to remain until the next quarter-Seſſions to be holden in that County, and then ſuch of the ſame rogues ſo committed, as by the Juſtices of the Peace then and there preſent, or the moſt part of them, ſhall be thought fit not to be delivered, ſhall and may lawfully by the ſame Juſtices, or the moſt part of them, be baniſhed out of this Realm, and all other the Dominions thereof, and at the charges of that Countrey, ſhall be conveyed unto ſuch parts beyond the Seas, as ſhall be at any time hereafter for that purpoſe aſſigned by the Privy Council unto her Majeſty, her Heirs or Succeſſors, or by any ſix or more of them, whereof the Lord Chancellor or Lord Keeper of the great Seal, or the Lord Treaſurer for the time being to be one, or otherwiſe be judged perpetually to the Gallies of this Realm, as by the ſame Juſtices or the moſt part of them it ſhall be thought fit and expedient. And if any rogue ſo baniſhed as aforeſaid ſhall return again into any part of this Realm, or Dominion of Wales, without lawful licence or warrant ſo to do, that in every ſuch caſe ſuch offence ſhall be felony, and the party offending therein ſuffer death as in caſe of felony: the ſaid felony to be heard and determined in that County of this Realm or Wales, in which the offendor ſhall be apprehended.

A rogue baniſhed, returning without licence.

The forfeit of the Officer not puniſhing rogues.

The penalty for diſturbance of the execution of this Statute.

And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any town, pariſh or village, the Conſtable, Headborough or Tithingman be negligent, and do not his or their beſt endeavours for the apprehenſion of ſuch vagabond, rogue or ſturdy beggar, which there ſhall be found contrary to the form of this preſent act, and to cauſe every of them to be puniſhed and conveyed according to the true meaning of this preſent act, that then the ſaid Conſtable, Headborough or Tithingman, in whom ſuch default ſhall be, ſhall loſe and forfeit for every ſuch default x. s. And alſo if any perſon or perſons do in any wiſe diſturb or let the execution of this law, or any part thereof, concerning the puniſhment or conveying of rogues, vagabonds, ſturdy beggars, or the relief or ſetling of poor impotent perſons in any manner of wiſe or making reſcous againſt any Officer, or perſon authorized by this preſent act for the due execution of any the premiſſes, the ſame perſon ſo offending ſhall forfeit and loſe for every ſuch offence the ſumm of v. l. and ſhall be bound to the good behaviour.

No Rogues ſhall be brought from Ireland, Scotland, or the Iſle of Man.

And be it alſo further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons having charge in any Voyage, in paſſing from the Realms, of Ireland or Scotland, or from the Iſle of Man into this Realm of England, do wittingly or willingly bring or convey, or ſuffer to be brought or conveyed into any veſſel or boat from and out of the ſame Realm of Ireland, Scotland or Iſle of Man, into the Realm of England or Wales, or any part thereof any vagabond, rogue or beggar, or any ſuch as ſhall be forced, or very like to live by begging within the Realm of England or Wales, being born in the ſame Realms or Iſland, on pain of every ſuch perſon ſo offending, to forfeit and loſe for every ſuch vagabond, rogue, beggar or other perſon like to live by begging, xx. s. to the uſe of the poor of the ſaid pariſh in which they were ſet on land. And if any ſuch Manniſk, Scottiſh or Iriſh rogue, vagabond or beggar be already, or ſhall at any time hereafter be ſet on land, or ſhall come into any part of England or Wales, the ſame after he or ſhall be puniſhed as aforeſaid, ſhall be conveyed to the next port or pariſh, in or near which they were landed or firſt came, in ſuch ſort as rogues are appointed to be by this preſent act, and from thence to be tranſported at the common charge of the country where they were ſet on land, into thoſe parts from whence they came or were brought. And that every Conſtable, Headborough and Tithing man neglecting the due performance thereof, ſhall forfeit for every ſuch offence x. s.

None reſorting to Bath or Burton ſhall beg.

Be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no diſeaſed or impotent poor perſon ſhall at any time reſort or repair from their dwelling places to the City of Bath or Town of Burton, or either of them, to the Bathes there for the eaſe of their griefs, unleſs ſuch perſons do forbear to beg, and be licenced to paſs thither by two Juſtices of the Peace of the County where ſuch perſon doth or ſhall then dwell or remain, and provided for to travel with ſuch relief, for and towards his or her maintenance as ſhall be neceſſary for the ſame perſon, for the time of ſuch his or her travel and abode at the City of Bath and Town of Burton, or either of them, and return thence, and ſhall return home again as ſhall be limited by the ſaid licence, upon pain to be reputed, puniſhed and uſed as rogues, vagabonds, and ſturdy beggars, declared by this preſent act. And that the inhabitants of the ſame City of Bath and Town of Burton ſhall not in any wiſe be charged by this act with the finding or relief of any ſuch poor people.

The authority of Juſtices in corporate Towns.

Provided always, That the Juſtices of Peace within any county of this Realm or Wales, ſhall not intromit or enter into any City, Borough, or Towns corporate, where be any Juſtice or Juſtices of the Peace for any ſuch City, Borough, or Town corporate, for the execution of any branch, article, or ſentence of this act, for or concerning any offence, matter or cauſe growing or ariſing within the precincts, liberties or juriſdiction of ſuch City, Borough, or Towns corporate, but that it may and ſhall be lawful to the Juſtice and Juſtices of the Peace, Mayors, Bailiffs, and other head Officers of thoſe Cities, Boroughs and Towns corporate, where there be ſuch Juſtices of the Peace, to proceed to the execution of this act, within the precinct and compaſs of their liberties, in ſuch manner and form as the Juſtices of Peace in any County may or ought to do within the ſame county, by vertue of this act: Any thing in this act to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

The poor in S. Thomas Hoſpital in Southwark.

Provided always, that this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to the poor people for the time being in the Hoſpital, called S. Thomas Hoſpital, otherwiſe called the Kings Hoſpital in the Borough of Southwark near adjoyning to the City of London, But that the Mayor, Commonalty and Citizens of the ſaid City of London for the time being, ſhall and may have the rule, order and government of the ſaid Hoſpital, and of the poor people therein for the time being: Any thing in this act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Provided alwayes, that this act or any thing therein contained, or any authority thereby given, ſhall not in any wiſe extend to diſinherit, prejudice, or hinder John Dutton, of Dutton in the County of Cheſter, Eſquire, his heirs or aſſigns, for, touching or concerning any liberty, preheminence, authority, juriſdiction or inheritance which the ſaid John Dutton now lawfully uſeth, or hath, or lawfully may or ought to uſe within the Palatine of Cheſter, and the county of the City of Cheſter, or either of them, by reaſon of any ancient Charters of any Kings of this Land, or by reaſon of any preſcription, uſage, or title whatſoever.

John Dutton of Dutton in the county of Cheſter his liberties.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all fines and forfeitures appointed, or to grow by this preſent act (except ſuch as are otherwiſe limited and appointed by this preſent act) ſhall wholly go and be imployed to the uſe of the reparations and maintenance of the ſaid houſes of correction, and ſtock and ſtore thereof, or relief of the poor where the offence ſhall be committed, at the diſcretion of the Juſtices of the Peace of the ſame limit, City, Borough or Town corporate: And that all fines and forfeitures appointed or to grow by conviction of any perſon according to this preſent act, ſhall by warrant under the hands and ſeals of any two or more of the Juſtices of the Peace of the ſame County, City, Borough or Town corporate, be levied by diſtreſs, and ſale of the goods and chattels of the offendor: which ſale ſhall be good in the law againſt ſuch offendor. And that if any of the ſaid offences ſhall be confeſſed by the offendor, or that the ſame ſhall be proved by two ſufficient and lawful witneſſes, before ſuch two or more Juſtices of the Peace, that then every ſuch perſon, ſhall forthwith ſtand and be in the Law convicted thereof.

The imploying of the forfeitures.

Confeſſion or proof of an offence ſhall be a conviction of the offendor.

And be it alſo further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That any two or more Juſtices of the Peace within all the ſaid ſeveral Shires, Cities, Boroughs, or Towns corporate, whereof one to be of the Quorum, ſhall have full power by authority of this preſent act, to hear and determine all cauſes that ſhall grow or come in queſtion by reaſon of this act.

The Juſt. of P may hear & determine all cauſes in queſtion.

And be it alſo further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Lord Chancellor or Keeper of the great Seal of England for the time being, ſhall and may at all times hereafter, by vertue of this preſent act, without further warrant, make and direct Commiſſion or Commiſſions under the great Seal of England, to any perſon or perſons, giving them, or ſome of them thereby authority, as well by the oaths of good and lawful men, as of witneſſes or examination of parties, or by any other lawful ways or means whatſoever, to enquire what ſums of money or other things have been or ſhall be collected or gathered for or towards the erection of any houſes of correction, or any ſtocks or other thing to ſet poor on work, or for the maintenance thereof, at any time after the ſeventeenth day of November, in the eighteenth year of the reign of the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, and by whom the ſame were or ſhall be collected or gathered, and to whoſe hands commen, and to what uſe, and by whoſe direction the ſame was or ſhall be imployed. And to call all and every ſuch perſon and perſons, and their ſureties, and every of their executors or adminiſtrators to an account, and to compell them and every of them by attachment of their goods or bodies to appear before them for the ſame, and to hear and determine the ſame, and to levy ſuch money and things as they ſhall find not to have been duely employed upon the ſaid houſes of correction, or ſtocks, or upon other like uſes, having in ſuch other like uſes reſpect of things paſt by the ſaid Commiſſioners to be allowed of, either by diſtreſs and ſale of the goods and chattels of ſuch perſons as they ſhall think fit to be chargeable, or anſwerable for the ſame, or by impriſonment of their bodies at their diſcretion, and that the ſaid Commiſſoners ſhall have full power and authority to execute the ſame Commiſſion according to the tenor and purport thereof: And that all their proceedings, doings, judgments, and executions by force and authority thereof, ſhall be and remain good, and available in the law: Which ſaid money ſo levied by the ſaid Commiſſioners, ſhall be delivered and employed for the erecting or maintenance of the ſame.

Commiſſions to enquire of money given to houſes of correction, or for ſtocks for the poor.

Provided alwayes nevertheleſs, that every ſea-faring-man ſuffering ſhipwrack, not having wherewith to relief himſelf in his travels homewards, but having a teſtimonial under the hand of ſome one Juſtice of the Peace of or near the place where he landed, ſetting down therein the place and time where and when he landed, and the place of the parties dwelling or birth, unto which he is to paſs, and a convenient time therein to be limited for his paſſage, ſhall and may without incurring the danger and penalty of this act in the uſual ways directly to the place unto which he is directed to paſs, and within the time in ſuch his teſtimonial limited for his paſſage, ask and receive ſuch relief as ſhall be neceſſary in and for his paſſage.

A ſeafaring man ſuffering ſhipwrack.

Provided alſo, that this ſtatute, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall extend to any children under the age of ſeven years, nor to any ſuch glaſs-men as ſhall be of good behaviour, and do travel in or through any Countrey without begging, having licence for their travelling under the hands and ſeals of three Juſtices of the Peace of the ſame County where they travel, whereof one to be of the Quorum.

Children under the age of ſeven years. Glaſs-men.

And be it alſo further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that this preſent act ſhall be proclaimed in the next quarter Seſſion or Seſſions in every County, and in ſuch other market Towns or places, as by the more part of the Juſtices of the Peace in the ſaid Seſſion ſhall be agreed and appointed. This act to endure to the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament. 3. Car. 4. Continued until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament, Stat. 1. Jac. 7. 1. Jac. 25.

WHereas at the laſt Seſſion of Parliament, proviſion was made aſwell for maimed ſoldiers, by collection in every pariſh, as for other poor, that it ſhould be lawful for every perſon, during twenty years next after the ſaid Parliament, by Feoffment, Will in writing or other aſſurance to give and bequeath in Feeſimple, aſwell to the uſe of the poor, as for the proviſion, ſuſtentation, or maintenance of any houſe of correction, or abiding houſes, or of any ſtocks or ſtores, all or any part of his lands, tenements, or hereditaments: Her moſt excellent Majeſty underſtanding and finding that the ſaid good law hath not taken ſuch effect as was intended, by reaſon that no perſon can erect or incorporate any Hoſpital, houſes of correction, or abiding places, but her Majeſty, or by her Highneſs ſpecial licence by letters Patents under the great Seal of England in that behalf to be obtained: Her Majeſty graciouſly affecting the good ſucceſs of ſo good & charitable works and that without often ſuit unto her Majeſty and with as great eaſe and little charge as may be, is of her Princely care and bleſſed diſpoſition to and for the relief and comfort of maimed ſouldiers, mariners, and other poor and impotent people, pleaſed and contented that it be enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament: And be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That all and every perſon and perſons ſeiſed of an eſtate in feeſimple, their heirs, executors, or aſſigns, at his or their wills and pleaſures, ſhall have full power, ſtrength, licence, and lawful authority at any time during the ſpace of twenty years next enſuing, by deed inrolled in the high Court of Chancery, to erect, found, and eſtabliſh one or more Hoſpitals, Meaſons de dieu, abiding place or houſes of correction, at his or their will and pleaſure, as well for the finding, ſuſtentation, and releif of the maimed, poor, needy or impotent people, as to ſet the poor to work, to have continuance for ever, and from time to time to place therein ſuch head and members, and ſuch number of poor as to him, his heirs and aſſigns ſhall ſeem convenient: And that the ſame Hoſpitals or houſes ſo founded, ſhall be incorporated, and have perpetual ſucceſſions for ever, in fact, deed, and name, and of ſuch head, members, and numbers of poor, needy, maimed or impotent people, as ſhall be appointed, aſſigned, limited, or named by the Founder or Founders, his or their heirs, executors, or aſſigns, by any ſuch deed inrolled: And that ſuch Hoſpital, Meaſon de dieu, abiding place, or houſe of correction, and the perſons therein placed ſhall be incorporated, named, and called by ſuch name as the ſaid Founder or Founders, his heirs, executors or aſſigns, ſhall ſo limit, aſſign, and appoint: And the ſame Hoſpital, Meaſon de dieu, abiding place, or houſe of correction, ſo incorporated and named, ſhall be a body corporate and politick, and ſhall by that name of incorporation, have full power, authority, and lawful capacity and ability, to purchaſe, take, hold, receive, enjoy, and have to them and to their ſucceſſors for ever, as well goods and chattles, as manors, lands, tenements, and hereditaments, being freehold of any perſon or perſons whatſoever. So that the ſame exceed not the yearly value of two hundred pounds above all charges and repriſes, to any one ſuch abiding houſe, Hoſpital, Meaſon de dieu, or houſe of correction: And ſo as the ſame, or any part thereof be not holden of our Soveraign Lady the Queen, her Heirs or Succeſſors, immediately in chief, or elſe of our ſaid Soveraign Lady the Queen or any other perſon by Knights ſervice, without licence or Writ of Ad quod damnum, the ſtatute of Mortmain, or any other ſtatute or law to the contrary notwithſtanding. And that the ſame Hoſpital, Meaſon de dieu, abiding place, or houſe of correction, and the perſons ſo being incorporated, founded and named, ſhall have full power, and lawful authority by the true name of the incorporation thereof, to ſue and to be ſued, implead and to be impleaded, to anſwer, and to be anſwered, in all manner of courts and places that now are, or hereafter ſhall be within this Realm, as well temporal as ſpiritual, in all manner of ſuits whatſoever, and of what nature and kind ſoever ſuch Suits or actions be or ſhall be: And that the ſame Hoſpital Meaſon de dieu, abiding houſe or houſes of correction, ſhall have and enjoy for ever ſuch a common Seal or Seals, as by the ſaid Founder or Founders, his or their heirs, executors or aſſigns ſhall be in writing under his or their hand and ſeal aſſigned, named or appointed whereby the ſame corporation ſhall or may ſeal any manner of Inſtrument, touching the ſame incorporation, and the lands, tenements, hereditaments, goods, or other things thereto belonging, or in any wiſe touching or concerning the ſame. And further ſhall be ordered, directed, and viſited, placed, or upon juſt cauſe diſplaced, by ſuch perſon or perſons, bodies politick or corporate, their heirs, ſucceſſors, or aſſigns, as ſhall be nominated or aſſigned by the Founder or Founders thereof, their heirs or aſſigns according to ſuch rules, ſtatutes, and ordinances, as ſhall be ſet forth, made, deviſed, or eſtabliſhed, by the ſaid Founder or Founders, their heirs or aſſigns in writing under his or their hand and ſeal, not being repugnant or contrary to the laws and ſtatutes of this Realm, any law, ſtatute, cuſtom, uſage, or other thing whatſoever to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding. And that it ſhall be lawful unto the Founder or Founders, his and their heirs or aſſigns, upon the death or removing of any ſuch corporation, to place one other in the room of him that dyeth, or is removed ſucceſſively for ever.

Leaſes made by Hoſpitals.

A Saving of the right of others, in the Hoſpital lands.

Provided alwayes, that all leaſes, grants, conveyances or eſtates, to be made by any corporation ſo be founded as aforeſaid, exceeding the number of one and twenty years, and that in poſſeſſion, and whereupon the accuſtomable yearly rent or more by the greater part of twenty years next before the taking of ſuch leaſe, ſhall not be reſerved and yearly payable, ſhall be voyd. Saving to all perſons, bodies politick and corporate, their heirs and ſucceſſors (other than the Founders and givers, their heirs and ſucceſſors) all ſuch right, title, claim, poſſeſſion, rents, ſervices, commons, demands, intereſt and profits which they or any of them ſhall have, or of right ought to have, of in, or to any the lands, tenements or hereditaments, hereafter to be given, limited or aſſigned in form aforeſaid, in as ample manner as if this ſtatute had never been had or made.

Provided alſo, that this act or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to enable any perſon or perſons being within age, women covert without their huſbands, or of not ſanæ memoriæ, to make any ſuch corporation, or to endow the ſame: Any thing in this preſent act to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Certain perſons not enabled to create Hoſpitals.

Provided alwayes, that no ſuch Hoſpital, Meaſon de dieu, abiding place, or houſe of correction ſhall be erected, founded, or incorporated by force of this act, unleſs upon the foundation or election thereof, the ſame be endowed for ever with lands, tenements, or hereditaments of the clear yearly value of x. l. by the year.

x. l. land at the leaſt ſhall be aſſured to an Hoſpital.

Provided alſo, and be it further enacted, that no ſuch incorporation to be founded by force of this Act, ſhall at any time hereafter, do, or ſuffer to be done any act or thing whereby, or by means whereof any of the lands, tenements, hereditaments, ſtock, goods or chattels of ſuch incorporation, or any eſtate, intereſt, poſſeſſion or property, of, or in the ſame, or any of them ſhall be veſted or tranſ-ferred in, or to any other whatſoever, contrary to the true meaning of this act: and that ſuch conſtruction ſhall be made upon this act as ſhall be moſt beneficial and available for the maintenance of the poor, and for repreſſing and avoiding of all acts and deviſes to be invented, or put in ure contrary to the true meaning of this act. 21. Jac. 1. made perpetual.

CAP. VIII.

Every deprivation of any B. or Dean made in the beginning of the Queens reign, ſhall be good: and Archbiſhops, Biſhops, and Deans made by the Q. ſhall be adjudged lawful.

Whereas divers and ſundry perſons exerciſing the office and function of Biſhops and Deans of divers Sees and Biſhopricks and Deaneries within this Realm, in the reign of our late Sovereign Lady Queen Mary, were before the tenth day of November, in the fourth year of the moſt happy and bleſſed goverment of the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty that now is lawfully and juſtly deprived from ſuch Biſhopricks and Deaneries, as they ſeverally enjoyed and took upon them to hold, and in their ſteads and places ſundry excellent and worthy men duely preferred to the ſame: And whereas the parties ſo deprived, did notwithſtanding, as it is pretended, make ſecret Appeals, and uſed other ſecret means, pretending thereby to ſupport the continuance of their ſaid offices and functions.

Be it therefore declared and enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, that all and every deprivation and deprivations, and all and every ſentence and ſentences of deprivation whatſoever, had, pronounced, or given, at any time between the beginning of the reign of the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty that now is: & the tenth day of November, in the fourth year of the ſame, againſt any perſon or perſons, which was, or took upon him to be Archbiſhop or Biſhop of any See or Biſhoprick, or Dean of any Deanery within this Realm, or any the Dominions thereof in the reign of the ſaid late Queen Mary, from ſuch See or Biſhoprick, ſhall be adjudged, deemed and taken good and ſufficient in law to all intents and purpoſes, and ſo ſhall remain and continue: Any appeal, exception, or other matter or thing whatſoever to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Deprivation of Biſhops and Deans in the beginning of the Queens reign, ſhall be good.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that all ſuch Archbiſhops and Biſhops, and Deans as were ordained or made by the authority or licence of the Queens Majeſty that now is, at any time between the beginning of her reign and the ſaid tenth day of November, in the fourth year of her Majeſties reign, ſhall be taken and adjudged to be lawful Archbiſhop or Biſhop of the See or Biſhoprick, and Dean of the Deanery unto the which he was ſo preferred, aſſigned, or appointed: And that the ſame See of Archbiſhoprick, or Biſhoprick and Deanery, unto which he was ſo preferred, aſſigned, or appointed, ſhall be deemed and adjudged to be meerly void to all reſpects and purpoſes, before ſuch preſentment, appointment, or aſſignment ſo made as aforeſaid: Any ambiguity or queſtion in that behalf heretofore made, or hereafter to be made to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Archbiſhops, Biſhops, and Deans made by the Queen, be lawful. 8 El. 1.

CAP. IX.

He that taketh away a woman againſt her will, that hath lands or goods, or is heir apparent to her Anceſtor, ſhall loſe his Clergy.

Whereas of late times divers women as well maidens as widows, and wives having ſubſtance, ſome in goods moveable, and ſome in lands and tenements, and ſome being heirs apparent to their anceſtors, for the lucre of ſuch ſubſtance, been oftentimes taken by miſdoers, contrary to their will, and after married to ſuch miſdoers, or to others by their aſſent, or defiled, to the great diſpleaſure of God, and contrary to your Highneſs Laws, and diſparagement of the ſaid women, and great heavineſs and diſcomfort of their friends, and ill example of others, which offences, albeit the ſame be made felony by a certain act of Parliament made in the third year of King Henry the ſeventh: Yet foraſmuch as Clergy hath been heretofore allowed to ſuch offendors, divers perſons have attempted and committed the ſaid offences in hope of life by the benefit of Clergy: Be it therefore enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That all and every

He that taketh away a woman againſt her will, contrary to the Stat. of 3 H 7 2. ſhall loſe his Clergy.

ſuch perſon and perſons, as at any time after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall be convicted or attainted, of or for any offence to be committed after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, made felony by the ſaid Act of the third year of the Reign of King Henry the ſeventh, or which ſhall be indicted and arraigned of or for any ſuch offence, and ſtand mute, or make no direct anſwer, or ſhall challenge peremptorily above the number of twenty, ſhall in every ſuch caſe loſe his and their benefit of Clergy, and ſhall ſuffer pains of death without any benefit of Clergy: Any former Law to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Principals procurers, or acceſſaries before the offence.

Provided alwayes, that this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to take away the benefit of Clergy, but only from ſuch perſon and perſons as hereafter ſhall be principals, or procurers or acceſſaries before ſuch offence committed.

CAP. X.

The Stat. of 23 Eliz. 7. reſtraining Engliſhmen to go or ſend into any foreign Country to buy or bring into this Realm ſalted Herring, or ſalted Fiſh, repealed, &c.

A rehearſal of the ſtat. of 23 El. 7. reſtraining Engliſhmen to bring out of a foreign country ſalted fiſh.

What was expected by the foreſaid ſtat of 23 El. 7.

The inconveniences enſuing the making of the foreſaid ſtat. of 23 El. 7.

Where at the Parliament holden by prorogation the xvi. day of January, in the xxiii. year of the Reign of our moſt gracious Soveraign Lady, Queen Elizabeth, An Act was made, (entituled, An Act for the encreaſe of Mariners, and for maintenance of the Navigation) whereby, amongſt other things, It was enacted, That it ſhould not be lawful to any native Engliſh man, woman, or denizen, at any time, after a time limited in the ſame Act, directly or indirectly, by themſelves, their ſervants, factors, agents, deputies or any of them whatſoever, to go or ſend into any other foreign Country, Realm or Dominion whatſoever for the buying, providing, or bringing into this Realm, out, or from any the ſaid foreign Realms or Dominions, out of the Queens obeyſance, of any ſalted Fiſh, or ſalted Herrings, nor ſhould make any agreement with any Alien or Stranger, or any other, for ſuch bringing into this Realm, by any Alien or Stranger, of any ſalted Fiſh, or ſalted Herrings, And that no ſalted Fiſh, nor ſalted Herrings, ſhould be brought hither out of the ſaid foreign Realms and Dominions, but by the meer Owners thereof, or Deputies of them, being Aliens and Strangers, without the procurement of any Subject of the Queens Majeſty, her heirs or ſucceſſors, or of any Denizen, and by none other perſon or perſons, upon pain that ſuch Engliſh perſon, or Denizen offending againſt that Act, ſhould forfeit the ſame ſalted Herrings and ſalted fiſh, or the value thereof, with divers other clauſes and branches in the ſame Statute contained, touching the bringing of fiſh into this Realm, and the buying and ſelling of fiſh, as by the ſame Act at large appeareth: Upon the making of which Act, it was hoped and expected, that the Fiſhermen of this Realm would in ſuch ſort have imployed themſelves to fiſhing, and to the building and preparing of ſuch ſtore of Boats and ſhipping for that purpoſe, as that they ſhould long ere this time have been able ſufficiently to have victualled this Realm with ſalted fiſh and Herrings of their own taking, without any ſupply of Aliens and Strangers, to the great encreaſe of Mariners, and maintenance of the Navigation within this Realm, notwithſtanding it is ſince found by experience, that the Navigation of this Land is no whit bettered by the means of that Act, nor any Mariners encreaſed, nor like to be encreaſed by it: But contrariwiſe, the natural Subjects of this Realm, not being able to furniſh the tenth part of the ſame with ſalted fiſh of their own taking, the chief proviſion and victualling thereof with fiſh and Herrings, hath ever ſince the making of the ſame Statute, been in the power and diſpoſition of Aliens and Strangers, who thereby have much enriched themſelves, greatly increaſed their Navigation, And (taking advantage of the time) have extremely enhanced the prices of that victual, to the great hurt and impoveriſhing of the native Subjects of this Realm, and yet do ſerve the Markets here in very evil ſort by little and little, houſing and keeping their fiſh as well on this ſide, as beyond the Seas, till the prices be raiſed to their liking. And the Merchants of this Realm having been wholly barred in their Trades of providing of fiſh for the ſervice thereof: The Navigation of this Realm, which was intended to be augmented, hath been rather impaired than increaſed thereby, and the prices of fiſh greatly enhaunced, to the great and general prejudice of the Subjects of this Realm, to carry out into foreign parts and dominions ſuch ſalted fiſh and Herrings, as are taken and provided by the Subjects of this Realm: And therefore very unequal that the native Subjects of this Land ſhould not be at liberty to bring in alſo foreign proviſion of fiſh for the victualling of their own Country, as well as to carry out, but that the ſtranger ſhould be wholly truſted therewith.

They which may carry fiſh forth of this Realm, may alſo bring in fiſh.

A repeal of the before mentioned ſtat of 23 El. 7.

Be it therefore enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the ſame Statute made in the ſaid three and twentieth year of her Majeſties moſt gracious Reign, and every clauſe, branch, article, and proviſo thereof, and all the penalties and forfeitures therein contained, ſhall from henceforth be clearly repealed, void, fruſtrate, and of none effect, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as if the ſame had never been had ne made; Any thing in the ſame Act contained to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The Queens Subjects may tranſport fiſh in ſhips with croſs ſailes.

And be it further enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, That it ſhall and may be lawful for all and every her Majeſties Subjects, being Owners of any Ships, Barks or Veſſels, ſailing with croſs ſails, to receive and take into their ſaid Ships, Barks or Veſſels, any herrings or other fiſh, which any alien or ſtranger ſhall buy and provide of any of her Majeſties Subjects within this Realm: And the ſame herrings and fiſh, or any of them may tranſport into any parts beyond the Seas, being in league or amity with her Majeſty, in their ſaid Ships or Veſſels with croſs ſails, ſo as the ſaid aliens or ſtrangers pay to her Majeſty her Cuſtoms and Duties for the ſame, in ſuch ſort as by the ſame former Act was limited and appointed.

And be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all aliens and ſtrangers ſhall from henceforth, and from time to time pay to her Majeſty for all ſalted fiſh and ſalted herrings to be brought into this Realm, all ſuch like Cuſtoms and Impoſitions as are or ſhall be impoſed and ſet upon any her Majeſties Subjects in thoſe foreign Regions and Countries, Ports and Towns, from whence the ſaid ſalted fiſh and ſalted herrings ſhall be ſhipped and brought for the like fiſhes and herrings, over and beſides the ordinary Cuſtoms, which have been paid to her Majeſty for the ſame, in manner and form as by the ſame Act was enacted and appointed.

What cuſtoms aliens ſhall pay to the Queen for fiſh brought into this Realm.

And be it further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any alien or ſtranger born, or any denizen or natural born ſubject of this Realm, ſhall bring into any haven, port, creek or town of this Realm any ſalt fiſh or ſalt herrings, which ſhall not be good, ſweet, ſeaſonable, and meet for mens meat, and ſhall offer the ſame to be ſold, and ſhall be warned by any Officer of ſuch port, haven or town where the ſame ſhall be offered to be ſold, that the ſame be not ſeaſonable nor meet for mens meat, That then if he or they ſhall after that offer any of the ſaid unſeaſonable fiſh to be ſold to any perſon within this Realm, or being an alien born, and no denizen, ſhall not depart with the ſame from the ſaid haven, port or town, ſo ſoon as conveniency will ſerve, That then all and every perſon, owners thereof, ſhall loſe and forfeit to our ſaid Soveraign Lady, all the ſaid unſeaſonable fiſh unmeet for mens meat, as before is ſaid.

The penalty for bringing into this Realm, and offering to ſell unwholſome fiſh.

And be it likewiſe Enacted, That all ordinances of the Fiſhmongers of London, or of any other Company or Corporation whatſoever, made or to be made for reſtraint of any perſon to take or ſell fiſh, or to buy or provide any Fiſh of any Merchant, or other within this Realm, ſhall be repealed and void; And that every perſon or body corporate that ſhall make or execute any ſuch ordinance or reſtraint, ſhall for every ſuch offence forfeit one hundred pounds, the one moiety thereof to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety to the party grieved, that will ſue for the ſame, by action of debt, in any Court of Record, wherein no eſſoyn, protection, or wager of Law for the defendant ſhall be allowed.

Ordinances to reſtrain the taking, ſelling, or buying of fiſh ſhall be void. REP. 43 El. 9.

Provided alwayes, That this Act ſhall no longer endure, than to the end of the next Parliament hereafter enſuiug. 3 Car. 4. Continued until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

CAP. XI.

The penalty for mixing or uſing Logwood in dying of Cloth or other ſtuffe.

VVhereas by an Eſtatute lately made in the three and twentieth year of the Queens Majeſties reign that now is, it was amongſt other things Enacted, That no perſon ſhould dye or cauſe to be dyed any cloth, wooll, or other things there mentioned, with any ſtuffe called Logwood, alias Blockwood, upon ſuch penalty as in the ſaid ſtatute is mentioned: Since the making of which Statute, ſundry evil diſpoſed perſons have ſought to defraud the true meaning of the ſaid ſtatute, and to avoid the penalty therein contained, by cunning uſing or mixing of the ſaid Logwood, alias Blockwood, together with Woad or other ſtuff; which is not only contrary to the true meaning of the ſaid former act, and to the great deceit of her Majeſties loving Subjects, but alſo to the diſcredit of the trade of clothing, eſpecially in foreign Countries, where heretofore Engliſh clothes have been had in good account and reckoning: For redreſs of which fraud, and to the intent the ſaid practice may hereafter be the better diſcovered (which being cloſely and ſecretly done by the offendors, will otherwiſe hardly be found out) and that the ſaid practice, according to the true intent and meaning of the ſaid former Statute be henceforth utterly aboliſhed:

Deceits practiſed to abuſe the meaning of the Stat. of 23 El. 9. touching dying with Logwood.

Be it therefore ordained and enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That if any perſon ſhall be ſo ſuſpected to offend, then any Juſtice or Juſtices of Peace of the ſame County, where the ſaid ſuppoſed offendor ſhall dwell, if he dwell out of a corporate Town or City, and if he dwell within any corporate Town or City, then the Mayor, Bayliff, or other head Officer being a Juſtice of Peace of ſuch corporate Town or City where ſuch ſuppoſed offendor ſhall dwell, upon notice and information to him or them given in that behalf, ſhall by authority of this Act, by his or their warrant, or other commandment, cauſe to come before him or them, the ſervants and workmen of ſuch ſuppoſed offendors and other perſons able to diſcloſe the ſaid deceit, and them to examine by their oath or otherwiſe. And if upon the ſame examination they ſhall find any perſon or perſons after the firſt day of February next enſuing to have uſed, or cauſed to be uſed, in the dying or colouring of any cloth, wooll, yarn, grograins, buffins, or ſilk, or any thing made of woollen yarn, or ſilk, any Logwood, alias Blockwood, or now, or heretofore reputed and taken for Logwood, alias Blockwood, that then the ſaid Juſtices or Juſtice, Mayor, Bayliff or other head Officer, being a Juſtice of Peace, ſhall not only bind with ſurety all ſuch perſon or perſons, whom they ſhall find ſo ſuſpected to have offended, and ſuch others as may diſcover the ſame offence, to the next quarter Seſſions or Gaol-delivery, which ſhall happen to be holden for that County, City, or Town corporate, but alſo to certifie all ſuch examinations and depoſitions, as tend to the finding out or diſcovery of the ſaid offences, at the Gaol-delivery, or quarter-Seſſions: And alſo if any ſuch perſon ſo ſuſpected to have offended, upon examination aforeſaid, ſhall refuſe to be bound as aforeſaid, then the ſaid perſon or perſons ſo refuſing, to be committed to the next Gaol, there to remain till he, ſhe, or they, ſhall ſo become bound with ſureties. And that the ſaid Juſtices of Aſſize, or Juſtices of Peace, at ſuch Gaol-delivery or quarter Seſſions, ſhall have authority by this Act, to indict and try the offendors, by the uſual courſe of indictments and trials in like caſes: And after ſuch conviction, to adjudge the ſaid offendors to be ſet openly on the Pillory, in the ſaid City or Market Town, where the ſame offence ſhall be committed; And if it ſhall not be in any Market Town, then in the next Market Town adjoyning, in the ſame County, there to continue, by all the time of the Market one or moe dayes by their diſcretion, for every ſuch offence: And further, that every ſuch offendor beſide his ſaid corporal puniſhment, ſhall forfeit for every ſuch offence the ſum of xx li. The one moiety of which ſum of money ſhall be to our Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety to him that will ſue for the ſame, by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, in any Court of Record, in which ſuit no eſſoin, protection, wager of Law, nor Writ of priviledge for the defendant ſhall be admitted or allowed; And the party offending being thereof convicted, to remain in priſon without bail or mainprize, till he have ſatisfied the ſame. CAP. XIII.

The Lord Mayor of London, &c. may ſearch all perſons occupying the broad ſheare.

By the ſtat. of [illegible].7.27. the Mayor and Wardens of Shear-men in London may ſearch the work of all perſons occupying the broad ſhear.

VVHereas by an Act made in the eleventh year of King Henry the ſeventh, the Mayor and Wardens of Shearmen of the City of London for the time being, ſhould have authority to enter and ſearch the workmanſhip of all manner of perſons occupying the broad ſheare, as well Fuſtians as Cloth, and the execution of the ſaid Act for uſing any inſtruments of iron, or other untrue mean or ſleight in dreſſing the ſame. Since which time, for that the Lord Mayor of London cannot conveniently go in his own perſon to make the ſaid ſearch, by reaſon of his other weighty occaſions, divers have reſiſted the Wardens of the Shearmen, going abroad in offering to make ſearch according to the ſaid Law, and for want of due and daily ſearch in that behalf, divers have of late dayes put in ure the iron inſtruments, and other ſleights forbidden by the recited act, to the great deceit of her Majeſties people, amongſt whom the wearing of Fuſtians is lately grown to more uſe, as may ſeem, than ever it was before time: Which Company of Shearmen, together with the Company of Fullers, were ſince the ſaid Act, made one Company by the name of Cloth-workers, and ſo no ſearch can be duly made: For remedy hereof, Shearmen and Fullers in London made one Company.

The Mayor and Cloth-workers of London, or their deputies may ſearch the work of all perſons there, &c.

The forfeiture of them which make reſiſtance to be ſearched.

Be it therefore Enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That from henceforth it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the ſaid Lord Mayor of the City of London, or his ſufficient deputy, and to and for the Maſter and Wardens of the ſaid Myſtery of Cloth-workers of London, or ſuch diſcreet perſons as the ſaid Maſter and Wardens of the ſaid Myſtery of Cloth-workers for the time being, ſhall from time to time appoint, to enter and make ſearch, as the ſaid Mayor of London, and Wardens of Shearmen might have done together, by the ſaid Act, in the ſaid eleventh year of K. Henry the ſeventh, upon pain that the perſon or perſons which ſhall make reſiſtance herein, ſhall forfeit for every ſuch reſiſtance xx. s. of lawful money of England, the one half to her Majeſty, and the other half to him or them that will ſue for the ſame by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information in any of the Queens Courts of Record, where the ſame may be determined, after the courſe of the Common Law. And that the defendant in ſuch caſe in no wiſe be admitted to wage his Law, nor that any protection or eſſoyn be in the ſame allowable.

CAP. XIV.

No Cards for Wooll ſhall be brought into this Realm to be ſold.

WHereas many thouſands of woollen Card-makers and Card-wyer-drawers of the Cities of London, Briſtol, Glouceſter, Norwich, Coventry, and of many other her Highneſs Cities and Towns within this Realm, have heretofore lived and well maintained themſelves, their wives, families, and children by the benefit and uſe of their trade and faculty of Card-making and drawing of Card wyer within this Realm. And now of late time, by reaſon of the common bringing in of foreign cards for wooll out of France, and other foreign parts, the ſaid Card-makers and Card-wyer-drawers have been ſo much impoveriſhed, that ſcant the twentieth perſon that heretofore lived by the ſaid trades, is now maintained and ſet on work thereby:

No Cards for wooll ſhall be brought into this Realm to be ſold.

Be it Enacted by our Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty, and by the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That no perſon or perſons whatſoever, from, or after the Feaſt day of the Purification of the bleſſed Virgin Saint Mary, now next enſuing, ſhall bring, ſend or convey, or cauſe to be brought, ſent or conveyed into this Realm of England or Wales, from the parts beyond the Seas, any Cards for wooll to be ſold, bartered or exchanged within the Realm of England or Wales, upon pain to forfeit all ſuch Cards for wooll, ſo to be brought, ſent or conveyed, contrary to the true meaning of this Act, in whoſe hands ſoever they, or any of them ſhall be found, or the very value thereof, the one half whereof to be to our ſaid Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety thereof to him or them that will ſeize the ſame or ſue therefore, in any Court of Record of the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, by action of debt, bill, plaint, information, or otherwiſe, in whoſe actions, ſuits, plaints, or informations, no wager of law, eſſoyn or protection ſhall be allowed. This Act to endure to the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament. 3 Car. 4. Continued untill the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament, 14 Car. 2. ca. 19.

CAP. XV.

No perſon robbing an houſe in the day time to the value of five ſhillings, ſhall have his Clergy.

WHereas of late years divers lewd and felonious perſons underſtanding that the penalty of the robbing of houſes in the day time (no perſon being in the houſe at the time of the robbery) is not ſo penal, as to commit or do a robbery in any houſe, any perſon being therein at the time of the robbery, which hath and doth embolden divers lewd perſons to watch their opportunity and time to commit and do many hainous robberies, in breaking and entring divers honeſt perſons houſes, and eſpecially of the poorer ſort of people, who by reaſon of their poverty are not able to keep any ſervant, or otherwiſe to leave any body to look to their houſe, when they go abroad to hear Divine Service, or from home to follow their labour to get their living, which is to the hinderance and loſs of good Subjects, and the utter impoveriſhing of many poor widows, ſole women, and other people:

He ſhall not have his Clergy that robbeth a houſe in the day time of the value of v. s.

Co. l. 4. f. 40. Cro. Car. 473.

Be it therefore Enacted by our Soveraign Lady the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons of this preſent Parliament aſſembled, That if any perſon or perſons after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall be found guilty, and convicted by verdict, confeſſion, or otherwiſe, according to the Lawes of this Realm, for the felonious taking away after the Feaſt of Eaſter now next enſuing in the day time, of any money, goods or chattel, being of the value of v. s. or upwards, in any dwelling houſe or houſes, or any part thereof, or any out-houſe or out-houſes belonging, and uſed to and with any dwelling houſe or houſes, although no perſon ſhall be in the ſaid houſe or out-houſes at the time of ſuch felony committed, then ſuch perſon and perſons ſhall not be admitted to the benefit of his or their Clergy, but ſhall be utterly excluded thereof.

CAP. XVI.

What perſons are authorized both in the Counties and Cities, and Towns corporate, to reſtrain the exceſſive making of Mault.

Juſtices of Peace may reſtrain exceſſive making of Mault.

Whereas greater quantity of Mault is daily made, than either in time paſt was, or is now needful: Be it Enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That from time to time and at all times hereafter it ſhall and may be lawful for the Juſtices of Peace within this Realm, in their open quarter Seſſions, or the more part of them by their diſcretions, to ſuppreſs, diſcharge, or reſtrain the ſuperfluous and unneceſſary number of Maultſters in part, or in the whole, and alſo to reſtrain ſuch perſon and perſons, as to their diſcretions ſhall ſeem meet, from the buying of barley to convert into Mault in part or in all, for ſuch time or times as to their diſcretions ſhall ſeem meet; and if any perſon or perſons ſhall refuſe, diſobey or not perform ſuch ſuppreſſing, diſcharging, or reſtraint, or any order whatſoever the ſaid Juſtices ſhall ſet down touching the ſame, That then, and ſo often ſuch perſon or perſons being thereof duly convicted before the ſaid Juſtices, or any two of them, by the teſtimony of two witneſſes, or by his own confeſſion, ſhall be by the ſaid Juſtices committed to the common Gaol of the County, City, or corporate Town, wherein the offence is committed, there to remain without bail or mainpriſe, by the ſpace of three dayes, and from thence untill he ſhall be bounden by recognizance in the ſum of xl. l. to be taken to the uſe of her Majeſty, before any Juſtice of Peace, to ſtand to, perform and obey ſuch ſuppreſſing, diſcharging or reſtraint taken by the ſaid Juſtices as aforeſaid.

The penalty of ſuch as ſhall diſobey the Juſtices verdict.

Chief Officers of corporate Towns may reſtrain exceſſive making of Mault.

Provided alwayes, That the ſaid Juſtices of Peace within any County of this Realm, ſhall not intromit or enter into any City, Borough or Town corporate, for execution of any article in this Act, except he be a Juſtice of Peace alſo in the ſaid City, Borough or Town corporate, But that it ſhall be lawful to the Juſtices of Peace, Mayors, Bayliffs, and other head Officers of thoſe Cities, Boroughs, and Towns corporate, where they keep Seſſions, to proceed to the execution of this Act, and every article thereof within the precincts of their liberties, at ſuch time and times, and as often as to them ſhall ſeem meet, in as large and ample manner, as the Juſtices of Peace in any County may do.

Certain perſons not reſtrainable to make Mault by this ſtatute.

Provided alſo, That it ſhall and may be lawful, to and for every perſon and perſons, which ſhall have of his own any barley or corn growing, or any tythe-corn, or rent-corn reſerved upon any leaſe or demiſe, to convert into Mault, all, or any ſuch barley or corn, Any thing in this preſent Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

An offendor of this Act ſhall not meddle in the execution thereof.

Provided alſo, That no manner of perſon or perſons ſhall deal or meddle in the execution of this Act, that uſe to buy barley to convert to Mault, and to ſell the ſame again. This Act ſhall not endure or continue any longer time, but until the end of the next Seſſion of the next Parliament. 3 Car. 4. Continued until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

CAP. XVII.

Wandring Mariners and Souldiers, and other idle perſons ſhall ſettle themſelves to work: they ſhall have Teſtimonials, &c.

14 Car. 2. cap. 12.

Whereas divers lewd and licentious perſons, contemning both Laws, Magiſtrates, and Religion, have of late dayes wandered up and down in all parts of the Realm, under the name of Souldiers and Mariners, abuſing the title of that honourable profeſſion to countenance their wicked behaviours, and do continually aſſemble themſelves weaponed in the high-ways, and elſewhere in troops, to the great terrour and aſtoniſhment of her Majeſties true ſubjects, the impeachment of her Lawes, and the diſturbance of the peace and tranquility of this Realm: And whereas many hainous outrages, robberies, and horrible murders are daily committed by theſe diſſolute perſons: And unleſs ſome ſpeedy remedy be had, many dangers are like by theſe means to enſue and grow towards the common-wealth:

The penalty of wandering Souldiers and Mariners which will not ſettle themſelves to work.

Be it therefore Enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That all idle and wandering Souldiers or Mariners, or idle perſons, which now are, or hereafter ſhall be wandering as ſouldiers and mariners, ſhall ſettle themſelves in ſome ſervice, labour, or other lawful courſe of life, without wandering, or otherwiſe repair to the places where they were born, or to their dwelling places, if they have any, and there remain, betaking themſelves to ſome lawful trade or courſe of life, as aforeſaid, upon pain that all perſons offending contrary to this Act, to be reputed as felons, and to ſuffer as in caſe of felony, without any benefit of Clergy to be allowed.

Wandring Souldiers and Mariners ſhall have teſtimonials.

It ſhall be felony to counterfeit a teſtimonial.

And be it further enacted, That every idle and wandering Souldier or Mariner, which coming from his Captain from the Seas, or from beyond the Seas, ſhall not have a teſtimonial under the hand of ſome one Juſtice of the Peace, of, or near the place where he landed, ſetting down therein the place and time when and where he landed, and the place of his dwelling or birth, unto which he is to paſs, as aforeſaid, and a convenient time therein limited for his paſſage, or having ſuch teſtimonial, ſhall wilfully exceed the time therein limited, above fourteen dayes: And alſo aſwell every ſuch idle and wandring Souldier or Mariner, as every other idle perſon wandring, as Souldier or Mariner which ſhall at any time hereafter forge or counterfeit any ſuch teſtimonial, or have with him or them any ſuch teſtimonial forged, or counterfeited as aforeſaid, knowing the ſame to be counterfeited or forged, in all theſe caſes every ſuch Act or Acts to be felony, and the Offendors to ſuffer as aforeſaid, without any benefit of Clergy.

Juſtices of Aſſize and Gaol-delivery and Peace, may hear and determine theſe offences.

Taking the offendor into ſervice for a year.

And be it further enacted, that it ſhall be lawful for the Juſtices of Aſſiſes, Juſtices of Goal-delivery, and the Juſtices of Peace of every County, and all Juſtices of Peace in Towns corporate, having authority to hear and determine Felonies, to hear and determine all ſuch offences in their general Seſſions, and to execute the Offendors which ſhall be convicted before them, as in caſes of Felony is accuſtomed: except ſome honeſt perſon valued at the laſt Subſidy next before the time to x.l. in Goods, or xl.s. in Lands, or elſe ſome honeſt Free-holder, as by the ſaid Juſtices ſhall be allowed, will be contented before ſuch Juſtices as ſuch perſon ſhall be arraigned of Felony, to take him or them into his Service for one whole year then next following, and then before the ſaid Juſtices will be found by Recognizance of ten pounds to be levied of his Lands, Goods, Tenements and Chattels, to the uſe of our Soveraign Lady the Queen, if he keep not the ſaid perſon or perſons for one whole year, and bring him to the next Seſſions for the Peace and Gaol-delivery, next enſuing after the ſaid year. And if any ſuch perſon retained depart within the year, without the licence of him that ſo retained him, then to be indicted, tryed and adjudged as a Felon, and not to have the benefit of his Clergy.

The idle wanderer falling ſick by the way.

Provided alwayes, That if any ſuch idle and wandering perſons, as aforeſaid, ſhall happen to fall ſick by the way, ſo that by reaſon of his weakneſs he cannot travel to his Journeys end within the time limited within his teſtimonial, no ſuch to be within the danger of this Statute, ſo as he ſettle himſelf in ſome lawful courſe of life, as aforeſaid, to repair, as aforeſaid, to the place where he was born, or was laſt abiding, within convenient time after the recovery of his ſickneſſe, and there remain, as aforeſaid: Any thing in this Statute contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A remedy, where the wanderer cannot get work.

The hundred taxed for the relief of a Souldier or Mariner.

Provided alſo, and be it further enacted, That when any ſuch Souldier or Mariner coming from the Seas, or from beyond the Seas, as aforeſaid, ſhall repair to the place of his dwelling or birth, according to the purport of the ſaid teſtimonial, and cannot of himſelf get there any work, whereby to imploy himſelf to labour, or other lawful courſe of life, as aforeſaid, that then in every ſuch caſe, upon Complaint made by ſuch Souldier or Mariner to two Juſtices of Peace of the ſaid County, of, or near the ſaid place, the ſaid two Juſtices ſhall take order by their diſcretion, to ſet ſuch Souldier or Mariner to ſome ſuch honeſt labour or work as to them ſhall be thought meet: And for want of ſuch work, the ſaid two Juſtices ſhall tax the whole Hundred by their diſcretion, for the relief of ſuch Souldier or Mariner, till ſuch ſufficient work may be had.

Examined by the Parliament-Roll.

The Souldier or Mariner licenced, may ask and take relief.

Provided alſo, that if any ſuch ſouldier or mariner coming from the Seas, or from beyond the Seas, as aforeſaid, ſhall not at the time of his landing, or in his travel to the place whereunto he is to repair, as aforeſaid, going the direct way, that then he reſort to ſome Juſtice of the Peace, next adjoyning to the ſaid place of landing or way, and make known unto the ſaid Juſtice his poverty: who upon perfect notice thereof had, ſhall have full power and authority by this preſent Act to licence the ſame Souldier or Mariner to paſs the next and direct way to the place where he is to repair, and to limit him ſo much time only as ſhall be neceſſary for his travel thither: And that in ſuch caſe his licence being ſo made, and he purſuing the form of ſuch his licence, ſhall and may for his neceſſary relief in his ſuch travel, ask and take the relief that any perſon ſhall willingly give him, and in ſuch caſe, his ſuch travel and taking of Almes, as aforeſaid, ſhall not be taken as an offence againſt this Law.

No corruption of blood.

Provided alſo, that this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall extend or be interpreted to make or work any corruption of blood in any the heir or heirs of any ſuch Offendor or Offendors: Any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

14 Car. 2. cap. 12.

Provided alſo, and be it further enacted, That this Act ſhall not take any force or effect, till forty dayes next after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, and ſhall continue to the end of the Parliament next enſuing. 3 Car. 4. Continued untill the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament. 1 Jac. cap. 7. 17 Car. 1. cap. 4. continued.

CAP. XIX.

So much of the Stat. of 27 Eliz. 19. as concerneth the amendment of High-wayes in Suſſex, Surrey and Kent, repealed: and another Ordinance made for repair of the ways in the Weilds of Suſſex, &c. uſed for Iron works.

27 Eliz. 19.

WHereas in one Act of Parliament made in the ſeven and twentieth year of the Reign of our Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty that now is, in one Act then made, entituled, An Act for preſervation of Timber in the Wildes of the Counties of Suſſex, Surrey and Kent, and for the amendment of High-wayes decayed by carriage to and from Iron Mills there, ſome remedy is provided for the impairing and ſpoyling of High-wayes by the carriages of Coals, Mine and Iron, to and from the Iron-works within ſome part of the ſaid Counties of Surrey and Kent, and proviſions for the amending of High-wayes decayed in the County of Suſſex, by the ſaid means is left out. And alſo the ſaid Act hath not taken the ſame good effect for the amendment of High-wayes within the ſaid Counties of Surrey and Kent, as hath been expected.

A repeal of ſo much of the ſtat. of 27 Eliz. 19. as concerneth the repairing of high-ways in Surrey and Kent.

Be it therefore enacted by our Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, that ſo much of the ſaid Act of Parliament, made in the ſaid ſeven and twentieth year of the Queens Majeſties Reign, as ſhall concern the amendment of High-wayes in the ſaid Counties of Surrey and Kent, ſhall from henceforth be repealed.

What ſhall be paid for the repair of high-wayes in the Wieldes of Suſſex, Surrey and Kent.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Occupiers of all manner of Iron-works whatſoever, as Owners or Farmors of the ſame, by any eſtate of Inheritance for life, lives, or for term of year or years, or at will, which ſhall at any time hereafter carry or cauſe to be carried any Coals, Mine or Iron, to or for any their Iron-works, between the xii. day of October, and the firſt day of May in any year, ſhall for every three loads of Coal or Mine, as alſo for every tun of Iron, which ſhall be carried by any manner of Wain or Cart, between the ſaid 12th. day of October, and the firſt day of May, by the ſpace of one mile through any high-ways within the ſaid weildes of Suſſex, Surrey, Kent, or any of them, ſhall pay or cauſe to be paid unto the Juſtice of Peace dwelling near unto the places in the ſaid County where the High-wayes ſhall be moſt annoyed, or his aſſign, the ſum of three ſhillings, the ſame to be levied, after default of payment thereof, by ſuch Juſtice of Peace or aſſign by way of diſtreſſe of any of the Goods and Chattels remaining in the ſaid County, of ſuch perſon as ſo ſhould have paid ſuch ſums.

Carriage of Coals, &c. for any Iron-work between the firſt day of May, and the twelfth of October.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every perſon and perſons, Occupier of Iron-work, as aforeſaid, which ſhall at any time hereafter carry, or cauſe to be carried any Coals, Mine or Iron, to or for any their Iron-works, between the firſt day of May, and the twelfth day of October in any year, for every thirty loads of Coals and Mine, or either of them, and for every tun of Iron, to be carried, as aforeſaid, one load of Sindar, Gravel, Stone or Chalk, meet for the repairing and amending of the ſaid High-wayes, as aforeſaid, to be laid and imployed in ſuch place and places of the High-wayes, as by any Juſtice of the Peace of any the Counties aforeſaid, dwelling near unto the places where the High-wayes within the limits aforeſaid, ſhall be moſt annoyed, by any of the means aforeſaid, according to the greater and more preſent neceſſity, ſhall be appointed and aſſigned, or elſe pay or cauſe to be paid, for and in allowance of every Cart load, in manner and form aforeſaid, to have been ſo carried and laid, iii. s. within eight dayes after the demand thereof, at any ſuch Iron-work made, to or from which Iron-work any ſuch carriage ſhall be, to the hand of the ſaid Juſtice of Peace, or his aſſigns, the ſame to be levied after default of payment upon the demand thereof, from time to time by way of diſtreſſe: And if ſuch Juſtice of Peace, by reaſon of abſence, or other occaſion, do not, or ſhall not within forty dayes next after the ſaid firſt day of May, yearly aſſign and appoint, where and in what place of the High-wayes the ſaid Sindar, Gravel, Stone or Chalk, to be carried as aforeſaid, or where or how the money thereof due, or ſo paid, ſhall be imployed and beſtowed, That then the ſame Sindar, Gravel, Stone or Chalk, ſhall be laid and imployed by ſuch perſon or perſons, as by this Act are to carry and lay the ſame, or to cauſe the ſame to be carried and laid, in ſuch place and places of the High-wayes as the Surveyors within the Pariſh for the time being, where the High-wayes ſhall be moſt annoyed, as aforeſaid, ſhall aſſign or appoint, or in default thereof, pay to the ſaid Surveyors for every ſuch load due and uncarried, iii. s. in manner and form aforeſaid, upon pain of forfeiture of x. s. for every load of Sindar, Gravel, Stone or Chalk, not carried, laid, and imployed in the High-wayes, or iii. s. unpaid, as is aforeſaid, to be forfeited and paid by the perſon and perſons, which by this Act ought to carry and lay, or cauſe to be carried and laid, the Sindar, Gravel, Stone or Chalk, or therefore to have paid, as is aforeſaid, after due conviction and preſentment thereof had before the Juſtices of Oyer and Terminer, or Juſtices of Peace, in any of their open Seſſion or Seſſions, to be holden before them or any of them: All which ſum and ſums of money to be forfeited by reaſon of this Act, for or in default of carriage and laying of the ſaid Sindar, Gravel, Stone or Chalk, or payment thereof, as aforeſaid, ſhall be likewiſe beſtowed and imployed upon the amendment and repairing of the High-wayes, at and by the diſcretion of any ſuch Juſtice of Peace, as ſhall dwell and be reſident next unto the place and places, being moſt annoyed by the carriages aforeſaid, the ſame to be levied by way of diſtreſſe, by any Conſtable, Tythingman, Headborough, or other Officer thereunto to be aſſigned, by warrant made in open Seſſions by any Clerk of the Peace of the County where any the offence or offences aforeſaid, ſhall

In default of the Juſtice of Peace, the Surveyors ſhall have the impoſition of the gravel, &c.

The forfeiture of the offendor.

How the money forfeited ſhall be levied and imployed.

The penalty if no diſtreſs can be found, nor the offendor do not pay within the time limited.

ſhall be committed, or by any two Juſtices of the Peace, whereof one to be of the Quorum, which were preſent at the Seſſions, wherein the ſaid conviction, of, or for any the offences aforeſaid ſhall be had: And if no ſufficient diſtreſſe can be found by the ſaid Officer appointed to levy the ſame, or if the ſaid Offendor do not pay the ſame within twenty dayes after a lawful demand of the ſame, by the ſaid Officer to be appointed for the levying thereof, as aforeſaid, that then every perſon ſo denying or refuſing, and not paying the ſame forfeiture, within twenty dayes aforeſaid, to forfeit the double ſum he ſhould before have paid, to be levied by ſuch wayes and means, as to any two of the Juſtices of the Peace of the ſame County where the ſaid offence ſhall be committed, whereof one to be of the Quorum, ſhall be thought moſt meet: the ſame forfeiture to be likewiſe employed upon the amendment of the High-wayes, as the other forfeitures ſhould have been, if the ſame had been levied according to the true intent and meaning of this Statute.

In what caſe the Surveyors ſhall appoint where the gravel, ſtone, &c. ſhall be laid.

Preſentment of offendors at the quarter Seſſions.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Surveyor or Surveyors, from time to time for the time being, within the Pariſh where the High ways ſhall be moſt annoyed, upon default of the ſaid Juſtices, as aforeſaid, within xx. days after ſuch default of the Juſtice of Peace, as aforeſaid, ſhall aſſign or appoint where and in what place of the high-ways, the ſaid ſindar, gravel, ſtone or chalk, or the forfeiture of money to be beſtowed, ſhall be carried and laid as aforeſaid, and upon pain of forfeiture of every ſuch Surveyor or Surveyors, for every ſuch default xl. s. And the ſaid Surveyors ſhall make demand according to the limitation of this preſent Act, of all and every ſuch forfeiture and ſums of money limited to be paid in default of ſuch carriages, as aforeſaid, upon pain to forfeit for every ſuch default, xl. s. And ſhall alſo make preſentment of every ſuch default of carriage, or payment, contrary to the tenor of this preſent Act, at the next Quarter Seſſion to be holden for the ſaid County, where ſuch default of carriage and payment ſhall be, upon pain to forfeit for every ſuch default of preſentment, as aforeſaid, forty ſhillings. The one moyety of ſuch forfeiture and forfeitures to be to the Queens Majeſty, the other moyety to ſuch perſon or perſons as will ſue for the ſame, by action, bill, plaint or information, in any of her Majeſties Courts of Record, where no wager of Law, Eſſoyn or Protection, ſhall be allowed.

CAP. XX.

No perſon on the North ſide of Trent ſhall ſtretch or ſtrain any Cloth made, nor uſe any Tenter, &c.

The enormities enſuing the ſtretching of northern Clothes, and the cauſes thereof.

No perſon ſhall ſtretch or ſtrain clothes made on the North ſide of Trent.
5 Ed. 6. 6.
43 Eliz. 10.

IN moſt humble and dutiful wiſe ſheweth, beſeeching your Highneſſe, your true and faithful Subjects, the Clothiers and Chapmen of your Counties of York, Lancaſter, and other your Highneſs Counties on the North ſide of the River of Trent, That notwithſtanding the many good and wholeſome Laws heretofore made for the true making of good and true Clothes and Kerſies, which Laws, either by ſome wants in the Statutes already made, or for lack of the due execution of the ſaid Laws, have not only not reſtrained the abuſe in making of Clothes and Kerſies, but rather have encreaſed the ſame, inſomuch that the ſaid Northern Clothes and Kerſies do yearly and daily grow worſe and worſe, and are made more light, and much more ſtretched and ſtrained than heretofore they have been, to the great deceit of all Nations where the ſaid Clothes and Kerſies are ſold, and to the great ſhame and ſlander of the Country where the ſame is made, And within ſhort time like utterly to overthrow the Trade of Clothmaking in thoſe Countries, whereupon ſo many thouſands of your Subjects do now live and are maintained: which great enormities your faithful Subjects do chiefly impute to the great number of Tenters and other Engines daily uſed and practiſed in the ſaid Counties for the ſtretching and ſtraining of the ſaid Clothes and Kerſies: For remedy and redreſs whereof, your ſaid Subjects humbly beſeech your moſt excellent Majeſty, that it may pleaſe your Highneſs, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, it may be enacted, any ſtatute or law whatſoever to the contrary notwithſtanding, That no perſon or perſons within any the Counties aforeſaid, from and after the twentieth day of September now next coming, ſhall ſtretch or ſtrain, or cauſe to be ſtretched or ſtrained any Clothes, Dozens, Kerſies, Peniſtones, Ruggs, Frizes, Kighley Whites, plain Grayes, or any other Clothes, by what name or names ſoever they be called, made, or hereafter to be made, within the ſaid County of York, Lancaſter, or any other the Counties on the North of Trent, upon pain to forfeit for every default five pounds.

None ſhall uſe any tenter or engine to ſtretch or ſtrain any Northern clothes.

And further, That no perſon or perſons, from and after the ſaid twentieth day of September, within the Counties aforeſaid, or any of them, ſhall have, uſe, or occupy any Tenter, of what ſort or kind ſoever, or any manner of wrinch, rope, or other Engines, to ſtretch or ſtrain any Clothes, Kerſies, Dozens, Peniſtones, Ruggs, Frizes, Cottons, Kighley Whites, plain Grayes, or any other Cloth, of what kind or name ſoever it or they be called, made, wrought, or to be made or wrought within the ſaid Counties, upon pain that every Offendor that ſhall have, or uſe, or exerciſe any ſuch Tenter, of what ſort or kind ſoever, or any manner of rope, wrinch, ring-head, or engine, ſhall forfeit for every ſuch default twenty pounds.

Northern Clothes ſhall be made of ſuch weights, lengths and breadths, as by former ſtatutes is appointed.

And further, That every perſon or perſons within the Counties aforeſaid, or any of them, which ſhall make or cauſe to be made any Clothes, Kerſies, Dozens, Cottons, Peniſtones, plain Grayes, Kighly Whites, Frizes, or any other Cloth, by what name or names ſoever it or they be called, ſhall make the ſame of ſuch weights, lengths and bredths, as by the Statutes of this Realm already in force is provided, under the pains in the ſame Statutes contained: and before the ſame be ſold, or ſuffered to be ſold, ſhall ſet his Seal of Lead unto every of the ſame Clothes, Kerſies, Dozens, Cottons, plain Grayes, Peniſtones, Kighley Whites, Frizes, or by what name or names ſoever it or they be called: In which ſaid Seal of Lead ſhall be contained the true and juſt length, and the true and juſt weight at the leaſt of every ſuch Cloth, Kerſie, Dozen, Cotton, Peniſtone, plain Grayes, Kighley Whites, Frizes, or by what name or names ſoever it or they ſhall be called, as it ſhall be duely found by due proof thereof to be tryed by water or weight, upon pain to forfeit every Cloth, Dozen, Cottons, Kerſie, Peniſtone, plain Grayes, Kighley Whites, Frizes, or other Cloth, by what name or names ſoever it or they be called, which ſhall be made within any the Counties aforeſaid, whereunto ſuch ſeal, as is aforeſaid, ſhall not be put and ſet: And in caſe upon proof to be made by water or weight of any ſuch Clothes, Kerſies, Dozens, Cottons, Peniſtones, plain Grayes, Kighley Whites, Frizes, or any other Cloth, as is aforeſaid, ſhall be found of leſſe weight, or of ſmaller content in length, than is contained or ſpecified in any of the ſaid Seals, that the Owner of every ſuch Clothes, Kerſies, Dozens, Cottons, Peniſtones, plain Grayes, Kighley Whites and Frizes, or any other Cloth, by what name or names ſoever they be called, as aforeſaid, or any other perſon or perſons, in whoſe hands or poſſeſſions any ſuch Clothes, Kerſies, Dozens, Cottons, Peniſtones, plain Grayes, Kighley Whites, Frizes, or any other Cloth, by what name or names ſoever they be called, ſhall be found, ſhall forfeit for every yard wanting in length, four ſhillings: and for every pound wanting in weight, two ſhillings.

A ſeal of lead ſhall be ſet to every Northern Cloth containing the length and weight thereof.

The forfeitures for want of length and weight.

And for the better and more ſpeedy and effectual reforming of all ſuch abuſes, as is aforeſaid, Be it further enacted, That in every Pariſh, Town, Village and Hamlet within the Counties aforeſaid, where any Clothes, Kerſies, Dozens, Cottons, Peniſtones, plain Grayes, Kighley Whites, Frizes, or any other Cloth, by what name or names ſoever they be called, ſhall be made or ſold, the Juſtices of Peace of the ſame Shire or Riding, or two of them at the leaſt, and in every City, Borough or Town corporate, the head-Officer or Officers of every of the ſame City, Borough or Town corporate, together with ſome one or two of the Juſtices of the Peace of the Shire or Riding next adjoyning to ſuch City, Borough or Town corporate, ſhall have full power and authority, and ſhall by vertue of this Act, once every year at the leaſt, and as often as they ſhall think good, to convent and call before them by their precept or otherwiſe, two, four, ſix or eight, or more, as they ſhall think good by their diſcretion, of the moſt honeſt, diſcreet, and able men of every ſuch City, Town, Village, Hamlet or Pariſh where any ſuch Cloth ſhall be made or ſold, and them ſhall conſtitute, ordain and appoint to be Overſeers for one whole year, or ſix moneths, or ſhorter time at their diſcretions, then next following, within the City, Borough, Town, Village, Hamlet or Pariſh where the ſame Overſeers ſhall be dwelling, and ſhall and may take them ſworn and bound in Recognizance of forty pounds a piece to the uſe of your moſt excellent Majeſty and your Succeſſors, to do their beſt endeavour by all lawful ways and means for their time, to ſee that this Statute in all points ſhall be truly obſerved and kept within the limits of their charge in every part thereof, and that the ſame Overſeers, or two of them, ſhall once every moneth at the leaſt, or ſo often as need ſhall require, or they ſhall think fit by their diſcretions, by force hereof viſit and go into all, or any houſe or houſes, or other rooms of any Clothiers, Drapers, Clothworkers, or of any other perſon or perſons whatſoever, where any of the ſaid Cloth ſhall be, and there to make due ſearch, and view the ſame made, or remaining to be ſold, and to take, ſearch and try, as well by weight, water, or any other way whatſoever, the ſaid Clothes, Kerſies, Dozens, Cottons, Peniſtones, Kighley Whites and Frizes, or any other Clothes, by what name or names they be called: and if any Clothes aforeſaid, upon ſearch thereof, ſhall not be found to be ſealed with a Seal, containing the length and weight as aforeſaid, then the Clothier and every Owner of the ſaid Cloth, ſhall forfeit every ſuch Cloth, Kerſies, Dozens, Cottons, Peniſtones, Kighley Whites, and Frizes, or any other Cloth by what name or names ſoever they be called, made within the Counties aforeſaid, not to be ſealed and ſold, or offered to be ſold, and the ſaid Overſeers, and every of them, ſhall and may ſeiſe and carry away the ſame ſo forfeited as aforeſaid, and preſent the ſame to the Juſtices of Peace at the next Quarter-Seſſions, to be by them diſpoſed of, as hereafter is in theſe preſents limited and appointed.

Overſeers of Clothmaking ſhall be appointed by the Juſtices of Peace, or head Officer of corporate Towns.

The Overſeers duty, and they ſhall make ſearch.

The forfeiture of the Cloth for default of ſealing.

And if the ſaid Overſeers ſhall find any falſe ſeal or mark to be ſet upon any Cloth aforeſaid, or ſhall upon ſearch, as aforeſaid, find the ſame Clothes aforeſaid to be ſtretched or ſtrained, then the ſame Overſeers ſhall preſent the ſame defaults unto the Juſtices at the next Quarter-Seſſions, and the names of the Owners or Poſſeſſors of ſuch Clothes, Kerſies, Dozens, Cottons, Peniſtones, Kighley Whites and Frizes, or any other Clothes, by what name or names they be called, ſo found defective; And if any manner of perſon or perſons at any time after the ſaid twentieth day of September, ſhall deny, withſtand, or withhold any Clothes, Kerſies, Dozens, Cottons, Peniſtones, Kighly Whites and Frizes, or any other Cloth, by what name or names ſoever they be called, from the ſaid Overſeers, or any of them, or will not ſuffer them to enter into any of the houſes, ſhops, rooms, or other places where any ſuch Clothes ſhall be, that then every ſuch perſon or perſons ſo denying or withſtanding, ſhall for the firſt offence, forfeit and loſe ten pound, and for the ſecond offence twenty pound, and for the third offence, being thereof lawfully convicted by verdict of twelve men, and two ſufficient witneſſes, ſhall ſtand upon the Pillory in the next Market Town: And if any of the ſaid perſons ſo commanded to appear, to be made Overſeers, as aforeſaid, and having no reaſonable excuſe, refuſe to come, and take upon him or them to be Overſeers, as aforeſaid, that then every ſuch perſon ſo refuſing, and having no reaſonable excuſe ſo to do, ſhall forfeit for every ſuch refuſing, five pounds, the one half thereof to be to your moſt excellent Majeſty, and your Succeſſors, and the other half to the Juſtices of the Peace, or other head-Officer or Officers, by whoſe commandment he was appointed to be Overſeer; and the Overſeers ſo offending, to remain in the Ward of the Sheriff, Bayliff, or other head-Officer, untill ſuch time as he hath made payment of the forfeiture, or otherwiſe put in ſufficient Bond for the ſatisfaction of the ſame.

The penalty for ſetting of a falſe ſeal, or for ſtraining or ſtretching of Cloth.

The forfeitures for withholding of faulty Cloth or denying of ſearch.

The forfeiture for refuſing to be Overſeer.

And to the end that the ſaid Clothes, Kerſies, Dozens, Cottons, Peniſtones, Kighley Whites and Frizes, or any other Clothes, by what name or names ſoever they be called, ſo to be viewed and ſearched, may be the better known: It is therefore enacted, That the

The Overſeers ſhall fix a ſeal of lead to the clothes. 7 Jac. 16.

ſaid Overſeers ſhall fix unto every kind of the Clothes aforeſaid, a Seal of Lead containing the length and the weight of every ſuch Clothes (together with this word Searched) which Cloth ſo ſealed by the ſaid Overſeers, ſhall not be ſearched, tryed, or viewed by any other Searcher or Overſeer of any other City, Borough, Town, Village, Pariſh or Hamlet, by vertue of his or their ſaid Office or Offices: Any thing in this Act, or in any other Statute to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The penalty for ſetting of Seals to Clothes, or taking them away without Warrant.

And further, the ſaid Clothiers, and other Inhabitants do humbly pray, that it may be likewiſe enacted, That if any perſon or perſons, but ſuch as are appointed, aſſigned and permitted by this Act, or their Servants or Deputies, do at any time after the ſaid twentieth day of September, counterfeit to ſet to, or willingly and wittingly take away from any the ſaid Clothes, Kerſies, Dozens, Cottons, Peniſtones, Kighley Whites and Frizes, or any other Cloth, by what name or names ſoever they be called, made within the Counties aforeſaid, any of the Seals ſo to be fixed, as above is recited, that then every perſon ſo offending, ſhall for the firſt offence forfeit and loſe x. l. and for the ſecond offence, being thereof lawfully convicted by the verdict of twelve men, and two ſufficient witneſſes, ſtand upon the Pillory, and loſe and forfeit to your moſt excellent Majeſty, your Heirs and Succeſſors, x. l.

Juſtices of Peace, head Conſtables and Overſeers may ſearch for ropes, rings, wrinches, &c. and deface them.

The puniſhment for the ſecond offence.

The forfeiture for reſiſting of ſearch.

And to the end that the ſaid Statutes and Laws aforeſaid may be the more effectually executed, and all ſtretching and ſtraining, and falſifying of any the Clothes aforeſaid taken away, It may be alſo enacted, That every Juſtice of the Peace, head-Conſtable, or other the Overſeers aforeſaid, ſhall have full power and lawful authority to enter in, or upon any the Meſſuages, Tenements, Houſes, Buildings, Lands or Grounds of any perſon or perſons whatſoever, to ſearch for any ſuch Tenters, of what ſort or kind ſoever, or any manner of ropes, rings, heads, wrinches, or other engines whatſoever, whereby any falſhood or deceit may be uſed in or about the ſtretching and ſtraining of any the ſaid Clothes, Kerſies, Dozens, Frizes, Cottons, Peniſtones, Kighley Whites, or any other Cloth, by what name or names ſoever they be called, or any of them: And if they ſhould find any ſuch Tenters, of what ſort or kind ſoever, or any manner of ropes, rings, heads, wrings or engines, they ſhall and may utterly deface the ſame, in ſuch ſort as they cannot be imployed again to any ſuch uſe. And if any perſon or perſons, with whom any ſuch ſhall once have been found, ſhall after that be known to have or uſe any ſuch Tenter, of what ſort or kind ſoever, any manner of rope, ring, head, wrinch, wring or engine, that then the ſaid Juſtices, head-Conſtables or Overſeers, or any of them, within the ſeveral Precincts, ſhall take and ſell the ſame to the beſt value thereof, and by the conſent of two Juſtices of Peace within the ſame County, diſpoſe the money thereof coming, to the poor of that Pariſh where the ſame ſhall be ſo taken: and that upon complaint made, or information given of any ſuch Tenter, of what ſort or kind ſoever, or any manner of rope, head, ring, wrinch or wring, or any other engine, to any Juſtice of Peace, every one of them to whom ſuch complaint ſhall be made, or information given, ſhall within ſeven dayes next enſuing ſuch complaint or information given, repair to the place where the ſame ſhall be ſo had and uſed, and then and there execute this Law, as aforeſaid, upon the pain hereafter in this preſent Act expreſſed: And that if any perſon or perſons ſhall withſtand or reſiſt any ſuch Juſtice of Peace, or other head Officers, in, or about, touching or concerning the execution of the premiſſes, every ſuch perſon or perſons ſhall forfeit and ſuffer, as is before limited for reſiſting the Overſeers in the ſearch.

A Juſtices forfeiture for being negligent in the execution of his duty herein.

Who ſhall have the forfeitures.

And if any the Juſtices, or Juſtice of Peace, within the limits or bounds of his or their Commiſſion ſhall be negligent, or make default in doing of any thing, touching or concerning the due or true execution of this Statute, or any thing therein contained, every ſuch Juſtice of Peace for every ſuch default, ſhall forfeit and loſe five pounds. And that all ſuch forfeitures as ſhall happen or grow by reaſon of this Act, ſhall be one third part thereof to ſuch perſon or perſons as ſhall be then Overſeers, one third part to the uſe of our Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty, and one other third part to the uſe of the poor, to be imployed to the uſe of the poor, in ſuch ſort as the Juſtices of Peace in their Quarter-Seſſions to be holden next after Judgment had or given for the ſame, ſhall limit and appoint.

Juſtices of Peace ſhall hear and determine the aforeſaid offences.

And that the ſaid Juſtices of Peace in the Quarter-Seſſions, ſhall, and may enquire, hear and determine every fault or offence, made or done contrary to this preſent Act, or any thing therein contained, except the offences committed, and forfeitures made by the Juſtices of Peace, by preſentment, bill or information, and upon proof thereof made by the teſtimony of two ſufficient witneſſes openly given to the Jury, and then upon preſentment made by the Jury to give order for the execution of this Statute, and every clauſe therein contained, and for the recovery of the penalties aforeſaid, to the uſes aforeſaid.

The Juſtices of Aſſiſe ſhall hear and determine the offences of the Juſtice of Peace.

And that the Juſtices of Aſſiſe, ſhall and may enquire, hear and determine every fault or offence made or done by any Juſtice of Peace, contrary to this preſent Act, in neglect of their duty, in or about, touching or concerning the execution of this preſent Act, and upon proof thereof made by two ſufficient witneſſes, and by the preſentment of the Jury, ſhall and may give order for recovery and imployment of the penalties and forfeitures by them committed, and made to the uſes aforeſaid: and for default of juſtice to be done, in manner and form aforeſaid, by the Juſtices of Peace, or Juſtices of Aſſiſe, then the one moyety of all ſuch forfeitures to be the one half thereof to her Majeſty, the other to him that will ſue for the ſame by action of Debt, Bill, Plaint, Information, &c. in any of her Majeſties Court or Courts of Record at Weſtminſter, in which no wager of Law, Protection or Eſſoyn, ſhall be admitted or allowed.

Searching of Northern Clothes brought to London to be ſold.

Provided nevertheleſſe, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every kind of Clothes aforeſaid, by what name ſoever they be called, which ſhall be made after the day aforeſaid, within the Counties aforeſaid, and brought up to the City of London to be ſold there, ſhall be brought into the common Cloth Market-place within the ſaid City, commonly called Blackwell-Hall, to be there ſearched dry, without wetting, and out of market-times, by the Searchers of the ſaid City, upon pain that every Owner of any ſuch Cloth, ſhall forfeit for every ſuch Cloth not ſo brought into the market, forty ſhillings, and upon pain that every Searcher that ſhall ſearch at any time in the market times, to the diſturbance of the ſale of ſuch Clothes in the market there, ſhall forfeit for every ſuch ſearch ſo made, five pounds: All which ſaid forfeitures ſhall be the one moyety to the uſe of our Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, the other to ſuch perſon or perſons as ſhall ſue for the ſame by action of Debt or Information, in which Suits no wager of Law, Protection or Eſſoine, ſhall be admitted or allowed.

CAP. XXI.

There ſhall be a further taxation for the relief of Souldiers and Mariners, where ſufficient was not provided by the Statute of 35 Eliz. 4. The greateſt rate of every Pariſh to be taxed, ſhall be viii. d. and the leaſt ii. d. weekly. Another proviſion, if the rate be not ſufficient for the Souldiers and Mariners in London. Treaſurers ſhall be appointed by the Juſtices. The Juſtices may alter the relief of Souldiers or Mariners. EXP. 43 Eliz. 3. 43 Eliz. 9.

CAP. XXII.

Eſtabliſhment of the Biſhoprick of Norwich; and the poſſeſſions of the ſame, againſt a pretended concealed Title made thereunto, &c.

Where in the ſeven and twentieth year of the reign of the late King of famous memory, King Henry the eighth, It was enacted by authority of Parliament, that ſuch perſon as ſhould then next after be Biſhop of the See of Norwich, being then void, and his Succeſſors, Biſhops of the ſaid See, ſhould have and enjoy, united and knit to the ſaid Biſhoprick, the Monaſtery of S. Benets, in the County of Norfolk, and all the poſſeſſions of the ſame: And where William Rugge was next Biſhop of the ſaid See, and by force of the ſaid Act was ſeiſed to him and his Succeſſors in fee-ſimple, of, and in the ſaid Monaſtery, and the poſſeſſions of the ſame: And afterward William, by the name of William, by the permiſſion of God Biſhop of Norwich, true and undoubted Patron of the Hoſpital of St. Giles in Norwich, and Nicholas Shaxton Maſter or Guardian of the ſaid Hoſpital, and the Brethren of the ſame, by their Deed: bearing date the ſixth day of March in the firſt year of the late King Edward the ſixth, and in due form of law acknowledged and inrolled, did give, grant, and confirm to the ſaid King Edward the ſixth, his Heirs and Succeſſors, the ſaid Hoſpital, and the Poſſeſſions and Hereditaments belonging to the ſame, as by the ſaid Deed and Inrolment thereof may appear. By force whereof the ſaid King Edward the ſixth was of the ſaid Hoſpital, and the poſſeſſions of the ſame, ſeiſed in his Demeſne as of fee in the right of his Crown of England: And ſo ſeized, diſpoſed of the ſame, as to his Highneſſe did ſeem good, ever ſince which ſaid Grant, and ſince the ſaid Statute made in the ſaid ſeven and twentieth year of King Henry the eighth, the ſaid Biſhop of Norwich and his Succeſſors have had and enjoyed the ſaid Biſhoprick, and the ſaid late Monaſtery of S. Benets, and all the Poſſeſſions and Hereditaments late belonging to the ſame Monaſtery or Biſhoprick, and have, and yet do maintain their Eſtates of and by the Revenues of the ſame, and thereout of have ever ſince paid unto King Edward the ſixth, Queen Mary, and to the Queens Majeſty that now is, and yet do pay unto her Majeſty Firſt-fruits, Tenths and Subſidies, as all other the Biſhops of the Realm have done and have demiſed, let and ſet divers the poſſeſſions of the ſaid Biſhoprick, late the poſſeſſions of the ſaid late Monaſtery to our Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty, and to ſundry others for divers Eſtates, Intereſts, and terms of years, which ſaid Intereſts are by many ſeveral Conveyances paſſed from hand to hand to very many her Majeſties dutiful Subjects, whoſe whole livelyhood, or a great part thereof dependeth thereupon: yet certain perſons of a greedy and covetous deſire to enrich themſelves, have, to the great deceit of her Highneſſe, to the impeachment of the ſaid Biſhoprick, and to the unjuſt diſturbance of the Biſhops of the ſame See, their Tenants and Farmors, obtained of her Majeſty (little ſuſpecting their evil intention) a grant in fee Farm by her Letters Patents, bearing date the ii. day of Auguſt, in the ſeven and twentieth year of her happy Reign, of all or the moſt part of the Poſſeſſions of the ſaid Biſhoprick under the name of a Cottage, and of all Lands, Tenements, Tythes and Hereditaments, with the Appurtenauces within the Deaneries of Fleg, Brook, Warham, Bloſield, Repes and Deepwade, or any of them in the County of Norfolk, to the late Monaſtery of Saint Benets of Hulm, belonging and appertaining, at or under the yearly Rent only of forty ſhillings by year, as by the ſaid Letters Patents may appear, pretending now that the ſaid Poſſeſſions of the ſaid Biſhoprick, which were, as aforeſaid, firſt the Poſſeſſions of the ſaid Monaſtery, were by the ſaid William late Biſhop of Norwich, by ſome general words conveyed to King Edward the ſixth, his Heirs and Succeſſors, by the aforeſaid Deed, dated the ſixth day of March, in the firſt year of his Reign: whereas indeed he the ſaid Biſhop joyned with the ſaid Maſter and Brethren, as Patron of the ſaid Hoſpital onely, to ſtrengthen the ſaid Grant of the ſaid Hoſpital, and the Poſſeſſions thereof, and not intending any way to touch any the Poſſeſſions of the ſaid Biſhoprick. Which ſaid Grant being ſo indirectly againſt the gracious meaning of our ſaid Soveraign Lady, and without conſideration other than as aforeſaid obtained, they the ſaid Concealors have conveyed the ſaid Premiſſes, or ſome part thereof, unto others not ignorant of the ſaid fraud and ill practice, who have by colour of the ſaid pretended Title, attempted to trouble the Poſſeſſion of divers the Tenants and Farmors of the ſaid Biſhoprick: For remedy whereof, and becauſe it is moſt manifeſt, that neither the ſaid William late Biſhop, by the ſaid Deed made in the ſaid firſt year of the

By a ſtat. not printed, made 27 H. 8. the Monaſtery of S. Benets was annexed to the Biſhoprick of Norwich. Co. Inſt. 4. part, 257.

A Surrender to King Ed. 6 of the Hoſpital of S. Giles in Norwich.

A grant in fee farm made by the Queen of a Cottage, and of all lands within the Deanery of Fleg, &c belonging to the late Monaſtery of S. Benets.

Reign of King Edward the ſixth, did mean to give or grant, or the ſaid King Edward the ſixth, thereby to have or take any part of the poſſeſſions aforeſaid, of the ſaid Biſhoprick, neither yet her Majeſty took any knowledge of any ſuch pretended Title, neither meant to paſſe any ſuch to the ſaid Concealors, and yet ſome trouble may ariſe by colour of the ſaid pretended Title.

The Deed made to King Ed. 6. ſhall not be conſtrued of any of the lands of the Biſhop of Norwich.

Be it therefore enacted by our ſaid Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the ſaid Deed dated the ſixth day of March, in the ſaid firſt year of the Reign of the ſaid King Edward the ſixth, ſhall be taken, conſtrued and adjudged, not to have conveyed to the ſaid King, his Heirs and Succeſſors, any Manors, Lands, Tenements, Services, Rents, Rectories, Tythes, Advowſons, Liberties, or Hereditaments whatſoever, of the ſaid late Monaſtery of S. Benets, alias S. Benets of Hulme, or of the ſaid Biſhoprick, or belonging thereunto, or to either of them: but that the ſame, and every part thereof ſhall be deemed and adjudged to have remained, continued, and been in the ſaid William then Biſhop of the ſaid See, and his Succeſſors, and ſhall at all times for ever hereafter remain, continue, and be, and ſo be adjudged to remain, continue, and be in the now Biſhop of the ſaid See, and his Succeſſors for ever, of ſuch and the like eſtate, and in ſuch manner, form, and condition, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as if the ſaid Deed had never been had ne made.

A confirmation of the lands of the Biſhop of Norwich, to the now Biſhop and his Succeſſors.

The ſtat. ſhall not extend to the lands of S. Giles Hoſpital.

Provided, that this Act ſhall not extend to the ſaid now or late Hoſpital, nor any Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, Goods, Chattels, Rights or Credits, now or late belonging to the ſame, nor to the Patronage thereof, nor to any thing whereof, or whereto the ſaid late Maſter or Guardian, and Brethren of the ſaid late Hoſpital, were ſeiſed, poſſeſſed or intituled, but that the ſaid Deed, as to the ſame and every part thereof, ſhall be good and effectual in Law to all intents and purpoſes, as if this Act had never been had nor made, (Any thing aforeſaid to the contrary notwithſtanding.) Saving to all perſon and perſons, bodies politick and corporate, their Heirs and Succeſſors, Executors, Adminiſtrators, and Aſſigns (other than the ſaid late King Edward the ſixth, Queen Mary, the Queens Majeſty that now is, their and every their Heirs, Succeſſors and Aſſigns) claiming any the ſaid Poſſeſſions of the ſaid late Monaſtery, or of the ſaid Biſhoprick, by force, vertue, or colour of the ſaid Deed, made to the ſaid late King Edward the ſixth, all Eſtates, Intereſts, Rights, Titles, Claims, Conditions, Services, Rents and Demands whatſoever, as if this Act had never been had or made.

A ſaving of the right of others.

Bonds and Covenants made with the Queens Patentees, and their Aſſignees, parties to the fraud, ſhall be void.

Provided alwayes, and be it enacted, That all and ſingular Statutes, Recognizances, Bonds, Covenants and Agreements heretofore had or made, to or with the ſaid Patentees in the ſaid Letters Patents named, or any of them, or to or with any other perſon or perſons claiming by, from, or under them, or any of them, being parties or privy to the ſaid practice or fraud, for or concerning any of the ſaid Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, now, or heretofore parcel of the ſaid Biſhoprick, ſhall be utterly void, for any matter or thing touching or concerning only the ſame Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, or any part thereof, now or hereafter parcel of the ſaid Biſhoprick.

CAP. XXIII.

The Inhabitants of the County of Monmouth ſhall ſtand chargeable for the making and repairing of Newport and Carlion Bridges over the River of Uske, as need ſhall require. And ſuch order ſhall be obſerved for the aſſeſment, gathering, and imployment of the money thereupon to be ſpent, as is appointed by the Stat. of 22 H. 8. 5. But no Town corporate ſhall be chargeable to be contributory thereunto, which is bound by any Law to make or repair any Bridge over any main River. P R.

CAP. XXIV.

A convenient Bridge of Stone or Timber, or both, ſhall be made and finiſhed at Wilton upon Wye, in the County of Hereford, near unto the Town of Roſs, by the Inhabitants of the ſaid County, in ſuch place there, as by the Juſtices of Peace of the County ſhall be appointed, within ſeven years next after the diſſolution of this Parliament, being 9. die Febr. Anno Dom. 1597. Pontage ſhall be taken of the ſame Bridge in form following, and not otherwiſe, viz. every perſon ſhall pay for every Cart, Carre, or Wain laden, driven over the ſaid Bridge, ii. d. and for every Horſe laden with a pack, i. d. and for every ten ſheep or upward to twenty, ii. d. and for every twenty ſheep, iii. d. and for five Beaſts, to the number of twenty, ii. d. and for every twenty Beaſts, vi, d. and ſo proportionably according to that rate. Two Burgeſſes of the Town of Roſs, and two Freeholders of the County of Hereford, ſhall be yearly choſen Collectors of the ſaid Pontage: to whom, or to their deputies, it ſhall be lawful to diſtrain and impound any perſons Beaſts, Sheep, &c. refuſing to pay the ſaid Pontage. And the ſaid Collectors ſhall yearly pay to Charles Bridges, his Heirs or Aſſigns (upon whoſe land the Bridge ſhall be builded) ten pounds at the Feaſt of St. Michael. And the ſaid Collectors ſhall yearly make account of the profits of the ſaid Pontage. A proviſo to diſcharge them and their Heirs that do yearly pay Corn to the Keepers of the paſſing there for their Pontage, &c. P R.

CAP. XXV.

Remedy for the Inhabitants of the Hundreds of Benhurſt in the County of Berks, for recovery of ſuch ſums of money as ſhall be obtained of them by force of the Statute of 27 Eliz. 13.

In moſt humble wiſe beſeecheth your moſt excellent Majeſty, the poor Inhabitants of the Hundred of Beynerſh, alias Benhurſt, within the County of Berks, that whereas the ſaid Hundred doth conſiſt only of five ſmall Villages, and three ſmall Quillets or Hamlets, and hath lying through it two great road High-wayes, the one leading from London to Henly upon Thames, the other from London to Reading, and either of them at the leaſt three miles in length, within the great woody ground called the Thicket, And no one of the ſame Villages ſtandeth upon or adjoyning to either of the ſaid wayes, but lie diſperſedly far from the ſame: Neither have the Inhabitants of the ſame Hundred any open or common Fields, either arable or other, adjoyning or lying near to ſuch parts of the ſame wayes (within the ſaid Thicket) as are moſt apt for Robberies to be done, whereby they may have their Servants or Workmen lavouring within the view of the ſame wayes, to take notice of the Robberies done, and therefore the ſaid Inhabitants cannot well have any ſpeedy notice or intelligence of any Robbery which ſhall be there committed, unleſs the party or parties robbed ſhould give the ſame unto them. And the ſeveral lengths and manner of the lying of the ſame wayes are ſuch, as all the able men of the ſame ſmall Hundred, cannot ſo watch the ſame ſeveral wayes, as that thereby Robberies may be prevented. And whereas alſo notice of ſuch Robberies, as have been of late years done there, have been (for the moſt part) given by the party robbed, at the Town of Maidenhead, which is out of that Hundred, and three miles diſtant from the aforeſaid thieviſh places in the Thicket, where the Robberies are moſt uſually done: And yet upon ſuch notice of Robberies given at Maidenhead aforeſaid, (being out the Hundred) there hath been lately (within one year) the ſum of twelveſcore and fifteen pound recovered upon the aforeſaid Statutes againſt the ſmall Hundred of Beynerſh, alias Benhurſt, which had no notice of the ſame Robberies, whereby many of the poor Inhabitants thereof have been, and are utterly impoveriſhed, to the utter ruine and overthrow of them, their Wives and Children, and many other the like extremities may (by the aforeſaid Statutes) fall upon them, though it lieth not in their power (as well for want of notice, as otherwiſe) to perform the ſame Statutes: So as the Inhabitants thereof are like to be generally impoveriſhed, or enforced to remove their dwellings into ſome other Hundred, without ſome relief ſhall be for them in that behalf provided: That it may be enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the Inhabitants of the ſaid Hundred of Beynerſh, alias Benhurſt, ſhall and may to their own proper uſe, in the name of the Clerk of the Peace of the ſaid County of Berkſhire, recover, have, and levy all ſuch ſums of money, Coſts and Damages, as hereafter ſhall be recovered or levied, of, or againſt them by the aforeſaid Statutes, or any of them, againſt the Inhabitants or Reſiants of every or any ſuch Hundred, with the Franchiſes within the precinct thereof, wherein neglience, fault, or defect of ſuch purſuit and freſh ſuit (as by the ſaid Statute of the ſeven and twentieth year of your Majeſties Reign is appointed to be made) ſhall happen to be, after notice given, or Hue-and-Cry brought to the ſame Inhabitants or Reſiants, or any of them, of, or upon any Robbery, which ſhall be at any time hereafter done, within the ſaid Hundred of Beynerſh, alias Benhurſt, And that this preſent Act ſhall give as full power and authority in all reſpects, to the Inhabitants of the ſaid Hundred of Beynerſh, alias Benhurſt (in the name of the Clerk of the Peace of the ſaid County) for recovery, having, and levying of all the ſaid money, Coſts and Damages, as aforeſaid, as the aforeſaid Statute of the ſeven and twentieth year of your Majeſties Reign, gave, or intended to give for the recovery of a moyety, or one half thereof.

The cauſes that the Inhabitants of the Hundred of Benhurſt cannot have notice of Robberies done there.

A remedy for the Inhabitants of the Hundred of Benhurſt in the County of Berks, to recover ſuch money as they ſhall forfeit for not purſuit of hue and cry.

Provided always, and it is enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no ſuch remedy or recovery ſhall be had by this Statute, for all or the whole ſum or ſums of money, and damages, as aforeſaid, But only in theſe two caſes, viz. The one where no ſuch notice or intelligence (as by the ſaid Statute of the ſeven and twentieth year of your Majeſties Reign was appointed, to be given of every or any Robbery) ſhall be given to the Inhabitants of the ſaid Hundred of Beynerſh, alias Benhurſt: The other, where the Inhabitants of the ſame Hundred (after ſuch notice of any Robbery to them, or ſome of them given, or after Hue-and-Cry for the ſame to be brought) ſhall make or cauſe to be made freſh ſuit and purſuit, after the Offendors, with Horſemen and Footmen, according to the ſaid Statute of the ſeven and twentieth year of your Majeſties Reign: And where neverthelesſe the Offendors, or any, or one of them, ſhall not be apprehended within forty dayes after the Robbery committed.

In what caſes only the recovery ſhall be had. 27 Eliz. 13.

Provided, that this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to make any Letters Patents of any Office or Offices to be of any other effect, force or ſtrength, than the ſame Letters Patents were, or ſhould have been before the making of this Act.

Letters Patents of Offices.

Provided alſo, that all and ſingular ſuch Patentees, Grantees and Donees, and every of them, which at any time heretofore, ſithence the eighth day of February, have obtained and gotten of your Highneſſe, or at any time hereafter, before the laſt day of this Seſſion of Parliament, or within the ſpace of one year then next enſuing, ſhall obtain and get of your Highneſſe, by way of Exchange, or for any ſum or ſums of money, or other Conſiderations, any Letters Patents of any Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments whatſoever, which at the date of the ſaid Letters Patents were or ſhall be of better and more yearly value to your Highneſſe, and ſo anſwered in yearly Rent and Farm, than was, is, or ſhall be contained, mentioned and ſpecified in any ſuch Letters Patents, or in the particulars or rates thereof, made or to be made by any Auditor or Auditors, Surveyor or Surveyors, or other Officer: That then every ſuch Patentee, Grantee or Donee, their Heirs, Executors or Aſſigns, and every of them, within one year next after Office, or other due proof, order, and decree thereof made and had, or to be made or had within the ſpace and term of ten years next after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament in the Court of the Exchequer, ſhall content and pay unto your Highneſſe, your Heirs and Succeſſors, for the ſame over-plus, and more value of the ſame Manors, Lands, Tenements, and other Hereditaments whatſoever, with their Appurtenances, ſo ſold, given, granted or exchanged, as is aforeſaid, after the rate of threeſcore years purchaſe, and according to ſuch yearly value and rate, as the ſame Manors, Lands, Tenements, and others Hereditaments whatſoever were of, and were anſwered for, at the time of the making of any ſuch Letters Patents, ſo made, or to be made in manner and form aforeſaid: Any thing contained in any ſuch Letters Patents to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Recompence for the over-plus of lands ſold by the Queen.
Threeſcore years purchaſe.

Provided alſo, that this Act, or any other Proviſo therein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe extend to confirm, ratifie, or make good any Leaſe or Leaſes, made or to be made by your Highneſſe for term of life, lives, or for years, whereupon the old and accuſtomed Rents, or more, or as much in value, or more proportionably, for the Lands and Tenements ſo demiſed, or to be demiſed, be not, or hereafter ſhall not be reſerved and yearly payable during the time and term of every ſuch Leaſe: Nor that this preſent Act ſhall in any wiſe extend to revive and make good any Letters Patents made of any Office or Offices, to any Comptroler, Cuſtomer, Aulneger, Searcher: Nor to any Letters Patents of the grant of any other Office or Offices heretofore granted or made by your Highneſſe, which now be, or at any time heretofore have been annihilated, determined or made void, by judgment, by authority of Parliament, or by Decree: Nor to any Patents to be made to any perſon or perſons for term of years, or during the minority of any Heir of any Manors, Lands or Tenements, whereof any Traverſe hereafter ſhall be tendered within three moneths after any Office found and certified into any your Highneſſe Courts of Record: Ne to make any Letters Patents made by your Highneſſe of any Office or Offices, to be of any other effect, force or ſtrength, than the ſame Letters Patents were or ſhould have been before the making of this Act.

Grants whereunto this ſtatute doth not extend.

Provided alſo, that this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to any Letters Patents, or any Gift or Grant therein contained, which at any time heretofore have been, or hereafter before the laſt day of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall be made by your Highneſſe, to any perſon or perſons, of any Manors, Lands, Tenements, Rents, Reverſions, Services, or other Hereditaments, by force of any Information, Suit or Suggeſtion, made, or to be made to your Highneſſe, that the ſame Manors, Lands, Tenements, and other Hereditaments, ſo contained in any ſuch Letters Patents, were concealed Lands, or that the ſame, or the profits thereof were unjuſtly with-holden from your Highneſſe, but that the ſame Letters Patents, and every of them ſhall ſtand, remain, and be in the ſame force, ſtrength and effect, as they were before the making of this Act: Any thing in this Act mentioned to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Patents of concealed lands.

And yet nevertheleſſe, Be it declared and enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That no Letters Patents, nor any Gift or Grant in them contained, made or to be made by warrant of your Majeſties Commiſſioners, authorized to make compoſitions with your High-

Patents made by warrant of Commiſſioners authoriſed to make compoſition with others.

Highneſs ſubjects for new Letters Patents, or grants to be made unto them, are or ought to be taken, or ſhall be deemed and taken to be made by force of any information, ſuit or ſuggeſtion, that the manors, lands, tenements, or other hereditaments contained in the ſame Letters Patents were concealed lands, but that they and every of them ſhall be within the full meaning of this Act, to be fortified and made good, as other Letters Patents (made without any ſuggeſtion or information of concealment, or unjuſt with-holding) been.

CAP. II.

Who ſhall be Overſeers for the poor, their office, duty, and account, &c.

The Church-wardens and certain houſeholders, Overſeers of the poor. The Overſeers duty.

Cro. Car. 92.

Who ſhall be taxed towards the relief of the poor. A convenient ſtock ſhall be provided to ſet the poor on work. 3 Car. 4.

BE it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the Church-wardens of every pariſh, and four, three, or two ſubſtantial houſeholders there, as ſhall be thought meet, having reſpect to the proportion and greatneſs of the ſame pariſh and pariſhes, to be nominated yearly in Eaſter week, or within one month after Eaſter, under the hand and ſeal of two or more Juſtices of the Peace in the ſame county, whereof one to be of the Quorum, dwelling in or near the ſame pariſh or diviſion where the ſame pariſh doth lie, ſhall be called Overſeers of the poor of the ſame pariſh: And they, or the greater part of them, ſhall take order from time to time, by, and with conſent of two or more ſuch Juſtices of the Peace, as is aforeſaid, for ſetting to work the children of all ſuch whoſe parents ſhall not by the ſaid Church-wardens and Overſeers, or the greater part of them, be thought able to keep and maintain their children. And alſo for ſetting to work all ſuch perſons, married or unmarried, having no means to maintain them, and uſe no ordinary and daily trade of life to get their living by: And alſo to raiſe weekly, or otherwiſe (by taxation of every inhabitant, Parſon, Vicar, and other, and of every occupier of lands, houſes, tythes impropriate, propriations of tythes, coal-mines, or ſale Underwoods in the ſaid pariſh, in ſuch competent ſum and ſums of money as they ſhall think fit) a convenient ſtock of Flax, Hemp, Wooll, Thread, Iron, and other ware and ſtuff to ſet the poor on work: And alſo competent ſums of money for and towards the neceſſary relief of the ſame, impotent, old, blind, and ſuch other among them, being poor and not able to work: And alſo for the putting out of ſuch children to be Apprentices, to be gathered out of the ſame pariſh, according to the ability of the ſame pariſh, and to do and execute all other things, as well for the diſpoſing of the ſaid ſtock, as otherwiſe concerning the premiſſes, as to them ſhall ſeem convenient.

The Overſeers ſhall meet once every moneth.

Which ſaid Church-wardens and Overſeers ſo to be nominated, or ſuch of them as ſhall not be let by ſickneſs, or other juſt excuſe, to be allowed by two ſuch Juſtices of Peace, or more, as is aforeſaid, ſhall meet together at the leaſt once every moneth, in the Church of the ſaid pariſh, upon the Sunday in the afternoon, after Divine Service, there to conſider of ſome good courſe to be taken, and of ſome meet order to be ſet down in the premiſſes, and ſhall within four days after the end of their year, and after other Overſeers nominated, as aforeſaid, make and yield up to ſuch two Juſtices of peace, as is aforeſaid, a true and perfect account of all ſums of money by them received, or rated and ſeſſed, and not received, and alſo of ſuch ſtock as ſhall be in their hands, or in the hands of any of the poor to work, and of all other things concerning their ſaid Office: and ſuch ſum or ſums of money as ſhall be in their hands, ſhall pay and deliver over to the ſaid Church-wardens and Overſeers, newly nominated and appointed, as aforeſaid, upon pain that every one of them abſenting themſelves without lawful cauſe, as aforeſaid, from ſuch monthly meeting for the purpoſe aforeſaid, or being negligent in their office, or in the execution of the orders aforeſaid, being made by and with the aſſent of the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, or any two of them before-mentioned, to forfeit for every ſuch default of abſence or negligence, twenty ſhillings.

The Overſeers account.

The Overſeers forfeiture for abſence or negligence.

And be it alſo enacted, that if the ſaid Juſtices of Peace do perceive, that the inhabitants of any pariſh are not able to levy among themſelves ſufficient ſummes of money for the purpoſes aforeſaid: that then the ſaid two Juſtices ſhall and may tax, rate and aſſeſs, as aforeſaid, any other of other pariſhes, or out of any pariſh within the Hundred where the ſaid pariſh is, to pay ſuch ſum and ſums of money to the Church-wardens and Overſeers of the ſaid poor-pariſh for the ſaid purpoſes, as the ſaid Juſtices ſhall think fit, according to the intent of this law. And if the ſaid Hundred ſhall not be thought to the ſaid Juſtices, able and fit to relieve the ſaid ſeveral pariſhes not able to provide for themſelves, as aforeſaid: then the Juſtices of Peace at their general quarter Seſſions, or the greater number of them, ſhall rate and aſſeſs, as aforeſaid, any other of other pariſhes, or out of any pariſh within the ſaid County for the purpoſes aforeſaid, as in their diſcretion ſhall ſeem fit.

A proviſion where the inhabitants of any pariſh are not able to relieve the poor.

And that it ſhall be lawful, as well for the preſent as ſubſequent Church-wardens and Overſeers, or any of them, by warrant from any two ſuch Juſtices of Peace, as is aforeſaid, to levy as well the ſaid ſums of money, and all arrearages of every one that ſhall refuſe to contribute according as they ſhall be aſſeſſed, by diſtreſs and ſale of the offendors goods, as the ſums of money or ſtock which ſhall be behind upon any account to be made, as aforeſaid, rendring to the parties the over-plus: and in defect of ſuch diſtreſs, it ſhall be lawful for any ſuch two Juſtices of the Peace to commit him or them to the common Gaol of the County, there to remain without bail or mainpriſe, until payment of the ſaid ſum, arrearages and ſtock: And the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, or any of them, to ſend to the houſe of Correction or common Gaol, ſuch as ſhall not imploy themſelves to work, being appointed thereunto, as aforeſaid: And alſo any two ſuch Juſtices of Peace to commit to the ſaid priſon every one of the ſaid Church-wardens and Overſeers, which ſhall refuſe to accompt, there to remain without bail or mainpriſe, until he have made a true accompt, and ſatisfied and paid ſo much as upon the ſaid accompt ſhall be remaining in his hands.

A remedy for the levying of the money aſſeſſed.

Impriſonment in default of diſtreſs.

Impriſonment of thoſe that will not work.

Refuſe to account, impriſonment.

And be it further Enacted, That it ſhall be lawful for the ſaid Church-wardens and Overſeers, or the greater part of them, by the aſſent of any two Juſtices of the Peace aforeſaid, to bind any ſuch children, as aforeſaid, to be Apprentices, where they ſhall ſee convenient, till ſuch man-child ſhall come to the age of four and twenty years, and ſuch woman-child to the age of one and twenty years, or the time of her Marriage: The ſame to be as effectual to all purpoſes, as if ſuch child were of full age, and by Indenture of covenant bound him or her ſelf. And to the intent that neceſſary places of habitation may more conveniently be provided for ſuch poor impotent people, Be it Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall and may be lawful for the ſaid Church-wardens and Overſeers, or the greater part of them, by the leave of the Lord or Lords of the Manor, whereof any waſte or Common within their pariſh is or ſhall be parcel, and upon agreement before with him or them made in writing, under the hands and ſeals of the ſaid Lord and Lords, or otherwiſe, according to any order to be ſet down by the Juſtices of peace, of the ſaid County at their general quarter-Seſſions, or the greater part of them, by like leave and agreement of the ſaid Lord or Lords, in writing under his or their hands and ſeals, To erect, build, and ſet up in fit and convenient places of habitation, in ſuch waſte or Common, at the general charges of the pariſh, or otherwiſe of the Hundred or County, as aforeſaid, to be taxed, rated, and gathered in manner before expreſſed, convenient houſes of dwelling for the ſaid impotent poor, and alſo to place inmates, or more families than one in one cottage or houſe, One Act made in the xxxi. year of her Majeſties Reign, entituled, An Act againſt the erecting and maintaining of cottages, or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding. Which cottages and places for inmates ſhall not at any time after be uſed or imployed to or for any other habitation, but only for impotent and poor of the ſame pariſh, that ſhall be there placed from time to time by the Church-wardens and Overſeers of the poor of the ſame pariſh, or the moſt part of them, upon the pains and forfeitures contained in the ſaid former Act made in the ſaid xxxi. year of her Majeſties reign.

Binding of children apprentices.

3 Car. 4.

Building of houſes on the waſte for the poor to inhabit.

31 Eliz. 7.

Provided always, That if any perſon or perſons ſhall find themſelves grieved with any ſeſs or tax, or other act done by the ſaid Church-wardens, and other perſons, or by the ſaid Juſtices of peace, that then it ſhall be lawful for the Juſtices of peace, at their general quarter-Seſſions, or the greater number of them, to take ſuch order therein, as to them ſhall be thought convenient; And the ſame to conclude and bind all the ſaid parties.

A remedy for them which find themſelves grieved with any tax.

And be it further Enacted, That the Father and Grandfather, and the Mother and Grandmother, and the children of every poor, old, blind, lame, and impotent perſon, or other poor perſon, not able to work, being of a ſufficient ability, ſhall at their own charges relieve and maintain every ſuch poor perſon in that manner, and according to that rate, as by the Juſtices of peace of that County where ſuch ſufficient perſons dwell, or the greater number of Poor perſons relieved by their parents or children them, at their general quarter-Seſſions ſhall be aſſeſſed, upon pain that every one of them ſhall forfeit twenty ſhillings for every moneth which they ſhall fail therein.

Officers of corporate towns have the authority of Juſtices of Peace.

And be it further hereby Enacted, That the Mayors, Bailiffs, or other head-Officers of every Town and place corporate, and City within this Realm, being Juſtice or Juſtices of peace, ſhall have the ſame authority by vertue of this Act, within the limits and precincts of their Juriſdictions, as well out of Seſſions, as at their Seſſions, if they hold any, as is herein limited, preſcribed and appointed to Juſtices of the peace of the County, or any two or more of them, or to the Juſtices of peace in their quarter-Seſſions, to do and execute for all the uſes and purpoſes in this Act preſcribed, and no other Juſtice or Juſtices of peace to enter or meddle there. And that every Alderman of the City of London within his Ward, ſhall and may do and execute in every reſpect ſo much as is appointed and allowed by this Act to be done and executed by one or two Juſtices of peace of any County within this Realm.

Aldermen of London.

A pariſh extending into two Counties, or into two Liberties.

And be it alſo Enacted, That if it ſhall happen any Pariſh to extend it ſelf into more Counties than one, or part to lie within the liberties of any City, Town or place corporate, and part without: that then as well the Juſtices of Peace of every County, as alſo the head-Officers of ſuch city, town or place corporate, ſhall deal and intermeddle only in ſo much of the ſaid pariſh as lieth within their liberties, and not any further. And every of them reſpectively within their ſeveral Limits, Wards and Juriſdictions, to execute the ordinances before mentioned, concerning the nomination of Overſeers, the conſent to binding Apprentices, the giving warrant to levy taxations unpaid, the taking account of Church-wardens and Overſeers, and the committing to priſon ſuch as refuſe to accompt, or deny to pay the arrearages due upon their accompts. And yet nevertheleſs, the Church-wardens and Overſeers, or the moſt part of them, of the ſaid pariſhes that do extend into ſuch ſeveral Limits and Juriſdictions, ſhall without dividing themſelves, duly execute their office in all places within the ſaid pariſh, in all things to them belonging: and ſhall duly exhibite and make one accompt before the ſaid head officer of the town or place corporate, and one other, before the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, or any ſuch two of them, as is aforeſaid.

The Juſtices Forfeiture for not naming of Overſeers.

And further be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if in any place within this Realm there happen to be hereafter no ſuch nomination of Overſeers yearly, as is before appointed: that then every Juſtice of Peace of the County, dwelling within the diviſion where ſuch default of nomination ſhall happen, and every Mayor, Alderman, and head officer of any City, Town, or place corporate, where ſuch default ſhall happen, ſhall loſe and forfeit for every ſuch default, v. l. to be imployed towards the relief of the poor of the ſaid pariſh, or place corporate, and to be levied, as aforeſaid, of their goods, by warrant from the general Seſſions of the peace of the ſaid county, or of the ſame city, town, or place corporate if they keep Seſſions.

How the Forfeiture ſhall be levied and imployed.

And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all penalties and forfeitures before mentioned in this act to be forfeited by any perſon or perſons, ſhall go and be imployed to the uſe of the ſame pariſh, and towards a ſtock and habitation for them, and other neceſſary uſes and relief, as before in this act are mentioned and expreſſed, and ſhall be levied by the ſaid Church-wardens and Overſeers, or one of them, by warrant from any two ſuch Juſtices of Peace, or Mayor, Alderman, or head officer of city, town, or place corporate, reſpectively within their ſeveral limits, by diſtreſs and ſale thereof, as aforeſaid: or in defect thereof it ſhall be lawful for any two ſuch Juſtices of Peace, and the ſaid Aldermen and head officers, within their ſeveral limits to commit the offendor to the ſaid priſon, there to remain without bail or mainpriſe, till the ſaid forfeitures ſhall be ſatisfied and paid.

The Juſtices ſhall rate every pariſh to a weekly ſum.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that the Juſtices of peace of every county or place corporate, or the more part of them, in their general Seſſions to be holden next after the Feaſt of Eaſter next, and ſo yearly as often as they ſhall think meet, ſhall rate every pariſh to ſuch a weekly ſum of money as they ſhall think convenient, ſo as no pariſh be rated above the ſum of ſix pence, nor under the ſum of a half-peny, weekly to be paid, and ſo as the total ſum of ſuch taxation of the pariſhes in every county amount not above the rate of two pence for every pariſh within the ſaid county. Which ſums ſo taxed, ſhall be yearly aſſeſſed by the agreement of the pariſhoners within themſelves, or in default thereof, by the Church-wardens and pety Conſtables of the ſame pariſh, or the more part of them: or in default of their agreement, by the order of ſuch Juſtice or Juſtices of Peace as ſhall dwell in the ſame pariſh, or (if none be there dwelling) in the parts next adjoyning.

The penalty for refuſing to pay money taxed.

And if any perſon ſhall refuſe or neglect to pay any ſuch portion of money ſo taxed, it ſhall be lawful for the ſaid Church-wardens and Conſtables, or any of them, or in their default for any Juſt. of Peace of the ſaid limit, to levy the ſame by diſtreſs, and ſale of the goods of the party ſo refuſing or neglecting, rendring to the party the overplus. And in default of ſuch diſtreſs, it ſhall be lawful to any Juſtice of that limit, to commit ſuch perſon to the ſaid priſon, there to abide without bail, or mainpriſe, till he have paid the ſame.

Relief for the priſoners of the Kings-Bench, Marſhalſey, Hoſpitals.

And be it alſo enacted, that the ſaid Juſtices of the P. at their general quarter Seſſions to be holden at the time of ſuch taxation, ſhall ſet down what competent ſummes of money ſhall be ſent quarterly out of every county or place corporate for the relief of the poor priſoners of the Kings Bench, and Marſhalſey, and alſo of ſuch Hoſpitals and Almeſ-houſes, as ſhall be in the ſaid county, and what ſummes of money ſhall be ſent to every one of the ſaid Hoſpitals and Almeſ-houſes, ſo as there be ſent out of every county yearly, xx. s. at the leaſt to each of the ſaid priſons of the Kings-Bench, and Marſhalſey, which ſums ratably to be aſſeſſed upon every pariſh, the Church-wardens of every pariſh ſhall truly collect and pay over to the high Conſtables in whoſe diviſion ſuch pariſh ſhall be ſituate, from time to time, quaterly, ten days before the end of every quarter, and every ſuch Conſtable at every ſuch quarter Seſſions in ſuch county ſhall pay over the ſame to two ſuch Treaſurers, or to one of them, as ſhall by the more part of the Juſtices of Peace of the county, be elected to be the ſaid Treaſurers, to be choſen by the Juſtices of Peace of the ſaid county, city, or town, or place corporate, or of others which were ſeſſed and taxed at v. li. lands or x. li. goods at the leaſt, at the tax of ſubſidy next before the time of the ſaid election to be made, And the ſaid Treaſurers ſo elected, to continue for the ſpace of one year in their office, and then to give up their charge, with a due accompt of their receipts and diſburſements, at the quarter Seſſions to be holden next after the Feaſt of Eaſter in every year, to ſuch others as ſhall from year to year, in form aforeſaid, ſucceſſively be elected Treaſurers for the ſaid county, city, town or place corporate, which ſaid Treaſurers, or one of them ſhall pay over the ſame to the Lord chief Juſtice of England, and Knight Marſhal for the time being, equally to be divided to the uſe aforeſaid, taking their acquittance for the ſame, or in default of the ſaid chief Juſtice, to the next ancienteſt Juſtice of the Kings Bench as aforeſaid. And if any Church-warden or high Conſtable, or his executors or adminiſtrators ſhall fail to make payment in form above ſpecified, then every Church-warden, his executors or adminiſtrators, ſo offending, ſhall forfeit for every time the ſum of x. s. and every high Conſtable, his executors or adminiſtrators, ſhall forfeit for every time the ſum of xx. s. the ſame forfeitures, together with the ſums behind, to be levied by the ſaid Treaſurer and Treaſurers, by way of diſtreſs and ſale of goods, as aforeſaid, in form aforeſaid, and by them to be imployed towards the charitable uſes compriſed in this act.

Treaſurers.

Lord Chief Juſtice of England. Knight Marſhal.

The forfeiture of the Church-wardens or High Conſtables offending.

And be it further enacted, that all the ſurpluſage of money which ſhall be remaining in the ſaid ſtock of any county, ſhall by diſcretion of the more part of the Juſtices of P. in their quarter-Seſſions be ordered, diſtributed and beſtowed for the relief of the poor Hoſpitals of that county, and of thoſe that ſhall ſuſtain loſſes by fire, water, the ſea, or other caſualties, and to ſuch other charitable purpoſes, for the relief of the poor, as to the more part of the ſaid Juſtices of Peace ſhall ſeem convenient.

How the ſurpluſage ſhall be beſtowed.

And be it further Enacted, That if any Treaſurer elected, ſhall wilfully refuſe to take upon him the ſaid office of Treaſurerſhip, or refuſe to diſtribute and give relief, or to accompt, according to ſuch form as ſhall be appointed by the more part of the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, That then it ſhall be lawful for the Juſtices of Peace in their quarter-Seſſions, or in their default, for the Juſtices of Aſſiſe, at the Aſſiſes to be holden in the ſame County, to fine the ſame Treaſurer by their diſcretion: the ſame fine not to be under three pound, and to be levied by ſale of his goods, and to be proſecuted by any two of the ſaid Juſtices of peace, whom they ſhall authorize.

The penalty for refuſing to be Treaſurer, to give relief, or to accompt.

Provided always, that this Act ſhall not take effect until the Feaſt of Eaſter next.

This Act to take effect at Eaſter.

And be it Enacted, That the Statute made in the nine and thirtieth year of her Majeſties reign, entituled, An Act for the relief of the poor, ſhall continue and ſtand in force untill the Feaſt of Eaſter next, And that all taxations heretofore impoſed and not paid, nor that ſhall be paid before the ſaid Feaſt of Eaſter next; And that all taxes hereafter before the ſaid feaſt to be taxed by vertue of the ſaid former Act, which ſhall not be paid before the ſaid Feaſt of Eaſter, ſhall and may after the ſaid Feaſt of Eaſter be levied by the Overſeers and other perſons in this Act reſpectively appointed to levy taxations by diſtreſs, and by ſuch warrant in every reſpect, as if they had been taxed and impoſed by vertue of this Act, and were not paid.

For what time, and to what purpoſe the ſtat. of 39 Eliz. ſhall be put in execution.

39 Eliz. 3.

Provided always, That whereas the Iſland of Fowlnes in the County of Eſſex, being environed with the Sea, and having a Chappel of Eaſe for the inhabitants thereof, and yet the ſaid Iſland is no pariſh, but the lands in the ſame are ſituated within divers pariſhes, far diſtant from the ſaid Iſland: Be it therefore Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Juſtices of Peace ſhall nominate and appoint inhabitants within the ſaid Iſland, to be Overſeers for the poor people dwelling with the ſaid Iſland, And that both they the ſaid Juſtices, and the ſaid Overſeers ſhall have the ſame power and authority to all intents, conſiderations and purpoſes, for the execution of the parts and articles of this Act, and ſhall be ſubject to the ſame pains and forfeitures, and likewiſe that the inhabitants and occupiers of lands there, ſhall be liable and chargeable to the ſame payments, charges, expences and orders, in ſuch manner and form as if the ſame Iſland were a pariſh. In conſideration whereof, neither the ſaid inhabitants, or occupiers of land within the ſaid Iſland, ſhall not be compelled to contribute towards the relief of the poor of thoſe pariſhes, wherein their houſes or lands which they occupy within the ſaid Iſland are ſituated, for or by reaſon of their ſaid habitations or occupyings, other then for the relief of the poor people within the ſaid Iſland; neither yet ſhall the other inhabitants of the pariſhes wherein ſuch houſes or lands are ſituated, be compelled, by reaſon of their reſiancy or dwelling, to contribute to the relief of the poor inhabitants within the ſaid Iſland.

The Iſland of Fowlnes in Eſſex.

And be it further Enacted, That if any Action of Treſpaſs, or other ſuit ſhall happen to be attempted and brought againſt any perſon or perſons, for taking of any diſtreſs, making of any ſale, or any other thing doing, by authority of this preſent Act, the defendant or defendants in any ſuch action or ſuit, ſhall and may either plead not guilty, or otherwiſe make avowry, cognizance, or juſtification for the taking of the ſaid diſtreſſes, making of ſale, or other thing doing, by vertue of this Act, alledging in ſuch avowry, cognizance, or juſtification, That the ſaid diſtreſs, ſale, treſpaſs, or other thing, whereof the plaintiff or plaintiffs complained, was done by authority of this Act, and according to the tenor, purport and effect of this Act, without any expreſſing or rehearſal of any other matter or circumſtance contained in this preſent Act. To which avowry, cognizance, or juſtification, the plaintiff ſhall be admitted to reply, That the defendant did take the ſaid diſtreſs, made the ſaid ſale, or did any other act or treſpaſs, ſuppoſed in his declaration of his own wrong, without any ſuch clauſe alledged by the ſaid defendant, whereupon the iſſue in every ſuch action ſhall be joyned, to be tryed by verdict of twelve men, and not otherwiſe, as is accuſtomed in other perſonal actions.

The defendants plea in a ſuit commenced againſt him upon this ſtatute.

Treble damages for the Defendant, and his coſts.

actions. And upon the tryal of that iſſue, the whole matter to be given on both parties in evidence, according to the very truth of the ſame. And after ſuch iſſue tryed for the defendant, or nonſuit of the plaintiff, after appearance, the ſame defendant to recover treble damages, by reaſon of his wrongful vexation in that behalf, with coſts alſo in that part ſuſtained, and that to be aſſeſſed by the ſame Jury, or Writ to enquire of the damages, as the ſame ſhall require.

Provided always, That this Act ſhall endure no longer then to the end of the next Seſſion of Parliament. 3 Car. 4. Continued until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament. 17 Car. 1. cap. 4. Continued; and 14 Car. 2. ca. 12. Enlarged.

CAP. III.

The Stat. of 35 Eliz. 4. and 39 El. 21. concerning the relief of Souldiers and Mariners, repealed. Who ſhall be hereafter charged with contribution for their relief: who ſhall receive it, and pay it to them: and how Mariners or Souldiers begging ſhall be puniſhed, &c.

A repeal of the ſtat of 35 El. 4. & 39 El. 21 touching the relief of ſouldiers and mariners.

WHereas in the xxxv. year of the Queens Majeſties Reign that now is, an Act was made, entituled, An Act for the neceſſary relief of Souldiers and Mariners. And whereas in the xxxix. year of her Majeſties reign, there was alſo made another act, entituled, An act for the further continuance and explanation of the ſaid former: Be it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, that both the ſaid acts ſhall be and continue in force until the feaſt of Eaſter next, and ſhall be from and after the ſaid feaſt diſcontinued.

And foraſmuch as it is found more needful than it was at the making of the ſaid acts, to provide relief and maintenance to ſouldiers and mariners that have loſt their limbs, and diſabled their bodies in the defence and ſervice of her Majeſty and the State, in reſpect the number of the ſaid ſouldiers is ſo much the greater, by how much her Majeſties juſt and honourable defenſive warres are encreaſed: To the end therefore that they the ſaid ſouldiers and mariners, may reap the fruits of their good deſervings, and others may be encouraged to perform the like endeavours.

Every pariſh charged with a weekly ſum, towards the relief of Souldiers and Mariners.

Be it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, that from and after the ſaid feaſt of Eaſter next, every pariſh within this Realm of England and Wales, ſhall be charged to pay weekly ſuch a ſum of money towards the relief of ſick, hurt and maimed ſouldiers and mariners, that ſo have been as afore is ſaid, or ſhall loſe their limbs, or diſable their bodies having been preſt, and in pay for her Majeſties ſervice, as by the Juſtices of peace, or the more part of them, in their general quarter-Seſſions to be holden in their ſeveral Counties, next after the Feaſt of Eaſter next, and ſo from time to time at the like quarter-Seſſions to be holden next after the feaſt of Eaſter yearly ſhall be appointed, ſo as no pariſh be rated above the ſum of ten pence, nor under the ſum of two pence weekly to be paid, and ſo as the total ſum of ſuch taxation of the pariſhes in any county where there ſhall be above fifty pariſhes, do not exceed the rate of ſix pence for every pariſh in the ſame County: which ſums ſo taxed, ſhal be yearly aſſeſſed by the agreements of the pariſhioners within themſelves, or in default thereof, by the Church-wardens and the petty Conſtables of the ſame pariſh or the more part of them, or in default of their agreement, by the order of ſuch Juſtices, or Juſtice of Peace, as ſhall dwell in the ſame pariſh, or if none be there dwelling, in the parts next adjoyning.

The taxation of every pariſh.

The penalty for refuſing to pay the money taxed.

And if any perſon ſhall refuſe or neglect to pay any ſuch portion of money ſo taxed, it ſhall be lawful for the ſaid Church-wardens and petty Conſtables, and every of them, or in their defaults, for the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, or Juſtice, to levy ſuch ſum by diſtres and ſale of the goods or chattels of the party ſo refuſing or neglecting, rendring to the party the overplus raiſed upon ſuch ſale.

Church-wardens, &c. ſhall pay to the high Conſtables the money taxed.

And for the collecting and cuſtody of the ſums taxed in form aforeſaid, Be it enacted, That the Church-wardens and petty Conſtables of every pariſh ſhall truly collect every ſuch ſumme, and the ſame ſhall pay over unto the high-Conſtable, in whoſe diviſion ſuch pariſh ſhall be ſcituate, ten dayes before the quarter-Seſſions to be holden next before, or about the feaſt of the nativity of Saint John Baptiſt next, in the County where the ſaid pariſh ſhall be ſcituate, and ſo from time to time, quarterly within ten dayes before every quarter-Seſſions, And that every ſuch high Conſtable, at every ſuch quarter-Seſſions in ſuch County, ſhall pay over the ſame to ſuch Juſtices of Peace or to two ſuch other perſons, or one of them, as ſhall be by the more part of the Juſtices of Peace, of the ſame County elected to be Treaſurers of the ſaid collection. The ſame other perſons to be elected Treaſurers to be ſuch, as at the laſt taxation of the Subſidy next before the ſame election, ſhall be valued and ſeſſed at x. li. in lands yearly, or xv. li. in goods: which Treaſurers in every county ſo choſen, ſhall continue but for the ſpace of one whole year, and then give up their charge, with a due accompt of their receits and disburſements, at their meeting in Eaſter quarter-Seſſions, or within ten dayes after, to ſuch others as ſhall from year to year, in the form aforeſaid, ſucceſſively be elected.

Treaſurers.

Treaſurers account.

Church-wardens or Conſtables failing of payment.

And if any Church-warden, petty Conſtable, or high Conſtable, or his executors or adminiſtrators, ſhall fail to make payment in form above ſpecified, Then every Church-warden, and petty Conſtable, his executors or adminiſtrators ſo offending, ſhall forfeit the ſumme of xx. s. And every high Conſtable, his executors or adminiſtrators, the ſumme of forty ſhillings, to be levied by the Treaſurers aforeſaid, by diſtreſs and ſale in manner before expreſſed, and to be taken by the ſaid Treaſurers in augmentation of their ſtock, to the uſes aforeſaid.

A Treaſurer failing of his accompt, or neglecting his charge.

And if any Treaſurer, his executors or adminiſtrators, ſhall fail to give up his account within the time aforeſaid, or ſhall be otherwiſe negligent in the execution of his charge, then it ſhall be lawful for the more part of the Juſtices of Peace of the ſame County in their Seſſions, to aſſeſs ſuch fine upon ſuch Treaſurer, his executors or adminiſtrators, as in their diſcretion ſhall ſeem convenient, ſo it be not under the ſum of v. li.

And for the true and juſt diſtributing and imployment of the ſummes ſo received, according to the true meaning of this act, Be it Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every ſouldier or mariner, having had his or their limbs loſt, or diſabled in their bodies by ſervice, being in her Majeſties pay, as above is mentioned, or ſuch as ſhall hereafter return into this Realm hurt or maimed, or grievouſly ſick, ſhall repair, if he be able to travel, and make his complaint to the Treaſurers of the county out of which he was preſſed; or if he were no preſt man to the Treaſurer of the county where he was born, or laſt inhabited, by the ſpace of three years at his election. And if he be not able to travel to the Treaſurer of the County where he ſhall land, or arrive, and ſhall bring a certificate unto any of the Treaſurers aforeſaid, under the hand and ſeal of the General of the Camp or Governor of the Town wherein he ſerved, and of the Captain of the Band, under whom he ſerved, or his Lieutenant, or in the abſence of the ſaid General or Governor, from the Marſhal or Deputy of the Governor, or from any Admiral of her Majeſties Fleet, or in his abſence from any other general of her Majeſties ſhips at the ſeas, or in abſence of ſuch General, from the Captain of the ſhip wherein the ſaid mariners or ſouldiers did ſerve the Queens Majeſty, containing the particulars of his hurts and ſervices: which certificate, ſhall be alſo allowed by the general Muſter Maſter for the time being reſident here within this Realm, or Receiver general of the Muſter rolls, The Treaſurer and Controller of her Majeſties Navy under his hand, for the avoiding of all fraud and counterfeiting: Then upon ſuch certificate, ſuch Treaſurers as are before expreſſed, ſhall according to the nature of his hurt, and commendation of his ſervice, aſſign unto him ſuch a portion of relief, as in their diſcretions ſhall ſeem convenient for his preſent neceſſity, until the quarter Seſſions, at the which it ſhall be lawful for the more part of the Juſtices of Peace under their hands, to make an Inſtrument of grant of the ſame, or like relief, to endure as long as this act ſhall ſtand to endure in force, if the ſame ſouldier or mariner ſo long live, and the ſame penſion not be duly revoked or altered, which ſhall be a ſufficient warrant to all Treaſurers for the ſame County, to make payment of ſuch penſion unto ſuch perſons quarterly, except the ſame ſhall be afterward by the ſaid Juſtices revoked or altered. So that ſuch relief as ſhall be aſſigned by ſuch Treaſurers or Juſtices of Peace to any ſuch ſouldier or mariner, having not born office in the ſaid wars, exceed not the ſum in groſs nor yearly penſion of x. li. Nor to any that hath born office under the degree of a Lieutenant, the ſum of xv. li. Nor to any that hath ſerved in the office of Lieutenant, the ſum of xx. li.

To which Treaſurer the ſouldier or mariner ſhall repair for relief.

Who ſhall make the ſouldiers or mariners certificate.

Allowance of the certificate. The Treaſurer ſhall aſſign relief to the ſouldier.

The Juſtices of Peace ſhall grant relief to ſouldiers.

How much relief ſhall be aſſigned to either ſort of ſouldiers.

And yet nevertheleſs it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the Juſtices of Peace and others, having authority by this act, to aſſign penſions to ſouldiers and mariners, upon any juſt cauſe to revoke, diminiſh, or alter the ſame from time to time, according to their diſcretions in their general quarter Seſſions of the Peace, or general aſſemblies for Cities or Towns corporate where the ſame penſion ſhall be granted.

The Juſtices may revoke or alter the relief of ſouldiers.

And whereas it muſt needs fall out, that many of ſuch hurt and maimed ſouldiers and mariners do arrive in ports and places far remote from the counties, whence they are by vertue of this act to receive their yearly annuities and penſions. As alſo they are preſcribed by this act to obtain the allowance of their certificates from the Muſter Maſter, or Receiver general of the Muſter rolls, who commonly is like to abide about the Court of London ſo as they ſhall need at the firſt, proviſion for the bearing of their charges to ſuch places: Be it therefore enacted, that it may be lawful for the Treaſurers of the county where they ſhall arrive, in their diſcretion, upon their certificate (though not allowed) to give them any convenient relief for their journey to carry them to the next county, with a teſtimonial of their allowance, to paſs on towards ſuch a place. And in like manner ſhall it be lawful for the Treaſuret of the next county to do the like: And ſo from county to county (in the direct way) till they come to the place where they are directly to find the maintenance, according to the tenor of this ſtatute.

Souldiers arriving far from the place where they are to receive relief.

And for the better execution of this act in all branches thereof, Be it enacted, that every the Treaſurers in their ſeveral counties ſhall keep a true book of computation of all ſuch ſums as they levied, and alſo a Regiſter of the names of every ſuch perſon unto whom they ſhall have diſburſed any relief. And ſhall alſo preſerve or enter every certificate, by warrant whereof ſuch relief hath been by them diſburſed. And alſo that the Muſter Maſter, or receiver general of the Muſter rolls, ſhall keep a book, wherein ſhall be entred the names of all ſuch, whoſe certificates ſhall be by him allowed, with, an abſtract of their certificates. And that every Treaſurer returning, or not excepting the certificate brought unto him from the ſaid Muſter Maſter, ſhall write and ſubſcribe the cauſe of his not accepting, or not allowing thereof, under the ſaid certificate, or on the back thereof.

The Treaſurers book of computation and Regiſter.

Muſter Maſter ſhall keep a book of certificates.

And be it further enacted, That if any Treaſurer ſhall wilfully refuſe to diſtribute and give any relief, according to the form of this act, That it ſhall be lawful for the Juſtices of P. in their quarter Seſſions to fine ſuch Treaſurers by their diſcretions, as aforeſaid. The ſame fine to be levied by diſtreſs and ſale thereof, to be proſecuted by any two of them, whom they ſhall authorize.

The Treaſurer refuſing to give relief.

And be it alſo enacted, That every ſouldier or mariner that ſhall be taken begging in any place within this Realm, after the feaſt of Eaſter next, or any that ſhall counterfeit any certificate in this act expreſſed, ſhall for ever loſe his annuity or penſion, and ſhall be taken, deemed, and adjudged as a common rogue, or vagabond perſon, and ſhall have and ſuſtain the ſame and the like pains, impriſonment, and puniſhment as is appointed and provided for common rogues and vagabond perſons.

A ſouldier or Mariner taken begging or counterfeiting a certificate.

Provided always, and be it enacted, That all the ſurpluſage of money which ſhall be remaining in the ſtock of any county, ſhall by the diſcretion of the more part of the Juſtices of Peace in their quarter Seſſions be ordered, diſtributed, and beſtowed upon ſuch good and charitable uſes, and in ſuch form as are limited and appointed in the ſtatutes made and now in force, concerning relief of the poor, and puniſhment of rogues and beggars.

Chief Officers in corporate Towns ſhall execute this act there.

Provided alwayes, that the Juſtice of Peace within any county of this Realm or Wales ſhall not intromit or enter into any City, Borough, place, or town corporate, where is any Juſtice of Peace for any City, Borough, place or town corporate, for the execution of any article of this act: But it ſhall be lawfull to the Juſtice and Juſtices of Peace, Mayors Bayliffs, and other head officers of thoſe Cities, Boroughs, places and towns corporate, where there is any Juſtice of Peace, to proceed to the execution of this act, within the precinct and compaſſe of their liberties, in ſuch manner as the Juſtices of Peace in any county may do by vertue of this act. And that every Juſtice of Peace within every ſuch City, Borough, place, or town corporate, for every offence by him committed, contrary to the meaning of this ſtatute, ſhall be finable, as other Juſtices of Peace at large in the counties are in this act appointed to be. And that the Mayor and Juſtices of Peace in every ſuch City, Borough, place and town corporate, ſhall have authority by this preſent act to appoint any perſon for the receiving of the ſaid money, and paying the ſame within ſuch City, Borough, place or town corporate, which perſon ſo appointed, ſhall have authority to do all ſuch things and be ſubject to all ſuch penalties, as high Conſtables by vertue of this act ſhould have or be.

How the forfeitures ſhall be imployed.

Out of what county relief ſhall be given to ſouldiers and mariners.

And be it enacted, That all forfeitures to be forfeited by any Treaſurer, Collector, Conſtable, Church-warden, or other perſon, for any cauſe mentioned in this act, ſhall be imployed to the relief of ſuch ſouldiers and mariners, as are by this act appointed to take and have relief. And after that relief ſatisfied, then the overplus thereof, with the overplus of the ſtock, remaining in any the ſaid Treaſurers hands, ſhall be imployed, as is before mentioned, to the charitable uſes expreſſed in the ſaid Statutes, concerning the relief of poor, and for puniſhment of rogues and beggars, (except the ſaid Juſtices, or the more part of them, ſhall think meet to reſerve and keep the ſame in ſtock for the maintenance and relief of ſuch ſouldiers and mariners as out of the ſame county may afterward be appointed to receive relief and penſions.) And that the relief appointed to be given by this act, ſhall be given to ſouldiers and mariners out of the County or place where they were preſſed, ſo far forth as the taxation limited by this act will extend. And if the whole taxation there ſhal be before imployed, according to the meaning of this act, or that they ſhall be preſt men, then out of the place where they were born, or laſt inhabited by the ſpace of 3. years, at his or their election.

Penſion aſſigned to ſtand in force though the ſtat. be repealed, 35 El. 4. 39 El. 21.

Provided alwayes, and be it enacted, that every penſion aſſigned heretofore to any ſouldiers or mariners, or that ſhall be aſſigned before the ſaid feaſt of Eaſter next, notwithſtanding the diſcontinuance of the ſaid two former acts, ſhall ſtand in force, and ſhall yearly from and after the ſaid feaſt of Eaſter next be ſatisfied and paid, out of ſuch taxations and forfeitures, as ſhall be made, collected, and levied by force of this act, ſo long as the ſaid penſion ſhall remain in force, without ſuch revocation or diminiſhing, as is before in this act mentioned, Which clauſe of revocation or diminiſhing before mentioned, ſhall extend as well to penſions heretofore aſſigned, as to ſuch as at any time hereafter, before or after the ſaid feaſt of Eaſter ſhall be aſſigned to any perſon or perſons.

Taxations made and not levied.

And be it enacted, That all arrearages of taxations heretofore made, by vertue of the ſaid former ſtatutes or any of them, which ſhall be or remain at the ſaid feaſt of Eaſter next uncollected, and not received or levied, ſhall and may by authority of this act be had, received and levied by ſuch perſons, and in ſuch manner and form, as in every reſpect, taxations made by vertue of this act, are appointed to be collected, received and levied, and ſhall be imployed to the uſes expreſſed in this act, and no otherwiſe.

A proviſion, if the rate be not ſufficient for the Souldiers in London.

Provided alwayes, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that if the ſaid rate ſhall be thought not to be ſufficient for the relief of ſuch ſouldiers and mariners as ſhall be to be relieved within the City of London, that then it ſhall be lawful for the Mayor, Recorder, and Aldermen of London, or the more part of them, to rate and taxe ſuch reaſonable taxe, ſum and ſums of money for the ſaid relief, as ſhall be to them thought fit and convenient. So as ſuch ſum and ſums of money ſo to be rated, do not exceed three ſhillings weekly out of any pariſh, And ſo as in the total, the ſum ſhall not exceed or be under twelve pence weekly out of every pariſh one with another, within the ſaid City and the Liberties thereof.

This act to endure to the end of the next Seſſion of Parliament, and no longer. 3 Car. 3.
Continued until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

CAP. IV.

Commiſſioners authorized to enquire of miſ-imployment of lands or goods given to Hoſpitals, &c. which by their orders ſhall be performed.

Co. Inſt. 2. Part, 707.

Cro. Car, 525.

Lands or goods given to charitable uſes miſ imployed by fraud and breaches of truſt.

Whereas lands, tenements, rents, annuities, profits, hereditaments, goods, chattels, mony, and ſtocks of mony, have been heretofore given, limited, appointed and aſſigned, as well by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, and her moſt noble progenitors, as by ſundry other well diſpoſed perſons: ſome for relief of aged, impotent and poor people, ſome for maintenance of ſick and maimed ſouldiers & mariners, Schools of learning, free Schools, and Schollers in Univerſities, ſome for repair of bridges, ports, havens, cauſ-ways, Churches, Sea-banks, and high-ways, ſome for education & preferment of Orphans, ſome for or towards relief, ſtock, or maintenance for houſes of correction, ſome for marriages of poor maids, ſome for ſupportation, aid & help of young tradeſ men, handicraftſ men, and perſons decayed, and other for relief or redemption of priſoners or captives, and for aid or eaſe of any poor inhabitants concerning payments of Fifteens, ſetting out of ſouldiers, and other taxes; which lands, tenements, rents, annuitie, profits, hereditaments, goods, chattels, money, and ſtocks of money, nevertheleſs have not been imployed according to the charitable intent of the givers and founders thereof, by reaſon of frauds, breaches of truſt, and negligence in thoſe that ſhould pay, deliver, and imploy the ſame. For redreſs and remedy whereof, Be it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That it ſhall and may be lawful ful to and for the Lord Chancellor, or Keeper of the great Seal of England for the time being, and for the Chancellor of the Dutchy of Lancaſter for the time being, for lands within the County Palatine of Lancaſter, from time to time to award Commiſſions under the great Seal of England, or the Seal of the County Palatine, as the caſe ſhall require, into all or any part or parts of this Realm, reſpectively, according to their ſeveral Juriſdictions, as aforeſaid, to the Biſhop of every ſeveral Dioceſs and his Chancellor, (in caſe there ſhall be any Biſhop of that Dioceſs, at the time of awarding of the ſame Commiſſions) and to other perſons of good and ſound behaviour, authorizing them thereby, or any four or more of them, to enquire, as well by the oaths of twelve lawful men or more of the county, as by all other good and lawful ways and means, of all and ſingular ſuch gifts, limitations, aſſignments, and appointments aforeſaid, and of the abuſes, breaches of truſts, negligences, miſ-imployments, not imploying, concealing, defrauding, miſ-converting, or miſ-government of any lands, tenements, rents, annuities, profits, hereditaments, goods, chattels, money, or ſtocks of money, heretofore given, limited, appointed or aſſigned, or which hereafter ſhall be given, limited, appointed or aſſigned, to or for any the charitable and godly uſes before rehearſed. And after the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any four or more of them, (upon calling the parties intereſſed in any ſuch lands, tenements, rents, annuities, profits, hereditaments, goods, chattels, money, and ſtocks of money) ſhall make enquiry by the oaths of twelve men or more of the ſaid county, (whereunto the ſaid parties intereſſed ſhall and may have, and take their lawful challenge and challenges) and upon ſuch enquiry, hearing and examining thereof, ſet down ſuch orders, judgments and decrees, as the ſaid lands, tenements, rents, annuities, profits, goods, chattels, money, and ſtocks of money, may be duly and faithfully imployed, to and for ſuch of the charitable uſes and intents before rehearſed, reſpectively, for which they were given, limited, aſſigned or appointed by the Donors and Founders thereof. Which orders, judgments and decrees, not being contrary or repugnant to the orders, ſtatutes or decrees of the Donors or Founders, ſhall by the authority of this preſent Parliament ſtand firm and good, according to the tenor and purport thereof, and ſhall be executed accordingly, until the ſame ſhall be undone or altered by the L. Chancellor of England or L. Keeper of the great Seal of England, or the Chancellor of the County Palatine of Lancaſter, reſpectively, within their ſeveral juriſdictions, upon complaint by any party grieved to be made to them.

Commiſſioners to enquire of the gift of lands and goods to charitable uſes. Four Commiſſioners at the leaſt.

The enquiry.

The Commiſſioners orders.

The Commiſſioners orders ſhall be executed.

The Commiſſioners orders altered.

Provided always, That neither this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall in any wiſe extend to any lands, tenements, rents, annuities, profits, goods, chattels, money, or ſtocks of money, given, limited, appointed or aſſigned, or which ſhall be given, limited, appointed or aſſigned to any Colledg, Hall, or houſe of learning within the Univerſities of Oxford or Cambridge, or to the Colledges of Weſtminſter, Eaton, or Wincheſter, or to any of them, or to any Cathedral or Collegiate Church within this Realm.

Colledges, Halls in Oxford or Cambridge, Weſtminſter, Eaton, Wincheſter Cathedral Churches.

And provided alſo, That neither this Act, nor any thing therein, ſhall extend to any City or Town corporate, or to any the lands or tenements given to the uſes aforeſaid, within any ſuch City or town corporate, where there is a ſpecial governor or governors, appointed to govern or direct ſuch lands, tenements, or things diſpoſed to any the uſes aforeſaid, neither to any Colledg, Hoſpital or Free School, which have ſpecial viſitors, or governors, or overſeers, appointed them by their Founders.

City, Town corporate, Colledge, Hoſpital Free School.

Provided alſo, and be it Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That neither this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall be any way prejudicial or hurtful to the juriſdiction of the Ordinary, or power of the Ordinary, but that he may lawfully in every cauſe execute and perform the ſame, as though this Act had never been had or made.

Ordinaries Juriſdiction.

Provided alſo, and be it enacted, That no perſon or perſons that hath or ſhall have any of the ſaid lands, tenements, rents, annuities, profits, hereditaments, goods, chattels, money, or ſtocks of money in his hands or poſſeſſion, or doth or ſhall pretend title thereunto, ſhall be named a Commiſſioner or a Juror for any the cauſes aforeſaid, or being named, ſhall execute or ſerve in the ſame.

None ſhall be Commiſſioner or Juror, which hath any part of the lands or goods in queſtion.

And provided alſo, that no perſon or perſons, which hath purchaſed or obtained, or ſhall purchaſe or obtain upon valuable conſideration of money or land, any eſtate or intereſt of, in, to, or out of any lands, tenements, rents, annuities, hereditaments, goods or chattels that have been, or ſhal be given, limited or appointed to any the charitable uſes above mentioned, without fraud or covin, having no notice of the ſame charitable uſe, ſhall not be impeached by decrees or orders of the Commiſſioners above mentioned, or or concerning the ſame his eſtate or intereſt. And yet nevertheleſs, Be it enacted, That the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any four or more of them, ſhall & may make decrees and orders for recompence to be made by any perſon or perſons, who being put in truſt, or having notice of the charitable uſes above mentioned, hath or ſhall break the ſame truſt, or defraud the ſame uſes by any conveyance, gift, grant, leaſe, demiſe, releaſe or converſion whatſoever, and againſt the heirs, executors and adminiſtrators of him, them, or any of them, having Aſſets in law or equity, ſo far as the ſame Aſſets wil extend.

Purchaſers of the lands bona fide.

Recompence by thoſe which break the truſt.

Provided alwayes, That this Act ſhall not extend to give power or authority to any Commiſſioners before mentioned, to make any orders, judgments or decrees, for or concerning any manors, lands, tenements, or other hereditaments, aſſured, conveyed, granted, or come unto the Queens Majeſty, to the late King Henry the eighth, King Edw. the ſixth, or Queen Mary, by act of Parliament, ſurrender, exchange, relinquiſhment, eſcheat, attainder, conveyance, or otherwiſe. And yet nevertheleſs, be it Enacted, That if any ſuch manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments, or any of them, or any eſtate, rent, or profit thereof, or out of the ſame, or any part thereof, have or hath been given, granted, limited, appointed or aſſigned to or for any the charitable uſes before expreſſed at any time ſithence the beginning of her Majeſties reign, That then the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any four or more of them, ſhall and may, as concerning the ſame lands, tenements, hereditaments, eſtate, rent or profit ſo given, limited, appointed or aſſigned, proceed to enquire, and to make orders, judgments and decrees, according to the purport and meaning of this act, as before is mentioned: the ſaid laſt mentioned proviſo notwithſtanding.

Certifying of the Orders.

And be it further Enacted, That all orders, judgments and decrees of the ſaid Commiſſioners, or of any four or more of them, ſhall be certified under the Seals of the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any four or more of them, either into the Court of the Chancery of England, or into the Court of the Chancery within the County Palatine of Lancaſter, as the caſe ſhall require reſpectively, according to their ſeveral Juriſdictions, within ſuch convenient time as ſhall be limited in the ſaid Commiſſions.

Order for the execution of the Commiſſioners decree.

And that the ſaid Lord Chancellor or Lord Keeper, and the ſaid Chancellor of the Dutchy, ſhall and may within their ſaid ſeveral Juriſdictions take ſuch order for the due execution of all or any of the ſaid judgments, decrees and orders, as to either of them ſhall ſeem fit and convenient.

Cro. Car. 40.

A remedy for any perſon, grieved with the Commiſſioners decree.

And that if after any ſuch certificate or certificates made, any perſon or perſons ſhall find themſelves grieved with any of the ſaid orders, judgments or decrees, That then it ſhall and may be lawful to and for them, or any of them to complain in that behalf unto the ſaid Lord Chancellor or L. Keeper, or to the Chancellor of the ſaid Dutchy of Lancaſter, according to their ſeveral Juriſdictions, for redreſs therein. And that upon ſuch complaint, the ſaid L. Chancellor or L. Keeper, or the ſaid Chancellor of the Dutchy, may according to their ſaid ſeveral Juriſdictions, by ſuch courſe as to their wiſedoms ſhall ſeem meeteſt, the circumſtances of the caſe conſidered, proceed to the examination, hearing and determining thereof: and upon hearing thereof, ſhall and may adnul, diminiſh, alter or enlarge the ſaid orders, judgments and decrees of the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any four or more of them, as to either of them in their ſaid ſeveral Juriſdictions ſhall be thought to ſtand with equity and good conſcience, according to the true intent and meaning of the Donors and Founders thereof, and ſhall and may tax and award good coſts of ſuit by their diſcretions, againſt ſuch perſons as they ſhall find to complain unto them without juſt and ſufficient cauſe, of the orders, judgments and decrees, before mentioned. 39 El. 6. 43 El. 9.

Coſt of ſuit againſt the complainers.

CAP. V.

At what time a Writ to remove a ſuit depending in the Court of a Town Corporate, ſhall be delivered to the Judge or Officer of the ſame Court.

Devices by defendants to put the plaintiffs to as great charge as they can, and to know their evidence.

Whereas within divers Cities and Towns Corporate, and other places within this Realm of England, and the Dominions thereof, there are Juriſdictions, Cuſtoms and Priviledges to hold plea in actions of debt, and other actions, plaints and ſuits between party and party, And divers of her Majeſties Subjects do daily commence many actions, plaints and ſuits in the ſaid Cities, Towns corporate and places, according to the Juriſdictions, Cuſtoms and Priviledges of the ſaid places, and many defendants in actions, plaints and ſuits there brought and commenced, will ſuffer the ſaid actions, plaints and ſuits to be proceeded in, and proſecuted there, until the cauſe between the plaintiffs and them be at iſſue, and the Jury ſworn, and evidence given on the plaintiffs part, before the ſaid defendant will deliver into the Court, where the ſaid actions, plaints or ſuits are to be tried, Writs formerly ſued forth by them to remove the cauſe there depending, into ſome one or other of her Majeſties Courts of Record at Weſtminſter; which keeping back of the ſaid Writ is done by the defendant, to no other purpoſe or intent, but to put the parties plaintiffs to as great charges and expences as they the ſaid defendants can, and to know what proofs the parties plaintiffs can make for the proving of their iſſue, whereby the defendants that ſued forth the ſaid Writs, may have longer time to furniſh themſelves with ſome falſe witneſſes, to impugne thoſe proofs, which the plaintiffs have openly made by their witneſſes and proofs, which is a great cauſe of perjury and ſubornation of perjury, and great expences to the plaintiffs.

At what time a writ to remove a ſuit in a towne corporate ſhall be delivered to the Juſtice of the Court.

For remedy whereof, be it enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, that from & after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, no writ or writs of Habeas Corpus, or any other writ or writs ſued forth, or to be ſued forth by any perſon or perſons whatſoever, out of any of her Majeſties Courts of Record at Weſtminſter, to remove any action, ſuit, plaint or cauſe depending or to be depending in any Court or Courts, within any City or Town corporate, or elſewhere, which have, or ſhall have juriſdiction, power or authority to hold plea in any action, plaint or ſuit, ſhall be received or allowed by the Judge or Judges, Officer or Officers of the Court or Courts, wherein, or to whom any ſuch Writ or Writs ſhall be delivered (but that he and they ſhall proceed in the ſaid cauſe and cauſes ready to be tryed, as though no ſuch Writ or Writs were ſued forth or delivered to him or them) Except that the ſaid Writ or Writs be delivered to the Judge or Judges, Officer or Officers of the ſaid Court, before that the Jury which is to try the cauſe in queſtion between the party or parties plaintiffs, and the party or parties that ſued forth the ſaid Writ or Writs, or for whoſe benefit the ſaid Writ or Writs is or ſhall be ſued forth, have appeared, and one of the ſaid Jury ſworn to try the ſaid cauſe.

Provided alwayes, That this Act ſhall continue no longer than until the end of the next Parliament. 3 Car. 4. Continued until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

CAP. VI.

Penalty of a Sheriff, &c. arreſting or ſummoning without warrant, No coſts for the plaintiff where action is brought for a ſumme not exceeding 40, s.

For avoiding trifling and frivolous ſuits at Weſtminſter.

For avoiding the infinite number of ſmall and trifling ſuits commenced or proſecuted againſt ſundry her Majeſties good and loving ſubjects in her Highneſs Courts at Weſtminſter (which by the due courſe of the laws of this Realm ought to be determined in inferiour in the countrey) to the intolerable vexation and charge of her Highneſs ſubjects, Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, If any Sheriff, Underſheriff, or other perſon, having authority, or taking upon him to break Writs, after forty days next

Dyer fol. 244.

Summoning or arreſting without warrant.

after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, do make any warrant for the ſummons of any perſon, as upon any writ, proceſs, or ſuit, or for the arreſt or attaching of any perſon or perſons, by this or their body or goods, to appear in any her Majeſties courts at Weſtminſter, or elſe-where, (not having before that the original writ or proceſs warranting the ſame) That then upon complaint thereof made to the Juſtices of Aſſiſe of the county where the ſame offence ſhall be committed, or to the Judges of the court, out of which the proceſs iſſued, not only the party that made ſuch Warrant, but all thoſe that were the procurers thereof, ſhall be ſent for before the ſame Judges or Juſtices, by attachment, or otherwiſe as the ſame Judges or Juſtices ſhall think good and allow of, and be examined thereof upon their oaths. And if the ſame offence be confeſſed by the ſame offendors, or proved by ſufficient witneſſes, to the ſatisfaction of the ſame Judges or Juſtices, That then the ſame Judges or Juſtices that ſhall ſo examine the ſame, ſhall forthwith by force of this act commit every the ſame offendors to the Goal of the County or Court where the ſame ſhall be examined, and there to remain without bail or mainpriſe, until ſuch time as they amongſt them have fully ſatisfied and paid unto the party grieved, by ſuch warrant, not only the ſum of x. l. of lawfull Engliſh money, but alſo all ſuch coſts and damages as the ſame Judges or Juſtices ſhall ſet down that the ſame party hath ſuſtained thereby, and withal xx. l. apiece for their offence to her Majeſty.

No coſts ſhall be awarded in any action brought for a ſumme not exceeding xl. s.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, If upon any action perſonal to be brought in any her Majeſties Courts at Weſtminſter, not being for any title or intereſt of lands, nor concerning the freehold or inheritance of any lands, nor for any battery, it ſhall appear to the Judges of the ſame Court, and ſo ſignified or ſet down by the Juſtices before whom the ſame ſhall be tryed, that the debt or damages to be recovered therein in the ſame Court, ſhall not amount to the ſumme of xl. s. or above, That in every ſuch caſe the Judges and Juſtices, before whom any ſuch action ſhall be purſued, ſhall not award for coſts to the party plaintiff any greater or more coſts than the ſum of the debt or damages ſo recovered ſhall amount unto, but leſs at their diſcretions, This act to endure to the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament. 3 Car. 4. Continued until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament. Stat. 6. El. 1. 8. Stat. 21, Jac. 16.

CAP. VII.

Puniſhment for cutting of corn growing, or of ſuch other ſmall offences: and of a Conſtable refuſing to puniſh ſuch an offendor, being commanded.

The puniſhment for ſmall offences.

Foraſmuch as unlawful cutting and taking away of corn and grain growing, robbing of orchards and gardens, digging up or taking away fruit-trees, breaking of hedges, pales, or other fences, cutting or ſpoyling of woods or underwoods, ſtanding & growing, and ſuch like offences, are now more commonly committed by lewd and mean perſons than in former times: And that the ſaid offences are great cauſes of the maintaining of idleneſs, and the perſons which commit the ſame are not for the moſt part able, nor have wherewith to make recompence or ſatisfaction: Be it therefore enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That all and every ſuch lewd perſon and perſons, which from and after the laſt day of February now next following, ſhall cut, or unlawfully take away any corn or grain growing, or rob any orchards or gardens, or break or cut any hedge, pales, rails, or fence, or dig, or pull up, or take up any fruit tree or trees in any orchard, garden, or elſe-where, to the intent to take & carry the ſame away, or ſhall cut or ſpoyl any woods or underwoods, poles or tres ſtanding, not being felony by the laws of this Realm, and their procurer and procurers, receiver or receivers knowing the ſame, being thereof lawfully convicted by the confeſſion of the party, or by the teſtimony of one ſufficient witneſs, upon oath before ſome one Juſt. of P. Mayor, Bailiff, or other head Officers (which ſhall have power by force of this ſtatute to miniſter the ſaid oath where the offence ſhall be committed, or the party offending apprehended) ſhall give the party and parties ſuch recompence and ſatisfaction for his and their damages, and within ſuch time, as by any one ſuch Juſt. of P. of the ſaid county where ſuch offence ſhall be done, without the liberty of any City or Town corporate, or by ſuch head Officer or Juſtice of P. within any City or Town corporate ſhall be ordered and appointed, and the ſame to be only for the firſt fault. And if ſuch offendor or offendors ſhall be thought in the diſcretion of the ſaid Juſtice or Juſtices, or other head Officers, not able or ſufficient, or do not make recompence or ſatisfaction for the ſaid damages in manner and form aforeſaid: Then the ſaid Juſtice or head Officer ſhall commit all and every the ſaid offendor or offendors to ſome Conſtable or Conſtables, or other inferiour Officers of the City, Borough, Town, or Hamlet where the offence ſhall be committed, or the party apprehended, to be whipped, and for every ſuch offence, for, or of which the offendor or offendors, ſhall be eftſoons committed in form afore limited, the perſon and perſons ſo offending to receive the ſaid puniſhment of whipping.

The puniſhment of a Conſtable refuſing to puniſh an offendor.

And be it enacted by the authority afore ſaid That if any Conſtable or inferiour Officer do refuſe, or do not at the commandment of any Juſtice of P. or other head Officer, execute by himſelf, or ſome other to be by him appointed, upon the offendor the puniſhment limited by this ſtatute, That in that caſe it ſhall and may be lawful for the ſaid Juſtice of Peace to commit the Conſtable or other inferior Officer ſo refuſing, or not executing the ſaid puniſhment by himſelf or ſome other, to the common Goal of the ſaid County, City, or Town corporate, there to remain without bail or mainpriſe, until the ſaid offendor or offendors be by the ſaid Conſtable or Conſtables ſo refuſing or not executing, or ſome other by his or their procurement, puniſhed and whipped, as is above limited and declared.

None ſhall puniſh an offence done unto himſelf.

Provided always, that no Juſtice of Peace or other head Officer do execute this ſtatute for any the offences aforeſaid done unto himſelf, unleſs he be aſſociated and aſſiſted with one or more other Juſtices of Peace whom the offence doth not concern. 15 Car. 2. ca. 2.

CAP. VIII.

He who by colour of a fraudulent Adminiſtration, taken in anothers name, doth receive an inteſtates goods, &c. ſhall be ſo ſo much charged as Executor of his own wrong.

Fraud practiſed in taking of adminiſtrations to deceive others of their lawful debts.

FOraſmuch as it is often put in ure, to the defrauding of creditors, that ſuch perſons as are to have the adminiſtration of the goods of others, dying inteſtate, committed unto them, if they require it, will not accept the ſame, but ſuffer or procure the adminiſtration to be granted to ſome ſtranger of mean eſtate, and not of kin to the inteſtate, from whom themſelves or others by their means do take deeds of gifts, and authorities by Letter of Attorney, whereby they obtain the ſtate of the inteſtate into their hands, and yet ſtand not ſubject to pay the debts owing by the ſame inteſtate, and ſo the creditors for lack of knowledg of the place of habitation of the Adminiſtrator, cannot arreſt him nor ſue him: and if they fortune to find him out, yet for lack of ability in him to ſatisfie of his own goods, the value of that he hath conveyed away of the inteſtates goods, or releaſed of his debts by way of waſting, the creditors cannot have or recover their juſt and due debts.

By fraudulent adminiſtration of inteſtates goods, the party ſhall be charged as Executor of his own wrong.

Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That every perſon and perſons that hereafter ſhall obtain, receive, and have any goods or debts of any perſon inteſtate, or a releaſe or other diſcharge of any debt or duty that belonged to the inteſtate upon any fraud, as is aforeſaid, or without ſuch valuable conſideration, as ſhall amount to the value of the ſame goods or debts, or near thereabouts (except it be in or towards ſatisfaction of ſome juſt and principal debt of the value of the ſame goods or debts to him owing by the inteſtate at the time of his deceaſe) ſhall be charged and chargeable as Executor of his own wrong, and ſo far only as all ſuch goods and debts coming to his hands, or whereof he is releaſed or diſcharged by ſuch Adminiſtrator, will ſatisfie, deducting nevertheleſs to and for himſelf allowance of all juſt, due and principal debts upon good conſideration without fraud, owing to him by the inteſtate at the time of his deceaſe, and of all other payments made by him, which lawful Executors or Adminiſtrators may and ought to have and pay by the Laws and Statutes of this Realm.

Allowance of juſt debts, and other lawful payments.

Provided alwayes, and be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That no Ship, Veſſel or Crayer, whereof any her Majeſties Subjects ſhall be Owners, or part Owners, of the burthen of twenty Tuns loading and upwards, loading, or diſcharging within this Realm, and paſſing to and from any foreign Country (other than Ships, Veſſels and Crayers, which ſhall be laden with Seacoal or Grindeſtones) ſhall after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, in reſpect of any ſuch Voyage, pay to the reparation of Dover Haven, but only after the rate of three pence the Tun for the Merchandize, wherewith ſuch Ship, Veſſel or Crayer, ſhall be in ſuch Voyage laden, and not after the rate of three pence the Tun of the burthen of every ſuch Ship, Veſſel or Crayer. And that every Ship, Veſſel or Crayer, which ſhall be employed in a Voyage of fiſhing, ſhall not upon return of ſuch Voyage pay but after the rate of three pence the Tun for ſuch Oyl, Train and Merchandize, as ſuch Ship ſhall bring home in ſuch Voyage, and not any thing for fiſh, or in reſpect of the burthen of the ſame Ship, Veſſel or Crayer, The ſaid Statute made for the repairing of Dover Haven, or any other Statute touching the ſame, or any thing in this Act contained to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

CAP. X.

No deceivable thing ſhall be put in woollen Clothes, nor any device to ſtretch them in length or bredth, and how they ſhall be made, &c.

THe Queens moſt excellent Majeſty with the advice of her Highneſſe Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, weighing and conſidering the good and godly purpoſes of divers and ſundry Statutes heretofore made and ordained for the true making and working of woollen-Cloth, to be fruſtrate and deluded by ſtraining, ſtretching, want of weight, flocks, ſollace, chalk, flower, deceitful things, ſubtil ſleights and untruth, ſo as the ſame Clothes being put in water, are found to ſhrink, be rewey, purſey, ſqually, cockling, bandy, light, and notably faulty, to the great diſlike of foreign Princes, and to the hinderance and loſſe of the Buyer and wearer: For redreſſe thereof is pleaſed, and willeth it to be enacted, and by the authority of this preſent Parliament it is enacted, That from and after the Feaſt of the Purification of the bleſſed Virgin next enſuing, No perſon or perſons ſhall put any hair, flocks, thrums, or yarn made of Lambs-wooll, or other deceivable thing or things, in or upon any broad woollen-Cloth, half-Cloth, Kerſie, Frize, Dozen, Peniſtone or Cotton, Taunton-Cloth, Bridgewater, Dunſter Cotton (which Dunſter Cotton hereafter ſhall be by this preſent Act intended and taken to be of like weight, length and bredth as Taunton and Bridgewater-Cloth, or other Cloth of what nature, kind, or name ſoever, made or to be made, or offered to be ſold) upon pain to forfeit every ſuch Cloth, half-Cloth, Kerſie, Frize, Dozen, Peniſtone and Cotton, and other woollen-Cloth, of what nature, kind, or name ſoever, whereinto or whereupon any ſuch hair, flocks, thrums, yarn of Lambs-wooll, or other deceivable thing or things whatſoever, ſhall be ſo put, Any Law, Statute, Diſpenſation, Allegation or Toleration to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding. And upon pain that every perſon and perſons which ſhall buy, gather or procure any hair, flocks, thrums, yarn of Lambs-wooll, or other deceivable thing or things whatſoever for that intent and purpoſe, to forfeit the ſame hair, flocks, thrums, yarn of Lambs-wooll, and other deceivable thing and things whatſoever.

No deceivable things ſhall be put into woollen cloth 5 Ed. 6. 6. 4 Jac. 2.

The penalty for buying or gathering of deceivable things.

No device ſhall be made to ſtretch cloth unwrought in bredth or length 5 Ed. 6. 6. 39 Eliz. 20.

And that no perſon or perſons, within her Majeſties Realm of England, or the Dominions of the ſame, ſhall from and after the Feaſt of Eaſter now next enſuing, have, uſe, or occupy within any place of her Majeſties ſaid Realm or Dominions, any Tenter, Inſtrument, Engine, or other device, of what ſort or kind ſoever, with any lower bar, pin, ring, or other engine or device, of what ſort or kind ſoever, whereby or wherewith any rough and unwrought woollen broad-Cloth, half-Cloth, Kerſie, Cotton, Dozen, Peniſtone, Frize, Rugge, or any other rough and unwrought woollen-Cloth, of what nature, kind, or name ſoever they be, or ſhall be of, made, or to be made to be ſold, ſhall or may be ſtretched or ſtrained in bredth, Or ſhall have, keep or uſe any manner of winch, ring-head, growm, rope, or other Engine to ſtretch or ſtrain any rough and unwrought woollen-Cloth, half-Cloth, Kerſie, Cotton, Peniſtone, Frize, Rugge, or any other rough and unwrought woollen Cloth, of what nature, kind, or name ſoever they be, or ſhall be of, in length made, or to be made to be ſo ſold, upon pain that every offendor that ſhall have, keep, uſe or exerciſe any ſuch Tenter, Inſtrument, Engine, or device, with a lower barre, pinne, ring, engine, or device, wrinch, ring-head, growm, or rope of what ſort or kind ſoever, ſhall forfeit for every ſuch offence xl.l. the one half thereof to our Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty, and the other half to him that will ſue for the ſame, by Bill, Plaint or Information, in any of her Highneſſe Courts of Record, wherein no Eſſoine, Protection or Wager of Law ſhall be allowed.

No wrought woollen-cloth ſhall be ſtretched.

And that no perſon or perſons within her Majeſties Realm of England, or the Dominions of the ſame, from and after the ſaid Feaſt of Eaſter, now next enſuing, ſhall ſet, or cauſe to be ſet, directly or indirectly, any wrought woollen broad-cloth, half-cloth, Kerſie, Cotton, Peniſtone, Frize, Rugge, or any other wrought woollen broad-cloth, half-cloth, Kerſie, Cotton, Dozen, Peniſtone, Frize, Rugge, or any other wrought woollen-cloth, of what nature, kind, or name ſoever they be, or ſhall be of, made for ſale, or offered to be ſold, in or upon any tenter, inſtrument, engine or device, with a lower barre, pinne, ring, engine or device, wrinch, ring-head, growm or rope, of what ſort or kind ſoever, to ſtretch or ſtrain the ſame wrought woollen-cloth, half-cloth, Kerſie, Cotton, Dozen, Peniſtone, Frize, Rugge, or any other wrought woollen-cloth, of what nature, kind, or name ſoever they be or ſhall be of, otherwiſe than the whole wrought woollen broad-cloth one yard in length, and one half-quarter in bredth. And the half-cloth one half yard in length, and one half quarter in bredth. And the Kerſie, Cotton, Dozen, Peniſtone, Frize and Rugge, one half yard in length, and one nail in bredth. Or ſhall utter or ſell any wrought woollen-cloth, half-cloth, Kerſie, Cotton, Dozen, Peniſtone, Frize, Rugge, or any other wrought woollen cloth of what nature, kind, or name ſoever they be, or ſhall be of, tentered, ſtrained, or ſtretched otherwiſe than as aforeſaid, in or upon any tenter, inſtrument, engine or device, with a lower barre, pinne, ring, engine or device, wrinch, ring-head, growm or rope, of what ſort or kind ſoever, upon pain to forfeit every ſuch wrought woollen-cloth, half-cloth, Kerſie, Cotton, Dozen, Peniſtone, Frize, Rugge, and every other wrought woollen-cloth, of what nature, kind, or name ſoever they be or ſhall be of.

None ſhall ſell woollen-cloth tentered or ſtretched.

Woollen Clothes ſhall not exceed the length appointed by former ſtatutes.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no woollen broad-cloth, half-cloth, Kerſie, Cotton, Dozen, Peniſtone, Frize, Rugge, nor any other woollen-cloth, of what nature, kind, or name ſoever they be, or ſhall be of, ſhall from and after the ſaid Feaſt of Eaſter now next enſuing, being well ſcoured, thicked, milled, and fully dyed and made to be ſold, or which ſhall be offered to be ſold (exceed the ſeveral length or lengths, which heretofore is limited and appointed, reſpectively for every ſuch broad woollen-cloth, half-cloth, Kerſie, Cotton, Dozens, Peniſtone, Frize, Rugge, and other woollen-cloth, of what nature, kind, or name ſoever they be of, and ought at this time to be of, by the ſeveral Statutes therefore limited and appointed, upon pain of forfeiture of every ſuch broad woollen-cloth, half-cloth, Kerſie, Cotton, Dozen, Peniſtone, Frize, Rugge, and every other woollen-cloth, of what nature, kind, or name ſoever.

The weight of woollen Clothes appointed by former ſtatutes.

And that every broad woollen-Cloth, half-Cloth, Kerſie, Cotton, Dozen, Peniſtone, Frize, Rugge, and other woollen-Cloth, of what nature, kind, or name ſoever they be, or ſhall be of, ſhall from thenceforth (being well ſcoured, thicked, milled, and fully dyed) weigh reſpectively the true weight which is heretofore limited and appointed, for every ſuch broad woollen-Cloth, half-Cloth, Kerſie, Cotton, Dozen, Peniſtone, Frize, Rugge, and every other woollen Cloth, of what nature, kind or name ſoever they be, or ſhall be of, to weigh, and ought at this preſent time to weigh by the ſeveral Statutes therefore limited and appointed, ſaving that Taunton Clothes, Bridgewaters, and ſuch Clothes as ſhall be made in Taunton, Bridgewater, and other places of like ſort and making, and limited to weigh four and thirty pounds at the leaſt, ſhall and may from henceforth (being well ſcoured, thicked, milled, wrought, and fully dyed) weigh only thirty pounds at the leaſt, Any former Statute or Statutes to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding. And ſaving that Suffolk, Norfolk, Eſſex, and Northern Cloth, limited by the ſeveral Statutes of the fifth year of King Edward the ſixth, and the fourth and fifth years of King Philip and Queen Mary, or one of them, to weigh the ſeveral weights therein mentioned, ſhall and may be abated for the workmanſhip of the whole Cloth four pounds, and for the half Cloth two pounds in the weight thereof, as the ſame Norfolk, Suffolk, and Eſſex Clothes are allowed by her Highneſſe toleration by Proclamation.

The weight of Taunton and Bridgewater cloth.

The weight of Norfolk, &c. clothes.
5 Ed. 6. 6.
4 & 5 P. & M. 5.

The forfeit for want of weight.

And if it ſhall happen, that any of the ſaid broad woollen-clothes, half-clothes, Kerſies, Cottons, Dozens, Peniſtones, Frizes, Ruggs, or any other woollen-cloth, of what nature kind or name ſoever they be or ſhall be of, made or to be made to be ſold, or offered to be ſold, ſhall lack (being well ſcoured, thicked, milled, wrought, and fully dyed,) of the weight therefore reſpectively limited, and which ought to be of that weight by this preſent Act, above three pound in any whole broad woollen cloth, or above one pound and the half of one pound in one half broad Cloth, Taunton Cloth, Bridgewater, or other Cloth of like ſort, or above one pound in one Kerſie, Cotton, Dozen, Peniſtone, Frize, Rugge, or any other woollen-cloth reſpectively, of what nature, kind or name ſoever they be or ſhall be of, Then the Offendor ſhall forfeit for one pound wanting more than is aforeſaid, ten ſhillings, and for two pounds, twenty ſhillings, and for three pounds, forty ſhillings, and ſo double the forfeiture for every pound ſo wanting, unleſſe the party offending by ſuch wanting, will yield the ſame cloth, half cloth, Kerſie, Cotton, Dozen, Peniſtone, Frize and Rugge ſo wanting, forfeited; which if he will yield, then the ſame ſo wanting ſhall be forfeited: Any former Law, Statute or other matter or thing whatſoever to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The ſtat. reviued 39 El. 20 for Northern cloth, ſhall extend to cloth made in other counties.

And that one Statute made in the nine and thirtieth year of her Highneſſe Reign, entituled, An Act againſt the deceitful ſtretching and tentering of Northern Cloth, as to, for, touching and concerning views, ſeals, ſearches, appointment of Overſeers, penalties and authority given to Juſtices of Aſſiſe, Juſtices of Peace, head-Officers of Cities, Boroughs and Towns corporate, and other perſon and perſons of and for Northern clothes, in the County of York, Lancaſter, and other the Counties on the North of Trent, ſhall from the ſaid Feaſt of Eaſter next enſuing, reſpectively extend unto all and ſingular woollen broad clothes, half clothes, Kerſies, Cottons, Dozens, Peniſtones, Frizes, Ruggs, and all other woollen-cloth of what nature, kind or name ſoever they be or ſhall be of, made or to be made within her Highneſſe Realm of England, to be viewed, ſealed, ſearched, overſeen, ſubjected to penalties, and authority given to Juſtices of Aſſiſe, Juſtices of Peace, and other perſon and perſons, in ſuch and the like manner and form, and to ſuch and the like purpoſes and intents reſpectively, as is limited and appointed, for ſuch ſaid Northern clothes.

Cloth ſealed by the Overſeers, ſhall not be ſearched or tryed again.

And that every broad woollen cloth, half cloth, Kerſie, Cotton, Dozen, Peniſtone, Frize, Rugge, and every other woollen cloth, of what nature, kind, or name ſoever they be or ſhall be of, ſealed by the Overſeers authoriſed by this preſent Act, ſhall not be brought to be viewed, ſearched and ſeen, nor ſhall be ſearched, tried or watered by any other Searcher and Overſeer of any other City, Borough, Town, Village, Pariſh or Hamlet, by vertue of his or their Office or Offices: Any Statute, matter or thing to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

A repeal of part of the ſtat. hereafter mentioned.

And be it further enacted, That the ſeveral branches of the ſeveral Acts of Parliament, the firſt entituled, An Act for the true making of woollen-cloth in the fifth year of the Reign of King Edward the ſixth, And the Act entituled, An Act touching the making of woollen-clothes in the fourth and fifth years of the Reign of King Philip and Queen Mary, And in the Act made in the ſeven and twentieth year of the Reign of our ſaid Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty that now is, entituled, An Act touching the bredth of white Woollen-clothes made in the Counties of Somerſet, Wilts, Glouceſter and Oxon, And in the Act made in the five and thirtieth year of the Reign of our ſaid Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty that now is, entituled, An Act touching the bredth of Plunkets, Azures and Blewes, and other coloured clothes made in the County of Somerſet, or elſewhere of like making, for and concerning the exceeding of length of clothes, mentioned in the ſaid Statute of the fifth of King Edward the ſixth, ſhall from henceforth be utterly repealed, as concerning only the ſaid over-lengths. And that one other branch made in the ſaid fourth and fifth year of the Reign of King Philip and Queen Mary, touching and concerning Certificates of faulty Clothes, ſhall from the ſaid Feaſt of Eaſter next enſuing, be likewiſe repealed, for Clothes to be ſold after the ſaid Feaſt of Eaſter next enſuing.

35 Eliz. 9.
The length of clothes.

Certificate of faulty cloth.

No Merchant ſhall take advantage of a Clothier for any defect in cloth.

And be it enacted, That no Merchant or Buyer which ſhall tranſport, or cauſe to be tranſported beyond the Seas any broad woollen-cloth, half-cloth, Kerſie, Cotton, Dozen, Peniſtone, Frize, Rugge, or any other woollen-cloth, of what nature, kind, or name ſoever they be, or ſhall be of, by reaſon of any Clothiers or Sellers of any broad woollen-cloth, half-cloth, Kerſie, Cotton, Dozen, Peniſtone, Frize, Rugge, or any other woollen-cloth, of what nature, kind, or name ſoever they be, or ſhall be of, ſo tranſported, his hand to ſuch Merchant or Buyers Book, Bill or Ticket, for or touching any defects, ſhall take any benefit or advantage.

All Acts contrary to this repealed.

And be it further enacted, That all and every Article, Clauſe and Sentence in any Act of Parliament heretofore made, touching or concerning the ſaid abuſes in this Act mentioned, and being repugnant and contrariant to any article or ſentence in this Act, ſhall from the ſaid Feaſt of Eaſter now next enſuing, be utterly void, and of none effect.

39 Eliz. 20.

And be it further enacted, That ſuch as ſhall offend after the ſaid Feaſt of Eaſter againſt the ſaid Act in the nine and thirtieth year of her Highneſſe Reign, obſerving and performing this preſent Act, ſhall not incur any penalty mentioned in the ſaid Act of the ſaid nine and thirtieth year. The moyety of all which forfeitures (not otherwiſe by this preſent Act appointed) ſhall be to the Searchers and Overſeers that ſhall and will find the ſame, and in his and their default, to him that ſhall find the ſame, and the other half to the poor of the Pariſh where the offence ſhall be committed.

The forfeiture to whoſe uſe imployed.

The Aulnegers authority.

Provided alwayes, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to take away or abridge from any lawful Aulneger any power or right already given unto him by her Majeſties Letters Patents, for the viewing, ſearching, or ſeizing of any Clothes put to ſale, contrary to the Laws heretofore made in that behalf. This Act to continue till the end of the next Seſſion of the next Parliament.

Unwrought cloth tentered tranſported and returned.

Provided alſo nevertheleſſe, That if any unwrought cloth, half-cloth, Kerſie, Cotton, Dozen, Peniſtone, Frize, Rugge, or any other unwrought woollen-cloth, of what nature, kind, or name ſoever they be, or ſhall be of, tranſported after the ſaid Feaſt of Eaſter next beyond the Seas, ſhall be found to have been formerly tentered, ſtrained and ſtretched by the means or conſent of the Maker or Seller thereof, contrary to the true intent of this preſent Act: That then ſuch Merchant or Buyer ſhall or may at his own coſts and charges return the ſame into this Realm, and after ſuch return, deliver, or cauſe the ſame to be delivered unto the Maker or Seller thereof, with the Seals thereunto limited by this preſent Act to be fixed, and thereupon ſhall or may recover the value thereof ſo returned by action of Debt, Bill, Plaint or Information, in any of her Highneſſe Courts of Record, againſt the Maker or Seller thereof, by whoſe means or conſent the ſame was ſo tentered, ſtrained or ſtretched. 3 Car. 4. Continued untill the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

CAP. XI.

Approvement may be made between Lords and Commoners of great Mariſhes in ſeveral Counties, and the perſons undertaking to keep them perpetually dry, &c.

Whereas it is apparent to ſuch as have travelled in the execution of Commiſſions of Sewers in the Iſle and Counties aforeſaid, That the Waſtes, Commons, Mariſhes, and fenny Grounds there ſubject to ſurrounding, may be recovered by ſkilful and able Undertakers, whereby great and ineſtimable benefit would ariſe to her Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, disburdening her Highneſſe of many chargeable banks and works of Sewers in thoſe ſurrounded grounds, as the encreaſe of many able Subjects, by habitations being there erected, and in like ſort profitable unto many her Highneſſe Subjects, both bodies politick and corporate, who have eſtate of Inheritance, and other intereſt within the ſame: And for that the draining and making dry and profitable of thoſe ſurrounded grounds is chiefly hindred, for that the greater part of them are Waſtes and Commons, ſubject yearly to ſurrounding, wherein divers have common by preſcription, by reaſon of their reſiancy and inhabitancy, which kind of Commons, nor their intereſt therein can by the Common Law be extinguiſhed, or granted to bind others which ſhould inhabit there afterwards: And in that alſo it appeareth, that the Commoners in reſpect of their poverty, are unable to pay the great charges to ſuch as ſhould undertake the recovery of the ſame.

A bargain between the Lords and Commoners in waſtes, and the undertakers.

It may pleaſe your Majeſty, that by your Highneſſe, and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and the authority of the ſame, It may be enacted, That the Lord or Lords, as well bodies politick or corporate, as any other perſon or perſons whatſoever, of all and every the Waſtes and Commons aforeſaid, and the moſt of the Commoners for their particular Commons, and likewiſe the Owners, and ſuch as have, or ſhall have an intereſt in any ſeveral ſurrounded grounds, lying within or near the ſame, may contract or bargain for part of ſuch commons, waſtes, and ſeverals aforeſaid, with ſuch perſon and perſons which will undertake the draining and keeping dry perpetually, the Severals, Waſtes and Commons of that quality. Which contract and bargain, and conveyances thereupon made, ſhall be good and available in Law to all conſtructions and purpoſes, againſt the ſaid Lords of the ſaid Soyl, and Owners of Several, and their Heirs, Succeſſors and Aſſigns, and all the Commoners, and ſuch as ſhall or might have common or intereſt there afterwards, according to the contracts, covenants, proviſions and agreements in thoſe conveyances to be ſpecified, and for ſo much of ſuch Commons, Waſtes or Severals, as ſhall be ſo contracted or conveyed, To hold and enjoy in ſeveralty to ſuch perſon and perſons, his or their Aſſignee or Aſſignees, as ſhall or have undertaken the ſame, in ſuch manner and form, as his or their eſtates and intereſt are or ſhall be, by or upon ſuch contracts and agreements, by ſuch conveyances limited and appointed.

Where the Queen is Owner of the ſoyle of the waſte or common, or of part thereof.

Provided notwithſtanding, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That in all caſes where your Highneſſe, your Heirs and Succeſſors is or ſhall be Lord or Owner of the Freehold of the Soyl of ſuch Waſtes or Commons, or any part of the ſame, That the moſt part of the Commoners in ſuch your Highneſſe Soyl, ſhall or may contract, bargain, aſſign, and ſet forth as is aforeſaid, part of their common therein, to any perſon or perſons which will undertake the draining of that whole common (accordingly as the Lords and the moſt part of the Commoners in the ſurrounded Waſtes and Commons aforeſaid of bodies politick or corporate may do, as is before declared:) which ſhall bind, and be good and available againſt all the ſaid Commoners, their Heirs, Executors or Aſſigns, and all others that ſhall hereafter, by reaſon of any their reſiancy, claim any Common of Paſture in the ſaid waſtes or common grounds, whereof the ſoyl doth or ſhall pertain to your Majeſty, of and for all their intereſt or claim of common therein, to hold, according to the true intent and effect of ſuch contract, bargain, aſſignment, and conveyances by writing indented, ſealed, and delivered by the moſt part of ſuch Commoners, as ſhall be made between the moſt part of ſuch Commoners and ſuch Undertakers: but ſhall not in any ſort be of any effect or validity againſt your Highneſſe, your Heirs, Succeſſors or Aſſigns, or their Eſtate or Eſtates, in, or to the ſoyl thereof, Except ſuch Conveyances be by writing indented in Parchment, and one part thereof under the Hands and Seals of moſt part of the Commoners ſo contracting the ſame, certified into your Highneſſe high Court of Chancery, if the waſtes or ſoyl ſhall be of the Poſſeſſions of your Highneſſe Crown of England. And except your Majeſties Royal conſent be obtained thereunto, and ſignified by and under your Highneſſe privy Seal, or great Seal, and inrolled in your Highneſſe ſaid Court of Chancery, And after ſuch aſſent ſo had, ſignified and inrolled, Then the ſame Contracts and Covenants ſhall be good and available to all and every ſuch Undertakers, their Heirs and Aſſigns, againſt your Highneſſe, your Heirs and Succeſſors, according to the proviſions, agreements and covenants, ſo aſſented unto by your Highneſſe, your Heirs and Succeſſors. And where they are of the poſſeſſion of the Dutchy of Lancaſter, Then the ſaid Contract, Bargain, Aſſignment, of or from your Highneſſe, ſhall not be of any effect or validity againſt your Highneſſe, your Heirs, Succeſſors and Aſſigns, Except ſuch Contract and Bargain touching the premiſſes, and ſuch aſſignment and ſetting forth of ſuch part to the ſaid Undertakers to hold in ſeveralty, be by writing indented in Parchment, ſealed and delivered by the ſaid Commoners, or the moſt part of them, and the ſaid Undertakers, and one part thereof certified under the hands and ſeals of moſt part of the Commoners, into your Highneſſe Court of the Dutchy of Lancaſter for the time being, and your Majeſties Royal conſent, under the Seal of the ſaid Dutchy, obtained thereunto, and there inrolled in that Court. Which conſent Royal being obtained for the ſoyl of ſuch waſte, being of the poſſeſſions of the Crown, and under the Seal of the ſaid Dutchy, of your Highneſſe ſoyl of ſuch waſtes as are of thoſe poſſeſſions, The ſaid Undertakers, and their Heirs and Aſſigns, ſhall and may enjoy in ſeveralty, the ſoyl of ſo much waſte and common, as was ſo contracted for, aſſigned and ſet forth by the moſt part of your Highneſſe Commoners in ſuch ſort and quality, as the ſaid Undertakers ſhall hold and enjoy the intereſt of common, to all intents and purpoſes.

The Queens aſſent under the privy or great Seal, and inrolled in the Chancery.

The Queen owner of the waſtes being Dutchy land.

This ſtat. ſhall extend but to ſo much common as ſhall be contracted for.

Provided alwayes, and be it enacted, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to the impairing, diminiſhing, letting, taking away, or extinguiſhing of the intereſt of the Commoners, or any of them, or of the Lords or Owners of the Soyl, of, in, or to any part of the reſidue of the waſtes or commons, which is not, or ſhall not be ſo ſet forth or aſſigned to the Undertakers: Nor to any Franchiſes or Liberties, or Waife, Stray, Leet, Lawday, nor other Liberties to be uſed or taken, in the part ſo to the ſaid Undertakers aſſigned, But that as well the Commoners, and Lords, and Owners of that Soyl, ſhall and may enjoy their Commons in the reſidue thereof, And the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the Lords and Owners ſhall and may have and enjoy ſuch Liberties and Franchiſes, in ſuch their part as heretofore was lawfully uſed, and as they, or any of them ſhould or might have done, if this Act, or any ſuch Contract, Bargain and Aſſignment had never been, And thing in this Statute contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

This aſſignment ſhall hinder no mans liberty.

Not prejudicial to the Ports or Havens Eight miles of Yarmouth, or ſix miles of Lin.

Provided alwayes, and be it enacted, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend either to any bargain, ſale, agreement, grant, conveyance or aſſurance, Or to the inning, drayning, or laying dry of any Commons, Mariſhes, or ſurrounded grounds, whereby, or by means whereof, any of the Havens or Ports of this Realm of England may be in any ſort annoyed, impaired or hindered, Nor to any grounds within eight miles of Yarmouth, or ſix miles of Lin within the County of Norfolk. 4 Jac. 8.

CAP. XII.

Commiſſions awarded to hear and determine Policies of aſſurances made among Merchants; and the Commiſſioners authority.

Whereas it hath been the policy of this Realm by all good means to comfort and encourage the Merchant, thereby to advance and encreaſe the general wealth of the Realm, her Majeſties Cuſtoms, and the ſtrength of ſhipping, which conſideration is now the more requiſite, becauſe Trade and Traffique is not at this preſent ſo open as at other times it hath been: and whereas it hath been time out of mind an uſage amongſt Merchants, both of this Realm, and of foreign Nations, when they make any great adventure (eſpecially into remote parts) to give ſome conſideration of money to other perſons (which commonly are in no ſmal number) to have from them aſſurance made of their Goods, Merchandizes, Ships, and things adventured, or ſome part thereof, at ſuch rates, and in ſuch ſort, as the parties aſſurers and the parties aſſured can agree, which courſe of dealing is commonly termed, A policy of aſſurance: by means of which policies of aſſurance, it cometh to paſſe, upon the loſſe or periſhing of any Ship, there followeth not the undoing of any man, but the loſſe lighteth rather eaſily upon many, than heavily upon few, and rather upon them that adventure not, than thoſe that do adventure, whereby all Merchants, eſpecially of the younger ſort, are allured to venture more willingly and more freely: And whereas heretofore ſuch aſſurers have uſed to ſtand ſo juſtly and preciſely upon their Credits, as few or no Controverſies have riſen thereupon, And if any have grown, the ſame have from time to time been ended and ordered by certain grave and diſcreet Merchants appointed by the Lord Mayor of the City of London, as men by reaſon of their experience fitteſt to underſtand, and ſpeedily to decide thoſe cauſes, untill of late years, that divers perſons have withdrawn themſelves from that arbitrary courſe, and have ſought to draw the parties aſſured to ſeek their moneys of every ſeveral aſſurer, by ſuits commenced in her Majeſties Courts, to their great charges and delays. For remedy whereof, Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That it ſhall and may be lawful for the Lord Chancellor, or Lord Keeper of the great Seal of England for the time being, to award forth under the great Seal of England, one general or ſtanding Commiſſion, to be renewed yearly at the leaſt, and otherwiſe ſo oft as unto the ſaid Lord Chancellor or Lord Keeper ſhall ſeem good, for the hearing and determining of cauſes ariſing and policies of aſſurances, ſuch as now are, or hereafter ſhall be entred within the Office of aſſurances within the City of London, and whereof no ſuit ſhall be depending the laſt day of this Seſſion of Parliament, in any of her Majeſties Courts. Which Commiſſion ſhall be directed to the Judge of the Admiralty for the time being, the Recorder of London for the time being, two Doctors of the civil Law, and two common Lawyers, and eight grave and diſcreet Merchants, or to any five of them: which Commiſſioners, or the greater part of them, which ſhall ſit and meet, ſhall have by vertue of this preſent Act, full power and authority to hear, examine, order and decree all and every ſuch cauſe and cauſes concerning policies of aſſurances in a brief and ſummary courſe, as to their diſcretion ſhall ſeem meet, without formalities of pleadings or proceedings.

The benefits enſuing by the encouragement of Merchants.

A policy of aſſurance, and the benefit coming thereby.

Commiſſions awarded to hear and determine touching policies of aſſurances.

Who ſhall be Commiſſioners.

The Commiſſioners authority.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall be lawful for the ſaid Commiſſioners, aſwell to warn any of the parties to come before them, as alſo to examine upon Oath any witneſſe that ſhall be produced, and to commit to priſon without bail or mainpriſe, any perſon that ſhall wilfully contemn or diſobey their final Orders or Decrees. And that the ſaid Commiſſioners ſhall once every week at the leaſt, meet, and ſit upon the execution of the ſaid Commiſſion, in the Office of the aſſurances, or in ſome other convenient publick place by them to be aſſigned. And that no perſon by vertue of this Act may claim or exact any fee, for any matter or cauſe concerning the execution of the ſaid Commiſſion.

A remedy for the party grieved by the Commiſſioners decree.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon ſhall be grieved by ſentence or decree of the ſaid Commiſſioners, that ſuch perſon ſo grieved, may at any time within two moneths of the ſaid decree ſo made, exhibit his Bill into the high Court of Chancery, for the re-examination of ſuch decree, So as every perſon complainant, before he ſhall exhibit any ſuch Bill, do either execute and ſatisfie the ſaid ſentence ſo awarded, or at the leaſt lay down In depoſito with the ſaid Commiſſioners, ſuch ſums of money as he ſhall be awarded to pay, and that upon ſo doing, the ſaid complainant ſhall be enlarged of his impriſonment: And that the Lord Chancellor, or Lord Keeper for the time being, ſhall have full power and authority by vertue of this Act, upon every complaint made (in order as aforeſaid) to reverſe or affirm every ſuch ſentence or decree, according to equity and conſcience. And that the ſaid Lord Chancellor or Lord Keeper, in every ſuit brought before him as aforeſaid, by ſuch aſſurers, and decreed againſt the ſaid aſſurers, ſhall award double coſts to the party aſſured.

Provides

Provided neverthelesse, That no Commiſſioner ſhall intermeddle in the execution of any ſuch Commiſſion in any cauſe or matter of aſſurance, where himſelf ſhall be either a party aſſurer, or aſſured, in the ſame aſſurance which is brought in queſtion. Nor that any Commiſſioner (other than the ſaid Judge of the Admiralty, and the Recorder of London) ſhall deal or proceed in the execution of any ſuch Commiſſion, before he have taken his corporal Oath before the Lord Mayor and Court of Aldermen of the City of London, to proceed uprightly and indifferently between party and party. CAP. XLII.

Remedy to redreſs the impriſoning, ranſoming, taking and carrying away of Priſoners, and other Miſdemeanors committed in Cumberland, Northumberland, Weſtmerland, and the Biſhoprick of Dureſme, and a means to apprehend Outlaws there.

Foraſmuch as now of late years, very many of her Majeſties Subjects dwelling and inhabiting within the Counties of Cumberland, Northumberland, Weſtmerland, and the Biſhoprick of Dureſme, have been taken, ſome forth of their own houſes, and ſome in travelling by the high-way, or otherwiſe, and carried out of the ſame Counties, or to ſome other places within ſome of the ſaid ſeveral Counties as Priſoners, and kept barbarouſly and cruelly, untill they have been redeemed by great ranſoms: And where now of late time there have been many Incurſions, Roads, Robberies, and burning and ſpoiling of Towns, Villages and Houſes within the ſaid Counties, That divers and ſundry of her Majeſties loving Subjects within the ſaid Counties, and the Inhabitants of divers Towns there have been enforced to pay a certain rate of Money, Corn, Cattel, or other conſideration, commonly there called by the name of Black-mail, unto divers and ſundry inhabiting upon or near the Borders, being men of name, and friended and allied with divers in thoſe parts, who are commonly known to be great Robbers and Spoyl-Takers within the ſaid Counties, to the end thereby to be by them freed, protected and kept in ſafety from the danger of ſuch as do uſually rob and ſteal in thoſe parts: By reaſon whereof, many of the Inhabitants thereabouts, being her Majeſties Tenants, or other good Subjects are much impoveriſhed, and Theft and Robbery much encreaſed, and the Maintainers thereof greatly encouraged, and the ſervice of thoſe Borders and Frontiers much weakned and decayed, and divers Towns thereabouts much diſpeopled and laid waſte, and her Majeſties own Revenue greatly diminiſhed: Which hainous and outragious Miſdemeanors there, cannot ſo well by the Ordinary Officers of her Majeſty in thoſe parts be ſpeedily prevented or ſuppreſſed, without further proviſion of Law.

Several outragious miſdemeanors committed in Cumberland, &c.

For remedy whereof, Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That whoſoever ſhall at any time hereafter, without good and lawful warrant and authority, take any of her Majeſties Subjects againſt his or their will or wills, and carry them out of the ſame Counties, or to any other place within any of the ſaid Counties, or detain, force or impriſon him or them as Priſoners, or againſt his or their wills, to ranſome them, or to make a prey or ſpoil of his or their perſon or goods, upon deadly fraud, or otherwiſe: Or whoſoever ſhall be privy, conſenting, aiding or aſſiſting unto any ſuch taking, detaining, or carrying away, or procure the taking, detaining, or carrying away of any ſuch perſon or perſons priſoners as aforeſaid: Or whoſoever ſhall take, receive or carry, to the uſe of himſelf, or wittingly to the uſe of any other, any Money, Corn, Cattel, or other conſideration, commonly called Black-mail, for the protecting or defending of him or them, or his or their Lands, Tenements, Goods or Chattels from ſuch Thefts, Spoyls and Robberies as is aforeſaid: Or whoſoever ſhall give any ſuch Money, Corn, Cattel, or other conſideration, called Black-mail, for ſuch protection as is aforeſaid: Or ſhall wilfully, and of malice burn, or cauſe to be burned, or aid, procure, or conſent to the burning of any Barn, or Stack of Corn or Grain, within any the ſaid Counties or Places aforeſaid, and ſhall be of the ſaid ſeveral offences, or of any of them indicted, and lawfully convicted, or ſhall ſtand mute, or ſhall challenge peremptorily above the number of twenty before the Juſtices of Aſſiſes, Juſtices of Gaol delivery, Juſtices of Oyer and Terminer, or Juſtices of Peace within any of the ſaid Counties, at ſome of their general Seſſions within ſome of the ſaid Counties to be holden, ſhall be reputed, adjudged, and taken to be as Felons, and ſhall ſuffer pains of death, without any benefit of Clergy, Sanctuary or Abjuration, and ſhall forfeit as in caſe of felony.

Carrying away or detaining any perſon againſt his will.

Aſſenting or ayding to the taking or detaining of any perſon.

Receiving or carrying of Black mail.

Giving of Black mail for protection.

Burning of Barns or ſtacks of corn.

The aforeſaid offences ſhall be felony without Clergy, &c.

And where divers and ſundry perſons within the ſaid Counties, being indicted and outlawed for Murders, Robberies, Burglaries, or other Felonies, do notwithſtanding ordinarily reſort and come to Markets, Fairs, and other publick Aſſemblies and Meetings, and do there Converſe, Traffique, and Trade with other her Majeſties Subjects, and are entertained, and have the priviledge as men obedient to Laws, and yet do never yield themſelves to tryal of Law, nor are apprehended, whereby the ordinary proceeding of Law, and execution of Juſtice in thoſe parts are grown into very great contempt.

Be it therefore likewiſe further enacted, That every Clerk of the Peace within every of the ſaid Counties, ſhall within the ſpace of two moneths next after any Outlawry within any of the ſaid Counties, deliver, or cauſe to be delivered, by writing under his hand, the names of all and every ſuch as are or ſhall be hereafter outlawed within their ſeveral Counties, to all and every the Sheriffs of the ſaid ſeveral Counties: And all and every the ſaid Sheriffs ſhall proclaim and publiſh them to be outlawed in their ſeveral County Courts, and in the City of Carlile, the Towns of Penreth and Cockermouth in the County of Cumberland, and in the Towns of Appulby and Kendal, in the County of Weſtmerland, and in the Town of Newcaſtle upon Tine in the County of the Town of Newcaſtle upon Tine, and in the Towns of Morpeth, Alnewick and Heram in the County of Northumberland, and in the City of Dureſme, and Towns of Darlington, Biſhop Awcland, and Barnard Caſtle within the ſaid Biſhoprick of Dureſme, and in the Town of Barwick upon upon Twede, and that the ſaid Sheriffs having notice as aforeſaid, ſhall from time to time, once in the moneth, at the Court, proclaim every of the ſaid perſons ſo outlawed, or hereafter to be outlawed, untill they ſhall yield their bodies to priſon. And likewiſe, that the Mayors, Bailiffs, Aldermen, and other chief Officers within the ſaid ſeveral Cities and Towns ſhall proclaim the like at every Fair or Fairs to be kept within the ſaid Cities or Towns, and once every ſix weeks at their Markets.

The puniſhment for relieving or conferring with an outlaw for felony.

And be it alſo enacted, That if any perſon or perſons inhabiting within any the ſaid ſeveral Counties, ſhall wittingly and willingly have conference, talk, or in any ſort ſhall relieve, entertain, or confer with any ſuch perſon or perſons ſo outlawed, or hereafter to be outlawed for any ſuch Murders, Robberies, Burglaries, or other Felonies, having knowledge of the ſame Outlawries, by reaſon of the ſame Proclamation, or otherwiſe, and then ſhall not with convenient ſpeed do his beſt endeavour to take and arreſt any ſuch perſon or perſons ſo outlawed, or to be outlawed, as is aforeſaid, ſhall ſuffer Impriſonment by the ſpace of ſix moneths without bail or main-priſe, and be bound with two ſufficient Sureties for his good behaviour for the ſpace of one year after, before he be enlarged of his Impriſonment.

The enquiry and puniſhment of the offendors.

And be it further enacted, That the Juſtices of Aſſiſe within any of the ſaid Counties, Juſtices of Gaol-delivery, Juſtices of Oyer and Terminer, or Juſtices of Peace within any of the ſaid Counties, at any of their general Seſſions, ſhall have power and authority by vertue of this Act, to enquire, hear and determine of the offences and defaults of the ſaid Sheriffs, Mayors, Bailiffs, Aldermen, and other Officers, and of the Clerks of the Peace within the ſaid Counties, and proceed againſt them by Information or Indictment, and puniſh them by Fine, Impriſonment, or otherwiſe, as they ſhall think fit.

The authority of the Lords Wardens ſhall not be impeached.

Provided alwayes, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to abridge or impeach the juriſdiction or authority of any the Lords Wardens of any the Marches of England, for and anenſt Scotland, any thing in this preſent Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

CAP. XIV.

The penalty of the Statute of 7 Ed. 6. 7. for the Aſſize of Fewel, repealed: and another forfeiture aſſigned, &c.

7 Ed. 6. 7.

WHereas in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, in the ſeventh year of King Edward the ſixth, One Act was made touching the aſſized Talewood, Billets and Faggots to be ſpent in London and Weſtminſter, the which aſſizes were very meet and convenient ſhould be kept in all places through this Realm, where ſuch Talewood, Billets and Faggots are uſed to be ſpent: Nevertheleſſe the forfeiture contained in the ſaid Statute for every Shide of Talewood, Billet and Faggot, lacking the aſſize, being put to ſale, is three ſhillings and four pence, which penalty is over heavy and extream, conſidering the ſame dependeth upon the fault of poor labouring men, which do cut, mark, and make the ſame many times without the knowledge or conſent of the ſeller. For remedy whereof, Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That ſo much of the ſaid Statute as concerneth the forfeiture of three ſhillings four pence for every Shide of Talewood, Billet or Faggot, lacking the aſſize contained therein, ſhall from henceforth be void and of none effect, And yet the aſſize of the ſaid Talewood, Billet and Faggots, ſhall ſtill continue in force, not only for London and Weſtminſter, but alſo in all other Cities, Boroughs, and Towns corporate of this Realm, where ſuch Talewood, Billet and Faggots are accuſtomed to be ſold.

A repeal of the forfeiture of 3 s. 4 d. limited by the ſtat. of 7 Ed. 6. 7. The aſſize of Talewood, Billet and Faggot, limited by the ſtat. of 7 Ed 6. 7 ſhall continue.

And be it further enacted, That if any perſon or perſons ſhall after the firſt day of May now next enſuing, bring any Talewood, Billet or Faggot, to any City, Borough, or Town corporate within this Realm, there to be ſold, or being brought, ſhall put the ſame to ſale, neither being of the aſſize mentioned in the ſaid Statute made in the ſeventh year of King Edward the ſixth, or agreeing with the meaſures hereafter in this Act limited: that then upon information thereof given to the Mayor, Bailiff, or other head Officer of the ſaid City, Borough, or Town corporate, they ſhall have power and authority to call before them ſix good and lawful men of the ſaid City, Borough, or Town corporate, and ſhall ſwear them upon their corporal Oaths, truly to enquire and preſent, whether all or any part of the ſaid Talewood, Billets or Faggots be of good and ſufficent aſſize, according to the ſaid Statute, and the limitation of aſſize herein contained, or not. And if they ſhall preſent upon their Oaths, that any of the ſame Tale-wood, Billets or Faggots be not of ſuch good and ſufficient aſſize as aboveſaid: That then the ſaid Mayor, Bailiffs, and other head Officers of the ſaid cities, boroughs, and towns corporate, by force of this Act, upon their preſentment, ſhall and may take ſuch of the ſame Talewood, Billet and Faggots as be falſe ſized, as forfeited, and ſhall deliver the ſame unto ſome Overſeers for the poor, in the ſaid Cities, Boroughs, and Towns corporate, to be by them given & diſtributed to the poor there, according to their diſcretions, from time to time, as often as ſuch offences ſhall be preſented, in manner and form aboveſaid.

Six charged to enquire of the defaults of Talewood, &c.

The forfeiture ſhall be diſtributed to the poor.

And whereas in the ſaid former Statute it was enacted and limited, That every Taleſhide ſhall contain in length four foot, beſides the Carff; And every Taleſhide named one, ſhould contain in greatneſſe, within one foot of the midſt, ſixteen inches about; and every Taleſhide named of two, to contain in greatneſſe, within a foot of the midſt, twenty and three inches about; and every Taleſhide named of three, to contain in greatneſſe within one foot of the midſt, twenty and eight inches about: and every Taleſhide named of four, to contain in greatneſſe within one foot of the midſt, thirty three inches about; and every Taleſhide named of five, to contain in greatneſſe within one foot of the midſt, thirty eight inches about: And every Billet to contain in length three foot four inches; and every Billet named a Single, to contain ſeven inches and an half about; and every Billet named to be a Caſt, to contain ten inches about; and every Billet named of two Caſt, to contain four inches about: And every Faggot, bent or ſtick, to contain in length three foot; and the bond of every ſuch Faggot to be of four and twenty inches about, beſides the knot. In which Act it was further enacted, That all Billets of two caſt ſhould be marked within ſix inches of the midſt thereof, and every Billet of one caſt to be marked only within four inches of the end thereof, as in the ſaid Act of Parliament amongſt divers other clauſes, articles and proviſions, doth and may appear. And whereas divers evil diſpoſed perſons, evading from the true intent, good meaning and purpoſe of the ſaid Act of Parliament, have cunningly deviſed, by cleaving of wood made or to be marked for Talewood or Billet, and by ſtopping of Faggots with ſhort ſticks about the midſt thereof, ſo to deceive and abuſe the Subjects of this Realm, as many times they ſell the one half or little more for the whole, and yet ſo cunningly carried, that by the ſtrict Letter of the ſaid Statute they cannot be controlled, by reaſon the ſaid Statute uſeth only the word (About) and wanteth the word (Round), And whereas by the true intent of the ſaid Statute, every bend of Faggot ſhould be three foot, and the bond beſides the knot four and twenty inches, the ſaid evil diſpoſed people do not only make the ſaid bends or Faggot ſticks much ſhorter, but if any chance to be of ſufficient length, then only one or two of thoſe ſhall be put in a Faggot, and the bond filled up with ſhort ſticks or bends ſcarce one foot long, to the great damage and deceit of her Majeſties Subjects buying the ſame.

Several deceitful practices to defraud the true meaning of the ſtat. of 7 Ed. 6. 7.

For avoiding of all which deceits for ever hereafter, and to avoid all ſcruple, ambiguity, or doubt hereafter to be made of the ſaid Statute, or the true meaning thereof, and for that it muſt needs be permitted to cleave great trees into Talewood or Billet, for conveniency of uſe: Be it therefore (for explanation of the true intent of the ſaid Statute) enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That from and after the firſt day of May now next coming, every Taleſhide marked of one, being round bodied, ſhall contain ſixteen inches of aſſize in compaſſe; being of half round, nineteen inches of aſſize about; being quarter cleft, eighteen inches and a half of aſſize about: and that every Taleſhide marked two, being round bodied, ſhall contain in compaſſe three and twenty inches of aſſize about; being half round, ſeven and twenty inches of aſſize about; being of quarter cleft, ſix and twenty inches of aſſize about: and that every Taleſhide marked three, ſhall contain in compaſſe about (being round) eight and twenty inches of aſſize; being half round, to contain in compaſſe three and thirty inches of aſſize; being of quarter cleft, two and thirty inches of aſſize about: and every Taleſhide marked four, to contain in compaſſe, being round, three and thirty inches of aſſize; being half round, nine and thirty inches of aſſize about; being of quarter cleft, eight and thirty inches of aſſize about: and every Taleſhide marked five, ſhall contain in compaſſe, being round, eight and thirty inches of aſſize about, and being half round, four and forty inches of aſſize about, and being quarter cleft, three and forty inches of aſſize about: All which to be meaſured about within ſix inches of the midſt thereof, and to contain the length limited by the ſaid Statute. And in all other forms and manners of cleaving of wood, to be hereafter marked and ſold for Talewood, which will not admit the former forms, or manner of cleaving, nor any of theſe, to obſerve the Letter of the ſaid ſtatute of An.7 Ed.6.ca.7.

The compaſs of Taleſhides marked.

And for the better underſtanding of the intent of this Statute, Be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That in every one of theſe forms, the ſurpluſage of compaſſe that ſhall happen between any two next meaſures, being above the one, and under the other in every kind, ſhall be deemed, allowed, and taken to be for, and to the benefit of the Buyer, and not otherwiſe to be computable.

The compaſs of Billets.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every Billet, named a Single, ſhall contain in compaſſe, being round bodied, ſeven inches and an half of aſſize, and no Singles to be made or marked out of cleft wood. And every Billet marked one, commonly called a Caſt, to contain in compaſſe about eleven inches of aſſize, being round, and being half round, to contain in compaſſe thirteen inches of aſſize about; and being quarter cleft, to contain in compaſſe about twelve inches and an half: and every Billet marked two, commonly called two Caſt, to contain in compaſſe about, being round, ſixteen inches of aſſize; and being half round, to contain in compaſſe about, nineteen inches of aſſize, and being of quarter cleft, to contain in compaſſe about eighteen inches and an half of aſſize: And in all other forms or manner of cleaving of Billet to be hereafter marked and ſold for Billets, which will not admit the former forms, or manner of cleaving, nor any of them, and touching the length of all the ſaid Billets, to obſerve the Letter of the ſaid Statute of Anno 7 Ed.6. ca.7.

The compaſs of Faggots.

And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all Faggots hereafter to be made and put to ſale, ſhall contain in compaſſe, beſides the knot of the bond, four and twenty inches of aſſize, and every Faggot ſtick or bend within the ſaid bond, to contain in length full three foot of aſſize or more, excepting only one ſtick or bend to be one foot long, to ſtop or harden the binding thereof.

CAP. XV.

Fines may be levied before the Mayor of the City of Cheſter, for Lands lying there, &c.

The effect of the ſtat. of 2 Ed. 6. 28.

VVhereas by an Act made in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter by prorogation in the ſecond year of the Reign of our late Soveraign Lord of famous memory, King Edward the ſixth, entituled, An Act for Fines with Proclamations in the County Palatine of Cheſter, It was enacted, That all Fines which at any time thereafter ſhould be levied or knowledged before the high Juſtice of the ſaid King, or of his Heirs and Succeſſors, of his County Palatine of Cheſter for the time being, or before the Deputy or Lieutenant Juſtice for the time being, of any Lands, Tenements, or other Hereditaments, lying and being within the ſaid County Palatine of Cheſter, which ſhould be openly read and proclaimed in ſuch manner and form, as in and by the ſaid Act is particularly appointed, ſhould be of like force, ſtrength and effect in the Law, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as Fines duly levied with Proclamations, before the ſaid Kings Juſtices of the Common Pleas, were.

The City of Cheſter made a County of it ſelf, and divided from the county of Cheſter.

And foraſmuch as the ſaid act doth not extend to any lands, tenements, or other hereditaments, lying and being within the County of the City of Cheſter (the ſaid City, with the Suburbs and Hamlets thereof, and all the land within the precinct and circuit of the ſaid City, Suburbs, and Hamlets, being long before, by our late Soveraign Lord of famous memory, King Henry the ſeventh, by his Highneſs Letters Patents bearing date at Cheſter the ſixth day of April, in the one and twentieth year of his reign, divided, exempted, and in all things ſeparated from the ſaid County of Cheſter, and from thenceforth made and appointed to be a County by it ſelf, and in it ſelf, diſtinct and ſeparate from the ſaid County of Cheſter) ſo that the Inhabitants within the ſaid City, and all others being owners of lands within the County of the ſaid City, have no means to levy any fines of ſuch their ſaid Lands in any of her Highneſſe Courts of Record:

Fines levied of lands within the county of the City of Cheſter.

May it therefore pleaſe your moſt Excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons of this Realm, in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, That it may be enacted by the authority of the ſame, That from henceforth it ſhall and may be lawful to and for all and every perſon or perſons whatſoever, upon any original Writ or Writs of covenant, or any other original Writ or Writs, whereupon fines are or have been uſually levied, to be purchaſed out of her Highneſs Court of Exchequer within the ſaid County Palatine of Cheſter, returnable before the Mayor of the ſaid City for the time being, in the Portmoot Court to be holden within the ſaid City, To levy any Fine or Fines of any lands, tenements or hereditaments, lying or being within the ſaid County of the ſaid City of Cheſter, before the Mayor of the ſaid City for the time being, in the ſaid Portmoot Court, in ſuch manner and form, as fines may be levied by any laws or ſtatutes of this Realm, before the Queens Majeſties high Juſtice of her County Palatine of Cheſter, of lands within the ſame County Palatine. And that the Mayor of the ſaid City for the time being, ſhall from henceforth have full power and authority to receive and record all and every ſuch fine and fines. And that all and every ſuch fine and fines which ſhall be ſo levied, and which ſhall be openly read and proclaimed before the Mayor of the ſaid City for the time being, in the ſaid Portmoot Court, once at the ſame Court day that the ſaid fine or fines ſhall be engroſſed, and once at every of the nine next Court-dayes of Portmoot to be holden within the ſaid City, before the Mayor thereof for the time being, next after the levying and engroſſing of ſuch Fine or Fines, ſhall be of like force, ſtrength and effect in the Law, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as fines duly levied with Proclamations, before her Majeſties ſaid high Juſtice of her County Palatine of Cheſter, of lands within the ſame county, are, or ought to be of.

Proclamations of the fine.

A Dedimus Poteſtatem granted to receive a Warrant of Atturney for the ſuffering of a Recovery.

And whereas alſo the Mayor of the ſaid City for the time being, hath been ever heretofore (for and during all the time whereof the memory of man is not to the contrary) accuſtomed in all and every common recovery or recoveries, ſuffered before him in the ſaid Court of Portmoot, in abſence of the Tenant or Tenants, Vouchee or Vouchees in ſuch Recovery or Recoveries, to award and ſend forth of the ſaid Court a Writ, Proceſs or Precept of Dedimus Poteſtatem, in the name of our Soveraign Lady the Queens Majeſty that now is, and of her Highneſs Succeſſors, Kings and Queens of England for the time being, under the Teſte of the ſaid Mayor for the time being, and ſealed with the ſeal of his Office, thereby authorizing thoſe to whom the ſame was directed, or ſome of them, to receive Warrants of Atturneys from ſuch Tenant or Tenants, Vouchee or Vouchees, to ſuch Atturney or Atturneys, as the ſaid Tenant or Tenants, Vouchee or Vouchees, would in his or their place or places, conſtiſtitute for him or them to appear in the ſaid Court, and to gain or loſe the ſaid lands, tenements or hereditaments, in, or by ſuch recovery or recoveries demanded, or to be recovered.

A Dedimus Poteſtatem granted by the Mayor of Cheſter to take the acknowledgment of a fine.

Be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That upon all and every ſuch original Writ or Writs hereafter to be purchaſed out of her Highneſs ſaid Court of Exchequer, as aforeſaid, for the levying of any fine or fines within the ſaid City of Cheſter: the Mayor of the ſaid City for the time being, ſhall for ever hereafter have full power and authority to award and ſend forth ſuch like writ or writs, Proceſs or Precepts of Dedimus Poteſtatem, as is aforeſaid, to any two or more ſufficient perſons, authorizing them, or ſome of them, to receive and take the acknowledgment of ſuch perſon or perſons as ſhall be willing to levy ſuch Fine or Fines, and by reaſon of ſickneſs, or other reaſonable impediment, cannot come in perſon before the ſaid Mayor for the time being, to make ſuch acknowledgment, and that all and every ſuch Fine and Fines, as upon any ſuch acknowledgment made and certified into the ſaid Court of Portmoot, ſhall be hereafter engroſſed, recorded and proclaimed in ſuch manner and form as is formerly limited and appointed, before the Mayor of the ſaid City for the time being, in the ſaid Court of Portmoot, ſhall be of like force and effect, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as if the ſame Fine or Fines had been perſonally acknowledged before the ſaid Mayor, and ingroſſed, recorded, and proclaimed in ſuch manner and form, as in and by this preſent Act is formerly limited, appointed, expreſſed and declared.

Where a Fine levied in Cheſter may be reverſed by Writ of Error.

Provided alwayes, and be it Enacted, That Fines to be levied by vertue of this Act, ſhall be ſubject to be reverſed, and may be reverſed upon Writs of Error to be ſued and proſecuted before the ſaid high Juſtice of the ſaid County Palatine of Cheſter, as other Judgments given by the ſaid Mayor in the ſaid Portmoot Court, may be, and have uſed to be, if there ſhall be found Error in the ſame fine or fines.

CAP. XVI.

The County of Cumberland ſhall ſtand chargeable for the erecting, maintaining, repairing, and new making of Edon Bridge, and Preſtberk Bridge, ſtanding over the River of Edon, when, and as often as need ſhall require: And for the aſſeſment, rating, collection and employing of ſuch works, and ſums of money, as from time to time ſhall be needful for the building and repairing of thoſe Bridges, ſuch form and order ſhall be obſerved in all things, by, and through the ſaid County, as is appointed by the Statute of 22 H.8. 5. ordained for the repair of Bridges. But the Inhabitants of the Lordſhip of Milham ſhall not be chargeable with any contribution thereunto. PR.

Anno Reg. JACOBI Regis Angliæ, Scotiæ, Franciæ, & Hiberniæ, viz. Angliæ, Franc. & Hibern. primo. & Scotiæ triceſimo ſeptimo.

AT the Parliament begun and holden at Weſtminſter, the nineteenth day of March, in the firſt year of the Reign of our moſt gracious Soveraign Lord JAMES, by the Grace of God, of England, France, and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith, &c. and of Scotland the ſeven and thirtieth. And there continued untill the ſeventh day of July, 1604. And then prorogued untill the ſeventh of February next following. To the high pleaſure of Almighty God, and the weal publick of this Realm, were enacted as followeth.

CAP. I.

A Recognition that the Crown of England is lawfully deſcended unto King JAMES, his Progeny and Poſterity.

GREAT and manifold were the benefits (moſt Dread and moſt Gracious Soveraign) wherewith Almighty God bleſſed this Kingdom and Nation, by the happy union and conjunction of the two Noble Houſes of York and Lancaſter, thereby preſerving this Noble Realm, formerly torn, and almoſt waſted with long and miſerable diſſention, and bloody civil War: But more ineſtimable and unſpeakable bleſſings are thereby poured upon us, becauſe there is derived and grown from and out of that union of thoſe two Princely Families, a more famous and greater union (or rather a re-uniting) of two mighty, famous and ancient Kingdoms (yet anciently but one) of England and Scotland, under one Imperial Crown, in your moſt Royal Perſon, who is lineally, rightfully, and lawfully deſcended of the body of the moſt excellent Lady Margaret, eldeſt daughter of the moſt renowned King Henry the ſeventh, and the high and noble Princeſs, Queen Elizabeth his Wife, eldeſt daughter of King Edward the fourth. The ſaid Lady Margaret being eldeſt ſiſter of King Henry the eighth, Father of the high and mighty Princeſs of famous memory, Elizabeth, late Queen of England.

The benefits enſuing by the conjunction of the houſes of York and Lancaſter.

The uniting of England and Scotland in the Kings perſon. Co, Inſt. 4. par, 345.

In conſideration whereof, albeit we your Majeſties loyal and faithful Subjects, of all eſtates and degrees, with all poſſible and publick Joy and Acclamation, by open Proclamations within few hours after the deceaſe of our late Soveraign Queen, acknowledging thereby with one full voice of Tongue and Heart, That your Majeſty was our only, lawful, and rightful Leige Lord and Soveraign, by our unſpeakable and general rejoycing and applauſe at your Majeſties moſt happy Inauguration and Coronation: by the affectionate deſire of infinite numbers of us, of all degrees, to ſee your Royal perſon, and by all poſſible outward means have endeavoured to make demonſtration of our inward love, zeal and devotion, to your moſt excellent Majeſty, our undoubtful rightful Leige Soveraign Lord and King: Yet, as we cannot do it too often, or enough, ſo can there be no means or way too fit, both to ſacrifice our unfained and hearty thanks to Almighty God, for bleſſing us with a Soveraign, adorned with the rareſt gifts of mind and body, in ſuch admirable peace and quietneſſe, and upon the knees of our hearts to agnize our moſt conſtant faith, obedience, and loyalty to your Majeſty, and your Royal Progeny, as in this high Court of Parliament, where all the whole body of the Realm, and every particular member thereof, either in perſon or by repreſentation (upon their own free elections) are by the Laws of this Realm deemed to be perſonally preſent.

The acknowledgment of the Kings title and the love of his ſubjects ſhewed by ſeveral means.

To the acknowledgement whereof to your Majeſty, we are the more deeply bounden and obliged as well in regard of the extraordinary care and pains, which with ſo great wiſdom, knowledge, experience and dexterity, your Majeſty (ſithence the Imperial Crown of this Realm deſcended to you) have taken for the continuance and eſtabliſhment of the bleſſed peace both of the Church of England in the true and ſincere Religion, and of the Commonwealth by due and ſpeedy adminiſtration of juſtice, as in reſpect of the gracious care and inward affection which it pleaſed you on the firſt day of this Parliament ſo lively to expreſſe by your own words, ſo full of high wiſdom, learning and vertue, and ſo repleat with Royal and thankful acceptation of all our faithful and conſtant endeavours, which is, and ever will be to our ineſtimable conſolation and comfort.

Several cauſes that have bound all ſubjects to the love and obedience of the King.

We therefore your moſt humble and loyal Subjects, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, do from the bottom of our hearts yield to the divine Majeſty all humble thanks and praiſes, not only for the ſaid unſpeakable and ineſtimable benefits and bleſſings above mentioned, but alſo that he hath further enriched your Highneſſe with a moſt Royal Progeny, of moſt rare and excellent gifts and forwardneſſe, and in his goodneſſe is like to encreaſe the happy number of them. And in moſt humble and lowly manner do beſeech your moſt excellent Majeſty, that (as a memorial to all Poſterities, amongſt the Records of your high Court of Parliament for ever to endure, of our loyalty, obedience, and hearty and humble affection) it may be publiſhed Cauſes of thankſgiving to God for the King and his progeny.

Immediately upon Queen Elizabeths death, the Crown of England, &c. diſcended to the King by lawful birth-right and deſcent.

and declared in this High Court of Parliament, and Enacted by authority of the ſame, That we (being bounden thereunto both by the Lawes of God and Man) do recognize and acknowledge (and thereby expreſs our unſpeakable joyes) That immediately upon the diſſolution and deceaſe of Elizabeth, late Queen of England, the Imperial Crown of the Realm of England, and of all the Kingdoms, Dominions and rights belonging to the ſame, did by inherent birth-right, and lawful and undoubted ſucceſſion, deſcend and come to your moſt excellent Majeſty, as being lineally, juſtly, and lawfully, next and ſole Heir of the Blood-Royal of this Realm, as is aforeſaid, And that by the goodneſs of God Almighty, and lawful right of deſcent, under one Imperial Crown, your Majeſty is of the Realms and Kingdoms of England, Scotland, France, and Ireland, the moſt potent and mighty King, and by Gods goodneſs, more able to protect and govern us your loving Subjects in all peace and plenty, than any of your noble Progenitors, And thereunto we moſt humbly and faithfully do ſubmit and oblige our ſelves, our heirs and poſterities for ever, until the laſt drop of our bloods be ſpent. And do beſeech your Majeſty to accept the ſame, as the firſt fruits in this High Court of Parliament, of our loyalty and faith to your Majeſty, and your Royal Progeny and poſterity for ever. Which if your Majeſty ſhall be pleaſed (as an argument of your gracious acceptation) to adorn with your Majeſties Royal aſſent, without which it can neither be compleat and perfect, nor remain to all poſterity, according to our moſt humble deſire, as a memorial of your Princely and tender affection towards us) we ſhall adde this alſo, to the reſt of your Majeſties unſpeakable and ineſtimable benefits.

CAP. II.

An authority to given to certain Commiſſioners of the higher and lower Houſe of Parliament, to treat with certain Commiſſioners of Scotland.

Whereas his moſt excellent Majeſty hath been pleaſed, out of his great Wiſdome and Judgment, not only to repreſent unto us by his own prudent and Princely Speech on the firſt day of this Parliament, how much he deſired (in regard of his inward and gracious affection to both the famous and ancient Realms of England and Scotland, now united in Allegiance and loyal ſubjection in his Royal Perſon, to his Majeſty and his poſterity for ever) that by a ſpeedy, mature, and ſound deliberation, ſuch a further union might follow, as ſhould make perfect that mutual love, and uniformity of manners and cuſtomes which Almighty GOD in his providence, for the ſtrength and ſafety of both Realms, hath already ſo far begun in apparent ſight of all the world: But alſo hath vouchſafed to expreſs many ways, how far it is and ever ſhall be from his Royal and ſincere care and affection to the Subjects of England, to alter or innovate the fundamental and ancient laws, priviledges, and good cuſtoms of this Kingdom, Whereby not only his Regal Authority, but the peoples ſecurity of lands, livings, and priviledges (both in general and particular) are preſerved and maintained, And by the aboliſhing or alteration of the which it is impoſſible, but that preſent confuſion will fall upon the whole State and Frame of this Kingdome.

Co. Inſt. 2. part, 347.

The King is not willing to alter the ancient laws, priviledges, and cuſtomes of this Realm.

What ſort of alterations, and to what end the King doth deſire to have of the lawes of England and Scotland, viz. to accompliſh Unity.

Foraſmuch as his Majeſties humble, faithful, and loving ſubjects have not only conceived the weight of his Majeſties reaſons, but apprehend, to their unſpeakable joy and comfort, his plain, clear and gracious intention, to ſeek no other changes or alteration, but of ſuch particular, temporary or indifferent manner of ſtatutes and cuſtoms, as may both prevent and extinguiſh all and every future queſtions, or unhappy accidents, by which the perfect and conſtant love and friendſhip, and quietneſs between the ſubjects of both the Realms aforeſaid, may be compleated and confirmed, and alſo perform and accompliſh that real and effectual union already inherent in his Majeſtie s Royal Blood and Perſon, and now deſired by his Majeſty to be performed and brought to an end, for the weal of both Kingdomes by this courſe following.

The names of the Commiſſioners of England authorized to treat with the Commiſſioners of Scotland.

Be it therefore Enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, by, and with the aſſent and conſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That Thomas Lord Elleſmere, Lord Chancellor of England; Thomas Earl of Dorſet Lord Treaſurer of England; Charles Earl of Nottingham, Lord High Admiral of England; Henry Earl of Southampton, William Earl of Pembroke, Henry Earl of Northampton, Richard Biſhop of London, Toby Biſhop of Dureſme, Anthony Biſhop of Saint Davids, Robert Lord Cecil Principal Secretary to his Majeſty, Edward Lord Zouch Lord Preſident of Wales, William Lord Mounteagle, Ralph Lord Eure, Edmund Lord Sheffield Lord Preſident of the Council in the North, Lords of the Higher Houſe of this preſent Parliament, and Thomas Lord Clinton, Robert Lord Buckhurſt, Sir Francis Haſtings Knight, Sir John Stanhope Knight, Vice-Chamberlain to the Kings Majeſty; Sir John Harbert Knight, ſecond Secretary to his Majeſty; Sir George Carew Knight, Vice-Chamberlain to the Queens Majeſty; Sir Thomas Strickland Knight, Sir Edward Stafford Knight, Sir Henry Nevil of Berkſhire Knight, Sir Richard Bulkley Knight, Sir Henry Billingſley Knight, Sir Daniel Dun Knight, Dean of the Arches; Sir Edward Hobby Knight, Sir John Savile Knight, Sir Robert Wroth Knight, Sir Thomas Chaloner Knight, Sir Robert Maunſel Knight, Sir Thomas Ridgeway Knight, Sir Thomas Holcroft Knight, Sir Thomas Hesketh Knight, his Majeſties Atturney of the Court of Wards and Liveries; Sir Francis Bacon Knight, Sir Laurence Tanfield Knight, Sergeant at Law; Sir Henry Hubberd Knight, Sergeant at Law, Sir John Benet Knight, Doctor of the Laws; Sir Henry Withrington Sir Ralph Gray, and Sir Thomas Lake, Knights; Robert Askewith, Thomas James, and Henry Chapman, Merchants, Knights, Citizens, and Burgeſſes of the Houſe of the Commons of this Parliament, (Commiſſioners ſelected and nominated by authority of this preſent Parliament) or any eight or more of the ſaid Lords of the ſaid Higher Houſe, and any twenty or more of the ſaid Knights, Citizens, and Burgeſſes of the ſaid Houſe of the Commons, ſhall by force of this Act, from and after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, have full power, liberty, commiſſion, and authority, at any time or times before the next Seſſion of this Parliament, to aſſemble and meet, and thereupon to treat and conſult with certain ſelected Commiſſioners to be nominated and authorized by authority of Parliament of the Realm of Scotland, according to the tenor or purport of their authority or Commiſſion in that behalf, of, and concerning ſuch an Union of the ſaid Realms of England and Scotland, and of and concerning ſuch other matters, cauſes and things whatſoever, as upon mature deliberation and conſideration, the greateſt part of the ſaid Lords of the ſaid higher Houſe which ſhall be ſo aſſembled as is aforeſaid, and the greateſt part of the ſaid Knights, Citizens and Burgeſſes of the ſaid Houſe of the Commons, which alſo ſhall be ſo aſſembled as is aforeſaid, and the Commiſſioners to be nominated and authorized as is aforeſaid, by the Parliament of the Realm of Scotland, according to the tenor and purport of their authority or Commiſſion in that behalf, ſhall in their wiſedoms think and deem convenient and neceſſary for the honour of his Majeſty, and the weal and common good of both the ſaid Realms during his Majeſties life, (which Almighty God long preſerve) and under all his Royal progeny and poſterity for ever. Which Commiſſioners of both the ſaid Realms, ſhall according to the tenor or purport of their ſaid authorities or Commiſſions in that behalf, reduce their doings and proceedings therein into writings or inſtruments tripartite, every part to be ſubſcribed and ſealed by them: To the end that one part thereof may in all humbleneſs be preſented to his moſt excellent Majeſty, the ſecond part thereof to be offered to the conſideration of the next Seſſion of this Parliament for the Realm of England, and the third to be offered to the conſideration of the next Parliament for the Realm of Scotland, That thereupon ſuch further proceedings may be had, as by both the ſaid Parliaments ſhall be thought fit and neceſſary for the weal and common good of both the ſaid Realms. 3 Jac. 3. 4 Jac. 1.

The effect of the Commiſſioners authority, and of what things they may conſult.

The Commiſſioners ſhall reduce their doings to inſtruments in writings tripartite.

CAP. III.

All Aſſurances made to the King of the Lands of Biſhops ſhall be void.

Whereas all the Archbiſhopricks and Biſhopricks within this Realm of England, were in ancient times founded by his Majeſties moſt noble Progenitors, Kings of this Realm, and in reſpect thereof, his Majeſty is lawful and rightful Patron of all and every of the ſame: And where alſo by the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, no Archbiſhop or Biſhop can make any conveyance, aſſurance or eſtate whatſoever, of any Honors, Caſtles, Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, parcel of the poſſeſſions of the Archbiſhoprick or Biſhoprick, or united, appertaining or belonging to any of the ſame, to any ſubject whatſoever, whereby any eſtate ſhould or might paſs from any Archbiſhop or Biſhop, other than for term of xxi. years, or three lives, with ſuch reſervations of Rent, and in ſuch manner and form, as by the Laws and Statutes are provided: His moſt excellent Majeſty underſtanding that divers perſons have with great ſuit and importunity ſought to fruſtrate the true end and intent of the ſaid good Lawes and Statutes in that behalf, Of his Chriſtian and Princely Piety and Care, minding ſo to Patronize and protect the ſaid poſſeſſions from alienation or diminution, as that the ſame may according to the true intent of the Founders, remain and continue in ſucceſſion to the Archbiſhops and Biſhops of this Realm, and their Succeſſors, for the better maintenance of Gods true Religion, keeping of hoſpitality, and avoiding of dilapidations, and thereby for ever hereafter to avoid all ſuits and importunities for or concerning any of the ſaid poſſeſſions, Hath out of his own meer and godly motion, and of his bleſſed diſpoſition, for the publick good, without all regard of any private reſpect, vouchſafed and is pleaſed, That it may be enacted and eſtabliſhed by his Majeſty, by and with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled.

By the ſtat of 1 An. 1 El. 18. no Biſhop can make any leaſe of his land but for 21 years, or 3. lives to a ſubject.

Cok. lib. 10. fol. 62. lib. 11. fol. 71.

And be it enacted and eſtabliſhed by the authority of the ſame, That every Archbiſhop and Biſhop within this Realm, and their and every of their ſucceſſors, ſhall be from and after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, for ever wholly and utterly diſabled in law, to make, do, levy or ſuffer any act or acts, thing or things, whereby, or by means whereof, any of the ſaid honors, caſtles, manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments, or any part of them, or any of them, ſhall or may be aliened, aſſured, given, granted, demiſed, charged, or in any ſort conveyed to our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King his heirs or ſucceſſors: And that alienations, aſſurances, gifts, grants, leaſes, charges and conveyances whatſoever, from and after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, to be done, ſuffered or made to our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King, his heirs or ſucceſſors, by any Archbiſhop or Biſhop or their or any of their ſucceſſors, of or out of any of the ſaid poſſeſſions, or of or out of any part or parcel of them or any of them, and all and every confirmation and confirmations of the ſame, ſhall be from and after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, utterly void and of none effect, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes: Any former law, ſtatute, act, ordinance, or other matter or thing to the contrary notwithſtanding. Coke.Inſt. 44 2.

No Biſhop ſhall aſſure his land to the King.

CAP. IV.

Statutes made in the reign of Queen Elizabeth ſhall be put in execution. In what caſe a Recuſants heir ſhall be charged in what not. Going in Seminaries.

For the better and more due execution of the ſtatutes heretofore made, aſwell againſt Jeſuits, Seminary Prieſts, and other ſuch like Prieſts, as alſo againſt all manner of Recuſants: Be it ordained and enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That all and every the ſtatutes heretofore made in the reign of the late Queen of famous memory, Elizabeth, aſwell againſt Jeſuits, Seminary Prieſts, and other Prieſts, Deacons, religious and eccleſiaſtical perſons whatſoever, made, ordained, or profeſſed, or to be made, ordained or profeſſed by any authority or juriſdiction derived, challenged or pretended from the See of

All ſtatutes made againſt Jeſuits, Prieſts and Recuſants, ſhall be put in execution.

of Rome, As thoſe which do in any wiſe concern the withdrawing of the Kings ſubjects from their due obedience, and the Religion now profeſſed, and the taking of the Oath of obedience unto the Kings Majeſty, his heirs and ſucceſſors, Together with all thoſe made in the ſaid late Queens time againſt any manner of Recuſants, ſhall be put in due and exact execution.

A Recuſant conforming himſelf, ſhall be diſcharged.

Provided nevertheleſs, and be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That if any that is or ſhall be a Recuſant, ſhall ſubmit or reform him or her ſelf, and become obedient to the laws and ordinances of the Church of England, and repair to the Church, and continue there during the time of the divine Service and Sermons, according to the true meaning of the ſtatutes in that behalf, in the ſaid late Queens time made and provided, That then every ſuch perſon for and during ſuch time as he or ſhe ſhall ſo continue in ſuch conformity and obedience, ſhall from thenceforth be freed and diſcharged of and from any the penalties and loſſes which the ſame perſon might otherwiſe ſuſtain and bear, in reſpect or by reaſon of ſuch perſons recuſancie.

In what caſe a Recuſants heir ſhall be charged, in what not.

And if any Recuſant ſhall hereafter die, his heir being no Recuſant, That in every ſuch caſe, every ſuch heir ſhall be freed and diſcharged of all and ſingular the penalties, charges and incumbrances, happening upon him or her, in reſpect or by reaſon of his or her Anceſtors recuſancy. And if at the deceaſe of any ſuch Recuſant, his heir ſhall happen to be a Recuſant and after ſhall become conformable and obedient to the laws and ordinances of the Church of England, and repair to the Church, and continue there during the time of the divine Service and Sermons, according to the intent and true meaning of the ſaid ſtatutes and ordinances in that behalf made, as is aforeſaid, and alſo ſhall take the oath of Supremacy in ſuch ſort as that oath is expreſſed in one act of Parliament made in the firſt year of the reign of our late Soveraign Lady Queen Elizabeth, before the Archbiſhop or Biſhop of the Dioceſſe, That in every caſe, every ſuch heir ſhall be freed and diſcharged of all and ſingular the penalties, charges and incumbrances happening unto him or her in reſpect or by reaſon of any of his or her anceſtors Recuſancie.

A Recuſants heir within age at the time of his anceſtors death.

Provided alwayes, and be it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That if the heir of any Recuſants ſhall happen to be within the age of ſixteen years, at the time of the deceaſe of his or her anceſtor, and ſhall after his or her ſaid age of ſixteen years become or be a Recuſant, that in every ſuch caſe, any ſuch heir ſhall not be freed or diſcharged of all or any of the penalties, charges and incumbrances happening upon him or her in reſpect or by reaſon of any of his or her anceſtors Recuſancy, until he or ſhe ſhall ſubmit or reform him or her ſelf, and become obedient to the laws and ordinances of the Church of England, and repair to the Church and continue there during the time of the divine Service and Sermons, according to the intent & true meaning of the ſaid ſtatutes and ordinances in that behalf, as is aforeſaid, and ſhall take the ſaid oath of Supremacy in manner and form afore expreſſed, and yet nevertheleſs, from and after ſuch ſubmiſſion and oath had and taken, every ſuch heir ſhall be freed and diſcharged of all and ſingular the penalties, charges, and incumbrances, happening upon him or her in reſpect, or by reaſon of any of his or her anceſtors Recuſancy.

23 Eliz. 1. A third part of his living ſhall remain cleer to a Recuſant.

The two parts of a Recuſants lands after his death, ſhall remain in the Kings hands until he be ſatisfied of the arrearages.

And be it further enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, that where any ſeiſure ſhal be had of the two parts of any lands, tenements, hereditaments, leaſes or farms for the not payment of the xx.l. due and payable for each month, according to the ſtatute in that caſe lately made and provided: That in every ſuch caſe, every ſuch two parts ſhall according to the extent thereof go towards the ſatisfaction and payment of the xx.li. due and payable for each month, and unpaid by any ſuch Recuſant. And that the third part thereof ſhall not be extended or ſeized by the Kings Majeſty, his heirs or ſucceſſors, for not payment of the ſaid xx. l. payable for each month, forfeited or loſt by any ſuch Recuſant. And where any ſuch ſeiſure ſhall be had of the two parts of the lands, tenements, hereditaments, leaſes, or farms of any ſuch Recuſant as is aforeſaid, aud ſuch Recuſant ſhall die, the debt or duty by reaſon of his recuſancy not paid, ſatisfied, or diſcharged) that in every ſuch caſe, the ſame two parts ſhall continue in his Majeſties poſſeſſion, until the reſidue or remainder of the ſaid debt or duty be thereby or otherwiſe paid, ſatisfied, or diſcharged. And that his Majeſty, his heirs or ſucceſſors ſhall not ſeize or extend any third part deſcending to any ſuch heirs or any part thereof, either by reaſon of the recuſancy of his or her anceſtors, or the recuſancy of any ſuch heir.

None ſhall go or ſend any other to a Seminary, &c. 3 Jac. 5. 3 Car. 2.

And be it further enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That all and every perſon and perſons under the Kings obedience, which at any time (after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament) ſhall paſs or go, or ſhall ſend or cauſe to be ſent any child or any other perſon under their or any of their government, into any the parts beyond the ſeas, out of the Kings obedience, to the intent to enter into, or be reſident in any Colledge, Seminary, or houſe of Jeſuits, Prieſts, or any other Popiſh order, profeſſion or calling whatſoever, or repair in or to any the ſame, to be inſtructed, perſwaded, or ſtrengthened in the popiſh Religion, or in any ſort to profeſs the ſame: every ſuch perſon ſo ſending, or cauſing to be ſent any child or other perſon beyond the Seas to any ſuch purpoſe or intent, ſhall for every ſuch offence forfeit to his Majeſty, his heirs and ſucceſſors, the ſum of C. l. and every ſuch perſon ſo paſſing or being ſent beyond the Seas to any ſuch intent and purpoſe as is aforeſaid, ſhall by authority of this preſent act, as in reſpect of him or her ſelf only, and not to or in reſpect of any of his heirs or poſterity, be diſabled and made incapable to inherit, purchaſe, take, have, or enjoy any manors, lands, tenements, annuities, profits, commodities, hereditaments, goods, chattels, debts, duties, legacies, or ſums of money within this Realm of England, or any other his Majeſties Dominions: and that all and ſingular eſtates, terms, and other intereſts whatſoever hereafter to be made, ſuffered or done, to or for the uſe or behoof of any ſuch perſon or perſons, upon any truſt or confidence mediately, or immediately, to or for the benefit or relief of any ſuch perſon or perſons, ſhall be utterly void and of none effect, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes.

They which be in Seminaries ſhall return. 27 Eliz. 2.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon born within this Realm or any the Kings Majeſties Dominions, be at this preſent in any Colledg, Seminary, houſe, or place in any parts beyond the Seas (to the end to be inſtructed or ſtrengthened in the Popiſh Religion) which ſhall not make return into this Realm or ſome of his Majeſties Dominions within one year next coming after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament and ſubmit himſelf as is aforeſaid, ſhall be in reſpect of himſelf only and not to or in reſpect of any of his heirs or poſterity, utterly diſabled and uncapable to inherit, have or enjoy any manors, lands, tenements, hereditaments, goods, chattels, debts or other things aforeſaid, within this Realm, or any other his Majeſties Dominions. Provided alwayes, that if any perſon or child, ſo paſſing, ſent, ſending or now being beyond the ſeas as aforeſaid, to ſuch intent as is before mentioned, ſhall after become conformable and obedient unto the Laws and Ordinances of the Church of England, and ſhall repair to the Church, and there remain and be as is aforeſaid and continue in ſuch conformity, according to the true intent and meaning of the ſaid Statutes and Ordinances: that in every ſuch caſe, every ſuch perſon and child, for and during ſuch time as he or ſhe ſhall continue in ſuch conformity and obedience, ſhall be freed and diſcharged of all and every ſuch diſability and incapacity as is before mentioned.

Remedy for ſuch as do return into the Realm, and become conformable to the Laws.

No woman or child ſhall paſs over the Seas without licence.

And be it further enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, that no woman, nor any child under the age of xvi. years (except Sailers or Ship-boyes, or the Apprentice or Factor of ſome Merchant in trade of Merchandize) ſhall be permitted to paſs over the ſeas (except the ſame ſhall be by licence of the King, his heirs or ſucceſſors, or of ſome ſix or more of the Kings Privy Council, thereunto firſt had under their hands) upon pain that the Officers of the Port that ſhall willingly or negligently ſuffer any ſuch to paſs, or ſhall not enter the names of ſuch paſſengers licenced, ſhall forfeit his office, and all his goods and chattels: and upon pain that the Owner of any ſhip or veſſel, that ſhall wittingly or willingly carry any ſuch over the ſeas without licence, as aforeſaid, ſhall forfeit his ſhip or veſſel, and all the tackle: and every Maſter or Mariner, of or in any ſhip or veſſel offending as aforeſaid, ſhall forfeit all their goods and ſuffer impriſonment by the ſpace of xii. months, without bail or mainpriſe.

The forfeiture of thoſe who do ſuffer them to paſs.

The forfeiture for being or keeping a School-maſter contrary to this Act.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon after the feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel next, ſhall keep any School, or be a Scholl-maſter, out of any the Univerſities or Colledges of this Realm, except it be in ſome publick or free Grammar-School, or in ſome ſuch Noblemans or Noblewomans, or Gentlemans or Gentlewomans houſe, as are not Recuſants, or where the ſame School-maſter ſhall be ſpecially licenced thereunto by the Archbiſhop, Biſhop, or Guardian of the Spiritualties of that Dioceſs, upon pain that as well the School-maſter, as alſo the party that ſhall retain or maintain any ſuch School-maſter, contrary to the true intent and meaning of this Act, ſhall forfeit each of them, for every day ſo wittingly offending, xl. s. the one half of all the penalties and ſums of money before mentioned to be forfeited, to be to the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors; the other to him or them that ſhall or will ſue for the ſame, in any the Courts of Record in Weſtminſter, by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, in which no Eſſoyn, Protection, or Wager of Law ſhall be allowed. 27 El. 2. 23 El. 1. 29 El. 6. 35 El. 1. & 2. 1 El. 1. 5 El. 1.

CAP. V.

The Steward of a Court ſhall take no benefit of the profits thereof.

How the profits and perquiſites of Courts Baron and Leets have been collected.

Whereas the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and other his Highneſs ſubjects of this Realm of England and Wales, have in divers places of the ſame, many Franchiſes, Juriſdictions, Priviledges, and Liberties to keep Court Leets or Court Barons, for the true adminiſtration of Juſtice, and to the puniſhing and ſuppreſſing of offences, The profits and perquiſites of which Courts have heretofore been uſed to be levied and collected by the Bayliff or other miniſter of ſuch Court, and by him accounted for to his Highneſs Progenitors, or other Lords or Ladies of ſuch Courts and Manors, and as of right it ought ſo to be: But now by reaſon of the great encreaſe of people, the ſaid profits & perquiſites of Courts are grown to be of a better yearly value than in ancient times it hath been, divers that are now ſtewards of ſuch Courts have heretofore in their own names, or in the names of ſome other to their uſe obtained and gotten divers Grants of all the profits and perquiſites of ſuch Courts whereof they are ſtewards, whereby many of his Majeſties Subjects are unjuſtly vexed, and by grievous fines and amercements unduly puniſhed, greatly to the wronging and impoveriſhing the tenants and inhabitants where ſuch ſtewards are, proceeding out of a greedy deſire, to make and obtain an undue and extraordinary gain to themſelves: It is therefore by the authority of this preſent Parliament eſtabliſhed and enacted, That no Steward, Deputy-Steward, or other under-Steward of any the Courts aforeſaid, ſhall directly or indirectly, in his own name, or in the name of any other, from and after the expiration of one year next after the end of the Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, take, receive, or make benefit to his own uſe, in money, goods, or any other thing, to the value of twelve pence, or more, by vertue or colour of any Demiſe or Grant hereafter to be made, of any the profits, or perquiſites, or amercements of any ſuch Courts whereof they are ſteward, which rightfully ſhall belong to the Lords of the ſame, upon pain that every Steward offending contrary to the tenor of this preſent Act of Parliament, ſhall for every ſuch his offence forfeit the ſum of forty pounds, and to be diſabled ever after to be ſteward of ſuch Court, or of any other; the one half of the forfeiture to be to our Soveraign Lord the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors; the other half to any of his Majeſties Subjects that ſhall complain in any of his Highneſſe Courts of Record, by action of debt, bill, plaint or information: in which ſuit, no Eſſoyn, Protection, Wager of Law, or other dilatory plea ſhall be allowed.

Oppreſſions done to many for the private gain of Stewards of Courts.

A Steward of a Court ſhall not take benefit by the profits of the ſame Court.

CAP. VI.

Rating of the wages of Artificers, Labourers, &c, according to the Statute of 5 El. 4. The penalty of a Clothier refuſing to obey the aſſeſment.

A rehearſal of the Stat. of 5 El. 4. authorizing Juſtices of Peace to rate the wages of Artificers, Labourers, and ſervants, &c.

Whereas by an Act made in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter in the fifth year of the reign of the late Queen Elizabeth of famous memory, entituled, An Act touching divers orders for Artificers, Labourers, Servants of Husbandry, and Apprentices, it was provided and enacted by the authority of the ſame Parliament, for the declaration and limitation what wages ſervants, labourers, and artificers, either by the year, or day, or otherwiſe ſhould have and receive, That the Juſtices of peace of every Shire, Riding or Liberty within the limits of their ſeveral Commiſſions, or the more part of them, being then reſident within the ſame, and the Sheriff of that County, if he conveniently may, and every Mayor, Bayliff, or other head-Officer, within any City or Town corporate, wherein is any Juſtice of P. within the limits of the ſaid City or Town corporate, and of the ſaid Corporation, ſhould before the tenth day of June next coming, and afterwards ſhould yearly at every general Seſſions firſt to be holden and kept after Eaſter, or at ſome time convenient within ſix weeks next following every of the ſaid Feaſts of Eaſter, aſſemble themſelves together, and they ſo aſſembled calling unto them ſuch diſcreet and grave perſons of the ſaid County, or of the ſaid City or Town corporate, as they ſhall think meet, and conferring together, reſpecting the plenty or ſcarcity of the time, and other circumſtances neceſſarily to be conſidered, ſhould have authority by vertue thereof, within the limits or precincts of their ſeveral Commiſſions, to limit, rate and appoint the wages as well of ſuch and ſo many of the ſaid Artificers, handicrafts-men, husbandmen, or any other labourer, ſervant, or workman, whoſe wages in times paſt hath been by any Law or Statute rated and appointed, and alſo the wages of all the Labourers, Artificers, Workmen or Apprentices of husbandry which have not been rated, as they the ſame Juſtices, Mayors, or head Officers within their ſeveral Commiſſions or liberties ſhould think meet by their diſcretions to be rated, limited or appointed by the year, or by the day, week, moneth, or otherwiſe, with meat and drink, or without meat and drink, and what wages every Workman ſhould take by the great for Mowing, Reaping or Threſhing of Corn and Grain, and for mowing and making of Hay, or for ditching, paling, railing or hedging by the rodde, pearch, lugge, yard, pole, rope, or foot, and for any other kind of reaſonable labours or ſervice, and ſhould yearly before the xii. day of July next after the ſaid aſſeſment and rate ſo appointed and made, certifie the ſame ingroſſed in Parchment, with the conſiderations and cauſes thereof, under their hands and ſeals into the Queens moſt honourable Court of Chancery, to the end that Proclamation ſhould be made in the name of the ſaid Queens Majeſtie, her heirs and ſucceſſors, for obſerving of the ſame rates, in ſuch manner and form as in the ſaid Act more at large is declared.

Rating of wages by the year, day, week, or moneth, or by the great.

A queſtion moved upon the Stat. of 5 El. 4. whoſe wages the Juſtices may rate.

And whereas the ſaid Act hath not according to the true meaning thereof been duly put in execution, whereby the rates of wages for poor artificers, labourers, and other perſons whoſe wages was meant to be rated by the ſaid Act, have not been rated and proportioned according to the plenty, ſcarcity, neceſſity, and reſpect of the time, which was politickly intended by the ſaid Act, by reaſon that ambiguity and queſtion hath riſen and been made, whether the rating of all manner of Artificers, workmen and workwomen, his and their wages, other than ſuch as by ſome Statute and Law have been rated, or elſe ſuch as did work about Husbandry, ſhould or might be rated by the ſaid Law, foraſmuch as the ſaid Law hath been found beneficial to the Common-wealth:

Labourers, Weavers, Spinſters, and Workmens wages may be rated by the Juſtices.

Be it Enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That the ſaid Statute, and the authority by the ſame Statute given to any perſon or perſons, for aſſeſſing and rating of wages, and the authority to them in the ſaid Act committed, ſhall be expounded and conſtrued, and ſhall by force of this Act give authority to all perſons having any ſuch authority, to rate wages of any Labourers, Weavers, Spinſters, and Workmen or Workwomen whatſoever, either working by the day, week, moneth, year, or taking any work at any perſon or perſons hand whatſoever, to be done in great or otherwiſe.

Rating of wages where Seſſions be kept in ſeveral parts of the Shire.

And whereas in divers Shires within this Realm, the Juſtices of Peace have not uſually kept their general Seſſions in one place of the Shire together, but the general Seſſions have been kept in ſeveral places for ſeveral Diviſions, by reaſon whereof, the moſt part of the Juſtices of the Peace coming not together, no rating of wages could be well made in the ſaid Shire where ſuch general Seſſions have been uſed, and for other reſpects;

Be it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That the Juſtices of Peace, or the more part of them reſiant in any Shire, or in any Riding, Liberty or Diviſion, where ſuch Seſſions have been uſually ſeverally kept, ſhall at any general Seſſions of the Peace to be holden for the ſame Shire, Diviſion, Riding or Liberty, or at ſuch time of rating of wages as is limited by the ſaid Act, made in the fifth year of her Majeſties Reign, have as full authority and power to rate all manner of wages to be rated within ſuch Shire, and within the limits of ſuch Diviſion, in any ſuch Shire, Riding or Liberty, as if the ſame were done in the general Seſſions for the ſaid County, or by the moſt part of the Juſtices meeting for the rating of wages by the ſaid Act of the fifth year of the late Queen, for the wages mentioned in the ſame Act.

Proclamations ſhall be made by the Sheriff of the rates of wages.

And be it further Enacted, That after the rates made for wages, and engroſſed in parchment, under the hands and ſeals of them, having authority to rate the ſame, it ſhall and may be lawful to the Sheriff of the ſaid County, or to the Mayor, or chief Officer or Officers of any City or Town corporate, to cauſe Proclamation to be made of the ſeveral rates ſo rated, in ſo many places within their authorities, as to them ſhall ſeem convenient, and as if the ſame had been ſent down printed by the Lord Chancellor or Keeper, after declaration thereof to his Majeſty, and certificate of the ſame into the Kings moſt honourable Court of Chancery. And that every perſon and perſons ſhall be bound to obſerve the ſaid rates in given and receiving wages, upon the pains and puniſhments mentioned in the ſaid act, to be recovered, or puniſhment inflicted, as in the ſaid act is mentioned.

And furthermore be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any Clothier or other, ſhall refuſe to obey the ſaid order, rate, and aſſeſſments of wages as aforeſaid, and ſhall not pay ſo much or ſo great wages to their Weavers, Spinſters, workmen or workwomen, as ſhall be ſo ſet down, rated and appointed, according to the true meaning of this act, that then every Clothier, and other perſon and perſons ſo offending, ſhall forfeit and loſe for every ſuch offence to the party grieved, x. s. And that if the ſaid offence and offences of not paying ſo much or ſo great wages to their ſaid workmen, workwomen, and others, ſhall be confeſſed by the offendor, or that the ſame ſhall be proved by two ſufficient and lawful witneſſes, before the Juſtices of Peace in their quarter Seſſions of the peace, the Juſtices of Aſſiſe in their Seſſions, or before any two Juſtices of the Peace, whereof one to be of the Quorum, That then every ſuch perſon ſhall forthwith ſtand and be in law convicted thereof: which ſaid forfeiture of x. s. ſhall be levied by diſtreſs and ſale of the offendors goods, by warrant from the ſaid Juſtices, before whom any ſuch conviction ſhall be had, which ſale ſhall be good in law againſt any ſuch offendor or offendors.

The forfeiture of a Clothier not paying the wages rated to his Workmen.

And be it further enacted, That no perſon or perſons ſhall incur any danger or penalty for not making certificate unto the Kings moſt honourable Court of the Chancery of any rates of wages appointed to be certified by the ſaid act, made in the ſaid fifth year of the ſaid late Queen, ſo as the ſame be proclaimed according to the true intent of this law: but the ſaid rates ingroſſed in parchment, and ſealed as aforeſaid, ſhall, if the ſame be in any ſhire, be kept by the Cuſtos Rotulorum of the ſaid county, amongſt the Records in his cuſtody: for the ſaid ſhire; and in any city or town corporate, amongſt the Records of the ſaid city or town corporate.

The rates of wages need not to be certified into the Chancery, but proclaimed in the county.

This act to continue until the end of the next Parliament.

The continuance of this Act.

Provided nevertheleſs, and be it Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no Clothier being a Juſtice of Peace in any precinct or liberty, ſhall be any rater of any wages for any Weaver, Tucker, Spinſter, or any other Artizan that dependeth upon the making of cloth: And in caſe there be not above the number of two Juſtices of Peace within ſuch precinct or liberty, but ſuch as are Clothiers, That in ſuch caſe, the ſame wages ſhall be rated and aſſeſſed by the major part of the Common Council of ſuch precinct or liberty, and ſuch Juſtice and Juſtices of Peace (if any there be) as are not Clothiers. 3 Car. 4. Continued until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament. 5 El. 4. 39 El. 12.

A Clothier being a Juſtice of Peace, ſhall be no rater of wages for Spinſters.

CAP. VII.

Who ſhall be adjudged Vagabonds. Their puniſhment and uſage.

WHereas by a ſtatute made in the xxxix. year of the reign of the late Queen Elizabeth, there was an Act made, entituled, An Act for puniſhment of rogues, vagabonds and ſturdy beggars, it was Enacted, That all perſons calling themſelves Scholars, going about begging, All Sea-faring men pretending loſs of their Ships or Goods on the Sea, going about the Country begging; All idle perſons going about in any Country, either begging or uſing any ſubtle craft, or unlawful games or playes, or faining themſelves to have knowledge in phyſiognomy, palmeſtry, or other like crafty ſcience; or pretending that they can tell deſtinies, fortunes, or ſuch other like fantaſtical imaginations; All perſons that be, or utter themſelves to be Proctors, Procurors, Patent gatherers, or Collectors for Gaols, Priſons, or Hoſpitals; All Fencers, Bearwards, common Players of Enterludes, and Minſtrels wandring abroad (other than Players of Enterludes belonging to any Baron of this Realm, or any other honourable perſonage of greater degree, to be authorized to play under the hand and ſeal of Arms of ſuch Baron or perſonage) ſhall be taken, adjudged and deemed as rogues, vagabonds and ſturdy beggars, and ſhall ſuffer ſuch pain and puniſhment as in the ſaid Act is in that behalf appointed, as by the ſame Act more at large is declared: Sithence the making of which Act, divers doubts and queſtions have been moved and grown by diverſity of opinions, taken in and upon the letter of the ſaid Act. For a plain declaration whereof, Be it declared and enacted, That from henceforth no authority, to be given or made by any Baron of this Realm, or any other honourable perſonage of greater degree, unto any other perſon or perſons, ſhall be available to free or diſcharge the ſaid perſons or any of them from the pains and puniſhment of the ſame ſtatute.

Who be adjudged rogues by the ſtat. of 39 Eliz. 4. 14 Car. 2. cap. 12.

No licence given by any Baron ſhall avail players in interludes.

And whereas in the ſaid ſtatute, there is a proviſo contained, That the ſaid Statute, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall extend to any ſuch Glaſs-men as ſhall be of good behaviour, and ſhall travel in or through any County without begging, having licence for their travelling, under the hands & ſeals of three Juſtices of the Peace of the ſame County where they travel, whereof one to be of the Quorum, as by the Statute more at large appeareth: By reaſon of which liberty many notorious rogues and vagabonds, and evil diſpoſed perſons have undertaken, and do profeſs the trade of Glaſs-men, and by colour thereof do travel up and down divers Counties of this Realm, and do commit many pickeries, pety felonies, and other miſdemeanors.

For the avoiding of which inconvenience, Be it eſtabliſhed and enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That from and after two moneths next after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, all ſuch perſon and perſons, as ſhall wander up and down the Country to ſell Glaſſes, ſhall be adjudged, deemed and taken as rogues and vagabonds, and ſhall ſuffer the like pain and puniſhment in every degree, as is appointed to be inflicted upon rogues, vagabonds, and ſturdy beggars, by the intent and true meaning of the ſaid Statute made in the xxxix. year of the reign of the ſaid late Queen Elizabeth, and ſhall be ſet down, limited and appointed by this preſent Act: Any thing in the ſaid Statute of the xxxix. year year of her ſaid Reign to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

A puniſhment inflicted by the ſtat. of 39 El. 4. to dangerous rogues.

And whereas by the ſaid ſtatute made in the xxxix. year of the reign of the ſaid late Queen Elizabeth, it was further enacted, That if any of the ſaid rogues ſhall appear to be dangerous to the inferiour ſort of the people, where they ſhall be taken, or otherwiſe be ſuch as will not be reformed of their roguiſh kind of life, That in every ſuch caſe it ſhall be lawful to the Juſtices of the Peace of the ſame Limit, where any ſuch rogue ſhall be taken, to commit that rogue to the Houſe of Correction, or to the Gaol of the County, there to remain untill the next quarter-Seſſions to be holden in that county: And then ſuch of the rogues ſo committed, as by the Juſtices of Peace then and there preſent, or the moſt part of them, ſhall be thought fit not to be delivered, ſhall or may lawfully by the ſame Juſtices, or the moſt part of them, be baniſhed out of the Realm, and all other the Dominions thereof, and at the charges of that county ſhall be conveyed into ſuch parts beyond the Seas, as ſhall be at any time hereafter for that purpoſe aſſigned by the privy Council unto the ſaid Queen Elizabeth, her Heirs and Succeſſors, or by any ſix or more of them, whereof the Lord Chancellor, or Lord Keeper of the great Seal, or Lord Treaſurer for the time being, to be one, or otherwiſe be adjudged perpetually to the Gallies of this Realm, as by the ſaid Juſtices or the more part of them ſhall be thought fit or expedient. And if any ſuch rogues ſhall return (being baniſhed as aforeſaid) again into any part of this Realm, or Dominions of Wales, without lawful licence or warrant ſo to do: That in every ſuch caſe, ſuch offence ſhall be felony, and the party offending therein, ſuffer death as in caſe of Felony: The ſame Felony to be heard and determined in that county of this Realm or Wales, in which the offendor ſhall be apprehended, as by the ſaid ſtatute more at large appeareth: Which branch of the ſaid Statute is taken to be ſomewhat defective, for that the ſaid rogues having no mark upon them to be known by, notwithſtanding ſuch judgement of baniſhment, may return or retire themſelves into ſome other parts of this Realm, where they are not known, and ſo eſcape the due puniſhment which the ſaid Statute did intend to inflict upon them.

A dangerous rogue ſhall be marked with a hot burning Iron on the left ſhoulder.

For remedy whereof, Be it ordained and enacted, That ſuch rogues as ſhall after the end of two moneths next after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, be adjudged as aforeſaid incorrigible or dangerous, ſhall alſo by the judgment of the ſame Juſtices, or the more part of them then preſent, in their open Seſſions of the peace, be branded on the left ſhoulder with an hot burning Iron, of the breadth of an Engliſh ſhilling, with a great Roman R. upon the Iron, and the branding upon the ſhoulder to be ſo throughly burned and ſet on upon the ſkin and fleſh, that the letter R. be ſeen and remain for a perpetual mark upon ſuch rogue during his or her life, and thereupon be ſent by the ſame Juſtices to the place of his dwelling, if he have any; if not, then to the place where he laſt dwelt by the ſpace of a year, if that can be known by his confeſſion or otherwiſe: and if that cannot be known, then to the place of his birth, there to be placed in labour as a true Subject ought to do: and after ſuch puniſhment of any ſuch rogue as aforeſaid, if any rogue ſo puniſhed ſhall offend again, in begging or wandring contrary to the ſaid ſtatute, or this preſent Act, That then in every ſuch caſe, the party ſo offending ſhall be judged a felon, and ſhall ſuffer as in caſes of felony, without benefit of Clergy, the ſame felony to be tryed in the County where any ſuch offendor ſhall be taken.

Every perſon ſhall apprehend a rogue and carry him to the next Conſtable or Tythingman.

And be it further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That after two moneths next after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, every perſon or perſons ſhall apprehend, or cauſe to be apprehended, ſuch rogues, vagabonds and ſturdy beggars, as he or they ſhall ſee or know to reſort to their houſes to beg, gather or receive any alms, and him, her, or them, ſhall carry, or cauſe to be carried to the next Conſtable or Tythingman, upon pain to forfeit for every default x. s. to be levied and imployed in manner and form, and upon ſuch like proof and conviction, as penalties and forfeitures are to be levied and imployed by the ſaid ſtatute of the xxxix. year of the ſaid late Queen. And in default of any ſuch levy, then to be levied and imployed by the Lord of the Leet, or his Officer, where ſuch offence ſhall be committed, in ſuch manner as the perſon authorized by the ſaid ſtatute, might or ſhould have levied and imployed the ſame.

Conſtables or Tythingmen ſhall puniſh rogues.

And be it further Enacted, That if ſuch Conſtable or Tything-man do not cauſe the ſaid rogues, vagabonds and ſturdy beggars to be puniſhed, according to the form ſet down in the ſaid Act made in the xxxix. year of the reign of the ſaid late Queen Elizabeth, and to be conveyed according to the purport of the ſaid Act, that then the ſaid Conſtable or Tithing-man ſhall forfeit and loſe the ſum of xx. s. for every default, to be levied and imployed in manner and form as in the ſaid ſtatute is ſet forth and declared.

A continuance of the Act of 39 El. 4. and of this Statute.

And be it further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Statute made in the nine and thirtieth year of the reign of the ſaid late Queen Elizabeth, with the alterations, explanations, and proviſions herein mentioned and contained, ſhall continue and ſtand in force, as long as this preſent Act ſhall be and remain in force and ſtrength.

Provided alſo, That this preſent Act ſhall continue but untill the end of the next Parliament.

John Dutton of Dutton in the county of Cheſter.

Provided further, That this Act or any thing therein contained, or any authority thereby given, ſhall not in any wiſe extend to diſ-inherit, prejudice or hinder John Dutton of Dutton, in the County of Cheſter Eſquire, his heirs or aſſigns, for, touching or concerning any liberty, priviledge, preheminence and authority, juriſdiction or inheritance, which the ſaid John Dutton now lawfully uſeth or hath, or lawfully may or ought to uſe, within the County Palatine of Cheſter, and the County of the City of Cheſter, or either of them, by reaſon of any ancient Charters of any Kings of this Land, or by reaſon of any preſcription, or lawful uſage or title whatſoever.

CAP. VIII.

Clergy taken from him that doth ſtab another having not a weapon drawn.

TO the end that ſtabbing and killing men on the ſudden, done and committed by many inhumane and wicked perſons, in the time of their rage, drunkeneſs, hidden diſpleaſure or other paſſion of mind, contrary to the commandment of Almighty GOD, and the common peace and tranquility of this Realm, may from henceforth be reſtrained through fear of due puniſhment, to be inflicted on ſuch cruel and bloody malefactors, who heretofore have been thereunto emboldned, by preſuming on the benefit of Clergy:

Be it therefore enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, That every perſon and perſons which after one month next enſuing the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall ſtab or thruſt any perſon or perſons, that hath not then any weapon drawn, or that hath not then firſt ſtricken the party which ſhall ſo ſtab or thruſt, ſo as the perſon or perſons ſo ſtabbed or thruſt, ſhall thereof die within the ſpace of ſix months then next following, although it cannot be proved that the ſame was done of malice forethought, yet the party ſo offending, and being thereof convicted by verdict of twelve men, confeſſion or otherwiſe, according to the laws of this Realm, ſhall be excluded from the benefit of his or their Clergy and ſuffer death as in caſe of wilful murder.

He that ſtabbeth another to death ſhall not have his Clergy.

Provided always, that this act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to any perſon or perſons which ſhall kill any perſon or perſons ſe defendendo, or by miſ-fortune, or in any other manner than as aforeſaid, nor ſhall extend to any perſon or perſons which in keeping and preſerving the peace, ſhall chance to commit manſlaughter, ſo as the ſaid manſlaughter be not committed wittingly, willingly and of purpoſe, under pretext and colour of keeping the peace, nor ſhall extend to any perſon or perſons which in chaſtiſing or correcting his child or ſervant, ſhall beſides his or their intent and purpoſe, chance to commit manſlaughter.

Killing another in defence of himſelf, by miſfortune, in preſerving the peace, or due puniſhment.

This act to continue until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament. 3 Car, 4. Continued until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

CAP. IX.

Several penalties of Alehouſe keepers, for their ſeveral offices.

WHereas the ancient, true, and principal uſe of Innes, Alehouſes, and Victualling houſes, was for the receit, relief and lodging of way-faring people travelling from place to place, and for ſuch ſupply of the wants of ſuch people as are not able by greater quantities to make their proviſion of victuals, and not meant for intertainment and harboring of lewd and idle people to ſpend and conſume their money and their time in lewd and drunken manner.

The true and principal uſe of Innes and Ale houſes.

Be it therefore enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons in this preſent Parli. aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame that if after forty dayes next enſuing after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, any Inne-keeper, Victualler, or Alehouſe-keeper within this Realm of England, or the Dominions of Wales, do permit or ſuffer any perſon or perſons inhabiting and dwelling in any City, Town Corporate, Market Town, Village or Hamlet within this Realm of England, or Dominion of Wales, where any ſuch Inne, Alehouſe or Tipling-houſe, is or ſhal be, to remain or continue drinking or tipling in the ſaid Inne, Victualling-houſe, Tipling-houſe or Alehouſe, other than ſuch as ſhall be invited by any Traveller, and ſhall accompany him only during his neceſſary abode there: and other than Labouring and Handicraftſmen, in Cities and Towns Corporate, and Market Towns, upon the uſual working-dayes, for one hour at dinner time, to take their diet in an Alehouſe: and other than Labourers and Workmen, which for the following of their work by the day or by the great in any City, Town Corporate, Market Town or Village, ſhall for the time of their ſaid continuing in work there, ſojourn, lodge, or victual in any Inne, Alehouſe or other Victualling houſe, other than for urgent and neceſſary occaſions, to be allowed by two Juſtices of Peace That then every ſuch In-keeper, Victualler or Ale houſe-keeper, ſhall for every ſuch offence forfeit and loſe the ſum of x. s. of currant money of England to the uſe of the poor of the Pariſh where ſuch offence ſhall be committed: the ſame offence being viewed and ſeen by any Mayor, Bailiff or Juſtice of peace within their ſeveral limits, or proved by the oath of two witneſſes, to be taken before any Mayor, bailif, or any other head officer, or any one or more Juſtice or Juſtices of the Peace, who by vertue of this act, ſhall be authoriſed to miniſter the ſaid oath to any perſon or perſons that can or will juſtifie the ſame, being within the limits of their ſaid Commiſſion.

The forfeiture of an Ale-houſe keeper permitting one to continue unlawful drinking in his houſe. 7 Jac. 10. 1 Car. 4.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any In-keeper, Alehouſe-keeper or Victualler, ſhall at any time utter or ſell leſſe than one full Ale quart of the beſt beer or ale for a peny, and of the ſmall two quarts for one peny, That then every ſuch In-keeper, Alehouſe-keeper or Victualler, ſhall forfeit for every ſuch offence being duly proved in manner above limited, the ſumme of xx. s. of lawfull money of England to the uſe aboveſaid, All and every the ſaid penalties to be levied by the Conſtables or Churchwardens of the Pariſh or Pariſhes where the offence or offences ſhall be committed, by way diſtreſs to be taken and detained for the ſaid forfeitures, and for default of ſatſfaction within ſix dayes next enſuing, the ſame then to be preſently appriſed and ſold, and the ſurpluſage or remainder over and above to be delivered to the party of whom the diſtreſſe was taken, and for want of ſufficient diſtreſſe, the party or parties offending to be by the Mayor, Bailiff, or other head Officer, or Juſtice or Juſtices aforeſaid, committed to the common Goal, there to remain until the ſaid penalty or penalties be truly paid.

The prices of Ale and Beer ſold in an Inne or Ale-houſe.

The penalty of the Conſtables or Church-wardens omitting their duty.

The Conſtables and Church-wardens account.

And be further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if the Conſtables or Church-wardens do neglect their duty in levying, or do not levy the ſaid ſeveral penalties, or in default of diſtreſſe or diſtreſſes, from time to time, do neglect to certifie the ſame default of diſtreſſe, by the ſpace of twenty dayes then next enſuing, to the Mayor, Bayliff, or other head-Officer, or Juſtice of Peace within whoſe Juriſdiction the offence is committed: Then every perſon and perſons ſo offending, ſhall forfeit for every ſuch default, the ſum of xl. s. of currant money of England, to the uſe of the poor of the Pariſh where ſuch offence ſhall be committed, to be levied by way of diſtreſſe of the offendors goods, by warrant from any one or more Juſtice or Juſtices of the Peace, Mayor, Bayliff, or other head-Officer within the limits of their Juriſdictions reſpectively, under his or their hand and ſeal, to be taken and detained for the ſaid forfeitures, for the ſpace of ſix days then next enſuing: Within which time if payment be not made, the ſame goods to be preſently appriſed and ſold, and the ſurpluſage and remainder over and above (if any be) to be delivered to the party of whom the diſtreſſe was taken: and for want of ſuch ſufficient diſtreſs, the Conſtable, Church-warden or Church-wardens ſo offending, to be by the Mayor, Bayliff, or other head-Officer, Juſtice or Juſtices of Peace, committed to the common Gaol, there to remain until the ſaid penalty or penalties be truly paid: for all which penalties, which ſo ſhall be levied by the ſaid Conſtables or Church-wardens, they the ſaid Conſtables and Church-wardens ſhall be accomptable to their Succeſſors and other the Pariſhioners, in ſuch ſort as they uſually be in other Church-reckonings or accompts. And for all forfeitures to be levied by reaſon of any neglect of the Conſtables or Church-wardens, thoſe ſhall be accomptable, who by force of any Warrant or Precept do levy the ſame, or upon the enlargement of the perſons committed, do receive the ſame.

11 H. 7. c. 5. & 6 Ed. 6. 25.

And be it further Enacted, That all other Laws and Statutes touching Inne-Keepers, Victuallers, and Ale-houſe-keepers, ſhall ſtill remain in their former force, and be put in due execution.

The Continuance of this Statute. Offences committed within Univerſities.

This Act to continue to the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

Provided alwayes, and be it Enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the correction and puniſhment of ſuch as ſhall offend againſt this Act, or any part thereof within either of the two Univerſities of this Realm, or the Precincts or Liberties of the ſame, ſhall be done upon the offendors, and Juſtice ſhall be miniſtred in this behalf, according to the intent and true meaning of this Law, by the Governors, Magiſtrates, Juſtices of the Peace, or other principal Officers of either of the ſame Univerſities, to whom in other caſes the adminiſtration of Juſtice, and correction and puniſhment of offendors by the Lawes of this Realm and their ſeveral Charters doth belong or appertain, and that no other within their Liberties for any matter concerning this Law contrary to their ſeveral Charters do intermeddle, and that all penalties and ſums of money to be forfeited or loſt by force of this Act, within either of the Univerſities, or the Liberties or Precincts of the ſame, ſhall be levied by the Officers or Miniſters of either of the ſaid Univerſities, to be from time to time in that behalf appointed by the Vice-Chancellors thereof for the time being reſpectively, and that all powers and authorities either of impriſonment or otherwiſe, before given or appointed by this Act, ſhall by the Governors, Magiſtrates and principal Officers abovesaid of either of the ſaid Univerſities, be duly executed and done within either of the ſaid Univerſities, and the Liberties and Precincts of the ſame, according to the true intent and meaning of this Act. 21 Jac. 7. made perpetual.

CAP. X.

Nothing ſhall be taken for the Report of a Cauſe referred by any Court.

Nothing ſhall be taken for reports.

FOraſmuch as all exactions, extortions and corruptions are odious, and prohibited, in all well governed Common-Weals, Be it Enacted, That no perſon, to whom any order or cauſe ſhall be committed or referred, by any of the Kings Judges, or Courts at Weſtminſter, or any other Court, ſhall directly or indirectly, or by any art, ſhift, colour or device, have, take, or receive any money, fee, reward, covenant, obligation, promiſe, agreement, or any other thing, for his report or Certificate by writing, or otherwiſe, upon pain of the forfeiture of C. li. for every ſuch Report or Certificate, and to be deprived of his Office and place in the ſame Court: the one moiety of the ſaid forfeitures to be to our Soveraign Lord the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors; the other moyety to the party grieved, which will ſue for the ſame, at any time during the ſaid ſuit, or within one year after the ſame cauſe diſcontinued or decreed; and in his default of ſuch ſuit, to him or them that will ſue for the ſame, by Original Writ, Bill, Plaint or Information, in his Majeſties High Court of Star-Chamber, or in any his Majeſties Courts of Record at Weſtminſter, in which ſuit, by Writ, Bill, Plaint, or Information, no wager of Law, Eſſoyn, Priviledge, Superſedeas, Protection, or any other delay, ſhall be ſuffered or admitted.

The Clerks fee for writing a report.

Provided nevertheleſs, That it ſhall be lawful for the Clerk to take for his pains for writing of every ſuch Report or Certificate, xii. d. for the firſt ſide, and ii. d. for every ſide after, and no more, upon pain to forfeit x. s. for every peny taken over and above the ſaid ſum to be had and recovered as aforeſaid.

CAP. XI.

Felony to marry a ſecond husband or wife, the former being living,

There ſhall be no ſecond marriage until the former husband or wife be dead.

Cro. El. 94 461.

FOraſmuch as divers evil diſpoſed perſons being married, run out of one County into another, or into places where they are not known, and there become to be married, having another husband or wife living, to the great diſhonour of God, and utter undoing of divers honeſt mens children and others: Be it therefore Enacted by the Kings Majeſty, with the conſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and of the Commons in this preſent Parliament liament aſſembled, That if any perſon and perſons within his Majeſties Dominions of England and Wales being married, or which hereafter ſhall marry, do at any time after the end of the Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, marry any perſon or perſons, the former wife being alive, that then every ſuch offence ſhall be felony, and the perſon and perſons ſo offending ſhall ſuffer death as in caſes of felony. And the party and parties ſo offending, ſhall receive ſuch and the like proceeding, tryal and execution in ſuch County, where ſuch perſon or perſons ſhall be apprehended, as if the offence had been committed in ſuch County where ſuch perſon or perſons ſhall be taken or apprehended.

Provided alwayes, That this act nor any thing therein contained ſhall extend to any perſon or perſons whoſe husband or wife ſhall be continually remaining beyond the ſeas by the ſpace of ſeven years together, or whoſe husband or wife ſhall abſent him or her ſelf the one from the other by the ſpace of ſeven years together in any part within his Majeſties dominions, the one of them not knowing the other to be living within that time.

The husband or wife being abſent ſeven years from the other.

Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that this act nor any thing herein contained, ſhall extend to any perſon or perſons that are or ſhall be at the time of ſuch marriage divorced by any ſentence had or hereafter to be had in the Eccleſiaſtical Court, or to any perſon or perſons where the former marriage hath been or hereafter ſhall be by ſentence in the Eccleſiaſtical Court declared to be void and of no effect: Nor to any perſon or perſons for or by reaſon of any former marriage had or made, or hereafter to be had or made within age of conſent.

To what perſons this ſtatute ſhall not extend.

Provided alſo, that no attainder for this offence made felony by this act, ſhall make or work any corruption of blood, loſs of dower, or diſinheriſon of heir or heirs.

No corruption of blood, loſs of Dower or inheritance.

CAP. XII.

The penalty for practiſing of Invocation or Conjuration, &c.

Be it enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the Statute made in the fifth year of the Reign of our late Soveraign Lady of moſt famous and happy Memory, Queen Elizabeth, entituled, An Act againſt Conjurations, Inchantments, and Witchcrafts, be from the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel next coming, for and concerning all offences to be committed after the ſame Feaſt, utterly repealed.

The Statute made 5 Eliz. 16. againſt Conjurations, &c. repealed.

And for the better reſtraining the ſaid offences, and more ſevere puniſhing the ſame, Be it further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons, after the ſaid Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel next coming, ſhall uſe, practiſe or exerciſe any Invocation or Conjuration of any evil and wicked Spirit; or ſhall conſult, covenant with, entertain, imploy, feed, or reward any evil and wicked Spirit, to or for any intent or purpoſe; or take up any dead man, woman or child, out of his, her, or their grave, or any other place where the dead body reſteth, or the skin, bone, or any other part of any dead perſon, to be imployed or uſed in any manner of Witchcraft, Sorcery, Charm, or Inchantment; or ſhall uſe, practiſe, or exerciſe any Witchcraft, Inchantment, Charm, or Sorcery, whereby any perſon ſhal be killed, deſtroyed, waſted, conſumed, pined or lamed in his or her body, or any part thereof: That then every ſuch offendor or offendors, their aiders, abetters, and counſellers, being of any the ſaid offences duly and lawfully convicted and attainted, ſhall ſuffer pains of death as a felon or felons, and ſhall loſe the priviledge and benefit of Clergy, and Sanctuary.

Cro. Car, 141.

Conjuration or Invocation, whereby any Perſon is killed or lamed.

And further, to the intent that all manner of practice, uſe or exerciſe of Witchcraft, Inchantment, Charm or Sorcery, ſhould be from henceforth utterly avoided, aboliſhed and taken away, Be it Enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That if any perſon or perſons ſhall from and after the ſaid Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel next coming, take upon him or them by Witchcraft, Inchantment, Charm or Sorcery, to tell or declare in what place any treaſure of gold or ſilver ſhould or might be found or had in the earth or other ſecret places, or where goods or things loſt or ſtolne ſhould be found or become; or to the intent to provoke any perſon to unlawful love, or whereby any cattel or goods of any perſon ſhall be deſtroyed, waſted or impaired, or to hurt or deſtroy any perſon in his or her body, although the ſame be not effected and done: That then all and every ſuch perſon and perſons ſo offending, and being thereof lawfully convicted, ſhall for the ſaid offence ſuffer impriſonment by the ſpace of one whole year, without bail or mainpriſe, and once in every quarter of the ſaid year, ſhall in ſome Market Town, upon the Market day, or at any ſuch time as any Fair ſhall be kept, there ſtand openly upon the Pillory by the ſpace of ſix hours, and there ſhall openly confeſs his or her error and offence.

Declaring by Witchcraft, whereby any thing is hidden, procuring unlawful love, &c.

And if any perſon or perſons being once convicted of the ſame offences as is aforeſaid, do eftſoons perpetrate and commit the like offence, that then every ſuch offendor being of any the ſaid offences the ſecond time lawfully and duly convicted and attainted as is aforeſaid, ſhall ſuffer pains of death as a felon or felons, and ſhall loſe the benefit and priviledge of Clergy and Sanctuary: Saving to the wife of ſuch perſon as ſhall offend in any thing contrary to this Act, her title of dower; and alſo to the heir and ſucceſſor of every ſuch perſon, his or their titles of inheritance, ſucceſſion and other rights, as though no ſuch attainder of the anceſtor or predeceſſor had been made.

The ſecond offence felony.

No forfeiture of Dower or Inheritance.

Provided alwayes, That if the Offendor in any the caſes aforeſaid ſhall happen to be a Peer of this Realm, then his Trial therein to be had by his Peers, as it is uſed in caſes of Felony or Treaſon, and not otherwiſe. Coke pla. fol. 1.

Trial of a Peer of the Realm.

CAP. XIII.

An Execution againſt him who is diſcharged by Priviledge of Parliament.

FOraſmuch as heretofore doubt hath been made, if any perſon being arreſted in Execution, and by priviledge of either of the Houſes of Parliament ſet at liberty, whether the party at whoſe Suit ſuch execution was purſued, be for ever after barred and diſabled to ſue forth a new Writ of Execution in that caſe.

A new Execution may be ſued againſt any which ſhall be delivered by priviledge of Parliament.

For the avoiding of all further doubt and trouble, which in like caſes may hereafter enſue, Be it Enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, by the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and by the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, That from henceforth the party, at or by whoſe Suit ſuch Writ of Execution was purſued, his Executors or Adminiſtrators, after ſuch time as the priviledge of that Seſſion of Parliament in which ſuch priviledge ſhall be ſo granted ſhall ceaſe, may ſue forth and execute a new Writ or Writs of Execution, in ſuch manner and form as by the Law of this Realm he or they might have done, if no ſuch former Execution had been taken forth or ſerved; And that from henceforth no Sheriff, Bayliff, or other Officer, from whoſe arreſt or cuſtody any ſuch perſon ſo arreſted in Execution, ſhall be delivered by any ſuch priviledge, ſhall be charged or chargeable with or by any action whatſoever, for delivering out of Execution any ſuch priviledged perſon, ſo as is aforeſaid, by ſuch priviledge of Parliament ſet at liberty: Any Law, Cuſtom, or Priviledge heretofore to the contrary notwithſtanding.

He ſhall never be charged out of whoſe cuſtody ſuch priſoner ſhall be delivered.

Cenſure inflicted upon any that ſhall arreſt a Parliament man.

Provided alwayes, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to the diminiſhing of any puniſhment to be hereafter by cenſure in Parliament inflicted upon any perſon which hereafter ſhall make or procure to be made any ſuch arreſt as is aforeſaid. Dyer fol. 59.

CAP. XIV.

A remedy for a Freeman of London to recover a debt not exceeding xl. s. owing to him by another inhabiting within the ſaid City or the Liberties. A penalty if the debtor do not appear before the Commiſſioners upon warning, or if the creditor or debtor do not perform their order, or if the creditor being a Freeman of London, do ſue any other Freemen out of the ſame City for a debt under xl. s. EXP. 3 Jac. 15.

CAP. XV.

An expoſition and addition to the Statute of Bankrupts, made 13 Eliz. 7.

24 H. 8. 5.
13 El. 7.

FOr that fraud and deceits, as new diſeaſes, daily encreaſe amongſt ſuch as live by buying and ſelling, to the hinderance of Traffick and mutual Commerce, and to the general hurt of the Realm, by ſuch as wickedly and wilfully become Bankrupts; And for that the deſcription of a Bankrupt in former Statutes is not ſo fully expreſſed, nor the power given thereby to the Commiſſioners for Bankrupts ſo large as is meet, in ſuch caſes of deceit, to prevent the deceitful actions of Bankrupts:

Who ſhall be adjudged a Bankrupt.

For remedy whereof, Be it therefore Enacted by our Soveraign Lord the King, and by the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That all and every ſuch perſon and perſons, uſing or that ſhall uſe the trade of Merchandiſe, by way of bargaining, exchange, bartry, cheviſance, or otherwiſe in groſs, or by retail, or ſeeking his, her, or their trade of living by buying and ſelling, and being a Subject born of this Realm or any the Kings Dominions, or Denizen, who at any time ſithence the firſt day of this preſent Parliament, or at any time hereafter ſhall depart the Realm, or begin to keep his or her houſe or houſes, or otherwiſe to abſent him or her ſelf, or take Sanctuary, or ſuffer him or her ſelf willingly to be arreſted for any debt, or other thing not grown or due for money delivered, wares ſold, or any other juſt or lawful cauſe, or good conſideration or purpoſes, or hath or will ſuffer him or her ſelf to be outlawed, or yield him or her ſelf to priſon, or willingly or fraudulently hath or ſhall procure him or her ſelf to be arreſted, or his or her goods, money or chattels to be attached or ſequeſtred, or depart from his or her dwelling houſe, or make or cauſe to be made any fraudulent grant or conveyance of his, her, or their lands, tenements, goods or chattels, to the intent, or whereby his, her, or their Creditors being Subjects born as aforeſaid, ſhall or may be defeated or delayed for the recovery of their juſt and true debts: or being arreſted for debt, ſhall after his or her arreſt lie in priſon ſix moneths or more upon that arreſt, or upon any other arreſt or detention in priſon for debt, and lie in priſon ſix moneths upon ſuch arreſt or detention, ſhall be accompted and adjudged a Bankrupt to all intents and purpoſes.

The like Commiſſions, orders, benefits and remedies as be provided for Bankrupts by the ſtatute, 13 El. 7.

And be it further enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the like Commiſſions, orders, benefits and remedies which are and be provided and limited by the ſaid former Act of Parliament (made in 13. nuper Eliz. Reginæ) againſt any Bankrupts therein deſcribed, or for or concerning his, her, or their lands, tenements, hereditaments, fees, annuities, offices, goods, chattels, wares, merchandiſes and debts, or any of them, ſhall be had, purſued, taken and expounded againſt ſuch perſon and perſons that are herein expreſſed to be Bankrupts, his, her, and their lands, tenements, hereditaments, fees and annuities, offices, goods, chattels, wares, merchandiſes and debts, in ſuch like manner and form as the ſame ought or might have been, if the perſons herein deſcribed to be Bankrupts, had been deſcribed to be Bankrupts according to the intent of the ſaid former Statute.

New Creditors partakers with the former.

And that it ſhall be lawful for any creditors of the ſaid Bankrupt within four moneths after any ſuch Commiſſion ſhall be ſued forth, and until diſtribution ſhall be made by the ſaid Commiſſioners for the payment of the Bankrupts debt, as in ſuch caſe hath been uſed, to partake and joyn with the other creditors that ſhall ſue forth any ſuch Commiſſion, for ſatisfaction and paiment of his, her, or their debts, to him or them owing, without any hinderance, let, or diſturbance of any of the ſame Commiſſioners, or of any of the other creditors of any ſuch Bankrupts, the ſame creditors ſo coming in to contribute to the charges of the ſaid Commiſſion, and that if the creditors come not in within four moneths, then the Commiſſioners to have power to diſtribute.

Be it further enacted, That if any perſon which hereafter is or ſhall be a Bankrupt, by intent of this Statute, ſhall convey or procure, or cauſe to be conveyed to any of his children, or other perſon or perſons, any manors, lands, tenements, hereditaments, offices, fees, annuities, leaſes, goods, chattels, or transfer his debts into other mens names, except the ſame ſhall be purchaſed, conveyed, or transferred for or upon marriage of any of his or her children, both the parties married being of the years of conſent, or ſome valuable conſideration, ſhall be in the power and authority of the Commiſſioners in this behalf to be appointed, or the more part of them, to bargain, ſell, grant, convey, demiſe, or otherwiſe to diſpoſe thereof, in as ample manner, as if the ſaid Bankrupt had been actually ſeiſed or poſſeſſed thereof or the debts were in his own name of the like eſtate or intereſt to his or their own uſe, at ſuch time as he or ſhe became Bankrupt; And that every ſuch grant, bargain, ſale, conveyance, and diſpoſition of the ſaid Commiſſioners or of the greater part of them, ſhall be good and available to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes in the Law againſt the offendor or offendors, his heirs, executors, adminiſtrators and aſſigns, and ſuch children and perſons as ſhall be ſubject to this ſtatute, and againſt all other perſon and perſons claiming by, from or under ſuch offendor or offendors, or ſuch ſaid other perſons, to whom ſuch conveyance ſhall be made by the ſaid Bankrupt, or by his means or procurement.

A Bankrupt conveying his lands or goods to others, or transferring his debts into other mens names.

And for that the practices of Bankrupts of late are ſo ſecret and ſo ſubtil, as that they can very hardly be found out or brought to light; And for that the former ſtatute, giving power to the Commiſſioners to examine others than the Bankrupts, hath not fully or ſufficiently authorized them to examine the ſaid Bankrupt upon oath: For remedy whereof, be it further enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the ſaid Commiſſioners may call before them, or the greater part of them, the ſaid Bankrupt; and if upon warning left or made in writing at three ſeveral times at the dwelling place or houſe where the ſaid Bankrupt, his wife or family, for the moſt part of his abode, did lodge or remain, within one year next before he, ſhe, or they became Bankrupt, the ſaid Bankrupt ſhall not appear before the ſaid Commiſſioners, or the greater part of them, That then and from thenceforth it ſhall be lawful for the greater number of the ſaid Commiſſioners to appoint to proclaim the ſaid party a Bankrupt, at ſuch publick place or places where the ſaid Commiſſioners or the greater part of them ſhall think meet, warning him, her, or them to appear before them upon the ſaid Commiſſion, at ſome time appointed: And that if upon five ſeveral Proclamations made in ſome publick place, the party offending appear not before the ſaid Commiſſioners, and yield his, her, or their bodies to them, or ſome of them, the ſaid Commiſſioners, or the greater part of them, ſhall or may award a Warrant to ſuch fit perſon or perſons as they think meet, to apprehend the body and bodies of the ſaid offendor and offendors, and to bring him, her, or them ſo offending before the ſaid Commiſſioners, whereſoever the ſaid party or parties offending may be found, in place priviledged or not, to be examined by the ſaid Commiſſioners or the greater part of them.

In what caſe he that doth withdraw himſelf ſhall be proclaimed a Bankrupt.

A Bankrupt apprehended which upon warning refuſeth to appear.

And that it ſhall be lawful for the ſaid Commiſſioners, or the greater part of them, to examine the ſaid offendor or offendors upon ſuch Interrogatories touching the lands, tenements, goods, chattels, debts, bills, bonds, books of account, and ſuch other things, as may tend to diſcloſe his, her, or their eſtate, or their ſecret grants, conveyances and eloyning of his, her, or their lands, tenements, goods, money and debts, as they ſhall think meet.

The examination of a Bankrupt.

And that if therein the offendor or offendors ſhall refuſe to be examined, or to anſwer fully to every Interrogatory to him to be miniſtred by the ſaid Commiſſioners or the greater part of them, it ſhall be lawful for the ſaid Commiſſioners or the greater part of them to commit the ſaid offendor or offendors to ſome ſtrait or cloſe impriſonment, there to remain until he, ſhe, or they ſhall better conform him, or her ſelf.

A Bankrupt refuſing to anſwer.

And that if upon his, her, or their examination it ſhall appear that he, ſhe, or they have committed any wilful or corrupt perjury, tending to the hurt or damage of the creditors of the ſaid Bankrupt, to the value of Ten pounds of lawful money of England or above, the party ſo offending ſhall or may thereof be indicted in any of the Kings Majeſties Courts of Record, and being lawfully convicted thereof ſhall ſtand upon the Pillory in ſome publick place by the ſpace of two houres, and have one of his ears nailed to the Pillory and cut off.

The puniſhment of a Bankrupt committing perjury.

And whereas by the former ſtatute made in the ſaid thirteenth year of the reign of the late Queen Elizabeth, the Commiſſioners for Bankrupts have power given to them to ſend for ſuch perſon or perſons as the creditors ſhall know, ſuppoſe, or ſuſpect to have, detain or keep any part of the money, goods, chattels, or debts of the ſaid offendor or offendors, or to be indebted to the ſaid offendor or offendors, to be examined by the ſaid Commiſſioners, as by the ſame ſtatute appeareth, but have not good means or remedy by impriſonment or other penalty to procure the perſon ſo ſent for by them to appear before them, nor having appeared before them, to make anſwer upon his oath to ſuch Interrogatories as ſhall be miniſtred unto him by the ſaid Commiſſioners, for and upon the ſpecialty, certainty, true declaration and knowledge of ſuch lands, tenements, hereditaments, goods, debts, or other things of any ſuch offendor or offendors, as be, or ſhall be, or which ſhall be ſuſpected to be in his cuſtody, uſe or poſſeſſion, or in the cuſtody, uſe or poſſeſſion of any other to his knowledge, and of all debts owing to or for the benefit of ſuch offendor or offendors, by himſelf or by any other to his knowledge ſo as many times a great part of the offendor or offendors lands, tenements, hereditaments, goods, chattels, or debts which by the true intent of the ſaid ſtatute ſhould be imployed to the ſatisfaction of the creditors of the offendor or offendors, are concealed or detained in the hands of ſuch perſon & perſons as refuſe to come or being come, refuſe to be ſworn before the ſaid Commiſſioners, to be examined in that behalf, to the great encouragement of all Bankrupts and their wicked confederates and acceſſaries, and to the great hinderance of the juſt remedies of the creditors of the ſaid Bankrupts for their true and juſt debts to them owing: For remedy whereof, be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons being known, ſuppoſed or ſuſpected to have or detain any part of the lands, tenemements, or hereditaments, goods, chattels, or debts of the ſaid Bankrupt, or to be indebted to or for the benefit of the ſaid Bankrupt, ſhall after lawful warning to the ſaid perſon or perſons given to come before the ſaid Commiſſioners, or the greater part of them, to be examined according to the intent of the ſaid ſtatute, refuſe to come, or ſhall not come before the ſaid Commiſſioners at the time appointed, having no lawful impediment (ſuch as ſhall be limited & allowed of by the ſaid Commiſſioners or the more part of them, and which ſhall be then ſignified or made known to the ſaid Commiſſioners at the time of their aſſembly) or that any ſuch perſon or perſons having knowledge or warning of any other aſſembly or meeting of the ſaid Commiſſioners again, ſhall not come and appear before them at ſuch time as he or ſhe lawfully may come, have no ſuch lawful impediment as ſhall be then made known to the ſaid Commiſſioners, and by them admitted and allowed of as aforeſaid, Or being come before them ſhall refuſe to be ſworne and to make anſwer to ſuch interrogatories as ſhall be miniſtred unto him or them, according to the true intent and meaning of the ſaid Statute made in the ſaid thirteenth year of the reign of our ſaid Soveraign Lady Queen Elizabeth or of this preſent act, That then it ſhall be lawful for the ſaid Commiſſioners, or for the greater part of them, to commit to ſuch ward and priſon as to them or to the greater part of them ſhall be thought meet, all ſuch perſon and perſons as ſhal ſo refuſe to be ſworn and make anſwer to ſuch Interrogatories as ſhall be ſo miniſtred as aforeſaid, and alſo to direct their warrants to ſuch perſon or perſons as to them or the greater part of them ſhall be thought meet to apprehend and arreſt ſuch perſon or perſons as ſhall refuſe to appear before them as aforeſaid, and to bring him, her, or them before the ſaid Commiſſioners, or the greater part of them, to be examined as aboveſaid, and upon his, her, or their refuſal to come or to be examined before the ſaid Commiſſioners as aforeſaid, to commit the ſaid party ſo refuſing to ſuch priſon as the ſaid Commiſſioners or the greater part of them ſhall think meet, there to remain without bail or mainpriſe, until ſuch time as the ſaid perſon ſo refuſing to come, or to be ſworne to anſwer before the ſaid Commiſſioners, ſhall ſubmit him or her ſelf to the ſaid Commiſſioners, and be by them examined, according to the true intent of the ſaid Statute, and of this preſent act.

Witneſſes allowed their coſts.

The penalty of others beſide the Bankrupt committing perjury.

Provided alwayes, That ſuch witneſſes as ſhall be ſo ſent for, ſhall have ſuch coſts and charges as the Commiſſioners in their diſcretion ſhall think fit; The ſame charges to be rateably borne by the creditors of the ſaid Bankrupt, according to the proportion of each of their ſeveral debts. And if any perſon or perſons, other than the Bankrupt, either by ſubornation, unlawful procurement, ſiniſter perſwaſion, or means of any others, or by his own act, conſent or agreement, ſhall willfully and corruptly commit any manner of wilful perjury by his depoſition to be taken before the ſaid Commiſſioners, or the greater part of them, as aforeſaid, That then the party or parties ſo offending, and all and every perſon and perſons that ſhall unlawfully and corruptly procure any ſuch unlawful, wilful, and corrupt perjury, ſhall or may therefore be indicted in any of the Kings Majeſties Courts of Record, and after his or their conviction thereof, ſhall incur ſuch forfeiture, and receive and ſuffer ſuch pains and puniſhment, as are limited by the Statute made concerning Perjury, in the fifth year of the reign of our late Soveraign Lady Queen Elizabeth.

5 Eliz. 9.

Who ſhall recover the forfeitures, and how they ſhall imploy them.

And be it further enacted, That all and every ſum and ſums of money which ſhall be forfeited by force of this preſent act, ſhall be ſued for and recovered by the ſaid creditors only, or any of them that will ſue for the ſame, by action of debt, bill, plaint or information, in any of the Kings Majeſties Courts of Records, and the ſum or ſums of money ſo recovered, the charges of ſuit being deducted, ſhall be diſtributed and divided towards the payment of the ſaid creditors of the bankrupt.

The authority of Commiſſioners touching debts due to a Bankrupt.

The remedy for the creditor to recover a Bankrupts debt aſſigned to him by the Commiſſioners.

And for that the power and authority given to the Commiſſioners of Bankrupts touching the debts due to the ſaid Bankrupt, is not ſo full and perfect, as that the full benefit thereof in due courſe might be imployed to the uſe of the ſaid creditors as was intended: For remedy therefore, be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Commiſſioners of Bankrupts, or the greater part of them, ſhall have power to grant and aſſign, or otherwiſe to order or diſpoſe all or any of the debts due, or to be due, to and for the benefit of the ſaid Bankrupt, by what perſon or perſons ſoever, or in what manner and form ſoever, to the uſe of the Creditors of the ſaid Bankrupt, according to the true intent of the ſaid former recited Statute of Bankrupts, and that the ſame grant, aſſignment, or diſpoſition of the ſaid debts, in form aforeſaid to be made by the ſaid Commiſſioners, or the greater part of them, ſhall ſo veſt the property, right and intereſt of the ſaid debt and debts in the perſon or perſons of him, her, or them to whom it ſhall be granted, aſſigned or ordered by the ſaid Commiſſioners, or the greater part of them, as fully to all intents and purpoſes, as if the ſaid Bill, Bond, Bonds, Statutes, Recognizances, Judgement or Contract, whereupon the ſaid debt or debts, deed or deeds ſhall ariſe or grow, had been made to or with, or for the ſaid perſon or perſons to whom the ſame ſhall be ſo granted, aſſigned or diſpoſed by the ſaid Commiſſioners; And that after ſuch grant, aſſignment or diſpoſition made of the ſaid debts, that neither the Bankrupt, nor any other to whom any ſuch debt ſhall be due, ſhall have power to recover the ſame, nor to make any releaſe or diſcharge thereof, neither ſhall the ſame be attached as the debt of the Bankrupt, or ſuch ſaid other perſon or perſons to whom the ſame ſhall be due, by any other perſon or perſons, according to the Cuſtome of the City of London, or otherwiſe, but that the party or parties to whom the ſame debt ſhall be aſſigned, ſhall have like remedy to recover the ſame, as fully and lawfully, in the name or names of the perſon or perſons to whom the ſame ſhall be ſo granted, aſſigned or ordered by the ſaid Commiſſioners, in all reſpects and purpoſes, as the party himſelf might have had, Any law, ſtatute, uſe or cuſtome to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Provided always, That no debtor of the Bankrupt be hereby endangered for the payment of his or their debt, truly and bona fide, to any ſuch Bankrupt, before ſuch time as he ſhall underſtand or know that he is become a Bankrupt.

Provided alſo, and be it further Enacted, That ſuch of the ſaid Commiſſioners as ſhall put the ſaid Commiſſion in execution, ſhall upon lawful requeſt to them made by the ſaid Bankrupt, not only make a true declaration to the ſaid Bankrupts, of the imploying and beſtowing of his, her, or their ſaid lands, tenements and hereditaments, offices, fees, goods, wares, money, chattels and debts, which ſhall be paid and ſatisfied to their ſaid creditors, as is in like caſe limited and appointed by the ſaid former ſtatute made in the ſaid thirteenth year of the ſaid late Queens Majeſties reign, but alſo make payment of the overplus of the ſame, if any ſuch ſhall be, to the ſaid Bankrupts, their executors, adminiſtrators and aſſigns, And that the ſaid Bankrupts, after the full ſatisfaction of the ſaid creditors, ſhall have full power and authority to recover and receive the reſidue and remainder of the debts to them owing, Any thing in this act contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Commiſſioners ſhall declare to the Bankrupt how they have beſtowed his lands and goods.

Be it further enacted, That if any action of treſpaſs, or other ſuit ſhall happen hereafter to be brought againſt any Commiſſioner authorized by the ſtatute made in decimo tertio of our late Soveraign Lady Queen Elizabeth, for Bankrupts, or any other perſon or perſons having authority by vertue or under the Commiſſion authorizing the ſaid Commiſſioner for the doing or executing of any matter, by force of the ſaid Statute, or this preſent ſtatute, That the defendant or defendants in any ſuch action or ſuit, may plead Not guilty, or otherwiſe juſtifie that the act or thing whereof the plaintiff or plaintiffs complained, was done by authority of the ſaid Act made in the thirteenth of Elizabeth, or in this preſent Act reſpectively, without expreſſing or rehearſal of any other matter of circumſtance contained in either of the ſaid Acts, and without enforcing him or them to ſhew forth their Commiſſion authorizing the ſaid act or thing, whereunto the plaintiff ſhall be admitted to reply, That the defendant did the fact ſuppoſed in the declaration of his own wrong without any ſuch cauſe alledged by the ſaid defendant, whereupon the iſſue in ſuch action ſhall be joyned to be tryed by verdict of twelve men, and upon the trial of that iſſue, the whole matter to be given on both parties in evidence, according to the very truth of the ſame; and if verdict upon ſuch iſſue ſhall paſs for the defendant, the defendant to have his coſts.

The Commiſſioners plea in an Action brought againſt them.

Provided alwayes, and be it further enacted, That after any Commiſſion of Bankrupts hereafter ſued forth, and dealt in by the Commiſſioners, the offendor happen to die, before the Commiſſioners ſhall diſtribute the goods, lands and debts of the offendors, or any of them, by force of the aforeſaid ſtatute of the thirteenth year of the reign of our late Soveraign Lady Queen Elizabeth, and this ſtatute, or either of them, That then neverthelesſe the ſaid Commiſſioners ſhall and may in that caſe proceed in execution, in, and upon the ſaid Commiſſion, for and concerning the offendors goods, lands, tenements, hereditaments and debts, in ſuch ſort as they might have done if the party offendor were living. Stat. 21 Jac. 19.

The Commiſſioners ſhall proceed to execution, though the Bankrupt die.

CAP. XVI.

What Apprentice or Servant a Wherriman may take. His age.

FOraſmuch as it hath often happened, that divers and ſundry people paſſing by water upon the River of Thames between Windſor and Graveſend, have been put in great hazard and danger of the loſs of their lives and goods, and many times have periſhed and been drowned in the ſaid River, through the unskilfulneſs or want of knowledg or experience in the Wherrimen or Watermen that did tranſport and carry them and their ſaid goods from place to place upon the ſaid River in Wherries, Tiltboats and Barges. And for that hitherto there hath not been any ſufficient proviſion had or made for remedy herein: Be it now enacted and eſtabliſhed by the Kings moſt Excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That from henceforth no Wherriman or Waterman that now is, or that hereafter ſhall be, and ſhall row upon the ſaid River of Thames, and ſhall tranſport or carry any paſſengers or goods in any Wherries, Tiltboats or Barges, (other than Weſtern Barges, Milboats, and all other Veſſels ordinarily ſerving for other uſes than the carrying of paſſengers) ſhall retain or take any ſervant or apprentice to ſerve him as a Waterman upon the ſaid River, unleſſe the ſaid Wherriman or Waterman that ſo ſhall retain, take or have any ſuch ſervant, ſhall have been apprentice to a Wherriman or Waterman by the ſpace of five years before ſuch retaining. And further, That no Wherriman or Waterman that now is, or that hereafter ſhall be upon the ſaid River of Thames, ſhall retain, have, keep, or take any perſon or perſons to ſerve him to row upon the ſaid River as his Apprentice, unleſs the ſaid perſon ſo to be retained or to become an Apprentice, ſhall then be of the age of eighteen years at the leaſt, and ſhall be retained and bound to his Maſter to ſerve upon the ſaid River, for and during the term of ſeven years at the leaſt, Upon pain that every perſon or perſons doing the contrary, ſhall from time to time for every ſuch offence forfeit the ſum of Ten pounds of lawful Engliſh money, the one half whereof ſhall be unto our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other half unto any perſon or perſons that will ſue for the ſame in any of the Courts of Record of our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King, his Heirs or Succeſſors, by Action of debt, bill, plaint or information, in which no wager of law, eſſoyn, protection, or other delay ſhall be admitted or allowed.

Several damages enſuing by unskilful Watermen.

Which watermen only may retain ſervants or apprentices, and what ſort of perſons they may retain.

Provided alwayes, That this Act nor any thing therein contained, ſhall extend to the ſon or ſons, which now are, or hereafter ſhall be, of any Wherriman or Waterman abovesaid (being of the age of ſixteen years at the leaſt, and of convenient growth and ſtrength) that formerly hath been, or that hereafter ſhall be trained and brought up in rowing, or have or hath accuſtomed to row upon the ſaid river, & there have uſed or ſhall uſe to tranſport or carry Wherrymens ſons except.

Paſſengers from place to place, But that all and every ſuch Son or Sons ſhall and may from time to time from henceforth be admitted and allowed to ſerve, and may ſerve upon the ſaid River, and there tranſport or carry Paſſengers from place to place as an Apprentice, as heretofore they have done, Any thing in this Act contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The Watermens orders ſhall be read twice in the year.

And be it further enacted and eſtabliſhed by the authority aforeſaid, That the eight Overſeers or Rulers of the Society or Company of Wherrimen or Watermen that now are, and that from time to time hereafter ſhall be, from henceforth twice in every year, that is to ſay, upon the firſt day of September, and upon the firſt day of March, ſhall openly read and publiſh, or cauſe openly to be read and publiſhed in the Hall or place of their common Aſſembly, where they uſually either have, or hereafter ſhall appoint to aſſemble and meet together, all and every the conſtitutions and orders already made by them, or that at any time hereafter ſhall be made by the Overſeers and Rulers for the good or better ordering or government of the ſaid Wherrimen or Watermen, upon pain that every of them ſhall from time to time for every ſuch offence forfeit to our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors, the ſum of vi. l. xiii. s. and iiii. d. of lawful Engliſh money, the one half whereof ſhall be to our Soveraign Lord the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other half thereof unto any perſon or perſons that will ſue for the ſame in any of the Kings Courts of Record, by Action of Debt, Suit, Bill, Plaint or Information, wherein no wager of Law, Eſſoine, or other delay ſhall be admitted or allowed. 2 & 3 P. & M. 16.

CAP. XVII.

None ſhall make Felts or Hats but which hath been Apprentice.

A rehearſal of the ſtat. of 8 El. 11. touching ſuch as ſhall make Felts or Hats with forein wooll.

WHereas in the Parliament by prorogation holden at Weſtminſter the laſt day of September, in the eighth year of the Reign of the late Queen Elizabeth, Queen of England, there was made one Statute, entituled, An Act for the true making of Hats and Caps; by one branch whereof it was enacted, That no perſon or perſons by him or her ſelf, or any other ſhould after the Feaſt of the Nativity of S. John Baptiſt then next coming, make or work any Felt or Hat, of or with any forein wooll or ſtuff, unleſſe ſuch perſon ſhould firſt have been Apprentice or Covenant-ſervant to ſuch Myſtery of Hat and Felt-making, by the ſpace of ſeven years at the leaſt, upon pain to forfeit all ſuch Hats or Felts as he ſhould make or cauſe to be made, while he worketh contrary to the form of the ſaid Act, and five pounds in money for every moneth that he ſhould ſo continue, as by the ſaid Act (amongſt divers other things therein contained) more plainly may appear: Foraſmuch as by the ſaid Act, no part of the forfeitures or penalties for ſuch as ſet up and do exerciſe the ſaid Art of Hat and Felt-making, and have not been Apprentice or Covenant-ſervant thereunto by the ſpace of ſeven years, nor no penalty nor forfeiture at all for taking of Apprentices or Covenant-ſervants contrary to the tenor of the ſaid Act, is given or appointed to any common perſon that would ſue for the ſame, The execution of the ſaid Act hath been wholly neglected, and the ſame in theſe two branches have been likewiſe tranſgreſſed, and divers perſons that never were Apprentices to the ſaid Art, and ſome that have ſerved but only ſome few years therein, have taken upon them to ſet up and exerciſe the ſaid Art, and retained great number of Apprentices, who daily go away from their Maſters, and before their terms be ended, and being unskilful, do make and put to ſale great quantities of Hats and Felts very falſly and deceitfully made and wrought, to the great damage of his Majeſties moſt loving Subjects.

Who ſhall have the forfeiture accrued by the ſtat. of 8 El. 11. and this ſtat.

For reformation whereof, Be it enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That from and after forty dayes next enſuing the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, the moyety or one half part of all and every the forfeitures and penalties contained in the ſame former Act, that ſhall ariſe or grow due after the end of the ſaid forty dayes next enſuing the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, and alſo the moyety or one half part of all and every the forfeitures and penalties hereafter limited and appointed in and by this preſent Act, ſhall be to our Soveraign Lord the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moyety or half part thereof to ſuch perſon or perſons as will ſue for the ſame, by Action of Debt, Bill, Plaint or Information, to be commenced, or brought, or proſecuted in any Court of Record, wherein no Eſſoine, Protection, or Wager of Law ſhall be admitted or allowed for the Defendant.

Who only may be Felt-makers, and who their ſervants, and how many.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons from and after the ſaid forty dayes ſhall make, or cauſe to be made any Felt or Hat of or with any wooll or ſtuff whatſoever, unleſſe he or they ſhall have firſt ſerved as Apprentices in the foreſaid Trade or Art of Felt-making during the ſpace of ſeven years at the leaſt; Neither ſhall they retain and ſet to work in the ſaid Art any other perſon or perſons than Journeymen that have lawfully ſerved in that Art, and Apprentices lawfully bound in the ſaid Trade or Art, Nor above the number of two Apprentices at one time, nor thoſe for any leſſe term than ſeven years, Upon pain to forfeit v. l. for every moneth that he ſhall continue offending contrary to the true meaning of this Act, to be recovered to the uſes and in manner aforeſaid.

No ſtranger ſhall be ſet on work in making of Hats.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons from and after the ſaid forty days, ſhall retain or ſet on work in the ſaid Art of Hat or Felt-making, any perſon or perſons born out of his Majeſties Realms and Dominions of England, Scotland and Ireland, upon pain to forfeit v. l. for every moneth wherein ſuch perſon or perſons ſhall ſo offend contrary to the meaning of this Act, to be recovered to the uſes and in manner and form aforeſaid,

Felt-makers ſons.

Provided alwayes, That nothing in this Act, or in the ſaid former Act contained, ſhall extend to charge any perſon or perſons lawfully exerciſing the ſaid Art, with any pain or forfeiture for ſetting or uſing his or their own natural ſon or ſons to the making or working of Hats or Felts, in his or their own houſe or houſes, ſo as every ſuch ſon or ſons be bound by Indenture of Apprenticehood for the term of ſeven years at the leaſt, which term ſhall not be to expire before he ſhall be of the full age of xxii. years, Any thing aboveſaid to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Felt-makers at the time of this ſtat. and their ſervants may ſo continue.

Provided alwayes, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every Felt-maker that now is, and by the ſpace of one year laſt paſt before the beginning of this preſent Parliament was a maker or worker of Felts, and being an Houſholder, and all ſuch as now are Apprentices, Covenant-ſervant or Journeyman, in the ſame Art or Myſtery of Felt-making (ſo as the ſame Apprentice ſerve the reſidue of ſeven years at the leaſt) ſhall or may, during ſuch perſons natural life, continue making of Hats and Felts, albeit the ſame perſon were not bound Apprentice to the ſame Art for the ſpace of ſeven years, Any thing in this Act or elſewhere to the contrary notwithſtanding.

CAP. XVIII.

The penalty for bringing into this Realm corrupted Hops, or for brewing with them.

Co. Inſt. 4. part, 263.

Several falſehoods practiſed by ſtrangers in packing of Hops.

FOrſomuch as of late great frauds and deceits are generally practiſed and uſed by Foreiners, Merchants, Strangers, and others in forein parts beyond the Seas, in the falſe packing of all forein Hops brought into this Realm of England from forein parts by way of Merchandiſe here to be uttered and ſold, with leaves, ſtalks, powder, ſand, ſtraw, and with loggets of wood, droſs, and other ſoil in very many ſacks of Hops, for increaſe of the weight thereof, ſelling the ſame together for ſo much money as the Hops are ſold for, to the enriching of themſelves by deceit: By means of which falſe packing of forein Hops, the Subjects of this Realm have been of late years abuſed and deceived unto the value of Twenty thouſand pounds yearly at the leaſt, beſides the danger of the Subjects healths, for that in many ſacks of forein Hops there is not found ſcarce one third part to be good and clean Hops, the reſt being droſs and ſoil.

The penalty for bringing into this Realm corrupt or mixed Hops.

For reformation whereof, Be it enacted by our Soveraign Lord the King, and by the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That if any Foreiner, Stranger, native Engliſhman, Denizen, Merchant, or any other perſon or perſons whatſoever, do at any time or times from or after the Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel next coming after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, bring or cauſe to be brought into this Realm of England, out from any other forein Realm or Dominions from beyond the Seas, any Hops being deceitfully or corruptly unclean, corrupt, or mixt with any powder, duſt, droſs, ſand, or any other ſoil whatſoever, that every perſon ſo offending therein contrary to this Act, ſhall forfeit the ſame Hops ſo brought into this Realm.

The forfeiture for brewing Ale or Beer to be ſold, with corrupt or mingled Hops.

And for the better avoiding of the danger of ſickneſs by uſing of the falſe packed, unclean and corrupt Hops, Be it therefore further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any Brewer of Beer or Ale, or any other perſon which ſhall buy the ſame Hops ſo brought from beyond the Seas, or growing within this Realm, and ſhall imploy and ſpend the ſame about the making or brewing of Beer or Ale to be ſold, being unclean, corrupt, or mixt with any powder, duſt, droſs, ſand, or any other ſoil whatſoever, Every perſon ſo offending therein contrary to the intent of this Act, ſhall in like ſort forfeit for the ſame offence, the value of thoſe Hops ſo bought, imployed, or ſpent in brewing, The one moyety of all which forfeitures ſhall be to our Soveraign Lord the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors, the other moyety thereof to him or them that will ſeize the ſame, or ſue for the ſame by Bill, Plaint, Information, or Action of Debt in any of the Kings Courts of Record: In which no Eſſoine, Protection, or wager of Law ſhall be allowed, &c.

This Act to continue to the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament. 3 Car. 4. Continued untill the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

CAP. XIX.

The penalty if Spices be not garbled and ſealed: Or be mixed with other things.

The continuance of this Act.

WHereas heretofore great deceits and abuſes have been committed in uttering, ſelling, and putting to ſale of ſundry ſorts of unclean, corrupt and mingled Spices, Drugs, Wares, and other Merchandiſes garbleable, to the jeopardy of his Majeſties perſon, and of his Subjects uſing the ſame in their meats, drinks, and other needful occaſions, and to the great deceit, loſs, and hinderance of ſuch of his Majeſties Subjects as ſhall buy the ſame: For remedy whereof, Be it Ordained and Enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That from and after the laſt day of September next enſuing the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, all Spices, Wares, Drugs, and other Merchandiſes garbleable, that is to ſay, Pepper, Cloves, Mace, Nutmegs, Cynamon, Ginger, Long-pepper, Wormſeeds, Cummin-ſeeds, Anni-ſeeds, Coliander-ſeeds, Bynny-pepper, Almonds, Dates, Galls, Gums of all ſorts and kinds garbleable, Spikenard, Galingal, Turmerick, Setwall, Caſſia Fiſtula, Ginny-Pepper, Seny, Barberies, Rice, Erius, Staviſaker, Calamus, Fenucrick, Caſſia lignum, Grains, Carraway-ſeeds, and all other Spices, Drugs, Wares, and other Merchandiſes that have been uſually garbled, or ought to be garbled, cleanſed, ſevered, ſorted or divided in the City of London and the Liberties thereof, ſhall for the Fees uſually allowed in that behalf, be ſufficiently cleanſed, ſevered, garbled aud divided, and afterwards ſealed by the Garbler thereunto appointed for the time being, or by his ſufficient Deputy or Deputies, Servant or Servants, before that the ſame or any part thereof ſhall be ſold, upon pain of forfeiture of all and every ſuch Spices, Drugs, Wares, and other Merchandiſes, or the value thereof which ſhall be ſold.

Spices ſhall be garbled and ſealed before they be ſold.

And

Spices mixed after the garbling thereof ſhall be forfeited.

And be it furthermore enacted by authority aforeſaid, That if any the ſaid Spices, Drugs, Wares, and other Merchandiſes ſhall be mixed with any Garbles, matter or thing whatſoever, after ſuch time as the ſame ſhall be firſt garbled, ſeparated and divided by the Garbler thereunto appointed, or by his ſufficient Deputy or Deputies, Servant or Servants, and ſealed as aforeſaid: That then the ſaid Spices, Drugs, Wares, and other Merchandiſes, or the value thereof ſhall be wholly forfeited.

Searching for ſpices to be garbled.

The forfeitures.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That for the better and more true executing of this Act, it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the ſaid Garbler of Spices, Drugs and Merchandiſes within the ſaid City of London, and Liberties thereof for the time being, and to and for his Deputy or Deputies, Aſſignee or Aſſignees, by vertue of this Act, at all and every time and times in the day-time to enter into any Shops, Ware-houſes, or Cellars within the ſaid City or Liberties thereof, wherein any ſuch Drugs, Spices, Wares or Merchandiſes bought or ſold, or mixed contrary to the true meaning hereof, which have been accuſtomed to be garbled, ſhall be, or ſhall be ſuſpected to be, and there to view, ſee and ſearch the ſame; And if he or they ſhall find any ſuch Spices, Drugs, Wares or Merchandiſes there ungarbled, which have been accuſtomed to be garbled, then, and ſo often it ſhall be lawful to and for the ſaid Garbler, and his Deputy or Deputies, Aſſignee or Aſſignees, to garble, or cauſe his or their Servants to garble and make clean the ſame: The one moyety of all forfeitures in this Act mentioned to be to our ſaid Soveraign Lord the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moyety to him or them that will ſue for the ſame by action of Debt, Bill, Plaint or Information, to be proſecuted in any Court or Courts of Record within the Realm of England; in which Suit, no Eſſoine, Protection, Wager of Law, Writ of Priviledge, or Injunction ſhall be allowed.

Spices brought in, and after tranſported ungarbled.

Provided alwayes, and be it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, that if any Merchant, or any perſon or perſons (other than Merchants alien, or made or to be made Denizen) ſhall bring any Spices, Drugs, or other Merchandiſes that be garbleable within this Realm, and ſhall not offer the ſame to ſale, or ſell the ſame within this Realm, But ſhall bona fide, and without fraud or covin, reſerve or retain the ſame unſold, to be tranſported again out of the Realm, and ſhall tranſport the ſame within eight moneths, to be accounted from his firſt landing or arrival, with ſuch Spices, Drugs, or other Merchandiſes garbleable, by the proviſion and intention of this act: That ſuch ſpices, drugs and merchandiſes ſo to be tranſported ungarbled, and not ſold within this Realm, no penalty mentioned in this Statute ſhall be forfeited or incurred by any perſon or perſons (other than Merchants alien or Denizen as aforeſaid), Any thing herein before contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

CAP. XX.

A Plaiſterer ſhall not uſe the Occupation of a Painter in London.

Queen Eliz. did incorporate the Maſter, Wardens, and Commonalty of Painters Stainers within London.

Who only may occupy that myſtery.

VVHereas the Art or Myſtery of Painters is an ancient Art and Myſtery, and hath time out of mind been an ancient Company and Fellowſhip within the City of London, And of late upon due conſiderations, the Freemen of the ſaid City of that Faculty, Art or Myſtery (by Letters Patents under the great Seal of England, dated at Weſtminſter the xix. day of July in the xxiii. year of the Reign of Queen Elizabeth) were incorporate by the name of Maſter, Wardens and Commonalty of the Freemen of the Art and Myſtery of Painters, commonly called Painters Stainers within the City of London, and the Suburbs and Liberties of the ſame City: And furthermore, by the ſaid Letters Patents it is prohibited, enjoyned and commanded, that no perſon or perſons, of whatſoever eſtate, degree or condition they were, ſhould uſe, exerciſe or occupy the ſaid Art or Myſtery of Painters, commonly called Painters Stainers, or any work or works, colour or colours, painting or paintings in the ſaid Art or Myſtery occupied, unleſſe ſuch perſon or perſons before that time had been brought up and inſtructed, or ſhould from that time forwards be brought up and inſtructed by and with ſome one perſon of the ſaid Art or Myſtery, as an Apprentice, by the ſpace of ſeven years at the leaſt.

Searching of painting work, and ſeizing the deceitful.

And whereas for the avoiding of deceit to be uſed in the ſaid Art or Myſtery of Painting, the ſaid late Queen by the foreſaid Letters Patents, did Grant unto the ſaid Maſter and Wardens, and to their Succeſſors, That they ſhould have full power and authority for ever to make or cauſe to be made due ſearch of all and ſingular the works, colours, paintings, and other things whatſoever to the ſaid Art or Myſtery of Painting in any wiſe appertaining, or touching or concerning the ſame, aswell upon the Freemen of the ſaid Myſtery, as upon any perſon or perſons whatſoever, ſelling, making, or working the ſame within the City of London, or the Liberties or Suburbs of the ſame, And the ſaid works, colours and paintings whatſoever ſo decitfully made, to ſeize and take away, and the Offendors therein to puniſh and correct, as by the ſame Letters Patents more at large it doth and may appear.

Plaiſterers do uſe the art of Painters Stainers.

And whereas the Plaiſterers within the City of London, of old time uſing nothing but lathing, dawbing, plaiſtering and liming, did, and yet do procure thereby for themſelves and their Families a convenient living and maintenance: Yet not ſatisfied with that reaſonable living that they do make of their ſaid proper faculties and trades, wherewith and wherein they have been brought up as Apprentices, Have now of late uſed and practiſed the Art and Myſtery of Painters Stainers, as well with Oyl-colours, as Size-colours, And that ſince the making of the ſaid Letters Patents more uſually then in former times they have uſed or did: Whereby not only many of the ſaid Art and Myſtery of Painters, who have well and honeſtly as Apprentices to the ſame ſerved for the ſpace of ſeven years and upwards, and by their labours and induſtries have attained to the full and perfect ſkill and knowledge thereof, are not only diſabled to get any competent living thereby, for the relief of themſelves, their poor Wives and Children, But alſo for that the ſaid Plaiſterers, not having been trained up in the ſaid Art or Myſtery of Painting, neither can or do make any ſuch good work, or ſuch ſure and perfect colours, as other having been trained up in the ſame Trade, and Apprentices thereunto, And yet utter the ſame for good and perfect colours, and being no Freemen of the ſaid Company of Painters Stainers, eſcape therefore unpuniſhed, to the great abuſe and deceit of his Majeſties moſt loving Subjects, and whereby the ſaid Art or Myſtery of Painting is likely in ſuch ſort in ſhort time to decay, as that there will not be ſufficient Workmen of skill in and about the ſaid City to ſerve in the ſaid Art his Majeſty, or any other his Majeſties Subjects.

For remedy whereof, Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That from and after the xxix. day of September, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God, 1606. next coming after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, No manner of perſon or perſons, being or pretending to be a Plaiſterer, or hereafter to become or to be a Plaiſterer, or being, or which ſhall be a ſervant, or ſet on work by any Plaiſterer, ſhall uſe, exerciſe, or ſet up the Art, Myſtery, or manual Occupation of a Painter, commonly called a Painter Stainer, or any part thereof, in the City of London, or the Liberties or Suburbs of the ſame, Or ſhall within the places aforeſaid make any manner of work or works, or lay any manner of colour or colours, painting or paintings whatſoever, in the ſaid Art or Myſtery of Painters Stainers aforeſaid, at any time heretofore occupied or uſed, unleſſe he or they be or ſhall be the ſervant or ſervants, Apprentice or Apprentices of a Painter, otherwiſe called a Painter Stainer, or have ſerved, or ſhall ſerve as an Apprentice, or as Apprentices, by the ſpace of ſeven years at the leaſt, to a Painter Stainer: Upon pain that every ſuch perſon and perſons as ſhall hereafter do or offend, contrary to the true intent and meaning of this preſent Act, ſhall forfeit for every time that he or they ſhall ſo do, or offend, the ſum of five pounds of lawful money of England, The one moyety of all which forfeitures ſhall be to the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moyety to him or them that will ſue for the ſame in any of the Kings Majeſties Courts of Record, by action of Debt, Bill, Plaint or Information: in which ſaid Suit, no Eſſoine, Protection, or Wager of Law ſhall be admitted or allowed for the ſaid Defendant, any Law, Uſage, or Cuſtome heretofore had or uſed to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

No Plaiſterer ſhall uſe the art of a Painter Stainer in London, &c.

The forfeiture of an offendor.

Provided nevertheleſs, That it ſhall and may be lawful to and for any of the Company of Plaiſterers, or their ſervants or apprentices, to lay and uſe whiting, blacking, red lead, red okar, yellow okar, and ruſſet mingled with ſize only, and not with oyl: This preſent Act, or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

What things a Plaiſterer may uſe in his work.

Provided alſo, That no Painter or Painters ſervant or apprentice, ſhall have or take above ſixteen pence by the day, for laying of any flat colour whatſoever, mingled or mixed with oyl or ſize, upon any Timber, Stone, Iron or Lead.

The day wages of a Painter.

CAP. XXI.

Sale of Goods purloyned in London, &c. ſhall not alter the property.

Foraſmuch as of long and ancient time by divers hundred years there have been uſed within the City of London and Liberties thereof, certain Freemen of the City, to be elected out of the Companies and Myſteries whereof they are free and members, and the ſame perſons to be preſented at leaſt by ſix approved and known honeſt perſons of the ſame Myſtery, to the Lord Mayor of London for the time being, and to the Aldermen his Brethren, and to be recommended by ſuch preſentors to be perſons for their known approved honeſty, integrity and faithfulneſſe, perſons meet for to be Broker or Brokers, and upon ſuch relation made to the Mayor and Aldermen, and partly by their own knowledge and diligent enquiries made of the ſaid perſons, and of their honeſt fame, report, fidelity and skill, have been thereupon admitted, allowed and approved, by the Lord Mayor of the City, and Aldermen in the Court of Aldermen, to be Brokers within the ſaid City and Liberties of the ſame, and have taken their corporal Oaths before the ſaid Mayor and Aldermen, from time to time, as they were ſo preſented and admitted, to uſe and demean themſelves uprightly and faithfully between Merchant Engliſh and Merchant Strangers, and Tradeſmen, in the contriving, making and concluding Bargains and Contracts, to be made between them concerning their Wares and Merchandizes, to be bought and ſold, and contracted for within the City of London, and moneys to be taken up by exchange between ſuch Merchant and Merchants, and Tradeſmen, and theſe kind of perſons ſo preſented, allowed and ſworn to be Brokers, as aforeſaid, have had and born the name of Brokers, and been known, called, and taken for Brokers, and dealing in Brokerage or Brokery: who never of ancient time uſed to buy and ſell Garments, Houſhold-ſtuffe, or to take pawn, and bills of ſale of Garments and Apparel, and all things that come to hand for money, laid out and lent upon uſury, or to keep open Shops, and to make open Shews, and an open Trade, as now of late years hath, and is uſed by a number of Citizens, aſſuming unto themſelves the name of Brokers and Brokerage, as though the ſame were an honeſt and a lawful Trade, Myſtery or Occupation, terming and naming themſelves Brokers, whereas in truth they are not, abuſing the true and honeſt Trade of Broker and Brokerage.

The manner to preſent and allow of Brokers in London.

The differences between the ancient and preſent Brokers.

And foraſmuch as many Citizens Freemen of the City, being men of Manual Occupations, and Handicraftſmen, and others inhabiting and remaining near the City, and Suburbs of the ſame, have left, and given over, and daily do leave and give over their Handy and Manual Occupations, and have, and do daily ſet up a Trade of buying and ſelling, and taking to pawn of all kind of worn Apparel, whether it be old, or little worſe for wearing, Houſholdſtuff and Goods, of what kind ſoever the ſame be of, finding thereby that the ſame is a more idle and eaſier kind of Trade of living, and that there ariſeth and groweth to them a more ready, more great, more profitable, and ſpeedier advantage and gain, than their former Manual Labours and Trade did or could bring them.

The abuſe of Brokerage in theſe later years.

Friperers and no Brokers.

And foraſmuch as the ſaid kind of counterfeit Brokers, and Pawn-takers upon Uſury, or otherwiſe for ready money, are grown of late to many hundreds, within the City of London, and other places next adjoyning to the City and Liberties of the ſame, and are like to encreaſe to far greater multitudes, being Friperers, and no Brokers, nor exerciſing of any honeſt and lawful Trade, and within the memory of many yet living, ſuch kind of perſons Tradeſmen, were very few, and of ſmall number.

By what means upſtart Brokers do come by their Goods.

The inconveniences enſuing by upſtart Brokers.

And foraſmuch as there are not any Garments, Apparel, Houſholdſtuffe, or other goods of any kind whatſoever the ſame be of, either being ſtollen, or robbed from any, or badly, or unlawfully purloyned, or come by, but theſe kind of upſtart Brokers, under colour and pretence they be Freemen of the ſaid City of London, or inhabiting in Weſtminſter, where they pretend to have the like overt Market as the City of London, and thereby preſuming to be lawful for them to uſe and ſet up the ſame idle and needleſſe Trades, being the very means to uphold, maintain and imbolden all kind of lewd and bad perſons, to rob and ſteal, and unlawfully to get, and come by true mens Goods, knowing and finding that no ſooner the ſame Goods can be ſtollen, or unlawfully come by, but that they ſhall, and may preſently utter, vent, ſell and pawn the ſame to ſuch kind of new upſtart Brokers for ready money: for remedy whereof, and for the avoiding of the ſaid miſchiefs and inconveniences, and for repreſſing and aboliſhing of the ſaid idle and needleſſe Trades, and upſtart Brokers, and the avoiding of Thefts, Robberies and Felonies, and bad people, acted for the repreſſing of ſuch kind of Nouriſhers and Aiders of Thieves and bad people, and for the defence of honeſt and true mens Properties and Intereſts in their Goods.

The ſale of goods wrongfully gotten, ſhall not alter the property of them.

Be it enacted and declared by our Soveraign Lord the King, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That no Sale, Exchange, Pawn or Mortgage of any Jewel, Plate, Apparel, Houſholdſhuff, or other Goods, of what kind, nature or quality ſoever the ſame ſhall be of, and that ſhall be wrongfully or unjuſtly purloyned, taken, robbed or ſtollen from any perſon or perſons, or Bodies politick, and which at any time hereafter ſhall be ſold, uttered, delivered, exchanged, pawned, or done away within the City of London, or Liberties thereof, Or within the City of Weſtminſter in the County of Middleſex, Or within Southwark in the County of Surrey, Or within two miles of the ſaid City of London, to any Broker or Brokers, or Pawn-takers, by any way or means whatſoever, directly or indirectly, ſhall work or make any change or alteration of the property or intereſt, of, and from any perſon and perſons, or body politick, from whom the ſame Jewels, Plate, Apparel, Houſholdſtuff, or Goods were, or ſhall be wrongfully purloyned, taken, robbed or ſtollen; Any Law, Uſage, or Cuſtom to the contrary notwithſtanding.

And for the better maintaining of true and honeſt dealing, and for the eſchewing and avoiding of falſhood, fraud and deceit, in ſuch kind of Brokers and Pawn-takers:

A Broker upon requeſt ſhall declare what goods be come to his hands.

Be it furthermore enacted and eſtabliſhed by the like authority, That if any perſon or perſons, or bodies politick, from whom any Jewels, Plate, Apparel, Houſholdſtuff, or any kind of goods whatſoever, ſhall be wrongfully purloyned, taken, ſtollen or robbed, ſhall require and demand of any ſuch Broker or Pawn-taker to declare whether any ſuch goods be come to his or their poſſeſſions, and to declare, ſhew and manifeſt the ſame, and how and by what means he had them, or came by the ſame, and how, when, and to whom he hath delivered, conveyed, or beſtowed and imployed the ſame: And that ſuch Broker, upon any ſuch requeſt and demand to be made, ſhall deny and refuſe to diſcloſe, tell, or manifeſt the ſame truly and juſtly, ſhall forfeit unto the true Owner or Owners of ſuch Jewels, Plate, Apparel, Houſholdſtuff, and other goods, from whom the ſame were wrongfully purloyned, taken, ſtollen or robbed, double the value thereof that ſhall be denied and refuſed to be diſcloſed, told and manifeſted as aforeſaid; The ſame double value to be recovered by the true Owner or Owners of ſuch goods, from whom the ſame were wrongfully purloyned, taken, robbed or ſtollen, to be recovered by action of Debt, Bill or Plaint, in any of the Kings Majeſties Courts of Record at Weſtminſter, or within the City of London, in which no Eſſoine, Wager of Law, or Protection ſhall be allowed.

The ancient Trade of Brokers.

Provided alwayes, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall not be prejudicial or hurtful to the ancient Trade of Brokers within the City of London, uſing and exerciſing the ancient Trade of Brokers between Merchant and Merchant, or other Traders or Occupiers within the ſaid City and the Liberties of the ſame, being ſetled as aforeſaid.

CAP. XXII.

The duty of Tanners, Curriers, Shoomakers, and of others cutting of Leather.

The cauſes that former ſtatutes made againſt the abuſes of Tanners, Curriers, &c. have not been performed.

WHereas the Laws and Statutes formerly eſtabliſhed and made, for the true and juſt tanning, currying, and working of Leather, have not taken that good effect which was expected, as well for that divers of the ſaid Statutes did not ſufficiently provide for the redreſſe of thoſe deceits and abuſes which have been, and are commonly practiſed by the Tanners, Curriers, and workers of Leather, as for that other of the ſame Statutes have been too ſharp and rigorous, tying and binding the perſons occupying the ſeveral Myſteries or Trades aforeſaid, to divers inconveniences, and ſundry matters and things impoſſible for them to perform; by reaſon of which too much ſtrictneſſe and rigor, the ſame Statutes have not been put in execution, but have been in effect wholly diſpenced withall: To the intent therefore that a reaſonable and indifferent courſe for the true and well tanning, currying, and working of Leather, may be henceforth eſtabliſhed and appointed, and yet the perſons uſing and occupying the ſeveral Crafts and Myſteries aforeſaid, may not be further or more ſtrictly bound, reſtrained or limited, than the neceſſary regard of the Common-wealth, and general commodity of all ſorts of Subjects within this Realm requireth:

Be it enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal,

The penalty for gaſhing or watering of a hide, or ſelling a rotten hide.

and Commons of this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That from and after the feaſt of S. Bartholomew, the Apoſtle next coming, no Butcher by himſelf, or by any other perſon, ſhall gaſh, ſlaughter or cut any hide of any Oxe, Bull, Steer or Cow, in flaying thereof, or otherwiſe, whereby the ſame ſhall be impaired or hurt, upon pain of forfeiture for every hide ſo gaſhed, ſlaughtered and cut, xx. d. And that no Butcher ſhall water any hide, except only in the moneths of June, July and Auguſt, nor ſhall offer or put to ſale any hide being putrified or rotten, upon pain of forfeiture for every hide ſo watered, and for every hide ſo putrified and rotten, and offered or put to ſale, iii. s. and iiii. d.

Killing of Calves under five weeks old.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no Butcher, or other perſon or perſons, after the feaſt of S. Bartholomew next coming, ſhall kill any Calf to ſell, being under five weeks old, upon pain to forfeit for every Calf ſo to be killed and ſold, vi. s. and viii. d.

No Butcher ſhall be a Tanner.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons occupying the craft or myſtery of a Butcher, ſhall after the feaſt of S. Bartholomew the Apoſtle next coming, occupy or uſe by himſelf, or any other perſon or perſons, the feat, craft or myſtery of a Tanner, during the time that he ſhall uſe the craft or occupation of a Butcher, upon pain of forfeiture of vi. s. viii. d. for every day that he ſhall ſo uſe the feat, craft or myſtery of a Tanner.

Who may be a Tanner.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons ſhall from and after the Feaſt of S. Bartholomew next coming, tan any leather, or ſhall uſe, take, or have any profit, gain or commodity, of, or by the ſaid craft or myſtery of tanning of leather, except ſuch perſon or perſons as had a Tan-houſe at the beginning of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, and did then occupy the myſtery of tanning of leather, And except ſuch as have been, or hereafter ſhall be brought up, inſtructed, or taught as Apprentices, or covenant or hired Servants for that purpoſe, by the ſpace of ſeven years, in the myſtery of tanning of Leather, And except the wife, and ſuch ſon or ſons of a Tanner, as hath been brought up, and hath uſed the myſtery of tanning of Leather by the ſpace of four years, or the ſon or daughter of a Tanner, or ſuch perſon who ſhall marry ſuch wife or daughter, to whom he hath, or ſhall leave a Tan-houſe and Fats, upon pain of forfeiture of all ſuch Leather by him or them ſo tanned, or whereof he or they ſhall receive any profit or commodity by tanning, or the juſt value thereof.

Cro. Car. 537.

No Tanner ſhall be a Cutter of leather.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons uſing the myſtery of tanning of leather by himſelf, or by any other perſon or perſons, from and after the ſaid Feaſt of S. Bartholomew, ſhall, during the time that he ſhall uſe the ſaid myſtery, occupy or uſe the craft or myſtery of a Shoomaker, Currier, Butcher, or of any other Artificer, uſing or exerciſing, cutting or working of Leather, upon pain to forfeit and loſe all and every ſuch hide and hides, skin and skins, ſo by them or any of them wrought or tanned, during the time that he ſhall uſe the myſtery or craft of tanning aforeſaid, or the juſt value thereof.

Who may buy rough hides, and Calves ſkins.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons after the feaſt of S. Bartholomew next coming, ſhall bargain, buy, make any contract for, or beſpeak any rough hide, or Calve-skin in the hair, but only ſuch perſon or perſons as by vertue of this Act may lawfully uſe the craft or myſtery of tanning of Leather, and ſhall tan the ſame, or ſuch perſon or perſons which ſhall tan the ſame, (Except ſalt hides for the neceſſary uſe of Ships) upon pain to forfeit and loſe all and every ſuch hides and skins ſo bought, or the juſt value thereof. And that no Tanner, or other perſon or perſons, ſhall foreſtall any hides coming towards any Fair or Market, nor ſhall buy any hide any other where than in open Fair or Market, unleſſe it be of ſuch perſon or perſons as ſhall kill the ſame Beaſt, whereof the ſaid hide ſhall be for the proviſion of his or their own houſe or houſes, Upon pain of forfeiture for every hide ſo foreſtalled or bought, contrary to the true meaning of this preſent Act, vi. s. viii. d.

Foreſtalling of hides.

Who may buy tanned leather not wrought.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons ſhall or may after the feaſt of the Nativity of our Lord next coming, buy, ſell, bargain, beſpeak, or take promiſe to have, exchange, or put away any tanned leather, not wrought, and converted into made wares, but only ſuch perſon and perſons as will and ſhall work, and convert the ſame Leather into made wares, Upon pain of forfeiture of the Leather ſo bought, ſold, exchanged, or put away, or the value thereof.

Buying leather at Leaden-hall in London.

Provided alwayes, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every Artificer, and other perſon or perſons uſing to convert tanned Leather into made wares, as well Strangers born, as others, may lawfully buy all kind of tanned Leather, to make or convert the ſame into made wares, at Leaden-hall in London upon every Munday, the ſame being firſt duly ſearched, ſealed and regiſtred, as is hereafter limited.

Sadlers and Girdlers may ſell their necks, &c.

Provided alſo, That the Sadlers and Girdlers may ſell their necks, ſhreds of tanned leather red, without incurring any pain of forfeiture for the ſame.

How hides ſhall be uſed in tanning.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That after the Feaſt of Saint Bartholomew next coming, No perſon or perſons whatſoever, which ſhall after the ſaid Feaſt occupy or uſe by him or themſelves, or by any other perſon or perſons, the craft or myſtery of tanning of Leather, ſhall ſuffer any hide or skin to lie in the limes till the ſame be over-limed, Nor ſhall put any hides or skins into any Tan-fats, before the lime be well and perfectly ſokened and wrought out of them, and every of them; Nor ſhall uſe, imploy, occupy, or put by themſelves, or by any other perſon or perſons, any thing or ſtuff in or about the workmanſhip or tanning of leather, but only Aſh-bark, Oak-bark, Tapwort, Malt, Meal, Lime, Culver-dung or Hen-dung: Nor ſhall willingly ſuffer his or their Leather to be laid, or to hang, or to lie wet in any Froſt, untill the ſame be frozen: Nor ſhall dry, or parch the ſaid Leather with the heat of the fire, or of the Summer Sun: Nor ſhall tan, or cauſe to be tanned any hide or skin, being putrified or rotten by long lying, either before the putting of it into the Limes, or after in the water or liquor, or by any other means: Nor ſuffer the hides for utter ſole Leather to lie in the Woozes any leſſe time than twelve moneths at the leaſt, Nor the Hides for upper leathers in the like Woozes any leſſe time than nine moneths at the leaſt: Nor ſhall negligently work the Hides in the Woozes, but ſhall renew and make ſtrong their Woozes, as often as ſhall be requiſite: Nor ſhall after the ſaid Feaſt of Saint Bartholomew, put to ſale any tanned Hide or Skin, which ſhall be after the ſaid Feaſt wrought and tanned in any other ſort than by this Statute is limited and appointed, Upon pain of forfeiture of every Ox-Hide, Bull-Hide, Steer-Hide, Cow-Hide, or ſkin tanned or wrought, and offered to be put to ſale, contrary to the true meaning of this preſent Act, or the juſt value thereof.

And foraſmuch as much damage hath redounded to the Common wealth, by reaſon that divers Tanners for their private lucre have uſed to convert to Sole-leather ſuch Hides as are altogether inſufficient for that uſe; which Hides they do raiſe in the workmanſhip by divers mixtures, thereby making the ſame to ſeem very ſtrong and ſubſtantial Leather, whereas the ſame doth in the wearing prove hollow, deceitful, and altogether unprofitable for the Common-wealth:

Raiſing of hides with mixtures.

Be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons, uſing, or which hereafter ſhall uſe the craft or myſtery of tanning of Leather, ſhall after the Feaſt of S. Bartholomew next coming, raiſe with any mixtures any Hide, to be imployed and converted to backs, bend leather, clouting leather, or any other ſole-leather, Except the ſame Hides be for largeneſſe, ſtate and growth, fit and ſufficient for that uſe and purpoſe, the ſame to be tried by the Triers hereafter in this preſent Act to be appointed, Upon pain of forfeiture of all ſuch Hides which ſhall be raiſed and converted to ſole-leather, contrary to the true meaning of this preſent proviſion.

Sale of tanned leather red and unwrought.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That from the Feaſt of S. Bartholomew next coming, no perſon or perſons whatſoever, ſhall put, or cauſe to be put to ſale, exchange, or otherwiſe depart with any kind of tanned Leather red, and unwrought, but in open Fair or Market in the places therefore commonly accuſtomed, and therefore prepared, unleſſe the ſame Leather have been before lawfully ſearched and ſealed in ſome open Fair or Market, or other place lawfully appointed, to and for the ſearching and ſealing of Leather; Nor ſhall after the ſaid Feaſt, offer to put to ſale any tanned Leather red and unwrought, before the ſame be ſearched and ſealed according to the Laws and Order of this Statute hereafter mentioned, upon pain of forfeiture for every Hide or piece of Leather ſo ſold, exchanged, or otherwiſe departed with, contrary to the true meaning of this Act, ſix ſhillings eight pence, and for every dozen of Calves-skins or Sheep-skins, three ſhillings four pence, and the hide or hides, skin or skins, and Leather in any other wiſe ſold, exchanged or bought, or the value thereof.

Leather not ſufficiently tanned or dryed.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons uſing, or which ſhall uſe the myſtery or faculty of tanning, ſhall at any time or times hereafter, offer or put to ſale any kind of Leather which ſhall be inſufficiently, or not throughly tanned, or which ſhall not then have been after the tanning thereof well and throughly dryed, ſo that the ſame by the Triers of Leather lawfully appointed according to this preſent Act, for the time being, ſhall be found to be inſufficiently, or not throughly tanned, or not throughly dryed, as aforeſaid, That then all and every ſuch perſon and perſons ſo offending, ſhall forfeit and loſe ſo much of his or their ſaid Leather as ſhall be found inſufficiently, and not throughly tanned, or not throughly dryed, as aforeſaid: That is to ſay, the whole hide, back or skin, or other piece of Leather, if the whole be inſufficiently or not throughly tanned, or not throughly dryed: And if the whole hide, back, skin, or other piece of Leather be not ſufficiently, or not throughly tanned, or not throughly dryed, then only ſo much of the hide, back, skin, or other piece of Leather as ſhall be inſufficiently or not throughly tanned, or not throughly dryed, the ſame to be cut out by the overſight, diſcretion and direction of the Triers hereafter in this Act to be appointed, upon the Oaths of the ſaid Triers.

Crafty means to overhaſten the tanning of leather.

And whereas divers Tanners for greedineſſe of gain, do over-much haſten the tanning of their Leather, and for that purpoſe do uſe divers crafty and ſubtile practices, ſometime laying their Leather in their Fats, ſet in their old Tanhills, where it may be tanned in the hot Woozes, taking unkind heat in the ſame hill, and ſometimes by putting of hot Woozes into their Tanfats where the ſame hides of Leather lie, by which and other like fraudulent practices they make their Leather to ſeem both fair and well, and ſufficiently tanned within a very ſhort ſpace:

Leather ſhall not take unkind heats.

For reformation whereof, Be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That after the ſaid Feaſt of S. Bartholomew next coming, no perſon or perſons ſhall ſet their Fats in Tanhills, or other places, where the Woozes or Leather that ſhall be put to tan in the ſame, ſhall, or may take any unkind heats, or ſhall put any Leather into any hot or warm Woozes, or ſhall tan any Hide, Calve-skin or Sheep-skin, with any hot or Warm Woozes whatſoever, upon pain that every perſon ſo offending ſhall forfeit for every ſuch offence ten pounds, and ſhall alſo for every ſuch offence ſtand upon the Pillory three ſeveral Market-days in the Market-Town next to the place where the ſaid offence ſhall be committed.

And foraſmuch as Bark is of late become very dear and ſcarce, which happeneth partly by reaſon that divers perſons do ingroſſe and buy great quantities thereof, and then do ſell the ſame again at exceſſive and unreaſonable prices, and partly by the unreaſonable felling of Oak out of the Barking time:

There ſhall be no regrating or ingroſſing of Oaken bark.

Be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons ſhall regrate, ingroſſe, or get into their hands by buying, contracting or promiſe-taking, any Oaken Bark, before it be ſtripped, or after, to the intent to ſell the ſame again, upon pain of forfeiture of all ſuch Barks ſo by him or them regrated, ingroſſed or bought, contrary to the true meaning of this preſent branch, or the full value thereof.

At what time Oaken trees to be barked ſhall be felled.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons ſhall from and after the ſaid Feaſt of S. Bartholomew next coming, fell, or cauſe to be felled any Oaken Trees meet to be barked, where Bark is worth two ſhillings a Cart load, over and above the charges of barking and pilling, (Timber to be imployed to or for the neceſſary and needful building or reparations of Houſes, Ships or Mills, only excepted) but between the firſt day of April, and the laſt day of June, upon pain of forfeiture of every ſuch Oaken Tree ſo felled, or double the value thereof.

When Purveyors ſhall fell Timber.

No taking of Lops.

And for the better preſervation of Timber, which by the takers of timber is ſpoiled through the greedy deſire of gain of the lops, tops, or barks of Timber-trees: Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no taker or takers, purveyor or purveyors of Timber, or his or their deputy or deputies, ſhall fell, or cauſe to be felled for the uſe of the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs or Succeſſors, any Oaken timber tree or trees meet to be barked, but in barking time, (trees to be felled for the needful and neceſſary building or repairing of any his Majeſties houſes or ſhips only excepted) Or ſhall in any wiſe take or receive any manner of profit, gain or commodity by any lops, tops, or bark of any trees, to be taken by them, or any of them, Or ſhall in any wiſe take, carry away, give, ſell, or diſpoſe from the Owner any more of any tree to be taken as is aboveſaid, than only the timber of the ſame tree or trees to be uſed and beſtowed, or imployed only in, upon or about the Kings Majeſties buildings or ſhips, upon pain of forfeiture to the party grieved for every tree, and for the lops, tops, and bark of every tree taken contrary to the meaning of this article, forty ſhilliugs: And that it ſhall be lawful to the party of whom ſuch tree or trees ſhall be taken, or to any other for and in his name, to take, retain, withhold and keep to himſelf all the bark, lop, or top of ſuch tree or trees, Any Commiſſion or other matter whatſoever notwithſtanding.

Currying of leather.

The Curriers forfeiture for miſuſing of leather.

And foraſmuch as no leather can be ſo well tanned, but it may be marred in the currying, Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That from and after the Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel next coming, no perſon or perſons ſhall curry any kind of leather in the houſe of any Shoomaker, or other perſon, but only in his own houſe, ſituate in a Corporate or Market Town, nor ſhall curry any kind of leather, except it be well and perfectly tanned, nor ſhall after the ſaid Feaſt of S. Bartholomew, curry any hide or skin, being not throughly dry, after his wet ſeaſon, In which wet ſeaſon he ſhall not uſe any ſtale, urine, or any other deceitful or ſubtile mixture, thing, way, or means to corrupt or hurt the ſame; Nor ſhall curry any leather meet for utter ſole leather, with any other ſtuff than with hard Tallow, nor of any leſſe of that than the leather will receive; Nor ſhall curry any kind of leather meet for over-leather, and inner ſoles, but with good and ſufficient ſtuff, being freſh and not ſalt, and throughly liquored till it can receive no more; Nor ſhall burn or ſcald any hide or leather in the currying; Nor ſhall ſhave any leather too thin; Nor ſhall gaſh or hurt any leather in the ſhaving, or by any other means, but ſhall work the ſame ſufficiently in all points and reſpects, upon pain of forfeiture for every ſuch offence or acts done contrary to the true meaning of this article (other than in gaſhing or hurting in ſhaving) ſix ſhillings eight pence, and the value of every ſuch skin or hide marred by his evil workmanſhip, and for every offence to be done againſt this article in gaſhing or hurting by ſhaving, double ſo much to the party grieved, as the leather ſhall be impaired thereby, by the judgment of the Wardens of the Curriers, and the Warden of the Company whereof the party grieved ſhall be.

Who ſhall curry leather in or near to London.

And be it further enacted, That no Cordwainer, Shoomaker, or other perſon or perſons dwelling or inhabiting within the City of London or the Liberties of the ſame, or dwelling within three miles of the ſaid City, and occupying wet curried leather in his Art or Occupation, ſhall put, or cauſe to be put any leather to be curried, but to ſuch perſon or perſons as be, or ſhall be free of the Company of the Curriers of the City of London, upon pain of forfeiture of all ſuch curried leather, or the value thereof.

Curried leather ſhall be ſearched and ſealed.

And be it further enacted, That no perſon or perſons ſhall by any means occupy, or put in any made wares within the City of London, or three miles of the ſame City, any curried leather, before the ſame ſhall be ſearched and allowed by the Wardens of the Curriers of London for the time being, or ſuch perſons as they ſhall thereto aſſign, and be ſealed with a Seal therefore to be prepared, Upon pain that every Shoomaker, and other Artificer, Cutter of leather, offending againſt this Article, ſhall forfeit for every Hide or Skin otherwiſe curried or imployed as is aforeſaid, ſix ſhilling eight pence, and the value of every ſuch Hide or Skin.

A Currier ſhall not be Tanner, Shoomaker, Butcher, &c.

And be it further enacted, That no perſon occupying the Feat or Myſtery of a Currier, ſhall uſe or exerciſe the Feat or Myſtery of a Tanner, Cordwainer, Shoomaker, Butcher, or other Artificer, uſing cutting of leather, during the time that he ſhall ſo uſe or occupy the myſtery of a Currier, upon pain of forfeiture of ſix ſhillings and eight pence for every Hide or Skin that he ſhall curry, during the time that he ſhall occupy or uſe any of the myſteries aforeſaid, contrary to the meaning of this article.

Within what time leather ſhall be curried.

And further be it enacted, That no Currier or Curriers ſhall after the ſaid Feaſt of S. Bartholomew, refuſe to curry any leather to him or them for that purpoſe brought, by any ſuch Artificer as is or ſhall be a Cutter of leather, the ſame Artificer or his ſervant bringing with him or them good and ſufficient ſtuff, as is before mentioned, for the perfect liquoring of the ſame leather, and that the ſaid leather in the preſence of the ſaid Artificers, Cutters of leather, his ſervant or ſervants (if he or they will be preſent) ſhall be liquored and curried in all things and degrees perfectly; And if he or they will not be preſent, it ſhall nevertheleſſe be likewiſe liquored and curried in his or their abſence perfectly, with as convenient ſpeed as may be, not exceeding eight days in Summer, and ſixteen days in Winter, after he ſhall or may take it in hand, upon pain to forfeit to the party grieved, for every hide or piece of leather not in this manner curried, and well and ſpeedily dreſſed, x. s.

Curried leather ſhall be ſearched and ſealed.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Wardens of the Curriers for the time being, or ſuch perſons as they ſhall aſſign and appoint, ſhall from time to time ſearch and try all ſuch curried Leather, as ſhall be brought to any of their Company to be curried, and ſhall with a Seal therefore to be prepared, with convenient ſpeed, not exceeding one day after the currying and requeſt made, ſeal ſuch Leather as they ſhall find ſufficiently curried, taking for every Hide ſo ſealed, after the rate of a penny for the Dicker, and for every ſix dozen of Calves-skins, one penny, and not above, to be paid by the Currier, upon pain of forfeiture for every Hide which ſhall not be ſearched and ſealed as is aforeſaid, vi. s. viii. d.

The Cordwainers duty in making of boots, ſhooes, buskins, ſlippers, &c.

And foraſmuch as Leather well tanned and curried, may by the negligence, deceit, or evil workmanſhip of the Cordwainer or Shoomaker, be uſed deceitfully, to the hurt of the Occupier or Wearer thereof, Be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons, which after the ſaid Feaſt of S. Bartholomew next coming, ſhall occupy the myſtery or occupation of a Cordwainer or Shoomaker, ſhall make or cauſe to be made any boots, ſhoes, buskins, ſtartops, ſlippers, or pantofles, or any part of them of Engliſh leather, wet curried, (other than Deer-skins, Calve-skins or Goat-skins, made and dreſſed, or to be made or dreſſed like unto Spaniſh Leather) but of leather well and truly tanned and curried, in manner and form aforeſaid, or of leather well and truly tanned only, and well and ſubſtantially ſewed with good thread, well twiſted and made, and ſufficiently waxed, with wax well roſened, and the ſtitches hard drawn with hand-leathers, as hath been accuſtomed; without mixing or mingling over-leathers, that is to ſay, part of the over-leather being of Neats-leather, part of Calves-leather, Nor ſhall put into any Shooes, Boots, Buskins, Startops, Slippers or Pantofles, any leather made of a Sheep-skin, Bull-hide or Horſe-hide, Nor in the upper leather of any Shooes, Startops, Slippers or Pantofles, or into the neather part of any Boots (the inner part of the ſhooe only excepted) any part of any Hide from which the ſole leather is cut, called the wombs, neck, ſhank, flank, powle or cheek, nor ſhall put in the utter ſole any other leather than the beſt of the Oxe or ſteer-hide, nor into the inner ſole any other leather than the wombs, neck, powle or cheek, nor in the treſwels of the double ſoled ſhooes, other than the flanks of the Hides aforeſaid; Nor ſhall make, or put to ſale in any year, between the laſt of September, and the twentieth of April, any ſhoes, boots, buskins, ſtartops, ſlippers or pantofles, meet for any perſon to wear exceeding the age of four years, wherein ſhall be any dry Engliſh leather, other than Calve-skins, or Goats-skins, made or dreſſed, or to be made or dreſſed like unto Spaniſh leather, or any part thereof) Nor ſhall ſhew, to the intent to put to ſale any ſhoes, boots, buskins, ſtartops, ſlippers or pantofles, upon the Sunday, upon pain of forfeiturs for every pair of ſhoes, boots, buskins, ſtartops, ſlippers and pantofles, made, ſold, ſhewed, or put to ſale, contrary to the true meaning of this Act, three ſhillings and four pence, and the juſt and full value of the ſame.

No ſale, or ſhewing of boots, ſhoes, &c. upon the Sunday.

Wares made of tanned leather in or near London, ſhall be ſearched.

Wares of leather that be inſufficient, may be ſeized and carried away.

And be it further enacted for the true execution of this Statute, That the Maſter and Wardens of the ſeveral myſteries of Cordwainers, Curriers, Girdlers and Sadlers of the City of London for the time being, by what name or names ſoever they be incorporated or intituled, or the more part of the ſaid Maſter and Wardens of every of the ſaid ſeveral myſteries, upon pain to forfeit forty pounds for every year that they make default, the one half thereof to be to the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other half to him or them that will ſue for the ſame, ſhall by vertue of this Act four times in the year at the leaſt, that is to ſay, once every quarter of the year, or oftner if need require, as they ſhall think good, make true ſearch and view of and for all boots, ſhoes, buskins, and other wares and things whatſoever made of tanned Leather, in all and every houſe and houſes, place and places, priviledged or not priviledged, as well within the City of London and Suburbs thereof, as in every other place within three miles of the ſame City, where any Shoomaker, Sadler, Girdler, Currier, or other Artificer uſing, cutting, working, or dreſſing of Leather, doth or ſhall dwell, or occupy any of the occupations of cutting, working, or dreſſing of Leather, whether the ſame boots, ſhoes, wares, ſtuff, and other things be made of tanned Leather, and be wrought according to the purport, effect, and true meaning of this Statute, or not: And that it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the ſaid ſeveral Maſters and Wardens of the ſaid ſeveral myſteries which ſhall be for the time being, to take, ſeize, and carry away to their ſeveral Common Halls, all ſuch boots, ſhoes, wares, ſtuff, or other things which the ſaid ſeveral Maſters and Wardens ſhall find in their ſeveral ſearches inſufficiently made, curried or wrought.

Who may ſearch and be ſearched.

Provided alwayes, That none of the ſaid ſeveral Maſters and Wardens of the ſaid ſeveral Companies of Cordwainers, Curriers, Girdlers or Sadlers, ſhall ſearch any perſon or perſons, but ſuch as uſe and exerciſe the myſtery or occupation of the ſaid Maſter and Wardens, and that the Coachmakers dwelling within the ſaid City of London, or three miles from the ſame, ſhall be under the ſurvey and ſearch of the Maſter and Wardens of the Company of the Sadlers of London.

Sellers of leather ſhall be appointed by the Mayor, &c. of London, and their authority.

And be it further enacted, That the ſaid Mayor of the City of London, and the Aldermen for the time being, upon like pain of forty pounds likewiſe to be levied and imployed, ſhall likewiſe yearly appoint eight of the moſt ſubſtantial, honeſt, and expert perſons, being freemen of ſome of the Companies of Cordwainers, Curriers, Sadlers or Girdlers within the City of London, whereof one ſhall be a Sealer, and keep a Seal for the ſealing of Leather, to be prepared, who ſhall alſo be ſworn before the ſaid Mayor and Aldermen for the time being, to do their Office truly: Which ſaid Searchers and Sealers ſhall view and ſearch all and every tanned Hide, skin or leather, which ſhall be brought as well to the Market of Leaden-hall, as to any other lawful Fair or Market therefore uſually appointed within three miles of the ſaid City, whether the ſame be ſufficiently and throughly tanned, and throughly dryed, according to the purport and true meaning of this Statute, or no: And finding it ſufficiently and throughly tanned, and throughly dried, in ſuch manner and form as by this Statute is appointed, ſhall ſeal the ſame with the ſaid Seal.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all Mayors, Bailiffs, and other head-Officers for the time being, in all other Cities, Boroughs, and Market-Towns of this Realm, and all Lords of Liberties, Fairs and Markets out of the circuit or compaſſe of the ſaid three miles, ſhall upon like pain of forty pounds likewiſe to be levied and imployed, every year that they make default therein, appoint and ſwear yearly two, three, or more perſons, of the moſt honeſt and skilful men within their ſeveral Offices or Liberties, by their diſcretion to ſearch and view within the precinct of their ſeveral Offices, Liberties and Authorities, which ſhall, as often as they ſhall think good or need ſhall be, make like ſearch within their limits, and ſhall have a mark or ſeal prepared for that purpoſe: And that the ſaid Searchers, or one of them, ſhall keep the ſame ſeal or mark, and with the ſame ſhall ſeal and mark ſuch Leather as they ſhall find ſufficient, and no other. And if the ſaid Searchers, or any of them do find any Leather ſold, or offered to be ſold, or brought to be ſearched and ſealed, which ſhall be tanned, wrought, converted, or uſed contrary to the true intent and meaning of this Statute, or any Leather inſufficiently curried, or any Boots, Shoes, Bridles, or any other thing made of tanned or curried Leather, inſufficiently tanned, curried or wrought, contrary to any proviſion in this preſent Act, it ſhall be lawful to the ſaid Searchers, or any of them, to ſeize all ſuch Leather, Shoes, or other wares made of Leather, and to retain the ſame in their cuſtody, untill ſuch time as the ſame be tryed by ſuch Tryers, and in ſuch manner and form as is hereafter in this Statute appointed.

Searching and ſealing of leather in all other parts of the Realm.

And to the end there may be an indifferent and equal courſe eſtabliſhed for the trying of all ſuch Leather, Shoes, and other wares made of Leather, as ſhall be ſeized by vertue of this Act, Be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Mayor of the City of London for the time being, within ſix dayes after notice to him given of any ſeiſure made of any Leather, red or unwrought, within the juriſdiction of the ſaid City, or three miles diſtant from the ſame, either by the Owner or Owners, or by the Seizers of the ſaid Leather, ſhall elect and appoint ſix honeſt and expert men, whereof there ſhall be of the better ſort of the Company of Cordwainers of London two, of the better ſort of the Curriers of London two, & other two of the better ſort of Tanners uſing Leaden-hall Market, who ſhall be no Kin or of Affinity to the ſaid Owner or Owners, who upon their corporal Oaths to be taken before the ſaid Mayor, ſhall on the ſecond or third Market-day at the fartheſt, to be holden upon the Munday for Leather next after the ſaid ſeizure, in the afternoon of the ſame day (to the intent the Owner or Owners may conveniently be preſent) enquire, ſtraightly examine and try whether the ſaid Leather ſo ſeized ſhall be ſufficient and ſerviceable or not, according to the intent and true meaning of this preſent Act.

Six Tryers of leather ſhall be appointed in London.

And be it further enacted, That every other Mayor, Bailiff, or other head-Officer or Lord of Liberty, or his ſufficient Deputy out of the ſaid compaſſe of the ſaid three miles, within whoſe precincts or liberties any ſuch ſeizure of any kind of tanned leather, red or curried, or of ſhoes, boots, or other wares made of tanned leather, ſhall happen to be, ſhall with all convenient ſpeed after notice unto him given of any ſuch ſeizure, appoint ſix honeſt and expert men to try whether the ſame leather, boots, ſhoes, or other wares ſo ſeized, be ſufficient and according to the true intent of this Statute, or not, the ſame trial to be made openly upon ſome Market-day, and within fifteen dayes at the furtheſt next after ſuch ſeizure made, upon the Oaths of the ſaid Triers.

Tryers of tanned leather in other places.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if the ſaid Mayor of the City of London for the time being, or any other Mayor, Bailiff, or other head-Officer of any other City, Borough, Corporate or Market-Town, or any Lord of any Liberty, Fair or Market, ſhall make default in the nomination or appointment of any the aforeſaid Triers to be nominated and appointed in ſuch manner and form as is before ordained, That then every ſuch Mayor, Bailiff, or other head-Officer, or Lord of Liberty, Fair or Market, making ſuch default, ſhall forfeit and loſe for every ſuch default five pounds, the one moyety thereof ſhall be to the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other half to him or them that will ſue for the ſame in any of the Kings Majeſties Courts of Record, by Bill, Plaint, Information, or otherwiſe. And that the ſaid perſons ſo elected and appointed for the trial of the ſaid leather, ſhoes, boots, or other wares made of tanned leather, ſo to be ſeized as aforeſaid, ſhall proceed and do their Duties therein without delay, according to the true intent and meaning of this preſent Act, upon pain that every of them making default herein, ſhall for every ſuch ſeveral default forfeit and pay five pounds.

The forfeiture of chief Officers for not appointing of Tryers.

And be it further enacted, That four of the ſaid Searchers and Sealers ſo to be appointed within the ſaid City of London as aforeſaid, ſhall be at the end of every year changed and removed, and ſo many new choſen in their rooms and places: And that no perſon or perſons ſhall remain, continue, or be in the ſaid Office of ſearching or ſealing of leather within the ſaid City of London, above the ſpace of two years together; and he or they which ſhall ſerve or be imployed in the ſaid Office of ſearching and ſealing of leather two years, ſhall not in the ſaid Office be choſen, ſerve or imployed again, untill the end of three years at the leaſt then next following, upon pain that every perſon offending or doing the contrary, ſhall forfeit and loſe for every moneth that he ſhall ſo contrarily uſe and exerciſe the ſaid Office, ten pounds.

The ſearchers and ſealers of leather ſhall be changed yearly in London.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any Searcher or Sealer of Leather ſhall refuſe with convenient ſpeed to ſeal any Leather ſufficiently tanned, wrought and uſed, according to the true meaning of this preſent Act, or do allow that which ſhall be inſufficient, That then every Searcher and Sealer ſhall forfeit for every ſuch offence forty ſhillings. And further, That if any Searcher of Leather ſhall receive any Bribe, or exact any other Fee for the execution of his ſaid Office, than is by this preſent Statute limited, for the ſearching, ſealing, and regiſtring of Leather, That then every ſuch Searcher or Sealer ſo offending, ſhall forfeit for every ſuch offence twenty pounds. And that if any perſon or perſons duly elected, according to the true meaning of this preſent act, to and for the execution of the ſaid office of ſearching or ſealing of leather, refuſe to execute the ſaid office, that then the ſaid perſon or perſons ſo refuſing, ſhall forfeit and pay ten pounds.

The forfeiture of a ſearcher or ſealer omitting his duty, or taking of bribes.

Leather brought to Leaden-hall to be viewed and regiſtred.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all red tanned leather which ſhall be brought into the City of London, or within three miles compaſs from the ſame, whether it be to be ſold, or be bought before hand or no, ſhall be brought to Leaden-hall, before it be houſed in his or their own houſes, and there viewed whether it hath been ſearched or ſealed, or no, and ſhall alſo be regiſtred by the ſearchers to be appointed as is aforeſaid, with half ſuch fees to be paid for ſuch of the ſaid tanned leather as ſhall be bought out of the ſaid City of London, or three miles compaſs from the ſame, and ſhall be duly ſearched and ſealed before it be brought within the ſaid City, as is hereafter expreſſed for leather to be ſold in Leaden-hall, upon pain that every perſon houſing, or not bringing his leather to Leaden-hall, as is aforeſaid, ſhall forfeit for every hide or skin, ſix ſhillings eight pence, Provided, that this article ſhall not extend to any leather to be bought in Batholomew Fair, or Southwark Market, being ſearched, ſealed, and regiſtred according to the true meaning of this act.

Leather bought in Bartholomew Fair, or Southwark market.

Searching and ſealing of leather in or near London.

And be it alſo further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that no tanned leather ſhall be ſold within the City of London, or three miles diſtant from the ſame, before the ſame have been ſearched and ſealed by the ſearchers and ſealers by vertue of this act to be appointed to and for the ſearching and ſealing of leather within the ſaid City, and three miles diſtant from the ſame, upon pain of forfeiture of all ſuch tanned leather otherwiſe ſold, or the full value therof.

The penalty for denying of ſearch or ſeizing of inſufficient wares.

And alſo be it further enacted, That if any perſon will after the ſaid feaſt of S. Bartholomew next coming wilfully withſtand or deny any ſuch ſearch to be made, according to the tenor of this act as is aforeſaid, or will not ſuffer the ſaid ſeveral Maſters & Wardens of the ſeveral Companies of Cordwainers, Curriers, Girdlers, or Sadlers, or other ſearchers ſo appointed, to enter into his or their houſe or houſes, or other place, to view and ſearch at their will and pleaſure, all manner of tanned leather, and all manner of ſhoos, boots, mailes, ſaddles, coach-coverings, and harneſs, and all manner of wares wrought and made, or to be wrought and made of leather, and to ſeize and carry away all ſuch leather, ſhoes, and wares, as they ſhal find inſufficiently, tanned, curried or wrought, or made of ill ſtuff, that then all and every ſuch perſon or perſons ſo denying and withſtanding, and not ſuffering the ſaid Maſters and Wardens and Searchers, or any of them ſo appointed for the time being, to enter and make ſearch, and ſeize as is aforeſaid, ſhall loſe and forfeit for every time ſo denying and withſtanding, five pounds.

Regiſtring of leather ſold and bought, and the fees thereof.

And be it further enacted, That ſuch perſon and perſons as hereafter ſhall be aſſigned and appointed ſearchers and ſealers of tanned leather, by vertue of this act, ſhall within the limits and precincts of every of their ſearches keep one Book or Regiſter, wherein they ſhall enter all ſuch bargains as ſhall be made for leather, hides, or skins, by any perſon or perſons, during and by all the time of the fair or market, being thereunto required by the buyer or the ſeller, and alſo the prices of ſuch leather bought and ſold, with the names and dwelling places of the buyer and ſeller, taking for the ſearching, ſealing and regiſtring of every ten hides, backs or butts of leather, with the necks, wombs and dibbings, or other pieces of offal cut off from the ſaid backs or butts of leather, of the ſeller of every ſuch ten hides, backs or butts of leather ſo entred, two pence, and ſo after the rate, and for every ſix dozen of calves skins or ſheep skins, two pence, and of the buyer after the ſame rate, and no more, greater, or other ſum or ſums of money, to be paid for ſearching, ſealing, or entring of any tanned leather.

The penalty for ſelling of tanned leather not regiſtred. 4 Jac. 6.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons ſhall after the ſaid feaſt of Saint Bartholomew next coming, ſell, exchange, or put away, or cauſe to be ſold, exchanged, or put away any manner of tanned leather, red and unwrought, except he or they regiſter or cauſe to be regiſtred the ſaid tanned leather, and every part and parcel thereof, and the price thereof, upon pain of forfeiture of the value of the leather ſo ſold, exchanged, or put away, and not regiſtred.

The penalty for buying of leather not ſealed or regiſtred.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall not be lawful to or for any perſon or perſons to buy any tanned leather, before the ſame ſhall be ſearched and ſealed, nor to carry or cauſe to be carried out of the Fair or Market, any leather, till it be regiſtred as aforeſaid, upon pain to forfeit the ſaid leather, or the value thereof ſo bought, and not ſearched and ſealed, or carried away and not regiſtred.

The penalty of the Currier or Cordwainer omitting his duty.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any Currier within the ſaid City of London, or three miles compaſs of the ſame, after the feaſt of Saint Bartholomew next coming, do curry any leather inſufficiently tanned, or after the ſaid feaſt do not curry ſuch leather as he doth or ſhall curry, ſubſtantially and well, according to the meaning and purport of this act; Or if any Shoomaker, Cordwainer or Cobler, within the City of London, or three miles compaſs of the ſame, after the feaſt of S. Bartholomew next, put any tanned leather into any ſhooes, boots, buskins, ſtartops, ſlippers, pantofles, or other things made of tanned leather, which ſhall not be well and perfectly tanned, according to the purport and true meaning of this act: Or after the ſaid feaſt do put any curried leather into any boots, buskins, ſtartops, ſhooes, ſlippers, pantofles, or other things made of leather, which ſhall not be well and ſufficiently tanned and curried, and alſo ſealed as is aforeſaid: Or do make boots, buskins, ſhooes, ſtartops, ſlippers, pantofles, or other things made of Engliſh tanned leather, in any other manner than is above ſpecified and ordained: Or if any Shoomaker, Sadler, or other Artificer, uſing cutting or working of leather, do make any wares of any tanned leather inſufficiently tanned, or of tanned or curried leather, being not ſufficiently tanned and curried as aforeſaid, or do not make their wares belonging to their ſeveral occupations, ſufficiently and ſubſtantially that then every perſon ſo offending ſhall forfeit for every ſuch ſeveral offence or default, the ſaid wares, and the juſt value thereof.

Provided

No ſelling of wares in London, but in open ſhop, fair or market.

Provided alwayes, and be it Enacted, That no manner of perſon or perſons ſhall after the ſaid Feaſt of S. Bartholomew utter or ſell, or cauſe to be uttered or ſold within the ſaid City of London, or within three miles compaſs of the ſame, any manner of wares appertaining to the craft or myſtery of an Artificer uſing cutting of Leather, but onely in open ſhop, common Fair or Market, whereby the ſaid Wardens may have the true ſearch of the ſame, upon pain of forfeiture of all ſuch Wares ſo ſold, and ten ſhillings for every time.

All cutters of leather in or near London, ſhall be under ſearch.

Provided alway, and be it enacted, That all and every perſon and perſons whatſoever, now being, or that hereafter ſhall be free of the ſaid City of London, of what Company ſoever, and all forainers, Engliſh or Aliens and Strangers born, dwelling or inhabiting, or which hereafter ſhall dwell or inhabit within the City of London, or three miles compaſs of the ſame, as well within places priviledged as not priviledged, uſing or exerciſing any Manual occupation of cutting or working of leather into made wares, ſhall be under the ſurvey and ſearch of the Maſters and Wardens of ſuch Companies of the ſaid City of London, as the Artificers commonly uſing the ſame Myſtery or Occupation, being Freemen of the City of London, and of the ſame Company, be, touching or concerning only their Wares and Stuff made of or with leather, in like manner and form as other Freemen of the ſame Company be or ſhall be, And ſhall contribute and pay to the ſaid ſeveral Maſters and Wardens of the ſaid ſeveral Companies for the time being, within the ſaid City, as the Artificers uſing the ſame myſtery, being Freemen of the ſaid City, and of the ſame ſeveral Companies, ſhall contribute and pay: The ſame to be recovered by diſtreſs or Action of debt, in any of the Kings Majeſties Courts of Record, In which no wager of Law for the defendant to be allowed: All which pains, penalties and forfeitures aforeſaid, of ſums of money aforeſaid (except ſuch pains, penalties and forfeitures, as are before or hereafter by this Act ſhall otherwiſe be diſpoſed) ſhall be divided into three equal parts: One part whereof ſhall be to our Soveraign Lord the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors: And another part to him or them that ſhall firſt ſue for the ſame in any of the Courts of Record of the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, by Action of debt, bill, plaint, or information or otherwiſe; In which ſuit no wager of Law or Eſſoyn ſhall be admitted or allowed: And the third part thereof ſhall go to the City, Borough, Town, or Lord or Lords of Liberties, where the offence ſhall be committed or done. And all ſuch leather, ſhooes, boots, buskins, ſtartops, ſlippers, pantofles, wares, ſtuff, or other things whatſoever made of tanned leather, or curried leather, which ſhall be ſeized by vertue of this act, and ſhall be found by the Triers, to be appointed as is aforeſaid, or by the Maſters and Wardens of the ſeveral Companies aforeſaid, to be inſufficient, ſhall be forfeited and diſtributed as hereafter followeth: That is to ſay, Such leather or ſtuff ſo ſeiſed within the City of London, or within three miles compaſs of the ſame, to be brought to Guild-hall in London, there to be prized by indifferent perſons, and the value thereof to be divided into three parts, whereof one part to be to the firſt ſeizor or ſeizors of the ſaid unlawful ſtuffe, and another part to the uſe of the Chamber of London, and the other part to be diſtributed to the poor folks, as well being within the new Hoſpital of S. Bartholomews in London, as to ſuch poor houſholders as ſhall be inhabiting within the City of London, or the circuit aforeſaid, at the diſcretions of ſuch perſons, as the Mayor of the ſaid City, and four Aldermen of the ſame for the time being, ſhall appoint for the ſame. And that all ſuch leather, boots, ſaddles, wares, ſtuffe, and things made of or with leather as is aforeſaid, which ſhall be found within any other City, Borough, Town or place within this Realm, out of the ſaid City of London and three miles compaſs, unſufficiently wrought, tanned or curried as is aforeſaid, and ſhall be ſeized and tried to be forfeited, in manner and form aforeſaid, ſhall be brought to the common Hall of every ſuch City, Borough and Town, or to ſome convenient and open place, to be appointed by the Lord of the Liberty or his Deputy, where no common Hall is, there to be prized as is aforeſaid: One part of the ſaid value thereof to be diſpoſed unto the poor, and in other deeds of charity in thoſe parts, after the diſcretion of the Mayors, Bayliffs, Head-boroughs, and Lords of Liberties; Another part to be delivered to the Mayors, Bayliffs, and other head Officers of any City, Borough or Town corporate, to the uſe of the Commonalty of ſuch City, Borough or Town corporate; and where no ſuch Officers be, then to the Lord or Lords of the Liberty where any ſuch forfeiture ſhall be committed, or ſeizure had; And the third part to the ſeizor or ſeizors of ſuch leather, ſtuffe, or wares inſufficiently tanned, curried or wrought, as is aforeſaid, for his and their pains.

Who ſhall have the money forfeited by this Statute.

How the wares made of tanned leather forfeited in London ſhall be diſtributed.

How the wares made of tanned leather forfeited in other places ſhall be diſtributed.

Forfeited ware ſhall not be ſold to him that will ſell it again.

Provided alwayes, That no perſon to whom any ſuch unlawful leather or ſtuffe ſhall be given by this act, ſhall give or ſell any ſuch leather or ſtuffe, to any perſon or perſons that ſhall ſell the ſame, upon pain that the buyer ſhall forfeit for every parcel of ſuch unlawful leather or ſtuffe to be ſold, contrary to the true meaning of this laſt clauſe, iii.s. iv.d.

The authority of the Officers in Oxford and Cambridge for ſearch of leather reſerved.

Provided alwayes, That this act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe be prejudicial or hurtful to the Chancellors, Vice-chancellors, Proctors, Taxors, and Scholars, their Officers, Miniſters, Aſſigns or Farmors of the Univerſities of Oxford and Cambridge, or any of them, of, for or concerning the authority of ſearch of tanned leather, or any of the forfeitures of the ſame, which they lawfully had or might have had before the making of this preſent act; ſo as they do in all things obſerve ſuch order in, about, or for ſearching, ſealing, and regiſtring of leather, as by this act is preſcribed and appointed, upon the pain therein contained, Any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

What ſhall be reputed leather.

And for the avoiding of all ambiguities and doubts, which may and do grow upon the definition and interpretation of this word Leather, It is enacted and declared by theſe preſents, That the hides and skins of Oxe, Steer, Bull, Cow, Calf, Deer red and fallow, Goats and Sheep, being tanned or tawed, and every ſalt Hide, is, ſhall be, and ever hath been reputed and taken Leather;

And

Which Officers may enquire of, and puniſh the offences aforeſaid.

And for the better execution of this Act, Be it further enacted, That all Juſtices of Aſſize, Juſtices of Gaol-delivery, Juſtices of Peace, and Stewards of Franchiſes, Leets, and Law-dayes, within their ſeveral juriſdictions and liberties, and Mayor of London for the time being within the ſaid City, and within three miles compaſſe of the ſaid City, and all other Mayors, Bayliffs, and other head-Officers of Cities, Boroughs and Towns, within their ſeveral juriſdictions, liberties, precincts, offices and authorities, ſhall enquire of all the premiſſes in their Seſſions, Leet or Law-day, and hear or determine the ſame, and alſo by their diſcretions examine all perſons ſuſpected to offend this Act, or any parcel thereof.

The Stewards authority of a Manor of the Kings.

And be it further enacted, That where any Manor, Liberty or Franchiſe immediately appertaineth to the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs or Succeſſors, the Steward for the time being of every ſuch Manor, Liberty and Franchiſe, ſhall have the like authorities, powers, juriſdictions and advantages, And alſo ſhall bear and pay all the like pains, penalties and forfeitures, as are given, appointed, limited, or laid by this Statute, to or upon the Lords of Liberties and Franchiſes, as in this Statute is expreſſed.

Dry currying and fryzing of leather, and who may uſe it.

And be it further enacted, That all currying and dreſſing of Leather, commonly called Dry currying, and fryzing, ſhall be conſtrued to be dreſſing and currying of the manner of Spaniſh leather, of what colour ſoever it be; And that to all Artificers (other than Shoomakers, yearly between the laſt of September, and the twentieth of April) it ſhall be lawful to uſe all kinds of Leather dreſſed and curried in that manner of dry currying, and fryzing, as they lawfully might before the making of this act, ſo that the ſame leather ſo to be uſed, be well and ſufficiently tanned, according to the form preſcribed in this act, and alſo well and ſubſtantially dreſſed, curried and fryzed, in the manner of dry currying and fryzing aboveſaid.

This Act ſhall extend to Wales.

And be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this act and every part thereof, ſhall be conſtrued and adjudged to extend to Wales, as amply as it doth to this Realm, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes.

The forfeiture of Cuſtomers, &c. ſuffering leather to be tranſported, and not to ſeize or diſcloſe it.

18 Eliz 8.

And foraſmuch as (notwithſtanding the good Lawes, and great penalties in that behalf provided) great quantities of Leather are daily tranſported out of this Realm, and eſpecially by the negligence and corruption of Comptrollers, Cuſtomers, Searchers, and all their deputies: Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any Leather wrought, cut, or unwrought, to the intent to be ſold or bartered, ſhall hereafter unlawfully be tranſported, or purpoſed to be tranſported into the parts beyond the Sea, from and out of any port, haven, or creek of this Realm, or Wales; Every Comptroller, Cuſtomer, Surveyor, Collector of Tonnage and Poundage, and the Searchers, and the deputy of any of them, or any other perſons hearing or knowing by any wayes, of any leather meant to be tranſported from any place within his office, and do not his beſt endeavour to ſeize the ſame, or being tranſported, do not diſcloſe, or cauſe to be diſcloſed the ſame within forty days next after ſuch knowledge, or hearing of the ſame, in ſome Court of Record, ſo as the offendor may be puniſhed according to the Laws in that caſe provided, ſhall for the firſt offence committed againſt this article, forfeit an hundred pounds; and for the ſecond offence ſhall forfeit his Office.

And be it further enacted, That every Cuſtomer, Officer or Officers Deputy, that ſhall make any falſe Certificate of the arrival of any Leather in any port, creek, or place of this Realm, ſhall forfeit for every ſuch offence an hundred pounds.

This Act ſhall not extend to Scottiſh Hides brought to Berwick.

Provided alway, That neither this act, nor any article, expoſition, or thing therein contained, ſhall extend to any Scottiſh Hides, to be brought into the Town of Berwick out of the Realm of Scotland, being regiſtred in a Book therefore to be kept, by ſuch perſon or perſons as the Mayor of the ſaid Town for the time being ſhall thereunto name and appoint, with the name and ſirname of the buyer and ſeller, to the intent the Engliſh Hides might be known from the Scottiſh, But that the Inhabitants of the ſaid Town of Berwick may ſend, carry and tranſport ſuch Scottiſh Hides, as they lawfully tranſport before the making of this act.

Licences to diſpence with the offences prohibited by this Act, ſhall be void.

Provided alwayes, and be it Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons ſhall at any time hereafter procure or obtain any Grant, or Letters Patents, purporting to give licence or authority to any perſon or perſons to diſpence with, or tolerate any offence againſt any clauſe, proviſion or article in this preſent act, That then and immediately from and after ſuch Letters Patents or Grant obtained, all and every ſuch clauſes, articles aud proviſions, ſo by the ſaid Letters Patents or Grant authorized or licenced to be diſpenced with, or tolerated as aforeſaid, ſhall be utterly repealed, void and of none effect, Any thing in this preſent act contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Continued until the end of the next Seſſion of Parliament.

This Act to endure until the end of the next Seſſion of the next Parliament.

A repeal of the ſtat. of 5 El 8. and of all former ſtatutes repealed by the ſame.

And be it further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That as well one ſtatute made in the fifth year of the reign of our late Soveraign Lady Queen Elizabeth, entituled, An Act concerning Tanners, Curriers, and other Artificers occupying cutting of Leather, as all former Statutes, and every part or parts of any former ſtatute or ſtatutes thereby repealed, ſhall from henceforth be utterly repealed for ever. 3. Car. 4. Continued until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

CAP. XXIII.

Preſervation of Fiſhing in the County of Somerſet, Devon and Cornwal.

To what end Balcors, Conders and Directors did watch upon Hills in Fiſhing time.

VVhereas the Trade of fiſhing for Herrings, Pilchards, and Sea fiſh, within the Counties of Somerſet, Devon and Cornwal, is, and of late time hath been very great and profitable, as well to divers of the Fiſhermen and Inhabitants which dwell near the Sea-coaſts within the ſaid Counties, as in the Cities of London and Exeter, and elſewhere within the Realm of England and the Dominions thereof: And whereas alſo for the neceſſary uſe of the taking of the ſaid Herrings, Pilchards, and other Sean fiſh, divers perſons within the ſaid Counties, called Balcors, Huors, Condors, Directors, or Guidors, at the Fiſhing times for the ſaid Herrings, Pilchards, and other Sean fiſh within the ſaid Counties, time out of mind have uſed to watch and attend upon the high hills and grounds near adjoyning to the Sea-coaſts within the ſaid Counties, for the diſcovery and giving notice to the Fiſhermen and Inhabitants near adjoyning, when the ſaid Herrings, Pilchards, and Sean fiſh come towards or near the Sea-coaſts there, and for the guiding and directing of the Fiſhermen in their Boats upon the Sea-coaſts, for the taking of the ſaid Herrings, Pilchards, and other Sean fiſh.

And whereas alſo now of late divers perſons having lands, tenements and hereditaments near adjoyning to the Sea-coaſts within the ſaid Counties where the ſaid Fiſhing places for the taking of the ſaid Herrings, Pilchards, and other Sean fiſh are, have brought their actions of treſpaſs at the Common Law, as well in the high Courts of Record at Weſtminſter, as in inferiour Courts within the ſaid Counties, not only againſt ſuch Balcors, Huors, Condors, Directors and Guidors, but alſo againſt ſuch Fiſhermen and other perſons, for breaking of their Cloſe, as have attended their Seans or Nets, for the drawing and carrying of the ſaid Fiſh on land or ſhore, and have recovered againſt them coſts and damages, to their great loſs and expences: By reaſon whereof, ſuch Watchmen, Balcors, Huors, Condors, Directors and Guidors, and ſuch other perſons as heretofore have attended the ſaid Seans and Fiſhing, have forborn to enter into or go upon the lands, tenements and hereditaments near adjoyning to ſuch Fiſhing places within the ſaid Counties, for the watching or diſcovery of the ſaid Herrings, Pilchards, and other Sean fiſh, or to balk, hue, cond, or direct, or to attend the Seans or Nets, as heretofore they have done, and will likewiſe forbear the ſame hereafter, if proviſion be not had and made, that they may lawfully enter into and upon ſuch lands, tenements and hereditaments, as do lie near or adjoyning to the ſaid Sea-coſts, and places of Fiſhing as aforeſaid, for their watching, balking, directing and attending of the Seans, as is aforeſaid.

Suits commenced againſt Balcors, Condors and Fiſhers for entring into the grounds of others.

For remedy whereof, and for the maintenance of the ſaid Trade of Fiſhing, which doth ſo greatly tend to the profit of many of the Inhabitants within the ſaid Counties, and others: Be it therefore Enacted by our Soveraign Lord the King, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, That it ſhall and may be lawful at all time and times hereafter, to and for every ſuch Watchmen, Balcors, Huors, Condors, Directors and Guidors, and all ſuch Fiſhermen and other perſons as ſhall neceſſarily attend the ſaid Seans or Nets as aforeſaid, At the times of fiſhing for Herrings, Pilchards, and other Sean fiſh within the ſaid Counties, where ſuch Fiſh ſhall hereafter be taken, to enter and go into and upon any lands, tenements and hereditaments, which do lie or adjoyn near unto any ſuch fiſhing places, and fit, convenient and neceſſary to watch and walk in, or to draw and carry the ſaid Fiſh on ſhore, and there to watch for the ſaid Fiſh, and to balk, hue, cond, direct and guide the Fiſhermen which ſhall be upon the ſaid Sea and Sea-coaſts, for the taking of the ſaid Fiſh, and to draw or carry the ſaid Fiſh on land or ſhore: Any Law, Uſage, or Cuſtome to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Balcors, Condors and Fiſhers may enter into the grounds of others, to take or diſcover Fiſh.

And be it further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any action of treſpaſſe, or other ſuit ſhall at any time hereafter happen to be attempted and brought againſt any perſon or perſons, for entring and going on the Land for watching of the ſaid Fiſh, or for balking, huing, conding, directing or guiding of the ſaid Fiſhermen in their Boats upon Sea or Sea-coaſt for the taking of the ſaid Fiſh, or for the landing of the ſaid Fiſh as aforeſaid, By authority of this preſent act, the defendants or defendant in any ſuch action or ſuit ſhall and may plead Not guilty for any thing doing by vertue of this act: And upon the trial of that Iſſue, the whole matter to be given on both parties in evidence, according to the very truth of the ſame; And after ſuch Iſſue tryed for the defendant or defendants, or nonſuit of the plaintiff or plaintiffs after appearance, the ſame defendant or defendants to recover his or their damages, by reaſon of his or their wrongful vexation in that behalf, with coſts alſo in that behalf ſuſtained, and that to be aſſeſſed by the ſame Jury that ſhall try the ſame Iſſue; Or elſe by Writ to enquire of the damages as the cauſe ſhall require: For which coſts and damages ſuch defendant ſhall and may by vertue of this act, take and ſue forth ſuch execution as the defendant in a Replevin may do.

The Plea for a Condor, Balcor or Fiſher, in an Action of treſpaſs brought againſt him.

CAP. XIV.

Who only ſhall make Mildernix or Powle-Davies.

Whereas the Clothes called Mildernix and Powle-Davies, whereof Sail-clothes and other furniture for the Navy and Shipping are made, were heretofore altogether brought out of France, and other parts beyond the Seas, And the skill and art of making and weaving of the ſaid clothes never known nor uſed in England, until about the xxxii. year of the reign of the late Queen of famous memory Queen Elizabeth, about what time, and not before, the perfect art and skill of making and weaving of the ſaid clothes was attained unto, and ſithence practiſed and continued in this Realm, to the great benefit and commodity thereof.

Mildernix firſt made in France, and after learned and practiſed in England.

And whereas of late many of the Kings Majeſties Subjects, not trained nor brought up in the ſaid Art, nor any wayes skilful therein, have notwithſtanding, upon deſire of gain, made and weaved, or cauſed to be made and weaved, many clothes in likeneſſe and ſhew of Mildernix and Powle-Davies, but in truth neither made of ſuch ſtuff as the ſaid Mildernix and Powle-Davies are, and ought to be made of, nor ſo well driven or weaved, nor yet of that length nor breadth as the true clothes called Mildernix and Powle-Davies are and ought to be: Inſomuch that the ſaid clothes do yearly and daily grow worſe and worſe, and are made more thinner, ſleighter and meaner than heretofore they have been, to the great deceit deceit and hurt of all his Highneſs loving Subjects, that are to uſe and imploy the ſame about the ſails and other furniture of their ſhips and ſailing veſſels, and to the great damage of his Highneſs Navy, the chiefeſt ſtrength of this Realm (next unto God and his Highneſs) and within ſhort time like utterly to overthrow the art and trade of making cloth of that kind within this Realm; whereupon his Highneſſe ſaid ſubjects, as well the makers as the uſers of the ſaid clothes, are much hurt and impoveriſhed, through the deceitfulneſſe, unskilfulneſſe and ignorance of the Weavers and makers of the ſaid clothes.

Mildernix made in England neither of good ſtuff, nor well weaved.

Who onely ſhall make Mildernix and Powle-Davies.

For remedy and redreſs whereof, Be it Enacted by the Kings moſt Excellent Majeſty, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That no perſon or perſons, reſiant, inhabitant or dwelling within this Realm, ſhall at any time after the firſt day of Auguſt next coming, make, weave, or cauſe to be made and weaved, any ſuch cloth or clothes for ſails or furniture of ſhips, or other ſailing veſſels, called, termed, or known by the name or names of Mildernix and Powle-Davies, or any of them, but ſuch as now do uſe the ſame, or any of their ſervants, or ſuch as ſhall hereafter be apprentices, and trained and brought up in the trade and art of making of the ſaid clothes, by the ſpace of ſeven years together at the leaſt, Nor ſhall ſet any man to work in the making or weaving of any ſuch clothes, being not a workman trained up before the firſt day of Auguſt next coming, in the ſaid art or myſtery: Upon pain that every ſuch perſon offending or doing the contrary, ſhall forfeit and loſe for every default xx. s. for every moneth.

Of what ſtuff, goodneſſe, length and breadth Mildernix and Powle-Davies ſhall be made.

And further, That no perſon or perſons from and after the ſaid firſt day of Auguſt, ſhall make or weave the ſaid clothes of any other ſtuff than of good and ſufficient Hemp, nor of any leſs length than xxxiii. yards, nor any leſs breadth than three quarters of a yard: Nor that the Weaver, or other perſon or perſons, ſhall ſell or offer to ſell any of the ſaid clothes, before the ſtuff be well beaten, ſcowred, bleached, and the cloth well driven with a braſen or iron ſhuttle: Upon pain that every perſon offending or doing the contrary herein, ſhall forfeit and loſe for every ſuch piece of cloth woven, made or ſold contrary to the form of this act, five ſhillings.

Who ſhall have the forfeitures.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the one moiety of the benefit of all the forfeitures and penalties in this act contained, ſhall come and be unto the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety thereof unto ſuch as will ſue for the ſame in any of the Kings Majeſties Courts, by bill, plaint, action of debt, information, or otherwiſe; in which actions, ſuits, plaints, or informations, no wager of law, eſſoin or protection ſhall be allowed.

CAP. XXV.

CAP. XXVI.

A Confirmation of certain Orders before made for the Exchequer.

MOſt humbly pray your excellent Majeſty, your moſt loving and faithful ſubjects the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, That whereas the late Queen Elizabeth, in the thirteenth year of her happy reign, out of her Princely Grace and meer motion, by her gracious Privy Seal, to the then Lord Treaſurer, Chancellor, and Barons of her Majeſties Exchequer directed, did authorize and command them to ſet down and eſtabliſh certain Orders, touching the awarding of Proceſs, diſcharge without pleading, diſcharge of Iſſues, and the rates of Fees, within the Office of the Lord Treaſurers Remembrancer in the Exchequer: By vertue of which her Royal Commandment, upon grave deliberation, and with the privity and conſent of her Majeſties then learned Council thereunto called, divers Orders, being moſt honourable and agreeable to juſtice, wers conceived and eſtabliſhed, which orders be to this Bill annexed.

The Queens Privy Seal to the Officers of the Exchequer, to ſet down Orders, &c.

May it pleaſe your moſt excellent Majeſty, for the eſtabliſhment, continuance, and furtherance of her ſaid Majeſties then moſt gracious intention, and of your Majeſties moſt abundant Grace and favorable inclination, to the good and eaſe of your Highneſs ſubjects, That it may be enacted, And by the authority of this preſent Parliament, Be it enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, with the aſſent of the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, that all manner of Iſſues loſt and forfeited, or hereafter to be loſt and forfeited, which by the true intent of the ſame late Queens moſt gracious Privy Seal and the ſaid Orders hereunto annexed, ought to be remitted and diſcharged againſt her ſaid Majeſty, be, and at all times for ever hereafter ſhall be accordingly by vertue of this preſent act, clearly diſcharged and acquitted againſt your Majeſty, your heirs and ſucceſſors.

Certain Iſſues forfeited, ſhall be remitted.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if the Lord Treaſurers Remembrancer for the time being, or any of his Clerks, ſhall from and after the laſt day of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, award any proceſs, exact any pleading, or take any fees, or otherwiſe in any point demean him or themſelves, contrary to the true meaning of any the ſaid orders, That then for every ſuch offence which the ſaid Lord Treaſurers Remembrancer or his deputy, or any of his or their Clerks ſhall commit, the perſon ſo offending, or in caſe any ſuch perſon ſo offending be unable to ſatisfie, The Lords Treaſurers Remembrancer himſelf ſhall forfeit and loſe the ſum of twenty pounds whereof the one moiety to be to your Majeſty, your heirs and ſucceſſors, and the other moiety to the party grieved, to be ſued for within two years of the offence committed, by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, in any your Majeſties Courts of Record at Weſtminſter, wherein no eſſoyn, protection, wager of law or priviledge ſhall be allowed.

The forfeiture of him that offends contrary to the ſaid orders.

The Orders ſet down for reſpect of Homage, by the right honourable Sir William Cecil of the honourable order of the Garter Knight, Baron of Burghley, Lord Treaſurer of England, and Maſter of the Court of Wards and Liveries, Sir Walter Mildmay Knight, Chancellor and Vice-Treaſurer of her Highneſs Court of the Exchequer, Sir Edward Saunders Knight, Lord chief Baron of the ſaid Court and other the Barons of the ſame, Calling unto them Gilbert Gerrard Eſquire, her Majeſties Atturney general, and Thomas Bromley Eſquire, her Highneſs Sollicitor general, and made the fifteenth day of June, in the year of our Lord God, one thouſand five hundred threeſcore and thirteen, and in the fifteenth year of the reign of our Soveraign Lady Elizabeth, by the grace of God, Queen of England, France and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, &c. According to her Majeſties Privy Seal to the ſaid Treaſurer and Barons in that behalf directed, and witneſſed under their hands as followeth.

The orders ſet down for reſpect of homage.

Firſt, That no proceſs Ad faciend. Homagium & fidelitatem, or Ad faciend. fidelitatem, or any writ of Scire facias, Capias, or diſtreſs, from the fines ſtreated out of the Court of Common Pleas, ſhall go out of the Treaſurers Remembrancers office, upon any ſuppoſal, upon pain by former laws and ſtatutes limited, and by the orders of the ſaid court in that caſe provided, but upon a good and juſt ground, and the ſame ſhall be vouched in every of the ſaid proceſſes, according to the book, term, year, roll, and record thereof, that it may be certainly found. And yet if by any known record remaining in that office, it may appear the ſame tenure have been traverſed, then the ſaid Proceſſes to be diſcharged by the ſaid traverſe without pleading.

Fines ſtreated out of the common pleas.

2 Upon the Streat of the Original of the Chancery, of the firſt Grants of any lands or tenements holden in Chief, or by Knights ſervice, or Socage in Chief, or of any licence of Alienation, Pardon of Alienation, Ouſter le maine, general or ſpecial Livery, or Inrolment of any of them, Proceſs ſhall be made only for the ſervice due thereupon, and the parties upon the ſame ſhall be admitted without pleading, as it hath been accuſtomed to make their fine for reſpect of homage, or to do their fealty, forthwith whenſoever they will appear, and pray to be received for the ſame, paying the charges of their ſaid fine, as hereafter is appointed.

Proceſs upon the firſt ſtreat of the original.

Upon a Writ the firſt tenant returned Mort or nihil habet.

3 Where the firſt tenant in any ſuch Writ from the ſaid original, or ſuch Inrolment is returned by the Sheriff, Mort or Nihil habet, then ſhall go out according to the ancient courſe of the ſaid court a Diſtring. tenent. againſt the tenants of the ſaid law Lands, to the Sheriff to do their ſervice due to the King, and to ſhew their entry into the ſame, who returning the name of the tenant of the Lands in the Writ, there ſhall go Proceſs then every Term againſt the ſaid new tenants to do their ſaid ſervice, and alſo to ſhew their entry, and, they to loſe iſſues thereupon, until they come in, and make their fine for reſpect of homage or fealty, or do their fealty upon the ſame, according to the ancient courſe of the Exchequer.

A mean to avoid the charge of pleading in certain caſes.

4 To avoid the charges of Pleading, upon ſhewing of any mans entry, it ſhall be lawful for every perſon, that by force of any Licence of Alienation, doth come to any Lands, or Tenements holden in Chief, aſſured to him in Fee-ſimple, Fee-tayle general or ſpecial, or for term of life, by any manner of conveyance in law from the party in the firſt Original or Inrolment of the ſame to bring the ſame licence and conveyance to the ſaid Treaſurers Remembrancer, and thereupon the ſaid Barons of the Exchequer, or the ſaid Treaſurers Remembrancer, finding the ſaid Licence of Alienation to be good, and agreeable to the aſſurance thereupon made, and likewiſe agreeable to and from the ſaid original, and from and with all the Vouchers of the ſame, the party to whom ſuch licence of Alienation is made, ſhall be received to Inroll the ſaid Licence only, and to make his fine thereupon for reſpect of homage, without any further pleading, or other ſhewing of his title for the ſame. And likewiſe whoſoever ſhall enter into any Lands by Livery general, ſpecial, or Ouſter le maine, bringing the ſame and the ſchedule of his Livery with him, he ſhall be received to like Inrolment, and making of his fine without any pleading.

Inrolling a Livery, or Ouſter le maine.

A Licence of Alienation of lands aſſured by fine.

5 Likewiſe, who ſo that hath a Licence of Alienation of lands and tenements, holden in Chief, which thereby are aſſured unto him by fine, the ſame perſon may alſo bring in his ſaid Licence, and aſſurance thereupon, to be examined as before in the fourth Article is mentioned, And the ſame agreeing together, and alſo agreeing from and with the Original, and from and with the Vouchers of the ſame, then the party to be diſcharged without pleading.

Writ of Reverſion.

6. Where any Writ of Reverſion ſhall be made, upon any Record, for Lands or Tenements wherein the Prince is in Reverſion, if it do appear by any ſufficient matter of Record, within the Court that the Grant or Record whereupon the ſaid Writ of Reverſion is made is clearly avoyded or determined, In ſuch caſe the party upon ſhewing forth of ſuch Record ſhall be diſcharged without pleading.

The Manors of one name in one County.

7 Where there be two manors or mo, or other lands and tenements of one name in one county, and the one holden of the Prince in chief, or by Knights ſervice, and the other not, In ſuch caſes where the matter ſhall ſo appear of record, the party that hath the manors, or lands ſo not holden, ſhall be diſcharged of the Proceſs without pleading, and the Iſſues thereupon loſt, to be ſaved.

Which be the Iſſues loſt that ſhall be diſcharged.

8 The Iſſues loſt by her Majeſties ſubjects, which her Highneſs of her gracious favor and goodneſs, hath appointed by her Majeſties privy ſeal to be diſcharged, be as followeth, viz.

Some returned tenants of lands which they have not.

All Iſſues loſt or to be loſt, upon any that are or ſhall be returned tenants of lands which they have not, ſhall be now diſcharged, though they have other lands within the ſhire, that could not ſo have been before the ſaid Privy Seal was granted.

Iſſues loſt upon an heir or ward within age.

CAP. XXXI.

Several Proviſions made for thoſe that be infected with the Plague.

Foraſmuch as the Inhabitants of divers Cities, Boroughs, Towns corporate, and of other Pariſhes and places being viſited with the Plague, are found to be unable to relieve the poorer ſort of ſuch people ſo infected, who of neceſſity muſt be by ſome charitable courſe provided for, leſt they ſhould wander abroad, and thereby infect others: And foraſmuch as divers perſons infected with that diſeaſe, and others inhabiting in houſes and places infected, as well poor people and unable to relieve themſelves, that are carefully provided for, as others which of themſelves are of ability, being commanded by the Magiſtrate or Officer, of or within the place where the infection ſhall be, to keep their houſes, or otherwiſe to ſeparate themſelves from company, for the avoiding of further infection, do notwithſtanding very dangerouſly and diſorderly miſ-demean themſelves.

Be it therefore Enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the Mayor, Bayliffs, head Officers, and Juſtices of Peace of every City, Borough, Town corporate, and places priviledged, where any Mayor, and Bayliffs, head Officers, or Juſtices of peace are or ſhall be, or any two of them, ſhall have power and authority from time to time, to tax and aſſeſs all and every inhabitant, and all houſes of habitation, lands, tenements and hereditaments within the ſaid City, Borough, Town corporate, and places priviledged, or the liberties or precincts thereof, at ſuch reaſonable taxes and payments, as they ſhall think fit for the reaſonable relief of ſuch perſons infected, or inhabiting in houſes and places infected in the ſame Cities, Boroughs and Towns corporate, and places priviledged, and from time to time to levy the ſame taxes of the goods of every perſon refuſing or neglecting to pay the ſaid taxes, by Warrant under the hand and ſeal of the Mayor and Bayliffs, and head Officers aforeſaid, or two ſuch Juſtices of peace, to be directed to any perſon or perſons for the execution thereof.

Taxing the Inhabitants for relief of the ſick of the plague.

And if the party to whom ſuch Warrant is or ſhall be directed, ſhall not find any goods to levy the ſame, and the party taxed ſhall refuſe to pay the ſame tax, That then upon return thereof, the ſaid Mayor, Bayliffs, head Officers, or Juſtices of peace, or any two or them, ſhall by like Warrant under their hands and ſeals, cauſe the ſame perſon ſo taxed to be arreſted, and committed to the Gaol, without bail or mainpriſe, until he ſhall ſatisfie the ſame taxation and the arrearages thereof.

The penalty of any party taxed, refuſing to pay and having no goods.

And if the Inhabitants of any ſuch City, Borough, Town corporate, or place priviledged, ſhall find themſelves unable to relieve their ſaid poor infected perſons, and others as aforeſaid, That then upon certificate thereof, by the Mayor, Bayliffs, head-Officers, and other the ſaid Juſtices of peace, or any two of them, to the Juſtices of peace of the County of or near to the ſaid City, Borough, Town corporate, or priviledged place ſo infected, or any two of them to be made, the ſaid Juſtices of or near the ſaid County, or any two of them, ſhall or may tax and aſſeſs the Inhabitants of the County within five miles of the ſaid place infected, at ſuch reaſonable weekly taxes and rates as they ſhall think fit to be levied by Warrant from any ſuch two Juſtices of peace of or near the County, by ſale of goods; and in default thereof, by impriſonment of the body of the party taxed, as aforeſaid.

A proviſion if the Inhabitants, of the Town infected be not able to relieve the ſick.

A proviſion if the infection ſhall be where there are no Juſtices of Peace.

And if any ſuch infection ſhall be in any Borough, Town corporate, or priviledged place, where there are or ſhall be no Juſtices of Peace, or in any Village or Hamlet within any County: That then it ſhall and may be lawful for any two Juſtices of Peace of the ſaid County, wherein the ſaid place infected is or ſhall be, to tax and aſſeſs the inhabitants of the ſaid County, within five miles of the ſaid place infected, at ſuch reaſonable weekly taxes and rates as they ſhall think fit for the reaſonable relief of the ſaid places infected, to be levied by Warrant from the ſaid Juſtices of Peace of the ſame County, by ſale of goods; and in default thereof, by impriſonment of the body of the party ſo taxed as aforeſaid: The ſame taxes made by the ſaid Juſtices of Peace of the County, for the relief of ſuch Cities, Boroughs, Towns corporate, and places priviledged, where there are no Juſtices of Peace, to be diſpoſed as they ſhall think fit; And where there are Juſtices of peace, Then in ſuch ſort as to the Mayors, Bayliffs, head Officers, and Juſtices of Peace there, or any two of them ſhall ſeem fit and convenient.

The taxes aſſeſſed ſhall be certified at the next Quarter-Seſſions.

All which taxes and rates made within any ſuch City, Borough, Town corporate, or place priviledged, ſhall be certified at the next quarter Seſſions to be holden within the ſaid City, Borough, Town corporate, or place priviledged; And the ſaid taxes and rates made within any part of the ſaid County, ſhall in like ſort be certified at the next quarter Seſſions to be holden in and for the ſaid County: And that if the Juſtices of peace at ſuch quarter-Seſſions reſpectively, or the more part of them ſhall think it fit the ſaid tax or rate ſhould continue, or be enlarged or extended to any other parts of the County, or otherwiſe determined, then the ſame to be ſo enlarged, extended or determined, encreaſed or taxed and levied in manner and form aforeſaid, as to the ſaid Juſtices at the quarter-Seſſions reſpectively ſhall be thought fit and convenient: And every Conſtable, and other Officer that ſhall wilfully make default in levying ſuch money as they ſhall be commanded by the ſaid Warrant or Warrants, ſhall forfeit for every ſuch offence x. s. to be employed on the charitable uſes aforeſaid.

The forfeiture of Officers making default to levy the money aſſeſſed.

An infected perſon commanded to keep his houſe diſobeyeth.

And be it further Enacted, That if any perſon or perſons infected, or being or dwelling in any houſe infected, ſhall be by the Mayor, Bayliffs, Conſtable, or other head-Officer of any City, Borough, Town corporate, priviledged place, or Market Town, or by any Juſtice of peace, Conſtable, Headborough, or other Officer of the County (if any ſuch infection be out of any City, Borough, Town corporate, priviledged place, or Market Town) commanded or appointed as aforeſaid, to keep his or their houſe, for avoiding of further infection, and ſhall notwithſtanding wilfully and contemptuouſly diſobey ſuch direction and appointment, offering and attempting to break out and go abroad, and to reſiſt, or going abroad and reſiſting ſuch keepers or watchmen as ſhall be appointed as aforeſaid, to ſee them kept in, That then it ſhall be lawful for ſuch watchmen, with violence to enforce them to keep their houſes. And if any hurt come by ſuch enforcement to ſuch diſobedient perſons, That then the ſaid keepers, watchmen, and any other their aſſiſtants ſhall not be impeached therefore. And if any infected perſon, as aforeſaid, ſo commanded to keep houſe, ſhall contrary to ſuch commandment wilfully and contemptuouſly go abroad, and ſhall converſe in company, having any infectious ſore upon him uncured, That then ſuch perſon and perſons ſhall be taken, deemed and adjudged as a felon, and to ſuffer pains of death, as in caſe of felony. But if ſuch perſon ſhall not have any ſuch ſore found about him, then for his ſaid offence, to be puniſhed as a Vagabond in all reſpects ſhould or ought to be, by the ſtatute made in the xxxix. year of the reign of our late Soveraign Lady Queen Elizabeth, for the puniſhment of Rogues and Vagabonds, And further, to be bound to his or their good behaviour for one whole year.

39 Eliz. 2. Co. Inſt. 3. part, 90.

Provided, That no attainder of Felony by vertue of this Act, ſhall extend to any attainder or corruption of Blood, or forfeiture of any goods, chattels, lands, tenements, or hereditaments.

Attendants ſhall be appointed upon the infected.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall be lawful for Juſtices of Peace, Mayors, Bayliffs, and other head Officers aforeſaid, to appoint within their ſeveral limits, ſearchers, watchmen, examiners, keepers and buriers, for the perſons and places reſpectively infected as aforeſaid, and to miniſter unto them Oaths for the performance of their offices of ſearchers, examiners, watchmen, keepers and buriers, and give them other directions, as unto them for the preſent neceſſity ſhall ſeem good in their diſcretions. And this Act to continue no longer than until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

The continuance of this Act.

The Univerſities, Cathedral Churches, Eaton, Wincheſter College.

Provided alwayes, and be it Enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That no Mayors, Bayliffs, head Officers, or any Juſtice of Peace, ſhall by force or pretext of any thing in this act contained, do or execute any thing before mentioned, within either the Univerſities of Cambridge or Oxford, or within any Cathedral Church or the Liberties or Precincts thereof, in this Realm of England, or within the Colledges of Eaton or Wincheſter; But that the Vice-Chancellor of either the Univerſities for the time being, within either of the ſame reſpectively, and the Biſhop and Dean of every ſuch Cathedral Church, or one of them, within ſuch Cathedral Church, and the Provoſt or Warden of either of the ſaid Colledges within the ſame, ſhall have all ſuch power and authority, and ſhall do and execute all and every ſuch act and acts, thing and things in this act before mentioned, within their ſeveral Precincts and Juriſdictions abovesaid, as wholly, abſolutely, and fully, to all intents and purpoſes, as any Mayor, Bayliffs, head Officers, or Juſtices of Peace, within their ſeveral Precincts and Juriſdictions may elſewhere by force of this act do and execute. 3 Car. 4.

CAP. XXXIII.

A Subſidy granted to the King of Tonnage, Poundage, Woolls,&c.

What Subſidies the Kings of this Realm have had, and for what cauſes.

IN their moſt humble wiſe ſhew unto your moſt excellent Majeſty, your loyal and obedient ſubjects and Commons in this your preſent Parliament aſſembled, That where as well your noble great Grandfather of worthy memory, King Henry the ſeventh, the noble King of famous memory, Henry the eighth, the late King of worthy memory, King Edward the ſixth, the late Queen Mary, and the late renowned Soveraign Lady Queen Elizabeth,as other your right noble and famous Progenitors, Kings of this your Realm of England, time out of mind, have had and enjoyed unto them by authority of Parliament for the defence of this your Realm,and the keeping and ſafeguard of the Seas for the entercourſe of merchandize, ſafely to come into and paſſe out of the ſame,certain ſums of money, named Subſidies,of all manner of goods and merchandize, coming in or going out of the ſame your Realm; And foraſmuch as we your ſaid poor Commons, undoubtedly and moſt aſſuredly do truſt, and have ſure confidence in your Majeſties good favour and will towards us your ſaid Commons, in, and for the keeping and ſure defending of the Seas againſt all perſons, intending or that ſhall intend the diſturbance of us your ſaid Commons,in the entercourſe and the invading of this your Realm, to our moleſtation, unquieting and loſs, which at any time cannot be born without the great exceſs and intolerable coſts,charges and expences of your Majeſty, which is not when need ſhall require in ſuch caſes to be lacked at any time, but rather we your ſaid Commons, wiſhing that ſuch furniture of all things may be had in readineſs from time to time, when neceſſity ſhall require for the ſpeedy indelayed proviſion and help, for the ſuppreſſing of ſuch inconveniences, diſturbances and invaſions, humbly deſire your moſt excellent Majeſty, benignly, and favourably to take, accept and receive theſe our poor grants hereafter enſuing, as granted of true hearts and good wills which we bear unto your Highneſſe, towards your ſaid great coſts, charges and expences which may be expended and laid out by your Majeſty for the cauſes aforeſaid, when need ſhall require,as the firſt fruits of our good wills and hearts towards your Highneſſe, although the ſame do, or hereafter ſhall nothing in effect countervail the ſame your great charges, nor yet we your ſaid poor Commons able fully to gratifie your Highneſſe by any means,yet nevertheleſs we your ſaid Commons,by the advice and conſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in this your preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, to the intent aforeſaid, Do give and grant to you our Supream Liege Lord and Soveraign, one Subſidy called Tonnage,that is to ſay, of every Tun of Wine that is or ſhall come into this Realm or any your Majeſties Dominions by way of Merchandize, the ſum of three ſhillings, and ſo after that rate; And of every Tun of ſweet Wines, as well Malmeſey as other, that is or ſhall come into this Realm by any Merchant alien,three ſhillings,and ſo after the rate,over and above the three ſhillings above mentioned; And of very Awm of Reniſh Wine that is or ſhall ſo come in,twelve pence;And alſo one other Subſidy called Poundage,that is to ſay,of all manner of goods or merchandize of every Merchant,Denizen and Alien,carried or to be carried out of this Realm, or any your Majeſties Dominions, or to be brought into the ſame by way of Merchandize,of the value of every twenty ſhillings of the ſame goods and merchandize, twelve pence, and ſo after the rate. And of every twenty ſhillings value of Tin and Pewter veſſel carried out of this Realm by every or any Merchant alien,twelve pence,over and above the twelve pence aforeſaid. Except and forepriſed out of this grant of Subſidy of Poundage,all manner of woollen Cloth made or wrought,or which ſhall be made or wrought within this Realm of England, and by every, or any Merchant denizen, and not born alien, carried or to be carried out of this your ſaid Realm,And all manner of Woolls, Wool-fels, Hides and Backs of Leather, that is or ſhall be carried out of this your ſaid Realm; And all Wines not before limited to pay Subſidy or Tonnage, And all manner of freſh fiſh and beſtial coming, or that ſhall come into the ſame your Realm.

A Subſidy of Tonnage granted to the King.

A Subſidy of Poundage.

Exceptions out of the Subſidy of Poundage.

A Subſidy of Wool, Fels, and Leather.

And further we your ſaid poor Commons, by the advice,aſſent,and authority aforeſaid, Do give and grant unto you our ſaid Liege Lord our Soveraign, for the cauſes aforeſaid, one other Subſidy, that is to ſay, of every Merchant born Denizen, of and for every ſack of wooll thirty three ſhillings four pence; And of and for every two hundred and forty Wool-fels, thirty three ſhillings four pence; And of and for every Laſt of Hides and Backs,three pounds ſix ſhillings eight pence, and ſo after the ſame rate, for every leſſe or greater quantity for any the ſame merchandize more or leſs; And of every Merchant ſtranger not born Denizen, of and for every ſack of wooll, three pound ſix ſhillings eight pence; And of and for every two hundred forty wool-fels, three pound ſix ſhillings eight pence; And for every Laſt of hides and backs,three pound thirteen ſhillings four pence; And ſo of all the ſaid wools,wool-fels,hides and backs,and of every of them after the rate: To have,take,enjoy and perceive the Subſidies aforeſaid,and every of them,and every part and parcel of them, to your Highneſſe, from the 18. day of March laſt paſt, during your life natural.

A Subſidy of the goods of Aliens born.

And

The penalty if the ſaid Subſidy be not paid.

And that it may be further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any Wines, Goods, or other Merchandize, whereof any the Subſidies aforeſaid, are, or ſhall be due, ſhall at any time hereafter be ſhipped, or put into any Boat or other Veſſel, to the intent to be carried into the parts beyond the Seas, or elſe be brought from the parts beyond the Seas, into any Port of this Realm, or other your Majeſties Dominions, by way of Merchandize, and unſhipped to be laid on Land, the Subſidy, Cuſtom, and other Duties due, or to be due for the ſame, not payed or lawfully tendred to the Collector thereof, or his Deputy, with the conſent and agreement of the Comptroller and Surveyor there, or one of them at the leaſt, not agreed with for the ſame in the Cuſtom-houſe, according to the true meaning of this Act: That then from the ſaid eighteenth day ot March laſt paſt, all the ſame Wine, Goods and Merchandize whatſoever, ſhall be forfeit to your Highneſſe during the time aforeſaid, the one moyety of the rate thereof to your Highneſſe, and the other moyety to him or them that will ſeize the ſame, or ſue for the ſame. And that it may pleaſe your Highneſſe, that all Merchants, as well Denizens as Strangers, coming into this your Realm, be well and honeſtly intreated and demeaned for ſuch things as Subſidy by this Act is granted for, as they were in the time of your ſaid Noble Progenitors and Predeceſſors, without oppreſſion to them to be done, paying the Subſidies aforeſaid.

Merchants ſtrangers ſhall be well intreated.

A proviſion for them whoſe Goods be taken by pirats, or periſhed on the Sea.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any Goods or Merchandizes as aforeſaid, of any Merchant being born Denizen, after the ſaid xviii. day of March, during the term of this Grant, hath been, or ſhall be taken by any Enemies or Pirates upon the Sea, or periſhed in any Ship or Ships, that ſhall happen to be taken or periſhed, within the time of the ſaid Grant, whereof the Subſidies, and other Duties aforeſaid, are, or ſhall be duely paid or agreed for, as aforeſaid, and that duly proved before the Treaſurer of England, or Chief Baron of the Exchequer, for the time being, by the examination of the ſame Merchants, if they be alive, or of their Executors or Adminiſtrators, if they be dead, or by two credible witneſſes at the leaſt, ſworn, or other reaſonable witneſſe and proof ſworn, Then the ſame Merchant or Merchants, his or their Executors or Adminiſtrators, ſhall or may newly ſhip in the ſame Port, where the Goods and Merchandize aforeſaid were or ſhall be accuſtomed, ſo much other Merchandize or Goods, as the ſame Goods and Merchandize that are, or ſhall be loſt as aforeſaid, ſhall amount unto, in cuſtom, without paying any thing for the ſame, ſo as the ſame proof be recorded and allowed of in the Court of Exchequer, and certified unto the Collectors of the Cuſtom of the Port, where the ſame wares and merchandizes are to be newly ſhipped without Cuſtom, as aforeſaid. And further, that every Merchant Denizen that ſhall hereafter ſhip any wooll, wooll-fells, hides, or any other Goods and Merchandize, in any Carrick or Gally, ſhall pay to your Majeſty all manner of Cuſtoms, and all the Subſidies aforeſaid, as any Alien born out of the Realm.

The Cuſtom of goods ſhipped in Carricks or Gallies.

Shipping of Herrings.

Provided alwayes, That it ſhall and may be lawful to all and every of the Subjects of our Soveraign Lord the King, at his and their will and pleaſure, to carry and tranſport out of this Realm, in the Ships or other Veſſels of any the Subjects aforeſaid, all and every kind of Herrings, or other Sea-fiſh to be taken upon the Seas, by any the Subjects aforeſaid, from or out of any Port or Harborough of this Realm, to any place out of the Kings Dominions, without paying of any Cuſtom, Subſidy, or Poundage-money for the ſame Herrings and Fiſh ſo carried or tranſported, during this preſent Grant of Subſidy of Tonnage and Poundage, any thing before contained to the contrary notwithſtanding. Hiberniæ, viz. Angliæ, Franc. & Hibern. tertio. & Scotiæ triceſimo nono.

AT the ſecond Seſſion of Parliament begun and holden by prorogation at Weſtminſter, the fifth day of November, in the third year of the Reign of our moſt gracious Soveraign Lord JAMES, by the Grace of God, of England, France, and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith, &c. and of Scotland the nine and thirtieth: And there continued untill the ſeven and twentieth of May: (And from this ſecond Seſſion of Parliament ending the ſaid ſeven and twentieth of May, the ſaid Parliament was prorogued untill the eighteenth of November next following, 1606. To the high pleaſure of Almighty God, and to the weal publick of this Realm, were enacted as followeth.

CAP. I.

Yearly Prayer ſhall be made for the delivery of the King, &c. from the Gun-powder Treaſon.

The bleſſings of England by the King and his Progeny.

The Gunpowder Treaſon conſpired to have been effected, 5. Nov. Anno Dom. 1605.

FOraſmuch as Almighty God hath in all Ages ſhewed his Power and Mercy, in the miraculous and gracious deliverance of his Church, and in the protection of religious Kings and States, And that no Nation of the Earth hath been bleſſed with greater benefits than this Kingdom now enjoyeth, having the true and free profeſſion of the Goſpel under our moſt gracious Soveraign Lord King JAMES, the moſt great, learned, and religious King that ever Reigned therein, enriched with a moſt hopeful and plentiful Progeny, proceeding out of his Royal Loyns, promiſing continuance of this happineſſe and profeſſion to all poſterity: the which many malignant and deviliſh Papiſts, Jeſuits, and Seminary Prieſts much envying and fearing, conſpired moſt horribly, when the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, the Queen, the Prince, and all the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons ſhould have been aſſembled in the upper-Houſe of Parliament upon the Fifth day of November, in the year of our Lord, 1605. ſuddenly to have blown up the ſaid whole Houſe with Gun-powder: An Invention ſo inhumane, barbarous and cruel, as the like was never before heard of, and was (as ſome of the principal Conſpirators thereof confeſſe) purpoſely deviſed and concluded to be done in the ſaid Houſe, that where ſundry neceſſary and religious Laws for preſervation of the Church and State were made, which they falſly and ſlanderouſly term cruel Laws, enacted againſt them and their Religion, both place and perſons ſhould be all deſtroyed and blown up at once, which would have turned to the utter ruine of this whole Kingdom, had it not pleaſed Almighty God, by inſpiring the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty with a Divine Spirit, to interpret ſome dark phraſes of a Letter ſhewed to his Majeſty above and beyond all ordinary conſtruction, thereby miraculouſly diſcovering this hidden Treaſon not many hours before the appointed time for the execution thereof: Therefore the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and all his Majeſties faithful and loving Subjects, do moſt juſtly acknowledge this great and infinite Bleſſing to have proceeded meerly from GOD his great mercy, and to his moſt holy Name do aſcribe all honour, glory and praiſe. And to the end this unfeigned Thankfulneſſe may never be forgotten, but be had in a perpetual remembrance, that all ages to come may yield praiſes to his Divine Majeſty for the ſame, and have in memory THIS JOYFUL DAY OF DELIVERANCE.

How the Treaſon was diſcovered.

Be it therefore enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That all and ſingular Miniſters in every Cathedral and Pariſh Church, or other uſual place for Common Prayer, within this Realm of England and the Dominions of the ſame, ſhall alwayes upon the Fifth day of November ſay morning Prayer, and give unto Almighty God thanks for this moſt happy deliverance: And that all and every perſon and perſons inhabiting within this Realm of England and the Dominions of the ſame, ſhall alwayes upon that day diligently and faithfully reſort to the Pariſh Church or Chappel accuſtomed, or to ſome uſual Church or Chappel where the ſaid morning Prayer, Preaching, or other Service of God ſhall be uſed, and then and there to abide orderly and ſoberly during the time of the ſaid Prayers, Preaching, or other Service of God there to be uſed and miniſtred.

Thanks ſhall be given to God in every Church yearly upon the fifth day of November.

And becauſe all and every perſon may be put in mind of his duty, and be then better prepared to the ſaid holy Service, Be it enacted by authority aforeſaid, That every Miniſter ſhall give warning to his Pariſhioners publickly in the Church at morning Prayer, the Sunday before every ſuch fifth day of November, for the due obſervation of the ſaid day. And that after morning Prayer, or Preaching upon the ſaid fifth day of November, they read publickly, diſtinctly and plainly this preſent Act.

The Miniſter ſhall give warning of the day the Sunday before.

CAP. II.

Certain perſons attainted of high Treaſon, for conſpiring to blow up with Gun-powder the Parliament Houſe.

IN moſt humble manner beſeechen your moſt excellent Majeſty, your moſt loyal, faithful and true-hearted Subjects, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, That whereas Arthur Creſwel Jeſuite, who at the time of his profeſſion to be a Jeſuite, took upon him the name of Joſeph Creſwell, Oſwald Teſmond, Jeſuite, and Thomas Winter late of Huddington in the County of Worceſter, Gentleman, the laſt day of June in the four and fortieth year of the late Queen Elizabeth of famous memory, at Valedolid within the Kingdom of Spain, and at divers other dayes within the ſame four and fortieth year of the ſaid late Queen, at Valedolid aforeſaid, and elſe-where within the ſame Kingdom of Spain, by the means, procurement and privity of Robert Cate by late of Aſhby in the County of Northampton, Eſquire, Francis Treſham late of Ruſhton in the ſaid County of Northampton, Eſquire, and Henry Garnet Jeſuite, (aſſuming upon him to be Superior of the Jeſuites within this Realm of England) and others, being all natural born Subjects of this Realm, did trayterouſly and againſt the Duty of their Allegiance, move and incite Philip then and yet King of Spain, then being at open enmity and hoſtility with the ſaid late Queen, with force to invade this Kingdom of England, and to joyn with the Papiſts and diſcontented perſons within this Realm of England, to depoſe and overthrow the ſame late Queen, of, and from her Crown, and of, and from all her Royal Eſtate, Title and Dignity, and to ſuppreſſe and aboliſh the true Religion of Almighty God, truly and ſincerely profeſſed within this Kingdom, and to reſtore the ſuperſtitious Romiſh Religion within the ſame, and to bring this ancient, famous, and moſt renowned Kingdom to utter ruine and miſerable captivity under foreign Power: And for that the greateſt impediment unto the ſame Invaſion, would be the want of help of good Horſes, the ſaid Thomas Winter, the rather to encourage the ſame King thereunto, was to offer to the ſame King on the behalf of the Papiſts of England, to give him aſſiſtance preſently upon the landing of his Forces, with one thouſand five hundred, or two thouſand Horſes, And that for their better accompliſhing thereof, he ſhould move the ſame King to furniſh the Papiſts of England with a good ſum of money, partly to be employed to provide and furniſh the Horſes, and partly in Penſions, to be employed upon ſome ſuch as were to be prepared for that Service: All which the ſaid Thomas Winter did relate to the ſaid King of Spain, who (the ſaid Kingdoms of England and Spain then ſtanding in hoſtility) took that offer in very good part, ſaying, That he would reſpect and account of the Catholicks of England (meaning the Papiſts) as of his own Caſtilians, and thereupon agreed that he would make Invaſion, and ſet foot in England about the Spring then next following, and would by way of exchange ſend over unto the Papiſts of England, one hundred thouſand Crowns, to be paid at two dayes agreed upon, all which particulars are extant in the Confeſſion of ſome of the chief Offenders: At which time ſundry Papiſts of England did extraordinarily furniſh themſelves by the trayterous and wicked perſwaſion and means of ſundry Jeſuits both with Horſe and Armour.

Francis Treſham.

But before theſe things could be effected, Almighty GOD called the ſaid late Queen to his mercy: Immediately after whoſe deceaſe, that is to ſay, in the ſame moneth of March wherein ſhe departed out of this World, Chriſtopher Wright, late of London, Gentleman, was employed by the ſaid Robert Catesby, Francis Treſham, Henry Garnet, and others, into Spain, to negotiate with the ſaid King of Spain, by the means of the ſaid Creſwel the Jeſuite, and others, to proceed in that Invaſion, which the ſaid Thomas Winter had before negotiated with him. And afterward on the two and twentieth day of June, in the firſt year of your Majeſties Reign over this Realm of England, Sir William Stanley Knight, Hugh Owen Eſquire, William Baldwine Jeſuite, and others, did by and with the trayterous procurement, and the conſent of the Offendors aforeſaid, from and out of Flanders in the parts beyond the Seas, under the Government of the Archduke, trayterouſly employ and ſend Guy Fawks, late of London Gentleman, unto the ſaid King of Spain, to negotiate with him on the behalf of the ſaid Papiſts of England, for Invaſion to be had againſt this Realm of England, to the ſame effect as was committed to the ſaid Chriſtopher Wright, as is aforeſaid: And the ſaid Guy Fawks and Chriſtopher Wright, though they had all the furtherance of the ſaid Creſwel the Jeſuite that he could give, yet finding no ſuch entertainment with the ſaid King, who (as by the ſequel appeareth) grew into deteſtation with the ſaid propoſitions and negotiations, as they expected or deſired: But being wholly diſappointed of all their hopes concerning that matter, the ſaid Robert Catesby, and divers other perſons within this Realm, did ſend over the ſaid Thomas Winter into the ſaid Country of Flanders, to procure the ſaid Guy Fawks, a natural born Subject of this Realm, and yet a moſt trayterous, deſperate, and bloody minded perſon, then ſerving as a Souldier in the Low-Countries, to come over unto this Realm, and by, and with the trayterous conſpiracy and conſent of the ſaid Henry Garnet, Oſwald Teſmond, John Garrard, and other Jeſuits, and Thomas Pearcy late of London Eſquire, John Wright late of London Gentleman, the ſaid Chriſtopher Wright, Francis Treſham, Robert Winter, late of Huddington aforeſaid, Eſquire, John Graunt late of Norbrook in the County of Warwick Eſquire, Ambroſe Rookwood, late of Stanningfield in the County of Suffolk Eſquire, Everard Digby late of Gotehurſt in the County of Buckingham Knight, Robert Keyes late of London Gentleman, and Thomas Bates late of London Yeoman, to undertake the execution of the moſt wicked, barbarous, execrable, and abominable Treaſon that ever could enter into the heart of the moſt wicked man, by blowing up with Gun-powder the Houſe of Parliament, at ſuch time as your moſt excellent Majeſty, and your deareſt Conſort the Queen, and the moſt noble Prince Henry, together with the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, the Judges of the Realm, and the Knights, Citizens, and Burgeſſes of Parliament ſhould be in the Parliament-Houſe aſſembled, (for which moſt trayterous and barbarous purpoſe there were ſecretly laid in a Vault or Cellar under the Parliament-Houſe, thirty ſix Barrels of Gun-powder, or thereabouts) to the utter overthrow and ſubverſion of the whole State of this flouriſhing and renowned Kingdom, if God of his infinite mercy had not moſt miraculouſly by your Majeſties bleſſed direction, diſcovered the ſame, in finding out the ſaid Barrels of Gun-powder in the ſaid Vault or Cellar, but few hours before the time appointed for the execution thereof: All which moſt heinous, horrible, and damnable Treaſons are moſt manifeſt and apparent by the voluntary confeſſions and acknowledgments of the Offendors themſelves: Of which moſt barbarous, bloody, and deteſtable Treaſon, for conſpiring and preparing to blow up the ſaid Parliament-Houſe with Gun-powder, the ſaid Robert Winter, Thomas Winter, Guy Fawks, Robert Keys, Ambroſe Rookwood, John Graunt, and Thomas Bates, have been lately indicted, and during this preſent Seſſion of Parliament arraigned, convicted by Verdict, and thereupon attainted. And the ſaid Sir Everard Digby Knight, hath likewiſe been indicted, and during this preſent Seſſion of Parliament convicted and attainted by his own confeſſion of Record upon his Arraignment, according to the Laws of this your Majeſties Realm, as by the Records of their ſeveral Indictments and Attainders it doth and may more plainly appear: And for the which offences the ſaid Sir Everard Digby, Robert Winter, Thomas Winter, Guy Fawkes, Ambroſe Rookwood, John Graunt, Robert Keyes, and Thomas Bates, have ſuffered pains of death according to their demerits, And the ſaid Robert Catesby, Thomas Pearcy, John Wright, and Chriſtopher Wright, were lately ſlain in open Rebellion by them and other the ſaid moſt wicked Traytors, moved and ſtirred within divers Parts and Counties of this Realm, ſhortly after the ſaid diſcovery of their ſaid moſt deteſtable and damnable Treaſon, in conſpiring and preparing to blow up the ſaid Parliament-Houſe, as aforeſaid: And the ſaid Hugh Owen doth (of purpoſe, and for fear of condigne puniſhment according to his demerits) reſide and keep himſelf beyond the Seas, by means whereof he cannot in reſpect of ſuch his voluntary abſence be arraigned, and publickly by due tryal of Law, upon apparent teſtimony and proof againſt him, be proceeded withal! for his moſt heinous and abominable Treaſons: And the ſaid Francis Treſham, being likewiſe one of the ſaid moſt deteſtable Traytors, and being apprehended and impriſoned in the Tower of London, having by ſundry his examinations confeſſed himſelf a principal Traytor in all the ſaid moſt wicked and abominable Treaſons, died in the ſaid Tower, during the time of his ſaid impriſonment, and before he could be indicted of the ſaid Treaſon.

The convictions and attainders of the Traytors confirmed.

It may therefore pleaſe your Majeſty, of your bleſſed care and diſpoſition to and for the continuance of Gods true Religion and Service, and for the preſervation and ſafety of your moſt excellent Majeſty, and the gracious Queen, the moſt noble Prince, and the reſt of your Royal Progeny, and for the intire love, favour, and hearty affection that your Majeſty hath alwayes heretofore born, and yet beareth to the Common-wealth, and ſafety of this your Realm of England, (to the end that all others may hereafter fear to enter into any cogitation to attempt the like barbarous and deteſtable Treaſons,) That all and every the Convictions and Attainders of the ſaid Robert Winter, Thomas Winter, Guy Fawkes, Ambroſe Rookwood, John Graunt, Robert Keyes, Thomas Bates, and Sir Everard Digby, may be approved and confirmed: And be the ſame approved and confirmed by the authority of this preſent Parliament: And that it may be further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That as well the ſaid Robert Winter, Guy Fawkes, Ambroſe Rookwood, John Graunt, Robert Keyes, Thomas Bates, and Sir Everard Digby, as alſo the ſaid Robert Catesby, Thomas Pearcy, John Wright, Chriſtopher Wright, Hugh Owen, and Francis Treſham, and every of them, for the moſt abominable and deteſtable Treaſon, in conſpiring and preparing the blowing up of the ſaid Parliament-Houſe, ſtand and be adjudged, and by authority of this preſent Act convicted and attainted of high-Treaſon: And that ſuch and ſo many of the ſaid Offendors, and perſons as are attainted by the courſe of the Common Laws of this Realm as is aforeſaid, ſhall loſe and forfeit to your Majeſty, and to your Heirs and Succeſſors, all and every ſuch their Mannors, Meſſuages, Lands, Tenements, Rents, Reverſions, Remainders, Poſſeſſions, Rights, Conditions, Intereſts, Offices, Fees, Annuities, and all other their Hereditaments, Goods, Chattels, Debts, and other things of whatſoever names, natures, or qualities they be, which they the ſaid Offendors, and perſons already attainted by the courſe of the Common Laws of this Realm, as is aforeſaid, or any of them had, or any other perſon or perſons, to their or any of their uſe or uſes, had the day of the ſaid ſeveral Treaſons ſpecified in the ſeveral Indictments whereupon they have been attainted, by them or any of them committed, perpetrated or done, as is aforeſaid, or at any time ſithence.

The forfeiture of the Offendors.

And that the ſaid Robert Catesby, Thomas Pearcy, John Wright, Chriſtopher Wright, Hugh Owen, and Francis Treſham, ſhall forfeit and loſe to your Majeſty, your Heirs and Succeſſors, all and every ſuch their Manors, Meſſuages, Lands, Tenements, Rents, Reverſions, Remainders, Poſſeſſions, Rights, Conditions, Intereſts, Offices, Fees, Annuities, and all other their Hereditaments, Goods, Chattels, Debts, and other things, of whatſoever names, natures, or qualities they be, which they the ſaid Robert Catesby, Thomas Pearcy, John Wright, Chriſtopher Wright, Hugh Owen, and Francis Treſham, or any of them had, or any other perſon or perſons to their or any of their uſe or uſes had, the dayes and times of their ſaid ſeveral Treaſons, by them and every of them committed, perpetrated and done as is aforeſaid: That is to ſay, the ſaid Robert Catesby, Thomas Pearcy, John VVright, and Chriſtopher Wright, the twentieth day of May, in the ſecond year of your Majeſties Reign of England, France and Ireland, and of Scotland the ſeven and thirtieth, or at any time ſithence, The ſaid Hugh Owen the twentieth day of May laſt paſt, or at any time after, And the ſaid Francis Treſham the fourteenth day of October laſt, or at any time ſince. And that all and ſingular ſuch Manors, Meſſuages, Lands, Tenements, Rents, Reverſions, Remainders, Poſſeſſions, Rights, Conditions, Offices, Fees, Annuities, and all other Hereditaments, Goods, Chattels, Debts, and other the Premiſſes of all and ſingular the Offendors, as by the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, or by force of this Act of Parliament, are or ſhall be forfeited to your Majeſty, ſhall be deemed, veſted, and judged to be in the actual and real poſſeſſion of your Majeſty, without any Office or Inquiſition thereof hereafter to be taken or found. Saving to all and every perſon and perſons, Bodies politick and corporate, and to their Heirs, Succeſſors, and Aſſigns of every of them, other than the ſaid perſons attainted, and other than the ſaid Offendors before by this Act attainted, and their Heirs, and the Heirs of every of them, claiming any thing in the ſaid Manors, Meſſuages, Lands, Tenements, and other the Premiſſes, or any part thereof, only as Heir or Heirs, and all and every other perſon and perſons claiming, or having any thing in the premiſſes, or any part thereof, to their uſes, or to the uſe of any of them, All ſuch Eſtate, Right, Title, Uſe, Poſſeſſion, Intereſt, Reverſion, Remainder, Entry, Condition, Fees, Offices, Rents, Annuities, Leaſes, Commons, Action, Suit, Petition, Execution, and all other Hereditaments and all actions and means to recover or obtain the ſame whatſoever, which they or any of them had or ought to have in the premiſſes, or any part thereof, at or before the ſaid ſeveral Treaſons by the ſaid ſeveral Offendors reſpectively committed or done, in as large and ample manner to all intents and purpoſes, as if this Act had never been had nor made, Any thing therein contained to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

The forfeiture of certain of the Traytors which were not arraigned.

From what days their ſeveral forfeitures ſhall have relation.

All the lands and goods of the Traytors attainted ſhall be in the actual poſſeſſion of the King.

A ſaving the right of others.

And alſo all ſuch Eſtate, Right, Title, Uſe, Poſſeſſion, Intereſt, reverſion, Remainder, Entry, Conditions, Fees, Offices, Rents, Annuities, Commons, and all other Commodities and Hereditaments whatſoever, which they or any of them (except the perſons before excepted) now have, or at any time hereafter ſhall or may have, only by vertue of any lawful Conveyance or Limitation made before the ſame ſeveral Treaſons committed or done, for which the ſaid Offendors have been attainted, or are by this Act attainted, in as large and ample manner to all intents and purpoſes, as if this Act had never been had or made, This Act or any thing therein contained to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

Provided alwayes, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to give the Kings Highneſſe, his Heirs or Succeſſors, any benefit or commodity of, or to any Goods, Chattels or Debts, that were any of the ſaid perſons, at the Common Law, or by this Act attainted, at the time of the ſeveral Treaſons by them done and committed, and by them or any of them lawfully and juſtly without fraud or covin given, granted, bargained, releaſed, or diſcharged before the fifth day of November laſt paſt, but that all and every ſuch perſon and perſons, to whom any lawful Bargain, Gift, Grant, Releaſe, or Diſcharge hath been made, as is aforeſaid, ſhall and may have, hold, and enjoy the ſame, and be acquitted and diſcharged thereof, in ſuch and like manner and form to all intents and purpoſes, as though this Act had never been had or made.

Goods, Chattels or Debts of the Traytors given, &c. releaſed, or diſcharged before the fifth of November laſt.

CAP. III.

The things which are to be done by force of the Statute of 1 Jac. 2. may be performed in any other Seſſion of this Parliament.

A rehearſal of the ſtat. of 1 Jac. and the cauſes why it cannot be perfected at this time.

WHereas in the Seſſion of Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the nineteenth day of March, in the firſt year of the Reign of our moſt dread Soveraign Lord James, by Grace of God, of England, France and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith, &c. and of Scotland the ſeven and thirtieth, For the honor of his Majeſty, and the weal & common good of both the ſaid Realms, there was amongſt other things made and ordained one good and profitable Act of Parliament, entituled, An Act authoriſing certain Commiſſioners of the Realm of England to treat with the Commiſſioners of Scotland for the weal of both Kingdoms: And albeit by the long and worthy labours of the Commiſſioners, authoriſed by both Parliaments of the ſaid Realms, all things have in all particulars been fully and effectually purſued and accompliſhed, which by vertue of the ſaid Act were and ought to have been done either before, or at this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, about the execution of the ſaid Commiſſion, or the preſenting of the Inſtruments concerning the ſame; And that of matters of greateſt importance, there ought to be had timely and due conſideration: Yet for that it is known to all, what time hath been juſtly and neceſſarily beſtowed upon divers other important buſineſſes, preſſing preſent reſolution and diſpatch, principally depending upon the proceedings incident to the late moſt barbarous and pernicious Conſpiracy, and in reſpect of the length of this Seſſion, and of the growing charges of all that attend theſe Services, together with the coming on of the Year, the doubt of Sickneſſe, the approaching of the next Term for the publick adminiſtration of Juſtice, the time that the bringing of the ſaid worthy labours of the ſaid Commiſſioners to their due effect and conſummation will require, and the preſent neceſſity that the reſidue of this Seſſion ſhould be ſpent in the view and confirmation of thoſe Bills (many of them of great importance) which have been with good deliberation begun and proceeded withall in this Seſſion of Parliament, and ſhall utterly periſh if the ſame receive not life and perfection at this preſent Seſſion: And for that it is manifeſt by the ſaid Act, That that which is yet to be done and performed by force of the ſaid Act, may as well be done and performed in the next Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, with all convenient expedition, and without any unneceſſary delay, or unſeaſonable deliberation: Be it declared and enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord, by and with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That all and every proceeding and proceedings, matter and matters, thing and things whatſoever, which are yet to be had, made, done or performed, of or concerning the ſaid Act, or in or about the full and final execution of the ſame, ſhall and may in every reſpect be as effectually and fully had, made, performed and done in any other Seſſion of this Parliament, as if the ſame had been had, made, done and performed in this preſent Seſſion.

Every matter which is to be done by force of the ſtat. of 1 Jac. 2. may be done in any other Seſſion of this Parliament.

4 Jac. 1.

CAP. IV.

An Act for the diſcovering and repreſſing of Popiſh Recuſants.

FOraſmuch as it is found by daily experience, that many his Majeſties Subjects, that adhere in their hearts to the Popiſh Religion, by the infection drawn from thence, and by the wicked and deviliſh Counſel of Jeſuits, Seminaries, and other like perſons dangerous to the Church and State, are ſo far perverted in the point of their Loyalties and due Allegiance unto the Kings Majeſty, and the Crown of England, as they are ready to entertain and execute any treaſonable Conſpiracies & Practices, as evidently appears by that more then barbarous and horrible attempt to have blown up with Gun-powder the King, Queen, Prince, Lords and Commons in the Houſe of Parliament aſſembled, tending to the utter ſubverſion of the whole State, lately undertaken by the inſtigation of Jeſuites and Seminaries, and in advancement of their Religion by their Schollars, taught and inſtructed by them to that purpoſe; which attempt by the only goodneſſe of Almighty God was diſcovered and defeated: And where divers perſons popiſhly affected, do neverthelesſe, the better to cover and hide their falſe hearts, and with the more ſafety to attend the opportunity to execute their miſchievous deſigns, repair ſometimes to Church to eſcape the penalty of the Laws in that behalf provided:

Some popiſhly affected do repair to the Church.

For the better diſcovery therefore of ſuch perſons, and their evil affections to the Kings Majeſty, and the State of this his Realm, to the end that being known, their evil purpoſe may be the better prevented, Be it enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That every Popiſh Recuſant convicted, or hereafter to be convicted, which heretofore hath conformed him or her ſelf, or which ſhall hereafter conform him or her ſelf, and repair to the Church, and continue there during the time of Divine-Service, according to the Laws and Statutes in that behalf made and provided, ſhall within the firſt year next after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament (if he or ſhe be conformed as aforeſaid, before the end of this Seſſion of Parliament) or within the firſt year next after that he or ſhe ſhall after this Seſſion of Parliament ſo conform him or her ſelf, and repair to Church, as aforeſaid, and after the ſaid firſt year ſhall once in every year following at the leaſt receive the bleſſed Sacrament of the Lords Supper, in the Church of that Pariſh where he or ſhe ſhall moſt uſually abide, or be within the ſaid year, wherein by the true meaning of this Statute, he or ſhe ought ſo to receive.

And if there be no ſuch Pariſh-Church, then in the Church next adjoyning to the place of his his or her ſuch moſt uſual abode. And if any Recuſant ſo conformed, ſhall not receive the ſaid Sacrament of the Lords Supper accordingly, he or ſhe ſhall for ſuch not receiving, loſe and forfeit for the firſt year twenty pounds, and for the ſecond year for ſuch not receiving, forty pounds, and for every year after for ſuch not receiving, threeſcore pounds, untill he or ſhe ſhall have received the ſaid Sacrament as is aforeſaid. And if after he or ſhe ſhall have received the ſaid Sacrament as is aforeſaid, and after ſhall eftſoons at any time offend in not receiving the ſaid Sacrament as is aforeſaid, by the ſpace of one whole year, That in every ſuch caſe, the perſon ſo offending, ſhall for every ſuch offence loſe and forfeit threeſcore pounds of lawful Engliſh money, the one moyety to be to our Soveraign Lord the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moyety to him that will ſue for the ſame, And to be recovered in any of the Kings Courts of Record at Weſtminſter, or before Juſtices of Aſſize or general Gaol-delivery, or before Juſtices of the Peace at their general Quarter-Seſſions, by action of Debt, Bill, Plaint or Information, wherein no Eſſoine, Protection, or Wager of Law ſhall be allowed.

Preſenting the monethly abſence from Church of a Recuſant.

And be it further enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the Churchwardens and Conſtables of every Town, Pariſh or Chappel, for the time being, or ſome one of them, or if there be none ſuch, then the chief Conſtables of the Hundred where ſuch Town, Pariſh or Chappel, is or ſhall be, or one of them, as well in places exempt, as not exempt, ſhall once in every year, preſent the monethly abſence from Church of all and all manner of popiſh Recuſants within ſuch Towns and Pariſhes, and ſhall preſent the names of every of the Children of the ſaid Recuſants, being of the age of nine years and upwards, abiding with their ſaid Parents, and as near as they can, the age of every of the ſaid Children, as all the names of the Servants of ſuch Recuſants, at the general or quarter Seſſions of that Shire, Limit, Diviſion or Liberty.

A Recuſants children and ſervants.

The preſentments recorded.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all ſuch preſentments ſhall be accepted, entred and recorded in the ſaid Seſſions by the Clerk of the Peace, or Town-Clerk for the time being, or his Deputy, without any fee to be had, asked or taken for the ſame. And in default of ſuch preſentment to be made, the ſaid Churchwardens, Conſtables, or high Conſtables reſpectively, ſhall for every ſuch default forfeit xx. s. And in default of ſuch accepting, entring and recording without fee as aforeſaid, the ſaid Clerk of the Peace, or Town Clerk, ſhall for every ſuch offence forfeit and loſe xl. s.

The reward of the Churchwardens and Conſtables.

And that upon every preſentment of ſuch monethly abſence, as aforeſaid, whereupon ſuch party ſo preſented, ſhall after happen to be indicted and convicted (not being for the ſame abſence before preſented) Then the ſaid Churchwardens, Conſtables, or high Conſtables reſpectively, ſo making ſuch preſentments, ſhall have a reward of xl. s. to be levied out of the Recuſants Goods and Eſtate, in ſuch manner and form, as by the more part of the ſaid Juſtices ſhall be by Warrant under their Hands and Seals, then and there ordered and appointed.

Which Officers ſhall enquire of Offenders.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Juſtices of Aſſiſe and Gaol-delivery at their Aſſiſes, and the ſaid Juſtices of Peace at their ſaid Seſſions, ſhall have power and authority by vertue of this Act, to enquire, hear and determine of all Recuſants and offences, as well for not receiving the Sacrament aforeſaid, according to the true meaning of this Law, as for not repairing to Church, according to the meaning of former Laws, in ſuch manner and form as the ſaid Juſtices of Aſſiſe and Gaol-delivery do, or may now do by former Laws in caſe of Recuſancy for not repairing to Church; and alſo ſhall have power at their Aſſiſes and Gaol-delivery, and at the Seſſions (in which any Indictment againſt any perſon, either for not repairing to Church, according to former Laws, or not receiving the ſaid Sacrament according to this Law, ſhall be taken) to make Proclamation, by which it ſhall be commanded that the body of every ſuch Offendor ſhall be rendered to the Sheriff of the ſame County, or Bailiff or other Keeper of the Gaol of the Liberty, before the next Aſſiſes and general Gaol-delivery, or before the next general or quarter Seſſions reſpectively to be holden for the ſaid Shire, Limit, Diviſion or Liberty. And if at the ſaid next Aſſiſes and general General Gaol-delivery, or Seſſions, the ſame offendor ſo proclaimed ſhall not make appearance of Record, That then upon every ſuch default recorded, the ſame ſhall be as ſufficient a conviction in Law of the ſaid offence whereof the party ſhall ſtand indicted as aforeſaid, as if upon the ſame Indictment a trial by verdict thereupon had proceeded, and been found againſt him or her, and recorded.

The effect of the Proclamation.

Conviction of a Recuſant.

The penalty of a convicted Recuſant.

And be it further enacted, That every Offendor in not repairing to Divine-Service, but forbearing the ſame, contrary to the Statutes in that behalf made and provided, that hereafter ſhall fortune to be thereof once convicted, ſhall in ſuch of the Terms of Eaſter and Michaelmas as ſhall be next after ſuch conviction, pay into the receipt of the Exchequer after the rate of xx. li. for every moneth which ſhall be contained in the Indictment, whereupon ſuch conviction ſhall be; And ſhall alſo for every moneth after ſuch conviction, without any other indictment or conviction, forfeit twenty pounds, and pay into the receipt of the Exchequer aforeſaid, at two times in the year, That is to ſay, in every Eaſter and Michaelmas Term, as much as then ſhall remain unpaid after the rate of twenty pounds for every moneth after ſuch conviction, except in ſuch caſes where the King ſhall and may by force of this Act refuſe the ſame, and take two parts of the Lands, Tenements, Hereditaments, Leaſes and Farms of ſuch Offendor, till the ſaid party being indicted for not coming to Church contrary to former Laws, ſhall conform himſelf and come to Church, according to the meaning of the Statute in that behalf made and provided.

29 Eliz. 6.

Every conviction ſhall be certified into the Exchequer.

And that every conviction recorded for any offence before mentioned, ſhall from the Juſtices before whom the Record of ſuch conviction ſhall be remaining, be certified into the Kings Majeſties Court of Exchequer, before the end of the Term following ſuch conviction, in ſuch convenient certainty for the time, and other circumſtances, as the Court of Exchequer may thereupon award out Proceſs for the ſeiſure of the Lands and Goods of every ſuch Offendor, as the cauſe ſhall require: And if default ſhall be made in any part of any payment aforeſaid, contrary to the form herein before limited, that then and ſo often, the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, ſhall and may by Proceſs out of the ſaid Exchequer, take, ſeize, and enjoy all the Goods, and two parts as well of all the Lands, Tenements, Leaſes and Farms of ſuch Offendor, as of all other the Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments liable to ſuch ſeizure, or to the penalties aforeſaid, by the true meaning of this Act, leaving the third part only of the ſame Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, Leaſes and Farms, to and for the maintenance and relief of the ſame Offendor, his Wife, Children and Family.

29 Eliz. 6.

The ſtat. of 23 Eli. touching a Recuſants monethly forfeiture.

And whereas by an Act made in the Seſſion of Parliament holden by prorogation at Weſtminſter, in the three and twentieth year of the Reign of the late Queen Elizabeth, entituled, An Act to retain the Subjects of the ſaid late Queen in their due obedience, It was amongſt other things enacted by authority of the ſaid Parliament, That every perſon above the age of ſixteen years, which ſhould not repair to ſome Church, Chappel, or uſual place of Common-Prayer, but forbear the ſame contrary to the tenor of a Statute made in the firſt year of the Reign of the ſaid late Queen, for Uniformity of Common-Prayer, and being thereof lawfully convicted, ſhould forfeit to the ſaid Queen, for every moneth after the end of the ſaid Seſſion of Parliament which he or ſhe ſhould forbear, twenty pounds of lawful Engliſh money, as in and by the ſaid Act of Parliament more at large appeareth.

How by the ſtat. of 29 Eli. 6. the Queen ſhould recover forfeitures due to her by Recuſants.

And whereas afterward by another Act of Parliament of the ſaid Queen, It was further enacted by the authority of the ſaid Parliament (amongſt other things) how and when the ſaid payments of the ſaid twenty pounds ſhould be made, and that if default ſhould be made in any part of any payment of the ſaid twenty pounds, contrary to the form in the ſaid laſt ſpecified Statute limited, that then, and ſo often, the ſaid Queen ſhould and might by Proceſs out of her Highneſſe Exchequer, take, ſeize, and enjoy all the Goods, and two parts aſwell of all the Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, Leaſes and Farms of ſuch Offendor, as of all other the Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments liable to ſuch ſeizure, or to the penalties aforeſaid, by the true meaning of the ſaid Act of Parliament, leaving the third part only of the ſame Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, Leaſes and Farms, to and for the maintenance and relief of the ſame Offendor, his Wife, Children and Family, as in and by the laſt ſpecified Statute more at large alſo may appear: Now foraſmuch as the ſaid penalty of twenty pounds monethly, is a greater burden unto men of ſmall living, than unto ſuch as are of better ability, and do refuſe to come unto Divine-Service as aforeſaid, who rather than they will have two parts of their Lands to be ſeiſed, will be ready alwayes to pay the ſaid twenty pounds, according to the limitation of the ſaid Statutes, and yet retain the reſidue of their Livings and Inheritance in their own hands, being of great yearly value, which they do for the moſt part imploy (as experience hath taught) to the maintenance of Superſtition and Popiſh Religion, and to the relief of Jeſuites, Seminaries, Popiſh Prieſts, and other dangerous perſons to the State:

The King may refuſe xx. li. a moneth, and take two parts of a Recuſants lands.

Therefore to the intent that hereafter the penalty for not repairing to Divine-Service, might be inflicted in better proportion upon men of great ability, Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, ſhall from and after the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel next coming after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, have full power and liberty to refuſe the penalty of twenty pounds a moneth, though it be tendered ready to be paid according to the Law, and thereupon to ſeiſe and take to his own uſe, and the uſes, intents and purpoſes hereafter limited, two parts in three to be divided, as well of all the Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, Leaſes and Farms, that at the time of ſuch ſeiſure ſhall be, or afterward ſhall come to any the ſaid Offendors, in not coming to Church, or any other to his or her uſe, or in truſt for him or her, or at his or her diſpoſition, or whereby or wherewith, or in conſideration whereof ſuch Offendor or his Family, or any of them ſhall be relieved, maintained or kept, as of all other Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments in any wiſe, or at any time liable to ſuch ſeiſure, or to the penalties aforeſaid, and the ſame to retain to his own, and other uſes, intents and purpoſes hereafter in this Act appointed, till every ſuch Offendor ſhall conform him or her ſelf, reſpectively as aforeſaid, in lieu and full recompence of the twenty pounds monethly, that during his ſuch ſeiſure and retainer ſhall incur, Any thing in the ſaid Statutes, or any of them, or any other Statute to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Saving the right of others

Saving to our Soveraign Lord the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, and all and every perſon and perſons, Bodies politick and corporate, their Heirs and Succeſſors, (other than the ſaid Offendor, his or her heirs, and all claiming to his or their uſe, or in truſt for him or them, or at his or their will or diſpoſition) all and all manner of Leaſes, Rents, Conditions, and other Rights and Titles whatſoever had, made and done (Bona fide) and without fraud and covin, before ſuch ſeiſure.

A Recuſants manſion-houſe ſhall be reſerved to him. The Kings two parts ſhall not be demiſed to a Recuſant.

Provided alwayes, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, ſhall not take into his two parts, but leave to ſuch Offendor his chief manſion-houſe, as part of his third part, and ſhall not demiſe, leaſe, nor put over the ſaid two parts, nor any part thereof to any Recuſant, nor to or for the uſe of any Recuſant. And that whoſoever ſhall take the ſame in Leaſe, or otherwiſe of his Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, ſhall give ſuch ſecurity not to commit, nor ſuffer waſte to be committed in or upon any the ſaid premiſſes, as by the Court of Exchequer ſhall be allowed ſufficient.

Who are compe[l]lable to the Oath.

And for the better trial how his Majeſties Subjects ſtand affected in point of their loyalty and due obedience, Be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That from and after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, it ſhall be lawful to and for any Biſhop in his Dioceſs, or any two Juſtices of Peace, whereof one of them to be of the Quorum, within the limits of their juriſdiction out of the Seſſions, to require any perſon of the age of eighteen years or above, being, or which ſhall be convict or indicted of or for any Recuſancy, other than Noble men or Noble women, for not repairing to Divine Service, according to the Laws of this Realm, or which ſhall not have received the ſaid Sacrament twice within the year then next paſt, Noble men and Noble women excepted, or any perſon paſſing in or through the Country, Shire or Liberty, and unknown, except as is laſt before excepted, that being examined by them upon Oath ſhall confeſſe, or not deny himſelf or her ſelf to be a Recuſant, or ſhall confeſſe or not deny that he or ſhe had not received the Sacrament twice within the year then laſt paſt, to take the Oath hereafter following upon the holy Evangeliſts: Which ſaid Biſhop, or two Juſtices of the Peace ſhall certifie in writing ſubſcribed with his or their hands at the next General or Quarter-Seſſions for that Shire, Limit, Diviſion or Liberty, within which the ſaid Oath ſhall be ſo taken, the Chriſtian name, Sirname, and place of abode of every perſon, which ſhall ſo take the ſaid Oath, which Certificate ſhall be there recorded by the Clerk of the Peace, or Town-Clerk, and kept amongſt the Records of the ſaid Seſſions.

Certificate of the name of him which taketh the Oath.

Refuſal of the Oath.

And be it further enacted, That if any ſuch perſon or perſons, other than Noble men, or Noble women, ſhall refuſe to anſwer upon Oath to ſuch Biſhop or Juſtices of Peace examining him or her as aforeſaid, or to take the ſaid Oath ſo duly tendered unto him or her by ſuch Biſhop, or two ſuch Juſtices of Peace out of Seſſions, that then the ſaid Biſhop or Juſtices of Peace ſhall and may commit the ſame perſon to the Common-Gaol, there to remain without bail or mainpriſe, until the next Aſſiſe, or General or Quarter-Seſſions to be holden for the ſaid Shire, Diviſion, Limit or Liberty, where the ſaid Oath ſhall be again in the ſaid open Aſſizes or Seſſions required of ſuch perſon, by the ſaid Juſtices of Aſſize, or Juſtices of Peace then and there preſent, or the greater number of them. And if the ſaid perſon or perſons, or any other perſon whatſoever, other than Noble men, or Noble women, of the age of eighteen years or above, ſhall refuſe to take the ſaid Oath being tendered unto him or her by the Juſtices of Aſſize and Gaol-delivery in their open Aſſizes, or the Juſtices of Peace, or the greater part of them, in their ſaid general Quarter-Seſſions, every perſon ſo refuſing, ſhall incur the danger and penalty of Premunire, mentioned in the Statute of Premunire made in the ſixteenth year of the Reign of King Richard the ſecond, except women covert, who upon refuſal of the ſaid Oath, ſhall be by the ſaid Juſtices of Aſſize in their open Aſſize, or Juſtices of Peace in their General or Quarter-Seſſions, for the ſaid offence, committed only to the Common-Gaol, there to remain without bail or mainpriſe, till they will take the ſaid Oath,

The penalty of Premunire. Co. pla f. 334. Woman covert.

The form of which Oath hereafter followeth.

The form of the Oath of obedience.

I A. B. do truly and ſincerely acknowledge, profeſſe, teſtifie, and declare in my conſcience before God and the World, That our Soveraign Lord King JAMES is lawful and rightful King of this Realm, and of all other his Majeſties Dominions and Countries; and that the Pope neither of himſelf, nor by any authority of the Church or See of Rome, or by any other means with any other, hath any power or authority to depoſe the King, or to diſpoſe any of his Majeſties Kingdoms or Dominions, or to authoriſe any Forein Prince to invade or annoy him, or his Countries, or to diſcharge any of his Subjects of their Allegiance and Obedience to his Majeſty, or to give licence or leave to any of them to bear Arms, raiſe Tumult, or to offer any violence or hurt to his Majeſties Royal Perſon, State, or Government, or to any of his Majeſties Subjects within his Majeſties Dominions.

Alſo I do ſwear from my heart, That notwithſtanding any Declaration or Sentence of Excommunication, or deprivation made or granted, or to be made or granted by the Pope or his Succeſſors, or by any authority derived, or pretended to be derived from him or his See, againſt the ſaid King, his Heirs or Succeſſors, or any Abſolution of the ſaid Subjects from their Obedience: I will bear Faith and true Allegiance to his Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, and him and them will defend to the uttermoſt of my Power, againſt all Conſpiracies and Contempts whatſoever, which ſhall be made againſt his or their Perſons, their Crown and Dignity, by reaſon or colour of any ſuch Sentence or Declaration, or otherwiſe, and will do my beſt endeavour to diſcloſe and make known unto his Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, all Treaſons and trayterous Conſpiracies, which I ſhall know or hear of to be againſt him or any of them.

And I do further ſwear, That I do from my heart abhor, deteſt, and abjure, as impious and heretical, this damnable Doctrine and Poſition, That Princes which be excommunicated or deprived by the Pope, may be depoſed or murthered by their Subjects, or any other whatſoever.

And I do believe, and in my Conſcience am reſolved, That neither the Pope, nor any perſon whatſoever, hath power to abſolve me of this Oath, or any part thereof, which I acknowledge by good and full authority to be lawfully miniſtred unto me, and do renounce all Pardons and Diſpenſations to the contrary. And all theſe things I do plainly and ſincerely acknowledge and ſwear, according to theſe expreſſe words by me ſpoken, and according to the plain and common ſenſe and underſtanding of the ſame words, without any Equivocation, or mental Evaſion, or ſecret Reſervation whatſoever. And I do make this recognition and acknowledgment heartily, willingly, and truly, upon the true faith of a Chriſtian. So help me God.

Unto which Oath ſo taken, the ſaid perſon ſhall ſubſcribe his or her name or mark.

No Inditement of a Recuſant ſhall be reverſed for default of form.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no Inditment or Inditments had or found, or hereafter to be had or found againſt any perſon or perſons, for not repairing to ſome Church or Chappel, or uſual place of Common-Prayer, but abſenting him or her ſelf by the ſpace of one moneth, contrary to the Laws and Statutes in that behalf provided, or for not receiving the ſaid Sacrament contrary to this preſent Law, Nor any

Proclamation, Utlawry, or other proceeding thereupon, ſhall at any time hereafter be avoided, diſcharged or reverſed, by reaſon of any default in form, or lack of form, or other defect whatſoever (other than by direct Traverſe to the point of not coming to Church, or not receiving the ſaid Sacrament) whereof ſuch perſon or perſons hath been or ſhall be indicted, but the ſame Indictment ſhall ſtand in force, and be proceeded upon: Any ſuch default of form, or other defect whatſoever notwithſtanding.

Coke 11. fol. 8.

He that conformeth himſelf, may traverſe an Indictment.

Provided alwayes, That if any perſon or perſons ſo indicted, or to be indicted, ſhall at any time hereafter ſubmit and conform him or her ſelf, and become obedient to the Laws of the Church of England, and repair to the Pariſh-Church of his or their moſt abiding; and if there be none ſuch, then to the Church next adjoyning to his or her ſuch dwelling, and there hear Divine Service, according to the true meaning of the Statute in that behalf made and provided, and there publickly receive the ſaid Sacrament, according to the Laws of this Realm of England now eſtabliſhed: That then every ſuch perſon and perſons ſo indicted, ſhall and may from thenceforth be admitted and allowed to avoid, diſcharge, reverſe and undo the ſaid Indictment and Indictments, and all proceedings thereupon in ſuch manner and form, as if this preſent Act had not been had nor made: Any thing herein contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

He ſhall take the Oath which goeth out of the Realm to ſerve a forein Prince.

And foraſmuch as it is found by late experience, That ſuch as go voluntarily out of this Realm of England, to ſerve forein Princes, States or Potentates, are for the moſt part perverted in their Religion and Loyalty by Jeſuites and Fugitives, with whom they do there converſe: Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every Subject of this Realm that after the tenth day of June next coming, ſhall go or paſſe out of this Realm to ſerve any forein Prince, State or Potentate, or ſhall after the ſaid tenth day of June paſs over the Seas, and there ſhall voluntarily ſerve any ſuch forein Prince, State or Potentate, not having before his or their going or paſſing as aforeſaid, taken the Oath aforeſaid, before the Officer hereafter appointed, ſhall be a Felon.

A Gentleman, Captain, or Lieutenant ſerving a forein Prince, ſhall be bound to the King, &c.

And that if any Gentleman or perſon of higher degree, or any perſon or perſons which hath borne, or ſhall bear any Office or Place of Captain, Lieutenant, or any other place, charge or office in Camp, Army, or Company of Souldiers, or Conduct of Souldiers, ſhall after go or paſs voluntarily out of this Realm, to ſerve any ſuch forein Prince, State or Potentate, or ſhall voluntarily ſerve any ſuch Prince, State or Potentate, before that he and they ſhall become bound by obligation, with two ſuch Sureties as ſhall be allowed of by the Officers, which are hereafter by this Act limited, to take the ſame Bond unto our Soveraign Lord the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs or Succeſſors, in the ſum of twenty pounds of currant Engliſh money at the leaſt, with Condition to the effect following, ſhall be a Felon.

The tenor of which Condition followeth, viz.

That if the within bounden, &c. ſhall not at any time then after be reconciled to the Pope or See of Rome, nor ſhall enter into, or conſent unto any Practice, Plot, or Conſpiracy whatſoever againſt the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, or any his and their Eſtate and Eſtates, Realms or Dominions; but ſhall within convenient time after knowledge thereof had, reveal and diſcloſe to the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, or ſome of the Lords of his or their Honorable Privy Council, all ſuch Practices, Plots and Conſpiracies, That then the ſaid Obligation to be void.

Who ſhall take the Obligation, and miniſter the Oath.

And that for the due execution of this Branch of this preſent Law, it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the Cuſtomer and Controller of every Port, Haven or Creek, or one of them, and their or either of their Deputy or Deputies, and none other, to receive and accept all and every ſuch Bond and Obligation to and for the uſes aforeſaid, and to miniſter and give the Oath aforeſaid, according to the true intent of this Statute, (taking for ſuch Bond ſix pence, and no more, and for the ſaid Oath no Fee at all) Which ſaid Cuſtomer and Controller ſhall regiſter and certifie all and every ſuch Bond and Oath ſo taken, into the Court of Exchequer at Weſtminſter once every year, upon pain of five pounds for every Bond not ſo certified, and twenty ſhillings for every Oath not ſo certified.

Forfeiture for not certificate.

Provided alwayes, That this laſt mentioned Branch ſhall not extend to any perſon or perſons which are already gone, or ſhall go beyond the Seas to ſerve any forein Prince, State or Potentate, before the tenth day of June next coming, for his ſaid going or paſſing before the ſaid tenth day of June.

Putting in practice to abſolve or withdraw any from obedience, or to reconcile them to the Pope. Stat. 21 Eliz. 1.

And further be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons at any time after the ſaid tenth day of June, ſhall either upon the Seas, or beyond the Seas, or in any other place within the Dominions of the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs or Succeſſors, put in practice to abſolve, perſwade, or withdraw any of the Subjects of the Kings Majeſty, or of his Heirs and Succeſſors of this Realm of England, from their natural obedience to his Majeſty, his Heirs or Succeſſors, or to reconcile them to the Pope or See of Rome, or to move them or any of them to promiſe obedience to any pretended authority to the See of Rome, or to any other Prince, State or Potentate, That then every ſuch perſon, their procurers, counſellors, aiders and maintainers, knowing the ſame, ſhall be to all intents adjudged Traytors, and being thereof lawfully convicted, ſhall have judgment, ſuffer and forfeit as in caſes of high Treaſon.

Being withdrawn, or reconciled.

And if any ſuch perſon as aforeſaid, at any time after the ſaid tenth day of June ſhall be either upon the Seas, or beyond the Seas, or in any other place within the Dominions of the Kings Majeſty, his heirs or ſucceſſors, willingly abſolved or withdrawn, as aforeſaid, or willingly reconciled, or ſhall promiſe obedience to any ſuch pretended authority, Prince, State or Potentate, as aforeſaid, That every ſuch perſon and perſons, their procurers and counſellors, aiders and maintainers, knowing the ſame, ſhall be to all intents adjudged Traytors, and being thereof lawfully convicted, ſhall have judgment, ſuffer and forfeit as in caſes of high Treaſon.

A reconciled perſon taking the Oath.

Provided nevertheleſſe, That the laſt mentioned Clauſe of this Branch, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend, or be taken to extend to any perſon or perſons whatſoever, which ſhall hereafter be reconciled to the Pope or See of Rome, as aforeſaid (for and touching the point of ſo being reconciled only) that ſhall return into this Realm, and thereupon within ſix dayes next after ſuch return before the Biſhop of the Dioceſs, or two Juſtices of Peace (joyntly or ſeverally) of the County where he ſhall arrive, ſubmit himſelf to his Majeſty and his Laws, and take the Oath ſet forth by Act in the firſt year of the Reign of the late Queen Elizabeth (commonly called the Oath of Supremacy) as alſo the Oath before ſet down in this preſent Act, which ſaid Oaths the ſaid Biſhop and Juſtices reſpectively ſhall have power and authority by this preſent Act to miniſter to ſuch perſons as aforeſaid. And the ſaid Oaths ſo taken, the ſaid Biſhop and Juſtices before whom the ſaid Oaths ſhall be ſo taken reſpectively, ſhall certifie at the next general or quarter Seſſions of the Peace, to be holden within the ſaid Shire, Limit, Diviſion or Liberty, wherein ſuch perſon as aforeſaid ſhall ſubmit himſelf, and take the ſaid Oaths as aforeſaid, upon pain of every one neglecting to certifie the ſame as aforeſaid, the ſum of forty pounds.

Where the trial ſhall be.

And be it further enacted, That all and every perſon and perſons that ſhall offend contrary to this preſent Branch of this Statute, ſhall be indicted, tryed, and proceeded againſt, by and before the Juſtices of Aſſize and Gaol-delivery of that County for the time being, or before the Juſtices of the Court of Kings Bench, and be there proceeded againſt according to the Laws and Statutes of this Realm againſt Traytors, as if the ſaid offence had been committed in the ſame County where ſuch perſon or perſons ſhall ſo be taken: Any Law, Cuſtom, or Statute to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Peers.

Provided alwayes, That if any Peer of this Realm ſhall happen to be indicted of any offence made Treaſon by this Act, he ſhall have his Trial by his Peers, as in other like caſes of Treaſon is accuſtomed.

And be it further enacted, That if any Subject of this Realm, at any time after one moneth next after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall not reſort or repair every Sunday to ſome Church, Chappel, or ſome other uſual place appointed for Common-Prayer, and there hear Divine Service, according to the Statute made in that behalf, in the firſt year of the Reign of the late Queen Elizabeth, that then it ſhall and may be lawful to and for any one Juſtice of Peace of that Limit, Diviſion or Liberty, wherein the ſaid party ſhall dwell, upon proof unto him made of ſuch default by confeſſion of the party, or oath of witneſſe, to call the ſaid party before him: And if he or ſhe ſhall not make a ſufficient excuſe, and due proof thereof, to the ſatisfaction of the ſaid Juſtice of Peace, That it ſhall be lawfull for the ſaid Juſtice of Peace to give Warrant to the Church-warden of the ſaid Pariſh wherein the ſaid party ſhall dwell, under his hand and ſeal, to levy twelve pence for every ſuch default, by diſtreſſe and ſale of the goods of every ſuch Offendor, rendring to the ſaid Offendor the overplus of the money raiſed of the ſaid goods ſo to be ſold. And that in default of ſuch diſtreſſe, it ſhall and may be lawful for the ſaid Juſtice of Peace, to commit every ſuch Offendor to ſome priſon within the ſaid Shire, Diviſion, Limit or Liberty, wherein ſuch Offendor ſhall be inhabiting, untill payment be made of the ſaid ſum or ſums ſo to be forfeited; which forfeiture ſhall be imployed to and for the uſe of the poor of that Pariſh wherein the Offendor ſhall be reſident or abiding at the time of ſuch offence committed.

The forfeiture for not repairing to Church weekly.

Within what time the Offendor ſhall be impeached.

Provided, That no man be impeached upon this Clauſe, except he be called in queſtion for his ſaid default, within one moneth next after the ſaid default made.

But once puniſhed for one offence.

And that no man being puniſhed according to this Branch, ſhall for the ſame offence be puniſhed by the forfeiture of twelve pence, upon the Law made in the firſt year of the late Queen Elizabeth.

A repeal of two branches of the Statute of 35 El.

And becauſe in one Act of Parliament begun and holden at Weſtminſter in the five and thirtieth year of the late Queen Elizabeth, entituled, An Act to retain the Queens Majeſties Subjects in their due obedience, There are two Branches contained, the firſt beginning thus:

(And for that every perſon having houſe or family, is in duty bounden to have eſpecial regard of the good government and ordering of the ſame) and ſo forth to the next clauſe, beginning thus: (Provided nevertheleſſe, that this Act ſhall not in any wiſe extend to puniſh or impeach any perſons for relieving, &c. ending with theſe words, Any thing in this Act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding) which ſaid two Branches or Clauſes are found defective.

Be it therefore enacted, That the ſaid two Branches or Clauſes of the ſaid Act, and no more, ſhall be by authority of this preſent Parliament, utterly repealed and made void.

Relieving or keeping a Recuſant in his houſe.

And in lieu thereof be it enacted, That every perſon and perſons, which after one moneth next after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall willingly maintain, retain, relieve, keep, or harbour in his or their houſe, any ſervant, ſojourner or ſtranger, who ſhall not go to, or repair to ſome Church or Chappel, or uſual place of Common-Prayer, to hear Divine Service, but ſhall forbear the ſame by the ſpace of one moneth together, not having a reaſonable excuſe, contrary to the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, ſhall forfeit ten pounds for every moneth that he, ſhe, or they ſhall ſo relieve, maintain, retain, keep, or harbour any ſuch ſervant, ſojourner, eſtranger in his or their houſe, ſo forbearing as aforeſaid.

Retaining a Recuſant in his ſervice, fee, or livery.

And that every perſon which ſhall within the time aforeſaid, retain or keep in his, her, or their ſervice, fee or livery, any perſon or perſons, which ſhall not go to, or repair to ſome Church, Chappel, or uſual place of Common-Prayer, to hear Divine Service, but ſhall forbear the ſame by the ſpace of one moneth together, ſhall for every moneth, he, ſhe, or they ſhall ſo retain, keep, or continue in his, her, or their ſervice, fee, or livery, any ſuch perſon or perſons ſo forbearing as aforeſaid, knowing the ſame, ten pounds, the ſame penalties to be recovered and imployed in manner and form hereafter following.

The Father, Mother, ward, &c. perſon committed by authority.

Provided nevertheleſs, That this Act ſhall not in any wiſe extend to puniſh or impeach any perſon or perſons, for maintaining, retaining, relieving, keeping or harbouring his, her or their Father or Mother, wanting, without fraud or covin, other habitation, or ſufficient maintenance, or the Ward of any ſuch perſon, or any perſon that ſhall be committed by authority to the cuſtody of any by whom they ſhall be ſo relieved, maintained or kept: Any thing in this act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Breaking a houſe to take a Recuſant excommunicate.

And be it further Enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That upon any lawful Writ, Warrant or Proceſs awarded to any Sheriff or other Officer, for the taking or apprehending of any Popiſh Recuſant, ſtanding excommunicated for ſuch recuſancy, it ſhall be lawful for ſuch Sheriff, or other Officer, authorized in that behalf, if need be, to break open any houſe wherein ſuch perſon excommunicate ſhall be, or to raiſe the power of the County, for the apprehending of ſuch perſon, and the better execution of ſuch Warrant, Writ or Proceſs.

In what Courts the offences ſhall be heard and determined.

And be it further Enacted, That all and every offence to be committed or done againſt this preſent Act, ſhall and may be enquired of, heard and determined before the Juſtices of the Kings Bench, Juſtices of Aſſize and Gaol-delivery, in their ſeveral Aſſizes and Gaol-deliveries. And all offences, other than Treaſon, ſhall be enquired, heard and determined before the Juſtices of peace in their general or quarter-Seſſions to be holden within the Shire, Diviſion, Limit or Liberty, wherein ſuch offence ſhal happen.

Attainder of Felony no forfeiture of Dower, or corruption of Blood.

Provided always, and be it Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That any attainder of Felony made Felony by this Act, as is aforeſaid, ſhall not in any wiſe extend to take away the Dower of the wife of any ſuch perſon attainted, or be any bar for the recovery of the ſame, nor ſhall make or work any corruption of Blood, or Diſheriſon of any the heir or heirs of any ſuch perſon or perſons ſo attainted: This Act, or any thing therein contained, to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The plea to an Action brought for doing any thing by force of this Statute.

And be it further Enacted, That if any action or actions ſhall at any time hereafter be commenced or brought againſt any perſon or perſons, doing, committing, or commanding any act or thing, for or concerning the execution of this preſent Statute, or any article or clauſe therein contained, That then every defendant in ſuch action and actions may plead the general iſſue, and be received to maintain the ſame, by any evidence that ſhall prove his doings and proceedings warrantable by this Law.

The authority of the Eccleſiaſtical Court reſerved.

Provided alwaies, That neither this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall extend to take away or abridge the authority or juriſdiction of the Eccleſiaſtical Cenſures, for any cauſe or matter, But that the Commiſſioners of his Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, in cauſes Eccleſiaſtical for the time being, and the Archbiſhops, Biſhops, and other Eccleſiaſtical Judges may do and proceed, as before the making of this act they lawfully did or might have done: Any thing in this act to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

No forfeiture for the wives offence.

Provided alwaies, and be it Enacted, That no perſon ſhall be charged or chargeable with any penalty or forfeiture by force of this act, which ſhall happen for his wives offence in not receiving the ſaid Sacrament during her marriage, nor that any woman ſhall be charged or chargeable with any penalty or forfeiture by force of this act, for any ſuch offence of not receiving, which ſhall happen during her marriage.

Who may take the Oath of a Noble man or woman.
Co. pla. f.434.

Provided alſo, and be it Enacted by authority of this Parliament, That in all cauſes where any Biſhop or Juſtices of the peace may by force of this act require and take of any Subject the Oath above mentioned, That the Lords of the Privy Council for the time being, or any ſix of them, whereof the Lord Chancellor, Lord Treaſurer, or the principal Secretary for the time to be one, ſhall have full power and authority by force of this act, at any time or times, to require and take the ſaid Oaths before mentioned, of any Noble-man or Noble-woman (then being above the age of eighteen years;) And if any ſuch Noble-man or Noble-woman (other then women married) ſhall refuſe to take ſuch Oath or Oaths, That in every ſuch caſe ſuch Noble-man or Noble-woman ſhall incur the pain and danger of a Premunire,

Who ſhall take the Oath in the Cinque-Ports.

Provided alſo, and be it Enacted by authority of this Parliament, That where any perſon or perſons ſhall go or paſſe out of the Cinque-ports, or any member thereof, to any parts beyond the Seas, to ſerve any forein Prince, State or Potentate; That in every ſuch caſe, the Lord Warden of the Cinque-ports for the time being, or any perſon by him in that behalf appointed or to be appointed, ſhall have full power and authority by vertue hereof, to take the Bond, and miniſter the Oath to ſuch Paſſengers, as is above mentioned.

CAP. V.

An Act to prevent and avoid dangers which may grow by Popiſh Recuſants.

VVhereas divers Jeſuits, Seminaries and Popiſh Prieſts daily do withdraw many of his Majeſties Subjects from the true Service of Almighty God, and the Religion eſtabliſhed within this Realm, to the Romiſh Religion, and from their loyal obedience to his Majeſty, and have of late ſecretly perſwaded divers Recuſants and Papiſts, and encouraged and emboldened them to commit moſt damnable Treaſons, tending to the overthrow of Gods true Religion, the deſtruction of his Majeſty and his Royal Iſſue, and the overthrow of the whole State and Commonwealth, if God of his goodneſſe and mercy had not within few hours before the intended time of the execution thereof, revealed and diſcloſed the ſame: Wherefore to diſcover and prevent ſuch ſecret damnable Conſpiracies and Treaſons, as hereafter may be put in ure by ſuch evil diſpoſed perſons, if remedy be not therefore provided, Be it Enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That ſuch perſon as ſhall firſt diſcover to any Juſtice of peace, any Recuſant or other perſon which ſhall entertain or relieve any Jeſuit, Seminary, or Popiſh Prieſt, or ſhall diſcover any Maſs to have been ſaid, and the perſons that were preſent at ſuch Maſs, and the Prieſt that ſaid the ſame, or any of them, within three daies next after the offence committed, and that by reaſon of ſuch diſcovery any of the ſaid offendors be taken and convicted or attainted, That then the perſon which hath made ſuch diſcovery, ſhall not only be freed from the danger and penalty of any Law for ſuch offence, if he be an offendor therein, but alſo ſhal have the third part of the forfeiture of all ſuch ſums of money, goods, chattels and debts, which ſhall be forfeited by ſuch offence, (ſo as the ſame total forfeiture exceed not the ſum of one hundred and fifty pounds; and if it exceed the ſum of one hundred and fifty pounds, the ſaid perſon ſo diſcovering the ſaid offence, ſhall have the ſum of fifty pounds only for every ſuch diſcovery:) And ſuch perſon ſo diſcovering the ſame, after conviction of the offendor, ſhall have a Certificate from the Judges or Juſtices of peace, before whom ſuch conviction ſhall happen to be directed to the Sheriff or other Officer of the ſame county, limit or place, that ſhall ſeize the goods, or levy the ſaid forfeiture, commanding the ſaid Sheriff or other Officer to pay the ſame accordingly to him that ſo diſcovered the ſame, out of the monies to be levied by vertue of the ſaid forfeitures; which warrant and paiment ſhall be effectual in the Law for that purpoſe, and a ſufficient diſcharge in that behalf for the Sheriff or other Officer upon his accompt.

The reward of him which diſcovereth a Prieſt or Maſs.

A Recuſant ſhall not come to the Court.

And whereas the repair of ſuch evil-affected perſons to the Court or to the City of London may be very dangerous to his Majeſties perſon, and may give them more liberty to meet, conſult and plot their treaſons and practiſes againſt the State, than if they ſhould be reſtrained and confined unto their private houſes in the Country: For remedy hereof, Be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no Popiſh Recuſant convicted, or to be convicted, ſhall come into the Court or Houſe where the Kings Majeſty, or his Heir apparent to the Crown of England ſhall be, unleſs he be commanded ſo to do by the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, or by Warrant in writing from the Lords and others of the moſt honourable Privy Council of the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, or any of them, upon pain to forfeit for every time ſo offending, one hundred pounds, the one moiety to the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, the other moiety to him that will diſcover and ſue for the ſame, by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, in any of his Majeſties Courts of Recor, wherein no eſſoin, protection or wager of law ſhall be allowed.

Recuſants ſhall depart from London.

And that all Popiſh Recuſants indicted or convicted, and all other perſons which have not repaired to ſome uſual Church or Chappel, and there heard Divine Service, but have forborne the ſame by the ſpace of three moneths laſt paſt, contrary to the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, dwelling, abiding, or remaining within the City of London or the liberties thereof, or within, ten miles of the ſaid City, ſhall within three months next after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, depart from the ſaid City of London, and ten miles compaſs of the ſame, and alſo ſhall deliver up their names to the Lord Mayor of London, in caſe ſuch Recuſant do dwell or remain within the City of London, or the liberties thereof: And in caſe the ſaid Recuſant ſhall dwell or remain in any other County within ten miles of the ſame City, then the ſaid Recuſant ſhall deliver up his or her name to the next Juſtice of peace within ſuch County where the ſaid Recuſant ſhall ſo dwell or remain, within forty dayes after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, upon pain that every perſon offending herein, ſhall forfeit to our Soveraign Lord the Kings Majeſty, his heirs and ſucceſſors, the ſum of one hundred pounds, The one moiety whereof ſhall be to the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, the other moiety to him or them that will ſue for the ſame by action of debt, bill, plaint or information, in any of the Kings Majeſties Courts of Record, wherein no eſſoin, protection, or wager of law ſhall be admitted or allowed,

And that all Popiſh Recuſants, which ſhall hereafter come, dwell or remain within the ſaid City of London, or the Liberties thereof, or within ten miles of the ſaid City, which now are, or hereafter ſhall be indicted or convicted of ſuch Recuſancie, or which ſhall at any time hereafter not repair unto ſome uſual Church or Chappel, and there hear Divine Service, but ſhall forbear the ſame by the ſpace of three moneths, contrary to the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, ſhall within ten dayes after ſuch Indictment, or Conviction, depart from the ſaid City of London, and ten miles compaſs of the ſame, and alſo ſhall deliver up their names to the Lord Mayor of London for the time being, in caſe ſuch Recuſant ſhall dwell or remain within the ſaid City of London, or the liberties thereof: And in caſe the ſaid Recuſant ſhall dwel or remain in any other County within ten miles of the ſaid City, then the ſaid Recuſant ſhall deliver up his or her name to the next Juſtice of peace within ſuch County where the ſaid Recuſant ſhall ſo dwell or remain, within the ſaid ten dayes next after ſuch indictment or conviction, Upon pain that every perſon offending herein, ſhall likewiſe forfeit to our ſaid Soveraign Lord the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, the like ſum of an hundred pounds. The one moiety whereof ſhall be to the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other to him or them that will ſue for the ſame by action of debt, bill, plaint or information, in any of the Kings Majeſties Courts of Records, wherein no Eſſoine, Protection, or wager of Law ſhall be admitted or allowed.

Tradeſmen and Dwellers in London.

Provided alwayes, That ſuch perſon or perſons as now uſe any trade, myſtery, or manual occupation within the ſaid city of London, or within ten miles of the ſame, and ſuch as have or ſhall have their onely dwelling within the ſaid City or ten miles compaſs of the ſame, not having any other dwelling or place of abode elſewhere, ſhall or may remain and continue in ſuch place within the ſaid City, or ten miles of the ſame, as they have dwelled, inhabited, or remained in by the ſpace of three months next before this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, any thing herein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

And

35 El. 2.

A Recuſant confined.

A Repeal of a Proviſo contained in the ſtat. of 35 El. 2. touching licence to Recuſants.

And whereas by a Statute made at Weſtminſter in the five and thirtieth year of the reign of Queen Elizabeth, entituled, An Act for the reſtraining of Popiſh Recuſants to ſome certain place of abode, it was amongſt other things ordained and enacted, That every Popiſh Recuſant then or after convicted for not repairing to Church, Chappel, or uſual place of Common prayer, having any certain place of dwelling & abode within this Realm, ſhould within the time limited by the ſaid Statute, repair to their place of uſual dwelling and abode, or not having any certain place of dwelling or abode within this Realm, ſhould likewiſe within the time limited by the ſaid Statute, repair to the place where ſuch perſon was born, or where the Father or Mother of ſuch perſon ſhould be dwelling, and not at any time remove or paſs above five miles from thence, under the pains in the ſaid Statute limited and provided: Which Statute, by reaſon of ſundry Licences given unto ſuch Recuſants, under colour of a Proviſo in the ſaid Statute contained, hath not wrought that good effect in the Commonwealth as was hoped: Be it therefore enacted and ordained by this preſent Parliament, and by the authority of the ſame, That the ſaid Statute made in the ſaid five and thirtieth year of the ſaid Queen Elizabeth, for and concerning the confining of the ſaid Recuſants, under the pains and penalties therein contained, ſhall by this act, and by the authority of the ſame, be confirmed, and be hereafter put in due execution, according to the tenor, true intent and meaning of the ſaid Statute in that behalf made: And that the ſaid Proviſo in the ſaid Statute contained, giving power to grant Licence or Licences unto the ſaid Recuſants, to go and travel from or out of the compaſs of the ſaid five miles, ſhall be from and after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, utterly repealed and void; Any thing in the ſaid Statute to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Licence to a Recuſant confined.

Cro. Jac. 352.

The effect of a Licence to be granted by four Juſtices of Peace.

Provided nevertheleſs, and be it further Enacted by this preſent Parliament, and by the authority of the ſame, That it ſhall and may be lawful for the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, or for three or more of his Majeſties moſt honourable Privy Council, or for three or more of the Privy Council of his Heirs and Succeſſors, in writing under the hands of the ſaid Privy Councellors, to give Licence to every ſuch Recuſant to go and travel out of the compaſs of the ſaid five miles, for ſuch time as in the ſaid Licence ſhall be contained, for their travelling, attending, and returning, and without any other cauſe to be expreſſed within the ſaid Licence. And if any of the perſons which are ſo confined by vertue of the ſaid Statute, as is aforeſaid, ſhall have neceſſary occaſion or buſineſs to go and travel out of the compaſs of the ſaid five miles, That then, and in every ſuch caſe, upon Licence in writing in that behalf to be begotten, under the hands and ſeals of four of the Juſtices of peace of the ſame County, Limit, Diviſion, or place next adjoyning to the place of abode of ſuch Recuſant, with the privity and aſſent in writing of the Biſhop of the Dioceſſe, or of the Lieutenant, or of any Deputy-Lieutenant of the ſame County, reſiding within the ſaid County or Liberty, under their hands and ſeals; In every of which Licence or Licences in writing ſo to be had and made, ſhall be ſpecified and contained both the particular cauſe of the ſaid Licence, and the time how long the ſaid party licenced ſhall be abſent, in travelling, attending, and returning. It ſhall and may thereupon be lawful for every ſuch perſon ſo licenced, to go and travel about ſuch their neceſſary buſineſs, and for ſuch time only for their travelling, attending, and returning, as ſhall be compriſed in the ſaid Licence, the ſaid party ſo licenced firſt taking his corporal Oath before the ſaid four Juſtices of the peace, or any of them (who ſhall have authority by vertue of this Act to miniſter the ſame) that he hath truly informed them of the cauſe of his journey, and that he ſhall not make any cauſeleſs ſtayes: And that all and every licence hereafter to be made in this behalf, contrary to the tenor, effect and true meaning of this Statute, ſhall be utterly void, fruſtrate, and of none effect, any thing in the ſaid former Act, or in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding. And every perſon ſo confined, which ſhall depart or go above five miles from the place whereunto he is or ſhall be confined, not having ſuch licence, and not having taken ſuch oath as aforeſaid, ſhall incur the pain and penalty, and forfeit as a Recuſant condicted, and paſſing or going above five miles from the ſaid place whereunto he is or ſhall be confined by the ſaid Statute of Triceſimo quinto Elizabethæ, ſhould do.

A Recuſant diſabled to practiſe certain offices and functions.

And be it further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no Recuſant convict ſhall at any time after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, practiſe the Common Law of this Realm, as a Chancellor, Clerk, Attorney or Solicitor in the ſame, nor ſhall practiſe the Civil Law as Advocate or Proctor, nor practiſe Phyſick, nor uſe or exerciſe the Trade or Art of an Apothecary, nor ſhall be Judge, Miniſter, Clerk, or Steward, of, or in any Court, or keep any Court, nor ſhall be Regiſter or Town-Clerk, or other Miniſter or Officer in any Court, nor ſhall bear any office or charge, as Captain, Lieutenant, Corporal, Sergeant, Ancient-bearer, or other office in Camp, Troop, Band or Company of Souldiers; nor ſhall be Captain, Maſter, Governour, or bear any office of charge of or in any Ship, Caſtle, or Fortreſs of the Kings Majeſties, his Heirs and Succeſſors, but be utterly diſabled for the ſame: And every perſon offending herein, ſhall alſo forfeit for every ſuch offence, One hundred pounds, The one moiety whereof ſhall be to the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors; and the other moiety to him that will ſue for the ſame by action of debt, bill, plaint or information, in any of the Kings Majeſties Courts of Record, wherein no Eſſoin, Protection or Wager of Law ſhall be admitted or allowed.

No Recuſant ſhall be a publick Officer.

And be it alſo Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no Popiſh Recuſant convict, nor any having a wife being a Popiſh Recuſant convict, ſhall at any time after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, or any Popiſh Recuſant hereafter to be convict, or having a wife which hereafter ſhall be a Popiſh Recuſant convict, at any time after his or her conviction, ſhall exerciſe any publick Office or Charge in the Commonwealth, but ſhall be utterly diſabled to exerciſe the ſame by himſelf, or by his Deputy, (Except ſuch husband himſelf, and his children which ſhall be above the age of nine years abiding with him, and his ſervants in houſhold, ſhall once every moneth at the leaſt, not having any reaſonable excuſe to the contrary, repair to ſome Church or Chappel, uſual for Divine Service, and there hear Divine Service; And the ſaid husband, and ſuch his children and ſervants as are of meet age, receive the Sacrament of the Lords Supper at ſuch times as are limited by the Lawes of this Realm, and do bring up his ſaid children in true Religion.)

A woman married Recuſant. Stat. 7 Jac. 6.

And be it alſo Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every married woman, being, or that ſhall be a Popiſh Recuſant convict (her husband not ſtanding convicted of Popiſh Recuſancy) which ſhall not conform her ſelf, and remain conformed, but ſhall forbear to repair to ſome Church or uſual place of Common Prayer, and there to hear Divine Service and Sermon, if any then be, and within the ſaid year receive the Sacrament of the Lords Supper, according to the Laws of this Realm, by the ſpace of one whole year next before the death of her ſaid husband, ſhall forfeit and loſe to the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, the iſſues and profits of two parts of her Joynture, and two parts of her Dower in three parts to be divided during her life, of, or out of any the lands, tenements or hereditaments, which are or were her ſaid husbands, and alſo be diſabled to be Executrix or Adminiſtratrix of her ſaid husband, and to have or demand any part or portion of her ſaid late husbands goods or chattels, by any law, cuſtome, or uſage whatſoever.

A Recuſant ſhall be as excommunicated.

And be it further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every Popiſh Recuſant which is or ſhall be convicted of Popiſh Recuſancy, ſhall ſtand and be reputed to all intents and purpoſes diſabled, as a perſon lawfully and duly excommunicated, and as if he or ſhe had been ſo denounced and excommunicated according to the Laws of this Realm, until he or ſhe ſo diſabled ſhall conform him and her ſelf, and come to Church, and hear Divine Service, and receive the Sacrament of the Lords Supper, according to the laws of this Realm, and alſo take the Oath appointed and preſcribed in one other Act made this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, entituled, An Act for the better diſcovering and repreſſing of Popiſh Recuſants. And that every perſon and perſons ſued or to be ſued by ſuch perſon ſo to be diſabled, ſhall and may plead the ſame in diſabling of ſuch Plaintiff, as if he or ſhe were excommunicated by ſentence in the Eccleſiaſtical Court.

What actions a Recuſant may proſecute.

Provided nevertheleſs, That it ſhall and may be lawful for any ſuch perſon ſo diſabled, for and notwithſtanding any thing in this Law contained, to ſue or proſecute any Action or Suit, for or concerning only ſuch of his or her lands, tenements, leaſes, rents, annuities, and hereditaments, or for the iſſues and profits thereof, which are not to be ſeized, or taken into the Kings hands, his Heirs or Succeſſors, by force of any law, for or concerning his or her Recuſancy, or any part thereof.

Recuſants marriages by Prieſts, &c.

And for that Popiſh Recuſants are not uſually married, nor their children chriſtned, nor themſelves buried according to the Law of the Church of England, but the ſame are done ſuperſtitiouſly by Popiſh perſons in ſecret, whereby the dayes of their marriages, births and burials cannot be certainly known: Be it further Enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That every man being, or which ſhall be a Popiſh Recuſant convicted, and who ſhall be hereafter married otherwiſe than in ſome open Church or Chappel, and otherwiſe than according to the orders of the Church of England, by a Miniſter lawfully authorized, ſhall be utterly diſabled and excluded to have any Eſtate of Freehold into any the lands, tenements and hereditaments of his Wife as tenant by the Courteſie of England: And that every woman being, or which ſhall be a Popiſh Recuſant convicted, and who ſhall be hereafter married in other form than as aforeſaid, ſhall be utterly excluded and diſabled, not onely to claim any dower of the inheritance of her husband, whereof ſhe may be endowable, or any joynture of the lands and hereditaments of her husband, or any of his Anceſtors, but alſo of her widows eſtate, and Frank-bank in any cuſtomary lands, whereof her husband died ſeiſed, and likewiſe be diſabled and excluded to have or enjoy any part or portion of the goods of her ſaid husband, by vertue of any Cuſtom of any County, City or place, where the ſame ſhall lie or be. And if any ſuch man ſhall be married with any woman contrary to the intent and true meaning of this Act, which woman hath or ſhall have no lands, tenements, or hereditaments, whereof he may be entituled to be Tenant by the Courteſie, then ſuch man ſo marrying as aforeſaid, ſhall forfeit and loſe C. li. the one half thereof to be to the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety to ſuch perſon or perſons as ſhall ſue for the ſame by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information in any of the Kings Majeſties Courts of Record, wherein no eſſoin, protection, or wager of Law ſhall be admitted or allowed.

The Baptiſm of Recuſants children.

And that every Popiſh Recuſant, which ſhall hereafter have any child born, ſhall within one moneth next after the birth thereof, cauſe the ſame child to be baptized by a lawful Miniſter, according to the Laws of this Realm, in the open Church of the ſame pariſh where the child ſhall be born, or in ſome other Church near adjoyning, or Chappel where Baptiſm is uſually adminiſtred: Or if by infirmity of the child it cannot be brought to ſuch place, then the ſame ſhall within the time aforeſaid, be baptized by the lawful Miniſter of any of the ſaid pariſhes or places aforeſaid, upon pain that the father of ſuch child, if he be living by the ſpace of one moneth next after the birth of ſuch child, or if he be dead within the ſaid moneth, then the mother of ſuch child ſhall for every ſuch offence forfeit C. li. of lawful money of England, one third part whereof to be to the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors; one other third part to the Informer, or him that will ſue for the ſame; and the other third part to the poor of the ſaid pariſh, to be recovered by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, in any of the Kings Majeſties Courts of Record, wherein no eſſoyn, protection, or wager of Law ſhall be admitted or allowed.

And if any Popiſh Recuſant, man or woman, not being excommunicate, ſhall be buried in any place, other then in the Church or Church-yard, or not according to the Eccleſiaſtical Lawes of this Realm, That the Executors or Adminiſtrators of every ſuch perſon ſo buried, knowing the ſame, or the party that cauſeth him to be ſo buried, ſhall forfeit the ſum of xx. li. the one third part whereof ſhall be to our Soveraign Lord the King, the other third part to the Informer, or him or them that will ſue for the ſame; and the other third part to the poor of the pariſh where ſuch perſon dyed, to be recovered by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information in any of the Kings Majeſties courts of record, wherein no eſſoyn, protection or wager of Law ſhall be admitted or allowed.

The forfeiture of children departing the Realm.

And be it further enacted by this preſent Parliament, That if the children of any ſubject within this Realm (the ſaid children not being Souldiers, Mariners, Merchants, or their Apprentices, or Factors) to prevent their good education in England, or for any other cauſe, ſhall hereafter be ſent or go beyond Seas, without Licence of the K. Majeſty, or ſix of his honourable Privy Council (whereof the principal Secretary to be one) under their hands and ſeals, That then all and every ſuch child and children ſo ſent, or which ſhall ſo go beyond the Seas, ſhall take no benefit by any gift, conveyance, deſcent, deviſe, or otherwiſe, of or to any lands, tenements, hereditaments, leaſes, goods or chattels, until he or they being of the age of xviii. years or above, take the Oath mentioned in an act of Parliament made this preſent Seſſion, entituled, An act for the better diſcovering and preſſing of Popiſh recuſants, before ſome Juſtice of peace of the county, liberty, or limit, where ſuch parent of ſuch children, as ſhall be ſo ſent, did or ſhall inhabit and dwell. And that in the mean time the next of his or her kin, which ſhall be no Popiſh recuſant, ſhall have and enjoy the ſaid lands, tenements, hereditaments, leaſes, goods and chattels ſo given, conveyed, deſcended, or deviſed, until ſuch time as the perſon ſo ſent or gone beyond the ſeas, ſhall conform him or her ſelf, and take the aforeſaid Oath, and receive the Sacrament of the Lords Supper. And after ſuch Oath taken, and conforming of himſelf, and receiving the Sacrament of the Suppper of the Lord, he or they which have ſo received the profits of the ſaid land, tenements, hereditaments, goods and chattels, or any of them, ſhall make account of the profits ſo received, and in reaſonable time make payment thereof, and reſtore the value of the ſaid goods to ſuch perſon as ſhall ſo conform him or her ſelf as aforeſaid. And that all ſuch perſons as ſhall ſend the ſaid child or children over ſeas without licence as aforeſaid (unleſs the ſaid child or children be Merchants, or their Aprentices or Factors, Mariners or Souldiers) ſhall forfeit C. li. to be divided, had and recovered in three equal parts, whereof the one third part ſhall be to the King, his heirs and ſucceſſors, the other third part to ſuch as ſhall ſue for the ſame, and the other third part to the poor of ſuch Pariſh where ſuch offendor doth inhabit or remain, by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information in any the Kings Majeſties courts of record, wherein no eſſoin, protection or wager of Law ſhall be admitted or allowed.

The forfeiture of him which ſendeth his child beyond the Sea. 1 Jac. 4. 3 Car. 2.

The forfeiture of the perſons gone beyond Sea.

And for that many ſubjects of this Realm, being neither Merchants, nor their Factors, nor Apprentices, Souldiers, nor Mariners, are of late gone beyond the ſeas without licence, and are not as yet returned, Be it further enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That if any of the ſaid perſons ſo gone beyond the ſeas without licence, which are not yet returned, ſhall not within ſix moneths next after their return into this Realm, then being of the age of xviii. years or more, take the Oath above ſpecified before ſome Juſtice of peace of the County, Liberty, or Limit, where ſuch perſon ſhall inhabit or remain, that then every ſuch offendor ſhall take no benefit by any gift, conveyance, deſcent, deviſe, or otherwiſe, of, or to any lands, tenements, hereditaments, goods or chattels, until he or they being of the ſaid age of xviii. years or above, take the ſaid Oath, and that likewiſe in the mean time the next of kin to the perſon ſo offending, which ſhall be no Popiſh Recuſant, ſhall have and enjoy the ſaid lands, tenements, hereditaments, goods and chattels ſo given, conveyed, deſcended or deviſed, until ſuch time as the perſon ſo offending ſhall conform himſelf, and take the aforeſaid Oath, and receive the ſaid Sacrament of the Lords Supper. And after ſuch conforming, taking of the ſaid Oath, and receiving of the ſaid Sacrament, he or they that ſhall have ſo received the profits of the ſaid lands, tenements, hereditaments, goods and chattels, ſhall make account of the profits ſo received, and in reaſonable time make payment thereof, and of the value of ſuch goods and chattels, to ſuch perſon as ſhall ſo conform him or her ſelf as aforeſaid.

A Recuſant ſhall not preſent to a Benefice, nor grant an advowſon.

And be it further Enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That every perſon or perſons that is or ſhall be a Popiſh Recuſant convict, during the time that he ſhall be or remain a Recuſant, ſhall from and after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, be utterly diſabled to preſent to any Benefice with cure or without cure, Prebend, or any other Eccleſiaſtical Living, or to collate or nominate to any Free-School, Hoſpital or Donative whatſoever, and from the beginning of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall likewiſe be diſabled to grant any avoydance to any Benefice, Prebend, or other Eccleſiaſtical Living.

The Chancellor and Scholars of Oxford ſhall preſent to a Recuſants Benefice.

And that the Chancellor and Scholars of the Univerſity of Oxford, ſo often as any of them ſhall be void, ſhall have the preſentation, nomination, collation and donation of and to every ſuch Benefice, Prebend, or Eccleſiaſtical Living, School, Hoſpital and Donative, ſet, lying, and being in the Counties of Oxford, Kent, Middleſex, Suſſex, Surrey, Hampſhire, Berkſhire, Buckinghamſhire, Glouceſterſhire, Worceſterſhire, Staffordſhire, Warwickſhire, Wiltſhire, Somerſetſhire, Deronſhire, Cornwal, Dorſetſhire, Herefordſhire, Northamptonſhire, Pembrokeſhire, Carmarthenſhire, Brecknockſhire, Monmothſhire, Cardiganſhire, Montgomeryſhire, the City of London, and in every City and Town being a County of it ſelf, lying, and being within any of the limits, or precincts of any of the Counties aforeſaid, or in, or within any of them, as ſhall happen to be void, during ſuch time as the Patron thereof ſhall be and remain a Recuſant convict as aforeſaid.

Coke l.10. f.59.

Coke l.10. f.75

The Chancellor and Scholars of Cambridge.

And that the Chancellor and Scholars of the Univerſity of Cambridge, ſhall have the preſentation, nomination, collation and donation of and to every ſuch Benefice, Prebend or Eccleſiaſtical Living, School, Hoſpital and Donative, ſet, lying and being in the Counties of Hartfordſhire, Bedfordſhire, Cambridgſhire, Huntingtonſhire, Suffolk, Norfolk, Lincolnſhire, Rutlandſhire, Leiceſterſhire, Darbyſhire, Nottinghamſhire, Shropſhire, Cheſhire, Lancaſhire, Yorkſhire, the County of Durham, Northumberland, Cumberland, Weſtmerland, Radnorſhire, Denbſhire, Flintſhire, Carnarvonſhire, Angleſeyſhire, Merionethſhire, Glamorganſhire, and in every City and Town being a County of it ſelf, lying within any of the limits or precincts of any of the Counties laſt before mentioned, or in or within any of them, as ſhall happen to be void during ſuch time as the Patron thereof ſhall be and remain a Recuſant convict as aforeſaid.

Provided, That neither of the ſaid Chancellors nor Scholars of either the ſaid Univerſities, ſhall preſent or nominate to any Benefice with cure, Prebend, or other Eccleſiaſtical Living, any ſuch perſon as ſhall then have any other Benefice with cure of ſouls. And if any ſuch preſentation or nomination ſhall be had or made of any ſuch perſon ſo beneficed, the ſaid preſentation or nomination ſhall be utterly void: Any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

None ſhall be preſented which hath another benefice.

Moreover, becauſe Recuſants convict are not thought meet to be executors or adminiſtrators, to any perſon or perſons whatſoever, nor to have the education of their own children, much leſs of the children of any other of the Kings ſubjects, nor to have the marriage of them: Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That ſuch Recuſants convicted, or which ſhall be convicted at the time of the death of any teſtator, or at the time of the granting of any Adminiſtration, ſhall be diſabled to be Executor or Adminiſtrator by force of any Teſtament hereafter to be made, or letters of Adminiſtration hereafter to be granted, nor ſhall have the cuſtody of any child, as Guardian in Chivalry, Guardian in Socage, or Guardian in Nurture of any lands, tenements, or hereditaments, being Freehold or Copyhold, but ſhall be adjudged diſabled to have any ſuch Wardſhip, or cuſtody of any ſuch child, or of their lands, tenements or hereditaments, being Freehold or Copyhold, as aforeſaid.

A Recuſant ſhall not be executor or adminiſtrator.

A Recuſant ſhall be no guardian.

And that for the better education and preſervation of the ſaid children, and of their eſtates, the next of the kin to ſuch child or children, to whom the ſaid lands, tenements or hereditaments of ſuch child or children cannot lawfully deſcend, who ſhall uſually reſort to ſome Church or Chappel, and there hear Divine Service, and receive the holy Sacrament of the Lords Supper thrice in the year next before, according to the Lawes of this Realm, ſhall have the cuſtody and education of the ſame child, and of his ſaid lands and tenements, being holden in Knights ſervice, until the full age of the ſaid Ward of one and twenty years, And of his ſaid lands, tenements and hereditaments being holden in Socage, as a Guardian in Socage, And of the ſaid lands, tenements and hereditaments holden by Copy of Court-roll of any Manor, ſo long as the cuſtom of the ſaid Manor ſhall permit and allow the ſame, and in every of the ſaid caſes ſhall yield an account of the profits thereof to the ſaid Ward, as the caſe ſhall require.

Who ſhall have the wardſhip.

And that if at any time hereafter, any of the Wards of the Kings Majeſty, or of any other, ſhall be granted or ſold to any Popiſh Recuſant convict, ſuch grant or ſale ſhall be utterly void and of none effect.

The Kings Wards.

And be it further Enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That no perſon or perſons ſhall bring from beyond the Seas, nor ſhall print, ſell, or buy any popiſh Primers, Ladies Pſalters, Manuels, Roſaries, popiſh Catechiſms, Miſſals, Breviaries, Portals, Legends, and Lives of Saints, containing ſuperſtitious matter, printed or written in any language whatſoever, nor any other ſuperſtitious books printed or written in the Engliſh tongue, Upon pain of forfeiture of forty ſhillings for every ſuch book, One third part thereof to be to the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors; one other third part to him that will ſue for the ſame; and the other third part to the poor of the pariſh where ſuch book or books ſhall be found, to be recovered by action of debt, bill, plaint or information in any of the Kings Majeſties Courts of Record, wherein no eſſoyn, protection or wager of Law ſhall be admitted or allowed, And the ſaid books to be burned.

Popiſh books.

And that it ſhall be lawful for any two Juſtices of peace within the limits of their juriſdiction or authority, and to all Mayors, Bayliffs, and chief Officers of Cities and Towns corporate in their Liberties from time to time, to ſearch the houſes and lodgings of every Popiſh Recuſant convict, or of every perſon, whoſe Wife is or ſhall be a Popiſh Recuſant convict, for popiſh Books and reliques of Popery: And that if any Altar, Pix, Beads, Pictures, or ſuch like popiſh reliques, or any popiſh book or books, ſhall be found in their or any of their cuſtody, as in the opinion of the ſaid Juſtices, Mayor, Bayliff, or chief Officer as aforeſaid, ſhall be thought unmeet for ſuch Recuſant as aforeſaid, to have or uſe the ſame, ſhall be preſently defaced and burnt, if it be meet to be burned: And if it be a Crucifix, or other relique of any price, the ſame to be defaced at the general Quarter-Seſſions of the peace, in the County where the ſame ſhall be found, and the ſame ſo defaced to be reſtored to the awner again.

Juſtices may ſearch for books printed, &c.

A Crucifix defaced.

And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all ſuch Armour, Gun-powder and Munition, of whatſoever kinds, as any popiſh recuſant convict within this Realm of England, hath or ſhall have in his houſe or houſes, or elſe-where, or in the hands or poſſeſſion of any other at his or their diſpoſition, ſhall be taken from ſuch popiſh recuſants or others, which have or ſhall have the ſame, to the uſe of ſuch popiſh recuſant, by warrant of four Juſtices of peace at their general or quarter Seſſions to be holden in the ſame county where ſuch popiſh recuſant ſhall be reſident (other than ſuch neceſſary weapons, as ſhall be thought fit by the ſaid four Juſtices of peace to remain and be allowed for the defence of the perſon or perſons of ſuch recuſant, or for the defence of his, her or their houſe or houſes) and that the ſaid Armour and Munition ſo taken, ſhall be kept and maintained at the coſts of ſuch recuſants, in ſuch places as the ſaid four Juſtices of peace at their ſaid Seſſions of the peace ſhall ſet down and appoint.

A Recuſants Armour.

And

The forfeiture of a Recuſant not delivering his Armour.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any ſuch recuſant having, or which ſhall have any ſuch Armour, Gun-powder and Munition, or any of them, or if any other perſon or perſons, which ſhall have any ſuch Armour, Gun-powder and Munition, or any of them to the uſe of any ſuch recuſant, ſhall refuſe to declare or manifeſt unto the ſaid Juſtices of peace or any of them what Armour, he, ſhe, or they have, or ſhall have, or ſhall let, hinder, or diſturb the delivery thereof, to any of the ſaid Juſtices or to any other perſon or perſons authorized by their warrant to take and ſeize the ſame, then every ſuch perſon ſo offending contrary to this ſtatute in this behalf, ſhall forfeit and loſe to the Kings Majeſty, his heirs and ſucceſſors, his and their ſaid Armour, Gun-powder, and Munition, and ſhall alſo be impriſoned by Warrant of or from any Juſtices of peace of ſuch county, by the ſpace of three months, without bail or mainpriſe.

A Recuſant ſhall maintain his Armour.

And yet nevertheleſs be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That notwithſtanding the taking away of ſuch Armour, Gun-powder, and Munition, the ſaid Popiſh recuſant ſhall and may be charged with the maintaining of the ſame, and with the buying, providing, and maintaining of Horſe, and other Armour and Munition, in ſuch ſort, as other his Majeſties ſubjects from time to time ſhall be appointed and commanded, according to their ſeveral abilities and qualities, and that the ſaid Armour and Munition, at the charge of ſuch popiſh recuſant for them and as their own proviſion of Armor and Munition, ſhall be ſhewed at every Muſter, ſhew or uſe of Armour, to be had or made within the ſaid county.

Eccleſiaſtical Cenſures.

Provided always, that neither this act nor any thing therein contained, ſhall extend to take away or abridge the authority or juriſdiction of the Eccleſiaſtical cenſures, for any cauſe or matter, but that the Commiſſioners of his Majeſty, his heirs and ſucceſſors, in cauſes Eccleſiaſtical, for the time being, Archbiſhops, Biſhops, and other Eccleſiaſtical Judges may do, and proceed, as before the making of this act they lawfully did or might have done: Any thing in this act to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding,

CAP. VI.

All Merchants may trade into Spain, Portugal, and France.

The King granted a Charter of Incorporation to certain Merchants to trade into Spain, &c.

The ſeveral inconveniences that would enſue if the ſaid Charter ſhould take effect.

Whereas divers Merchants have of late obtained from the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, under the great ſeal of England, a large Charter of Incorporation for them and their company to trade into the Dominions of Spain and Portugal, and are alſo moſt earneſt ſuitors to obtain the like from his ſaid Majeſty for France, whereby none but themſelves and ſuch as they ſhall think fit, as being meer Merchants, ſhall take benefit of the ſaid Charter, diſabling thereby all others his Majeſties loving ſubjects of this Realm of England and Wales, who during & at all time of her late Majeſties wars, were in divers greatly charged for the defence of their Prince and countrey, and therfore ought indifferently to enjoy all the benefits of this moſt happy peace, And alſo debarring them from that free enlargement of common traffick into thoſe Dominions, which others his Majeſties ſubjects of his Realms of Scotland and Ireland do enjoy, to the manifeſt impoveriſhing of all owners of Ships, Maſters, Mariners, Fiſhermen, Clothiers, Tuckers, Spinſters, and many thouſands of all ſorts of handicraftſmen, beſides the decreaſe of his Majeſties cuſtoms, ſubſidies, and other impoſitions, and the ruine and decay of Navigation, together with the abating of the prices of our Woolls, Cloth, Corn, and ſuch like commodities, ariſing and growing within this his ſaid Majeſties Realm of England, and the inhancing of all French and Spaniſh commodities, by reaſon of the inſufficiency of the Merchants, they being few in number, and not of ability to keep the great number of our Ships and Seafaring men awork, and to vent the great ſtore of commodities which this his Majeſties Dominion of England doth yield, and by means that all owners, and Mariners with divers others (if theſe incorporations ſhould continue) ſhall be cut off from their ordinary means of maintetenance, and preſerving their eſtates: and finally, by reaſon that all French and Spaniſh commodities ſhall be in a few mens hands: In reſpect whereof, as alſo for many other manifold inconveniences growing thereby, much hurt and prejudice muſt needs redound to all his Majeſties loving ſubjects of this his Highneſs Realm of England, if reformation for the prevention of ſo great an evil be not had in due time: For remedy whereof, Be it enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That it ſhall and may be lawful to and for all his Majeſties ſubjects of this his Highneſs Realm of England and Wales, from henceforth at all times, to have free liberty to trade into and from the Dominions of Spain, Portugal and France, in ſuch ſort and in as free manner, as was at any time accuſtomed ſithence the beginning of this his Highneſs moſt happy reign in thishis Realm of England, and at any time before the ſaid Charter of incorporation was granted, paying to the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty his heirs and ſucceſſors, all ſuch cuſtoms and other duties as by the Lawes and Statutes of this Realm ought to be paid and done for the ſame: The ſaid Charter of incorporation, or any other Charter, grant, act or any thing elſe heretofore made or done, or hereafter to be done, to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

All the Kings ſubjects may trade into and from Spain, Portugal and France.

None reſtrained by Law may depart the Realm without licence.

Provided always, that this act, or any thing therein contained, ſhal not be in force to enable or give liberty to any perſon or perſons to go over ſea without licence, who by the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, or by any Statute hereafter to be made, ſhall be reſtrained from going beyond the ſeas without licence: any thing to the contrary notwithſtanding, 1 H. 4. 17. 4 Jac. 9.

CAP. VII.

An Act to reform the multitude and miſdemeanours of Atturneys and Solicitors, and to avoid unneceſſary Suits and Charges in Law.

FOr that through the abuſe of ſundry Atturneys and Solicitors by charging their Clients with exceſſive fees and other unneceſſary demands, ſuch as were not, ne ought by them to have been employed or demanded, whereby the ſubjects grow to be overmuch burthened, and the practice of the juſt and honeſt Sergeant and Councellor at Law greatly ſlandered: and for that to work the private gain of ſuch Atturneys and Solicitors, the Client is oftentimes extraordinarily delayed: Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That no Atturney, Solicitor, or ſervant to any, ſhall be allowed from his Client, or Maſter, of or for any fee given to any Sergeant or Councellor at Law, or of or for any ſum or ſums of money given for copies to any clerk or clerks, or Officers in any court or courts of Record at Weſtminſter, unleſs he have a Ticket ſubſcribed with the hand and name of the ſame Sergeant or Councellor, clerk or clerks, or Officers aforeſaid, teſtifying how much he hath received for his fee, or given or paid for copies, and at what time, and how often: And that all Atturneys and Solicitors ſhall give a true bill unto their Maſters or Clients, or their aſſigns, of all other charges concerning the ſuits which they have for them, ſubſcribed with his own hand and name, before ſuch time as they or any of them ſhall charge their Clients with any the ſame fees or charges: And that if the Atturney or Solicitor do or ſhall willingly delay his Clients ſuits to work his own gain, or demand by his bill any other ſums of money, or allowance upon his accompt of any money which he hath not laid out or diſburſed, That in every ſuch caſe, the party grieved ſhall have his action againſt ſuch Atturney or Solicitor, and recover therein coſts and treble damages: And the ſaid Atturney and Solicitor ſhall be diſcharged from thenceforth from being an Atturney or Solicitor any more.

An Atturney ſhall have a Ticket of the money which he giveth for fees, &c.

A bill of charges.

An Atturney delaying his Clients ſuit, or demanding more than is due.

And to avoid the infinite numbers of Solicitors and Atturneys, Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That none ſhall from henceforth be admitted Atturneys in any the Kings Courts of Record aforeſaid, but ſuch as have been brought up in the ſame Courts, or otherwiſe well practiſed in ſoliciting of cauſes, and have been found by their dealings to be skilful and of honeſt diſpoſition: and that none be ſuffered to ſolicite any cauſe or cauſes in any the Courts aforeſaid, but only ſuch as are known to be men of ſufficient and honeſt diſpoſition: And that no Atturney ſhall admit any other to follow any ſuit in his name, upon pain that both the Atturney and he that followeth any ſuch ſuit in his name, ſhall each of them forfeit for ſuch offence twenty pound; The one moiety whereof to our Soveraign Lord the King, his heirs and ſucceſſors, and the other moiety to the party grieved, to be recovered in any the ſaid Courts of Record aforeſaid, by original Writ of debt, bill, plaint, or information, wherein no manner of eſſoyn, wager of law, or protection ſhall be allowed. And that the Atturney in ſuch caſe ſhall be excluded from being an Atturney for ever thereafter.

Who only ſhall be Atturneys or Solicitors.

No following of a ſuit in anothers name.

CAP. VIII.

An Act to avoid unneceſſary delayes of Executions.

Cro. Jac. 401.

FOraſmuch as his Highneſs ſubjects are now more commonly with-holden from their juſt debts, and often in danger to loſe the ſame, by means of Writs of Error, which are more commonly ſued than heretofore they have been, Be it therefore enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That from and after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, no Execution ſhall be ſtayed or delayed upon or by any Writ of Error, or Superſedeas thereupon to be ſued, for the reverſing of any Judgment given, or to be given in any action or bill of debt upon any ſingle bond for debt, or upon any obligation, with condition for the payment of money only, or upon any action or bill of debt for rent, or upon any contract ſued in in any of his Highneſſe Courts of Record at Weſtminſter, or in the Counties Palatine of Cheſter, Lancaſter, or Durham, or in his Highneſſe courts of great Seſſions in any of the twelve Shires of Wales: unleſs ſuch perſon or perſons in whoſe name or names ſuch Writ of Error ſhall be brought, with two ſufficient ſureties, ſuch as the Court (wherein ſuch Judgment is or ſhall be given) ſhall allow of, ſhall firſt before ſuch ſtay made, or Superſedeas awarded, be bound unto the party for whom any ſuch Judgment is or ſhall be given, by recognizance to be acknowledged in the ſame court, in double the ſum adjudged to be recovered by the ſaid former Judgment, to proſecute the ſaid Writ of Error with effect: and alſo to ſatiſfie and pay (if the ſaid Judgment be affirmed) all and ſingular the debts, damages and coſts, adjudged or to be adjudged, upon the former Judgment: and all coſts and damages to be alſo awarded for the ſame delaying of Execution.

In what caſes only execution ſhall be ſtayed upon the ſuit of a Writ of Error.

CAP. IX.

A relief of ſuch as lawfully uſe the Trade and handicraft of Skinners.

WHereas the ſaid Artizan Skinners before the one and twentieth year of the late Queen were at liberty, and uſually did tranſport into the Eaſtland Countries, Coney-skins, and Lamb-skins, called Morkins of the growth of this Kingdom, being in great requeſt in thoſe countries, without contradiction. In which one & twentieth year of her Majeſties reign, the Eaſtland Merchants procured a Charter from her Majeſty, in which is contained a prohibition, that none but they the Merchants of thoſe Countreys might tranſport any merchandizes thither: Sithence which time the ſaid Artizan Skinners have by colour of thoſe Letters Patents been reſtrained from tranſportation, and thereupon did for the maintenance of them and their poor families, apply themſelves to their handy labours, and to provide and buy within this Realm, as well of pety Chapmen as others, the ſaid ſkins within this Kingdom: and the ſurpluſage over and above ſuch as they wrought into Manufactures, they ſold to the ſaid Merchants that had gotten the ſaid Letters Patents for tranſportation aforeſaid, by reaſon whereof the ſaid Artizan Skinners, with their wives and families lived in good manner, and maintained many thouſands, both Tawers and other Workmen, and very many of them were Subſidy-men, and men that paid many duties in good ſort, until of late time that divers Merchants and others, for their own private gain, do by themſelves, their factors and ſervants, in diſorderly and unmerchantlike manner, buy, foreſtall, ingroſſe and provide the ſaid commodities, and ſo draw the whole Trade into their own hands, and work the ſame in their own houſes, and not contented therewith, do likewiſe ſell and retail the ſaid ſkins here again unto other Merchant-ſtrangers, whereby they do deprive the ſaid Artizan Skinners both from buying, ſelling and tranſportation, and thereupon the whole trade of Artizan Skinners is utterly impoveriſhed generally throughout England.

Queen Eliz. Charter to the Eaſtland Merchants, that none but they ſhould tranſport merchandize thither.

By what means the Artizan Skinners lived.

Merchants ſhall not dreſs black Cony-skins, nor tranſport them undreſſed.

Be it therefore Enacted by our Soveraign Lord the Kings Majeſty, by the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That no perſon or perſons after the end of three moneths next enſuing after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, uſing the trade of merchandize, or any other, ſhall dreſs or cauſe to be dreſſed, in his or their houſe or houſes, or by any workman appointed by them for that purpoſe (thoſe workmen not being Artizan Skinners, and uſing the trade of Artizan Skinners) any of the black Cony-skins of this Kingdom, nor ſhall tranſport or carry beyond the Seas, nor cauſe to be tranſported or carried beyond the Seas, nor ſhall pack, ſhip or lade, to the intent to tranſport or carry beyond the Seas, any black Cony-skins of the breed of this Realm, unleſs the ſame ſkins ſhall firſt be tawed, and duly and perfectly wrought, dreſſed and packed within this Realm by thoſe that are Artizan Skinners, or Tawers under the ſaid Artizan Skinners, according to the Science, Art and Faculty of the Artizan Skinners, upon pain of forfeiture of ſuch ſkins ſo packed, ſhipped, laden and tranſported, contrary to this Act, or the juſt and full value thereof.

How many Cony-skins at the leaſt a Merchant muſt buy and ſell at one time.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons uſing or exerciſing the Trade of a Merchant, ſhall after the end of the ſaid three moneths next enſuing after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, buy, bargain or contract for, or cauſe to be bought, bargained or contracted for, any Coney-skins, or Lamb-skins, commonly called Morkins, of the breed of this Realm, or being within this Realm, under the number of one thouſand black Cony-skins, or three thouſand gray Cony-skins, or two thouſand Lamb-skins, called Morkins, at a time, and thoſe not to be bought or contracted for, in or by parcels, but to be contracted for, bargained and delivered at one time intirely together, and not by parcels, (except it be to the Artizan Skinners) nor ſhall utter or ſell the ſame again, nor any part thereof, to any perſon or perſons within this Realm in ſmall parcels: That is to ſay, under the number of one thouſand black Cony-skins, and three thouſand of gray Cony-skins, and two thouſand of Morkins at a time, unleſs it be to the Artizan Skinner, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſaid ſkins, or the full value of the ſame.

Who only a Skinner may take to be his Apprentice or Journeyman.

And be it further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That after the end of the ſaid three moneths next enſuing after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, no perſon or perſons ſhall take, retain or keep any Servant, Journeyman or Apprentice, to ſerve or work with him therein, except the ſaid perſon ſo uſing or ſetting up the ſaid Trade, Myſtery or Occupation, have ſerved ſeven years at the leaſt as an Apprentice therein, and do uſe the Trade and Handicraft of a Skinner, upon pain of forfeiture of the double value of all ſuch ſkins or furs as ſhall be dreſſed or wrought by ſuch perſon or perſons, his or their Servants, Journeymen or Apprentices, contrary to the intent of this Act.

Who ſhall recover the forfeiture, and by what means.

And be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all forfeitures and penalties, which by force of this Act ſhall ariſe or grow, ſhall be divided and diſtributed in manner and form following, that is to ſay, the one moiety of the ſaid penalties and forfeitures afore-mentioned ſhall be to our Soveraign Lord the Kings Majeſty, his heirs and ſucceſſors; and the other moiety thereof to ſuch perſon or perſons as ſhall ſeize the ſaid ſkins or furs ſo forfeited, or ſhall ſue for the ſame penalties and forfeitures, by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information in any Court of Record: In which ſuits no eſſoyn, protection, or wager of law ſhall be allowed.

The continuance of the Statute.

This Act to endure until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament. 3 Car. 4. Continued until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

CAP. X.

At whoſe charge an offendor ſhall be conveyed to the Gaol.

An offendor ſhall be conveyed to the Gaol at his own charges.

WHereas his Majeſties honeſt and loving ſubjects are much charged and burthened in conveying felons, and other malefactors and offendors againſt his Majeſties laws and ſtatutes, unto the Gaol, puniſhable by impriſonment there, the ſaid Felons and other malefactors and offendors, having goods and chattels of their own, whereby to defray the ſame charge themſelves, to the great encouragement of ſuch malefactors and offendors in their ſaid wicked and bad courſes, and to the diſcouragement of his Majeſties ſaid honeſt and loving ſubjects in proſecuting the ſaid malefactors and offendors to be puniſhed according to their demerits: Be it Enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That all and every perſon and perſons whatſoever, that from and after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall be committed to the common or uſual Gaol, within any County or Liberty within this Realm, by any Juſtice or Juſtices of the peace, for any offence or miſdemeanour, That the ſaid perſon or perſons ſo to be committed as aforeſaid, having means or ability thereunto, ſhall bear their own reaſonable charges for ſo receiving or ſending them to the ſaid Gaol, and the charges alſo of ſuch as ſhall be appointed to guard them to ſuch Gaol, and ſhall ſo guard them thither. And if any ſuch perſon or perſons ſo to be committed as aforeſaid, ſhall refuſe at the time of their commitment and ſending to the ſaid Gaal, to defray the ſaid charges, or ſhall not then pay or bear the ſame, That then ſuch Juſtice or Juſtices of the peace ſhall and may by writing under his or their hand and ſeal, or hands and ſeals, give Warrant to the Conſtabie or Conſtables of the Hundred, or Conſtable or Tythingman of the Tything or Townſhip, where ſuch perſon or perſons ſhall be dwelling and inhabit, or from whence he or they ſhall be committed as aforeſaid, or where he or they ſhall have any goods within the County or Liberty, to ſell ſuch and ſo much of the goods and chattels of the ſaid perſons ſo to be committed, as by the diſcretion of the ſaid Juſtice or Juſtices of the peace, ſhall ſatisfie and pay the charges of ſuch his or their conveying and ſending to the ſaid Gaol, the appraiſement to be made by four of the honeſt Inhabitants of the Pariſh or Tything where ſuch goods or chattels ſhall remain and be, and the over-plus of the money which ſhall be made thereof, to be delivered to the party to whom the ſaid goods ſhall belong.

How the charges ſhall be levied, if the priſoner refuſe to pay them.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if the ſaid perſon or perſons ſo to be committed as aforeſaid, ſhall not have, or be known to have any goods or chattels which may be ſold for the purpoſe aforeſaid, within the County or Liberty, That then an indifferent tax or aſſeſment ſhall be made by the Conſtables and Church-wardens, and two or three other the honeſt inhabitants of the Pariſh, Townſhip or Tything, where the ſaid offendor or offendors ſhall be taken or apprehended, the ſaid taxation being allowed under the hand of one or more Juſtice or Juſtices of the peace, if there be ſuch Conſtables or Church-wardens there inhabiting; and in default of them, by four of the principal inhabitants of the ſaid Pariſh, Townſhip or Tything, where ſuch offendors ſhall be taken or apprehended. And if any ſo taxed or aſſeſſed, ſhall refuſe to pay their ſaid taxation, then the Juſtice or Juſtices of peace, by whom the ſaid offendors ſhall be committed to priſon as aforeſaid, or any other Juſtice of peace near adjoyning, ſhall and may give warrant as aforeſaid to the Conſtable, Tythingman, or other Officer, there to diſtrain the goods of any ſo aſſeſſed, which ſhall refuſe to pay the ſame, and to ſell the ſame, and that ſuch perſon or perſons ſo authorized, ſhall have full power and authority ſo to diſtrain, and by appraiſement of four ſubſtantial inhabitants of the ſaid place, to ſell a ſufficient quantity of the goods and chattels of the ſaid perſon ſo refuſing, for the levying of the ſaid taxation. And if any overplus of money come by the ſale thereof, the ſame to be delivered to the perſon or perſons, owner or owners thereof.

If the offendor be not able to bear his charges, the Pariſhioners ſhall do it.

The remedy if any perſon taxed refuſe to pay.

And be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That if any action of treſpaſs or other ſuit ſhall happen to be attempted, or brought againſt the perſon or perſons for taking of any diſtreſs, making of any ſale, or any other act by authority of this preſent Act, the defendant or defendants in any ſuch action or ſuit, ſhall and may either plead not guilty, or otherwiſe make avowry, cogniſance or juſtification, for the taking of the ſaid diſtreſſes, making of ſale, or other act by vertue of this Act, alledging in ſuch avowry, cogniſance or juſtification, that the ſaid diſtreſs, ſale, treſpaſſe, or other thing whereof the plaintiff or plaintiffs complained, was done by authority of this Act, and according to the tenour, purport and effect of this Act, without any expreſſing or rehearſal of any other matter of circumſtance contained in this preſent Act. To which avowry, cogniſance or juſtification, the plaintiff ſhall be admitted to reply, That the defendant did take the ſaid diſtreſſe, made the ſaid ſale, or did any other act or treſpaſs ſuppoſed in his declaration of his own wrong, without any ſuch cauſe alledged by the ſaid defendant, whereupon the iſſue in every ſuch action ſhall be joyned to be tryed by verdict of twelve men, and not otherwiſe, accuſtomed in other perſonal actions, and upon the tryal of that iſſue, the whole matter to be given on both parties in evidence, according to the very truth of the ſame. And after ſuch iſſue tryed for the defendant or nonſuit of the plaintiff after appearance, the ſaid defendant to recover treble damages by reaſon of his wrongful vexation in that behalf, with coſts alſo on that part ſuſtained, and that to be aſſeſſed by the ſame Jury or Writ, to enquire of the damages, as the ſame ſhall require. This Act to continue until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament. 3 Car. 4. Continued until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

The defendants plea in an Action brought for any thing done by force of this Act.

The defendant ſhall recover treble damages and coſts of ſuits.

The continuance of this Act.

CAP. XI.

When Beer may be tranſported by any perſon, and to what place.

Whereas by a ſtatute made in the firſt year of the reign of our now moſt gracious Soveraign Lord King James, it is lawful to tranſport over the Seas Barley or Mault, when the common price thereof ſhall not exceed the prices in the ſaid ſtatute limited, by which ſaid Act it is lawful for every perſon and perſons, being ſubjects of the Kings Majeſty, his heirs and ſucceſſors, to tranſport of his own, and to buy and tranſport unto any Port beyond the ſeas, in amity with his Majeſty, to ſell as merchandize in Ships, Crayers or other Veſſels, whereof any Engliſh born ſubject or ſubjects then ſhall be the owner or owners, any Barley or Mault, when the price of every ſuch quarter of Barley or Mault exceeds not at the times, havens and places, where and when the ſame ſhall be ſhipped or laden, the ſum of fourteen ſhillings currant Engliſh money, paying to the Kings Majeſty, his heirs and ſucceſſors, for the Cuſtome and Poundage of every ſuch quarter of Barley and Mault ſo tranſported, the ſum of ſixteen pence in full ſatiſfaction of all manner of Cuſtom and Poundage for the ſame. Now for that by the tranſporting of Beer, the Cuſtom and Poundage that will grow due to the Kings Majeſty for the ſame Beer will be much greater than when the Barley or Mault, whereof the ſaid Beer is made, is tranſported, and alſo that the Navy and Mariners of this Realm will be the more encreaſed, for that one Ship or Boat load of Barley or Mault, will, if the ſame be brewed out into Beer, make four ſeveral Ships or Boats load of the ſame burthen of Beer to be tranſported: the tillage likewiſe of this Realm will be cheriſhed and encreaſed, by reaſon of the more ſpeedy and often vent of the Beer,

1 Jac. 25.

The ſeveral benefits ariſing by the tranſporting of Beer more than of Mault.

Beer, than of Barley or Mault: And alſo by the brewing of ſuch Mault into Beer within this Realm to be tranſported, divers Port Towns will be greatly comforted and relieved, many of his Majeſties ſubjects thereby employed and ſet on work, and the Trades of Coopers and Brewers will be thereby better enabled to live and maintain themſelves, their wives, children and families:

At what times Beer may be tranſported by any perſon.

Be it therefore Enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and by the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That at all times from and after the Feaſt of Pentecoſt which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God, 1607. it ſhall and may be lawful for all and every perſon and perſons to tranſport of his own, or to buy and tranſport, or cauſe to be bought and tranſported, any Beer with the Cask, unto any place or places beyond the Seas, in amity and league with his Majeſty, his heirs or ſucceſſors, to ſell as merchandize or otherwiſe, in Ships, Crayers, or other Veſſels, when the price of every quarter of Mault at the times, havens and places when and where the ſame ſhall be ſhipped and loaden, exceed not the ſum of ſixteen ſhillings currant Engliſh money: Any ordinance, law, or ſtatute to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding. And that the Kings Majeſty, his heirs and ſucceſſors, ſhall have and receive by the Cuſtomers, Comptrollers and Officers of his Ports, where ſuch Beer ſhall be ſo ſhipped or loaden to be tranſported, the ſum of eight ſhillings ſix pence, for Impoſt, and eighteen pence for Cuſtom to be paid by every ſubject of the Kings Majeſty, his heirs and ſucceſſors, for every Ton of Beer ſo to be tranſported: And likewiſe the ſum of ten ſhillings for Impoſt, and two and twenty pence half-peny for Cuſtom to be paid by every Stranger, which ſhall be in full ſatiſfaction of all manner of Cuſtom, Poundage, Impoſt, or other duties whatſoever for the ſame Beer: Any conſtitution, order, law, ſtatute or cuſtom heretofore made, uſed or taken for tranſporting of any ſuch Beer, to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

What Impoſt and Cuſtomes ſhall be paid for Beer tranſported.

Provided neverthels, and be it further enacted and declared, That this Act nor any thing therein contained, ſhall extend to repeal or make void any clauſe, article or proviſion contained in any former law now in force, touching the bringing in of Clapboard, Cask or Shaffoldboard. but that every ſuch branch, article, clauſe or proviſion, ſhall extend as well unto all and every tranſportation or tranſportations, made lawful and warranted by vertue of this Act, as otherwiſe: Any thing contained in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The continuance of this Act.

This Act to continue but to the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament. 3 Car. 4.
Continued until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

The forfeiture for ſetting up of a new Weare, or for deſtroying the Spawn or Fry of Fiſh.

Cauſes of the deſtruction of the brood of fiſh.

Foraſmuch as it is certainly known by daily experience, That the brood of Sea-fiſh is ſpawned and lieth in ſtill waters, where it may have reſt to receive nouriſhment, and grow to perfection, and that it is there deſtroyed by Weares, Draw-nets, and Nets with canvas, or like Engines in the middle or boſome of them, in Harbours, Havens and Creeks within this Realm, to the great damage and hurt of Fiſhermen, and hinderance of the Commonwealth, for that every Wear near the main Sea, taketh in twelve hours ſometimes the quantity of five buſhels, ſometimes ten, ſometimes twenty or thirty buſhels of the brood of ſea-fiſh, and alſo thoſe which uſe Draw-nets, Nets with canvas, or engines in the midſt of them, do, every day they fiſh, deſtroy the brood of all the ſorts of fiſh aforeſaid in great multitudes.

The forfeiture for deſtroying the Spawn, fry or brood of Sea-fiſh.

For reformation whereof, Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That every perſon and perſons that from and after the five and twentieth day of July next enſuing this Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall erect or ſet up any new Wear or Wears along the Sea-ſhore, or in any Haven, Harbour or Creek, or within five miles of the mouth of any Haven or Creek, or ſhall willingly take, deſtroy or ſpoyl any ſpawn, fry, or brood of any ſea-fiſh, in any Wear or other Engine or device whatſoever, ſhall forfeit for every time ſo erecting, ſetting up, taking, deſtroying, or ſpoyling contrary to this Act, the ſum of x. li. of good and lawful money of England, the one half to the Kings Majeſty, his heirs or ſucceſſors, and the other half to him that will ſue for the ſame: And that every perſon which after the firſt day of October next enſuing this Seſſion of Parliament, in any Haven, Harbour, Creek, or within five miles of the mouth of any Haven, Harbour or Creek of the Sea, ſhall fiſh with any Draw-net or Drag-net, under three inches meaſh, viz. an inch and an half from knot to knot, except for the taking of Smoulds in Norfolk only, or with any Net with canvas, or other engine or device, whereby the ſpawn, fry, or brood of ſea-fiſh may be deſtroyed, ſhall forfeit ſuch Net, and alſo forfeit for every time ſo doing, x.s. of lawful money of England, the one half to the uſe of the poor people of the City, Town corporate, Borough, Market Town, Pariſh or Liberty where the offence or offences ſhall be committed, and the other half to the perſon that ſhall ſue for the ſame, the ſaid forfeitures to be levied to the uſes aforeſaid, by the Mayor, Bayliff, or other head Officer of every City, Borough or Town corporate, and by Warrant of one or more Juſtices of peace, it ſhall be lawful for the Conſtables and Church-Wardens of every Market Town, Pariſh or Liberty within which any ſuch offences ſhall be done, by way of diſtreſs, and ſale of the offenders goods, rendring to them the ſurpluſage, according to the order of former ſtatutes in ſuch caſes of forfeitures ordained.

The forfeiture for fiſhing with certain Nets and Engines.

Examined by the Parliament Roll.

What ſort of fiſh may be taken with the Nets prohibited.

Provided alwayes. That this Act or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to puniſh any perſon or perſons, for uſing any Net or Nets of leſſer meaſh than is by this ſtatute appointed, only for taking of Herring, Pilchards, Sprats or Lavidnian: Any thing in this Act to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Angleſey.

Provided further, That this Act ſhall not extend to the Iſle and County of Angleſey.

CAP. XIII.

The Penalties for unlawful Hunting, or ſtealing of Deer or Conies.

Certain offences for which the Stat. of 5 El. 21. hath not provided puniſhment.

Whereas ſince the making of the Statute of Quinto Reginæ Elizabethæ, cap. 21. there have been divers Grounds incloſed, and uſed and kept for the preſervation and maintenance of Deer and Conies: And whereas there is not by the ſaid ſtatute of Quinto Elizab. neither by any other Act now in force, any ſufficient remedy provided againſt ſuch malefactors and evil diſpoſed perſons, as ſhall chaſe, hunt or kill any the Deer or Conies within ſuch Grounds, ſithence the ſaid ſtatute of Quinto Eliz. incloſed and kept and uſed for the maintenance and preſervation of the ſaid Game, as aforeſaid, or any former Grounds which have been ſithence the making of the ſaid ſtatute, in any part altered: By reaſon whereof, many riots, manſlaughters, miſchiefs, and other inconveniences have been daily committed and done, and like to be committed and done, if circumſpect remedy be not hereunto provided.

The penalty for breaking a Park or Warren, or for hunting of Deer or Conies. ALT. 7 Jac.13. 13 Car.2. ca.10

Be it therefore Enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons of this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That if any perſon or perſons, after the Feaſt of S. James the Apoſtle next enſuing, ſhall in the night time, or by day, wrongfully or unlawfully break or enter into any Park impaled, or any other ſeveral Grounds encloſed with wall, pale, or hedge, and uſed or kept for the keeping, breeding and cheriſhing of any Deer or Conies, and wrongfully or unlawfully ſhall hunt, drive or chaſe out, or take, kill or ſlay any Deer or Conies within any ſuch impaled park, or cloſed ground with pale, wall or other encloſure as aforeſaid, againſt the will, mind or pleaſure of the owners, occupiers or poſſeſſioners of the ſame, not having lawful title or authority ſo to do, and thereof ſhall be lawfully convicted at the ſuit of our Soveraign Lord the King, his Heirs or Succeſſors, or the party grieved, ſhall ſuffer impriſonment of his or their bodies by the ſpace of three moneths, and alſo ſhall yield and pay to the party grieved his treble damages and coſts, to be aſſeſſed and rated by the Juſtices before whom he or they ſhall be convicted, after the ſaid three moneths expired, and ſhall find ſufficient ſureties for his and their good abearing againſt the King, his heirs and ſucceſſors, and all his liege people for the ſpace of ſeven years after, or elſe ſhall remain and continue ſtill in priſon without bail or mainpriſe, until ſuch time as he or they ſo offending, ſhall find ſufficient ſureties, during the ſaid time and ſpace of ſeven years.

Which Juſtices may hear and determine the offences aforeſaid.

And be it likewiſe Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Juſtices of Oyer and Terminer, Juſtices of Aſſize in their Circuits, and Juſtices of Peace and Gaol-delivery in their Seſſions, ſhall by vertue hereof, have power and authority to enquire, hear and determine all and ſingular the ſaid offences, by examination of the offendors, and to make and award Proceſs thereupon, as well upon Indictments taken before them, as by bill of complaint, information, or any other action: In which ſuit or action, no eſſoyn, wager of Law, or protection ſhall be allowed.

The remedy of the party grieved.

And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall and may be lawful to the party grieved, to ſue and take his further remedy againſt all and every ſuch offendor or offendors for his loſſe and damages, and to recover the treble value of the ſame in that behalf, as well before the Juſtices of Oyer and Terminer, Juſtices of Aſſize in their Circuits, and Juſtices of the peace and Gaol-delivery in their Seſſions, or elſewhere, in any other the Kings Majeſties Courts of Record at Weſtminſter: And that upon true ſatiſfaction of the ſaid treble damages to the party grieved, or upon the confeſſion or acknowledgment thereof by the ſaid party offending, before the Juſtices in open Seſſions holden for the County, wherein the ſame offence ſhall be committed, it ſhall be at the liberty of the ſaid party grieved, to whom the ſaid offence is committed, to releaſe at his pleaſure the ſuretiſhip of the good behaviour, at any time within the ſaid ſeven years or before: Any thing in this preſent Act before mentioned or declared to the contrary notwithſtanding.

In what caſe the ſuretiſhip of the good behaviour may be releaſed by the party grieved.

The penalty for ſhooting with Gun or Bow, at Deer or Conies, or for keeping of Engines.

And be it alſo further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons, not having any manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments, of the clear yearly value of forty pounds, or not worth in goods or chattels, the ſum of two hundred pounds, ſhall uſe any Gun, Bow, or Croſs-bow, to kill any Deer or Conies, or ſhall keep any Buckſtall or Engine, Hayes, Gate-nets, Purſe-nets, Ferrets or Cony-dogs, except ſuch perſon or perſons as ſhall have any Grounds imparked with pale, or encloſed with wall or hedge as aforeſaid, uſed for the keeping, breeding, or cheriſhing of any Deer or Conies; the encreaſing of which ſaid Conies, ſhall amount to the clear yearly value of forty ſhillings to be letten at the leaſt, or Keepers or Warreners in their Parks, Warrens or Grounds belonging to their charge, That then any perſon having lands, tenements or hereditaments of the clear yearly value of one hundred pounds in Fee-ſimple, Fee-tail, or for life, in his own right or in the right of his wife, may take from the perſon or poſſeſſion of ſuch malefactor or malefactors, and to his own uſe for ever keep ſuch Guns, Bows, Croſs-bows, Buckſtalls or engine, Hays, Gate-nets, Purſe-nets, Ferrets and Cony-dogs.

In what caſe the Juſtices may diſcharge the ſutter of good abearing.

And be it further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons at any time hereafter, ſhall fortune to be bound before any the Juſtices before mentioned, to the King, his heirs or ſucceſſors, for his or their good abearing for ſeven years, according to the tenor of this Act, And the ſame party or parties ſo bound, ſhall afterward within the ſaid ſeven years come before the Juſtices of the peace of the ſaid County, where the ſaid offence was committed, or ſome of them, in open Quarter-Seſſions, and there in the ſaid Seſſions confeſs and acknowledg his or their ſaid offence or offences, that he or they is or are ſorry therefore, and ſatisfie the party or parties grieved, according to the tenor of this Act, That then the ſame Juſtices before whom the ſaid confeſſion ſhall be ſo made, ſhall and may have power and authority by vertue of this Act, in the ſame open Seſſions, or in any other Seſſions afterwards to be holden before the ſaid Juſtices in the ſaid county within the ſaid term of ſeven years, if it ſhall ſeem good to their diſcretions, to diſcharge the ſaid Recognizance and Bond ſo taken, and alſo the ſaid party and parties ſo bound: This act or any thing therein contained to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

A Park or Warren made without the Kings Licence.

Provided alwayes, That this act or any thing therein contained, do not extend to any park or incloſed ground, hereafter to be made and uſed for Deer or Conies, without the grant or licence of our Soveraign Lord the King, his heirs or ſucceſſors.

Offences committed in the night only. This proviſo for Deer. REP. 7 Jac. 13.

Provided alwayes, and be it further enacted, that this act nor any thing therein contained, ſhall extend to any offence or offences concerning the hunting, chaſing or killing of Deer or Conies, which ſhall be done or committed in the day time but only to ſuch offences as ſhal be hereafter done or committed in the night time only: Any thing in this act contained to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding. 3 Car. 4. Continued until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament. 17 Car. 4. ca. 4. Continued.

CAP. XIV.

Water courſes falling into the Thames within two miles of London, ſhall be ſubject to the Commiſſion of Sewers.

FOraſmuch as the Walls, Ditches, Banks, Gutters, Sewers, Gates, Cauſeys, Bridges, Streams and Water-courſes in and about the City of London, where no paſſage of Boats is uſed, having their courſe and fall into the River of Thames, where it doth uſually ebbe and flow, and is uſed for free paſſage of Boats to the Sea, are already by the Commiſſioners of Sewers appointed to be ſurveyed, reformed and amended, where need ſhall require, and are as needful and meet to be ſurveyed, reformed and amended, from noyance of the ſaid River of Thames, by the Commiſſioners of Sewers, as thoſe Rivers, Streams and Water-Courſes, where the water doth uſually ebbe or flow, and where more uſual paſſage of Boats hath been, and yet are not under the ſurvey, correction and amendment of the Commiſſion of Sewers, nor of the ſtatute made for Sewers in the three and twentieth year of the reign of King Henry the eight, or of any other ſtatute made for Sewers, as the ſame ſhould have been, if the hurts, noyſances and inconveniences now by dayly experience felt and found in thoſe places, had been ſeen and conſidered of.

Water-Courſes falling into Thames near unto London, ſhall be ſubject to the Commiſſion of Sewers.

For reformation whereof be it enacted by our Soveraign Lord the King, and by the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled and by the authority of the ſame, That the Walls, Ditches, Banks, Gutters, Sewers, Gates, Cauſeys, Bridges, Streams and Water-courſes, within the limits of two miles, of, and from the City of London which waters have their courſe, and fall into the River of Thames, ſhall from henceforth be to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as fully ſubject to the Commiſſion of Sewers, and to all the ſtatutes made for Sewers, and to all penalties, in the ſame ſtatutes, and in every of them contained, as if the ſame places near to the ſaid City of London, had been particularly named in the ſaid ſtatute of Sewers, or that therein the water had ebbed flowed, and therein free paſſage with Boats and Barges to the ſea had been heretofore uſed: Any thing in the ſaid ſtatutes or elſewhere to the contrary, in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

CAP. XV.

A remedy for the recovery of ſmall debts, and for the releiving of poor debtors in London.

WHereas by vertue of divers acts of Common Council made within the City of London, the Lord Mayor and Aldermen of the ſame City for the relief of poor debtors dwelling within the ſaid City, have accuſtomed monthly to aſſign two Aldermen, and twelve diſcreet Commoners to be Commiſſioners and ſit in the court of Requeſts, commonly called the court of Conſcience in the Guildhal of the ſame City there to hear and determine all matters of debt not amounting to the ſumme of xl. s. to be brought before them: And whereas at the Seſſions of Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the nineteenth day of March, in the firſt year of the reign of our Soveraign Lord the Kings Majeſty that now is for the further relief of ſuch poor debtors, and more perfect eſtabliſhing of the ſaid court, there was made and provided an act, entituled, An act for recovery of ſmall debts, and relieving of poor debtors in London: And whereas ſince the making of the ſaid act, divers perſons, intending to ſubvert the good and charitable intent the ſame and taking hold of ſome doubtful and ambiguous words therein, do wreſt the ſame for their own lucre and gain, to the avoiding the Juriſdiction of the ſaid court, contrary to the godly meaning of the ſaid act.

St. 10 Jac. 14.

A mean for a Citizen of London to recover of another there a ſmall debt.

Cro. Car. 572.

For the remedy whereof and to the intent that ſome more full and ample proviſion may be made for the relief of ſuch poor debtors, Be it Enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That every Citizen and freeman of the City of London, and every other perſon and perſons inhabiting, or that ſhall inhabit within the ſaid city or the liberties thereof, being a Tradeſman, Victualler, or a labouring man, which now have, or hereafter ſhall have any debt or debts owing unto him or them, not amounting to Forty ſhillings, by any Citizen, or by any other perſon or perſons being a Victualler, Tradeſman, or labouring-man, inhabiting, or that ſhall inhabit within the ſaid City or the Liberties thereof, ſhall or may cauſe ſuch debtor or debtors to be warned or ſummoned by the Beadel or officer of the ſaid Court of Requeſts for the time being, by writing, to be left at the dwelling houſe of ſuch debtor or debtors, or by any other reaſonable warning or notice to be given to the ſaid debtor or debtors, to appear before the Commiſſioners of the ſaid Court of Requeſts, holden in the Guild-hall of the ſaid City. And that the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any three of them or more ſhall have power and authority by the vertue of this act, from time to time, to ſet down ſuch order or orders between ſuch party or parties plaintiff, and his or their ſuch debtor or debtors defendants, touchiug ſuch debts, not amounting to the value of forty ſhillings, in queſtion before them, as they ſhall find to ſtand with equity and good conſcience. All ſuch their order or orders to be regiſtred in a book, as they have been accuſtomed, and aſwell the party plaintiff, as the debtor or defendant, to obſerve, perform and keep the ſame in all points.

And that for the more due proceeding herein it ſhall be lawful for the ſame Commiſſioners or any three or more of them, to miniſter an oath to the plaintiff or defendant, and alſo to ſuch witneſſes as ſhall be produced on each party, if the ſame Commiſſioners, or any three of them or more ſhall ſo think it meet.

The Commiſſioners may miniſter an oath to the plaintiff, defendant or witneſſe.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if in any action of debt, or action upon the caſe upon any Aſſumpſit for the recovery of any debt, to be ſued or proſecuted againſt any the perſon or perſons aforeſaid, in any of the Kings Courts at Weſtminſter, or elſewhere out of the ſaid Court of Requeſts, it ſhall appear to the Judge or Judges of the Court, where ſuch action ſhall be ſued or proſecuted, that the debt to be recovered by the plaintiff in ſuch action doth not amount to the ſum of xl. s. and the defendant in ſuch action, ſhall duely prove either by ſufficient teſtimony, or by his own oath, to be allowed by any the Judge or Judges of the ſaid Court where ſuch action ſhal depend, that at the time of the commencing of ſuch action, ſuch defendant was inhabiting and reſiant in the City of London or the Liberties thereof, as above: That in ſuch caſe the ſaid Judge or Judges ſhall not allow, to the ſaid plaintiff any coſts of ſuit, but ſhall award that the ſame plaintiff ſhall pay ſo much ordinary coſts to the party defendant, as ſuch defendant ſhall juſtly prove before the ſaid Judge or Judges, it hath truly coſt him in defence of the ſaid ſuit.

A Creditor ſuing in another Court, ſhall pay coſts, and recover none.

And be it further enacted, That if any ſuch plaintiff, or creditor, defendant, or debtor, after warning given to him or them, in manner and form before in this act mentioned, by the ſaid Officer of the ſaid Court of requeſts, ſhal without ſome juſt or reaſonable cauſe of excuſe, refuſe to appear in the ſaid Court before the ſaid Commiſſioners, or ſhall not perform ſuch order as the ſaid Commiſſioners or any three or more of them ſhall ſet down, or concerning ſuch debts as aforeſaid: That then it ſhall be lawful for the ſaid Court, or any other of the Sergeants at Mace of the ſaid City, by order of the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any three or more of them, to commit ſuch party or parties to priſon, into one of the Counters of the ſaid City there to remain until he or they ſhall perform the order of the ſaid Commiſſioners in that behalf.

The penalty for refuſing to appear, or to obey the order made by the Commiſſioners.

Provided always, that this act or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to any debt for any rent upon any Leaſe of lands or tenements or any other real contracts, nor to any other debt that ſhall ariſe by reaſon of any cauſe concerning a Teſtament, or Matrimony, or any thing concerning or properly belonging to the Eccleſiaſtical court, albeit the ſame ſhal be under xl. s. Any thing before contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Debts for rent, or by reaſon of a Teſtament or Matrimony.

And be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid act made in the firſt year of the Kings Majeſties reign, be from the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, for and concerning any order to be made in the ſaid court of Requeſts, after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament utterly repealed.

A repeal of the ſtatute of 1 Jac. 14.

CAP. XVI.

The length and weight of Ordinary and Sorting Kerſies.

WHereas in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter in the fourteenth year of the reign of our late Soveraign Lady Queen Elizabeth, one act, entituled, An act to reform the exceſſive length of Kerſies, was made, entending thereby to have reſtrained them to the length of eighteen yards or under, immediately upon the making of which act, by reaſon of the ſaid law it hath ſithence fallen out, many clothing Towns, as well within the County of Southampton, as in divers other Counties within this Realm of England, who were then in trade with Merchant-ſtrangers, and others uſing the trade of tranſporting of Kerſies by way of merchandize beyond the ſeas, grew ſuddenly out of Trade, and in great decay, for that the ſaid Merchants would no longer buy of the Cloathiers any of their ſaid Kerſies wanting their old accuſtomed meaſure of four and twenty yards or thereabouts, they the ſaid Merchants being by the like cuſtom and uſage in trade with other Merchants for the ſaid Kerſies of the ſaid meaſure and length, to the great impoveriſhment and ruine of divers ancient Towns, and of thouſands of poor people, who were wont by them to be ſet on work and maintained, and to the great loſs of our ſaid Soveraign Lady Queen Elizabeth, and of the Kings majeſty that now is, in their Cuſtoms and Subſidies, which in and by the ſaid former venting and trading of the ſaid Kerſies did and would continually accrew and grow due for the ſame.

Several inconveniences enſuing upon the ſtatute of 14 El. 10. provided for the length of Kerſies.

Be it therefore enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the ſaid act of the fourteenth year of the reign of our late Soveraign Lady Queen Elizabeth, entituled, An act to reform the exceſſive lengths of Kerſies, be from henceforth clearly and abſolutely repealed.

A repeal of the ſtat. of 14 Eliz. 10.

Provided always, and be it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That Kerſies called ordinary Kerſies, ſhall not exceed the length of four and twenty yards to be meaſured by the yard and ynch, and that every ordinary Kerſie of the length of four and twenty yards aforeſaid, being well ſcoured, thicked, milled, dreſſed, and fully dyed, ſhall weigh eight and twenty pounds and one half pound at the leaſt. And that Kerſies called Sorting Kerſies, ſhall not exceed the length aforeſaid, and that every Sorting Kerſie of the length of four and twenty ſuch yards as aforeſaid, being well ſcoured, thicked, milled, dreſſed, and fully dyed, ſhall weigh thirty two pounds & one half pound at the leaſt: And that every Kerſie of a ſhorter length than four and twenty ſuch yards as aforeſaid, ſhall weigh proportionably to the aforeſaid weight, that is to ſay, Every ordinary Kerſie after the rate of one pound and three ounces weight for every yard that the ſame ſhall contain in length, and every ſorting Kerſie after the rate of one pound three ounces and one half ounce in weight, for every yard that the ſame ſhall contain in length.

The length and weight of ordinary Kerſies.

Sorting Kerſies.

And if it happen that any Kerſie or Kerſies hereafter to be made, ſhall either exceed the ſaid length of four and twenty ſuch yards, as aforeſaid, or ſhall not weigh according to the reſpective rates and proportions aforeſaid, then every perſon or perſons that ſhall make, or cauſe the ſame to be made for ſale, ſhall forfeit and loſe for every yard of ſuch Kerſies, exceeding the length of four and twenty ſuch ſaid yards, the ſum of five ſhillings only, and no more: And for every pound weight that ſhall be wanting according to the proportions before reſpectively limited, ſhall forfeit two ſhillings for every pound and no more, Any former Laws or Statutes limiting or appointing any other or greater penalty or forfeiture to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding. The one moyety of the ſaid ſums, penalties, and forfeitures to be to the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moyety to him or them that will ſue for the ſame in any of his Majeſties Courts of Record at Weſtminſter, by Bill, Plaint or Information, wherein no Eſſoine, Protection, or Wager of Law ſhall be allowed or admitted.

The forfeitures for exceeding in length, or wanting in weight.

The Cuſtom and Subſidy for a piece of Kerſie.

Provided further, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every perſon and perſons ſelling or trading in any ſuch Kerſie or Kerſies, ſhall pay unto the Kings Majeſty for every piece of Kerſie containing four and twenty yards, as much in Cuſtom and Subſidy, rateably, as ſuch perſon or perſons ſhould and ought to pay unto his Majeſty for one piece and a third part of a piece containing eighteen yards. Stat. 5 & 6 Ed. 6. 6.

CAP. XVII.

Welſh Cottons ſhall not be ſealed, ſearched or tryed.

1 Jac. 25.

VVhereas in a Statute made at the firſt Seſſion of Parliament holden at Weſtmin- in the firſt year of his Majeſties Reign, amongſt other things it was provided and enacted, That no perſon or perſons ſhould incur any penalty for want of length, bredth or weight of Welſh Cottons, under the price of fifteen pence the yard, and two ſhillings the goad, ſo as they be not mixed with hare, or other deceitful ſtuff, nor for any other above that price, except they be mixt as aforeſaid, or ſhall ſhrink above half a yard in twelve yards of length, or weigh leſſe than fourteen ounces the yard, and hold not full three quarters of a yard broad, as by the ſame Statute appeareth: which Proviſo in the conſtructions of divers perſons doth not preſerve ſuch as make or ſell courſe Welſh Cottons, from the penalty and danger of not adding or affixing a Seal to contain the length, bredth or weight of the ſaid Cottons, which affixion of a Seal is needleſs, when there is no length, bredth or weight preſcribed for them: And moreover, for that in all antecedent Ages the ſaid Cottons, being commonly uſed for Lyuings, were never ſeized as forfeited for want of the Seal of the Markers put unto them, nor uſed to be ſearched or tryed by water, but only by the Buyer: Be it therefore enacted by our Soveraign Lord the King, and by the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That from henceforth no perſon or perſons ſhall incur any penalty for want of any content, Seal to contain the bredth, length or weight of any Weſh Cottons: And that no Welſh Cottons ſhall at any time or times hereafter be ſearched or tryed in the water by any perſon or perſons, other than by the Buyer thereof, upon pain to forfeit for every ſuch offence by the party who ſhall make any ſuch ſearch or tryal contrary to the intent of this Statute, five pounds of lawful money of England, the one moyety thereof to the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, the other moyety to the party grieved, to be recovered by action of Debt, Bill, Plaint or Information, wherein no Eſſoine, Protection, or Wager of Law ſhall be allowed. Stat. 21 Jac. 28. 3 Car. 4.

No penalty for want of a ſeal of Welſh Cottons. be ſearched or Welſh Cottons ſhall not tryed

CAP. XXVIII.

A new River of running water may be brought to the North part of the City of London.

For that it is found very convenient and neceſſary to have a freſh ſtream of running water to be brought to the North parts of the City of London, from the Springs of Chadwel and Amwel, and other Springs in the County of Hartford not far diſtant from the ſame, which upon view is found very feſible, and like to be profitable to many: It is therefore enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, and by the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That it ſhall be lawful to the Lord Mayor, Commonalty and Citizens of the City of London, and their Succeſſors, at any time or times hereafter to begin and continue the laying out of ſuch convenient limits of ground for the making of the trench for the ſaid River at the bredth of ten foot and not above, as to them and their Deputies and Workmen, with the allowance of the Commiſſioners hereafter mentioned, or any ſeven of them ſhall be ſeen convenient and meet for the ſame, And in that place that they ſhall find to be moſt apt and meet for that purpoſe, to have and take for the purpoſe aboveſaid the uſe and liberty of ſuch and ſo much ground, as ſhall contain ten foot in bredth, and not above, during and by all the length, as the ſaid new Channel, Cut, or River ſhall paſſe from the conveying of the ſaid water from the ſaid Springs to the City of London, leaving the Inheritance of the new cut in the Owners thereof.

A new trench may be made to convey the water from Chadwel and Amwel to London. 4 Jac. 12.

The Mayor, &c. of London may make and maintain the New Cut.

And that the ſaid Mayor, Commonalty and Citizens of London, and their Succeſſors for ever, for the conſideration hereafter expreſſed, ſhall have liberty to dig the ſame ground to be imployed for the ſaid River or New-Cut, not exceeding ten foot in bredth alongſt all the ſaid whole length of the ſaid River or New-Cut, and from time to time for ever to maintain and preſerve the ſame, and to lay the earth there digged or to be digged on either ſide of the ſame River or New-Cut, in ſuch places as ſhall be thought meet for that purpoſe, and to have free paſſage to and from the ſaid New-Cut or River, with Men, Horſes, Carts and Carriages at all times convenient, and in places convenient for making of the ſame New-Cut or Trench, and for the preſerving of the ſame, and of the Banks thereof from time to time for ever, to the intent that no part of the ſaid ſtream be at any time after the making of the New-Cut, without the conſent of the Mayor, Commonalty and Citizens of London, turned or conveyed out of the ſame New-Cut or Water-courſe.

In conſideration whereof, the Mayor, Commonalty and Citizens of London, and their Succeſſors, ſhall make ſuch ſatisfaction or compoſition to and with the Lords, Owners and Occupiers of the ſame grounds, through which the New-Cut or River ſhall be made, and with all ſuch perſon and perſons as ſhall ſuſtain any damage, loſs or hinderance in their Mills ſtanding upon any of the Rivers or Streams, from which the water ſhall be taken through the ſaid New-Cut or River, as ſhall be to the contentment of the Lords, Owners and Occupiers of the ſaid Grounds and Mills; and in default of their agreement by mutual aſſent, ſuch ſatisfaction or recompence as ſhall be limited and appointed by the Commiſſioners to be aſſigned for that purpoſe, according to the intent of this Statute, by the Lord Chancellor, or Lord Keeper of the great Seal of England for the time being, by Commiſſion under the great Seal of England, or by any nine of them, whereof four of them to be Citizens of the City of London.

Satisfaction ſhall be made to the owners of the ground where the new Cut is made.

And for the better effecting of the premiſſes, and for the due rating of the value of the things to be compounded for by the true intent of this Statute, (if the parties ſhall not agree) Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That at the requeſt and charges of the Mayor, Commonalty and Citizens of London, Commiſſion or Commiſſions under the great Seal of England, ſhall be granted to ſuch perſons as the Lord Chancellor or Lord Keeper of the great Seal of England for the time being ſhall nominate and appoint, whereof four ſhall be of the County of Middleſex, four of the County of Eſſex, and four of the County of Hartford, and four of the City of London, and every of them having Lands and Tenements of the clear yearly value of forty pounds at the leaſt: Which ſixteen, or any nine of them, whereof two to be of the City of London, ſhall have power to order and ſet down what rate or rates, ſum or ſums of money ſhall be paid by the Mayor, Commonalty and Citizens of London, to the Lords, Owners and Occupiers of the Grounds and Soil, and Mills, for which compoſition is to be made by the intent of this Act, if the parties cannot of themſelves agree, and in what manner the ſame ſhall be paid, and that for the recovery of ſuch money as ſhall be ſo ordered and ſet down by the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any nine of them, whereof two to be of the City of London, the party or parties to whom the ſame money ſhall be due to be paid by the true intent of the ſaid order, ſhall or may recover the ſame againſt the ſaid Mayor and Commonalty of London, by action of Debt in any of his Majeſties Courts at Weſtminſter, wherein no Eſſoine, Protection or Wager of Law ſhall be allowed.

Sixteen Commiſſioners ſhall be appointed, and what their authority ſhall be.

Provided alwayes, and be it enacted, That if in the New-Cut there happen any breaches, inundations or hurts, the Mayor, Commonalty and Citizens of London, ſhall from time to time ſtop the breaches at their own charges, and ſufficiently maintain them from time to time, and make ſufficient recompence to the party grieved for the damage ſuſtained by the ſame breaches riſing by their default, to be recovered by action of the Caſe grounded upon this Statute.

The breaches or inundations in the new-cut ſhall be ſtopped by the Mayor, &c. of London.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Mayor, Commonalty and Citizens of London, and their Succeſſors for ever, ſhall make and maintain at their Coſts and Charges from time to time, convenient Bridges and Wayes for the paſſage of the Kings Subjects, and their Cattel and Carriages, over or through the ſaid New-Cut or River, in places meet and convenient.

Bridges and paſſages over and through the new Cut.

And further be it enacted, That untill or before a full agreement with the Lords, Owners and Occupiers of the premiſſes be had, or that ſuch order and means be deviſed and agreed upon by the Commiſſioners, by the Lord Chancellor, or Lord Keeper of the great Seal of England to be nominated and appointed, or the more part of them, as ſhall ſeem meet for the due effecting of the premiſſes, and the ſaid Commiſſion returned into the high Court of Chancery, it ſhall not be lawful to the ſaid Lord Mayor, Commonalty and Citizens, to put the ſaid digging, trenching, or new cutting of the ſaid new River from the ſaid Springs in execution, nor to cut or take in any ground for paſſage of water from the ſaid Springs or any of them, by force of this Statute, Any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Nothing ſhall be done untill the owners of the ground be agreed with.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That after ſuch time as there ſhall be a New-Cut, Stream, or River brought from the Springs aforeſaid, or any of them, to the City of London, that for the better maintenance and preſervation of the ſaid River or New-Cut, and of all the water therein running, to be brought to the City of London, the ſame ſhall be ſubject to the Commiſſion of Sewers, and to the Laws and Statutes made for Sewers, as fully to all intents and purpoſes, as the ſame River or New-Cut had been expreſly mentioned in the ſaid Statutes of Sewers to be under the ſurvey of the ſaid Commiſſioners.

The new-cut brought to London, ſhall be ſubject to Commiſſion of Sewers.

Provided neverthleſſe, and be it enacted, That all ſuch things as ſhall be done at any time hereafter, for the ſcouring, cleanſing, amending, and conſervation of the ſaid new River or Cut, ſhall be at the only coſt and charges of the Mayor, Citizens and Commonalty of the City of London: And that all Fines and Amerciaments which ſhall be impoſed by vertue of the ſaid Commiſſion of Sewers, for any wilful annoyances and offences, which ſhall be at any time hereafter committed to the hurt or prejudice of the ſaid new River or Cut, or any thing thereunto appertaining, ſhall be to the only uſe, benefit, and behoof of the ſaid Mayor, Commonalty and Citizens of London, and their Succeſſors for ever. The forfeiture of Players uſing profanely the Name of God.

FOr the preventing and avoiding of the great abuſe of the holy Name of God in Stage-plays, Enterludes, May-games, Shews, and ſuch like, Be it enacted by our Soveraign Lord the Kings Majeſty, and by the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That if at any time or times after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, any perſon or perſons do or ſhall in any Stage-play, Interlude, Shew, May-game or Pageant, jeſtingly or prophanely ſpeak, or uſe the holy Name of God, or of Chriſt Jeſus, or of the Holy Ghoſt, or of the Trinity, which are not to be ſpoken, but with fear and reverence, ſhall forfeit for every ſuch offence by him or them committed, ten pounds: The one moyety thereof to the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, the other moyety thereof to him or them that will ſue for the ſame in any Court of Record at Weſtminſter, wherein no Eſſoine, Protection or Wager of Law ſhall be allowed.

CAP. XXII.

An Act for the paving of S. Giles and Drury-Lane in the County of Middleſex.

Who are to be taxed towards the paving of S. Giles and Drury Lane.

The Juſtices ſhall appoint Surveyors and Collectors, and what their authority ſhall be.

VVHereas the Town of Saint Giles in the Fields, and that part thereof which leadeth to Holborne, and the Lane called Drury-Lane, leading from Saint Giles in the Fields towards the Strand, and towards New-Inne, is of late years by occaſion of the continual Rode there, and often carriages, become deep, foul and dangerous to all that paſſe thoſe wayes: Be it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That for amendment, repair, and paving of that part of the Town of S. Giles in the Fields leading to Holborn, and of the ſaid Lane called Drury-Lane, within three years from and after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, the Juſtices of Peace of the County of Middleſex for the time being, in the Quarter-Seſſions, or out of the ſaid quarter-Seſſions, or any four of them, ſhall and may aſſeſſe and tax, according to their diſcretions, all and every the Occupiers of any Houſes, Gardens, Lands or Tenements, and Owners of the Freehold or Inheritances thereof, adjoyning to the ſaid Lane at either end, or on any ſide thereof, and all and every or any the Inhabitants of the ſeveral Pariſhes of S. Giles, S. Martins in the Fields, S. Clement-Danes, the Savoy, and ſo much of the Pariſh of S. Andrews in Holborn as is within the ſaid County of Middleſex, being the five Pariſhes into which the ſaid Town and Lane doth extend, or the Occupiers of Lands within any of the ſaid Pariſhes, with ſuch ſum and ſums of money towards the amendment, repair, and paving of the ſaid Town of Saint Giles, and the Lane called Drury-Lane, or ſo much thereof as in the diſcretions of the ſaid Juſtices, or any four of them, ſhall be thought meet and convenient: And the ſaid Juſtices, or any four of them, ſhall have power to nominate, conſtitute and appoint of the ſubſtantial Inhabitants of every of the ſaid Pariſhes, one to be Surveyor of the Works, and in every of the ſaid Pariſhes one other to be Collector of the ſaid ſums within the ſaid Pariſhes, which Surveyors and Collectors ſhall take upon them the charge and buſineſſe of the ſaid amendments, repair and paving, And ſhall and may by authority of this Act levy by diſtreſſe and ſale of goods of ſuch perſons as ſhall be aſſeſſed to pay, and do not within their ſeveral limits pay all ſuch ſums as ſhall be behind and unpaid of the taxations and aſſeſſements above mentioned, rendring the overplus of ſuch goods ſold to the Owner of the ſaid Goods.

The Collectors account.

To whom the accomptant ſhall deliver the arrearages.

Who ſhall repair the ſaid Streets after they be paved.

And the ſaid Surveyors and Collectors ſhall alſo from time to time place, ſet on work, and pay workmen, and provide and pay for all manner of ſtuff neceſſary and needful for the aforeſaid amendment, repair and paving: And the ſaid Collectors, their Executors or Adminiſtrators, ſhall at the end of the ſaid three years, or within one moneth after the ſaid three years, or ſooner, and as often within the ſpace of the ſaid three years, as by the ſaid Juſtices of the Peace, or any four of them ſhall be thought meet and appointed, deliver and make a true account of their collection and diſburſments, to the Clerk of the Peace of the ſaid County of Middleſex, at the open Quarter-Seſſions of the ſaid County; which account being delivered in open Seſſions, ſhall be examined by the ſaid Juſtices of the Peace in Seſſions, or the greateſt part of them, or ſuch of them as the Court of Seſſions ſhall aſſign: And the parties that ſo ſhall examine the ſaid account, ſhall and may by their diſcretions allow, or diſallow any the particulars of the ſaid account which they ſhall not find to be juſt and neceſſary, ſuch and ſo much as they ſhall think meet, and ſet down the true arrearages of the ſame account, which arrearages of the ſaid account, every Accomptant, his Executors or Adminiſtrators reſpectively, for his or their part and portions, ſhall ſatisfie and pay into the hands of the Churchwardens of every the ſaid Pariſhes, where the arrearages ſhall be found, within ten dayes after the ſaid arrearages ſet down, upon pain that in default thereof the party offending ſhall be committed to priſon by the ſaid Juſtices ſo aſſigned for the taking the ſaid account, there to remain untill payment thereof made, which arrearages ſhall remain in the hands of the ſaid Churchwardens of every of the ſaid Pariſhes, to be imployed for new repairs or amendment afterwards of the ſaid Lane, as need ſhall require. And that after the ſaid Streets and Lanes ſhall be fully paved and finiſhed, that for ever hereafter all ſuch Houſes, Lands and Tenements, or Hereditaments as are or ſhall be abutting or next adjoyning to the premiſſes, ſhall be yearly chargeable towards the reparation and maintenance of the ſaid Lanes and Streets, at ſuch rates as four of the ſaid Juſtices of Peace ſhall in their diſcretions think fit. CAP. XXIII.

An Act for the new making and keeping in repair of Chepſtow Bridge.

IN all humble manner ſhewen and inform your moſt excellent Majeſty, the Inhabitants of the greateſt part of South-Wales, That whereas a certain great Bridge of Wood, called Chepſtow-Bridge, was of late ſtanding over the Water or River of Wye, which parteth the Counties of Monmouth and Glouceſter, being the meeteſt and moſt neceſſary paſſage and high-way leading into the parts of South-Wales, and out of the ſame to London, Briſtol, and other parts of England: And whereas alſo at a Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, in the xviii. year of the Reign of the late Queen Elizabeth of famous memory, It was enacted, That the Shire or County of Glouceſter, and the Shire or County of Monmouth ſhould ſtand for evermore chargeable for the maintenance, repairing, amending, and new making of the aforeſaid Bridge, when, and as often as need ſhould require, viz. every of them for ſuch part and moyety as lay to the middle of the ſtream of the aforeſaid water of Wye, on the ſides of the Lordſhip of Chepſtow in the County of Monmouth, and the Lordſhip of Tyddenham in the County of Glouceſter: And that for the aſſeſſement, rating, collection, gathering, and imploying of the Monies thereupon to be ſpent, ſuch form and order ſhould be obſerved, as was appointed by an Act made in the xxii. year of King Henry the the eighth, entituled, An Act concerning repairing and amending of Bridges in high wayes: And that for the more ſpeedy performance of the premiſſes, It was alſo enacted, That if the Juſtices of Peace of the foreſaid Shires of Glouceſter and Monmouth, or any of them, did make any default in not appointing, executing, and obſerving the order appointed by the ſaid Act, for the aſſeſſement, collection, and imployment of the money ſo to be collected according to the meaning of the ſaid Act, by the ſpace of three moneths next after the ſaid Seſſion of Parliament, holden in the ſaid eighteenth year of the ſaid late Queen Elizabeth, That then they and every of them (being reſident and inhabiting in the ſaid Shires) ſhould forfeit for every ſuch default the ſum of ten pounds a piece, to be recovered before the then Queens Majeſties Council in the Marches of Wales, by information, to be imployed to and for the uſe and reparation of the foreſaid Bridge.

The effect of the ſtat. of 18 Eliz. 17. touching repair of Chepſtow Bridge.

22 H. 8. 5.

Forasmuch as the ſaid Act made in the ſaid xviii. year of the ſaid late Queen, is ſithence found to be ſo defective and inſufficient, as well in the power given thereby to Juſtices of Peace of the ſaid Counties, for the aſſeſſing and rating of the Inhabitants thereof, and for collecting of money towards the ſaid Bridge, as alſo in the means for recovery of the penalties thereby impoſed upon Juſtices of Peace of the ſaid Counties, for the default in taking order in the premiſſes, as that thereby no ſuch remedy, benefit, and order for the maintenance and reparation of the ſaid Bridge could be effected, as was intended to be provided by the ſame: And for that by reaſon thereof, the Juſtices of Peace of either the ſaid Counties, neglecting to take order for the maintenance and reparation of the ſaid Bridge, the ſame is of late broken, fallen down, and quite carried away with the ſtream of the ſaid water, whereby the ſaid paſſage and high-way is utterly taken away, to the great charge, greif, noyance, and hurt of a great multitude of the Kings Majeſties Subjects travelling thoſe parts.

The imperfections of the ſtat. of 18 El. 17.

And for that alſo the ſaid Bridge cannot be new made, erected, or kept in reparation, without ſome other and more effectual Law or Proviſion to be ordained by Parliament in that behalf, Be it therefore enacted by the King our Soveraign Lord, and by the conſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the ſaid Act or Ordinance made in the ſaid xviii. year of the late Queen Elizabeth, for the repairing of the ſaid Bridge, be from henceforth utterly repealed, adnulled, void, and of none effect.

A repeal of the ſtat. of 18 El. 17. made touching Chepſtow Bridge.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Shire or County of Glouceſter, and the Shire or County of Monmouth, ſhall for evermore ſtand chargeable reſpectively and ſeverally, for the erecting, building, new making up, and continual reparation and maintenance of the ſaid Bridge, when, and as often as need ſhall require, viz. The ſaid County of Glouceſter, from the midſt of the ſaid Bridge, or from the place where the midſt of the ſaid Bridge ſtood in the ſaid River, for that part or moyety of the ſaid Bridge, which lieth on that ſide, unto the Lordſhip of Tyddenham; And the ſaid County of Monmouth, from the midſt of the ſaid Bridge, or from the place where the midſt of the ſaid Bridge ſtood in the ſaid River, for that part or moyety thereof which lieth on that ſide, unto the Lordſhip of Chepſtow: And that the Juſtices of Peace, or any four of them in either of the ſaid Counties, whereof one to be of the Quorum, ſeverally and reſpectively, ſhall have power and authority by this Act to tax, aſſeſſe, and rate all and every the Inhabitants of the ſaid ſeveral Counties of Glouceſter and Monmouth, ſeverally and reſpectively, as well within Liberties as without, to ſuch reaſonable ſum and ſums of money, from time to time, as to the ſaid Juſtices, or any four of them, in either of the ſaid Counties ſeverally and reſpectively, whereof one to be of the Quorum, ſhall be thought fit, needful and convenient, for the building, new making up, and erecting of the ſaid Bridge, and for the continual reparation thereof: And after ſuch taxation made, the ſaid Juſtices, or any four of them, in either of the ſaid Counties, whereof one to be of the Quorum, within the limits of their Authorities, Commiſſions and Diviſions, ſhall cauſe the names and ſums of every particular perſon in either of the ſaid Counties ſo by them taxed, to be written in ſeveral Rolls indented, and ſhall alſo have power and authority to appoint Collectors of every Hundred, in either of the ſaid Counties, ſeverally and reſpectively within the limits of their ſaid Authorities, Commiſſions and Diviſions, for the ſeveral collection of all ſums of money by them taxed: Which Collectors in either of the ſaid Counties, receiving ſeveral parts of the ſaid Rolls indented, under the Hands and Seals of the ſaid Juſtices, or any four of them within the limits of their Authorities and Commiſſions, whereof one to be of the Quorum, ſhall have power and authority to collect and receive all the particular ſums of money therein contained, and to diſtrain every ſuch Inhabitant as ſhall be taxed, and refuſe to make payment thereof, in his Lands, Goods and Chattels, and to ſell ſuch diſtreſſes, and of the ſale thereof retain and receive all the money taxed, and the reſidue (if the Diſtreſſes be better) to deliver to the Owner thereof: And that the ſame Juſtices, or four of them, in either of the ſaid Counties, whereof one to be of the Quorum, within the limits of their Commiſſions and Authorities, ſhall alſo have power to name and appoint four ſufficient perſons out of the ſaid ſeveral Counties, to be Surveyors from time to time, as need ſhall require, to ſurvey and ſet forward the work for building and repairing of the ſaid Bridge, viz. Two to be Surveyors of the County of Glouceſter, and two to be Surveyors of the County of Monmouth, into whoſe hands the ſaid Collectors of the ſaid Counties, ſeverally and reſpectively, ſhall pay the ſums of money by them levied and collected, to be imployed for the building, erecting and repairing of the ſaid Bridge from time to time, as need ſhall require, and ſhall make Rolls indented, to be ſubſcribed interchangeably between them and the ſaid Surveyors in either County reſpectively, mentioning the times and payment thereof. And that the ſaid Collectors or Surveyors, and every of them, and the Executors and Adminiſtrators of every of them from time to time, when they ſhall be thereunto required, ſhall make true Declarations and Accompts in writing, to the Juſtices of Peace in either of the ſaid Counties wherein they are appointed Collectors or Surveyors, or to any four of them, whereof one to be of the Quorum, of the Receipts, Payments, Imployments and Expences of all the ſums of money by them in that behalf received or beſtowed. And if they, or any of them ſhall refuſe ſo to do, or to pay (without delay to the uſe aforeſaid) ſuch part thereof as ſhall be found to remain in their hands, to ſuch perſon or perſons, as by any four of the ſaid Juſtices of Peace in either County, at their Quarter-Seſſions reſpectively, ſhall be nominated or appointed in that behalf, That then the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, or any four of them, in either of the ſaid Counties, whereof one to be of the Quorum, from time to time by their diſcretions, ſhall have power and authority within the limits of their Commiſſions and Diviſions, to make Proceſſe againſt the ſaid Collectors and Surveyors, and every of them, and the Executors and Adminiſtrators of every of them, by Attachment or Capias under their Seals, for their apprehenſion, returnable at the General Seſſions of Peace in either of the ſaid Counties; and if they appear, then to compel them to accompt and pay as is aforeſaid, or elſe if they or any of them refuſe ſo to do, then to commit ſuch of them as ſhall ſo refuſe, to ward, there to remain without bail or mainpriſe, untill their ſaid Declaration and Accompt be truly made, and untill they make payment of ſuch money as ſhall appear to be by them detained, and not employed. And that the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, or any four of them, in either of the ſaid Counties reſpectively, ſhall take order, that one part of all the ſeveral Rolls, containing all taxations, collections and accompts of every of the ſaid Collectors and Surveyors, from time to time in either of the ſaid Counties (being ſubſcribed as well by the ſaid Juſtices, as alſo by the ſaid Collectors and Surveyors) may remain and be ſafely kept amongſt the Records of the General Seſſions of the Peace in either of the ſaid Counties reſpectively, whereby it may alwayes appear how much money is taxed, collected and imployed from time to time in that behalf.

Surveyors ſhall be appointed, and their authority.

The Collectors and Surveyors ſhall make account to the Juſtices.

The penalty of the Collectors or Surveyors refuſing to account or to pay that which they have received.

The forfeiture of the Juſtices of Peace omitting their duties.

And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every of the Juſtices of Peace of the ſaid County of Monmouth from time to time (being reſident and inhabiting in the ſaid County) and alſo every of the ſaid Juſtices of Peace of the ſaid County of Glouceſter (being reſident and inhabiting in the ſaid County, or within the County of the City of Glouceſter) omitting or neglecting the due execution of this Statute, according to the power and direction thereby to them given (after requeſt made in that behalf by any two of the Inhabitants in either of the ſaid Counties reſpectively) ſhall forfeit and loſe the ſum of five pounds a piece monethly for every moneth, (after the expiration of eight weeks next enſuing the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament) in which no aſſeſment, collection, imployment of money, or other effectual proceeding towards the building of the ſaid Bridge ſhall be by them done or uſed, or procured to be done or uſed, according to the intent and true meaning of this Act, untill the ſaid Bridge be fully, firmly and ſufficiently made up, built and erected, and afterward ſhall loſe and forfeit forty ſhillings a piece, for every monethly negligence or default by them committed, after like requeſt made in that behalf, in not taking order for reparation thereof from time to time as neceſſity ſhall require, in manner as by this Act is preſcribed and limited.

And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforſaid, That it ſhall and may be lawful to and for every ſuch perſon and perſons, as well in the ſaid County of Glouceſter, as alſo in the ſaid County of Monmouth, as by the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, or any four of them, in either of the ſaid Counties reſpectively (whereof one to be of the Quorum, in each County) in their general Seſſions of the Peace ſhall be nominated and appointed in that behalf, to aſk, receive, and take of any of the Kings Majeſties Subjects of South-Wales, of the City of Briſtol, or any other perſon or perſons travelling by that way or paſſage where the ſaid Bridge is to be built (any Act or Statute to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding) all ſuch ſum and ſums of money or benevolence, as they or any of them without compulſion, will willingly give towards the building and erecting of the ſaid Bridge, untill the ſame be fully built and erected, and that true Accompts upon Oath ſhall be made and delivered by every of the ſaid perſons monethly of all ſuch ſum or ſums as ſhall be ſo received or collected, and that the money thereupon due, ſhall be by every of them likewiſe monethly paid over unto any two of the Juſtices of Peace reſpectively in either of the ſaid Counties, wherein they were ſo nominated and appointed, whereof one to be of the Quorum, by ſeveral Writings indented, to be ſubſcribed interchangeably between the ſaid Juſtices and the ſaid Accomptants, upon pain that every of the ſaid perſons ſhall forfeit and loſe forty ſhillings for every default by them committed in not making ſuch accompt and payment, and the ſaid money ſo received, to be by the ſaid Juſtices reſpectively diſpoſed and imployed towards the building of the ſaid Bridge; and that ſuch parts of the ſaid writings of accompts and payments as ſhall be from time to time delivered to the ſaid Juſtices in either County, ſhall remain and be kept amongſt the Records of the Seſſions of the Peace in either of the ſaid Counties reſpectively, whereby it may appear how much is given and received towards the ſaid Bridge, and as well the perſons to be appointed in either of the ſaid Counties for receiving the ſaid Gifts and Benevolence, as alſo the Collectors and Surveyors afore-mentioned in either County, ſhall and may have ſuch reaſonable allowance towards their pains and ſervices in the premiſſes, as by the more part of the Juſtices of Peace at their Quarter-Seſſions reſpectively in either of the ſaid Counties, ſhall be ordered and ſet down under their hands in that behalf.

Allowance of the askers of benevolence, Collectors and Surveyors for their pains.

The forfeit of a Juſtice of Peace retaining any of the money collected.

And moreover, Be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if the ſaid Juſtices of Peace in either of the ſaid Counties, or any of them, or any other to his or their uſe, have, or hath heretofore had, or received any ſum or ſums of money given, taxed or collected, or ſhall at any time hereafter take, or receive any money given, taxed or collected, towards the erecting and new making of the ſaid Bridge, or the reparation thereof, and ſhall and do detain the the ſame, or any part thereof in his or their hands, and do not imploy it towards the building or reparation of the ſaid Bridge with all convenient ſpeed, upon requeſt to him or them in that behalf made, That then every ſuch Juſtice of Peace, or other perſon ſo offending, for every ſuch default or offence, ſhall forfeit and loſe the ſum of forty pounds. And if any of the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, or any other perſon or perſons whatſoever, which hath had or gotten, or hereafter ſhall have or get into his hands any money, given, rated, received or collected, for or towards the building or reparation of the ſaid Bridge, ſhall conceal, detain, or convert the ſame to his or their own uſes, and ſhall refuſe to make payment thereof, to be imployed accordingly upon requeſt made in that behalf, that then it ſhall and may be lawful for any perſon or perſons to ſue the party or parties (detaining ſuch money) in the high Court of Chancery, or any Court of Equity by Engliſh Bill, for recovery thereof, and the ſame being recovered by Decree or Order of that Court, ſhall be imployed towards the building or repairing of the ſaid Bridge by direction of the ſaid Court, and that ſuch allowance or coſts ſhall be ordered by the ſaid Court to be paid to ſuch as ſhall ſo ſue for the ſame, towards his or their charges beſtowed therein, as ſhall be thought meet and convenient.

By what means the forfeiture ſhall be recovered, and how they ſhall be imployed.

And be it likewiſe enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every of the ſaid forfeitures herein before mentioned, ſhall and may be recovered againſt the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, or other perſon ſo offending, and every or any of them, by action of Debt, Bill, Plaint or Information, in any of the Kings Majeſties Courts of Record at Weſtminſter, wherein no Eſſoine, Wager of Law or Protection ſhall be admitted or allowed: And that every of the ſaid forfeitures which ſhall be recovered, being divided into four parts, one part thereof ſhall remain and be to the uſe of ſuch perſon or perſons as ſhall ſue, complain, or inform for the ſame, toward his or their charges therein, and the other three parts thereof after ſuch recovery ſhall be imployed and beſtowed towards the making and repairing of the ſaid Bridge from time to time, by direction and order of the Court, wherein the ſame ſhall be recovered. Scotiſhmen. 7 H. 7. 7.

And one other Statute made in the ſeventh year of the Reign of King Henry the ſeventh, whereby it is enacted, That Scotiſhmen ſhould avoid out of the Realm of England within a time prefixed.

23 H. 8. 16.

And one other Statute made in the xxiii. year of the Reign of King Henry the eighth.

Horſes. 1 Eliz. 7.

And a like Statute made in the firſt year of the Reign of the late Queen Elizabeth, whereby the conveying of Horſes out of England into Scotland is made felony.

Lands let to Scotiſhmen 2 & 3 P. & M. 1.

And one other Statute made in the ſecond and third years of the Reign of King Philip and Queen Mary.

23 Eliz. 4. A repeal of the former nine ſtatutes.

And the like Statute made in the xxiiii. year of the Reign of the late Queen Elizabeth, whereby it is enacted, That no Lands or Tenements be let to Scotiſhmen upon the borders, ſhall be utterly abrogated, repealed, and made void: And if there had appeared any other Statute of this Realm of England, wherein any thing is ordained, enacted or eſtabliſhed, expreſly and by name againſt Scotiſhmen, as enemies, or Scotland, as an enemy Country to the Kings of this Realm, or the State of the ſame, We ſhould for ſo much of them as had ſo concerned Scotiſhmen, or Scotland, have utterly abrogated and adnulled the ſame; ſeeing all enmity and hoſtility of former times between the two Kingdoms and People is now happily taken away, and under the Government of his Majeſty, as under one Parent and Head, turned into fraternity or brotherly friendſhip.

This repeal ſhall take no effect until other ſtatutes made in Scotland be repealed.

Remaining in England without the Kings licence.

Provided nevertheleſs, and be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That none of the articles, branches or clauſes aboveſaid, in this Act before contained and expreſſed, ſhall take effect or be in force, or in any wiſe be deemed and expounded to take effect or to be in force, to any intent, conſtruction or purpoſe, untill theſe Acts of Parliament of the Realm of Scotland hereafter following, That is to ſay, One Act made in the time of James the firſt, King of Scotland, by which it was enacted, That all perſons remaining in England without the Kings Licence, did commit Treaſon.

One other Act made in the time of the ſaid King James the firſt, whereby any aſſurance with Engliſh-men, for taking protection from them for Lands or Goods, is Treaſon.

One other Act in the ſame Kings time, inhibiting all buying and ſelling of Engliſh goods forbidden, under pain of eſcheat.

One other Act made in the time of James the ſecond, King of Scotland, That none ſhould paſs into England in time of War without Licence, under pain of Treaſon.

One other Act made in the Reign of the ſaid King James the ſecond, That no Engliſhman come into Scotland without conduct, and that no Scotiſhman ſit under aſſurance with them.

One other Act of the ſame Kings time, That no Scotiſhman ſupply Barwick and Roxburgh, under pain of Treaſon.

One other Act made in the time of the ſaid King James the ſecond, That all men be ready for defence of the Realm againſt England.

Two Acts made in the time of James the third, King of Scotland, For reſiſting King Edward the fourth.

One other Act made in the time of the ſaid King James the third, Concerning the upholding of Barwick, and Garriſons upon the borders.

One Act made in the Reign of Mary late Queen of Scotland, by which it was enacted, That Scotiſhmen are charged to leave aſſurances with Engliſhmen.

One other Act made in the time of the ſaid Queen Mary, Concerning aſſured Scotiſhmen aſſiſting the Engliſh Army.

One Act made in the Parliament of Scotland in the time of the moſt happy Reign of our moſt gracious Soveraign Lord the King that now is, containing, That the Scotiſh borderers are diſcharged to marry Engliſh borderers Daughters.

The Parliament of Scotland ſhall repeal all their hoſtile laws.

And laſtly, one other Act made in the time of our Soveraign Lord the King, injoyning the Warden to put in a bill, the names of all Engliſhmen that occupy Land in Scotland, and ſeek redreſs according to the Treaties, ſhall by Act of Parliament of the ſaid Realm of Scotland be utterly repealed, fruſtrate, and made void: And untill alſo the ſaid Parliament of the Realm of Scotland ſhall by their ſaid Act make as full and ample Declaration concerning their clear intention and deſire of repeal of all other hoſtile Laws of their part not before mentioned, if they were known, as on the part of this Realm of England hath been in this preſent Act made and expreſſed.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That one Act made in the fifth year of King Richard the ſecond, concerning the reſtraint of paſſage of his Majeſties Subjects out of this Realm, and every Ordinance, Proviſion, Article or Clauſe therein contained, ſhall be from henceforth utterly repealed.

A repeal of the ſtat. of 5 R. 2. touching the reſtraint of paſſage over the Sea.

And be it further enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That no perſon or perſons whatſoever, Subject of either Realm, ſhall be puniſhed, ſued, delivered or demanded, or any way troubled, or called in queſtion for life, member, damage, recompence, reſtitutions, or other ſatisfactions whatſoever, for or by reaſon of any offences, ſpoils, wrongs or treſpaſſes, (before the deceaſe of the ſaid late Queen Elizabeth of famous memory) which were determinable by the Laws or Conſtitutions of the Borders within the Courts and Juriſdictions of the late Wardens, or otherwiſe, which purported actions of hoſtility by Sea or Land by him or them committed, or whereunto he or they were acceſſaries before or after ſuch offence or fact committed, or privy or aiding to the ſame, or for, or in reſpect whereof he or they were, or are pledges, or otherwiſe by any ways or means whatſoever anſwerable or chargeable, or elſe ſtand charged or chargeable with any promiſe, contract, bill, bond, bills filed, ſentence, decree, or other aſſurances given or taken for the ſame only, or for ſo much only of ſuch other aſſurances as was given, or is in force for that and for no other.

None ſhall be troubled for any wrong done before the death of Q. Eliz. by the laws of the Borders.

And foraſmuch as no abolition of hoſtile Laws, or of the memory of hoſtility, or of Suits and Controverſies thereupon depending, can preſently and at once extirpate and reform thoſe inveterate evil cuſtoms and diſorders, as well of fewds and blood, as of theft and ſpoils, wherewith the worſt ſort of Inhabitants, near the limits of both Realms, were infected and inured, although by his Majeſties inceſſant care and Princely policy, thoſe parts be already reduced to a more civil and peaceable eſtate, than could in ſo ſhort time have been expected: And whereas experience teacheth, that the Malefactors of either Realm, having committed their offences in the other Realm, do forthwith fly and eſcape many times into their own Country, thereby to purchaſe their impunity, to the great and manifeſt grievances of the one Realm, and the diſhonor of the other:

Evil cuſtoms [illegible], be not preſently to be extirpate.

And whereas in regard of ſome difference and inequality in the Laws, Trials and Proceedings in caſes of Life, between the Juſtice of the Realm of England, and that of the Realm of Scotland, it appeareth to be moſt convenient for the contentment and ſatisfaction of all his Majeſties Subjects, to proceed with all poſſible ſeverity againſt ſuch Offendors in their own Country, according to the Laws of the ſame whereunto they are born and inheritable, and by and before the natural born Subjects of the ſame Realm, if they ſhall be there apprehended:

The difference of the laws, trials and proceedings in caſe of life between the Juſtice of England and Scotland.

Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all offences of conjurations, witch-craft, and dealing with evil and wicked ſpirits, murther, manſlaughter, felonious burning of houſes and corn, burglary, robbing of houſes by day, robbery, theft, the deteſtable vice of buggery committed with mankind or beaſt, and rape heretofore done and committed ſince his Majeſties coming to the Crown of England, or hereafter to be done or commited by any his Majeſties natural born Subjects of this Realm of England, or the Dominions of the ſame, within the Realm of Scotland, or the Dominions thereof, and the acceſſaries of and to the ſame, ſhall be from henceforth enquired of, heard and determined before his Majeſties Juſtices of Aſſize, or his Commiſſioners of Oyer and Terminer, or Gaol-delivery, being natural born Subjects within this Realm of England, and none other, by good and lawful men of the Counties of Cumberland, Northumberland, Weſtmerland, or any of the ſaid Counties at the election of the ſaid Juſtices of Aſſiſes, or Commiſſioners, in like manner and form to all intents and purpoſes (the alterations hereafter in this Act expreſſed only excepted) as if ſuch offences had been done and committed within the ſame Shire, where they ſhall be ſo enquired of, heard and determined as is aforeſaid. All which trials, for the better diſcovery of the truth, and for the better information of the conſciences of the Jury and Juſtices, there ſhall be allowed unto the party ſo arraigned, the benefit of ſuch witneſſes only to be examined upon Oath, that can be produced for his better clearing and juſtification, as hereafter in this Act are permitted and allowed.

Trials of felonies committed by Engliſhmen in Scotland.

Witneſs allowed to the party arraigned.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every Juſtice of Peace of the Counties aforeſaid, unto whom complaint ſhall be made, ſhall have full power and authority by vertue of this Act, to bind over by Recogniſance in a convenient ſum taken to his Majeſties uſe, as well the party proſecuting, as any witneſſes which he ſhall deſire to produce (ſo as the ſaid witneſſes may have their reaſonable charges firſt tendred unto them) to proſecute and give in evidence before ſuch his Majeſties Juſtices as aforeſaid, as the caſe ſhall require.

The proſecutor and witneſſes ſhall be bound to give evidence.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every Commander, Procurer, Counceller, Abetter, Comforter, Receiver, or other acceſſary of or to any the offendors or offences aforeſaid ſo committed in Scotland, as aforeſaid, offending within the Realms of England or Scotland, ſhall be proceeded withal, indicted, tryed, judged, and executed without delay, notwithſtanding the Principals, or any of them be not convicted or attainted: And that no ſuch Offendor either acceſſary or principal, ſhall be allowed the benefit of his Clergy, nor admitted to his peremptory challenge of above the number of five. And that every indictment of any of the offences aforeſaid ſo committed as aforeſaid, ſhall be judged of as good force in Law, notwithſtanding the words (Contra pacem, coronam & dignitatem noſtras) be omitted, as if the ſaid words had been therein contained.

The acceſſary ſhall be tried, though the principal be not convicted or attainted.

The words contra pacem, &c omitted in an indictment.

And be it further enacted, That no Sheriff, Underſheriff, or other Miniſter to whom it appertaineth, ſhall return any Juror to inquire of, or try any of the offences aforeſaid, ſo committed as aforeſaid, except every ſuch Juror ſhall have freehold in poſſeſſion to the value of five pounds by the year, in the County where ſuch inquiry and trial ſhall be, upon pain to forfeit for every Juror that ſhall be returned contrary to this Act, the ſum of forty pounds, the one moyety to the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, the other to the party that will ſue for the ſame, by action of Debt, Bill, Plaint or Information, in any of his Majeſties Courts at Weſtminſter, wherein no Eſſoine, Protection, or Wager of Law ſhall be allowed: And that the Offendor ſhall and may challenge any Juror that ſhall paſs upon his life, for want of ſuch freehold as aforeſaid.

Of how much freehold every Juror returned to try an offendor ſhall be.

Challenge for want of free-freehold.

Provided alwayes, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no natural Subject of his Majeſty of the Realm of England, or of the Dominions of the ſame, ſhall for any the offences aforeſaid committed within the Realm of Scotland, or for being acceſſary to the ſame, forfeit any Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, either Free, Copy or Cuſtomary hold, neither ſhall the blood of ſuch Offendor be corrupted, nor the Wife loſe her Dower, yet nevertheleſs the ſaid Offendors ſhall forfeit to his Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, their Goods, Chattels, and credits whatſoever.

What an English man committing a felony in Scotland ſhall forfeit, and what not.

And foraſmuch as it is intended, that an Act like unto this ſhall be ordained in the Realm of Scotland, for the trial and puniſhment of Offendors, being his Majeſties natural born Subjects of the ſame Realm, which ſhall commit any of the offences aforeſaid within the Realm of England or the Dominions thereof, and ſhall after eſcape or return back into Scotland.

A like act ſhall be made in Scotland.

Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That upon complaint made by any his Majeſties ſubjects of the Realm of England, to any of the Juſtices of Aſſize, Commiſſioners of Oyer and Terminer, or Gaol-delivery, or Juſtice of the Peace, within the precincts of their ſeveral Commiſſions reſpectively, being natural born Subjects within the Realm of England, concerning any ſuch offence committed by any of his Subjects of the Realm of Scotland within the Realm of England, in caſe where the offendor is returned into the Realm of Scotland as aforeſaid, the ſaid Juſtice or Commiſſioner ſhall have full power and authority to bind over as well the ſaid party complaining or proſecuting, as any witneſſes that he ſhall deſire to produce, (ſo as their reaſonable charges be firſt tendred unto them) by Recogniſance in a convenient ſum to his Majeſties uſe, to proſecute and give in evidence within the Realm of Scotland: wherein if default ſhall be made, and the ſame proved by Certificate or otherwiſe before the Lord Treaſurer, Chancellor, and Barons of the Exchequer, or any of them in the Exchequer-Chamber, and a Decree there made that the ſame Recogniſance ſhall ſtand forfeited, then the Court of Exchequer ſhall thereupon proceed for the levying of the Debt of the ſaid Recogniſance, as if it were adjudged forfeited by the courſe of the Common Law.

Binding of the complainant and witneſſes to give evidence againſt an offendor in Scotland.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That on the other part every of his Majeſties Subjects of the Realm of Scotland, either party grieved, or witneſs, which ſhall proſecute in any the Caſes aforeſaid within the Realm of England, and thereby ſhall have occaſion to make his repair hither, either voluntarily, or by the like Bond as is before expreſſed, on the part of the Realm of England, ſhall have and enjoy Priviledge and Immunity from all manner of Arreſts, concerning all offences, or other cauſes, as well capital as others, committed, done, or occaſioned, before he ſhall ſo come into England as aforeſaid (except Treaſon or wilful Murther) ſo long as he or they ſhall be neceſſarily going, coming, or abiding within the ſaid Realm of England, for the proſecution of the ſaid Offendors.

Scotiſh men coming into England to give evidence againſt offendors, ſhall be free from arreſts.

Provided nevertheleſs, That every ſuch offence ſo committed as aforeſaid, ſhall be laid and alledged in the Indictment or other Declaration to be done and committed in the Realm of Scotland, according to the truth of the Fact, and not in the Counties where the trial is limited, to be had and made as aforeſaid; Any thing in this Act formerly contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The offence ſhall be alledged in the Inditement where it is done.

Provided alſo, and be it further enacted, That if any his Majeſties Subjects of the Realm of Scotland, ſhall be proceeded with and tried in the Realm of Scotland, upon the proſecution of any party grieved, and upon evidence in open Court for any offence done or committed within the Realm of England, that no ſuch perſon ſhall be eftſoons called in queſtion, or proceeded with for the ſame Fact within the Realm of England, but that it ſhall be lawful for every ſuch perſon to plead or alledge for himſelf upon his Arraignment, that he was formerly lawfully acquitted, convicted, or attainted of the ſame offence within the Realm of Scotland, and that thereupon all further proceeding ſhall ſtay until the Court have ſufficiently informed themſelves by Certificate from the Realm of Scotland, or by any other good ways and means of the truth of the ſaid allegations, which if they ſhall find true, the ſaid perſon ſhall be forthwith diſcharged of all further impeachment or proceeding.

He that is once tried, ſhall not be eftſoons called in queſtion for the ſame offence.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no natural born Subject of the Realm of England, or the Dominions of the ſame, ſhall for any high Treaſon, Miſpriſion, or Concealment of high Treaſon, petty Treaſon, or any other whatſoever offence, or cauſe, committed within Scotland, be ſent out of England, where he is apprehended, to receive his trial, until ſuch time as both Realms ſhall be made one in Laws and Government, which is the thing ſo much deſired, as that wherein the full perfection of the bleſſed Union already begun in his Majeſties Royal perſon conſiſteth. And becauſe there is too great reaſon to fear, that the partiality and corruptions of many that live in thoſe parts, through their long and evil courſe of life, cannot but produce much and frequent perjury at ſuch trials as aforeſaid, if the Jury in their proceeding do not uſe great wiſdom and circumſpection, in which reſpect it is moſt juſt and neceſſary to provide as well that the guilty ſhall not eſcape, as that the innocent ſhall not be condemned:

No Engliſhman ſhall be ſent out of England to receive his trial in Scotland.
A.L.T. 7 Jac. 1.

Be it therefore provided, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That in all ſuch trials, the Jurors then and there ſworn, or the greater part of them (who in reſpect of the great truſt and charge which muſt now be laid upon them, are by vertue of this Act as before appeareth, to be perſons of better condition and quality, than the Law required heretofore for Jurors in trials of like offences) ſhall have in their power and election, according to their conſcience and diſcretion upon their Oaths, to receive and admit only ſuch ſufficient, good and

The Jurors may allow or reject the witneſſes.

and lawful witneſſes upon their Oaths, either for, or againſt the party arraigned, as ſhall not appear to them, or the greater part of them to be unfit and unworthy to be witneſſes in that caſe, either in regard of their hatred and malice, or their favour and affection, either to the party proſecuting, or to the party arraigned, or of their former evil life and converſation.

Provided alſo, and be it further enacted, That if the Offendor in any the caſes aforeſaid ſhall be a Peer of the Realm, then his trial therein ſhall be by his Peers, as is uſed in caſes of Felony or Treaſon, and not otherwiſe.

Trial of a Peer by his Peers.

And that no Clothworker, or any other perſon or perſons whatſoever, ſhall have or uſe for the cutting or taking away of the wool from the back-ſides of any clothe and kerſies, any knife or knives, rubſter or rubſters, pumiſtone, or any other device, whatſoever, but only to ſheer the ſame back-ſide with a pair of ſheers, on pain of forfeiting for every piece wherein or whereupon the ſame ſhall be ſo done, the ſum of xiii. s. iiii. d.

There ſhall be no blowing, ſpouting, or bedewing any cloth on the ſides near the liſts.

And be it further enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That no Cloth-worker, Sheerman, or Fuller, or any other perſon or perſons whatſoever ſhall from and after the Feaſt of Saint John Baptiſt next enſuing the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, blow, ſpout, or bedew any kind of Broad-cloth or Kerſie on the ſides and edges neer the liſts thereof, with any water, or other liquid or moiſt thing whatſoever, whereby the edges or ſides of any cloth or kerſie may make ſhew to be better than it is in the ridge, creſt, or midſt thereof, Upon pain to forfeit for every ſuch offence the ſum of thirteen ſhillings four pence of lawful money of England: And if any perſon or perſons ſhall blow, ſpout, wet, or bedew, or cauſe to be blowed, ſpouted, wet or bedewed with any liquid or moiſt thing any kind of cloth or kerſie of whatſoever countrey, making, or name, for increaſe of weight, thereby to deceive the Buyers or Searchers, ſuch perſon or perſons ſhall forfeit and loſe for every ſuch offence the ſum of forty ſhillings of like lawful money of England.

The forfeiture for blowing, ſpouting, &c. of a cloth for increaſe of weight.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all the ſaid white clothes, and coloured clothes, which by this preſent act are not limited and appointed to be wrought, dreſſed, and ſhorne, ſhall have allowance and abatement for the dying, dreſſing, rowing, and ſheering thereof, for every ſuch ſaid ſhort broad woollen clothes, four pounds in weight and no more, and the long clothes five pounds and no more, and ſo after the rate in all and every the ſame half woollen cloth, kerſie, and other the ſaid woollen cloth.

Agreement for the dying, dreſſing, ſheering, and rowing of cloth.

Be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that it ſhall and may be lawful to and for any perſon or perſons lawfully exerciſing the trade or art of a Clothier, or making of clothes, to make flocks, thrums, and lambs wooll into cloth of one only kind or making, which ſhall contain in length, being throughly wet, between twelve and thirteen ſuch yards and inches as is aforeſaid, and in breadth one yard at the leaſt within the liſts, and being clean ſcowred, thicked, milled, and fully dried, ſhall weigh fifteen pounds the piece at the leaſt.

Into what kind of clothes onely flocks, thrums, and lambs wooll may be put. Rep. 21 Jac. 18.

And for the better and more eaſie diſtinction and knowledge of every ſuch cloth, from cloth made of perfect wool, every cloth made of flocks, thrums and lambs wooll, ſhall have the one liſt wholly of black yarn, and on the other ſide a ſelvedge only. And that from henceforth no perſon or perſons ſhall put any hair, flocks, thrums, or any yarn made of lambs wooll or other deceiveable thing or things, in or upon any other broad woollen cloth, half cloth, kerſie, frize, dozen, bayes, peniſtone, cotton, Taunton cloth, Bridgewater, Dunſter cotton, or other cloth of what nature, kind, and name ſoever, made to be ſold, and ſold, not being made and liſted with ſuch black liſt and ſelvedge as aforeſaid, upon pain to forfeit every ſuch of the ſaid woollen cloth, half cloth, kerſie, frize, dozen, peniſtone, cotton, and other woollen cloth, of what nature, kind, and name ſoever other than ſuch as ſhall be liſted and made as aforeſaid whereinto or upon which any ſuch hair, flocks thrums, yarn of lambs wooll, or other deceiveable thing ſhall be put or uſed, or the value thereof.

The means to know cloth made of flocks, thrums, &c.

The penalty for putting of any hair, flocks, &c. into any other cloth.

Provided alwayes in ſuch towns, places, and counties, where flannel, wadnals, and coverlets, or blankets are uſually made, the ſame may be made in ſuch ſort, as heretofore hath been lawfully uſed and accuſtomed: This ſtatute or any thing therein contained to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Places where flannel, wadnals and coverlets be made.

And if any the ſaid broad woollen clothes, or half cloth, or any other kind of woollen clothes dozens, cottons, or other ſorts of woollen cloth before mentioned in this preſent act, of what nature, kind, or name ſoever they be of, made to be ſold, and ſold, ſhall be more in length than is therefore reſpectively limited and appointed in this preſent act, then every perſon or perſons ſelling the ſame, ſhall forfeit and pay for every yard and inch, exceeding the length ſo appointed, the ſum of ten ſhillings and no more.

The forfeiture where the cloth is longer than is appointed.

And if any ſuch cloth ſhall not weigh proportionably for every ſuch yard and inch to the ſeveral and reſpective weight to them ſo limited and appointed, then the ſaid perſon and perſons ſelling the ſame, ſhall forfeit and loſe for every pound weight that ſhall be wanting above two pounds, the ſum of ten ſhillings and no more, Any former law or ſtatute to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The forfeiture where the cloth wanteth weight.

And if any ſuch cloth before mentioned, not exceeding the ſeveral lengths to them by this Statute limited or appointed, and holding the ſeveral and reſpective weight limited and appointed, do yet fortune to want of the juſt breadth limited or appointed, then the ſaid perſon or perſons ſelling the ſame, ſhall forfeit and loſe for every cloth falling narrow thorow the whole cloth, twenty ſhillings, and throughout half the cloth, ten ſhillings, and under half the cloth, five ſhillings, and no more, Any former Laws or Statutes inflicting other or greater penalty or penalties to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The forfeiture if the cloth do want breadth.

And if any cloth or clothes, of any the names, natures, or making aforeſaid, which by this Statute, or any clauſe or article therein, or any other Statute now in force, and not repealed, ſhall upon due and convenient trial, within convenient time after ſale thereof, in preſence of the party that ſold the ſame, or other perſon or perſons by him appointed, if he or they will be preſent at the ſearch and trial thereof, or if he or they will not be preſent, having reaſonable notice, then in his or their abſence be found to be of leſs length than the ſeal or ſeals, thereon fixed at the time of the ſale thereof, do purport: Then the owner, or perſon or perſons ſelling the ſame ſhall forfeit and loſe to the Merchant, Draper, or other perſon or perſons that ſhall have bought the ſame, for ſo much as ſhall be wanting of the length ſpecified in the ſeal or ſeals of the ſaid cloth, after the rate of ſix ſhillings eight pence for every yard, over and beſides the true value of ſo much of the ſaid cloth or clothes, as ſhall be found wanting of the length certified by the ſaid ſeal or ſeals, and no more: Any former Law or Statute, inflicting other or greater penalty, to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The forfeiture if the cloth be of leſs length than the ſeal doth purport.

And be it further enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That all and every branch, clauſe, and ſentence in any former Statute, whereby any other length, breadth, or weight of the clothes before mentioned, or any of them, or any other penalty or forfeiture concerning the length, breadth, or weight of the aforeſaid clothes, or any of them, or any other offence by this act intended to be reformed, is limited, or whereby any penalty or forfeiture for the offences in this bill mentioned or any of them, are given to any other perſon or perſons than in and by this Statute is limited and intended, ſhall be from henceforth utterly repealed and made void.

A Repeal of all Statutes concerning the length, breadth and weight of clothes or forfeitures.

And be it further enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That none of the clothes aforeſaid, which by the Laws and Statutes of this Realm ought to be ſealed, of what name

Cloth ſearched by Overſeers ſhall not be ſearched, tried, or watered again, but by the buyer thereof. 39 El. 20. 43 El. 10.

name, nature or quality ſoever they be of, being ſealed by the Overſeers, authorized as well by the ſtatute made in the nine and thirtieth year of the reign of our late ſaid Soveraign Lady Queen Elizabeth entituled, An Act againſt the deceitful ſtretching and tentring of Northern cloth, as alſo by a Statute made in the three and fortieth year of her ſaid reign, entituled, An act for the true working and making of woollen cloth, ſhall afterward be ſearched, tryed or watered by any other perſon or perſons whatſoever, but only by the Merchant or Draper, or other perſon to whom the ſame ſhall be ſold. And that if any woollen cloth, upon the ſearch by the Searchers or Overſeers of the cities, counties, towns or places where the cloth is made, ſhall be found either to exceed the length, or to want of the weight by this Statute limited, the ſaid Searchers or Overſeers finding and certifying the ſaid overlength and the weight that ſhall want, or ſuch of them, wherein the offence ſhall happen to have been committed, by his or their ſeal or ſeals, ſhall have the one moiety of all ſuch penalties and forfeitures, as by the Statute are given, limited, and appointed for exceſs of length, or want of weight, and no other perſon or perſons, And ſhall or may ſue for and recover the ſame by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, in any of his Majeſties courts of record at Weſtminſter, wherein no eſſoyn, protection, or wager of Law ſhall be allowed, and our Soveraign Lord the Kings Majeſty, his heirs and ſucceſſors, ſhall have the other moiety.

Where the Searchers or Overſeers ſhall take ſome benefit by the forfeitures.

The forfeiture where clothes be faulty, and not ſo certified by the Overſeer.

And alſo if any woollen-cloth or clothes, of any the natures, names, or makings aforeſaid, ſhall after ſuch ſearch in the Countrey or other place aforeſaid, be found to be faulty in any thing not certified, and appearing by the ſeal or ſeals of the ſaid Overſeers and Searchers, by the Merchant or Draper, or other perſon or perſons buying the ſame, upon due and convenient tryal within convenient time after the ſale thereof, in preſence of the party that ſold the ſame, or of other perſon or perſons by him or them to be appointed, if he or they will be preſent at the ſearch and trial thereof, or if he or they will not be preſent, having reaſonable notice given: Then in his or their abſence, the ſaid Merchant or Draper, or other perſon that bought the ſame, and no other, ſhall have the one moiety of all the penalties and forfeitures by this Statute impoſed, and incurred, and not become due to the Overſeers and Searchers aforeſaid, to his own only proper uſe and behoof, Any former ſtatute, matter or thing whatſoever to the contrary hereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding: And alſo ſhall or may ſue for and recover the ſame in any of his Majeſties Courts of Record at Weſtminſter, by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, wherein no eſſoyn, protection, or wager of Law ſhall be allowed; and his Majeſty, his heirs and ſucceſſors ſhall have the other moiety.

Duties and payments for a broad woollen cloth.

And foraſmuch as of late it hath been reputed, That a broad woollen cloth ſhould and ought to conſiſt of four and twenty ſuch yards and inches as aforeſaid, and not above, and payments and other duties have been accordingly demanded, and paid for the ſame: Be it therefore Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any broad-woollen cloth be made longer or ſhorter than four and twenty ſuch ſaid yards and inches, all duties and payments hereafter to be paid for the ſame, ſhall be demanded and made proportionable, according to the rate and proportion of four and twenty ſuch ſaid yards and inches for a whole cloth, and not otherwiſe.

Every Clothier may make any kind of woollen cloth.

And whereas by this and divers other ſtatutes concerning Drapery and Clothing, it is enacted, That all and every broad cloth and clothes, which ſhall be made in Kent and Suſſex, or at the Town of Readiug, or elſewhere of like making, ſhall be of certain length, breadth, and weight, in this or other the ſaid ſtatutes expreſſed and limited, and in like ſort for woollen clothes moſt uſually made in ſome other Counties or Towns, are firſt, ſpecially and particularly named in this and other the ſaid ſtatutes, And after follow theſe words (or elſewhere of like making) importing, That it ſhould be lawful for any Clothier, of whatſoever Town or County within this Realm, to make cloth of like making, and accordingly the ſame hath heretofore been put in ure: Yet foraſmuch as of late ſome doubt hath thereupon riſen, Be it therefore explained and enacted, That it is and ſhall be lawful for every Clothier, of what town or county ſoever within this Realm, where clothing hath heretofore been uſed, to make, or cauſe to be made, any true woollen-cloth, of what name, nature or manner of making ſoever the ſame be, Albeit the ſame kind of woollen-cloth do bear ſpecially the name of ſome other county, city, or town within this Realm. This Act to continue until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

The continuance of this Act.

The Kings duties and his Officers reſerved.

Provided always, and be it Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That neither this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall extend to abridge or diminiſh any cuſtoms or duties appertaining to our Soveraign Lord the Kings Majeſty, his heirs or ſucceſſors, or to any his Officers or Miniſters, for the ſearching, meaſuring or ſealing any the clothes before mentioned, Nor to hurt or prejudice the lawfull fees due or belongnig to his Majeſties Aulneger, or to hurt or prejudice the lawful uſe and exerciſe of the office of Aulneger: So, as after any cloth once lawfully ſearched, and lawfully ſealed, the ſame be not compelled to be further viewed, ſearched, meaſured, or ſealed. St. 21 Jac. 18. & 28. 3 Car. 4.

Cloth once lawfully ſearched and ſealed, ſhall not be ſearched or ſealed again.

CAP. III.

Certain Caſes wherein the Defendant ſhall recover Coſts againſt the Plaintiff.

Caſes wherein by the ſtatute made 23 H. 8. 15 the defendant ſhall recover his coſts.

Whereas in the three and twentieth year of King Henry the eighth of famous memory, a good and profitable Law was made, whereby it was enacted, That in caſes where the plaintiff in any action, bill, or plaint of debt, treſpaſs upon the caſe, detinue, account, and in ſome other actions therein eſpecially mentioned, ſhould become nonſuit, or a verdict ſhould be had againſt the ſaid plaintiff; That then in ſuch caſes the defendant ſhould have Judgment to recover his coſts againſt every ſuch plaintiff, as by the ſaid Law appeareth: Which Law hath been found to be very good and beneficial for the Common-wealth, and thereby many have been diſcouraged from bringing frivolous and unjuſt ſuits, becauſe ſuch parties are to make recompence to the parties unjuſtly vexed, for the ſaid unjuſt vexations.

And foraſmuch as actions of treſpaſs, and actions of Ejectione firmæ, and many other actions real and perſonal, are within the ſame miſchief, as the ſaid other actions were at the Common-Law, and yet were omitted out of the proviſion of the ſaid Law: For remedy whereof, Be it Enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That if any perſon or perſons at any time after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament ſhall commence or ſue in any Court of Record, or in any other Court, any action, bill, or plaint of Treſpaſs, or Ejectione firmæ, or any other action whatſoever, wherein the plaintiff or defendant might have coſts (if in caſe Judgment ſhould be given for him) And the plaintiff or plaintiffs, demandant or demandants, in any ſuch action, bill, or plaint, after appearance of the defendant or defendants, be non-ſuited, or that any [a] verdict happen to paſſe by any lawful tryal againſt the plaintiff or plaintiffs, demandant or demandants, in any ſuch action, bill, or plaint, Then the defendant and defendants, in every ſuch action, bill, or plaint, ſhall have Judgment, to recover his coſts againſt every ſuch plaintiff and plaintiffs, demandant and demandants, to be aſſeſſed, taxed, and levied in manner and form, as coſts in the ſaid actions are to be aſſeſſed, taxed aud levied in and by the ſaid Law of the three and twentieth year of King Henry the eighth. CAP. IV.

In what caſe only Ale or Beer may be ſold to an Ale-houſe-keeper having no Licence.

FOr the better repreſſing of Ale-houſes, whereof the multitudes and abuſes have been and are found intolerable, and ſtill do and are like to encreaſe, Be it Enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That no perſon or perſons, by himſelf, or by any other wayes or means, directly or indirectly, ſhall at any time after three moneths next after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, ſell, utter or deliver, or cauſe to be ſold, uttered or delivered any Beer or Ale, to any perſon or perſons, or into the houſe or cellar of any perſon or perſons, that then ſhall ſell or utter Beer or Ale, as a common Tipler or Ale-houſe-keeper, the ſame perſon not having any Licence then in force to ſell Ale or Beer, other than for the convenient uſe and expence of his, her, or their houſhold only, upon pain to forfeit for every barrel ſold, uttered or delivered contrary to the form and true meaning of this Act, the ſum of ſix ſhillings eight pence, and ſo after that rate for a greater or leſſer quantity.

The abuſes of Ale-houſes intolerable.

None ſhall ſell Ale or Beer to an Ale-houſe-keeper not having licence, but for the expence of his houſhold.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all offences to be done or committed contrary to the true meaning of this Act, and all penalties aforeſaid, ſhall be enquired of, ſued for, heard and determined in the Seſſions of the peace for the County, City, or Borough, Town or Liberty, or in the Court of Record of the City, Borough, Town or Liberty, wherein ſuch offence ſhall be committed, by action of debt, information, indictment or preſentment, wherein no eſſoyn, protection or wager of law ſhall be allowed to the Defendant: And the one half of all which forfeitures ſhall be to the uſe of the poor people inhabiting within the City, Borough, Hundred, Town or Liberty, where ſuch offence ſhall be committed from time to time; and the other half thereof to him or them that will ſue for the ſame.

In what Courts the offences aforeſaid ſhall be heard and determined.

Who ſhall have the forfeitures.

And to the end that the ſaid one half of the ſaid forfeitures above limited to be to the uſe of the ſaid poor people, may be truly employed and beſtowed upon them, according to the true meaning of this Act, Be it further enacted, That the Sheriff, Bayliff, or other Officer or perſon that ſhall levy or receive any ſum or ſums of money forfeited and recovered according to the true meaning of this act, ſhall and may by vertue of this Act, without further warrant, deliver the one half of the ſame ſum and ſums of money, by him or them ſo levied or received, to ſome one or more of the Church-wardens and Overſees of the poor of the ſame pariſh where the ſame offence ſhall be committed, to be by them, and every of them diſtributed and beſtowed amongſt the ſaid poor people, according to the true meaning of this Act, who ſhall likewiſe have authority by vertue of this Act, to diſtribute and beſtow the ſame accordingly.

The poors half of the forfeitures ſhall be delivered to the Overſeers.

And be it further enacted, That every Sheriff, Bayliff, and other Officer and perſon which ſhall levy or receive any ſuch forfeiture or forfeitures aforeſaid, and ſhall pay over the moiety and one half thereof, according to the true meaning of this act, ſhall be thereof diſcharged againſt the Kings Majeſty, his heirs and ſucceſſors.

The Officer paying the moiety to the Overſeers ſhall be diſcharged thereof.

And be it further enacted, That if any Sheriff, Bayliff, or other Officer or perſon ſhall refuſe to pay over the moiety and one half of the ſaid money by him or them levied or received, or that the ſaid Church-wardens and Overſeers, to whom the ſaid money ſhall be ſo paid, ſhall not from time to time within convenient time truly diſtribute and beſtow the ſame to and amongſt the poor people, according to the true meaning of this act, That then every perſon ſo offending ſhall forfeit double the value thereof, to be recovered and imployed as aforeſaid.

The penalty for not diſtributing the money received to the poor.

CAP. V.

The penalty of a Drunkard, and of him that continueth drinking in an Ale-houſe.

WHereas the loathſome and odious ſin of drunkenneſs is of late grown into common uſe within this Realm, being the root and foundation of many other enormous ſins, as bloodſhed, ſtabbing, murder, ſwearing, fornication, adultery, and ſuch like, to the great diſhonour of God, and of our Nation, the overthrow of many good Arts and manual Trades, the diſabling of divers Work-men, and the general impoveriſhing of many good ſubjects, abuſively waſting the good creatures of God:

Drunkenneſſe the foundation of many other ſins, and the cauſe of ſeveral enormities.

Be it therefore Enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal,

UMI

The forfeiture of him that is convicted of Drunkenneſſe. 7 Jac. 10.

The penalty for refuſing or being not able to pay the forfeiture.

Temporal, and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That all and every perſon or perſons, which after forty dayes next following the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall be drunk, and of the ſame offence of Drunkenneſſe ſhall be lawfully convicted, ſhall for every ſuch offence forfeit and loſe five ſhillings of lawful money of England, to be paid within one week next after his, her, or their conviction thereof, to the hands of the Church-wardens of that Pariſh where the offence ſhall be committed, who ſhall be accomptable therefore to the uſe of the poor of the ſame Pariſh. And if the ſaid perſon or perſons ſo convicted, ſhall refuſe or neglect to pay the ſaid forfeiture as aforeſaid, then the ſame ſhall be from time to time levied of the goods of every ſuch perſon or perſons ſo refuſing or neglecting to pay the ſame, by Warrant or Precept from the ſame Court, Judge or Juſtices, before whom the ſame conviction ſhall be. And if the offendor or offendors be not able to pay the ſaid ſum of five ſhillings, Then the offendor or offendors ſhall be committed to the Stocks, for every offence, there to remain by the ſpace of ſix hours.

The forfeiture of an inferiour Officer that doth neglect to do his duty.

And be it further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any Conſtable, or any other inferiour Officer of that pariſh or place where the offence ſhall be committed, to whom that ſhall be given in charge by the precept of any Mayor, Bayliff, other head Officer, or Juſtices of the peace within their ſeveral Limits, do neglect the due correction of the ſaid offendor, or the due levying of the ſaid penalties, where diſtreſs may be had, Then every perſon ſo offending, ſhall forfeit the ſum of ten ſhillings of currant money of England, to the uſe of the poor of the ſame pariſh or place where the offence ſhall be committed, to be levied by way of diſtreſs by any other perſon or perſons having Warrant from any Mayor, Bayliff, or other head-Officer, Juſtices of peace, or Court where any ſuch conviction ſhall be, And to be paid to the Church-wardens as before limited, who are alſo to accompt for the ſame to the uſe aforeſaid.

The penalty for continuing drinking in an Ale-houſe, &c. 7 Jac. 10.

1 Jac. 9.

And be it further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons within this Realm of England, or the Dominions of Wales, ſhall remain or continue drinking or tipling in any Inne, Victualling-houſe, or Ale-houſe, being in the ſame City, Town, Village or Hamlet, wherein the ſaid perſon or perſons (ſo remaining drinking or tipling) doth dwell and inhabit at the time of ſuch drinking and tipling: And the ſame being viewed and ſeen by any Mayor, or other head-Officer, Juſtice or Juſtices of peace within their ſeveral Limits, or duly proved in ſuch manner and form as is limited in and by one Act of Parliament, made in the firſt Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, entituled, An act to reſtrain the inordinate haunting and tipling in Inns, Ale-houſes, and other Victualling-houſes, unleſſe it be in ſuch caſe or caſes as be tolerated or excepted in the ſaid act, That then every perſon or perſons ſo offending, ſhall forfeit and loſe for every ſuch offence the ſum of three ſhillings and four pence, of currant money of England, to the uſe of the poor of the pariſh where the ſaid offence ſhall be committed, to be levied by way of diſtreſs, in ſuch manner and form as is before appointed by this Act, for the levying of the penalty of five ſhillings for being drunk. And if it happen that any offendor or offendors againſt the true intent of this clauſe or branch, being thereof lawfully convicted, be not able to pay the ſaid forfeiture or forfeitures, Then it ſhall and may be lawful for any Mayor, Bayliff, or other head Officer, Juſtice or Juſtices of peace, or Court, where any ſuch conviction ſhall be, to puniſh the ſaid offendor or offendors by ſetting him, her, or them in the Stocks or every ſuch offence, by the ſpace of four hours.

Which Officers ſhall enquire of and puniſh the offences committed againſt this ſtatute, and the ſtatute of 1 Jac 9.

For the more due execution of this Statute, and for the better and more due proceeding againſt ſuch offendors, all offences of drunkenneſs, and of exceſs and unmeaſurable drinking, Be it further Enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That all the offences in this act, and in the ſaid former act mentioned, ſhall be from time to time diligently enquired of, and preſented before the Juſtices of Aſſiſes in their Circuit, Juſtices of the peace in their quarter or ordinary Seſſions, and before the Mayors, Bayliffs, or other head Officers of every City or Town corporate, who have power to enquire of Treſpaſſes, Riots, Routs, Forces, and ſuch like offences, and in every Court-Leet, and thereupon ſuch due proceeding ſhall be againſt the offendor and offendors, for their due conviction in that behalf, as in ſuch like caſes, upon any indictment or preſentment is uſed by the Laws of the Realm, or Cuſtoms of the City, Town or place where ſuch preſentment or indictment ſhall be enquired of and found.

He that is the ſecond time convicted of Drunkenneſs, ſhall be bound to his good behaviour.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons being once lawfully convicted of the ſaid offence of Drunkenneſs, ſhall after that be again lawfully convicted of the like offences of Drunkenneſs, That then every perſon and perſons ſo ſecondly convicted of the ſaid offence of Drunkenneſs, ſhall be bounden with two Sureties to our Soveraign Lord the Kings Majeſty, his heirs and ſucceſſors, in one Recogniſance or Obligation of ten pounds, with condition, to be from thenceforth of good behaviour.

Which Officers ſhall preſent the offences aforeſaid.

Be it further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all Conſtables, Church-wardens, Headboroughs, Tything-men, Alecunners, and Sidemen, ſhall in their ſeveral Oaths, incident to their ſeveral Offices, be charged in like ſort to preſent the offences contrary to this ſtatute.

No reſtraint of Eccleſiaſtical Juriſdictions.

Provided always, That this act, or any thing therein contained, do not in any wiſe abridge or reſtrain the Eccleſiaſtical power or juriſdiction, but that all Ordinaries, and other Eccleſiaſtical Judges and Officers ſhall and may proceed to enquire of, cenſure, and puniſh all ſuch offendors, according to the Eccleſiaſtical Lawes of this Realm, in ſuch manner and form as before they lawfully might do, Any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

There ſhall be but one puniſhment for one offence.

Provided alſo, That when any of the offendors againſt the true intent of this act, or any branch or article thereof, hath been once puniſhed or corrected for his or her offence, by any the ways and means before limited, That then the ſaid offendor ſhall not be eftſoons puniſhed or corrected for the ſame offence by any other ways or means.

Provided always, that this act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not be prejudicial to either of the two Univerſities of this Land, But that the Chancellor, Maſters and Scholars, and the Succeſſors of them, and either of them, may as fully uſe and enjoy all their juriſdictions, rights, priviledges, and charters, as heretofore they have or might have done: Any thing in this act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The Liberties of the Univerſities ſhall not be prejudiced.

Provided always, That no perſon or perſons ſhall be puniſhed, impeached, or moleſted for any offence mentioned in this ſtatute, unleſs he ſhall be for the ſame offence preſented, indicted, or convicted within ſix moneths after ſuch offence committed. This act to continue until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament. 21. Jac. 7. made perpetual.

Within what time an offendor ſhall be preſented.

The continuance of this Act.

CAP. VI.

In what caſes Sheep-skins may be bought and ſold unſearched or unſealed. No leather ſhall be ſold by weight.

Whereas by the ſame ſtatute it plainly appeareth, That the intent and meaning thereof was to make void all former ſtatutes made concerning Tanners, Curriers, Shoomakers, and other Artificers occupying the cutting of leather, and to comprehend in one ſtatute all things mentioned in the ſame former laws needful to be enacted concerning Tanners, Curriers, Shoomakers, and other Artificers, occupying the cutting of leather: And for that in divers branches of the ſaid late ſtatute, touching the ſealing of leather, amongſt many other kinds of tanned leather therein particularly named to be ſealed, a rate is ſet down to be payed for ſealing of Sheep-skins, as if Sheep-ſkins had been by the intent of the former laws uſually ſealed, whereas in truth, Sheep-ſkins are not meet to be ſealed, nor were at any time appointed or limited by any former law to be ſealed, becauſe the ſealing of them is a fruitleſs charge, tending to the great hurt and loſs to many thouſand poor men, and for the good of none, but only for the gain of the Sealer thereof.

The intent of the ſtat. made 1 Jac. 22.

Sheep-skins have not been appointed by any law to be ſealed.

For reformation whereof, Be it enacted by our Soveraign Lord the Kings Majeſty, and by the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That no perſon or perſons ſhall at any time hereafter incur any penalty, loſs or forfeiture, for houſing, ſelling or buying of any tanned Sheep-ſkins, unſearched or unſealed, ſo as the ſaid Sheep-ſkins unſearched and unſealed, ſhall be wrought and converted into made wares within this Realm of England, Any thing in the ſaid ſtatute to the contrary notwithſtanding.

There ſhall be no penalty for houſing, buying or ſelling Sheeps-skins unſealed.

And where ſince the making of the ſaid ſtatute, his Majeſties ſubjects have been much deceived and abuſed, by ſelling of tanned leather by weight, the ſaid leather being neither ſufficiently tanned, nor throughly dryed as it ought to be, and before time was wont to be: Be it therefore further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament ſhall utter or ſell, or cauſe to be uttered or ſold by weight any kind of tanned leather whatſoever, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſaid leather ſo uttered and ſold: The ſaid leather, or the value thereof, to be recovered in any of the Kings Majeſties Courts of Record, by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, wherein no wager of Law, eſſoyne, or protection ſhall lie or be allowed, the one moiety of the ſaid forfeiture to be unto the King, our Soveraign Lord his heirs and ſucceſſors, and the other moiety unto ſuch perſon or perſons as ſhall ſue for the ſame.

No tanned Leather ſhall be ſold by weight.

CAP. VII.

An Act for the Incorporating of the Grammar School in Northleech, in the County of Glouceſter.

Humbly beſeech your Majeſty, your Loyal and dutiful ſubjects, the Inhabitants of your Highneſs Town of Northleech in the County of Glouceſter, That whereas Hugh Weſthood, late of Chedworth in the ſaid County of Glouceſter Eſquire deceaſed, was in his lifetime ſeized in his Demeſne, as of Fee, of and in the Rectory and Parſonage impropriate of Chedworth aforeſaid, whereunto the advowſon, patronage, and right of preſentation of the Vicarage of Chedworth aforeſaid, then was, and yet is appendent and belonging, and of, and in all manner of Glebe-lands, tenths, tythes, penſions, portions, oblations, obventions, profits, commodities and hereditaments, with the appurtenances, of whatſoever nature, kind, or degree they be in Chedworth aforeſaid, or elſewhere to the ſaid Rectory or Parſonage of Chedworth belonging or appertaining, and of, and in one meſſuage or tenement, and one cloſe and two yards land and a half, with the appurtenances in Chedworth aforeſaid, late in the occupation of one James Griffith: and ſo ſeized as aforeſaid, by his laſt Will and Teſtament in writing made, and bearing date the firſt day of May, in the firſt year of the Reign of our late Soveraign Lady Queen Elizabeth, did amongſt other things, give, will, deviſe and bequeath all and every the ſaid Parſonage and premiſſes, with the appurtenances, unto the Right Honourable Edmund then Lord Chandos, Sir Giles Pool Knight, Sir Thomas Throgmorton Knight, Sir Nicholas Arnolde Knight, William Repe, Walter Baskervile, and Henry Hodgkins Eſquires, Thomas Marſhall, Thomas Watſon, William Partridge Gentlemen, Thomas Aparry and Hugh Ratcliffe Yeomen, and to their heirs and aſſigns for ever, to the only uſe and intent, That the ſaid Deviſees, their heirs and aſſigns, by and with the profits of the premiſſes, ſhould found, erect and maintain one free Grammar School for ever in the ſaid Town of Northleech: By which Will, the nominations of the School-Maſter of the ſaid School was appointed unto the heirs of the ſaid Deviſor. And alſo the determinations of all the doubts and ambiguities that might ariſe touching the ſaid Will, was referred to the Juſtices of Aſſiſe of the ſaid County for the time being, to the end the ſame might be by them compoſed, Hugh Weſtwood was ſeiſed of the Parſonage impropriate of Chedworth, of the Patronage of the Vicarage, &c.

Hugh Weſtwoods Will, Dated 1. Maii, Anno 1 Eliz.

The intent of the Will.

The nomination of the School-maſter.

Who ſhall decide the doubts

A School-houſe provided by the Inhabitants of Northleech.

Thomas Apparry ſurviving Feoffee, ſought to defraud the truſt by making a Leaſe.

The heir of the Deviſor entred, ſeeking to avoid the Will.

A bill exhibited into the Chancery by the Scool-maſter and Inhabitants.

The Lord Chancellors letter to the Juſtices of Aſſize.

The Juſtices of Aſſize Certificate into the Chancery.

The Juſtices certificate confirmed in the Chancery.

compoſed, without any controverſie in Law. And ſhortly after the ſaid Deviſor dyed, after whoſe deceaſe the ſaid Deviſees entred, and were of the ſaid premiſſes ſeized by vertue of the ſaid Will: And the Inhabitants of the ſaid Town of Northleech, according to the direction of the ſame Will, purchaſed and procured to be conveyed in Fee to ſome of themſelves, and other Gentlemen of the Country, as Feoffees in truſt for the ſaid School, a convenient Houſe, Garden, Backſide, and little Cloſe, to be the School-houſe and habitation of the School-maſter: After which all the ſaid Deviſees, but the ſaid Thomas Apparry dyed, And he ſurviving all the reſt of the ſaid Deviſees, and being by vertue of Survivor ſolely ſeized of the ſaid Parſonage, and other deviſed premiſſes, ſought to defraud the ſaid truſt in him repoſed, by making a Leaſe of the ſaid Parſonage, and other the premiſſes, to one of his Sons, for a very ſmall Rent, and by conveying the Reverſion and Inheritance thereof to one other of his Sons. And alſo Robert Weſtwood now likewiſe deceaſed, then Couſin and Heir of the ſaid Deviſor, did enter upon the ſaid Parſonage and premiſſes deviſed, challenging the ſame as Heir unto the ſaid Deviſor, and ſeeking to impeach the ſaid Will, which tended to the utter overthrow of the ſaid charitable and godly intent of the ſaid Deviſor: Whereupon, the then School-maſter and the Inhabitants of Northleech aforeſaid, exhibited their Bill of Complaint into the High Court of Chancery: And Sir Chriſtopher Hatton Knight, the then Lord Chancellor of England, being informed of the intent and pnrport of the ſaid Will, whereby all Controverſies thereupon growing, were referred to the Juſtices of Aſſize of the ſaid County of Glouceſter, directed his Letters to Sir Roger Manwood Knight, Lord Chief Baron of the Exchequer, and Francis Windham, one of the Juſtices of the Common Pleas, then Juſtices of Aſſize of the ſaid County, for the hearing and final ordering of the ſaid cauſe, to the end that what they ſhould think fit, ſhould ſtand and be taken as an order of the ſaid Court in that behalf: Who upon mature and deliberate hearing and conſideration of the ſaid cauſe thought fit, and ſo certified into the ſaid Court, That the School ſhould be incorporated, and that the ſaid Parſonage and premiſſes ſhould be conveyed to the ſaid School-maſter and his Succeſſors: And that the Provoſt and Schollars of the Queens Colledge in the Univerſity of Oxford, ſhould name, order, viſit, and diſplace the School-maſter of the ſaid School, and his Succeſſors, for the time being: And that the reformations of all abuſes, either in the ſaid Colledge or School-maſter, ſhould be referred to the Juſtices of Aſſize of the ſaid County for the time being, or one of them: Which ſaid opinion and direction of the ſaid Juſtices of Aſſize, was accordingly ordered by the ſaid Lord Chancellor, and High Court of Chancery, and after directed to Sir John Puckering Knight, then Lord Keeper of the great Seal, and ſince confirmed by the Right Honourable Sir Thomas Egerton Knight, Lord Elleſmere, now Lord Chancellor of England, then Lord Keeper of the great Seal.

The School of Northleech incorporated to have continuance for ever. The name of the Corporation.

Authority to demiſe and purchaſe, and to ſue, and be ſued.

The firſt School-maſter and the firſt Uſher. The Corporation ſhall have a common Seal.

It may therefore pleaſe your Majeſty, that it may be enacted by your Highneſſe, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and be it enacted by the authority of the ſame, That the ſaid School of Northleech ſhall from henceforth ſtand and be incorporated, eſtabliſhed, and founded in Name, and in Deed, a body politick and corporate, to have continuance for ever by the name of the School-maſter and Uſher of the free Grammar-School of Hugh Weſtwood Eſquire, in the Town of Northleech, and by that name ſhall have, hold and enjoy all and every the ſaid Parſonage and premiſſes, Yards, Lands, Meſſuages, Tenements and Hereditaments, with the Appurtenances intended by the ſaid Hugh Weſtwood, and by the ſaid Inhabitants to the ſaid School (the Patronage of the Vicarage of Chedworth only excepted) and the Reverſion and Reverſions of the ſame, and that all and every Rent and Rents reſerved in any Demiſe or Demiſes thereof, or thereupon made, the Statute of Mortmain, or any other Law or Statutes to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding: And by the ſame name ſhall have power, ability and capacity, to demiſe, leaſe, and grant their Poſſeſſions and Hereditaments, and to take, acquire and purchaſe, and to ſue, and to be ſued, and to do, perform and execute all and every other lawful act and thing, good, neceſſary or profitable for the ſaid Incorporation in as full and ample manner to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as any other Incorporations or body politick or corporate, fully and perfectly founded and incorporated, may do. And that William Lickebarrow Batchellor of Arts, and now School-maſter of the ſaid School, ſhall be the firſt School-maſter of the ſaid School, and that John Stone Batchellor of Arts, ſhall be the firſt Uſher of the ſaid School: And that they the ſaid William Lickebarrow School-maſter of the ſaid School, and the ſaid John Stone Uſher of the ſaid School, and their Succeſſors for the time being, ſhall have a common Seal for the making of ſuch their Demiſes and Leaſes, and for the doing of all and every other thing aboveſaid, touching the ſaid Incorporation, in which ſhall be ingraven the Arms and Name of the ſaid Hugh Weſtwood.

Who ſhall appoint the School-maſter.

And that it may be further enacted, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Provoſt and Scholars of the Queens Colledge in the ſaid Univerſity of Oxford, and their Succeſſors for the time being, ſhall have full power and lawful authority to nominate and appoint, and ſhall nominate and appoint from time to time, when and as often as the place of School-maſter of the ſaid School by death, reſignation, deprivation, or otherwiſe, ſhall become void, and within one moneth after ſuch voidance, by writing under their Common and Colledge Seal, one learned and meet man, being a Graduate of the Univerſity of Oxford, to be School-maſter of the ſaid School.

In default of the Provoſt, &c the Juſtices of Aſſize ſhall appoint the School-maſter.

And in caſe the ſaid Provoſt and Scholars ſhall not within one moneth after ſuch voidance, make ſuch nomination and appointment as aforeſaid, That then and ſo often the Juſtices of Aſſize of the ſaid County for the time being, within one moneth after ſuch default, ſhall and may by writing under their Hands and Seals, nominate and appoint ſome meet and learned man, being a Graduate, as aforeſaid, to the place of School-maſter of the ſaid School.

And that it may be further enacted, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Provoſt and Scholars of the ſaid Colledge for the time being, ſhall and may from time to time nominate and appoint ſome learned and meet man, having been trained up in the ſaid Univerſity of Oxford, to be Uſher of the ſaid School, when and as often as the ſame ſhall become void by death, deprivation, reſignation or otherwiſe.

Nomination of the Uſher.

And in caſe the ſaid Provoſt and Scholars ſhall not within one moneth after the voidance of the place of Uſher, nominate and appoint ſome other ſuch fit perſon thereunto, that then the ſaid Juſtices of Aſſize for the time being, ſhall and may nominate and appoint ſome meet man, trained up in the Univerſity, as aforeſaid, to be Uſher of the ſaid School.

And that it may be further enacted, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Provoſt and Scholars for the time being, ſhall have power and authority under their Colledg Seal, to ſet down and preſcribe ſuch Orders, Rules, Statutes and Ordinances for the order, rule, and good government of the ſaid School, and of the School-Maſters, Uſhers and Scholars thereof, as to them the ſaid Provoſt and Scholars, and their Succeſſors ſhall ſeem meet and convenient. And that the ſame Orders, Rules, Statutes and Ordinances ſo by them made and ſet down, ſhall be and ſtand in full force and ſtrength in Law, ſo alwayes that the ſame be not repugnant, nor contrary to the Kings Prerogative Royal, nor to the Laws and Statutes of this Realm of England, nor to any Eccleſiaſtical Canons or Conſtitutions of the Church of England: and that the ſaid Provoſt and Scholars for the time being, ſhall have full power and authority to viſit the ſaid School, and to order, reform and redreſs all diſorders and abuſes, in and touching the government of the ſame, and further to cenſure, ſuſpend and deprive the School-Maſters and Uſhers of the ſaid School for the time being, as to them ſhall ſeem juſt, fit and convenient; So alwayes that no viſitation, act or thing, in, or touching the ſame, be had or done otherwiſe then by the Provoſt himſelf and one of the Fellows, or by two of the Fellows at the leaſt of the ſaid Colledge, thereunto authorized under the ſaid Colledge Seal.

Who ſhall ſet down the Orders, Rules and Statutes of the School.

The Viſitors of the School.

And that it may be further enacted, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any difference, controverſie, or debate touching the premiſſes at any time hereafter ſhall happen to ariſe between the ſaid Provoſt and Scholars of the ſaid Colledge, and the ſaid School-Maſter and Uſher for the time being, or either of them, or if the Inhabitants of the ſaid Town of Northleech ſhall find themſelves grieved, that the intent of the ſaid Deviſor is not obſerved in the free and diligent teaching of their children or otherwiſe, and ſhall not after complaint thereof made to the ſaid Provoſt and Scholars, find and receive in fit time convenient redreſs therein, that then upon the complaint of the ſaid Inhabitants, School-maſter or Uſher, the Juſtices of Aſſize of the ſaid County of Gloceſter for the time being, ſhall have full power to call before them, both the parties grieved, and the parties complained of; and upon hearing of the ſaid diſſentions, controverſies and complaints, to compoſe, decide, order and determine the ſame, as to them in their judgments and wiſedoms ſhall ſeem juſt and fit: and that ſuch order, deciſion, and determination of the ſaid Juſtices of Aſſize ſet down in writing under their hands and ſeals, ſhall ſtand and be obſerved.

Controverſies ſhall be decided by the Juſtices of Aſſiſe.

And that it may be alſo enacted, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Provoſt and ſcholars for the time being, ſhall have, hold and enjoy, to them and their ſucceſſors for ever, the advowſon, patronage, preſentation, and free diſpoſition of the Vicarage and Church of Chedworth aforeſaid, and that they ſhall and may preſent their ſufficient Clerk unto the ſaid Church and Vicarage, when and as often as the ſame ſhall become void by death, deprivation, reſignation, or otherwiſe.

Who ſhall have the preſentation to the Vicarage of Chedworth.

Provided alwayes, That all leaſes, grants, covenants, conveyances, aſſurances, and eſtates whatſoever, to be had or made of the ſaid Parſonage and premiſſes, with the appurtenances, or of any part thereof, other than leaſes for years, (whereupon ſhall be reſerved to the ſaid School-maſter and Uſher of the ſaid Parſonage, with the appurtenances, ſo much in one entire or ſeveral yearly rent or rents, upon one or more demiſes, as ſhall amount to the ſum of fifty pounds of lawful Engliſh money, or more, and for the ſaid meſſuage and tenement, with the appurtenances, and other lands thereunto belonging, ſhall be reſerved ſo much in one entire or ſeveral yearly rent or rents, upon one or more demiſes as ſhall amount to the ſum of twenty ſix ſhillings and eight pence of lawful Engliſh money at the leaſt, the ſaid ſeveral rents to be payable at the four uſual Feaſts in the year, by equal and even portions, That is to ſay, at the Annunciation of S. Mary the Virgin, the Nativity of S. John the Baptiſt, the Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel, and the Nativity of our Lord, and whereunto the ſaid Provoſt and ſcholars ſhall under their Colledg Seal give their conſent, allowance, or confirmation) ſhall be void, and of none effect in the Law.

Which leaſes to be made of the ſaid Parſonage, Meſſuage, &c. ſhall be good, and which not.

And that no Leaſes whatſoever hereafter to be made of the ſaid Parſonage, tenement and premiſſes, or any part or parts thereof, other than one entire leaſe, or ſeveral leaſes for the term of one and twenty years, or three lives from the time of the making thereof, once only to be made, before the Feaſt of the Annunciation of the bleſſed Virgin Mary, which ſhall be in the year of our LORD GOD, One thouſand ſix hundred and ten, ſhall be good or effectual any longer than ſuch School maſter as ſhall make ſuch leaſe, ſhall continue School-maſter there; which ſaid leaſe or ſeveral leaſes for one and twenty years, or three lives, being therefore permitted to be made, that by fine thereupon ſomewhat may be levied towards the ſatisfaction and diſcharge of the ſum of one hundred and threeſcore pounds, agreed to be paid to William Weſtwood Gentleman, ſon and heir of the ſaid Robert Weſtwood, in lieu and recompence of and for the nominations of the ſaid School-maſter, and of and for all pretenced right to the premiſſes, and of other ſums and charges, occaſioned for the perfecting of the ſaid Incorporation, and eſtabliſhment of the premiſſes, ſhall ſtand and be good and effectual in the Law, Any thing in theſe preſents to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding: So alwayes that there be reſerved thereupon ſo much in yearly rent or rents at the leaſt as is

The cauſes why leaſes may be made for xxi. years, or three lives.

Who ſhall appoint how the rents ſhall be divided.

aforeſaid, and that the Provoſt and Scholars aforeſaid, and their ſucceſſors for the time being, ſhall and may under their Colledg Seal ordain, ſet down, and appoint how the rents and profits of the premiſſes ſhall be proportioned, divided, and diſtributed to, among, and between the School-maſter and Uſher of the ſaid School for the time being, ſo as the whole rent be diſpoſed between them the ſaid School-maſter and Uſher of the ſaid School.

The ſeveral eſtates of ſeveral perſons reſerved.

A ſaving of the right of all others, &c.

Provided alwayes, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall extend to defeat, fruſtrate or make void one Leaſe of the ſaid Parſonage and premiſſes, for the term of divers years, made to John Stone and Thomas Hill, by Henry Lord Biſhop of Carliol, John Reynolds, and John Aglionby, Doctors of Divinity, then and yet Feoffees to the behoof of the ſaid School, whereupon is reſerved the yearly rent of fifty pounds: nor to defeat, fruſtrate, or impeach one annuity or yearly rent of thirty pounds by the year, out of the premiſſes, ordered and decreed to Euſtace Aparry, ſon of the ſaid Thomas Aparry, for the term of his natural life, and for two years after his deceaſe, in conſideration of his yielding up of his ſaid leaſe, and conveyance of the ſaid Parſonage and premiſſes to the ſaid Feoffees, by the direction of the right Honourable the now Lord Chancellor of England, but that they the ſaid John Stone and Thomas Hill, and the ſaid Euſtace Aparry, ſhall and may enjoy the ſaid ſeveral intereſts and eſtates, according to the purport and effect of the ſaid Leaſe, Order and Decree, as amply to all intents and purpoſes, as if this Act had never been made: Any thing in the premiſſes contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

And ſaving to our Soveraign Lord the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, and to all and every other perſon and perſons, bodies politick and corporate, their Heirs and Succeſſors, (other than the ſeveral heirs of the ſaid Hugh Weſtwood, and of his ſaid Deviſees, and other than all and every other perſon and perſons, and their Heirs claiming any thing in the premiſſes, or any part thereof, by, from, or under the Heirs of the ſaid Hugh Weſtwood, or from, by, or under the ſaid Deviſees) all ſuch Right, Title, Eſtate, Condition, Claim, Poſſeſſion, Rents, Services, Commons, Demands, Actions, Remedies, Recoveries, Intereſt, Profits, Commodities, Advantages, and Demands whatſoever, which they or any of them ſhall or may have, or of right ought to have, of, in, or to the ſaid Parſonage, or any of the lands, tenements, and hereditaments aforeſaid, or any part or parcel thereof, or iſſuing or going out of the ſame, or any parcel thereof, as if this Act had never been made. CAP. VIII.

The drowned Mariſhes of Leſnes and Fants in the County of Kent, may be inned from overflowing, by William Burrel.

William Burrel the undertaker to inne the drowned grounds of Leſnes and Fants.

FOr that the inning and winning of the marſh grounds lying in the drowned Mariſhes of Leſnes and Fants in the County of Kent (which have been of long time paſt ſurrounded with waters flowing and coming from the River of Thames) which being inned, will better the channel of the ſame Thames, and be very commodious for Navigation, and both for that and the Commodities there, afford much benefit to the Common-wealth, and eſpecially to the City of London, being within ten miles thereof: And for that William Burrel of Ratcliffe in the County of Middleſex Gentleman, hath undertaken, covenanted and agreed with the Lords and Owners of the ſame ſurrounded grounds, by Indentures made between the ſaid Owners and him, dated the ſeven and twentieth day of February, Anno Dom. 1606. for the conſideration in the ſaid Indenture expreſſed, to do his beſt endeavour at his coſt and charges ſufficiently and ſubſtantially to inne, winne, recover and defend from inundation and overflowing of the ſaid waters all the ſaid marſh grounds ſo ſurrounded, before the tenth day of October, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God, according to the computation of the Church of England, 1609. and hath likewiſe at his own coſts and charges by the ſaid Indenture undertaken to maintain and keep the ſame for one whole year, to be reckoned and accounted from the time of the inning and winning of the ſame ſurrounded grounds, which cannot be duly effected without great charges, labour and ſkill in the undertaker:

William Burrel and his aſſigns may fence and win from inundation the ſaid drowned grounds of Leſnes and Fants, &c.

May it therefore pleaſe the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, by the authority of the ſame Parliament, that it may be enacted, and be it enacted, That it ſhall be lawful to and for the ſaid William Burrel, his heirs, executors, and aſſigns, and to and for every other his and their Servants, Deputies, Carpenters, Labourers, Skavel-men, Head-men, and Workmen, and his and their Carts and Carriages, and every of them, at the coſts and charges of the ſaid William Burrel, his heirs, executors, or aſſigns, at all and every time and times from thenceforth until the tenth day of October, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God, according to the Computation of the Church of England, 1609. to inne, fence and win from inundation and overflowing of the ſaid waters, all and ſingular the ſaid grounds and mariſhes lying in the ſaid drowned mariſhes of Leſnes and Fants now ſurrounded as above, according to the purport, intent, and true meaning of the ſaid Indentures, at his or their will and pleaſure, and for to labour, work and travel, and to do and accompliſh things neceſſary and behoveful during the ſaid time or term, in, about, and upon the inning, fencing and winning of the ſaid grounds and mariſhes as aforeſaid, and every or any of them, according to the purport of the ſame Indenture.

The undertaker may take Reed and Earth in the drowned marſh for the inning and continuing of the grounds.

And for the inning and fencing of the ſaid grounds, and for the inning, maintaining, and continuing of the inning & fencing of the ſaid grounds to be inned as above, to cut and take ſo much growing Reed and Earth in any of the ſaid drowned marſh, ſo as he or they, or any of them dig not within twenty Rods of any wall already made within that marſh: And that immediately after the ſubſtantial inning, fencing, and winning of the ſaid grounds and marſhes from the ſaid waters and floods as is aforeſaid, the ſaid William Burrel, his heirs and aſſigns ſhall have and enjoy to him, his heirs and aſſigns for ever, the one half of all the ſaid grounds ſo to be inned, according to the purport and true meaning of the ſaid recited Indenture, and the other moiety ſhall be and belong to the owners of the ſaid marſh grounds ſo to be inned, according to the ſeveral proportion of their quantities, eſtates, rights, titles and intereſts which they now have in the ſaid grounds ſo to be inned, according likewiſe to the ſaid Indenture: and that the ſaid moiety ſo limited to be and appertain to the ſaid Will. Burrel, his heirs & aſſigns, by and after partition thereof to be made, ſhall be holden of Edmund Cook Eſquire, his heirs and aſſigns, as of his Manor of Leſnes and Fants in the County of Kent in free ſocage by fealty and one peny rent for every acre, and not in chief, nor by Knights ſervice. And that further in conſideration that the ſaid owners, and their heirs for their parts, and the ſaid William Burrel, and his heirs for his part or moiety, ſhall be put to great charges, ſubſtantially and ſufficiently to maintain and repair the walls and banks of the ſame marſh grounds ſo hereafter to be inned, for ever after the inning and partition thereof, as alſo in conſideration of the great coſts, charges and travel now to be ſuſtained about the inning of the ſame marſh grounds for the benefit of the Common-wealth, the ſaid marſh grounds ſo to be inned and defended from the inundation of the ſame waters, or ſuch part thereof as ſhall be ſo inned and defended, ſhall be diſcharged of all the tythes and tenths whatſoever, for and during the term of ſeven years next after the inning, winning and fencing of the ſame.

The Inner of the grounds ſhall have the one half, and the owners the other.

Of whom, and by what ſervices the undertaker ſhall hold his part inned.

The grounds inned ſhall be diſcharged of tythe during ſeven years.

And be it further by authority of this preſent Parliament enacted, That immediately after the ſubſtantial inning of the ſaid marſh grounds it ſhall and may be lawful for the ſaid William Burrel, his heirs and aſſigns, and the ſaid owners of ſuch grounds as ſhall be inned, their heirs and aſſigns; or in default of the owners, upon requeſt thereof to be made by the ſaid William Burrel, his heirs or aſſigns, to reſort to the Right honourable the Lord Chancellor of England, or Lord Keeper of the Great Seal of England for the time being, and that by the authority of this Act, the ſaid Lord Chancellor or Lord Keeper of the great Seal of England, ſhall and may award forth a Commiſſion to ſuch perſon and perſons, as to him in his wiſedome and diſcretion ſhall be thought meet, to enable them to make partition and diviſion between the ſaid owners and Inner, their heirs, executors, adminiſtrators and aſſigns, and alſo between the ſaid owners, their heirs, executors, adminiſtrators and aſſigns, according to the ſeveral proportions of their quantities, rights, titles and intereſts which they have, or ſhall have in the ſaid marſh grounds ſo to be inned, according to the true intent and meaning of this ſtatute, and the indenture before mentioned.

A Commiſſion ſhall be granted to certain perſons to make partition of the grounds inned.

Provided, and it is further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every of the ſaid owners, and the Inner, their heirs, executors, adminiſtrators and aſſigns, that ſhall have any land or ground ſo to be inned, ſhall have fit and convenient wayes for paſſage, drift, and carriage, as need ſhall require, through the ſaid marſh grounds that ſhall be ſo inned, for the uſe of their grounds inned, and ſo to be divided and proportionably allotted.

Every owner and the Inner ſhall have convenient wayes to his ground.

Provided, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all ſuch of the ſaid ſurrounded grounds as ſhall be by the ſaid Inner, his heirs, executors, adminiſtrators or aſſigns, or any of them inned, and ſhall be aſſigned to any of the owners for their part or parts, and are now holden of Edmund Cook of Northcray in the County of Kent Eſquire, as of any his Manors within the ſaid County of Kent, called Leſnes and Fants, or of either of them, ſhall be holden of him the ſaid Edmund Cook, his heirs and aſſigns only, as of ſuch of the ſaid Manors, whereof the ſaid marſh lands are now holden in ſuch manner and form, and by ſuch Rents and Services, as the ſame are now holden by fealty, and the yearly rent of one peny an acre, to be paid at the Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel yearly. 23 El. 13. 27 El. 27.

Of whom the firſt owners grounds ſhall be holden, and by what Services.

CAP. IX.

A Corporation granted by Queen Elizabeth to certain Merchants of Exceſter, ſhall continue of force, notwithſtanding the Statute of 3 Jac. 6.

WHereas it pleaſed our late Sovereign Lady Queen Elizabeth of famous memory, by her Highneſs Letters Patents under the great Seal of England, bearing date the ſeventeenth day of June, in the ſecond year of her Highneſs reign (in conſideration of the good, true and faithful obedience and ſervice done by the Mayor and principal Citizens of the City of Exceſter, as well in the time of King Henry the ſeventh, as of King Edward the ſixth, againſt divers Treaſons and Rebellions moved and ſtirred in thoſe dayes, as alſo for the taking away, aboliſhing and amoving of many and ſundry abſurdities and inconveniences, which within the ſaid City and County did increaſe, by reaſon of the exceſſive number of Artificers, and other inexpert, ignorant, and unworthy men, which did take upon them to uſe the art, ſcience, and myſtery of Merchandiſe and traffique of Merchant wares, to the great detriment of the Commonwealth of this Realm of England, and to the manifeſt impoveriſhment of the ſaid City) to incorporate certain Merchants therein named, and their ſucceſſors (being Citizens and Inhabitants of the ſaid City and County) and to give and grant unto them the perpetual name of the Governors, Conſuls, and Society of the Merchants Adventurers of the City and County of Exceſter, traffiquing the Realm of France, and the Dominions of the French King, which ſaid Incorporation or Company of Merchants are found to be of great uſe, honour and ſervice to the State in general, as well in the advancement of his Majeſties Cuſtoms, as alſo for that the ſaid Incorporation for the ſpace of forty and five years have relieved twelve poor men with gowns, money and other neceſſaries to their great comfort, and do ſtill yearly ſo apparel and comfort them, and by their ſaid Charter they are bound to continue and keep the ſame for ever: And likewiſe they have, and do, not only charitably from time to time ſet up ſundry young Merchants with the loan of money at their firſt entrance into the trade, but alſo have raiſed, and alſo do raiſe divers ancient Merchants, who by loſſes at the Sea have been decayed, by means whereof they have proved afterwards profitable both to the King in Cuſtoms and other payments, and good members to the Common-wealth of the ſaid City.

Queen Eliz. by her Letters Patents granted an Incorporation to the Governors of the Merchants of Exceſter.

The ſeveral benefits done by the ſame Society to the King and Commonwealth.

And for that many particular Merchants of the ſaid Corporation, have in the time of dearth and ſcarcity of corn, adventured great ſums of money out of their own private ſtocks, for corn, into foreign Kingdoms, for the relief of the poor, aſwell of the ſaid City as of the County of Devon to whom they have ſold the ſame corn in time of great dearth and neceſſity, ſometimes for two ſhillings ſixpence, three ſhillings, and three ſhillings four pence leſs in every Buſhel, than the prices in the Markets have then been.

The Society comfortable to all, and hurtful to none.

The ſtatute of 3 Jac. 6. may be extended to the diſſolving of the ſaid Company.

The ſtatute of 3 Jac. 6. neither doth nor ſhall impeach the liberties granted by Queen Eliz. Charter.

And further, for that ſundry members of the ſaid Incorporation have by their Wills and Teſtaments given divers ſums of money to the ſaid Company to good uſes, which muſt return to their Executors if this Company be diſſolved, as alſo for that the ſaid Society hath from the beginning thereof been ever found comfortable to all, and offenſive to none: Therefore whereas in the laſt Seſſion of Parliament holden at Weſtminſter in the third year of his Majeſties reign, one general act was made, entituled, An act to enable all his Majeſties loving ſubjects of England and Wales, to trade freely into the Dominions of Spain, Portugal and France, The general words of which act may be objected and urged, to extend to the annihilating and diſſolving of the ſaid particular Charter & Company, contrary to the meaning of this high Court of Parliament, & the intent of the makers of that Law as is conceived by the opinion of ſundry learned in the Laws: May it therefore pleaſe your moſt excellent Majeſty, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, that it may be enacted, explained, and declared, and be it enacted, explained and declared by the authority of the ſame, That the ſaid general law ſo made as aforeſaid, neither doth, nor ſhall diſſolve, annihilate, or impeach the ſaid Charter, or the ſaid Company in any their priviledges, liberties or immunities granted unto them by the ſaid Charter: Any thing in the foreſaid general act to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

CAP. X.

Certain Liberties granted by K. H. 6. to the Mayor &c. of Southampton confirmed.

The Charter of King Hen. 6. to the Town of Southampton, and the reaſons and cauſes thereof.

A reſtraint of all Merchants not being free of Southampton to buy or ſell within the Town.

IN all humbleneſs beſeech your moſt excellent Majeſty, the Mayor and Bailiffs, and Burgeſſes of your Highneſs Town of Southampton, That whereas your moſt noble progenitor King Henry the ſixth of famous memory, in conſideration that the ſaid Town of Southampton is ſituated on the Sea-coaſts, and ſubject to the ſudden aſſault and ſurpriſe of forein enemies, and that the Inhabitants thereof for their defence have a long time at their own coſt and charge upheld and maintained the walls thereof, with many Towers, Turrets, Bulwarks, great Ordnances, Powder, and other defenſive Artillery, and for other conſiderations, did grant to the Mayor, Bailiffs, and burgeſſes of the ſaid Town and their ſucceſſors, a Charter, which hath been ſince confirmed by many other Princes, reſtraining all Merchants, not being free of the Liberties of the ſaid Town, to buy or to ſell any manner of merchandiſe within the ſaid Town, or the Liberties thereof upon pain of forfeiting the ſame merchandiſe to the ſaid Mayor, Bailiffs, Burgeſſes, and their ſucceſſors.

A confirmation of ſo much of the Charter of King Hen. 6. as doth reſtrain ſtrangers to buy or ſell in Southampton.

And whereas now of late ſundry Merchants which are not free of the Liberties of the ſaid Town, and yet free of other Corporations, who reſpecting only their private gain, without regard either of the ſaid Charter, or how the ſaid Town ſhall be upheld and maintained, have of late intruded on the Liberties thereof, and do both by themſelves, and alſo by their Factors, keep ſhops and warehouſes within the ſaid Town and do ſell their merchandiſe both in groſs and by retail, contrary to the true meaning of the ſaid Grant, and contrary to all reaſon and conſcience tending to theutter undoing of the Merchants and Inhabitants of the ſaid Town, and decay of the ſaid Town: For redreſs whereof, may it pleaſe your moſt excellent Majeſty, that it may be enacted by your Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, And be it enacted and ordained by the authority aforeſaid, That ſo much of the ſaid Charter as doth concern the premiſſes, ſhall from henceforth ſtand and be good, effectual, and ſufficient in the Law to all intents and purpoſes, according to the true meaning of the ſame Charter, and that the ſame be ratified and confirmed by this preſent Parliament.

None not being free of the ſaid town ſhall buy or ſell to another not being free.

And further be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons not being free of the ſaid Town, ſhall buy any merchandiſe within the ſaid Town or Liberties thereof, (Salt and Sea-fiſh only accepted) of any other not being free of the ſaid Town, nor ſell any merchandiſe (Salt and Sea-fiſh onely excepted) within the ſaid Town or Liberties thereof to any perſon or perſons, not being free of the ſaid Town, upon pain of forfeiture of all ſuch merchandiſe ſo bought or ſold, to the Mayor, Bailiffs, and Burgeſſes of the ſaid Town, and their ſucceſſors.

What commodities, and for what purpoſes may be bought by any perſon.

Provided always, That any perſon or perſons may buy within the ſaid Town or Liberties thereof any proviſion for his or their own houſe or houſes, ſo as the ſame be expended there, and not in any ſort ſold again, as if this act had never been made.

Buying and ſelling in Fairs or on ſhipboard.

Provided, and that it ſhall be lawful to any perſon or perſons to buy or ſell in the time of Fairs there, or aboard any ſhip within the port of Southampton of any perſon whatſoever, as if this act had never been made.

The Barons and Freemen of the Cinque-ports.

Provided alwayes, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend, nor be conſtrued to extend to the Barons or freemen of the Cinque-ports, or of the members to them belonging, nor to any of them, but that they and every of them ſhall and may at all times hereafter freely and lawfully hold, have, and enjoy all ſuch Liberties, Freedoms, Priviledges, Immunities and Franchiſes within the ſaid Town of Southampton, and the Liberties thereof, as have been heretofore granted unto the ſaid Ports, or any of them, or any of the ſaid members, or to the Barons and freemen there, or have been by them or any of them accuſtomed, uſed or enjoyed: Any thing in this act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

CAP. XI.

The Owners and Farmers of lands in certain Manors in the County of Hereford may incloſe ſome part thereof.

Foraſmuch as the ſaid Manors, Lordſhips and Pariſhes of Marden, alias Mawarden, Bodenham, Wellington, Sutton Saint Michael, Sutton Saint Nicholas, Mutton upon Lug, and the pariſh of Pipe in the ſaid County of Hereford, do differ in the manner of their Husbandry from many parts of the ſaid County, and other Counties in the Realm of England, and the Inhabitants thereof do make the Tillage of the ſame Manors, Lordſhips and Pariſhes, the more fertile by raiſing of Compoſt, in houſing all their Cattel of all ſorts, eſpecially all their Sheep throughout the whole year, and not by any other means: which cattel, eſpecially their Oxen, Kine and Sheep, without ſufficient meadow and paſture for graſs and hay, are not poſſible to be maintained; And therefore the Farmers, Freeholders, and all other Husbandmen thereof are much diſtreſſed, in that their tillage doth lie mingled with their paſture and meadow grounds yearly, in or near adjoyning to the Corn-fields, as the courſe and turns of husbandry falls out, by occaſion whereof the ſaid fields, meadowes and paſtures being open after Sickle and Sithe, all ſorts of people turn in their cattel, and within very ſhort ſpace eat up all the graſs thereof, that the Oxen and Kine of the Husbandmen are in danger to ſtarve in Summer, and of neceſſity in many places muſt be ſold away for want of wintering meat, for which inconvenience by complaint of the Husbandmen of thoſe places, ſome ſpeedy publick redreſs hath been long and much deſired: Be it therefore Enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That every Owner and Farmer, their heirs, ſucceſſors, and aſſigns, of any Manors, capital Meſſuage, Tenement or Farm, within the ſaid Manors, Lordſhips and Pariſhes, or any of them that have not already ſo much of their land, meadow and paſture, belonging or occupied, to or with their ſeveral Meſſuages, Tenements or Farms incloſed and kept in ſeveral, as doth amount or extend to the clear third part thereof, may at his and their will and pleaſure, ſeverally and reſpectively from time to time, and at all times hereafter incloſe & keep in ſeveral, ſo much of their ſaid lands, meadow, and paſture, now at the firſt day of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, belonging or occupied to or with the ſaid ſeveral Meſſuages, Tenements or Farms, as together with ſuch thereof as they hold already in ſeveral, ſhall amount unto and make up a clear third part of all the lands, meadow and paſture which they do, or ſhall ſo there hold, belonging or occupied to or with the ſaid ſeveral Meſſuages, Tenements or Farms, to be holden and kept in ſeveral, to the maintenance of tillage of the arable Lands belonging or occupied to or with the ſaid ſeveral Meſſuages, Tenements or Farms reſpectively, according to the Eſtates of them that are ſeverally intereſſed in the ſame, leaving the other two parts thereof, in three parts to be divided, ſeverally and reſpectively to lie and continue, as the ſame have heretofore uſed and accuſtomed to lie.

The different husbandry of the ſaid Manors from other parts of the Realm.

Every Owner and Farmer within the Manors aforeſaid, may incloſe a third part of his lands, &c.

Provided always, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to any ancient waſte or common ground that heretofore hath been, or uſed to be as a perpetual common and waſte ground by all the year, but that the ſame may ſo continue and remain ſtill as a perpetual common or waſte ground.

This act ſhall not extend to a waſte or common ground.

Provided likewiſe, That where any perſon or perſons hath or ought to have the hay, or firſt veſture or paſture only of any Land, Meadow or Paſture, and whereof the Inhabitants of the Townſhip or Pariſh where the ſaid Land doth lie, have from the time, to the contrary whereof the memory of man doth not extend, uſed to have the whole later math, later crop, or edgegrowth thereof to themſelves, and the owner of the ſaid hay, firſt veſture or paſture, no part of the ſaid later math, later crop or edge growth: That in every ſuch caſe, this Act ſhall not extend to any ſuch Land hereby to be kept in ſeveral, but that thoſe which have ſo had, and uſed to have the ſaid later math or later crop thereof, may ſtill have and enjoy the ſame, in ſuch manner as formerly they have accuſtomed: This Act or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A proviſion where one perſon is owner of the firſt crop, and others of the later math.

Provided alſo, That this act or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to any Land which any perſon or perſons, bodies politick or corporate, hath or have unjuſtly or without good right and title taken or with-holden from any other perſon or perſons, bodies politick or corporate, to give any intereſt or title to any ſuch perſon or perſons, bodies politick or corporate, their heirs, ſucceſſors or aſſigns, or any of them, that ſo have or hereafter ſhall have, or do unjuſtly without lawful title with-hold any ſuch Lands, to have, keep or detain the ſame, but that any perſon or perſons, bodies politick and corporate, that hath, or have any right or title to the ſame, their heirs, ſucceſſors and aſſigns, ſhall and may take his and their lawful remedy for the recovery thereof, as if this act had never been had or made: This act or any thing therein contained to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The Act doth not give a lawful title to the poſſeſſor of any land where he had none before.

Provided alſo, That no perſon or perſons ſhall be barred, hindered or ſtopped of any highway, common way, husbandry way, or foot-path, by means or reaſon of any ſuch incloſure, but that they and every of them may have and uſe all ſuch wayes, in ſuch manner and form as he, they, or any of them have uſed, accuſtomed, and of right ought to have and uſe the ſame: This act or any thing therein contained to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

None ſhall be hindred of his lawful way.

Provided alſo, That every perſon and perſons, and their heirs and aſſigns, who ſhall at any time or times hereafter incloſe and keep in ſeveral, any land, meadow or paſture by force or vertue of this preſent act, ſhall be abated and abridged of his and their Common in the common fields and common paſture in places commonable belonging to the Towns, Meſſuages or Farms where ſuch incloſures ſhall be made proportionable, after the rate and quality of the Lands, Meadow and Paſture ſo to be incloſed and kept in ſeveral, but nevertheleſs ſhall and may have his and their Common in places commonable there, ratably for the reſidue of his or their lands there according to the uſage and cuſtom of the place: This act or any thing therein contained to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

Every perſon that doth incloſe ſhall be abated of his Common proportionably.

They which do incloſe, may be ſtinted of their common by the reſidue of the Commoners.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the Freeholders and Copyholders of the ſaid manors, pariſhes and towns, and of every of them reſpectively, their heirs and aſſigns, or the greater number of them, from time to time hereafter to rate and ſtint every ſuch perſon and perſons, his and their heirs and aſſigns which ſo ſhall incloſe and keep in ſeveral any land, meadow or paſture by vertue of this act, what and how many cattel of all kinds ſuch perſon and perſons, his and their heirs and aſſigns, ſhall have, depaſture and keep upon the Commons of the ſame manor, pariſh or town, where ſuch land, meadow, or paſture ſhall ſo be incloſed, and kept in ſeveral by vertue of this act.

The forfeiture of him which keepeth more cattel then is limited by his ſtint.

And that if any perſon or perſons, his or their heirs or aſſigns, ſhall after he or they ſhall be ſo rated or ſtinted, have, or keep any more or greater number of cattel upon the commons of the ſame manor, pariſh or town, where ſuch land, meadow or paſture ſo to be incloſed and kept in ſeveral, by vertue of this act ſhall lie, then ſuch perſon or perſons, his or their heirs and aſſigns ſhall be ſo rated, or ſtinted at as aforeſaid: That then and ſo often every ſuch perſon or perſons, his and their heirs and aſſigns, ſhall forfeit and loſe for every Beaſt, which he or they ſhall keep over and above ſuch rate or ſtint which he or they ſhall be ſo rated or ſtinted at, the ſumme of twelve pence, for every week that he or they ſhall ſo keep ſuch beaſt or beaſts, over and above ſuch rate or ſtint: The one moiety thereof to be to the poor of the Pariſh where the offence ſhall be committed, and the other moiety thereof to be to the Lord of the manor where ſuch offence ſhall be committed.

The offences of ſurcharge of common ſhall be enquired of and puniſhed in Leets and Barons.

And further be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every Lord and Lords of the Manors or Lordſhips aforeſaid, or any of them, where ſuch offence ſhall be committed, and their Stewards within the precinct of the ſaid Manors or Lordſhips, and every of them ſhall have ful power and authority within their ſeveral Leets and Court Barons of the ſaid Manors or Lordſhips reſpectively, to enquire and to take preſentment by the Oaths of Jurors, of all and every offence and offences, in this behalf to be committed, and upon ſuch preſentment had or made, to levy by diſtreſs all ſuch ſums of money as ſo ſhall be forfeited: and that every ſuch Lord and Lords, or their Stewards, which ſo ſhall levy or cauſe to be levied, any ſuch ſum or ſums of money ſo to be forfeited, ſhall within one week next following the levying thereof, pay the one moiety thereof to the hands of the Churchwardens and Overſeers of the poor of ſuch ſaid pariſh or pariſhes, where ſuch offence or offences ſhall be committed, to the uſe of the poor of the ſame pariſh.

A proviſion where land incloſed is diſmembred from the tenements wherewith it was occupied.

Provided alſo, That if any perſon or perſons, bodies politick and corporate, their heirs, ſucceſſors, or aſſigns, ſhall at any time or times hereafter erect, or build any cottage for inhabitation upon any land ſo to be incloſed, and kept in ſeveral by force or vertue of this act, and ſhall lay any of the ſaid lands to any Cottage for habitation, and by means thereof, or any other means diſmember the ſame from the capital meſſuage, tenement or farm, to which the ſame is now belonging or occupied: that then, and in every ſuch caſe it ſhall be lawful by order of the Court of the Manor where ſuch land ſhall lie, to the Lord or his Officers, of the ſame Manor, or any of them for the time being, or the homagers of the ſame Manor, or the more part of them, to caſt and put the ſame land ſo laid to any Cottage, or diſmembred as aforeſaid, open and into Common, at Summer ſeaſons of the year, and in ſuch manner and form as the ſame have been formerly uſed: This act or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A proviſion for the continuing of certain grounds incloſed one time of the year as they have been.

Provided nevertheleſs, that where the later math, later crop, or edge groweth of certain meadows and paſtures in the ſaid Pariſhes or Lordſhips of Marden, alias Mawarden, Sutton Saint Michael, Sutton Saint Nicholas, and Bodenham, commonly called or known by the ſeveral names of Smedel Whitterday, Dole-meadow, the Groves, the old Lands, the Wiſtheirs, and the Wirgins, and certain ſmaller meadows & paſtures to them ſeverally adjoyning, have been accuſtomed or uſed moſt commonly to be yearly of moſt ancient time hained and incloſed after Hay harveſt, for the keeping and depaſturing of the Oxen and Kine of ſuch town or pariſh, where ſuch meadows and paſtures do lie, by certain rates thereof in ancient time uſed and accuſtomed, That there and in that caſe the ſame meadows and paſtures ſhall and may be hained, incloſed, kept and uſed yearly for Oxen and Kine, as moſt commonly they have been uſed and accuſtomed to be hained, incloſed, kept and uſed.

The uſage of Lug Meadow ſhall not be altered.

Provided alſo, that this act, or any thing herein contained, ſhall not extend to incloſe or alter the uſage and courſe of the great meadow, in or neer Sutton Saint Michael, and Sutton Saint Nicholas aforeſaid, called Lug Meadow, or any part there, otherwiſe than the ſame hath been uſed before the making of this act: This act or any thing therein contained to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The continuance of this Act.

This act to continue until the end of the laſt Seſſion of the next Parliament. 3 Car. 4. Continued until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

CAP. XII.

An act for the bringing of a new River to the North parts of the City of London, according to a former Statute made, 3 Jac. 18.

3 Jac. 18.

Whereas of late in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, in the third year of the reigh of our Soveraign Lord King James, An act was made for the bringing of a freſh ſtream of running water to the North parts of the city of London, as by the ſame act appeareth. Now for that ſithence the making of that Law, upon view of the grounds through which the waters are to paſs, by men of skill, and upon adviſed conſideration of the premiſſes, it is thought more convenient, and leſs damage to the ground, that the ſame running water be brought and conveyed in and through a trunk or vault of brick or ſtone incloſed, and in ſome places where need is raiſed upon Arches, than in open Trench or Sewer, which manner of conveyance of the ſame water in a trunk or vault of brick or ſtone, is doubtful whether by the words of the former Law it may be lawfully effected by the Lord Mayor and Commonalty, and Citizens of the City of London, albeit they do duly perform, every part, clauſe, matter and thing in the ſaid ſtatute contained; which on their part are by the true intent of that Law to be performed.

For clearing of which doubt, and plain declaration of the true meaning of the ſaid Law, Be it enacted by our Soveraign Lord the King, and by the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons of this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, that at any time or times after the laying out of ſuch convenient limits of ground for the making of the Trench, or Conveyance of water to the North parts of the ſaid city of London, at the breadth of ten foot, and not above, as to the Mayor and Commonalty, and Citizens of the City of London, and their deputies and workmen, with the allowance of the Commiſſioners in the ſaid former act mentioned, or any ſeven of them, ſhall be ſeen convenient and meet for the ſame, and in that place that they ſhall find to be moſt apt and meet for that purpoſe, according to the true intent of the ſaid Statute, that the Mayor, and Commonalty, and Citizens of the ſaid city of London, and their ſucceſſors, Deputies and Workmen, for the conſideration in the ſaid former act expreſſed, ſhall have liberty, not only to dig the ſame ground to be imployed in the ſame river or new Cut, as in the ſaid former act is expreſſed, but alſo in the ſame place, where they ſhal think moſt meet for the ſaid new Cut or paſſage of water, to frame, erect and make a trunk or vault of brick or ſtone for the paſſage of the ſaid Water to the North parts of the ſaid city of London, not exceeding ten foot in breadth in ſuch manner and form to be layed in the earth or upon arches, as to the Mayor and Commonalty, and Citizens of London ſhall ſeem meet: And from time to time forever to maintain and preſerve the ſame Trunk or Vault of Brick or ſtone, and for that purpoſe to have like liberty and free paſſage to and from the ſaid Trunk or Vault of Brick or Stone, for making, erecting, maintaining and preſerving thereof from time to time for ever, as they had or might have had by the intent of the ſaid former act, to and from the ſaid new Cut or River, with men, horſes, carts and carriages, at all times convenient, and in places convenient, for the making of the ſaid new Cut or River, with men, horſes, cart and carriages, at all times convenient, and in places convenient, for the making of the ſaid new Cut or Trench, and for the preſerving of the ſame from time to time for ever: Any thing in the ſaid former Statute, or in any other Law or Statute to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding. PR.

The Mayor, &c. of London may erect a Trunk or Vault in the earth, to convey the water from Chadwell, &c. to London.

The Mayor, &c. of London may from time to time maintain the ſaid Trunk or Vault.

CAP. XIII.

An act for the draining of certain Fens in the Iſle of Ely.

VVhereas by the draining of certain Fenns, and low grounds within the Iſle of Ely, ſubject to hurt by ſurrounding, great benefit may come to the Commonwealth, and much profit to the owners of the ſaid grounds, Be it therefore enacted by the Kings Majeſty, the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That Francis Tindal Eſquire, Henry Farre, and John Cooper, Gentlemen, (who have undertaken to do their beſt endeavours to effect the ſame at their own coſts and charges, for the conſiderations hereafter mentioned) their heirs and aſſigns, ſhall have full power and authority by vertue of this act, during the ſpace of ſeven years next enſuing the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, to drain all the Fenns and low grounds ſubject to hurt by ſurrounding in the ſaid Iſle of Ely, that lie and be environed with the banks, beginning at Keeks Mill, and from thence by Tower houſe, to Hobs houſe, and ſo to Tilney Hurne, from thence to Maries Damme, and ſo by Elme Leam to Friday Bridg, and from thence by Redmore Dike, and Begdale, and ſo by Gold Dike to Keeks Mill again: And for the doing thereof to make of new, or to repair in all places needful, ſuch and ſo many Drains, Loads, Dikes, Banks, Sluces, and other works of Sewers, as they ſhall think meet, not being in Marſhland within the old Podike, for conveying to the Sea as well of the Sock and downfall, as of the overflowing of Rivers and Land-floods, ſatisfying the Owners of ſuch ſeverals as they ſhall cut, and ſuch perſons as they ſhall otherwiſe damnifie, ſo much money or other valuable recompence, as by ſix Commiſſioners of Sewers at the leaſt, whereof three inhabiting within the ſaid Iſle, and three within the county of Norfolk, ſhall be ordered and ſet down.

Certain perſons have undertaken to drain the Fens in the Iſle of Ely.

The limits and bounds to be inned.

The perſons damnified ſhall be ſatisfied.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That immediately after the ſaid grounds ſhall be drained, according to the true meaning of this act, the ſaid Undertakers, their heirs and aſſigns, for and in conſideration thereof, and of the perpetual maintaining and preſerving of the ſame draining, as in this act is hereafter mentioned, ſhall have, hold, and enjoy to them, their heirs and aſſigns for ever, in ſeveralty, two full parts in three to be divided of all the ſaid Fens and low grounds, the ſame to be ſet out by Metes and Bounds, before the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord One thouſand ſix hundred and eight, by the ſeveral Owners of the ſaid Fens and low grounds, or in default of any of them, then at any time after by ſix Commiſſioners of Sewers at the leaſt whereof four inhabiting within the ſaid Iſle.

The Undertakers ſhall have for the inning and maintaining of the grounds ſurrounded, two parts thereof.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid two full parts ſhall be held of the ſeveral Lords, of whom the ſame are now holden, in free and common Socage, by fealty only for all manner of ſervices, and not in Capite, nor by Knights ſervice. And likewiſe that the ſaid two full parts ſhall be freed from paying any manner of Tythes until the feaſt of Saint Michael, the Archangel next enſuing the end of ſeven years, after the time limited for the draining aforeſaid.

Of whom the two parts ſhall be holden.

The two parts ſhall be diſcharged of Tythes during ſeven years.

Provided

A proviſion for the owners, if the grounds drowned ſhall be again ſurrounded.

Provided nevertheleſs, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if it ſhall fall out at any time hereafter, that any of the ſaid Fen or low Grounds, after they be once drained, ſhall be again ſurrounded in default of the ſaid Undertakers, their Heirs or Aſſigns, and ſo do continue at any time between the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel, and the Annunciation of the bleſſed Virgin Mary then next following, by the ſpace of two moneths together, or do ſo continue at any time between the Feaſt of the Annunciation of the bleſſed Virgin Mary, and the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel then next following, by the ſpace of one moneth together, and not in the mean time amended by the ſaid Undertakers, their Heirs or Aſſigns, That then and ſo often it ſhall and may be lawful for every Owner of the Grounds ſo ſurrounded, and not amended, by the view and appointment of ſix Commiſſioners of Sewers at the leaſt, whereof four inhabiting within the ſaid Iſle of Ely, being aſſembled for that purpoſe, to enter into the two full parts which were divided and ſet forth from his Grounds ſo ſurrounded, for the ſaid Undertakers as aforeſaid, and the ſame to have and enjoy according to his former Title, Eſtate and Intereſt, untill the ſame Fens and low Grounds ſo ſurrounded, ſhall be recovered again by new draining or repair at the Coſts and Charges of the ſaid Undertakers, their Heirs or Aſſigns: Any thing herein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The Undertakers ſhall not drain through other grounds otherwiſe than they may do by the Law.

Provided alſo, That the authority given by this Act to the ſaid Undertakers, their Heirs or Aſſigus, for the draining of the ſaid Grounds, ſhall not extend to give any power to cut and drain thorow any other Grounds in any other manner, than by the Laws and Statutes of this Realm heretofore made, they may lawfully do. Anno Reg. JACOBI Regis Angliæ, Scotiæ, Franciæ, & Hiberniæ, viz. Angliæ, Franc. & Hibern. ſeptimo, & Scotiæ quadrageſimo tertio.

AT the fourth Seſſion of Parliament begun and holden by prorogation at Weſtminſter the nineteenth day of February, in the ſeventh year of the Reign of our moſt gracious Soveraign Lord JAMES, by the Grace of God, of England, France, and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith, &c. and of Scotland the three and fortieth: And there continued untill the three and twentieth day of July: (And then prorogued untill the ſixteenth day of October next following, 1610.) To the high pleaſure of Almighty God, and to the weal publick of this Realm, were enacted as followeth.

CAP. I.

Where an Engliſhman ſhall have his Trial, that committeth Felony in Scotland.

VVHereas in a Statute made in the third Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, intituled, An Act for the utter abolition of all memory of hoſtility, and the dependances thereof, between England and Scotland, and for the repreſſing of occaſion of diſcords and diſorders in time to come, it was amongſt other things enacted, That no natural born Subject of the Realm of England, or the Dominions of the ſame, ſhould for any high Treaſon, miſpriſion or concealment of high Treaſon, petty Treaſon, or any other whatſoever offence or cauſe committed within Scotland, be ſent out of England where he is apprehended, to receive his trial, untill ſuch time as both Realms ſhould be made one in Laws and Government, which is the thing ſo much deſired, as that wherein the full perfection of the bleſſed Union already begun in his Majeſties Royal perſon conſiſteth.

The inconvenience if an Offendor ſhall not receive his Trial in the Kingdom where he committeth his offence.

Since the making of which Statute, although thoſe parts of the Kingdom of England adjoyning and lying near unto the Realm and Kingdom of Scotland, have been, and are by his Majeſties inceſſant care and Princely policy, reduced to a more civil and peaceable eſtate than could in ſhort time have been expected or hoped for: Yet experience teacheth, that Malefactors of either Realm having committed their offences in the other Realm, do forthwith fly and eſcape into their own Country, thereby to purchaſe their impunity, to the great and manifeſt grievance of the one Realm, and the diſhonor of the other. By means whereof, very many great and hainous offences ſince the making of the ſaid Statute, have been and are ſtill likely to be committed without condign puniſhment; for that ſince the making of the ſaid Statute, there hath not been any one Offendor committing any the offences aforeſaid in Scotland, that hath been proſecuted to his Trial, Judgment or Execution in England, by reaſon or upon any the Branches, Laws, or Ordinances in the ſaid Statute mentioned or contained: Whereby it manifeſtly appeareth, that the ſaid Clauſe in the ſaid Statute contained, and before in this preſent Act expreſly mentioned, concerning the not ſending out of England any natural born Subject of the Realm, or the Dominions of the ſame, for any whatſoever offence committed within the Realm of Scotland, to receive his Trial for any the ſaid offences, hath not brought forth that good effect as was hoped for, and by the ſaid Law intended, to the great prejudice and diſhonor of both Realms.

If an Engliſh man ſhall commit felony in Scotland and then fly into England, the Juſtices may ſend the Offendors into Scotland to be tryed.

For the preventing of which apparent and too manifeſt miſchief and inconvenience, Be it enacted, and by the authority of this preſent Parliament eſtabliſhed, That if any time or times after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, any perſon or perſons ſhall commit any offence or offences within the Realm of Scotland, which by the Laws of this Realm of England is, are, or ſhall be declared or adjudged to be petty Treaſon, Murder, Manſlaughter, Felonious burning of Houſes and Corn, Burglary, Robbing of Houſes by day, Robbery, Theft or Rape, and do or ſhall fly or eſcape into the Realm of England, and be or ſhall be apprehended within any the Counties of Northumberland, Cumberland, Weſtmerland, or any parts or members of the ſame, or within the parts or places lying on the Northſide of the River of Tine, commonly called or known by the names of Bedlingtonſhire, ſhire, Northamſhamſhire and Iſlandſhire, the Town and County of Newcaſtle upon Tine, and the Town of Barwick upon Twede, with the Bounds and Liberties thereof, That then it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the Juſtices of Aſſiſe, or any one of them in the abſence of the other, the Juſtices of Gaol-delivery at their Gaol-delivery, or any four of them, or the Juſtices of Peace in their general or quarter Seſſions, or any four of them, upon due and mature examination of the ſaid offence or offences in open Seſſions, and pregnant proofs of the ſame by warrant under their Hands and Seals, to remand and ſend all and every ſuch Offendor and Offendors into the Realm of Scotland, there to receive their trial for any the offences aforeſaid by them there committed: Any thing in the ſaid Statute to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

This Law to continue to the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

Continuance of the Stat. A like Act is to be made in Scotland.

Provided nevertheleſs, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Statute nor any clauſe therein contained, ſhall take effect or be in force, or in any wiſe be deemed or expounded to take effect, to any intent, conſtruction or purpoſe, untill a Law by Act of Parliament be made and eſtabliſhed within the Realm of Scotland, for the remanding and ſending out of the Realm of Scotland into the Realm of England, all and every perſon and perſons born within the Realm of Scotland, or the Dominions of the ſame, which ſhall at any time hereafter commit any the offences aforeſaid within the Realm of England, to receive his or their trial in the Realm of England, for all and every the ſaid offences by them committed in the Realm of England. 3 Car. Continued untill the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament. 14 Car. 2. cap. 22.

CAP. II.

Such as are to be Naturalized, or Reſtored in Blood, ſhall receive the Sacrament, &c. and the Oath of Allegiance and Supremacy.

What they ſhall be bound unto, who ſhall be Naturalized, or reſtored in Blood.

Forasmuch as the Naturalizing of Strangers, and reſtoring to Blood perſons attainted, have been ever reputed matters of meer Grace and Favour, which are not fit to be beſtowed upon any others than ſuch as are of the Religion now eſtabliſhed in this Realm: Be it therefore enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, That no perſon or perſons, of what quality, condition, or place ſoever, being of the age of eighteen years or above, ſhall be Naturalized, or reſtored in Blood, unleſs the ſaid perſon or perſons have received the Sacrament of the Lords Supper within one moneth before any Bill exhibited for that purpoſe, and alſo ſhall take the Oath of Supremacy, and the Oath of Allegiance, in the Parliament-houſe, before his or her Bill be twice read. And for the better effecting of the premiſſes, Be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Lord Chancellor of England, or Lord Keeper of the great Seal for the time being, if the Bill begin in the Upper-houſe, and the Speaker of the Commons Houſe of Parliament for the time being, if the Bill begin there, ſhall have authority at all times during the Seſſion of Parliament to miniſter ſuch Oath and Oaths, and to ſuch perſon and perſons as by the true intent of this Statute is to be miniſtred. This Act to take place from and after the end of this preſeut Seſſion of Parliament.

When this Act ſhall take place.

CAP. III.

How money given for the binding of poor Children to Occupations, ſhall be beſtowed.

Forasmuch as the true labour and exerciſe of Huſbandry, and the bringing up of Apprentices of both Sexes in Trades and Manual Occupations, are things very profitable in the Common-wealth, and acceptable and pleaſing unto Almighty God, there being already great ſums of Money freely given, and more in time to come like to be given by divers well diſpoſed perſons unto the Corporations of divers Cities, Boroughs, Towns Corporate, and unto divers perſons in ſundry Towns not Corporate, and Pariſhes within this Realm of England, to be continually imployed in the binding out as Apprentices of a great number of the pooreſt ſort of Children unto needful Trades and Occupations; the experience whereof hath brought forth very great profit and commodity unto thoſe Cities, Towns and Pariſhes where any parts of the ſaid Monies have been ſo given and imployed, and ſo no doubt there will conſequently enſue thereof the exceeding good of the Commonwealth in general. And for that the moſt part of the poorer ſorts of Children, would (as heretofore) without ſuch good care and aſſiſtance be brought up in idleneſs, and diſordered kinds of life, to their utter overthrow, and to the great prejudice of the whole Commonwealth: And for that it is very likely that many other well diſpoſed people will be the better encouraged willingly to follow the like good example in beſtowing all good ſums of Monies to the ſame good and godly purpoſes, if it might be ſo provided, that ſuch Monies as have been already ſo freely given, or as hereafter ſhall be given for the binding out of ſuch poor Children Apprentices, may continually hereafter remain, and be wholly imployed accordingly:

How money given for the binding out of Apprentices of poor children ſhall be imployed, and by whom.

Be it therefore enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That all ſums of money, ſo freely given at any time within three years laſt paſt, or hereafter to be given by any perſon or perſons, to be continually imployed for the binding out of Apprentices as aforeſaid, ſhall for ever from henceforth continue, and be from time to time uſed and imployed to ſuch uſes, intents and purpoſes only, and by ſuch perſons, and in ſuch manner and form as ſhall be hereafter by this preſent Act ſpecified and declared, Except the ſame have been, or ſhall be otherwiſe ordered or diſpoſed by the Givers thereof, That is to ſay, That all Corporations of all Cities, Boroughs and Towns Corporate, by what name or names ſoever they ſhall be known or incorporated, and in Towns and Pariſhes not incorporate, the Parſon or Vicar of every ſuch Town or Pariſh, together with

The forfeiture of thoſe which of duty ought, and yet refuſe to employ the money.

the Conſtable or Conſtables, the Churchwarden or Churchwardens, Collectors, and the Overſeers for the poor for the time being, or the moſt part of them, where any ſuch ſum or ſums of money are already given, or ſhall be hereafter given to be ſo imployed, ſhall from time to time within the ſaid ſeveral Cities, Boroughs, Towns and Pariſhes reſpectively, have the nomination and placing of ſuch Apprentices, and the guiding and imployment of all ſuch monies, as have been heretofore ſo given, or which hereafter ſhall be given, to and for the continual binding forth of ſuch and ſo many Apprentices, and in ſuch ſort as is already, or ſhall hereafter be ſo given and appointed, either by the laſt Will and Teſtament, or by any writing or writings under the Hands and Seals of any perſon or perſons which hath already, or hereafter ſhall ſo give any ſum or ſums of monies unto the good and godly purpoſes and intents aforeſaid. And if the Corporation of any ſuch Cities, Boroughs or Towns Corporate, by what name or names ſoever they ſhall be called or incorporated, or any the perſon or perſons in the other Towns and Pariſhes above mentioned, appointed by this Act to have continually the guiding and imployment of ſuch ſums of moneys ſo already given, or hereafter to be given to the intents and purpoſes aforeſaid, ſhall at any time hereafter wilfully forbear or refuſe, according to their Duties in this behalf, to imploy ſuch ſums of money ſo given, or to be given as aforeſaid, for the binding out of ſuch Apprentices, by means of which wilful forbearance or refuſing, the ſaid money ſhall not be imployed accordingly, that they and every of them ſo offending contrary to this Act, ſhall forfeit for every ſuch offence the ſum of three pounds ſix ſhillings and eight pence lawful Engliſh money, the one half thereof to be given to the poor of the Town or Pariſh where ſuch fault or offence ſhall be done or committed, the other moyety to the party that ſhall ſue for the ſame: And that every man that will, may and ſhall be admitted to ſue for the ſame moyety for the uſe and benefit of the ſaid poor, and ſhall be alſo admitted to ſue for the forfeiture of the other moyety in any of the Kings Majeſties Courts of Record, to his own benefit and behoof, by action of Debt, Bill, Plaint or Information, wherein no Protection, Wager of Law, or Eſſoine ſhall be admitted or allowed.

The party which receiveth the money, ſhall be bound with Sureties to repay it.

And for that all monies ſo given may the better continue to and for the purpoſes aforeſaid, Be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Maſter, Miſtreſs, or Dame of every ſuch Apprentice or Apprentices, that ſhall receive any ſuch ſum or ſums of money as aforeſaid, ſhall become bound with one or two ſufficient Sureties, by Bond or Obligation in double the ſum which they and every of them ſhall ſo receive with ſuch Apprentice or Apprentices as aforeſaid, unto the Corporation of any ſuch City or Town Corporate, by what name or names ſoever they ſhall be called or incorporated, or to ſuch perſon or perſons in the other Towns and Pariſhes not incorporated, appointed by this Act to have continually the guiding and imployment of all ſuch ſums of mony ſo already given, or hereafter to be given, to the intents and purpoſes aforeſaid reſpectively: Upon condition to repay ſuch ſum or ſums of money, as he or ſhe ſhall receive with ſuch Apprentice or Apprentices, at the end of ſeven years next enſuing the Date of the ſaid Obligation, or within three moneths next after the end of the ſaid ſeven years. And if ſuch Apprentice ſhall happen to die within the ſaid ſpace of ſeven years, then within one year after his or her ſaid death: And if the Maſter, Miſtreſs or Dame, to whom any ſuch Apprentice or Apprentices ſhall be bound, ſhall happen to die within the ſaid ſpace of ſeven years, then within one year next after his or her death; So as the ſaid moneys may be again imployed for placing ſuch Apprentice with ſome other perſon of the ſame Trade, to ſerve out the reſidue of the years of his or her former Apprentiſhip, by the diſcretion of the ſaid perſons truſted as aforeſaid.

Within what time the money ſhall be put forth.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every ſuch ſum or ſums of money ſo given, or to be given in manner and form, and to and for the good uſes and intents aforeſaid, ſhall alwayes be put forth and imployed by the parties aforeſaid, that by this Act ſhall have the diſpoſing and imployment thereof, within three moneths at the furtheſt, after ſuch money ſhall come to the hands of the ſaid parties, that by the intent and true meaning of this Act ought to diſpoſe and imploy the ſame: And if at ſuch times there ſhall not be found fit and apt perſons to be bound out Apprentices as aforeſaid, within the ſaid Cities, Towns and Pariſhes, where ſuch ſums of money are or hereafter ſhall be given to be imployed, as afore is declared; Then ſuch of the pooreſt Children of any of the Pariſhes next adjoyning, ſhall be bound Apprentices in manner as aforeſaid, as by the care and good diſcretions of the parties, which by this Act have the diſpoſing and imployment of the ſaid ſums of money in the Cities, Towns and Pariſhes where it was firſt given to be imployed, ſhall be thought fit and convenient, taking ſuch Bonds and Obligations of the perſons that ſhall receive the ſame ſums of money ſo put forth, and with ſuch Sureties, and upon ſuch Conditions, as is above mentioned and declared.

A proviſion if there be not fit perſons in that Pariſh to be Apprentices.

What ſort of perſons ſhall be Apprentices.

Provided alwayes, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That choice from time to time be made of the pooreſt ſorts of Children of every ſuch City, Town and Pariſh where ſuch Monies ſhall be ſo given, and whoſe Parents are leaſt able to relieve them. And that no ſuch Apprentice ſhall be above the age of xv. years, when he or ſhe ſhall be ſo firſt bound out an Apprentice.

Accompt ſhall be made of the money imployed.

And for the better execution of this Act, Be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every perſon and perſons appointed by this Act, to have the imploying and diſpoſing of any ſum or ſums of money ſo given or to be given as aforeſaid, within any Town or Pariſh not corporate, ſhall after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, once every year in the Eaſter week, or within one moneth next after Eaſter-day, make a true and perfect accompt before four, three, or two Juſtices of the Peace, dwelling in or next to every the ſaid Towns or Pariſhes, of all ſuch ſum and ſums of money, as they or any of them have imployed in binding of Apprentices, by vertue of this Act, and of all Bonds & Obligations taken for the payment thereof, And alſo of all ſuch ſums of money as then ſhall happen to be remaining in their hands not imployed. And alſo ſhall at the making and yielding up of the ſaid Accompt, or within ten days then next following, yield and deliver up unto ſuch as ſhall happen next to ſucceed them, or then to be in the ſaid rooms and places, all ſuch Obligations and Bonds, as by them, or any of them have been before that time taken to the uſes aforeſaid: As alſo all ſums of money remaining in their, or any of their hands, to be imployed as aforeſaid, and not imployed at the time of the yielding up of the ſaid Accompt.

A remedy where any party truſted ſhall break the truſt, or commit any offence.

And further be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any of the parties appointed and truſted by this Act to have the diſpoſing and imployment of any of the ſaid ſums of money ſo given or to be given as aforeſaid, ſhall in any point or degree break the truſt and confidence in them in this behalf repoſed, or ſhal commit any other miſdemeanor, or offence in miſimploying of the ſaid ſums of money, or any part thereof, or in doing any other act or acts, contrary to their duties, and the true intent and meaning of this Act, for which there is not by this Act any penalty given or appointed, Then it ſhall and may be lawful for any perſon or perſons whatſoever in the behalf of the poor of ſuch City, Borough or Pariſh, to exhibit his Petition to the Lord Chancellor, or Lord Keeper of the great Seal of England for the time being, touching the ſame: Which Lord Chancellor or Lord Keeper of the great Seal of England for the time being, ſhall thereupon have full power and authority to award a Commiſſion out of the high Court of Chancery, under the great Seal of England to ſuch and ſo many perſons as his Lordſhip ſhall think meet, to enquire, hear and determine the ſaid offences, and every of them. And if the ſaid Commiſſioners, or the moſt part of them ſhall find, that any ſum or ſums of money ſo given or to be given are loſt, impaired, waſted or diminiſhed, Then they or the moſt part of them ſhall likewiſe have power by vertue of this Act, and of their ſaid Commiſſion, to rate, raiſe and collect the ſaid ſum of money ſo loſt, impaired, waſted or diminiſhed, upon ſuch perſon or perſons in places not incorporate, as by this Act are appointed to have the guiding and ordering of the ſaid Monies, if they or any of them have failed in their ſaid Duties in that behalf, or otherwiſe upon the able Inhabitants of ſuch City, Town or Pariſh where the ſame ſhall ſo happen, as in the diſcretion of the ſaid Commiſſioners, or the greateſt part of them ſhall be thought fitteſt, and to return the ſaid Commiſſion, and the manner of the execution thereof, into the ſaid high Court of Chancery within three moneths next after the execution thereof. And if any perſon or perſons ſhall find himſelf grieved by any thing done by the ſaid Commiſſioners, then upon Complaint made in the high Court of Chancery, the ſaid Lord Chancellor, or Lord Keeper for the time being, ſhall have full power and authority to order and decree the ſame, as to his Lordſhip ſhall be thought moſt fit to ſtand with equity and good conſcience.

A remedy for any party grieved by the Commiſſioners.

CAP. IV.

Houſes of Correction ſhall be provided: And the Government of them.

Co. Inſt. 2. part, 728.

WHereas heretofore divers good and neceſſary Laws and Statutes have been made and provided for the erection of Houſes of Correction, for the ſuppreſſing and puniſhing of Rogues, Vagabonds, or other idle, vagrant, and diſorderly perſons; which Laws have not wrought ſo good effect as was expected, as well for that the ſaid Houſes of Correction have not been built according as was intended, as alſo for that the ſaid Statutes have not been duly and ſeverely put in execution, as by the ſaid Statutes were appointed. For remedy whereof, Be it enacted and eſtabliſhed by our Soveraign Lord the Kings Majeſty, and by the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and by the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That all Laws and Statutes now in force, made for the erecting and building of Houſes of Correction, and for puniſhing of Rogues, Vagabonds, and other wandring and idle perſons, ſhall be put in due execution.

There ſhall be a houſe of correction provided in every Shire, to ſet idle perſons to work.
39 Eliz. 4.

And be it further enacted and eſtabliſhed by the authority aforeſaid, That before the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God, One thouſand ſix hundred and eleven, there ſhall be erected, built, or otherwiſe provided, within every County of this Realm of England and Wales, where there is not one Houſe of Correction already built, purchaſed, provided or continued, one or more fit and convenient Houſe or Houſes of Correction, with convenient Backſide thereunto adjoyning, together with Mills, Turns, Cards, and ſuch like neceſſary Implements, to ſet the ſaid Rogues, or ſuch other idle perſons on work: The ſame houſes to be built, erected or provided in ſome convenient Place or Town in every County: Which Houſes ſhall be purchaſed, conveyed, or aſſured unto ſuch perſon or perſons, as by the Juſtices of Peace, or the more part of them, in their Quarter Seſſions of the Peace to be holden within every County of this Realm of England and Wales, upon truſt, To the intent the ſame ſhall be uſed and employed for the keeping, correcting, and ſetting to work of the ſaid Rogues, Vagabonds, or ſturdy Beggars, and other idle and diſorderly perſons.

The forfeiture of every Juſtice of Peace, if the houſe of correction be not provided.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if the Houſe to be erected, purchaſed or provided, ſhall not be erected, built, or otherwiſe provided, before the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel, which ſhall be in the year, One thouſand ſix hundred and eleven, next enſuing the laſt day of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, That then every Juſtice of Peace within every County of this Realm of England and Wales, where ſuch Houſe and Backſide ſhall not be erected or provided, ſhall forfeit for his ſaid neglect, five pounds of lawful Engliſh money, the one moyety thereof to be to him or them that will ſue for the ſame by action of Debt, Bill, Plaint or Information, In which Suit, no Protection, Eſſoine, or Wager of Law ſhall be admitted; And the other moyety thereof to be imployed and beſtowed towards the erecting, building, procuring or providing the ſaid Houſe and Backſide, and ſuch neceſſary Implements as aforeſaid.

A Governour ſhall be appointed of every houſe of correction, and his authority.

The Rogues ſhall not be chargeable to the Country.

And be it further enacted and eſtabliſhed by the authority aforeſaid, That the Juſtices of Peace of every County within the Realm of England and Wales, at their Quarter Seſſions of the Peace to be holden before their ſeveral Counties (next after the erecting, providing, or building of the ſaid Houſe or Houſes, and ſo from time to time) or the moſt part of them, ſhall elect, nominate and appoint, at their will and pleaſure, one or more honeſt fit perſon or perſons, to be Governor or Maſter of the ſaid Houſe or Houſes ſo to be purchaſed erected, built or provided: Which perſon and perſons ſo choſen by vertue of this preſent Act, ſhall have power and authority to ſet ſuch Rogues, Vagabonds, idle and diſorderly perſons, as ſhall be brought or ſent unto the ſaid Houſe to work and labour (being able) from time to time, for ſuch time as they ſhall continue and be remaining in the ſaid Houſe of Correction, and to puniſh the ſaid Rogues, Vagabonds, idle and diſorderly perſons, by putting Fetters or Gyves upon them, and by moderate whipping of them; and that the ſaid Rogues, Vagabonds, and idle perſons, during ſuch time as they ſhall continue and remain in the ſaid Houſe of Correction, ſhall in no ſort be chargeable to the Country for any allowance, either at their bringing in, or going forth, or during the time of their abode there, but ſhall have ſuch and ſo much allowance, as they ſhall deſerve by their own labour and work.

General privy ſearch ſhall be made in every Hundred, Town, &c.

The Conſtables account of Vagabonds apprehended.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Juſtices of Peace of every County within every of their ſeveral Diviſions twice in every year at the leaſt, and oftner if there be occaſion, ſhall aſſemble and meet together for the better execution of this Statute; and that ſome four or five dayes before their aſſembly and meeting, the ſaid Juſtices, or the more part of them, ſhall by their Warrant command the Conſtables and Tythingmen of every Hundred, Town, Pariſh, Village and Hamlet within their ſeveral Diviſions, which ſhall be aſſiſted with ſufficient men of the ſame places, to make a general privy ſearch in one night within their ſaid Hundreds, Towns, Villages and Hamlets, for the finding out and apprehending of the ſaid Rogues, Vagabonds, wandring and idle perſons, and that ſuch Rogues, Vagabonds, wandring and idle perſons as they ſhall then find and apprehend in the ſaid ſearch, ſhall by them be brought before the ſaid Juſtices, at the ſaid aſſembly or meeting, there to be examined of their idle and wandring life, there to be puniſhed, or otherwiſe by their Warrant to be ſent or conveyed unto the ſaid Houſe or Houſes of Correction within the ſaid County, or to his Deputy or Aſſignee to be ſet to labour and work: At which dayes and times of aſſembly and meeting, ſo to be held by the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, the Conſtables and Tythingmen of every Hundred, Pariſh, Town, Village and Hamlet, ſhall then appear in every their ſeveral Diviſions, before the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, at the ſaid aſſemblies or meetings, and there ſhall give account and reckoning upon Oath in writing, and under the Hand of the Miniſter of every Pariſh, what Rogues, Vagabonds, and wandring and diſorderly perſons they have apprehended both in the ſame ſearch, and alſo between every ſuch aſſemblies and meetings, and how many have been by them puniſhed, or otherwiſe ſent unto the Houſes of Correction: which if the ſaid Conſtables or Tythingmen ſhall neglect to perform, as alſo to convey ſafely all ſuch Rogues, with all other idle and diſorderly perſons, at the charge of the Hundred, as by the Juſtices of Peace their Warrants ſhall be ſent unto the Houſes of Correction in the ſame County, that then they ſhall forfeit ſuch further Fines, Pains and Penalties, as by the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, or the moſt part of them, ſhall be thought fit and convenient, not exceeding the ſum of xl. s. for every offence.

The Governors allowance for his pains and maintenance.

43 Eliz. 2.

And for that it is convenient, that the Maſters or Governors of the ſaid Houſes of Correction ſhould have ſome fit allowance and maintenance for their travel and care to be had in the ſaid Service, as alſo for the relieving of ſuch as ſhall happen to be weak and ſick in their cuſtody, and that the Subjects of this Realm ſhould in no ſort be over-charged, to raiſe up money for Stocks to ſet ſuch on work as ſhall be committed to their cuſtody: Be it therefore enacted and eſtabliſhed by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the Maſters or Governors of the ſaid Houſes of Correction, ſhall have ſuch ſums of money yearly, as ſhall be thought meet by the moſt part of the Juſtices of Peace within the ſaid County, at the Quarter-Seſſions of the Peace, the ſame to be paid quarterly beforehand by the Treaſurers appointed by one Act made in the three and fortieth year of the late Queen Elizabeth, entituled, An Act for the relief of the poor, during the time they the ſaid Maſters and Governors ſhall be imployed in the ſaid Service, (the ſaid Maſter or Governor giving ſufficient ſecurity for the continuance and performance of the ſaid Service) which if the ſaid Treaſurer ſhall neglect or refuſe to perform, That then the ſaid Maſter or Governor of the Houſe of Correction, ſhall have authority by this preſent Act to levy the ſame, or ſo much thereof as ſhall be unpaid, upon the ſaid Treaſurers account, in ſuch manner and form as by the ſaid Statute they the ſaid Treaſurers are appointed and authorized to levy the weekly ſum or payment, being to them unpaid.

The puniſhment of lewd women which have Baſtards. 18 Eliz. 3.

And becauſe great charge ariſeth upon many places within this Realm by reaſon of Baſtardy, beſides the great diſhonor of Almighty God: Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every lewd woman, which after this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall have any Baſtard, which may be chargeable to the Pariſh, the Juſtices of Peace ſhall commit ſuch lewd woman to the Houſe of Correction, there to be puniſhed, and ſet on work during the term of one whole year: And if ſhe ſhall eftſoons offend again, That then to be committed to the ſaid Houſe of Correction as aforeſaid, and then to remain untill ſhe can put in good Sureties for her good behaviour, not to offend ſo again.

A remedy for them that run away, and leave their Children to the charge of the Pariſh.

And for that many wilful people, finding that they having Children, have ſome hope to have relief from the Pariſh wherein they dwell, and being able to labour, and thereby to relieve themſelves and their Families, do neverthelеſſe run away out of their Pariſhes, and leave their Families upon the Pariſh: For remedy whereof, Be it further enacted by this preſent Parliament and the authority of the ſame, That all ſuch perſons ſo running away, ſhall be taken and deemed incorrigible Rogues, and endure the pain of incorrigible Rogues: And if either ſuch man or woman being able to work, and ſhall threaten to run away, and leave their Families as aforeſaid, the ſame being proved by two ſufficient witneſſes upon Oath before two Juſtices of Peace in that Diviſion, That then the ſaid perſons ſo threatning, ſhall by the ſaid Juſtices of Peace be ſent to the houſes of Correction, (unleſſe he or ſhe can put in ſufficient Sureties for the diſcharge of the Pariſh) there to be dealt with and detained as a ſturdy and wandring Rogue, and to be delivered at the ſaid aſſembly or meeting, or at the Quarter-Seſſions, and not otherwiſe.

And becauſe there ſhall be the more care taken by all ſuch Maſters of the houſes of Correction, that when the Country hath been at trouble and charge to bring all ſuch diſorderly perſons as aforeſaid to their ſafe keeping, that then they ſhall perform their Duties in that behalf, Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if they ſhall not every quarter Seſſions yield a true and lawful account unto the Juſtices of Peace, of all ſuch perſons as have been committed to their cuſtody: Or if the ſaid perſons committed to their cuſtody, or any of them, ſhall be troubleſome unto the Country, by going abroad, or otherwiſe ſhall eſcape away from the ſaid houſe of Correction, before they ſhall be from thence lawfully delivered, That then the ſaid Juſtices ſhall ſet down ſuch Fines and Penalties upon the ſaid Maſter and Governors, as the moſt part of them in their Quarter-Seſſions ſhall think fit and convenient, and all Fines and Penalties not herein before limited, ſhall be paid unto the Treaſurer, and accounted for by the Treaſurer aforeſaid. This Act to have continuance for the ſpace of ſeven years, and from thence to the end of the next Seſſion of Parliament after the ſaid ſeven years. 3 Car. 4. Continued untill the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

The Governors ſhall give account to the Juſtices of all perſons committed to their cuſtody.

The continuance of the act.

CAP. V.

The Plea of an Officer impleaded for the Execution of his Office.

Cro. Car. 175. 285. 467.

For eaſe in pleading againſt many cauſeleſs and contentious Suits, which have been, and daily are commenced and proſecuted againſt Juſtices of Peace, Mayors, or Bailiffs of Cities and Towns corporate, Headboroughs, Port-reves, Conſtables, Tythingmen, Collectors of Subſidies and Fifteens, who for due execution of their Office have been troubled and moleſted, and ſtill are like to be troubled and moleſted by evil diſpoſed contentious perſons, to their great charge, and diſcouragement in doing of their Offices: Be it therefore enacted by our Soveraign Lord the King, and by the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That if any Action, Bill, Plaint, or Suit upon the Caſe, Treſpaſs, Battery, or falſe Impriſonment ſhall be brought, after forty dayes next after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, in any of his Majeſties Courts at Weſtminſter, or elſewhere, againſt any Juſtice of Peace, Mayor or Bailiff of City or Town corporate, Headborough, Port-reve, Conſtable, Tythingman, Collector of Subſidy or Fifteens, for or concerning any matter, cauſe or thing, by them or any of them done, by vertue or reaſon of their, or any of their Office or Offices, That it ſhall be lawful to and for every ſuch Juſtice of Peace, Mayor, Bailiff, Conſtable, or other Officer or Officers before named, and all others which in their aid or aſſiſtance, or by their commandment ſhall do any thing touching or concerning his or their Office or Offices, to plead the general iſſue, that he or they are not guilty, and to give ſuch ſpecial matter in evidence to the Jury which ſhall try the ſame, which ſpecial matter being pleaded, had been a good and ſufficient matter in Law to have diſcharged the ſaid Defendant or Defendants of the Treſpaſs, or other matter laid to his or their charge: And that if the Verdict ſhall paſs with the ſaid Defendant or Defendants in any ſuch Action, or the Plaintiff or Plaintiffs therein become Non-ſuit, or ſuffer any diſcontinuance thereof, That in every ſuch caſe the Juſtices or Juſtice, or ſuch other Judge before whom the ſaid matter ſhall be tried, ſhall by force and vertue of this Act allow unto the Defendant or Defendants his or their double coſts, which he or they ſhall have ſuſtained by reaſon of their wrongful vexation in defence of the ſaid Action or Suit: For which the ſaid Defendant or Defendants ſhall have like remedy, as in other caſes where coſts by the Laws of this Realm are given to the Defendants. And this Act to continue for ſeven years, and from thence to the end of the next Parliament after the ſaid ſeven years. Coke Inſt. 283. a.

This Statute is inlarged, and made perpetual, 21 Jac. 12.

Officers troubled for the due execution of their Offices.

An action being brought againſt an officer, he may plead not guilty.

The Defendant allowed double coſts of Suit.

Continuance of this Act.

CAP. VI.

Who ſhall take the Oath of Obedience to the King, and by whom it ſhall be miniſtred, and within what time.

3 Jac. 4.

Whereas by a Statute made in the third year of your Majeſties Reign, intituled, An Act for the better diſcovering and repreſſing of Popiſh Recuſants, the form of an Oath to be miniſtred and given to certain perſons in the ſame Act mentioned, is limited and preſcribed, tending only to the declaration of ſuch duty, as every true and well-affected Subject, not only by bond of Allegiance, but alſo by the commandment of Almighty God ought to bear to your Majeſty, your Heirs and Succeſſors: Which Oath ſuch as are infected with Popiſh ſuperſtition do oppugne, with many falſe and unſound Arguments, the juſt defence whereof your Majeſty hath heretofore undertaken and worthily performed, to the great contentment of all your loving Subjects, notwithſtanding the gainſayings of contentious Adverſaries.

And to ſhew how greatly your loyal Subjects do approve the ſaid Oath, they proſtrate themſelves at your Majeſties Feet, beſeeching your Majeſty, That the ſame Oath may be adminiſtred to all your Subjects. To which end we do with all humbleneſſe beſeech your Every perſon above the age of 18 years herein intended ſhall take the oath of obedience.

Before whom each perſon ſhall take the Oath.

Highneſſe that it may be enacted, And be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That all and every perſon and perſons, as well Eccleſiaſtical as Temporal, of what eſtate, dignity, preheminence, ſex, quality, or degree ſoever he, ſhe, or they be, or ſhall be, above the age of eighteen years, being in this Act mentioned and intended, ſhall make, take and receive a corporal Oath upon the Evangeliſts, according to the tenor and effect of the ſaid Oath ſet forth in the forementioned Statute, before ſuch perſon or perſons, as hereafter in this Act is expreſſed: That is to ſay, All and every Archbiſhop and Biſhop that now is, or hereafter ſhall be, before the Lord Chancellor, or Lord Keeper of the Great Seal for the time being.

Archbiſhops and Biſhops Eccleſiaſtical, Judges and Officers.

And all and every Eccleſiaſtical Judge, Officer and Miniſter, of what eſtate, dignity, preheminence or degree ſoever he or they be or ſhall be, before the Archbiſhop of the Province, or Biſhop, or other Ordinary of the Dioceſs for the time being, wherein ſuch Eccleſiaſtical Judge, Officer or Miniſter ought to exerciſe his ſaid Office, Place or Function.

A Baron or Baroneſs, or above that degree, Privy-Counſellers, and Preſidents.

And to the intent that due execution may be had of the premiſſes without delay, it is further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all the perſons before named, who have any certain time limited or expreſſed when to take the aforeſaid Oath, ſhall at the time therein preſcribed take the ſame, and the reſt within ſix moneths next after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament.

When the perſons aforeſaid ſhall take the ſaid Oath.

And be it further enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That it ſhall and may be lawful to and for any of the Privy-Council of your Highneſſe, or of your Heirs and Succeſſors, and to and for every Biſhop in his Dioceſs, to require any Baron or Baroneſſe, of the age of eighteen years or above, to take the ſaid Oath, and to and for any two Juſtices of Peace within any County, City, or Town coporate, whereof one to be of the Quorum, to require any perſon or perſons, of the age of eighteen years, or above, under the degree of a Baron [illegible] Baroneſſe, to take the ſaid Oath. And if any perſon or perſons, of or above the ſaid age and degree, now ſtand, or hereafter at any time ſhall ſtand and be preſented, indicted or convicted for not coming to Church, or not receiving the holy Communion or Sacrament of the Lords Supper, according to the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, before the Ordinary, or other having lawful power to take ſuch Preſentment or Indictment, Then three of the Privy Council of your Highneſſe, your Heirs and Succeſſors, whereof the Lord Chancellor, Lord Treaſurer, Lord Privy Seal, or Principal Secretary to be one, upon knowledge thereof, ſhall require ſuch perſon or perſons to take the ſaid Oath. And if any other perſon or perſons whatſoever, of and above the ſaid age, and under the ſaid degree, now ſtand, or at any time hereafter ſhall ſtand, and be preſented, indicted, or convicted for not coming to Church, or receiving the holy Communion or Sacrament of the Lords Supper, according to the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, before the Ordinary, or any other having lawful power to take ſuch preſentment or Indictment; or if the Miniſter, Petty Conſtable and Churchwardens, or any two of them, ſhall at any time hereafter complain to any Juſtice of Peace, near adjoyning to the place where any perſon complained of ſhall dwell, and the ſaid Juſtice ſhall find cauſe of ſuſpition, That then any one Juſtice of Peace, within whoſe Commiſſion or power ſuch perſon or perſons ſhall at any time hereafter be, or to whom complaint ſhall be made as aforeſaid, ſhall upon notice thereof, require ſuch perſon or perſons to take the ſaid Oath: And that if any perſon or perſons, being of the age of eighteen years, or above, ſhall refuſe to take the ſaid Oath, duly tendered to him or her, according to the true intent and meaning of this Statute, That then the perſons authorized by this Law to give the ſaid Oath, ſhall and may commit the ſame Offendor to the common Gaol, there to remain without bail or mainpriſe, untill the next Aſſiſes, or general Quarter-Seſſions to be holden for the ſaid Shire, Diviſion, Limit or Liberty, where the ſaid Oath ſhall be again in the ſaid open Seſſions required of ſuch perſon by the ſaid Juſtices of Aſſiſe, or Juſtices of the Peace then and there preſent, or the greater number of them. And if the ſaid perſon or perſons, of the age of eighteen years, or above, ſhall refuſe to take the ſaid Oath, being tendered to him or her by the ſaid Juſtices of Aſſiſe and Gaol-delivery, in their own Aſſiſes or Gaol-delivery, or the Juſtices of Peace, or the greater part of them, in their General or Quarter Seſſions, Every perſon ſo refuſing, ſhall incur the danger and penalty of Præmunire, mentioned in a Statute made in the ſixteenth year of the Reign of King Richard the ſecond, (Except Women Covert, who ſhall be committed only to priſon, there to remain without bail or mainpriſe, till they will take the ſaid Oath.)

Who may tender the ſaid Oath, and to whom.

The penalty for refuſing to take the ſaid Oath.

16 R. 2. 5.

And be it further enacted, That every perſon refuſing to take the ſaid Oath, as above, ſhall be diſabled to all intents and purpoſes, to execute any publick place of Judicature, or bear any other Office (being no Office of Inheritance, or Miniſterial Function) within this your Highneſſe Realm of England: Or to the uſe or practiſe of the Common Law, or the Science of Phyſick or Surgery, or the art of an Apothecary, or any Liberal Science, for his or their gain, within this Realm, untill ſuch time as the ſame perſon ſhall receive the ſame Oath, according to the intent of this Statute.

Diſabled to execute or practiſe certain Offices or Sciences.

The penalty of a married woman Recuſant, which ſhall not come to the Church and receive the the Sacrament. Stat. 3 Jac. 5.

And be it further enacted, That if any married Woman (being lawfully convicted as a Popiſh Recuſant, for not coming to Church) ſhall not within three moneths next after ſuch Conviction, conform her ſelf, and repair to the Church, and receive the Sacrament of the Lords Supper, according to the former Laws and Statutes made and provided in that behalf touching Recuſants, That then ſhe ſhall be committed to Priſon by one of the Privy-Council of your Highneſſe, your Heirs or Succeſſors, or by the Biſhop of the Dioceſſe, if ſhe be a Baroneſſe, or if ſhe be under that degree, by two Juſtices of the Peace of the ſame County, whereof one to be of the Quorum, there to remain without bail or mainpriſe, untill ſhe ſhall conform her ſelf and come to Church, and receive the Sacrament of the Lords Supper, unleſſe the Huſband of ſuch Wife ſhall pay to the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs or Succeſſors, for the offence of the ſaid Wife, for every moneth ten pounds of lawful money of England, or elſe the third part (in three parts to be divided) of all his Land and Tenements, at the choice of the Huſband, whoſe Wife is ſo convicted as aforeſaid, for and during ſo long time as ſhe remaining a Recuſant convicted, ſhall continue out of Priſon, during which time (and no longer) ſhe may be at liberty.

CAP. VII.

The penalty of a Worker of Wooll or Yarn, that doth imbeſel or detain any part thereof.

Whereas by the Trade of Clothing, making of Bayes, Sayes, and other Clothes and Stuffs made of Wooll, or partly of Wooll, many poor people are ſet on work, and great profit hath grown to the poor and Common-wealth thereby, yet now by the abuſe and deceit of the Sorters, Kembers, Carders and Spinſters of wooll to them delivered, by the perſons uſing the Trades aforeſaid, and Weavers of the yarn made of ſuch Wooll, who are ſet on work by the Clothier, maker of Bayes, Sayes, and other Clothes and Stuffs aforeſaid, by unjuſtly, deceitfully, and falſly purloyning, imbeſelling, ſelling, and detaining of part thereof, to the great damage of the Clothier, and others, uſing the Trades aforeſaid, whereby true Cloth-making is much hindered, and idleneſſe doth daily increaſe: So that many exerciſing the Trades before mentioned, are greatly impoveriſhed, and the parties which commit the offences aforeſaid, being poor and altogether unable to make recompence or ſatisfaction for the Treſpaſſes, Deceits and Abuſes aforeſaid, have much diſcouraged the ſaid Clothier, maker of Bayes, and others of the Trades aforeſaid, to ſet poor people on work, whereby much poverty doth increaſe, and more is like daily to increaſe, to the great damage and hinderance of the Common-wealth:

The puniſhment of a ſorter, carder, &c. of wooll or yarn, that doth detain any part thereof.

For the preventing and reformation whereof, be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That all and every ſuch lewd perſon and perſons, who ſhall at any time after twenty dayes next after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, unjuſtly, falſly, or deceitfully convey away, imbeſel, purloin, ſell, or detain any part of the Wooll or Yarn, delivered by any Clothier, Maker of Bayes, Sayes, or by any other perſon or perſons, making any ſuch Clothes or Stuffs, to any ſuch Sorter, Carder, Kember, Spinſter, or Weaver of wooll or yarn, That in every ſuch caſe and caſes, as well the Sorter, Carder, Kember, Spinſter and Weaver ſo offending, as the Buyer and Buyers, Receiver and Receivers of the ſame, knowing the ſame, being thereof lawfully convicted (by confeſſion of the party or parties ſo offending, or by one ſufficient witneſſe upon Oath before two or more of the Kings Majeſties Juſtices of the Peace of the ſame County or Liberty where the ſame offence or offences ſhall be committed, or if it be within a Town corporate, before the Mayor, Bailiff, or Chief Officer, and one more of the Aldermen, or moſt ſubſtantial perſons of the ſaid Town, who ſhall by force of this Act have full Power and Authority to miniſter the ſame Oath, and finally to hear, end, and determine all and every the offences aforeſaid) ſhall give and make to the party or parties grieved, ſuch recompence and ſatisfaction for ſuch their damage and loſſe, as by the ſaid Juſtices, or Chief Officers ſhall be ordered and appointed. And if the party or parties ſo offending ſhall not be thought, in the diſcretion of the ſaid Juſtices, or Chief Officers, able or ſufficient, or do not make recompence or ſatisfaction for the ſame offence or offences, in ſuch manner and form, as by the ſaid Juſtices, or Chief Officers ſhall be ordered and appointed, as aforeſaid, Then the party or parties offending, for the firſt offence to be apprehended and whipped, or ſet in the Stocks in the place where the offence is committed, or in ſome Market Town in the ſaid County, near unto the place where the offence or offences aforeſaid ſhall be committed, as ſhall be limited and appointed by the ſaid Juſtices of the Peace, or Chief Officers: And for the ſecond offence, to incur the like or ſuch further puniſhment by whipping, or being put in the Stocks, as the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, or Chief Officers, ſhall in their diſcretion think fit and convenient.

The puniſhment of the receiver or buyer of imbezelled yarn.

And be it likewiſe enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every Receiver and Receivers, Buyer and Buyers of any wooll or yarn, imbeſelled or purloyned, contrary to the meaning of this Act, knowing the ſame to be imbeſelled or purloyned, ſhall be ſubject to like puniſhment, as by this Act is inflicted or provided to be inflicted upon any ſuch perſon ſo imbeſelling or purloyning any ſuch wooll or yarn as aforeſaid.

Spinners of wooll in certain Towns in Eſſex.

And be it likewiſe enacted, That all and every Spinner and Spinners of wooll within the County of Eſſex, that ſhall receive any wooll to be ſpun into yarn for any Clothier, or maker of Baves, Sayes, or other Stuffs aforeſaid, dwelling in the Town of Cogſhal, Bocking, Braintree, Halſteed, Wittam, or Colcheſter, within the ſaid County, and ſhall deliver back again the yarn made of the ſaid wooll, by any ſhorter reel than hath been there uſual of ancient time, that is to ſay, the ſaid reel containing two yards about, ſhall be ſubject to like puniſhment, as by this Act is inflicted or provided to be inflicted upon any perſon or perſons, imbeſelling and purloyning yarn, as aforeſaid.

CAP. VIII.

To what grounds the Statute of 2 & 3 Phil. & Mar. 3. touching the keeping of Milch-Kine, or breeding of Calves, ſhall extend.

2 & 3 Phil. & Mar. 3.

13 Eliz. 25.

VVhereas in the ſecond and third years of King Philip and Queen Mary, a profitable Act was made for the avoiding of the ſcarcity of Cattel and Victual, intituled, An Act for the keeping of milch Kine, and for the breeding and rearing of Calves; which Act being then made only to continue to the end of the next Seſſion of Parliament, was found ſo neceſſary for the good of the Commonwealth, that after many continuances of it by ſeveral Parliaments, it was at length, in the thirteenth year of the Reign of our late Queen Elizabeth of happy memory, made perpetual: Becauſe the ſaid Act hath not produced ſo good effect as was expected, in reſpect it did and doth extend only to ſuch paſture grounds as were incloſed before the ſaid Act, and wherein no perſon, at the making of the ſaid Act, had Common for any Cattel at any time of the year, and not to ſuch paſture gronnds as ſithence have been converted from tillage, and incloſed, or taken out of Commons, and incloſed, whereas in all equity and conſcience, many of the ſaid late Incloſures deſerve no way to be kept and enjoyed with more liberty, than the ſaid former and ancient Incloſures:

The Stat. of 2 & 3 Phil & Mar. 3. ſhall be extended to grounds ſithence incloſed, or hereafter to be incloſed.

Be it therefore enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the ſaid former Act, and the pains and penalties therein contained, ſhall from and after the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel now next enſuing, be extended and conſtrued, taken, expounded, and adjudged to extend as fully, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, with the ſame Proviſoes, and in like manner, to all and every the grounds, apt and meet for milch Kine, ſince the making of the ſaid Act incloſed, or hereafter to be incloſed, and not to be laid open to Common at any time of the year, and to the Occupiers thereof, as to the grounds before the ſaid Act made ſeveral, and wherein none had intereſt of Common at the time of making the ſaid Act, and to the Occupiers thereof, and as if the ſaid Grounds ſo lately incloſed, and hereafter to be incloſed and made ſeveral, had been ſo incloſed and held ſeveral at the time of the making of the ſaid Act, and as if no perſon nor perſons, other than the Owners thereof, then had had intereſt of Common therein: Any word, ſentence, or clauſe in the ſaid former Act to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

CAP. IX.

A Colledge ſhall be erected at Chelſey: And a Trench ſhall be made to convey water from the River of Lee to London, to maintain the ſame.

The cauſe of the erection of the Kings Colledge in Chelſey.

The name of the Corporation.

Ability to receive lands not exceeding three thouſand pounds by year.

VVhereas his Majeſty, of his moſt Royal and Zealous Care for the defence of true Religion, now eſtabliſhed within this Realm of England, and for the refuting of Errors and Hereſies repugnant unto the ſame, hath been graciouſly pleaſed by his Letters-Patents under the great Seal of England, to found a Colledge at Chelſey neer London, and therein to place certain learned Divines, and to incorporate the ſame by the name of the Provoſt and Fellows of the Colledge of King James in Chelſey, near London, of the Foundation of the ſame James King of England, and hath of his moſt gracious bounty and goodneſs not only endowed the ſame with certain Lands, Priviledges and Immunities, but hath alſo, for their further maintenance and ſuſtentation, given unto them a capacity and ability to receive and take from his Majeſty, or any of his loving Subjects, any Lands, Tenements, Hereditaments, Gifts, Benefits and Profits whatſoever, not exceeding in the whole the yearly value of three thouſand pounds, as in and by the ſaid Letters Patents doth more at large appear.

And whereas alſo it is manifeſt and evident, that the bringing in of freſh Streams of running water into the City of London, is very convenient, neceſſary and profitable, as well for the private uſe of ſuch as ſhall rent the ſame, as a help for cleanſing the ſaid City, in the time of Sickneſſe, and preſerving the ſame againſt all ſuddain adventures of Fire:

The Provoſt and Fellows may dig a Trench out of the River of Lee, or ſcowre any old already made.

It is therefore enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, That it ſhall and may be lawful to the ſaid Provoſt and Fellows, their Succeſſors, Deputies and Aſſignes, at all and every ſuch place and places, in the open Fields or Marſhes lying between the Bridge, called Lock-Bridge, in or near the Pariſh of Hackney, in the County of Middleſex, and the Bridge called Bow-Bridge at Stratford-Bow in the Pariſh of Stepney, in the ſaid County, (As by the ſaid Provoſt and Fellows, their Succeſſors, Deputies or Aſſignes, by and with the conſent and allowance of the Occupiers and Owners of the Soyl in the ſaid place or places, and in default of ſuch aſſent or allowance, by ſuch compoſition firſt to be made with the ſaid Occupiers and Owners of the ſaid Soil, as by the Commiſſioners by vertue of this Act to be in this behalf appointed, ſhall be thought fit and convenient) to digge or cut from and out of the main River of Lee, on that ſide or bank of the ſame River, which is next unto the City of London, a Ditch or Trench not exceeding in bredth ten foot, or to ſcowre, cleanſe or inlarge unto the bredth aforeſaid, any old Ditch or Trench there already made. And the ſame Ditch or Trench either old or new, ſo to be made, or to be cleanſed, to convey by or through the ſaid Fields and Marſhes, in all places convenient in ſuch ſort as the ſame may again be returned, and made to open it ſelf into the main River, within ſome

The Provoſt, &c. may erect engines, water-works, &c. and houſes or coverings for the ſame.

ſuch convenient diſtance from the mouth thereof, as to the ſaid Commiſſioners ſhall (for the intents and purpoſes hereafter expreſſed) be thought fit: Upon which Ditch or Trench, or places near adjoyning thereunto, it ſhall and may be lawful to the ſaid Provoſt and Fellows, their Succeſſors, Deputies or Aſſigns, to erect, or cauſe to be erected certain Engines, Water-works or Water-wheels, As alſo houſes or coverings requiſite for the ſame, where by the aſſent of the ſaid Commiſſioners the ſame ſhall be agreed upon, to be no let or hinderance to the ordinary paſſage of Barges, Boats, or ſuch other Veſſels upon the ſaid River of Lee, and by and through the ſaid Ditch or Trench to carry and convey ſo much of the water of the ſaid main River, as by the ſaid Provoſt and Fellows, their Succeſſors, Deputies or Aſſigns, ſhall be thought requiſite and neceſſary to be uſed for the working or motions of the ſaid Engines or Water-wheels, and ſhall alſo by the ſaid Commiſſioners be thought to be no prejudice or hinderance to the ordinary paſſage of Barges, Boats, or ſuch other Veſſels upon the ſame River.

The Provoſt, &c. may dig for opening of Springs of freſh water and convey the ſame by trenches into a Pond.

And that it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the ſaid Provoſt and Fellows, their Succeſſors, Deputies and Aſſigns (in all places apt and convenient, within a convenient diſtance of the ſaid Engines or Water-Works) to dig for the taking and further opening of Springs of freſh water there found, or to be found on the Weſt ſide of the ſaid River, next unto the City of London, and the water of the ſaid Springs to carry and convey by and through certain little Gutters or Trenches, or Pots or Pipes under the ground, into one Pit, Pond, or head of convenient largeneſſe to be made by the ſaid Provoſt and Fellows, their Succeſſors, Deputies or Aſſigns, in ſome place apt for the ſame.

The Provoſt, &c. may convey in pipes under the ground from the water-works unto the City and Suburbs of London, the ſame water.

And that it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the ſaid Provoſt and Fellows, their Succeſſors, Deputies and Aſſignes, having by art and ſleight of Engines and Water-works, or by any other means or device raiſed the water of the ſaid Springs, and ſo much of the water there running in the ſaid Ditch or Trench, as ſhall be thought neceſſary, to ſuch height, and into ſuch place, pond, head or receit (as to them ſhall ſeem in that behalf requiſite) to convey and carry the ſame in cloſe Pipes under ground, from the ſaid Water-works, and the ſaid other places of receit, unto the City of London and the Suburbs thereof, for the perpetual maintenance and ſuſtentation of the ſaid Provoſt and Fellows, and their Succeſſors, by the Rent to be made of the ſaid waters conveyed as aforeſaid.

The Provoſt, &c. may dig and open the ground, for laying of Pipes, and making of Conduit-heads.

And that for the conveyance of the ſaid water, it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the ſaid Provoſt and Fellows, their Succeſſors, Deputies and Aſſigns, (in all places convenient between the ſaid Water-works, and the ſaid City of London) to dig, cut, and open the ground, to ſuch depth and bredth as ſhall be convenient for the laying in of the ſaid Pipes or Pots, through which the ſaid water ſhall paſſe, and for making little Conduit-heads for vents unto the ſame, for the better paſſage of the ſaid waters, And the ſame ground ſo opened for the purpoſe aforeſaid, (after the ſaid Pipes or Pots are laid in and placed) the ſaid Provoſt and Fellows, their Succeſſors, Deputies and Aſſigns, ſhall with Turfe, Earth, Gravel, or other materials, again fill up and cover.

The Provoſt, &c. ſhall have free paſſage through any ground, for the making and continual preſervation of the ſame works.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the ſaid Provoſt and Fellows, their Succeſſors, Deputies and Aſſigns, from time to time, and at all times convenient, with their Men, Horſes, Carts, or other Carriages, to have free entry and paſſage, by, over, or through any ground or land, in places, and at times meet and convenient, for the doing and performing of any thing requiſite, for the making of the ſaid ſeveral paſſages of waters, or for the doing of any other act or thing concerning the ſame, authoriſed by this Act, as alſo for the continual preſervation and reparation of the ſaid works, as often as need ſhall require.

Commiſſioners ſhall be appointed to ſet down the rates of the damages which each perſon ſhall ſuſtain, and the recompence for the ſame.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Lord Chancellor or Lord Keeper of the great Seal of England for the time being (by Commiſſion under the great Seal of England, at the requeſts and charges of the ſaid Provoſt and Fellows, their Succeſſors, Subſtitutes and Deputies, or upon the Complaint or Petition of any perſon or perſons, whom it may concern) ſhall nominate, appoint and authoriſe, by Commiſſion or Commiſſions, under the great Seal of England, ſeven diſcreet and ſufficient perſons, whereof two ſhall be Juſtices of Peace of the County of Middleſex, and two of the City of London, and three others, at the choice and appointment of the ſaid Lord Chancellor, or Lord Keeper, every of the ſaid perſons having Lands and Tenements of the clear yearly value of forty pounds at the leaſt: Which ſaid ſeven perſons, or any four or more of them, ſhall have power to order and ſet down what rate or rates, ſum or ſums of money ſhall be payed by the ſaid Provoſt and Fellows (as well for ſatisfaction and recompence of damages, in making the fore-recited works, or any thing belonging to the ſame, as alſo for any manner of damages to be ſuſtained in the mending or reparation thereof, from time to time, or any other coſts or charges ſuſtained by reaſon of the ſame) to the Lords, Owners and Occupiers of the ground and ſoyl, or to others intereſted in the ſaid River or Waters, for which compoſition is to be made by the intent of this Act, if the parties cannot of themſelves agree, and in what manner the ſame ſhall be paid.

The parties remedy to recover the recompence aſſeſſed.

And that for the recovery of ſuch money as ſhall be ſo ordered and ſet down by the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any four or more of them, the party or parties to whom the ſaid money ſhall be due and payable, by the true intent of the ſaid order, ſhall or may recover the ſame, together with the reaſonable coſts and damages for the forbearance thereof, againſt the ſaid Provoſt and Fellows, by action of Debt, Bill or Plaint, in any his Majeſties Courts at Weſtminſter, wherein no Eſſoine or Protection ſhall be allowed.

Certain places exempt through the which the water is not to be conveyed.

Provided alwayes, and it is further enacted by this preſent Parliament, and by the authority of the ſame, That the ſaid water ſhall not be conveyed through the Houſe, Garden or Orchard of any perſon or perſons, or through any part thereof, or through any Corn Fields, while the Corn is growing or ſtanding in the ſame, without the conſent firſt had of the Owners and Occupiers of the ſaid houſes, gardens, orchards, and corn fields.

CAP. X.

The penalty for an offence committed againſt any of the branches of the Statutes 1 Jac. 9. or 4 Jac. 5. touching Ale-houſe-keepers and Drunkards.

The penalty for any offence committed againſt the ſtat. 1 Jac. 9. and 4 Jac. 5.

VVhereas, notwithſtanding all former laws and proviſions already made, the inordinate and extream vice of exceſſive drinking and drunkenneſſe doth more and more abound, to the great offence of Almighty God, and the waſtful deſtruction of Gods good creatures: Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That if any perſon being an Alehouſe-keeper (after ſix weeks next enſuing this preſent Seſſion of Parliament) ſhall be lawfully convicted for any offence or offences committed againſt any of the branches of two former Acts of Parliament, made ſithence the beginning of this preſent Parliament, the one entituled, An Act to reſtrain the inordinate haunting and tipling in Innes, Alehouſes, and other Victualling-houſes: the other entituled, An act againſt the odious and loathſome ſin of drunkemneſſe, That then every perſon or perſons ſo convicted, ſhall for the ſpace of three years next enſuing the ſaid conviction, be utterly diſabled to keep any ſuch Alehouſe.

The penalty for killing of Pheaſants or Partridges at undue times, or by undue means.

1 Jac. 27.

VVhereas in the firſt Seſſion of this preſent Parliament there was a good Law made amongſt other things for the preſervation of the game of Pheaſants and Partridges, which hath not yielded that good ſucceſſe, as was by the ſame law hoped for and intended, through diſorderly and unſeaſonable hawking, whereby great quantity of corn and grain hath been, and is not only uncharitably ſpoiled and deſtroyed, but great numbers of Pheaſants and Partridges thereby killed and ſpoyled, before they be either fit to be hawked at, or to be uſed for food or diet.

The penalty for killing of any Pheaſant or Partridge by hawking between the firſt day of July and the laſt of Auguſt.

For the preventing of both which inconveniences and miſchiefs, Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That all and every perſon or perſons whatſoever, which at any time after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament doth, or ſhall hawk at, deſtroy, or kill any Pheaſant or Pheaſants, Partridge or Partridges, with any kind of Hawk or Hawks, Dog or Dogs, by colour of hawking, between the firſt of July and the laſt day of Auguſt, And the ſame offence or offences being proved by the confeſſion of the party, or by the teſtimony of two ſufficient witneſſes upon oath, before two or more Juſtices of the peace of the ſaid County, City or Town corporate wherein the offence ſhall be committed, or the party offending apprehended, ſhall be by the ſaid Juſtices of the peace for every ſuch offence committed to the common Gaol of the ſaid County, City or Town corporate, where the offence ſhall be committed, or the parties apprehended, there to remain for one whole moneth without bail or mainpriſe, unleſſe that the ſaid offendor do, or ſhall forthwith upon the ſaid conviction pay, or cauſe to be paid to the Church-wardens of the ſaid pariſh, or unto the Overſeers of the poor, or ſome of them, where the ſaid offence ſhall be committed, or the party apprehended, to the uſe of the poor of the ſame pariſh, the ſum of forty ſhillings for every ſuch hawking at any pheaſant or partridge, and twenty ſhillings for every ſuch pheaſant or partridge, which any and every ſuch perſon and perſons ſo offending and convicted (as aforeſaid) by himſelf, his hawk or hawks, dog or dogs, ſhall take, kill or deſtroy, contrary to the true purport, intent and meaning of this preſent ſtatute.

He that is puniſhed by this law, ſhall be excuſed for any other.

Provided alwaies, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons ſhall be at any time hereafter convicted and puniſhed by vertue of this law, That then the party ſo puniſhed ſhall not for the ſame offence be eftſoons called in queſtion, and puniſhed by vertue of any other law touching or concerning the like offence.

Provided alſo, That no offendors ſhall be impeached or puniſhed by vertue of this act, unleſſe he or they be accuſed as delinquent, before the ſaid Juſtices of peace, within ſix moneths next after the ſaid offence or offences committed or done.

Within what time an offendor ſhall be accuſed.

A repeal of a branch of the ſtat. of 1 Jac. 27. allowing certain perſons to take pheaſants and partridges.

And whereas by a proviſo in the ſaid ſtatute contained, it is provided, That it ſhall and may be lawful to and for every perſon and perſons, which have or ſhall have free Warren, and to and for every Lord of a manor, and to every Freeholder, which is or ſhall be ſeiſed in his own right, or in the right of his wife, of lands, tenements or hereditaments, to the cleere yeerly value of ten pounds or more by the yeere, over and above all charges and repriſes, of ſome eſtate of inheritance, or of lands, tenements or hereditaments, in his own right, or in the right of his Wife, for terme of life or lives, of the yearly value of thirty pounds over and above all charges and repriſes, or be, or which ſhall be worth in goods or chattels two hundred pounds by him or themſelves, or by his or their menial ſervants (ſufficiently authoriſed from his or their Maſter for that purpoſe) to take pheaſants and partidges (in the day time onely) with nets in and upon his and their own or his or their Maſters free Warren, Manor and Freehold, or on any part of them, betwixt the feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel, and the feaſt of the Birth of our Lord God yearly, Any thing in this ſaid law to the contrary notwithſtanding: By colour of which liberty ſo given by the ſaid proviſo, it is found by experience, that the ſaid games of pheſants and partridges have been, and ſtill are likely to be much ſpoyled and deſtroyed by many mean Tenants and Freeholders, againſt the will of the Lords or owners of Inheritance of the ſaid lands and tenements,

Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid proviſo, and every clauſe article and thing therein contained, ſhall be from the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament utterly repealed, fruſtrate and made void: Any thing in the ſaid proviſo contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Who may take pheaſants and partridges, where and when.

And that it ſhall and may be lawful for every perſon or perſons, which have or ſhall have free Warren, and to and for every Lord of a manor, and to and for every freeholder, which is or ſhall be ſeized in his own right, or in the right of his wife, of lands, tenements, and hereditaments, to the clear yearly value of forty pounds, or more, by the year, over and above all charges and repriſes, of ſome eſtate of inheritance, or of lands, tenements, and hereditaments, in his own right, or in the right of his wife, for term of life or lives, of the yearly value of fourſcore pounds over and above all charges and repriſes, or which ſhall be worth in goods or chattels four hundred pounds, by him or themſelves, or by his or their menial and houſhold ſervants (ſufficiently authorized from his or their Maſter for that purpoſe) to take pheſants and partridges (in the day time only) in and upon his and their own, or his and their Maſters free Warren, Manor and Freehold, as aforeſaid, or on any part of them, betwixt the feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel, and the Birth of our Lord God yearly: any thing in the ſaid law before mentioned to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The penalty for taking any pheaſants or partridges with ſetting-dogs, nets, &c.

And whereas the ſaid games of pheſants and partridges are exceſſively ſpoyled and deſtroyed by baſe perſons, of bad and mean condition making a trade and living of the ſpoyling and deſtroying of the ſaid games, who are not of ſufficiency to pay any penalty in any former ſtatute mentioned, nor to anſwer the coſts and charges of any that ſhould inform and proſecute againſt them in any of his Majeſties Courts: By reaſon whereof, and for that the ſaid offendors are hardly diſcovered, and ſeldom or never found offending in the preſence of divers witneſſes, ſo that it is very hard to convict them by the teſtimony of more witneſſes then one, by reaſon that they ſpoyl and deſtroy the ſaid games ſecretly, and for the moſt part in the night time, and do carry ſuch pheaſants and partridges, as they ſo deſtroy likewiſe by night, to Cities and Market Towns to be ſold: Be it therefore further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every perſon or perſons, which from and after the firſt day of September next, ſhall take, kill, or deſtroy any pheaſant or partridge, with ſetting-dogs and nets, or otherwiſe with any manner of nets, ſnares or engines: And the ſame offence or offences being proved by the confeſſion of the party, or by the teſtimony of one ſufficient witneſſe upon oath, before two or more Juſtices of the peace of the ſame County, City or Town corporate, wherein the offence ſhall be committed, or the party offending apprehended, ſhall be by the ſaid Juſtices of peace, for every ſuch offence committed to the common Gaol of the ſaid County, City or Town corporate where the offence ſhall be committed, or the party apprehended, there to remain three moneths without bail or mainpriſe, unleſſe that the ſaid offendor ſhall forthwith pay, or cauſe to be paid to the Church-wardens or Overſeers of the poor of the ſaid pariſh where the ſaid offence ſhall be committed, the ſum of twenty ſhillings for every pheaſant or partridge, which any and every ſuch perſon or perſons ſo offending, ſhall take, kill or deſtroy as aforeſaid, contrary to the purport and true meaning of this ſtatute, and further to become bound by recogniſance, in the ſum of twenty pounds to his Majeſty, his heirs and ſucceſſors, with condition that he the ſaid party ſo offending, ſhall not at any time thereafter, take, kill or deſtroy any pheaſant or partridge: which ſaid Recogniſance ſhall be taken by any one or more Juſtices of peace of the ſaid County, City or Town corporate, where the ſaid offence ſhall be committed, as aforeſaid, and ſhall be returned to the then next Quarter-Seſſions, and there to remain of record, as other Recogniſances taken for the peace.

Officers may ſearch the houſes of perſons ſuſpected to offend.

And be it further enacted, That every Conſtable and Headborough, in every County, City, Town corporate, and other place where they ſhall be ſworn Officers, ſhall and may by vertue of this preſent Act, (bringing with them to that purpoſe a lawful Warrant under the hands of two Juſtices of the peace of the County, City, Liberties, or Town corporate) have full power and authority to enter into, and ſearch the houſe or houſes of any perſon or perſons (other then ſuch as by this preſent act are allowed to take pheaſants and partridges, with Nets as aforeſaid) being ſuſpected to have any ſetting-dogs or nets, for the taking of pheaſants and partridges, and whereſoever they find any ſuch ſetting-dogs or nets, the ſame to take, carry away, and detain, kill, deſtroy, and cut in pieces, as things prohibited by this Act, and forfeited to ſuch of the ſaid Officers as ſhall find out and take the ſame, as aforeſaid.

Continuance of this Act.

This Law to continue unto the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament, and no longer. 3 Car. 4 Continued until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

CAP. XII.

In what caſe a Tradeſmans Shop-book ſhall be no evidence to recover a Debt.

Whereas divers men of Trades, and handy-craftſ-men keeping Shop-books, do demand debts of their Cuſtomers upon their Shop-books long time after the ſame hath been due, And when as they have ſuppoſed the particulars and certainty of the wares delivered to be forgotten, then either they themſelves or their ſervants have inſerted into their ſaid Shop-books, divers other wares ſuppoſed to be delivered to the ſame parties, or to their uſe, which in truth never were delivered, and this of purpoſe to increaſe by ſuch undue means the ſaid debt: And whereas divers of the ſaid Tradeſmen and handy-craftſmen, having received all the juſt debt due upon their ſaid Shop-books, do oftentimes leave the ſame Books uncroſſed, or any way diſcharged, ſo as the Debtors, their executors or adminiſtrators, are often by ſuit of Law enforced to pay the ſame debts again to the party that truſted the ſaid wares, or to his executors or adminiſtrators, unleſſe he or they can produce ſufficient proof by writing or witneſſes of the ſaid payment, that may counterbail the credit of the ſaid Shop-books, which few or none can do in any long time after the ſaid payment:

In what caſe a Tradeſmans Shop-book ſhall be no evidence to recover a debt.

Be it therefore enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That no Tradeſ-man, or Handy-crafts-man keeping a Shop-book, as is aforeſaid, his or their executors or adminiſtrators, ſhall after the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel next coming, be allowed, admitted or received to give his Shop-book in evidence in any action for any money due for wares hereafter to be delivered, or for work hereafter to be done above one year before the ſame action brought, except he or they, their executors or adminiſtrators ſhall have obtained or gotten a Bill of Debt, or Obligation of the Debtor for the ſaid debt, or ſhall have brought or purſued againſt the ſaid Debtor, his executors or adminiſtrators ſome action for the ſaid debt, wares or work done within one year next after the ſame wares delivered, money due for wares delivered, or work done.

Intercourſe of traffique between Merchants.

Provided alwayes, That this Act or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to any intercourſe of traffique, merchandizing, buying, ſelling, or other trading, or dealing for wares delivered or to be delivered, money due, or work done, or to be done, between Merchant and Merchant, Merchant and Tradeſ-man, or between Tradeſman and Tradeſman, for any thing directly falling within the circuit or compaſſe of their mutual Trades and Merchandize: But that for ſuch things only, they and every of them ſhall be in caſe as if this Act had never been made, any thing herein contained to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

The continuance of this Act.

This Act to continue to the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament, and no longer. 3 Car. 4. Continued until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament. 38 El. 35. 5 El. 6.

CAP. XIII.

The forfeiture for hunting or killing of Deer in a Park, &c.

3 Jac. 13.

WHereas queſtion and doubt hath grown and riſen upon the expoſition of a ſtatute made in the ſecond Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, entituled, An Act againſt unlawful hunting and ſtealing of Deer and Conies, for that in the body of the ſaid Act, all unlawful hunting, driving or chaſing out, or taking, killing or ſlaying any Deer or Conies within any the parks, places or grounds in the ſaid ſtatute mentioned, againſt the will, mind or pleaſure of the owners, occupiers or poſſeſſioners of the ſame (as well by day as by night) is prohibited and made penal in ſuch manner and form, as in and by the ſaid ſtatute it doth and may more plainly appear: and yet by a Proviſo in the ſaid ſtatute contained, it is enacted, That the ſaid Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhould extend to any offence or offences concerning the hunting, chaſing or killing of Deer or Conies, which ſhould be done or committed in the day time here, but only to ſuch offences as ſhould be then after done or committed in the night time only: any thing in the ſaid Act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A repeal of ſo much of a proviſo contained in the ſtat. of 3 Jac. 13. as concerneth the hunting of Deer.

For the explanation of which doubt and queſtion, and for that it is found by experience, that malefactors of that kinde have been much encouraged to chaſe, hunt, kill, and deſtroy Deere in the day time by colour of the ſaid Proviſo, whereby many Deere, as well in the Parks of our Soveraign Lord the King, as of many his Highneſſe loving ſubjects have been and are ſtill like to be unlawfully and riotouſly chaſed, hunted and deſtroyed by many idle, looſe, and diſorderly perſons: Be it therefore enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That from and after the feaſt of S. James the Apoſtle next enſuing, ſo much of the ſaid Proviſo in the ſaid ſtatute contained, as concerneth the hunting, chaſing out, or killing of Deere only, ſhall be repealed, fruſtrated and made void: Any thing in the ſaid Proviſo of the ſaid act contained to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

And whereas it was by the ſaid former ſtatute, amongſt other things enacted, that if any perſon or perſons, did or ſhould wrongfully or unlawfully hunt, chaſe or drive out, or take, kill or ſlay any Deere within any Park, or other place in the ſaid ſtatute mentioned, againſt the will, minde, or pleaſure of the owners, occupiers or poſſeſſioners of the ſame, that then every ſuch perſon ſo offending ſhould ſatisfie and pay unto the party grieved, his treble damages, in ſuch manner and forme as in the ſaid ſtatute is mentioned: By reaſon of the uncertainty whereof, few or no offendors have been diſcouraged in their ſaid huntings, drivings chaſings out, taking, killing or ſlaying of Deere.

The forfeiture for hunting or killing Deer, in a park or incloſed ground.

For remedy whereof, Be it further by the authority of this preſent Parliament enacted, That if any perſon or perſons from and after the feaſt of S. James the Apoſtle, next comming after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall willingly commit any the offences in the ſaid ſtatute mentioned, concerning the unlawful chaſing out, hunting, driving, taking, killing or ſlaying of Deere in any Park or incloſed ground, which now is or hereafter ſhall be made or uſed for Deere, againſt the will, minde or pleaſure of the owners, occupiers or poſſeſſioners or keepers of the ſame: That then all and every ſuch perſon and perſons ſo offending, ſhall for every ſuch offence pay and ſatisfie unto the party grieved the ſumme of ten pounds of currant money of England, or elſe treble damages and coſts, at the election of the party grieved: The ſame to be recovered in ſuch manner and form, as in and by the ſaid ſtatute is limited and appointed for the recovery, taxing or aſſeſſing of the ſaid treble damages. Any thing in the ſaid ſtatute, or in this preſent act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The continuance of this Act.

This law to continue unto the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament. 3. Car. 4 continued unto the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

CAP. XIV.

No Stranger ſhall buy Engliſh Hornes unwrought in London, &c.

4 Ed. 4. 8.

IN all humble manner ſhewen and beſeechen your moſt excellent Majeſty, the Wardens and men of occupation of Horners of the Citie of London, that whereas in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter in the fourth year of the reign of King Edward the fourth, grievous complaint was made by men of the occupation of Horners, being infranchiſed in the Citie of London, how that the people of ſtrange Lands hath come into this Land, and into divers parts thereof, and hath bought by the hands of their Hoſts and Guides, the great and chief ſtuff of Engliſh horns unwrought of Tanners and Butchers, and carry the ſame over the ſea, and there imploy the ſame in divers works to the great damage of this Land, and to the final prejudice of a great number of men, being of the occupation of Horners.

It

No ſtranger ſhall buy any Engliſh horns unwrought in London, or within 24 miles compaſs thereof.

The Wardens of Horners may ſearch for inſufficient ware.

After Engliſh men have choſen hornes, ſtrangers may buy the reſidue.

1 Jac. 25.

It pleaſed the Kings Majeſty by the advice and aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporall in that Parliament aſſembled, and at the requeſt of the Commons of the ſame, and by the authority of the ſame Parliament, to ordain, eſtabliſh, and enact, That from the feaſt of Eaſter, which then ſhould be in the yeere of our LORD GOD, One thouſand four hundred ſixty five, that no Stranger, nor Alien, by himſelfe or by any other ſhould buy any Engliſh hornes unwrought, of any Tanners, Butchers, or of any other perſons, gathered or growing within the ſaid Citie, or four and twenty miles on every ſide of the ſaid Citie next adjoyning: And that no Engliſh man, nor other perſon, ſhould ſell any Engliſh horns unwrought to any ſtrangers, or cauſe them to be ſent over the ſea, ſo that the ſaid Horners would buy the ſaid hornes at like price, as they were at the time of the making of the ſaid Act, upon pain of forfeiture of all ſuch horns ſo bought, ſold, or ſent: And that the Wardens of the ſaid Myſtery for the time being, by the ſaid authority, ſhould have full power to ſearch all manner of ware pertaining to their Myſtery, wrought or to be wrought, in all places within the ſaid Citie of London, and four aud twenty miles on every ſide next adjoyning to the ſame Citie and within the Fairs of Sturbridge and Ely, in whoſe hands they might be found: And if they by their ſearch finde any ſuch ware or ſtuffe in any place within the the ſaid Citie of London, and four and twenty miles next adjoyning to the ſame Citie, or within the Faires of Sturbridge and Ely, in whoſe hands ſoever they be to ſell, that was defective and inſufficient, it ſhould be lawful to them to take the ſame ware and ſtuffe, and bring it before the Mayor of the ſaid Citie of London, the Mayors or Bayliffs of the aforeſaid Faires, for the time being, and the ſame there being proved defective, to be forfeit, the one halfe thereof to our Soveraign Lord the King, and the other half to the ſaid Wardens to be ordered at their pleaſure. In which ſaid act it is provided, that after that men of the ſaid occupation within this Land have taken out and choſen ſuch and as many hornes as ſhould be needfull to their occupation, That then it ſhould be lawful to them all, and to every of them, and other perſons of this Realm of England, to ſell and deliver all the hornes refuſed, which be not able to be occupied in their Myſtery, to any ſtranger or other perſon, to ſend or carry beyond the Sea, or elſe-where, as ſhould pleaſe them: The which act in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter in the firſt year of your Highneſſe reign, was wholly repealed and made void.

The complaint that ſtrangers do buy Engliſh hornes unwrought.

Part of the ſtat. of 4 Ed. 4. 8. revived touching horns.

Foraſmuch as ſince the repealing of the ſaid Act, ſtrangers and aliens by the hands of divers of their Factors, Servants, and dealers for them have and do (as before the making of the ſaid ſtatute of Edward the fourth they did, that is) daily buy up, and procure unto themſelves the great and chief ſtuff of Engliſh horns unwrought of Tanners and Butchers, and otherwiſe, and do daily convey and carry them beyond the ſeas, and there make them into divers workes, whereby many Houſe-holders of your Majeſties ſubjects, that lived and maintained their Families, and paid Subſidies, and othet Duties to your Highneſſe, by the benefit of their labour in working the ſaid hornes, having no other trade, or means by labour to maintaine and keep themſelves, their wives and children, the company being greatly increaſed, and the ſtuffe altogether in a manner tranſported, occaſioneth ſuch a decreaſe of the ware, as hereby the Company is grown ſo poor and decayed, as in ſhort time, if remedy be not provided, they and theirs be utterly undone: And alſo by the repealing of the ſaid act, the wardens of the ſaid Horners of the ſaid City of London are diſabled to ſearch the wares belonging to their ſaid Craft, as well within the ſaid Citie, as in other places in the ſaid act mentioned, and have loſt their government in their Company, Therefore pleaſeth it your Highneſſe, that it may be enacted by your moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the ſaid act and every part and point thereof (Except power of ſearch within the Faires of Sturbridge and Ely, and except the limitation of ſuch prices for hornes as they were to be had for, at the making of the ſaid act) ſhall be revived, and be of like force power and vertue from henceforth, as if the ſame had not been repealed.

None ſhall ſell Engliſh horns unwrought to a Stranger.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons whatſoever ſhall ſell any Engliſh hornes unwrought ts any ſtranger, or ſend any Engliſh horns unwrought over the ſea, contrary to the true meaning of the ſaid act, upon pain of forfeiture of double the value of the hornes ſo by him or them ſo ſold or ſent, The ſame forfeiture to be recovered by him or them that will ſue for the ſame by action of debt, bill, plaint or information, in any of the Kings Majeſties Courts of Record, the one moiety hereof to be to the Kings Majeſties his heirs and ſucceſſors, and the other moiety to him or them that will ſue for the ſame: In which ſuit no protection, priviledge or wager of Law to be admitted for the defendant.

CAP. XV.

What Debts onely may be aſſigned to the King.

What debts only may be aſſigned to the King.

VVhereas it is conceived that ſome manor of aſſignment of debts, if they ſhould be made to his Majeſtie, his heirs and ſucceſſors, the ſame would be inconvenient: His Majeſty therefore is well pleaſed, that it be enacted, And be it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That no debt ſhall at any time after the firſt day of July, which ſhall be in the yeere of our LORD GOD, One thouſand ſix hundred and ten, be aſſigned to the Kings Majeſty, his heirs and ſucceſſors, by or from any Debtor or Accomptant to his Majeſty, his heirs or ſucceſſors, other then ſuch debtors as did before grow due originally to the K. debtor or accomptant bona fide. And that all grants and aſſignments of debts to the Kings Majeſty, his heirs or ſucceſſors, which from and after the ſaid firſt day of July ſhall be had or made contrary to the true intent of this act, ſhall be void, and of no force: Any law, cuſtome, priviledge or thing to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

CAP. XVI.

Certain courſe Cloth made in the North, which ſhall not be ſearched or ſealed, no Cuſtome or Aulnage paid for them.

Whereas by a Statute made in the ninth year of the late King Henry the fourth it was enacted, That no Cloth called Kendals (whereof the dozen paſſed not vi. s. viii. d.) ſhould be ſealed with the Kings Seal, nor Aulnage great nor little to be paid for the ſame: And that the owners might freely ſell the ſaid clothes not ſealed, without forfeiting any thing to the King for the ſame, notwithſtanding any Statute or Ordinance to the contrary: Sithence the making of which ſtatute, the ſaid Kendals, and other courſe things of like nature, and made of the like courſe Wooll, and differing in name only, called Cogware, courſe Cottons, and Carptmeals, have been made in ſuch ſort, as the parties which made the ſame were able, and as beſt might pleaſe the buyer, without being limited to any certain weight, or to any aſſize of length or breadth, and were never ſearched nor ſealed with any Seal, nor ſubject to any penalty for the not ſealing thereof with any Seal, nor any Subſidy nor Aulnage paid for the ſame, until of late that certain evil diſpoſed perſons, contrary to the true meaning of the ſaid law, have by colour of a late Statute made in the nine and thirtieth year of the Reign of the late Queen Elizabeth, entituled, An Act againſt the deceitful ſtretching and tentering of Northern cloth, endeavoured to make the ſaid Cogware, Kendals, Carptmeales, and courſe Cottons, ſubject to ſearch, and have demanded for the ſame divers ſeveral ſums of money for the Seal of the Collector of the Subſidy and Aulnage, to the great vexation and trouble of the ſaid poor people.

The effect of the ſtat. of 9 H. 4. touching Kendal Cloth.

39 Eliz. 10.

Be it therefore enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, with the conſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, That from henceforth all Cogware, Kendals, courſe Cottons and Carptmeales, which are or hereafter ſhall be made within the ſaid Counties of Cumberland and Weſtmerland, or within the ſaid Towns and Pariſhes of Carptmeale, Hawkeſhed and Broughton, in the ſaid County of Lancaſter, whereof the dozen ſhall not exceed the rate and price of xiii. s. iiii. d. ſhall be made in ſuch ſort as may beſt pleaſe the buyer: and ſhall not be ſearched nor ſealed with any of the Kings Seals, nor with any other Seal, nor any Subſidy or Aulnage, great or little paid for the ſame: But that the owners of ſuch Cogwares, Kendals, courſe Cottons, and Carptmeales may freely ſell the ſame not ſealed, as they have been accuſtomed, without forfeiting any thing to the King for the ſame: Any law or ſtatute, or any branch or clauſe of any law or ſtatute heretofore made to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Certain courſe cloths made in the North parts which ſhall not be ſearched nor ſealed.

CAP. XVII.

There ſhall be no burning of Ling, Heath, &c. in certain Counties, in Summer. EXP.

CAP. XVIII.

All perſons within Devon and Cornwal may fetch Sea ſand for the manuring of their Land.

Whereas the Sea ſand by long tryal and experience hath been found to be very profitable for the bettering of land, and eſpecially for the encreaſe of corn and tillage within the Counties of Devon and Cornwal, where the moſt part of the Inhabitants have not commonly uſed any other worth, for the bettering of their arable grounds and paſtures: Notwithſtanding divers having lands adjoyning to the Sea-Coaſts there, have of late interrupted the Bargemen, and ſuch others as have uſed at their free wills and pleaſures to fetch the ſaid Sea ſand, to take the ſame under the full Sea mark, as they have heretofore uſed to do, unleſs they make compoſition with them at ſuch rates as they themſelves ſet down, though they have very ſmall or no damage or loſſe thereby, to the great decay and hinderance of husbandry and tillage within the ſaid Counties: Be it therefore enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That it ſhall and may be lawful to and for all perſons whatſoever, reſiant and dwelling within the ſaid Counties of Devon and Cornwal, to fetch and take ſea ſand at all places under the full Sea mark, where the ſame is or ſhall be caſt by the Sea, for the bettering of their land, and for the encreaſe of Corn and Tillage, at their wills and pleaſures.

Sea ſand is profitable for the bettering of land.

All perſons within Devon and Cornwal may fetch ſea ſand for the bettering of their Land.

And that it ſhall and may be alſo lawful to and for all Bargemen and Boatmen, and all other carriers of Sea ſand of the ſaid Counties, that ſhall fetch or take ſand as aforeſaid, at ſuch places as ſand hath at any time within the ſpace of fifty years laſt paſt been uſed by ſuch Bargemen and Boatmen, to be landed and caſt, and alſo to fetch and carry the ſame by and through ſuch wayes as now be, and by the ſpace of twenty years laſt paſt, have been uſed for the carrying and fetching thereof, paying for the taking, caſting out, and landing of every Barge-load, Boat-load, or ſack of the ſaid Sand, upon the grounds of any man, ſuch duties as heretofore within the ſaid time of fifty years, have been uſed and accuſtomed to be paid for the ſame, and for paſſage by and through the ſaid wayes, ſuch duties as have uſually been paid by the ſpace of twenty years, and in ſuch manner and form as the ſame within the ſaid ſeveral times have reſpectively been uſed and accuſtomed to be paid. And in ſuch places where certain uſual duties have not been paid, but certain compoſitions have from time to time been made by agreement with the owners of the ſoyl there, to yield ſuch reaſonable compoſitions, as by agreement with the ſaid owners ſhall from time to time be made.

Boatmen may fetch ſea ſand, and caſt it out of their Boats where it hath been uſed to be landed, and carry the ſame through uſual wayes.

CAP. XIX.

An Act for the continuance and repair of a new built Weare upon the River of Exe, near unto the City of Exeter.

There was an ancient Weare of Timber upon the River of Exe called Callibere.

The old weare was decayed by the Froſt.

IN moſt humble wiſe ſhewen to your moſt excellent Majeſty, your true and faithful Subjects, the Mayor, Bayliffs, and Commonalty of your City of Exeter, That whereas the ſaid Mayor, Bayliffs, and Commonalty were ſeiſed in their demeſne as of Fee, of and in one ancient Weare made of Timber and of Wood, called or commonly known by the name of Callibere Weare ſtanding upon the River of Exe, and near to the ſaid City: Which Weare conveyed ſufficient water from the ſaid river, as well to all or moſt part of the grieſt Mills and fulling Mills belonging to the ſaid City, as alſo unto all the Dyers, and unto many Bakers, Brewers, Fullers, Tuckers, Sheermen, and other Artificers dwelling near unto, or upon ſuch ſtreams of Water, as were by means of the ſaid Weare conducted and brought unto them: By reaſon whereof the Inhabitants of your Highneſs ſaid City were very much relieved by the grinding of their corn at the ſaid Mills, and furthered exceedingly in their Arts or Trades of Dying, Baking, Brewing, Fulling, Tucking, and ſuch like. But the ſaid Weare (about the feaſt of the Birth of our Lord God laſt was two years) with an unuſual and extraordinary great Froſt was foundred or decayed in the foundation, and afterwards violently torn, rent, broken into pieces, and carried quite away, to the great hinderance of many hundreds of Artificers and poor people, whoſe whole eſtate and maintenance depended upon the continual uſe of the ſame ſtreams of water, and to the exceeding trouble and hinderance of the Eſtate of all your Majeſties ſaid City, by reaſon that the Inhabitants thereof were inforced not only to grind all their corn, but alſo to tuck and full all their cloth for the ſpace of four moneths at the leaſt at other Mills in the Countrey far from the ſaid City:

A new Weare is built of ſtone overthwart the River of Exe.

A foreſight to prevent damage that might enſue to others.

Neceſſity requireth that the new Wear ſhall be maintained, and juſtice that recompence ſhall be made to loſers thereby.

The new Weare ſhall ſtand for ever, without diſturbance or ſuit.

For remedy whereof, the ſaid Mayor, Bayliffs, and Commonalty were reſolved to erect and build again a new Weare in the ſame place, but could not poſſibly effect the ſame, for that the ſaid River, (having wholly paſſed with much violence through the ſaid breach) had made ſuch a depth of water there, that a ſound and perfect foundation for a Weare could not poſſibly be laid. Whereupon the ſaid Mayor, Bayliffs, and Commonalty (ſpeedily to prevent the ruine and decay of the Inhabitants of your Majeſties ſaid City) were enforced to make a new Weare of ſtone overthwart the River, about the ſpace of four hundred foot above the place where the former Weare did ſtand, and alſo to cut a new Milleate or Trench, for the conveyance of the ſaid water to the ſaid Mills, through a main and ſtrong rock. For the making of which ſaid Weare and Milleat, the ſaid Mayor, Bayliffs and Commonalty, were to their great charge enforced to beſtow and expend the ſum of Two thouſand marks and more. In doing whereof, the ſaid Mayor, Bayliffs, and Commonalty were very provident and careful by all poſſible means and devices to prevent all hurt and damage which might thereby enſue to any. Nevertheleſs, foraſmuch as ſince the erecting, building and making the ſaid Weare and Milleate, certain perſons (being Landlords, Owners, Farmors or Tenants of certain lands, ſome adjoyning unto, and ſome not far diſtant from the ſaid Weare and Milleate) do pretend that by erecting the ſaid new Weare, their grounds are ſometimes (more then heretofore) overflown, when by reaſon of much rain the ſaid River of Exe doth exceed his ordinary greatneſſe, and do therefore threaten to ſue and implead the ſaid Mayor, Bayliffs, and Commonalty in the Law, for erecting and making the ſaid new Weare where it now ſtandeth, and of the ſaid new Milleate, Or otherwiſe to break it open at thoſe places whereunto the ſaid new Weare is annexed, and where the ſaid new Milleate runneth, which if they they ſhould indeed do, then the whole eſtate of the ſaid Citie would be thereby much decayed, and many now uſing and maintaining themſelves and their Families by the ſaid Arts and Trades, ſhould be brought to extream poverty. And although as yet there be not, nor in appearance is like to be in future times any great damage or loſſe unto and of the ſaid Landlords, Owners, Farmors or Tenants more then in time paſt was by the ſaid former Weare: Yet becauſe the continuance and maintenance of the ſame new Weare and Milleate is of ſo great moment to the welfare of the ſaid Citie, as without which the ſame cannot well ſubſiſt, And that it ſtandeth with the rule of equity and Juſtice, that thoſe which receive ſo great benefit by the ſame, ſhould yeeld competent and ſufficient recompence to any perſon whomſoever, receiving or ſuſtaining any loſſe or detriment thereby, be the ſame never ſo ſmall, whereunto the ſaid Mayor, Bailiffs, and Commonalty do right humbly, and with all willingneſſe ſubmit themſelves: May it therefore pleaſe your moſt excellent Majeſty, of your moſt noble and abundant Grace, by and with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority thereof, that it may be enacted, And be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that the ſaid Weare and new Milleate, and every part of the ſame, ſhall (alwaies from henceforth) ſtand, bee and remaine, where now they are, without any removing, let or diſturbance, or any ſuit or action to be brought by any perſon or perſons whatſoever. And that it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the ſaid Mayor, Bailiffs, and Commonalty, and their ſucceſſors, from time to time, and at all times for ever hereafter, to have free entry and paſſage, to and from the ſaid new Weare and Milleate, by, in and through all places convenient, for and with their ſervants, workmen, horſes, carts, carriages, and other neceſſaries for the repairing, preſerving and amending the ſame.

A mean to recompence them that be damnified by the new Weare.

And for ſatisfaction and recompence to be given to ſuch perſons, which now are, or hereafter ſhall or may be damnified by the erecting of the ſaid new Weare, or by any occaſion of the reparation thereof, or by making the ſaid Milleate, more then in former times they have been by the ſaid ancient Weare: Be it therefore enacted, that in default of agreement and compoſition between the ſaid Mayor, Bailiffs, Commonalty, and the party or parties pretending to be ſo damnified thereby, upon complaint of any ſuch party or parties, unto the Juſtices of Aſſiſe, for the county of Devon for the time being, in that behalfe made, the ſaid Juſtices, or ſuch ſubſtantial and indifferent perſons, as by them in their diſcretions (calling the ſaid parties before them and hearing their exceptions to the perſons to be ſo nominated) ſhall be deputed or aſſigned, may either in the ſaid County and City of Exeter, or in the County of Devon, by oath examine all and every ſuch witneſſe and witneſſes, as either on the part and behalfe of ſuch Landlord, owner, farmor or tenant, or on the part and behalf of the ſaid Mayor, Bailiffs, and Commonalty, ſhall be produced before them, for the proofe of any ſuch loſſe, hindrance or damage, or for the diſproof thereof: And thereupon (from time to time) ſhall or may order and award, to the party or parties ſo grieved (if any ſuch ſhall be) either by the year or otherwiſe, ſuch ſufficient recompence: with neceſſary and reaſonable coſts in that behalfe ſuſtained, to be by the ſaid Mayor, Bailiffs, and Commonalty, and their ſucceſſors payd to him or them in money, as in their wiſdoms and diſcretions ſhal be thought fit and convenient.

Each perſons remedy to re-cover the money awarded to him.

And likewiſe that by the ſaid authority it may be further enacted, And be it enacted, that for the ſumme or ſummes of money ſo to be awarded to be paid, it may be lawful to and for the ſaid party or parties ſo grieved (upon refuſal of payment) to diſtraine in any of the lands and tenements belonging to the ſaid Mayor, Bailiffs, and Commonalty, or to ſue the ſaid Mayor, Bailiffs and Commonalty, and their ſucceſſors for the ſame by any action or actions of debt, in any of the Courts of Records of your Higeneſſe, your heirs or ſucceſſors: In which no eſſoine ſhall be admitted and allowed.

If the old Weare were raiſed whereby grounds were overflown.

Provided alwaies, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if the ſaid old Weare have of late within the ſpace of five years laſt paſt, been raiſed higher then the ſame was in antient times, by means of which heightning or raiſing, the ſaid grounds of ſuch Landlords, owners, Farmors, or tenants, have been within the ſaid ſpace of five yeeres laſt paſt, more overflown then uſually before ſuch raiſing, or heightning of any ſuch Weare they were wont to be, That then the ſaid Juſtices of Aſſiſe, or ſuch as ſhall be by them ſo appointed ſhall by examination of witneſſes by oath, as aforeſaid, further enquire what damage or loſſe did grow by ſuch raiſing or heightning of the ſaid old Weare, unto the ſaid Landlords, owners, farmors or tenants, more then they ſuſtained by the ſaid old Weare before ſuch raiſing thereof: And whether any the like damage do ſtill continue, by the ſaid new erected Weare. And if it ſhall appear or be ſo proved to them, then they ſhall further give and allow ſuch recompence for ſuch loſſe and damage ſo continuing by reaſon of the ſaid new Weare, and in ſuch ſort as is by this Act formerly expreſſed.

CAP. XX.

A meane to recover a great quantity of ground lately ſurrounded in Norfolk and Suffolke by the ſea, and to prevent the like.

The King by his Office and good diſpoſition hath care of this Realm.

WHereas the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty as well by his Kingly Office, as of his gracious diſpoſition, hath charge and continual care of the good eſtate of his Highneſſe Realme of England, and the preſervation of the ſame, and every part thereof againſt all damages and devaſtation: and whereas there is a part of the ſea ſhore, lying between the Townes of great Yarmouth and Happiſborow in the ſaid County of Norfolke, the cliffes and higher grounds whereof, lying between the ſea and the Inlands thereabout, have laine ſo low and flat, and are of earth and ſand, ſo eaſily waſhed and worne away, as they have not been ſufficient to defend and keep out the ſea, but that ſometimes it hath broken in and hath alſo much worne away the ſame cliffes and higher grounds: And now of late ſuch have been the extraordinary force and rage of the ſea upon that part of the ſaid coaſt of Norfolke, that no uſuall diligence or means have been ſufficient to withſtand the violence thereof, but within ſix moneths now laſt paſt, it hath broken down and waſhed away the the cliffs and higher grounds there, ſuch as they were, and lade them flat and level with the ſaid Inlands, and made breaches ſo wide, that the ſea hath broken in at every tide, and with every ſea winde, into the very heart and body as well of the ſaid County of Norffolke, as into ſome parts of the ſaid County of Suffolke, adjoyning, which lie ſubject to the ſaid overflowes, and hath decayed, ſurrounded and drowned up much hard grounds, beſides the greateſt part of the mariſhes and low grounds within the townes and pariſhes hereafter mentioned (the ſame containing many thouſand acres) upon which a great part of the wealth of the ſaid counties doth depend, being grounds of themſelves very rich, and without which the Upland ſpecially of the County of Norfolke, being of themſelves for the moſt part very dry and barren cannot ſo well be husbanded or imployed: And by means alſo of the ſaid overflowes of the ſalt water, the fiſhings of the rivers, creeks, and other places there adjoyning (whereof there was great plenty, and whereby many poor men were maintained, and the markets ſerved with freſh fiſh) are greatly decayed: which ſaid breaches, as they are happened very ſuddenly, and will require a preſent and great charge to repair and make them fenſable againſt the Sea: ſo is it to be feared, that in time to come, further miſchief may follow by other breaches, or inlarging of thoſe preſently made, within the limits aforeſaid, if mature remedy be not provided, and God of his mercy ſtop not the ſame: Which charge is already ſo great, as the parties intereſſed in the ſaid lands and grounds already drowned and ſurrounded, are not able to ſuſtain the burthen thereof.

The ſeveral hurts which the Sea hath done of late by overflowing in the Counties of Norfolk and Suffolk.

And whereas all or ſome part of the Mariſhes, low and flat grounds of the townes and pariſhes hereafter named and ſome part of the arable, paſture and upland of the ſame are already by new breaches and waſhing and breaking down of the cliffes and higher grounds, lying between the ſea and the Inlands, within the limits aforeſaid, greatly annoyed, and generally endangered, or like to be endangered, That is to ſay, the Towns and Pariſhes of Waxtoneſham, Palling, Eccles, Hempſted, Ingham, Hickling, Horſey, Potter, Higham,

The names of the Towns and Pariſhes annoyed or endangered by the Sea.

Catfield, Ludham, Winterton, Eaſt Somerton, Weſt Somerton, Martham, Baſtwicke, Repps, Thurne, Oby, Clippesbey, Billockby, Wood, Baſtickhorning, Kanworth, South walſham, Upton, Fiſhley, Acle, Caſtor S. Edmunds, Caſtor Maltbey, Rimham, Herringby Borough, Stokesby, Burton, Horſtead, Wroxham, Sallowes, Hoſton, Below, Coltſel, Hobbins, Lammas, Netiſhead, Barton, Sutton, Stalham, Tunſtel, Halvergate, Wickhampton, Thorp, Redham, Limpenhow, Cantley, Haſſingham, Buckenham Ferry, Strumſel, Brundel, Poſtwick, Thorne juxta Norwich, Curlton, Norton, Hardley, Langley, Carleton, Claxton, Rockland, Surlingham, Bramerton, Wicklingham, Crowſe, Carrow, Haddeſtow, Whiteacre Borough, Whiteacre Abbey, Gellingham, in the ſaid County of Norffolke: And Gorleſton, Gapton, Bradwell, Borough Caſtle, Berkleſſe, Baſham, Worlingham, Belton, Fretton, S. Toolies, alias S. Olives, Herringfleet, Somerly Town, Shepton, Owiton, Kirkely, and Barkeley, in the ſaid county of Suffolke.

A commiſſion ſhall be awarded to enquire of, prevent and reform defaults.

For remedy therefore of ſo great and general calamity, May it pleaſe his moſt excellent Majeſty, at the moſt humble petition of a great number of the Inhabitants of the ſaid Counties of Norffolke and Suffolke that it may be enacted, and be it enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That the Lord Chancellor of England, or Lord keeper of the great Seal of England, for the time being, ſhall from time to time, upon ſuit made unto him in that behalf, award Commiſſions under the great Seal of England, to the L. Biſhop of the Dioceſſe of Norwich for the time being and to any eleven or more Juſtices of the peace of the ſaid county of Norffolke, and ſix or more Juſtices of the peace of the ſaid County of Suffolk, as to him ſhall ſeem good. And if there ſhall then be no Biſhop of the ſaid Dioceſſe, then to ſuch other as aforeſaid only after ſuch tenor and effect as hereafter followeth, that is to ſay.

The form of the Commiſſion.

REX &c. Reverendo in Chriſto Patri, A. Epiſcopo Norwicenſi, necnon A. B. C. D. ſalutem. SCIATIS, quod aſſignavimus vos & quoſlibet ſex, ſive plures veſtrum, ad omnia et ſingula ſupervidenda, perluſtranda, mandanda, facienda, performanda, exequenda, & peragenda, in quodam actu in Parliamento Domini JACOBI, Dei Gratia, Regis Angliæ, &c. nono die Februarii, anno regni ſui Angliæ, Franciæ, & Hiberniæ ſeptimo, & Scotiæ quadrageſimo tertio per diverſas prorogationes, apud Weſtmonaſterium tento, edito, intitulato: An Act for the ſpeedy recovery of many thouſand acres of marſh grounds, and other grounds within the Counties of Norfolk and Suffolk, lately ſurrounded by the Sea in divers parts of the ſaid Counties, and for the prevention of the danger of like ſurrounding hereafter, ſpecificata, ſecundum tenorem, vim, formam, effectum, & veram intentionem ejuſdem actus: In cujus rei teſtimonium, &c. Teſte, &c.

The Commiſſioners authority.

To enquire by whoſe default the overflowings happened, and who ought to repair them.

To taxe the perſons and lands chargeable.

Appointing of Officers to execute that which ſhall be needful.

And be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the ſame Commiſſioners to whom ſuch Commiſſion ſhall be directed, or any ſix or more of them by vertue of the ſame Commiſſion, and of this preſent act ſhall have full power and authority to view, ſee and ſurvey the ſaid lands and grounds ſo ſurrounded, decayed and overflown, within the aforeſaid Towns and Pariſhes in the ſaid Counties of Norfolk and Suffolk, or either of them, and the places and breaches between the ſaid towns of great Yarmouth and Happiſhborough aforeſaid, where the ſaid overflowings, breaches or decayes are now happened, or ſhall or may hereafter happen, as alſo all other places of danger within the limits aforeſaid, where the like breaches and decayes hereafter ſhall or may happen, and to enquire by the oaths of good and lawful men of the ſaid County or Counties, as well within liberties as without, and by their own view and judgment, as by all other good ways and means, whereby the truth may be diſcerned or known, if any certain perſon or perſons ought to ſuſtain or repair the ſame, and by whoſe default, or by what means the ſaid breaches, decayes and overflowings of the Sea have happened, and who hath or holdeth any Lands, Meadowes, Marſhes or low grounds, common of paſture, profit of fiſhing, or any other benefit or commodity in the Towns and Pariſhes aforeſaid, wherein he or they by the ſaid breaches, decayes and overflowings already made, or by any other breaches, decayes or overflowings hereafter to be made by any manner of means hath already received, or may, or are like at any time hereafter to receive any loſſe, prejudice, hurt or damage. And all thoſe perſons and every of them, and the ſaid Lands, Meadowes, Marſhes, low grounds, or other the premiſſes lying within any the pariſhes or towns aforeſaid ſubject to overflowings, danger or decay as aforeſaid, to taxe, rate, aſſeſſe and charge with ſuch ſum or ſums of Money, as well for the preſent repair of the ſaid breaches and decayes already made, and hereafter to be made, as for the recovery, defending and draining of the lands, grounds and levels by the ſame now, or hereafter drowned, decayed, ſurrounded or annoyed, or in danger to be drowned, decayed, ſurrounded or annoyed: As alſo for the making and erecting, keeping and maintaining of Peers, Walls, Jetts, Piles, Strengths, Fortifications, Defences, and other things whatſoever, to withſtand and break the rage and violent beating of the Sea, thereby to prevent the like breaches, decayes and overflowings hereafter, or for all or any of the ſaid purpoſes, in ſuch ſort as to them, or any ſix or more of them in their diſcretions ſhall be thought fit and neceſſary, having reſpect in proportioning of the taxing or aſſeſſing as aforeſaid, as well to the then preſent loſſe and danger, as to the future loſſe and danger, that the ſame perſon or perſons, ground or grounds, and other the premiſſes did, ſhall and may ſuſtain and bear, by reaſon of the ſaid breaches, decayes and overflowings. And that the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, ſhall and may make and appoint diligent and faithful Surveyors, Collectors, Receivers, Treaſurers, Expenditors, Bayliffs, and ſuch other Miniſters and Officers, as they ſhall think fit, to ſurvey the ſaid works, and to levy, receive and lay out the Money to be levied and expended in and about the ſame, and to do and execute whatſoever ſhall be needful and expedient to be done therein, according to the direction and orders to be from time to time preſcribed by the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, as aforeſaid. And alſo within the ſaid Counties of Norfolk and Suffolk, or either of them (except in that part of the ſaid County of Norfolk, commonly Marſhland, and the hundred of Frebridge in Marſhland) to take Workmen, Labourers, Carts and Carriages, Timber, Wood, and all other ſtuff and neceſſaries, for the perfecting and performance of the ſaid works, for reaſonable wages and prices to be ſet by the Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, according to their good diſcretions.

To take workmen and ſtuffe for the performance of the ſaid work.

Provided alwayes, That they ſhall not take any Timber or Wood of any Trees growing or being in or about any Orchard or Gardens, or within two furlongs of the ſite of any Manſion or dwelling houſe, whereunto it belongs,

And alſo that it ſhall and may be lawful to the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, by warrant under their, or any ſix or more of their hands and ſeals, to commit to the common Gaol of the ſaid County reſpectively, all ſuch workmen and labourers, and owners or poſſeſſors of Carts, Horſes or Carriages, as being commanded or required by warrant from the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, to work or ſerve in the ſaid works, having ſuch convenient and reaſonable hire and wages, as ſhall be ſet by the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, paid or tendered unto them as aforeſaid. And likewiſe all ſuch as ſhall reſiſt or withſtand the taking of any Timber, Wood, or other ſtuffe or neceſſaries appointed as aforeſaid, to be taken for the effecting and performing of the ſaid works, having ſuch convenient and reaſonable prices as ſhall be ſet by the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, paid or tendered to them as aforeſaid, there to remain by the ſpace of two moneths without bail or mainpriſe: And alſo to puniſh the ſaid Workmen and Labourers, owners and poſſeſſors of Carts, Horſes and Carriages, and reſiſters and withſtanders, to take ſtuffe, Wood or Timber for refuſing, or not doing, or withſtanding as aforeſaid, by impoſing upon them or any of them, ſuch reaſonable and competent fines or amerciaments as the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them ſhall in their wiſdome think fit: Which Fines and Amerciaments ſhall by authority hereof be levied by diſtreſſe and ſale of the goods of ſuch offendor; and for default thereof, he or they to be by warrant under the hands and ſeals of the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, committed to the common Gaol of the ſaid County, there to remain untill they ſhall pay the ſame.

And be it likewiſe enacted by the Kings Majeſty, by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, aand the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That it ſhall and may be lawful for the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, as aforeſaid, by Warrant under their hands and ſeals, to give authority to any perſon or perſons, to levy the ſaid ſums of Money by them from time to time to be aſſeſſed upon the ſaid perſons, or upon the ſaid Lands, Meadows, Marſhes, low grounds, or other the premiſſes charged or chargeable with the ſame, by diſtreſſe and ſale of the goods of ſuch perſon or perſons that ſhall not pay, or refuſe to pay the ſame, and the overplus of the value ariſing upon ſuch ſale, ſhall reſtore to the ſaid Owner of the ſame. And in default of ſuch diſtreſſe to be taken and ſold, it ſhall and may be lawful to the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, as aforeſaid, to commit him or them ſo not paying, or refuſing to pay the ſame, to the common Gaol of the ſaid County, there to remain without bail or mainpriſe, untill they ſhall willingly pay the ſaid ſum or ſums of Money ſo taxed, rated or aſſeſſed by him or them to be paid as aforeſaid.

The Commiſſioners may authorize others to levy the money aſſeſſed.

Impriſonment for default of diſtreſſe.

Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if it ſhall happen, that any the ſaid grounds or other things ſo drowned, decayed or indamaged, or in danger to be drowned, decayed or indamaged by the ſaid decayes and breaches paſt or to come, ſhall be in the hands of Leſſees or Farmors under a rent, That then in ſuch caſes, what part ſoever of the charge ſhall be ſet upon the perſons, to whom ſuch rents ſhall be to be paid, or upon the rents ſo held in Farm or Leaſe, if the ſame be levied upon the Occupier, Farmor or Leſſee, he ſhall or may retain ſo much of his ſaid rent in ſatisfaction thereof, as by the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them in writing under their hands and ſeals, ſhall in their diſcretions be ſet down and declared, having reſpect unto the length or ſhortneſſe of his terme, and the great or ſmall rent that he is to pay for the ſame: which retainer ſhall be a ſufficient diſcharge againſt the ſaid Leſſors, and every of them, their heirs, ſucceſſors and aſſigns, for and concerning the ſame rent that ſhall be ſo retained, and of and for all other pains, penalties and forfeitures, for not payment thereof.

If the Leſſee of the Land charged do pay the ſum taxed, how much thereof he may abate of the Leſſees Rent.

Provided alwayes, That the ſaid Leſſees, Farmors, and every of them, ſhall pay and ſatiſfie the reſidue which ſhall not be retained by vertue of this Act, and order of the ſaid Commiſſioners under ſuch pains, penalties, and forfeitures, as they ſhould or ought to have paid the ſame, as if this Act or any ſuch Order had not been had or made.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, ſhall have power and authority, by vertue of this preſent Act, from time to time to make, declare, and ſet down Lawes, Ordinances, Decrees, and proviſions, for the ſafeguard, preſervation, and ſafe keeping of the cliffes and high grounds, lying between the Sea and the ſaid Inlands, within the limits aforeſaid, from the rage and violence of the Sea, and from the breaches, decayes, flowings and overflowings thereof, and for the defending, draining and drawing away of the Waters, that ſhall or may overflow or hurt the Lands, Paſtures, or Mariſhes in the Towns and Pariſhes aforeſaid, or any of them: And the ſaid Lawes, Ordinances, Decrees, and Proviſions, from time to time, to repeal, reform, amend, as occaſion ſhall ſerve and require. Which Lawes, Ordinances, Decrees and Proviſions, ſo made and declared (ſo long as they ſhall remain in force) ſhall be well and truly obſerved, performed and kept, by all ſuch whom they ſhall concern, or to whom they ſhall appertain. And that the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, ſhall and may ſet and impoſe ſuch reaſonable and competent pains, penalties and forfeitures, upon ſuch perſon and perſons, as ſhall willingly or wilfully break, or not obey, obſerve and perform the ſaid Lawes, Ordinances, Decrees and Proviſions, as they ſhall think convenient. And that the ſaid pains, penalties and forfeitures ſo ſet and impoſed, ſhall be levied by diſtreſſe, and ſale of any of the offendors goods, or impriſonment in ſuch ſort as any other ſum or ſums of Money, leviable by this Act, ſhall or may be had or levied, and that the ſurpluſage ariſing of ſuch ſales ſhall be reſtored to the owner.

How the penalties and forfeitures ſhall be imployed.

Provided alwayes, That all and ſingular fines, pains, penalties, forfeitures, and ſums of Money to be ſet, impoſed, paid or levied by vertue of this act, ſhall be employed in and about the making, repairing, fortifying and ſtrengthening of the ſaid cliffes and higher grounds, lying between the Sea and the ſaid Inlands, within the limits aforeſaid, and for the draining of the waters which ſhall flow into the ſaid Lands, Paſtures and Mariſhes in the Towns and Pariſhes aforeſaid, and to none other uſe whatſoever. Saving that it ſhall be lawful to the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, out of the ſame to allow to every of themſelves, for every day that they ſhall ſit or travel about the execution of the premiſſes, the ſum of four ſhillings apiece: And to the Collectors, Surveyors, Receivers, Treaſurers, Expenditors, Bayliffs, and other Officers and Miniſters, which ſhall be imployed in and about the premiſſes, ſuch reaſonable allowance, as to the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, in their diſcretions ſhall be thought neceſſary.

Allowance to Commiſſioners and other Officers for their pains.

The Commiſſioners may aſſeſs the Kings Farmors of any lands to be contributed.

And it is further ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, ſhall and may Rate, Taxe, and Aſſeſſe all ſuch perſon and perſons, as be Tenants, Farmors, or Occupiers of any Manors, Lands or Tenements, Commons, or other profits or hereditaments of our Soveraign Lord the King, his Heirs or Succeſſors, within the towns and pariſhes aforeſaid, to pay and contribute, for and towards the Jetties, Walls, and other the premiſſes aforeſaid, as far as any other, according to their good diſcretions. And that the ſaid Lawes, Ordinances, Decrees, Orders and Proviſions to be made and ordained by the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, in or about any thing, touching or concerning the premiſſes, ſhall bind as well the Lands, Tenements, and Hereditaments of our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors, and his and their Tenants, Farmors and Leſſees as aforeſaid, as all and every other perſon and perſons, and their heirs, for ſuch their intereſt, as they ſhall fortune to have in any lands, tenements, hereditaments, or other profit, advantage, or commodity whatſoever they ſhall be; whereunto the ſaid Lawes, Ordinances, Decrees, Orders, and Proviſions ſhall in any ſort extend, according to the true purport, meaning and intent thereof.

The Commiſſioners Decrees ſhall bind the King and all other perſons lands.

A remedy where the party taxed hath not ſufficient goods, nor his body can be found within that county.

In what caſe the Commiſſioners may ſell or let to farm the land of the party taxed.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That in caſe where any Warrant or Precept ſhall be made or directed to any Officer or Miniſter, to levy the ſaid ſums of Money, of any the ſaid perſon or perſons aforeſaid, or to take his or their body or bodies, or both of them, as the caſe ſhall require: if ſuch Officer or Miniſter ſhall make return to the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, that there are not found goods ſufficient of the perſon or perſons who ſhall be taxed or charged, or whoſe Lands, Meadows, Marſhes, or other the premiſſes, ſhall be rated, taxed, or aſſeſſed with the payment of any ſum of Money as aforeſaid, by diſtreſſe and ſale whereof the ſaid ſums of Money to be taxed, rated and aſſeſſed, may be levied in ſuch of the ſaid Counties of Norfolk or Suffolk, wherein the Grounds, Meadowes, Mariſhes, or other the premiſſes, for or in reſpect whereof ſuch taxe or charge ſhall be made, ſhall lie or be, nor that the body of ſuch perſon or perſons can be found in that County, then the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, ſhall and may from time to time make Warrants under their hands and ſeals, unto the Sheriffs of the ſaid Counties of Norfolk or Suffolk, on which the ſaid Lands, Meadowes, Paſtures, or other the premiſſes, for or in reſpect whereof the ſaid taxe or charge was made as aforeſaid, to be directed, thereby commanding the ſaid Sheriff in the next County Court to be holden after the delivery of ſuch Warrant, openly by Proclamation to call ſuch perſon or perſons, and to command him or them to render him or themſelves to the ſaid Sheriff, at or before the next County Court after ſuch Proclamation made to be holden, or at or before the ſaid next Court to deliver unto the ſaid Sheriff ſuch ſum or ſums of Money, as he or they ſhall be charged withal, or ought to pay as aforeſaid: and if the ſaid perſon or perſons ſhall after the ſaid Proclamation, and before the ſaid next County Court, pay the ſaid ſum or ſums of Money unto the ſaid Sheriff, then the ſaid Sheriff ſhall pay over the ſame unto the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them: And if the ſaid perſon or perſons ſhall render him or themſelves before the next ſaid County Court, then the Sheriff ſhall keep and detain him or them in priſon, in the common Gaol of the ſaid County, in ſuch ſort as is before appointed by vertue of this Act, for not payment of any rate, taxe, or ſum of Money: And if the ſame perſon or perſons ſhall not upon ſuch Proclamation render him or themſelves, or deliver ſuch Sum or Sums of Money as aforeſaid, at or before the ſaid next County Court, That then in every ſuch caſe the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, ſhall from henceforth have full power and authority, and ſhall and may by vertue of this Act, ſell, grant, or demiſe, the Lands, Meadowes, Mariſhes, and other the premiſſes ſo rated, charged, taxed, or aſſeſſed with the payment of any ſum or ſums of Money as aforeſaid, or ſuch part thereof, and for ſuch eſtate, as to the ſame Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, ſhall ſeem good, and for the beſt and higheſt prices that they can get for the ſame, to any perſon or perſons that wil buy or take the ſame, and to their heirs, or otherwiſe, by deed indented, to be made between the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, and the ſaid Purchaſers, and to be acknowledged and enrolled within the County where the ſaid Lands, Meadowes, Mariſhes, and other the premiſſes ſo to be ſold, granted or demiſed, do lie before two Juſtices of the peace of the ſaid county, whereof one to be of the Quorum, and the Clerk of the peace of the ſame county: Upon which ſaid ſale, grant or demiſe, the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, ſhall and may by vertue of this Act, take and retain to the uſes and for the purpoſes aforeſaid, ſo much as ſhall amount to the ſum and ſums that ſhall be rated, taxed, or aſſeſſed, and not paid as aforeſaid: And if there ſhall be any remain upon ſuch ſale, the ſame ſhall be reſtored to the owner and owners of the Lands ſo ſold, granted or demiſed: And that all and every ſuch ſale, grant and demiſe ſo made, ſhall be good and effectual to all and every purchaſer and purchaſers, his and their heirs and aſſigns, according to the purport and effect thereof: And the ſaid purchaſers, their heirs and aſſigns, ſhall and may by vertue thereof, and of this Act, have, hold and enjoy the ſame againſt the ſaid perſon and perſons, for whoſe default, neglect or offence, the ſame were ſold, granted or demiſed, and againſt his heirs, and againſt all and every perſon and perſons, that ſhall ſtand or be ſeiſed or poſſeſſed thereof to the uſe or behoof of ſuch perſon or perſons, or in truſt for them, or to the intent that the ſame ſhall remain, or be at the diſpoſal of the ſaid perſon or perſons.

A relief for the offendor paying the money aſſeſſed, and the penalties impoſed upon him.

Provided alwayes, That if the ſaid perſon or perſons, who ſhall have made ſuch default of payment, or rendring of him or themſelves, ſhall at any time before ſuch ſale made, pay or cauſe to be paid to the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, the ſaid ſums of Money, and all pains and penalties before that time, ſet or impoſed upon him or them by force of the ſaid Commiſſion, and of this Act, and then not paid or ſatisfied, That then it ſhall not be lawful for the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any of them, for or in reſpect of ſuch default, to make ſale of any of his or their ſaid lands or premiſſes: Any thing in this act contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding. Saving to all other perſon and perſons, bodies politick and corporate, their heirs and ſucceſſors, executors and aſſigns, all ſuch right, title, eſtate, intereſt and demand, as they or any of them had, or ſhould or ought to have, of, in, to, or out of any ſuch Lands, Meadows, Mariſhes, and other the premiſſes ſo to be ſold, granted or demiſed, as aforeſaid, as if no ſuch ſale, grant or demiſe had ever been had or made: Any thing in this preſent Act contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

A Saving of the right of others.

The Sheriffs of Norfolk and Suffolk ſhall return Juries before the Commiſſioners.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Sheriffs of the ſaid Counties of Norfolk and Suffolk, and either of them, ſhall cauſe to come before the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, at ſuch times and places as the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them ſhall appoint, ſuch and ſo many good men of their ſeveral Bailiwikes, as well within liberties as without, to whom the truth may be beſt known, to enquire of the premiſſes mentioned in this Act; which men for their ſeveral defaults, ſhall loſe and forfeit ſuch iſſues and ſums of Money, not exceeding the ſum of ten ſhillings of lawful Money of England, for one default, as by the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, ſhall be ſet or impoſed upon them, which ſhall and may be levied by diſtreſſe and ſale of goods only, and for refuſing to make enquiry, and for other contempts, ſhall forfeit and loſe ſuch reaſonable fines and ſums of money, as by the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, ſhall be impoſed upon them, which ſhall and may be levied by diſtreſſe, ſale of goods and impriſonment, in ſuch manner and form, as by the levying of the ſums of money to be rated, taxed, or aſſeſſed, is before limited and appointed. And that all Sheriffs, Bailiffs, Officers and Miniſters whatſoever, of our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King, his heirs and ſucceſſors, within the Counties aforeſaid, as well within liberties as without, ſhall be from time to time attendant, aiding and aſſiſting to the ſaid Commiſſioners, and every ſix or more of them, for and concerning all ſuch things as ſhall concern their ſeveral Offices and places reſpectively, in or about the execution of all things contained in this Act: Upon pain to forfeit ſuch pains, penalties, fines and ſums of Money, as ſhall be ſet or impoſed upon them, or any of them, by the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, for or in reſpect of their or any of their contempts, miſdoings, or negligences in that behalf. Which ſaid pains, penalties, fines and ſums of Money, ſhall and may be levied by diſtreſſe, ſale of goods and impriſonment, as the ſaid ſums before mentioned, to be taxed, rated, or aſſeſſed, are appointed to be levied, and the ſaid iſſues, pains, penalties, fines and ſums of Money, ſet or impoſed upon the ſaid good men, Sheriffs, Bayliffs, Officers and other Miniſters, ſhall be imployed and diſpoſed of, in ſuch manner and form, as the ſaid ſums of Money to be taxed, rated, or aſſeſſed, are before appointed to be employed and diſpoſed of.

Iſſues forfeited by Jurors, and how they ſhall be levied.

All Sheriffs and Officers ſhall attend and aid the Commiſſioners.

How the iſſues and penalties ſhall be employed.

The Commiſſioners may take accompt of inferiour Officers.

And be it further enacted, ordained, and eſtabliſhed by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, ſhall have power and authority by force and vertue of this preſent Act, to call before them, or any ſix or more of them, the Collectors, Receivers, Treaſurers, Expenditors, Bayliffs, and other Officers and Miniſters, which ſhall be employed or have dealing in and about the ſaid works, or any other thing concerning this preſent act, or the execution thereof in any ſort, and to require and take of them, and every of them, accompts upon their Oaths, of all their, and every of their receipts, collections, payments, diſburſements, and other doings concerning the ſame. And if the ſaid Collectors, Receivers, Treaſurers, Expenditors, Bayliffs, or any other of the Officers and Miniſters aforeſaid, ſhall happen to be found in arrearages, either in moneys or materials received, or otherwiſe, That then in ſuch caſe they ſhall make payment, and give ſatisfaction in that behalf, according to ſuch order and direction, as by the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, in writing under their hands and ſeals ſhall be made and ſet down. And in default of performance thereof, ſuch Officers and Miniſters ſhall be by warrant under the hands and ſeals of the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, diſtrained by their goods and chattels, and the ſame to be ſold as aforeſaid; And in default of ſuch diſtreſs to be found, it ſhall be lawful for the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, to commit ſuch offendor or offendors to the common Gaol of the ſaid County, there to remain until they have paid all ſuch arrearages and ſums of money, and other things ſo found to be remaining in their hands, according to the order of the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, to be made as aforeſaid.

The remedy if any of the Officers do die before his accompt made, or the arrearages paid.

And be it further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any of the ſaid Collectors, Receivers, Treaſurers, or other Officers or Miniſters which ought to accompt, by the true meaning of this Act, ſhall die before his or their accompt ſhall be made as aforeſaid, that in every ſuch caſe the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, may call before them, or any ſix or more of them, the Executors and Adminiſtrators of ſuch Collectors, Receivers, Treaſurers, Expenditors, Bayliffs, and other Officers and Miniſters, and to require and take of them and every of them, accompts of all and every the ſaid receits, collections, payments, diſburſements, and other doings concerning the ſame: And if upon the ſame accounts any thing ſhall be found in arrearages, or if the ſaid Collectors, Receivers, Treaſurers, Bayliffs, or other Officers or Miniſters, having made his or their accompt ſhall die before ſuch time as the arrearages that ſhall be found upon the ſame accompt, ſhall be paid or ſatisfied, then in every ſuch caſe the ſaid arrearages, by warrant of the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, ſhall and may be levied by diſtreſs, and ſale of the goods and chattels that were the ſaid Collectors, Receivers, Treaſurers, Expenditors, Bayliffs, or other Officers or Miniſters, at the time of their ſeveral deaths: And if the ſaid Executors or Adminiſtrators, or any of them, ſhall have waſted the goods and chattels that were the ſaid Collectors, Receivers, Treaſurers, Expenditors, Bayliffs or other Officers or Miniſters, then ſo much of the ſaid arrearages, as the ſaid goods and chattels ſo waſted ſhall amount unto, ſhall and may be levied by diſtreſſe and ſale of the proper goods and chattels of the ſaid Executors or Adminiſtrators, as aforeſaid: and if the ſaid Executors or Adminiſtrators ſhall have no goods or chattels of their own in the ſaid Counties of Norfolk and Suffolk, or one of them, whereby the ſame arrearages may be levied as aforeſaid, Then it ſhall and may be lawful for the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, by warrant under the hands and ſeals of any ſix or more of them, to commit the ſame Executors or Adminiſtrators to the common Gaol of the ſaid Counties of Norfolk or Suffolk, there to remain without bail or mainpriſe, until they ſhall have paid and ſatisfied ſo much as the ſaid goods and chattels ſo waſted ſhall amount unto, according to the order of the ſaid Commiſſioners.

A remedy if the Executor or Adminiſtrators of an Accomptant have waſted his goods.

The puniſhment of an Accomptant that refuſeth to accompt.

And be it alſo Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if the ſaid Collectors, Receivers, Treaſurers, Bayliffs, Miniſters, or other Officers, their Executors, Adminiſtrators, or any of them, being required by the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, or by any other being thereunto authoriſed by warrant of the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, ſhall refuſe or neglect to render ſuch accompt as aforeſaid, then from time to time it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any ſix or more of them, under their hands and ſeals, to commit the perſon and perſons ſo refuſing or neglecting, to the common Gaol of the ſaid counties of Norfolk or Suffolk, there to remain without bail or mainpriſe, until he or they ſhall have made ſuch accompt as aforeſaid.

If any accomptant die owing money to theſe uſes, and alſo to other perſons the money received to this uſe ſhall be firſt paid.

And be it likewiſe enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if the ſaid Collectors, Receivers, Treaſurers, Expenditors, Bayliffs, or other Officers or Miniſters, or any of them, ſhall die having any ſum or ſums of money, or other things in his or their hands, which ought to be employed in or about the works aforeſaid by vertue of this Act, and whereof he or they hath not or have not accompted, or having accompted, was found in arrearages, and any action or ſuit for any debt due by him or them, ſhall be proſecuted againſt the Executors or Adminiſtrators of them or any of them, before ſuch time as ſuch ſums of money and other things ſhall be ſatisfied and paid according to the true meaning of this Act, the ſame Executors or Adminiſtrators may plead, that the party deceaſed, whoſe Executors or Adminiſtrators they are, had in his hands at the time of his death ſuch ſums of money or ſuch things of a certain value, and ſhew how much, which ought to be employed according to this Act; And that the ſame are not accompted for, or are accompted for and not paid or anſwered for; And that over and above thoſe ſums they have no goods or chattels that were the ſaid perſons deceaſed, at the time of his death, or goods and chattels but of a certain value, not amounting to the ſum demanded, which plea ſhall be allowed good in Law, inaſmuch as the deceaſed was but a keeper of thoſe ſums and other things, and therefore the ſame ought not to be liable to his debts: And in caſe ſuch action or ſuit ſhall be commenced after payment and ſatisfaction of the ſaid ſums and other things by the ſaid Executors or Adminiſtrators, then the ſaid Executors or Adminiſtrators may plead that they have fully adminiſtred all the goods and chattels that were the ſaid perſons deceaſed; And that they have no goods or chattels, or no goods or chattels beſides ſuch goods and chattels of a certain value, not amounting to the ſum demanded, as their caſes ſhall reſpectively require, without ſhewing or alledging this Act, or any other particularity or circumſtance in that behalf: upon which pleas iſſue may be joyned, and upon trial of the ſame iſſue, the whole matter ſhall be given in evidence, on both parts, according to the very truth thereof: and if upon the ſame trial it ſhall be found, that the ſaid Executors or Adminiſtrators have paid ſuch ſums as aforeſaid, the ſame ſhall be allowed as a good and lawful adminiſtration: Or if it be found that they have no other goods and chattels than as aforeſaid, thereupon in ſuch caſes the ſaid Executors or Adminiſtrators ſhall have ſuch judgment, as in the like caſes upon trial of the like iſſues is accuſtomed by the ordinary courſe of the common law: Any debts of what kind ſoever that were owing by the ſaid perſons deceaſed notwithſtanding.

And be it further enacted, That if any Action or Treſpaſs, or other Suit, ſhall happen to be attempted, and brought againſt any perſon or perſons, for taking of any Diſtreſſe, making of any ſale, impriſoning of any perſon or perſons, or any other thing doing by authority of this preſent Act, the Defendant or Defendants in any ſuch Action or Suit, ſhall and may either plead not guilty, or otherwiſe make Avowry, Cogniſance or Juſtification, for the taking of the ſaid Diſtreſſes, making of ſale, impriſoning or other thing doing by vertue of this Act, alledging in ſuch Avowry, Cogniſance or Juſtification, that the ſaid diſtreſs, ſale, impriſonment, or other thing whereof the Plaintiff or Plaintiffs ſhall complain, was done by authority of this Act, and according to the tenor, purport, and effect of this Act, without any expreſſing or rehearſal of any other matter of circumſtance contained in this preſent Act, to which Avowry, Cogniſance or Juſtification, the Plaintiffs ſhall be admitted to reply, That the Defendant did take the ſaid diſtreſs, make the ſaid ſale or Impriſonment, or did any other Act ſuppoſed in his Declaration, of his own wrong, without any ſuch cauſe alledged by the ſaid Defendant, whereupon the iſſue in every ſuch Action ſhall be joyned, to be tryed by verdict of twelve men, and not otherwiſe, as is accuſtomed in other perſonal actions: And upon the tryal of that iſſue, the whole matter to be given on both parts in evidence, according to the very truth of the ſame, and after ſuch iſſue tried for the Defendant, or non-ſuit or diſcontinuance of the ſuit of the party Plaintiff after appearance, the ſame Defendant to recover treble damages, by reaſon of his wrongful vexation in that behalf, with his coſts alſo in that part ſuſtained, and that to be aſſeſſed by the ſame Jury, or writ to enquire of the damages, as the ſame ſhall require.

The Defendants plea in any ſuit commenced againſt him for a thing done by force of this Act.

Where the Defendant ſhall recover treble damages.

Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that when and as often as any Rate, Tax, Aſſeſſement or Charge, ſhall be made by vertue of the ſaid Commiſſion, and this Act or either of them, wherewith or whereby any Lands, Meadows, Marſhes, or other the premiſſes in the ſaid County of Suffolk, or any perſon or perſons, for or in reſpect of the ſame ſhall or ought to be charged, that in every ſuch caſe, one or more Commiſſioner or Commiſſioners of the ſaid County of Suffolk, ſhall be preſent at the time of the ſame taxing, aſſeſſing or charging, or ſhall have warning given unto him or them, or left for him or them at his or their dwelling-houſe or houſes, of the time and place, when and where the ſaid Commiſſioners ſhall meet and aſſemble, in and about the execution of this Act, or elſe the ſame Rate, Tax, Aſſeſſement and Charge, in, upon, or in reſpect of the ſaid Act, or elſe the ſame Rate, Tax, Aſſeſſement and Charge, in, upon, or in reſpect of the ſaid Lands, Meadows, Marſhes and Premiſſes in the ſaid County of Suffolk, ſhall be void and of none effect.

One Commiſſioner or more of the County of Suffolk ſhall be preſent when any land or perſon of that County ſhall be taxed.

This Act to continue during the term of ſeven years next enſuing the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, and from thence to the end of the firſt Seſſion of the then next Parliament, and no longer: And that nevertheleſs, all things done and executed in the mean time by vertue of this, and of the ſaid Commiſſion, ſhall ſtand and remain in force and effect, and be juſtifiable, as if this Act had ſtill remained in force and continued. 3 Car. 4. Continued untill the end of the next Seſſion of Parliament.

Continuance of this Act.

CAP. XXI.

Certain of the Kings Copiholders Eſtates ſhall be confirmed by Decree.

VVhere the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty is given to underſtand, that divers of his good and loving Subjects, holding Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, by copy of Court-Roll, of divers of his Majeſties Manors, are notwithſtanding ſubject to much queſtion and exception, either becauſe the ſaid Lands, Tenements, and Hereditaments were not perhaps originally parcels of the ſaid Manors, nor time out of mind, according to the ſtrict interpretation of Law, have been Copihold Lands or Tenements demiſed, or demiſable, by Copy of Court-Roll of the ſaid Manors: Or becauſe the Fines payable for admittances upon deſcents, ſurrenders, grants and alienations, of or to ſuch their Copihold Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, and other their Uſages, Cuſtoms, Liberties and Priviledges concerning the ſame, are either uncertain, or not ſo plain, but that both for the preſent, and in future times, much trouble, loſs and diſquiet may ariſe and happen unto ſuch Copihold Tenants, which may alſo be a reaſon to diſcourage them in their endeavours, in improving and husbanding their ſaid Lands, which turns to the damage of the Commonwealth: And where his Majeſty taking knowledge of the premiſſes, and minding to do favour to all his loving Subjects in thoſe caſes, and to ſettle, eſtabliſh, and ſecure their Copihold Eſtates, according to the true meaning, hath been pleaſed, that the Lord high Treaſurer of England, and the Chancellors of his Highneſſe Courts of Exchequer and Dutchy reſpectively, ſhould take order upon reaſonable compoſition to be made with his Majeſty, as to their wiſdoms ſhall ſeem fit, by ſuch Tenants to eſtabliſh their ſaid Copihold Eſtates by Decrees of the ſaid ſeveral Courts reſpectively according to true meaning: In performance of which his Majeſties gracious directions, divers Decrees of that nature have been already made, and others are intended from time to time to be made, upon ſuch compoſitions to be had with the Lord Treaſurer of England, and Chancellors of the Exchequer and Dutchy for the time being, for and on his Majeſties behalf as aforeſaid: Be it therefore enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That all the Meſſuages, Cottages, Mills, Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments contained or mentioned in any Decree or Decrees, to be made in any the ſaid Courts of Exchequer-Chamber or Dutchy, at any time ſince the firſt day of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, or within three years from thence next enſuing, upon compoſitions made with his Majeſties ſaid Officers, on his Highneſs behalf as aforeſaid, and in and by the ſame decreed to be from thenceforth good and perfect Copihold Lands, ſhall from the time of ſuch Decree

The cauſes of the Kings copihold tenants be ſubject to queſtions.

The validity of Decrees made in the Excheqer-Chamber or Dutchy concerning the Kings copihold Lands.

or Decrees made, be taken and adjudged to be good and perfect Copihold Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, according to the true intent and meaning of the ſaid Decrees reſpectively: And that all and every perſon and perſons, ſhall and may have, hold, uſe, and enjoy the ſaid Meſſuages, Cottages, Mills, Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, to them, their Heirs and Aſſigns for ever, by Copy of Court-Roll, or otherwiſe, according to the Cuſtoms of the ſaid Manors, ſeverally and reſpectively, according to the purport and effect of the ſaid Decrees, for ſuch Fines, Rents, Duties, and by, with, and according to ſuch Cuſtoms, Priviledges, Liberties, Profits and Commodities, and in ſuch manner and form, as in and by the ſaid Decrees, ſhall ve limited and appointed.

Decrees made concerning the Kings Copyhold-tenants confirmed by Parliament.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Decrees, and every of them, and every Clauſe, Article, and Sentence in every of them to be contained, ſhall ſtand and be ratified, allowed, approved, and confirmed by the authority of this preſent Parliament: And that the ſame Decrees, and every of them ſhall ſtand and be of force, to bind and conclude, as well the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, as alſo all other parties to the ſame, their Heirs and Aſſigns, and all claiming, by, from, or under them, in all things, according to the purport, effect and true meaning of the ſame Decrees, and that every clauſe, article, and ſentence in them, or any of them to be contained for ever, from and after the making of the ſame Decrees, ſhall ſtand, be, and remain, and be adjudged and taken to ſtand and be of ſuch and the ſame force and effect to all intents and purpoſes, as if the ſame Decrees, and every of them, and every clauſe, article, and ſentence in them, and every of them to be contained, were ſpecially and particularly herein expreſſed, and by the authority of this preſent Parliament enacted: Saving nevertheleſſe to all and every perſon and perſons, bodies politick and corporate, their Heirs and Succeſſors (other than the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs and Succeſſors) all ſuch Actions, Eſtates, Poſſeſſions, Rights, Titles, Intereſts, Rents and Demands, Profits, Commodities and Advantages whatſoever, as they or any of them have, ſhall, may, or ought to have, of, in, to, or out of all, or any of the premiſſes, in ſuch and the ſame Eſtate, Decree, Plight, manner and form to all intents and purpoſes, as if this Act had never been had nor made.

Anno Reg. JACOBI Regis Angliæ, Scotiæ, Franciæ, & Hiberniæ, viz. Angliæ, Franc. & Hibern. viceſimo primo, & Scotiæ quinquageſimo ſeptimo.

AT the Parliament begun and holden at Weſtminſter the nineteenth day of February, in the one and twentieth year of the Reign of our moſt gracious Soveraign Lord JAMES, by the Grace of God, of England, France, and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith, &c. And of Scotland the ſeven and fiftieth; And there continued untill the nine and twentieth day of May following: And then prorogued untill the ſecond day of November, 1624. To the high pleaſure of Almighty God, and to the weal publick of this Realm, were enacted as followeth.

CAP. I.

The Statute of 39 Eliz. 5. made perpetual.

Co. Inſt. 1. p. 726.

WHereas in the Parliament held in the nine and thirtieth year of the Reign of the late Queen Elizabeth of happy memory, a good Law was made, intituled, An Act for erecting of Hoſpitals, or abiding and working Houſes for the Poor: but the power, licence, and authority given by the ſaid Statute, to erect, found and eſtabliſh ſuch houſes and abiding places, as are therein mentioned, was confined to the ſpace of twenty years then next enſuing, which ſaid time is now expired.

The ſtatute of 39 Eliz. 5. made perpetual.

Be it therefore enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the ſaid Act, and all things therein contained, ſhall from henceforth be revived and made perpetual to have continuance for ever.

The erection of all Hoſpitals, &c. ſince the expiration of 39 Eliz. 5. confirmed.

And be it alſo enacted, that all Hoſpitals, Meaſons de Dieu, and abiding places for poor, lame, maimed, and impotent people, or for houſes of Correction, at any time ſince the ſaid twenty years expired, erected, founded or made, or at any time hereafter to be erected, founded or made, according to the purport of the ſaid Statute, ſhall be incorporated, and have perpetual ſucceſſion and capacity, to have, take and enjoy all other priviledges, benefits and immunities, to all intents and purpoſes, according to the proviſions, tenor, purport, and true meaning of the ſaid Act, as if the ſame had been made, founded, or endowed within the ſpace of twenty years next enſuing the ſaid Statute. Stat. 43 Eliz. 4.

CAP. II.

Concealed Lands ſhall not be recovered, unleſs it may be proved that the King had title unto them within 60 years.

The Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, of his bleſſed and gracious diſpoſition, and abundant grace, deſiring that his loving Subjects, and their Heirs and Succeſſors, may quietly have and hold all and ſingular Manors, Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, which they, their Anceſtors or Predeceſſors, or any other by, from, or under whom they claim, have of long time enjoyed, is graciouſly pleaſed, that it be enacted: And be it enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, by, and with the aſſent and conſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, ſhall not at any time hereafter ſue, impeach, queſtion, or implead any perſon or perſons, bodies politick or corporate, for, or in any wiſe concerning any Mannors, Lands, Tenements, Rents, Tythes or Hereditaments, other than Liberties and Franchiſes, or for, or in any wiſe concerning the Revenues, Iſſues, or Profits thereof, or make any Title, Claim, Challenge or Demand, of, in, or to the ſame, or any of them, by reaſon of any Right or Title accrewed, and grown threeſcore years paſt and more, and now in Eſſe, unleſſe his Majeſty, or ſome of his Progenitors, Predeceſſors or Anceſtors, or ſome other perſon or perſons, bodies politick or corporate, under whom his Majeſty any thing hath, or lawfully claimeth, have been anſwered by force and vertue of any ſuch Right or Title to the ſame, the Rents, Revenues, Iſſues or Profits thereof, within threeſcore years, next before the beginning of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, or that the ſame have been duly in charge to his Majeſty, or the late Queen Elizabeth, or have ſtood in Super of Record within the ſaid ſpace of threeſcore years; And that every perſon and perſons, bodies politick and corporate, their Heirs and Succeſſors, and all claiming by, from, or under them, or any of them, for, and according to their, and every of their ſeveral Eſtates and Intereſts, which they have, or claim to have in the ſame reſpectively, ſhall hereafter quietly and freely have, hold, and enjoy againſt his Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, claiming by any title accrued, or grown threeſcore years paſt, or above, and now in Eſſe, all and ſingular Manors, Lands, Tenements, Rents, Tythes and Hereditaments whatſoever, except Liberties and Franchiſes, which he or they, or his or their, or any of their Anceſtors or Predeceſſors, or thoſe from, by, or under under whom they claim, have held or enjoyed, or taken the Rents, Revenues, Iſſues or Profits thereof, by the ſpace of threeſcore years next before the beginning of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, unleſſe his Majeſty, or ſome of his Progenitors or Anceſtors, or ſome other perſon or perſons, bodies politick or corporate, by, from, or under whom his Majeſty any thing hath, or lawfully claimeth, in the ſaid Manors, Lands, Tenements, Rents, Tythes or Hereditaments, by force of any Right or Title, have been anſwered by vertue of any ſuch Right or Title, the Rents, Revenues, Iſſues, or other profits thereof within threeſcore years next before the beginning of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, Or that the ſame have been duly in charge, or ſtood in Super of Record, as aforeſaid, within the ſaid ſpace of threeſcore years: And furthermore, that every perſon and perſons, bodies politick and corporate, their Heirs and Succeſſors, and all claiming by, from, or under them, or any of them, for, and according to their, and every of their ſeveral Eſtates and Intereſts, which they have or claim reſpectively, ſhall quietly and freely have, hold, and enjoy all ſuch Manors, Lands, Tenements, Rents, Tythes and Hereditaments, except Liberties and Franchiſes, as they now have, claim or enjoy, (whereof his Majeſty, his Progenitors, Predeceſſors or Anceſtors, or he, or they, by, from, or under whom his Majeſty any thing hath, or lawfully claimeth, or ſome of them, by force of ſome Right or Title to the ſame, have not been anſwered by vertue of ſuch Right or Title, the Rents, Revenues, Iſſues or Profits thereof, within threeſcore years next before the beginning of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament). Nor the ſame have been duly in charge, or ſtood in Super of Record, as aforeſaid, within the ſpace of threeſcore years, againſt all, and every perſon and perſons, their Heirs and Aſſigns, having, claiming, or pretending to have any Eſtate, Right, Title, Intereſt, Claim or Demand whatſoever, of, in, or to the ſame, by force or colour of any Letters Patents, or Grants upon ſuggeſtion of concealment, or wrongful detaining, or not being in charge, or defective titles, of, or for which ſaid Manors, Lands, Tenements, Rents, Tythes and Hereditaments, or any of them, no Verdict, Judgment, Decree, judicial order upon hearing, or ſentence now ſtanding in force, hath been had or given in any Action, Bill, Plaint or Information, in any of his Majeſties Courts at Weſtminſter, for, or in the name of the Kings Majeſty, or of the late Queen Elizabeth, or for any the ſaid Patentees or Grantees, or for their, or any of their Heirs or Aſſigns, within threeſcore years next before the beginning of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament.

The King ſhall recover no concealed lands, &c. unleſſe it may be proved, that he had right or title thereunto within 60 years before the beginning of this Parliament.

Provided always, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to bar, impeach, or hinder his Majeſty, his Heirs or Succeſſors, of, for, or from any Manors, Lands, Tenements, Rents, Tythes or Hereditaments, whereof any Reverſion or Remainder now is in his Majeſty, for, or concerning the ſaid Reverſion or Remainder: Nor of, for, or from any Reverſion or Remainder, or poſſibility of Reverſion or Remainder, in any of his Majeſties Progenitors, or Predeceſſors, or Anceſtors, which by the expiration, end, or other determination of any limited Eſtate of Fee-ſimple, or of any Fee-tail, or other particular eſtate, hath, or ought to have fallen, or become in poſſeſſion within the ſpace of threeſcore years next before the beginning of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament: Nor of, for, or from any Right or Title, firſt accrued or grown to his Majeſty, or any of his Progenitors, Predeceſſors or Anceſtors, or in, or to any Manors, Lands, Tenements, Rents, Tythes or Hereditaments, within the ſpace of threeſcore years next before the beginning of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, and not before.

This Act ſhall not impeach the Kings title to any reverſion or remainder.

Provided alſo, and be it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to any Manors, Lands, Tenements, Rents, Tythes or Hereditaments, mentioned to be granted or conveyed by any of his Majeſties Progenitors, Predeceſſors or Anceſtors, or by any other, under whom his Majeſty claimeth, to any perſon or perſons of any limited Eſtate in fee-ſimple, or of any Eſtates in tail, or other particular eſtate, which ſeveral eſtates (if the ſame had been good and effectual in Law) have, or ought to have fallen, or become in poſſeſſion within threeſcore years next before the beginning of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, nor to any Manors, Lands, Tenements, Rents, Tythes or Hereditaments, mentioned to be granted, or conveyed by any of his Majeſties Progenitors, Predeceſſors or Anceſtors, or by any other, under whom his Majeſty claimeth, to any perſon or perſons, in fee-tail, or other particular eſtate, whereof the Reverſion or Inheritance (if ſuch eſtate tail or other particular eſtate had been good and effectual in Law) ſhould have been continued in his Majeſty, the firſt day of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament.

This Act ſhall not extend to alter the tenures or ſervices of lands.

Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That all and ſingular the ſaid Manors, Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, ſhall be holden of his Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, and of other perſon and perſons, bodies politick and corporate, their Heirs and Succeſſors reſpectively, by the ſame Tenures, Services, Fee-farms, chief Rents, Herriots, and other duties, to all intents and purpoſes, as the ſame ſhould or ought of right to have been holden, if the Eſtates, Rights and Intereſts, eſtabliſhed and made ſure by this preſent Act, had been before the making of this Act, firm, good, and effectual in Law, ſaving to every perſon and perſons, bodies politick and corporate, their Heirs and Succeſſors, (other than his moſt excellent Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, and other than all Patentees or Grantees of concealments, or defective titles, and all and every perſon or perſons, claiming from, by, or under them, or any of them, for, in reſpect, or by reaſon of any ſuch Patents, or Grants of concealments, or defective titles) all ſuch Rights, Title, Intereſt, Eſtate, Rents, Commons, Cuſtoms, Duties, Profits, and other Claims and Demands whatſoever, in, to, or out of the ſaid Manors, Lands, Tenements, Tythes or Hereditaments, as they or any of them had, or ought to have had before the making of this Act, any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The right of others ſaved.

It ſhall not extend to annull the cuſtome of two pence paid for ſea-coal at New caſtle.

Provided alwayes, that this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall extend to debar his Majeſty, his Heirs or Succeſſors, of, or from ſuch claim and demand as his Majeſty hath made, or may rightfully make, unto a certain duty or cuſtome of two pence upon a Chaldron of Sea-coal, to be paid in the Port of the Town of Newcaſtle upon Tyne, with the members thereof, but that the ſame ſhall be, and remain in ſuch ſort and degree, as if this Act had never been had or made.

All rents anſwered within 60 years confirmed.

Provided alſo, and be it enacted, that where any fee-farm Rent, or other Rent or Rents, have been anſwered and paid to the Kings Majeſty, or to any his Predeceſſors, by the more part of threeſcore years laſt paſt, out of any Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments; of which Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, the Eſtates, Rights or Intereſts, being defective, are eſtabliſhed, and made ſure by this preſent Act; That the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, ſhall from henceforth for ever, have, hold and enjoy the ſaid Rents and Arrearages thereof, in ſuch manner and form, and as fully and amply as the ſame were enjoyed by the more part of threeſcore years laſt paſt, before the beginning of this Seſſion of Parliament.

The Kings title required by this Act to to be within ſixty years, ought to accrew upon a verdict or demurrer, and not upon a bare putting in charge or ſtanding in ſuper.

Provided alwayes, and be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, that no putting in charge, nor ſtanding in Super, nor taking or anſwering the Farm-rents, Revenues or Profits of any of the ſaid Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, by force, colour, or pretext of any Letters Patents, or Grants of concealments, or defective titles, or of Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, out of charge or by force, colour or pretext of any inquiſitions, preſentments, by, or by reaſon of any Commiſſion, or other authority to find out concealments, defective titles, or Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments out of charge, ſhall be deemed, conſtrued, or taken to be a putting in charge, ſtanding in Super, or taking or anſwering the Farm rents, Revenues or Profits, by, or to his Majeſty, or any of his Progenitors or Predeceſſors, unleſſe thereupon ſuch Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, have been upon any Information or Suit, on the behalf of his Majeſty, or of any his Progenitors or Predeceſſors, upon a lawful Verdict given, or Demurrer in Law adjudged, or upon a hearing ordered or decreed for his Majeſty, or any of his Progenitors or Predeceſſors, or of any of them within the ſaid ſpace of threeſcore years.

This Act ſhall not extend to land, for which compoſition is, or ſhall be made before the end of this Parliament.

Provided alwayes, and be it enacted, That this Act, or any thing therein contained ſhall not extend, or be prejudicial to his Majeſty, for, or concerning any Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, for which any compoſition is, or before the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall be made with his Majeſties Commiſſioners for defective titles, and the moneys by ſuch compoſitions payable to his Majeſty, not payed before the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, unleſſe the ſaid moneys ſhall be paid, and his Majeſties Letters Patents procured, according to the true intent of ſuch compoſitions, within three moneths after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament.

CAP. III.

All Monopolies and Diſpenſations, with penal Laws, ſhall be void.

Monopolies, &c. contrary to the Laws of the Realm. All Monopolies, &c. ſhall be void.

Foraſmuch as your moſt excellent Majeſty, in your Royal Judgment, and of your bleſſed diſpoſition to the weal and quiet of your Subjects, did in the year of our Lord Lord God, one thouſand ſix hundred and ten, publiſh in print to the whole Realm, and to all Poſterity, That all Grants and Monopolies, and of the benefit of any penal Laws, or of power to diſpence with the Law, or to compound for the forfeiture, are contrary to your Majeſties Laws, which your Majeſties Declaration is truly conſonant and agreeable to the ancient and fundamental Laws of this your Realm: And whereas your Majeſty was further graciouſly pleaſed, expreſly to command, that no Suiter ſhould preſume to move your Majeſty for matters of that nature; yet neverthe leſſe upon miſinformations, and untrue pretences of publick good, many ſuch grants have been unduly obtained, and unlawfully put in execution, to the great grievance and inconvenience of your Majeſties Subjects, contrary to the Laws of this your Realm, and contrary to your Majeſties moſt Royal and bleſſed intention ſo publiſhed, as aforeſaid: for avoiding whereof, and preventing of the like to come, May it pleaſe your excellent Majeſty, at the humble ſuit of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, That it may be declared and enacted, and be it declared and enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That all Monopolies, and all Commiſſions, Grants, Licences, Charters and Letters Patents heretofore made or granted, or hereafter to be made or granted to any perſon or perſons, bodies politick or corporate whatſoever, of, or for the ſole buying, ſelling, making, working or uſing of any thing within this Realm, or the Dominion of Wales, or of any other Monopolies, or of power, liberty or faculty, to diſpence with any others, or to give licence or toleration to do, uſe, or exerciſe any thing againſt the tenour or purport of any Law or Statute, or to give or make any Warrant for any ſuch diſpenſation, licence or toleration to be had or made, or to agree or compound with any others for any penalty or forfeitures limited by any Statute, or of any grant or promiſe of the benefit, profit or commodity of any forfeiture, penalty or ſum of money, that is, or ſhall be due by any Statute, before Judgment thereupon had, and all Proclamations, Inhibitions, Reſtraints, Warrants of aſſiſtance, and all other matters and things whatſoever, any way tending to the inſtituting, erecting, ſtrengthening, furthering or countenancing of the ſame, or any of them, are altogether contrary to the Laws of this Realm, and ſo are, and ſhall be utterly void and of none effect, and in no wiſe to be put in ure or execution.

And be it further declared and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all Monopolies, and all ſuch Commiſſions, Grants, Licences, Charters, Letters Patents, Proclamations, Inhibitions, Reſtraints, Warrants of aſſiſtance, and all other matters and things tending, as aforeſaid, and the force and validity of them, and every of them, ought to be, and ſhall be for ever hereafter examined, heard, tryed and determined by and according to the common Laws of this Realm, and not otherwiſe.

Monopolies, &c. ſhall be tryed by the common laws of this Realm.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all perſon and perſons, bodies politick and corporate whatſoever, which now are, or hereafter ſhall be, ſhall ſtand and be diſabled, and uncapable to have, uſe, exerciſe, or put in ure any Monopoly, or any ſuch Commiſſion, Grants, Licence, Charter, Letters Patents, Proclamation, Inhibition, Reſtraint, Warrant of aſſiſtance, or other matter or thing tending as aforeſaid, or any liberty, power or faculty grounded, or pretended to be grounded upon them, or any of them.

All perſons diſabled to uſe Monopolies, &c.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons, at any time, after the end of forty dayes next after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall be hindered, grieved, diſturbed or diſquieted, or his or their Goods or Chattels any way ſeized, attached, diſtrained, taken, carried away, or detained by occaſion, or pretext of any Monopoly, or of any ſuch Commiſſion, Grant, Licence, Power, Liberty, Faculty, Letters Patents, Proclamation, Inhibition, Reſtraint, Warrant of aſſiſtance, or other matter or thing, tending as aforeſaid, and will ſue to be relieved in, or for any of the premiſſes, That in every ſuch caſe, the ſame perſon and perſons, ſhall and may have his and their remedy for the ſame at the Common Law, by an Action or Actions to be grounded upon this Statute; The ſame Action and Actions to be heard and determined in the Courts of Kings Bench, Common Pleas and Exchequer, or in any of them, againſt him or them by whom he or they ſhall be ſo hindered, grieved, diſturbed or diſquieted, or againſt him or them by whom his or their Goods or Chattels ſhall be ſo ſeized, attached, diſtrained, taken, carried away or detained, wherein all and every ſuch perſon and perſons which ſhall be ſo hindered, grieved, diſturbed or diſquieted, or whoſe Goods or Chattels ſhall be ſo ſeized, attached, diſtrained, taken, carried away or detained, ſhall recover three times ſo much as the damages which he or they ſuſtained, by means or occaſion of being ſo hindered, grieved, diſturbed or diſquieted, or by means of having his or their Goods or Chattels ſeized, attached, diſtrained, taken, carried away or detained, and double coſts; and in ſuch Suits, or for the ſtaying or delaying thereof, no Eſſoine, Protection, Wager of Law, Aide Prayer, Priviledge, Injunction, or order of reſtraint, ſhall be in any wiſe prayed, granted, admitted or allowed, nor any more than one imparlance. And if any perſon or perſons ſhall, after notice given, that the Action depending is grounded upon this Statute, cauſe or procure any Action at the Common Law, grounded upon this Statute, to be ſtayed or delayed before Judgment, by colour or means of any Order, Warrant, Power or Authority, ſave only of the Court wherein ſuch Action, as aforeſaid, ſhall be brought and depending, or after Judgment had upon ſuch Action ſhall cauſe or procure the execution, of or upon any ſuch Judgmeut, to be ſtayed or delayed by colour or means of any Order, Warrant, Power or Authority, ſave only by Writ of error or attaint: That then the ſaid perſon and perſons ſo offending, ſhall incur and ſuſtain the pains, penalties and forfeitures, ordained and provided by the Statute of proviſion and Præmunire, made in the ſixteenth year of the Reign of King Richard the Second.

The party grieved by pretext of a Monopoly, &c. ſhall recover treble damages and double coſts.

He that delayeth an action grounded upon this Statute incurs a præmunire.

Stat. 16 R. 2. 5.

Provided neverthe leſſe, and be it declared and enacted, That any Declaration before mentioned ſhall not extend to any Letters Patents, and grants of priviledge for the term of one and twenty years, or under, heretofore made of the ſole working or making of any manner of new Manufacture within this Realm, to the firſt and true Inventor or Inventors of ſuch Manufactures, which others at the time of the making of ſuch Letters Patents and Letters Patents to uſe new Manufactures ſaved.

and Grants did not uſe, ſo they be not contrary to the Law, nor miſchievous to the State, by raiſing of the prices of Commodities at home, or hurt of Trade, or generally inconvenient, but that the ſame ſhall be of ſuch force as they were, or ſhould be, if this Act had not been made, and of none other: And if the ſame were made for more than one and twenty years, That then the ſame for the term of one and twenty years only, to be accompted from the date of the firſt Letters Patents and Grants thereof made, ſhall be of ſuch force as they were, or ſhould have been, if the ſame had been made but for term of one and twenty years only, and as if this Act had never been had or made, and of none other.

Grants confirmed by Act of Parliament, ſaved.

Provided alſo, and be it declared and enacted, That any Declaration before mentioned ſhall not extend to any Letters Patents and Grants of Priviledge, for the term of fourteen years or under, hereafter to be made, of the ſole working or making of any manner of new Manufactures within this Realm, to the true and firſt Inventor and Inventors of ſuch Manufactures, which others at the time of making ſuch Letters Patents and Grants, ſhall not uſe, ſo as alſo they be not contrary to the Law, nor miſchievous to the State, by raiſing prices of Commodities at home, or hurt of Trade, or generally inconvenient: The ſaid fourteen years to be accompted from the date of the firſt Letters Patents, or grant of ſuch priviledge, hereafter to be made, but that the ſame ſhall be of ſuch force as they ſhould be, if this Act had never been made, and of none other.

Provided alſo, and it is hereby further intended, declared and enacted by authority aforeſaid, that this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe extend, or be prejudicial to any grant or priviledge, power or authority whatſoever heretofore made, granted, allowed or confirmed by any Act of Parliament now in force, ſo long as the ſame ſhall ſo continue in force.

Warrants granted to Juſtices, ſaved.

Provided alſo, that this Act ſhall not extend to any Warrant or privy Seal, made or directed, or to be made or directed by his Majeſty, his Heirs or Succeſſors to the Juſtices of the Courts of the Kings Bench, or Common Pleas, and Barons of the Exchequer, Juſtices of Aſſiſe, Juſtices of Oyer and Terminer, and Gaol-delivery, Juſtices of the Peace, and other Juſtices for the time being, having power to hear and determine Offences done againſt any penal Statute, to compound for the forfeitures of any penal Statute, depending in ſuit and queſtion before them, or any of them reſpectively, after plea pleaded by the party Defendant.

Charters granted to corporations, ſaved.

Provided alſo, and it is hereby further intended, declared and enacted, That this Act or any thing therein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe extend, or be prejudicial unto the City of London, or to any City, Borough or Town corporate within this Realm, for, or concerning any Grants, Charters or Letters Patents to them, or any of them, made or granted, or for, or concerning any Cuſtom or Cuſtoms uſed by or within them, or any of them, or unto any Corporations, Companies or Fellowſhips of any Art, Trade, Occupation or Myſtery, or to any Companies or Societies of Merchants within this Realm, erected for the maintenance, enlargement, or ordering of any Trade of Merchandize; But that the ſame Charters, Cuſtoms, Corporations, Companies, Fellowſhips and Societies, and their liberties, priviledges, powers and immunities ſhall be and continue of ſuch force and effect, as they were before the making of this Act, and of none other: Any thing before in this Act contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Letters Patents that concern Printing, Salt peter, Gun powder, great Ordnance, Shot, or Offices, ſaved.

Provided alſo, and be it enacted, That this Act, or any Declaration, Proviſion, Diſablement, Penalty, Forfeiture, or other thing before mentioned, ſhall not extend to any Letters Patents, or Grants of priviledge heretofore made, or hereafter to be made, of, for or concerning printing; Nor to any Commiſſion, Grant or Letters Patents heretofore made, or hereafter to be made, of, for, or concerning the digging, making or compounding of Saltpeter or Gunpowder: Or the caſting or making of Ordnance: or Shot for Ordnance: Nor to any grant or Letters Patents heretofore made, or hereafter to be made, of any Office or Offices heretofore erected, made or ordained, and now in being, and put in execution, other than ſuch Offices as have been decryed by any his Majeſties proclamation or proclamations: but that all and every the ſame Grants, Commiſſions and Letters Patents, and all other matters and things tending to the maintaining, ſtrengthening or furtherance of the ſame, or any of them, ſhall be and remain of the like force and effect, and no other, and as free from the declarations, proviſions, penalties and forfeitures contained in this Act, as if this Act had never been had nor made, and not otherwiſe.

This Act ſhall not extend to Commiſſions for Allume-Mines.

Provided alſo, and be it enacted, That this Act, or any declaration, proviſion, diſablement, penalty, forfeiture, or other thing before mentioned, ſhall not extend to any Commiſſion, Grant, Letters Patents or Priviledge heretofore made, or hereafter to be made, of, for, or concerning the digging, compounding or making of Allume or Allume Mines, but that all and every the ſame Commiſſions, Grants, Letters Patents and Priviledges, ſhall be and remain of the like force and effect, and no other, and as free from the declarations, proviſions, penalties and forfeitures containedin this Act, as if this Act had never been had nor made, and not otherwiſe.

Nor to the Liberties of Newcaſtle upon Tine, nor to Licences of keeping Taverns.

Provided alſo, and be it enacted, That this Act, or any declaration, proviſion, penalty, forfeiture, or other thing before mentioned, ſhall not extend or be prejudicial to any uſe, cuſtom, preſcription, franchiſe, freedom, juriſdiction, immunity, liberty or priviledge heretofore claimed, uſed or enjoyed by the Governors and Stewards, and Brethren of the Fellowſhip of the Hoaſtmen of the Town of Newcaſtle upon Tyne, or by the ancient Fellowſhip, Guild or Fraternity, commonly called Hoaſtmen, or, concerning the ſelling, carrying, lading, diſpoſing, ſhipping, venting or trading of, or for any Sea-coals, Stone-coals or Pit-coals, forth, or out of the Haven and River of Tyne, or to a Grant made by the ſaid Governour and Stewards, and Brethren of the Fellowſhip of the ſaid Hoaſtmen, to the late Queen Elizabeth, of any duty, or ſum of money to be paid, for, or in reſpect of any ſuch Coals as aforeſaid: Nor to any Grants, Letters Patents, or Commiſſion heretofore granted, or hereafter to be granted, of, for, or concerning the licencing of the keeping of any Tavern or Taverns, or ſelling, uttering, or retailing of Wines to be drunk, or ſpent, in the Manſion-houſe or houſes, or other place, in the tenure or occupation of the party or parties ſo ſelling or uttering the ſame: Or for, or concerning the making of any Compoſitions for ſuch licences, ſo as the benefit of ſuch Compoſitions be reſerved and applyed to, and for the uſe of his Majeſty, his Heirs or Succeſſors, and not to the private uſe of any other perſon or perſons.

Nor to Letters Patents granted to Sir Robert Manſell Knight, or to James Maxewell Eſquire.

Provided alſo, and be it enacted, That this Act, or any Declaration, Proviſion, Penalty, Forfeiture, or other thing before mentioned, ſhall not extend or be prejudicial to a Grant or Priviledge, for, or concerning the making of Glaſs, by his Majeſties Letters Patents, under the great Seal of England, bearing date the two and twentieth day of May, in the one and twentieth year of his Majeſties Reign of England, made and granted to Sir Robert Manſel Knight, Vice-Admiral of England: Nor to a Grant or Letters Patents bearing date the twelfth day of June, in the thirteenth year of his Majeſties Reign of England, made to James Maxewell Eſquire, concerning the tranſportation of Calves-skins: But that the ſaid ſeveral Letters Patents laſt mentioned, ſhall be and remain of the like force and effect, and as free from the Declarations, Proviſions, Penalties and Forfeitures before mentioned, as if this Act had never been had nor made, and not otherwiſe.

Nor to thoſe granted to Abraham Baker or Edward Lord Dudley.

Provided alſo, and be it declared and enacted, That this Act, or any Declaration, Proviſion, Penalty, Forfeiture, or other thing before mentioned, ſhall not extend or be prejudicial to a Grant or Priviledge, for, or concerning the making of Smalt, by his Majeſties Letters Patents under the great Seal of England, bearing date the ſixteenth day of February, in the ſixteenth year of his Majeſties Reign of England, made or granted to Abraham Baker: Nor to a Grant or Priviledge, for, or concerning the melting of Iron Ewer, and of making the ſame into Caſt-works, or Barres, with Sea-coals, or Pit-coals, by his Majeſties Letters Patents under the great Seal of England, bearing date the twentieth day of February, in the nineteenth year of his Majeſties Reign of England, made or granted to Edward Lord Dudley, but that the ſame ſeveral Letters Patents and Grants ſhall be and remain of the like force and effect, and as free from the Declarations, Proviſions, Penalties and Forfeitures before mentioned, as if this Act had never been had nor made, and not otherwiſe.

CAP. IV.

Informations upon penal Statutes ſhall be proſecuted in the Counties where the Offences were committed.

Co. Inſt. 4. p. 172.

Informations upon Penal Statutes, ſhall be proſecuted in the Counties where the offences were committed.

Cro. Car. 1,6.112.

Whereas the Offences againſt divers and ſundry Penal Laws and Statutes of this Realm may better and with more eaſe, and leſſe charge to the Subject, be commenced, ſued, informed againſt, proſecuted and tryed in the Counties where ſuch offences ſhall be committed: And whereas the poor Commons of this Realm are grievouſly charged, troubled, vexed, moleſted and diſturbed by divers troubleſome perſons, commonly called Relators, Informers and Promoters, by proſecuting and inforcing them to appear in his Majeſties Courts at Weſtminſter, and to anſwer offences ſuppoſed by them to be committed againſt the ſaid Penal Laws and Statutes, or elſe to compound with them for the ſame: For remedy whereof, Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That all Offences hereafter to be committed againſt any penal Statute, for which any common Informer or Promoter may lawfully ground any popular Action, Bill, Plaint, Suit or Information before Juſtices of Aſſiſe, Juſtices of Niſi prius or Gaol-delivery, Juſtices of Oyer and Terminer, or Juſtices of Peace in their general or quarter Seſſions, ſhall after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, be commenced, ſued, proſecuted, tryed, recovered and determined by way of Action, Plaint, Bill, Information or Indictment before the Juſtices of Aſſiſe, Juſtices of Niſi prius, Juſtices of Oyer and Terminer, and Juſtices of Gaol-delivery, or before the Juſtices of Peace of every County, City, Borough or Town corporate, and Liberty, having power to enquire of, hear and determine the ſame within this Realm of England, or Dominion of Wales, wherein ſuch Offences ſhall be committed, in any of the Courts, places of Judicature, or Liberties aforeſaid, reſpectively, only at the choice of the parties which ſhall or will commence ſuit, or proſecute for the ſame, and not elſewhere, ſave only in the ſaid Counties, or places uſual for thoſe Counties, or any of them: And that the like proceſſe in every popular Action, Bill, Plaint, Information or Suit to be commenced, or ſued, or proſecuted, after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, by force of, or according to the purport of this Act, be had and awarded, to all intents and purpoſes, as in an action of Treſpaſs, Vi & Armis, at the Common Law; and that all, and all manner of Informations, Actions, Bills, Plaints and Suits whatſoever, hereafter to commenced, ſued, proſecuted or awarded, either by the Attorney-General of his Majeſty, his Heirs or Succeſſors for the time being, or by any Officer or Officers whatſoever for the time being, or by any common Informer, or other perſon whatſoever, in any of his Majeſties Courts at Weſtminſter, for, or concerning any the Offences, Penalties or Forfeitures aforeſaid, ſhall be void and of none effect: Any Law, Cuſtom or Uſage to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

Upon default of proving, that the offence was committed in the ſame county, the defendant ſhall be found not guilty.

Cro. Car. 213.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That in all informations to be exhibited, and in all Bills, Counts, Plaints and Declarations, in any Action or Suit to be commenced againſt any perſon or perſons, either by, or on the behalf of the King, or any other, for, or concerning any Offence committed, or to be committed againſt any penal Statute, the Offence ſhall be laid and alledged to have been committed, in the ſaid County where ſuch Offence was in truth committed, and not elſewhere. And if the Defendant to any ſuch Information, Action or Suit, pleadeth that he oweth nothing, or that he is not guilty; and the Plaintiff or Informer in ſuch Information, Action or Suit, upon evidence to the Jury that ſhall try ſuch Iſſue, ſhall not both prove the Offence laid in the ſaid Information, Action or Suit, and that the ſame Offence was committed in that County, then the Defendant and Defendants ſhall be found not guilty.

The Informer ſhall make oath that the offence was committed in the ſame county where the ſuit is commenced.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no Officer or Miniſter in any Court of Record, ſhall receive, file, or enter of Record any Information, Bill or Plaint, Count or Declaration, grounded upon the ſaid penal Statutes, or any of them, which before by this Act are appointed to be heard and determined in their proper Counties, untill the Informer or Relator hath firſt taken a corporal Oath before ſome of the Judges of that Court, that the offence or offences laid in ſuch Information, Action, Suit or Plaint, was, or were not committed in any other County then where by the ſaid Information, Bill, Plaint, Count or Declaration, the ſame is, or are ſuppoſed to have been committed, and that he believeth in his conſcience, the offence was committed within a year before the information or ſuit, within the ſame County where the ſaid information or ſuit was commenced, the ſame Oath to be there entred of Record.

Cro. Car. 316.

The Defendant in an information upon a penal ſtatute, may plead the general iſſue.

And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any Information, Suit or Action ſhall be brought or exhibited againſt any perſon or perſons, for any Offence committed or to be committed againſt the form of any penal Law, either by, or on the behalf of the King, or by any other, or on the behalf the King, and any other, it ſhall be lawful for ſuch Defendants to plead the general iſſue, that they are not guilty, or that they owe nothing, and to give ſuch ſpecial matter in evidence to the Jury that ſhall try the ſame; which matter being pleaded, had been a good and ſufficient matter in Law to have diſcharged the ſaid Defendant or Defendants againſt the ſaid Information, Suit or Action, and the ſaid matters ſhall be then as available to him or them, to all intents and purpoſes, as if he or they had ſufficiently pleaded, ſet forth, or alledged the ſame matter in bar, or diſcharge of ſuch Information, Suit or Action.

Certain offences excepted.

Provided always, That this Act, or any Clauſe contained therein, ſhall not extend to any information, ſuit or action grounded upon any Law or Statute made againſt Popiſh Recuſants, or for, or concerning Popiſh Recuſancy, or againſt thoſe that ſhall not frequent the Church, and hear Divine-Service, nor to any information, ſuit or action, for maintenance, Champerty, or buying of Titles, nor to any ſuit or information grounded upon the Statute made in the firſt year of the Reign of our Soveraign Lord the King, of a Subſidy granted to the King, of Tonnage, Poundage, Wooll, &c. Nor for or concerning the concealing or defrauding the King, his Heirs or Succeſſors, of any Cuſtom, Tonnage, Poundage, Subſidy, Impoſt or Priſage, or for tranſporting of Gold, Silver, Ordnance, Powder, Shot, Munition of all ſorts, Wooll, Wool-fells, or Leather, but that ſuch offence may be laid or alledged to be in any County, at the pleaſure of any Informer: Any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding, Stat. 21 Eliz. 5.

CAP. V.

A Quietus eſt granted to a Sheriff, ſhall diſcharge him of all Accompts due to the King.

Foraſmuch as divers Sheriffs of ſeveral Counties within this Realm of England and Dominion of Wales, have been of late much troubled and vexed long time after that they have paſſed their Accompts, and had their Quietus eſt, and charged anew with arrearages, debts, and other ſums of money pretended to have been by them levied and received, and not formerly accompted for, to the great diſcouragement of others, to take upon them the ſaid Office: Be it therefore enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That whenſoever any Sheriff or Sheriffs within this Realm of England or Dominion of Wales, upon the paſſing of their Accompts, ſhall have their Quietus eſt, That then, and from thenceforth the ſaid Sheriff or Sheriffs, their Heirs, Executors and Adminiſtrators, Lands, Tenements, Goods and Chattels, ſhall be abſolutely diſcharged of all manner of ſum or ſums of money which he or they ſhall have ſo levied or received, and pretended not to be accompted for within the ſaid Accompt, whereupon he or they had their Quietus eſt, unleſſe ſuch Sheriff or Sheriffs ſhall be called in queſtion for ſuch ſum or ſums of money pretended to be levied and received, and not accompted for, within the ſpace of four years after the time of their ſaid Accompt and Quietus eſt: And that every Officer or Miniſter that ſhall ſend out, or cauſe to be ſent out any Writ or Proceſſe, or by whoſe default any Writ or Proceſſe ſhall be ſent out contrary to this Act, ſhall for every ſuch offence forfeit and pay to the party grieved forty pounds, with his coſt and damages, the ſaid ſum of forty pounds, and the ſaid coſts and damages to be recovered by Action of Debt, Bill, Plaint or Information, to be brought and proſecuted in the Court of the Kings Bench, or the Court of the Common Pleas, at the election of the Plaintiff: Wherein no Priviledge, Protection, Eſſoine or Wager of Law ſhall be allowed to the Defendant.

A Quietus eſt ſhall be a ſufficient diſcharge for a Sheriff, unleſs he be queſtioned within four years after the grant thereof.

The Officer that vexeth the Sheriff contrary to this Act, ſhall forfeit 40 l.

For the third offence he ſhall be diſabled to continue in any Office.

And further be it enacted, That every ſuch Offendor being three times lawfully convicted of any ſuch offence or offences, upon the tryal of ſuch Action or Debt, Bill, Plaint or Information, ſhall for ſuch offence or offences, contrary to the meaning of this Act, be utterly diſabled to be or continue in any office or imployment in the ſaid Court of Exchequer, or in any other Court of Juſtice whatſoever. 14 Car. 2. cap. 21.

CAP. VI.

For Felony, where Clergy is allowed to the Man, the Woman ſhall be burned in the Hand.

For Felony where the man may have his Clergy, the woman ſhall be burned in the hand with an hot Iron.

WHereas by the Laws of this Realm the benefit of Clergy is not allowed to Women convicted of Felony, by reaſon whereof many Women do ſuffer death for ſmall cauſes: Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That any woman being lawfully convicted by her confeſſion, or by the verdict of twelve men, of or for the felonious taking of any Money, Goods or Chattels, above the value of twelve pence, and under the value of ten ſhillings, or as acceſſary to ſuch Offence, the ſaid Offence being no Burglary nor Robbery in or near the High-way, nor the felonious taking of any Money, Goods or Chattels, from the perſon of any man or woman privily, without his or their knowledge, but only ſuch an Offence, as in the like caſe a man might have his Clergy, ſhall for the firſt offence be branded and marked in the hand, upon the brawn of the left thumbe with a hot burning Iron, having a Roman T. upon the ſaid Iron: The ſaid mark to be made by the Jaylor openly in the Court before the Judge, and alſo to be further puniſhed by Impriſonment, whipping, ſtocking, or ſending to the Houſe of Correction, in ſuch ſort, manner and form, and for ſo long time (not exceeding the ſpace of one whole year) as the Judge, Judges or Juſtices before whom ſhe ſhall be ſo convicted, or which ſhall have authority in the cauſe, ſhall in their diſcretion think meet, according to the quality of the Offence, and then to be delivered out of Priſon for that Offence: Any Law, Cuſtome or Uſage to the contrary notwithſtanding: This Act to continue untill the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament. 3 Car. 4. Continued untill the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

CAP. VII.

The Statutes of 1 Jac. 9. and 4 Jac. 5. made perpetual; One witneſſe ſhall be ſufficient to convince a man of Tipling and Drunkenneſſe.

1 Jac. 9. & 4 Jac. 5. made perpetual.

WHereas one Statute, intituled, An Act to reſtrain the inordinate haunting or tipling in Innes, Alehouſes, and other Victualing-Houſes, made in the firſt year of his Highneſſe happy Reign of England; And another Statute, intituled, An Act to repreſſe the odious and loathful Sin of Drunkenneſſe, made in the fourth year of his Highneſs Reign of England, were made to continue to the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament, and by experience have been found good and neceſſary Laws: Be it therefore enacted, That the ſaid Statutes with the alterations and additions hereafter expreſſed, ſhall be put in due execution, and continue for ever: And whereas by the ſaid Statutes, proof of two witneſſes is required; Be it enacted, That proof of one witneſſe from henceforth ſhall be allowed and taken for ſufficient in that behalf: And that the voluntary confeſſion (before any ſuch perſons, as by the ſaid Act are authorized to miniſter the Oath) of any perſon offending either of the ſaid Statutes, ſhall ſuffice to convince the perſon ſo offending; after ſuch confeſſion, the Oath of the party ſo offending, ſhall and may be taken, and be a ſufficient proof againſt any other offending at the ſame time.

One witneſs, or the offendors own confeſſion before a Magiſtrate ſhall be ſufficient to convince him.
The oath of him that confeſſeth the offence, ſhall be ſufficient to convince any other.
He that ſtayes tipling in an Inne, &c. ſhall incur the penalty inflicted by 4 Jac. 5.

And be it further enacted, that if any other perſon or perſons, wherefoever his or their habitation or abiding be, ſhall at any time hereafter be found upon view, or his own confeſſion, or proof of one witneſſe, to be tipling in any Inne, Ale-houſe, or Victualling-houſe, ſuch perſon or perſons ſhall be from henceforth adjudged and conſtrued to be within the ſaid Statutes, as if he or they had inhabited and dwelt in the City, Town corporate, Market-Town, Village or Hamlet, where the ſaid Inne, Alehouſe or Victualling-houſe is, or ſhall be, where he or they ſhall be ſo found tipling, and ſhall incur the like penalty, and the ſame to be in ſuch ſort levyed and diſpoſed, as in the ſaid Act is expreſſed, concerning ſuch as there inhabit: and the voluntary confeſſion of ſuch perſon or perſons ſo offending, before ſuch as by the ſaid Statutes are authorized to miniſter the Oath, ſhall ſuffice to convince themſelves, and after ſuch confeſſion, the Oath of ſuch perſon or perſons ſo confeſſing, ſhall and may be taken by ſuch as by the ſaid Act have authority to miniſter an Oath, and ſhall be a ſufficient proof againſt any other offending at that time.

He that is convicted of Drunkenneſſe ſhall forfeit v. s.

And be it further enacted, That any Juſtice of Peace in any County, and any Juſtice of Peace or other head-Officer in any City or Town corporate, within their Limits reſpectively, ſhall from henceforth have power and authority, upon his own view, confeſſion of the party, or proof of one witneſs upon Oath before him, which he by vertue of this Act, ſhall have power to adminiſter, to convince any perſon of the offence of Drunkenneſſe, whereby ſuch perſon ſo convict ſhall incur the forfeiture of five ſhillings for every ſuch offence, and the ſame to be levied, or the Offendor otherwiſe puniſhed, as in the ſaid Statute is appointed. And for the ſecond offence, he ſhall become bound to the good behaviour, as if he had been convicted in open Seſſions, Any thing in the ſaid former Statute, made in the fourth year of his Majeſties Reign, to the contrary notwithſtanding.

For the ſecond offence he ſhall be bound to the good behaviour.

An Alehouſe-keeper offending, ſhall be diſabled from keeping Alehouſe three years after.

And be it further enacted, That if any perſon being an Ale-houſe-keeper, or that ſhall at any time hereafter be an Ale-houſe-keeper, ſhall at any time hereafter be lawfully convict for any Offence againſt any the branches of either of the ſaid two former Statutes, according to the alterations and additions therein contained, or againſt the true meaning of this preſent Statute, That every perſon ſo convict, ſhall for the ſpace of three years next enſuing the ſaid conviction, be utterly diſabled to keep any ſuch Alehouſe.

Conſtables, &c. ſhall be charged (in their Oaths) to preſent the offences committed againſt 1 Jac. 9.

And whereas in the ſaid Statute, made in the fourth year of his ſaid Majeſties Reign, intituled, An Act to repreſſe the odious and loathſome Sin of Drunkenneſſe, Conſtables, Church-wardens, Headboroughs, Tythingmen, Aleconners and Sidemen are appointed in the Oaths incident to their Offices, to be likewiſe charged to preſent the Offences contrary to the ſaid Statute; Be it enacted, That the ſaid Oath ſhall always hereafter be alſo enlarged, and extend to preſent all Offences done, contrary to the Statute made in the firſt Seſſion of Parliament, held in the firſt year of his Highneſs Reign, intituled, An Act to reſtrain the inordinate haunting and tipling in Inns and Alehouſes, and other Victualling-houſes, with the alterations and additions in this Act contained, made in the ſaid fourth year of his ſaid Majeſties Reign, according the alterations and additions of the ſame, in this Act expreſſed.

CAP. VIII.

Proceſſe and Superſede of the Peace, or good Behaviour, ſhall not be granted, but upon motion in open Court; Certioraries ſhall not be allowed, unleſſe the Indictee will be bound to pay Coſts.

VVhereas divers turbulent and contentious perſons, ſome out of malice, and others in hope of gain, by way of compoſition do oftentimes, upon their corporal Oaths, peremptorily and corruptly taken, or otherwiſe, upon falſe ſuggeſtions and ſurmiſes, procure proceſſe of the Peace or good Behaviour out of his Majeſties Courts of Chancery and Kings Bench, againſt divers of his Majeſties quiet Subjects, whoſe dwellings and abodes are (for the moſt part) in Counties far diſtant and remote from the ſaid Courts, to their intolerable trouble and vexation, whereas they might, upon good cauſe ſhewed, receive Juſtice at the hands of the Juſtices of the Peace, in the Counties where they dwelt:

Proceſs of the peace, or, &c. ſhall not be granted, but by motion in open Court.

For remedy whereof, Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, that all proceſſe of the peace or good behaviour, after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, to be granted or awarded out of the ſame Courts, or either of them, againſt any perſon or perſons whatſoever, at the ſuit of, or by the proſecution of any perſon or perſons whatſoever, ſhall be void and of none effect, unleſs ſuch proceſſe ſhall be ſo granted or awarded, upon motion firſt made before the Judge or Judges of the ſame Courts reſpectively, (ſitting in open Court, and upon declaration in writing, upon their corporal Oaths, to be then exhibited unto them, by the parties which ſhall deſire ſuch proceſſe) of the cauſes for which ſuch proceſſe ſhall be granted or awarded, by, or out of any the ſaid Courts reſpectively, and unleſs that ſuch motion and declaration be mentioned to be made upon the back of the Writ: The ſaid writings there to be entred and remain of Record: And that if it ſhall afterwards appear unto the ſaid Courts, or either of them reſpectively, that the cauſes expreſſed in ſuch writings, or any of them, be untrue; That then the Judge or Judges of the ſaid Courts, or either of them reſpectively, ſhall and may award ſuch coſts and damages unto the parties grieved, for their, or any of their wrongful vexations in that behalf, as they ſhall think fit: And that the party or parties ſo offending, ſhall and may be committed to priſon by ſuch Judge or Judges, untill he or they pay the ſaid coſts and damages. And whereas divers turbulent and contentious perſons, deſervedly fearing to be bound to the peace, or good behaviour by the Juſtices of Peace of the Counties where they dwell, do oftentimes procure themſelves to be bound to the peace, or good behaviour, in the ſaid Court, or one of them, upon inſufficient Sureties, or upon colourable proſecution of ſome perſon or perſons, who will be ready at all times to releaſe them at their own pleaſure, whereupon his Majeſties Writs of Superſedeas are oftentimes directed to the Juſtices of Peace, and other his Majeſties Officers, requiring them, and every of them, to forbear to arreſt or impriſon the parties aforeſaid, for the cauſes aboveſaid; by means whereof, the ſaid turbulent and contentious perſons miſdemean themſelves amongſt their Neighbours with impunity, to the great offence and diſturbance of their Neighbours, amongſt whom they converſe and live, and to the affront of the Juſtices of Peace, and to the evil example and encouragement of like evil diſpoſed perſons.

All writs of Superſedeas ſhall be void, unleſs the proceſs be granted upon motion in open Court, and be proſecuted bona fide.

Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all Writs of Superſedeas after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, to be granted by, or out of either of the Courts aforeſaid, ſhall be void and of none effect, unleſſe ſuch proceſſe be granted likewiſe upon motion in open Court firſt made, as aforeſaid, and upon ſuch ſufficient Sureties, as ſhall appear unto the Judge or Judges of the ſame Court reſpectively upon Oath, to aſſeſſed at five pounds Lands, or ten pounds in Goods in the Subſidy Book, at the leaſt, which Oathes, and the names of ſuch Sureties, with the places of their aboad, and where they ſtand ſo aſſeſſed in the Subſidy-Books, ſhall be entred and remain of Record in the ſame Courts: And unleſſe it ſhall alſo firſt appear unto the ſaid Judge or Judges, from whom ſuch Superſedeas is deſired, That the proceſſe of the Peace, or good Behaviour, is proſecuted againſt him or them, deſiring ſuch Superſedeas bona fide, by ſome party grieved in that Court, out of which ſuch Superſedeas is deſired to be ſo awarded and directed.

And whereas divers lewd and evil diſpoſed perſons, commonly called common Bailers, or Knights of the Poſt, being baſe and beggarly perſons, do oftentimes procure themſelves to be aſſeſſed at high rates in the Subſidy-Books, and ſometimes do falſly take upon them the names of other men of good ability, of purpoſe to enable themſelves to be accepted for bail, which perſons being of ſmall or no ability or worth, are ready for lucre and gain, to become bound by Recognizance as Sureties for ſuch perſons as ſhall procure themſelves to be bound to the Peace or good Behaviour as aforeſaid, by means whereof the Judge or Judges of the ſaid Courts not knowing them, may be eaſily abuſed, and juſtice deluded.

Falſe ſureties procured for the gaining of writs of Superſedeas ſhall be puniſhed by the Judges.

Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Judge or Judges of the Courts aforeſaid, reſpectively, or either of them, upon proof of any the miſdemeanours aforeſaid, to be committed, in the obtaining of the aforeſaid writs of Superſedeas, or procuring ſuch Surety, as aforeſaid, ſhall and may likewiſe puniſh the falſe and inſufficient Sureties and Bailers aforeſaid, and the Procurers thereof, according to their diſcretions, So as ſuch puniſhment extend not to the loſs of life or member.

And whereas divers bills of Indictments, of Riot, Forcible Entry, or of Aſſault and Battery, being found before the Juſtices of Peace at their Quarter-Seſſions of the Peace, or otherwiſe, are oftentimes removed from the Counties where ſuch Indictments are found by writs of Certiorari, unto them directed, out of the ſaid Courts, by, or by the means of the perſons ſo indicted, who well know, that few or no perſons grieved by ſuch their Outrages and Miſdemeanours, whereof they ſtand ſo indicted, will undergo the travel or charge of proſecution of ſuch Indictment ſo removed, by bringing the parties ſo indicted to tryal; By means whereof, ſuch Offendors, for the moſt part, eſcape unproſecuted or unpuniſhed, and the King loſeth the Fines which ought, and ſhould have been impoſed upon them, if ſuch Indictments had been proſecuted, and not removed:

Be it therefore enacted, That all ſuch writs of Certiorari ſhall from, and after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, be delivered at ſome Quarter-Seſſions of the Peace in open Court. And that the parties indicted ſhall before the allowance of ſuch Certioraries, become bound unto ſuch perſon or perſons which ſhall proſecute ſuch bills of Indictment againſt them, in the ſum of ten pounds, with ſuch ſufficient Sureties as the Juſtices of Peace at their Quarter-Seſſion of the Peace ſhall think fit, with condition to pay unto the ſaid Proſecutors of ſuch bills of Indictment, within one moneth after the conviction of ſuch parties indicted, ſuch reaſonable coſts and damages, as the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, of ſuch Counties where ſuch bills of Indictment ſhall be found in the ſaid Seſſions of the Peace, ſhall aſſeſſe or allow: And that in default thereof, it ſhall be lawful for the ſaid Juſtices to proceed to tryal of ſuch Indictments, any ſuch writs of Certiorari to remove the ſame Indictments notwithſtanding.

Certioraries ſhall not be allowed, unleſs the Indicte will become bound to pay coſts.

CHAP. IX.

The Trade and Traffique of Welſh-Clothes ſhall be free.

Whereas the trade of making Welſh Clothes, Cottons, Frizes, Linings and Plains, within the Principality and Dominion of Wales, is, and hath been of long continuance, in the uſing and exerciſing whereof many thouſand of the poorer ſort of the Inhabitants there, in precedent Ages have been ſet on work in ſpinning, carding, weaving, fulling, cottoning and ſhearing, whereby they (having free liberty to ſell them to whom, and where they would) not only relieved and maintained themſelves and their Families in good ſort, but alſo grew to ſuch wealth and means of living, as they were thereby enabled to pay and diſcharge all Duties, Mizes, Charges, Subſidies and Taxations which were upon them impoſed or rated in their ſeveral Counties, Pariſhes and Places wherein they dwelled, for the relief of the poor, and for the ſervice of the King and the Common wealth: And whereas alſo the Drapers of the Town of Shrewsbury, in the County of Salop, have of late obtained ſome Orders of reſtraint, whereby the Inhabitants of Wales find themſelves much prejudiced in the freedom of their Markets for buying and ſelling of their Clothes, to their great damage, as was verified by the general voice of the Knights and Burgeſſes of the twelve Shires of Wales, and of the County of Monmouth:

The great benefit of making Welſh Clothes.

The reſtraint of ſelling Clothes prejudicial to the Inhabitants of Wales.

For remedy whereof, Be it declared and enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That it ſhall and may be lawful, to and for all and every his Majeſties Subjects, inhabiting or dwelling, or which at any time hereafter ſhall inhabit or dwell within the ſaid Dominion of Wales, or any part thereof, freely to ſell, by way of barter, or otherwiſe, all or any their Welſh Clothes, Cottons, Frizes, Linings or Plaines, at their wills and pleaſures, to any perſon or perſons, who lawfully by the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, may buy the ſame: and that it ſhall and may be lawful for any perſon and perſons, who by the Laws or Statutes of this Realm, may lawfully buy ſuch Clothes, and other the premiſſes, freely to buy the ſame of any perſon or perſons, inhabiting or dwelling, or which hereafter ſhall inhabit or dwell within the ſaid Dominion of Wales, Any Charter, Grant, Act, Order, or any thing elſe heretofore made or done, or hereafter to be made or done to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The Inhabitants of Wales may ſell their Clothes freely.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall and may be lawful to and for any perſon or perſons uſing, or which ſhall uſe the Trade of Merchandiſe, to tranſport into any the parts beyond the Seas, any of the ſaid Welſh Clothes, Cottons, Frizes, Linings and Plaines out of any Ports or Havens within this Realm of England, or Dominion of Wales, or out of any the members thereof, where his Majeſty, his Heirs or Succeſſors have, or ſhall then have Officers attending to ſearch, view, and control the ſame, and to receive the Kings Majeſties Cuſtoms, and other Duties due and payable for the ſame: So as alwayes the Cuſtoms and other Duties payable for ſuch Clothes, and other the premiſſes, ſo to be tranſported, ſhall be juſtly and duly paid for the ſame: And ſo as alwayes the ſaid Welſh Clothes, Cottons, Frizes, Linings and Plains, before the tranſporting thereof, ſhall be fulled, cottoned and ſheared, as in former times they have uſed to be: And that no perſon ſhall tranſport the ſaid Clothes in other manner, then as aforeſaid, upon pain to forfeit the whole value of ſuch Clothes ſo to be tranſported, contrary to the true meaning of this Act; the one half of all which forfeitures to be to his Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other half to ſuch perſon or perſons as will ſue for the ſame by Information, Bill, Plaint, Action of Debt, or otherwiſe, in any of his Majeſties Courts of Record, wherein no Eſſoine, Protection, Priviledge, or Ley-gager ſhall be allowed to the Defendant.

Welſh clothes may be tranſported.

This Act to endure and continue for the term of ſeven years from the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, and from thenceforth to the end of the next Seſſion of Parliament enſuing after the end of thoſe ſeven years.

The continuance of this Act.

Foreigners ſhall not ſell Welſh clothes by retail.

Provided alwaies, That this act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not give power or authority to any Foreigner or Foreigners, to buy and ſell, by way of retail, any the ſaid Welſh clothes, cottons, Frizes, Lining or Plaines, within the town of Shrewsbury, or in any other corporate town or priviledged place, contrary to any lawful Charter, Grant, Cuſtome, Priviledg or Liberty in the ſame town or place now being or uſed.

CAP. X.

The branch of the Statute of 34 H. 8. 26. that concerns the Kings power for altering the Lawes of Wales, repealed,

The loyalty and obedience of the Welſh.

Whereas the ſubjects of the Country and Dominion of Wales have been conſtantly loyal and obedient, and have lived in all dutiful ſubjection to the Crown of England: And whereas by an act of Parliament, made in the four and thirtieth year of the reign of the late King Henry the eight, entituled, An Act for certain Ordinances in the Kings Majeſties Dominions and Principality of Wales amongſt other things) It is enacted and ordained in theſe words:

By a branch contained in the 34 & 35 H. 8. 26. the King had power to alter the Laws of Wales.

Item, it is further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Kings moſt royal Majeſty ſhall and may at all times hereafter, from time to time change, adde, alter, order, miniſh and reform all manner of things afore rehearſed, as to his moſt excellent wiſdom and diſcretion ſhall be thought convenient, and alſo to make Laws and Ordinances for the Commonwealth, and good quiet of his ſaid Dominion of Wales, and his ſubjects of the ſame, from time to time, at his Majeſties pleaſure: Any thing contained in this act, or in the act made for the Shire-ground of Wales, or any other act or acts, thing or things, to the contrary thereof heretofore made in any wiſe notwithſtanding. And that all ſuch alterations of the premiſes, or any part thereof, and all ſuch lawes and ordinances to be hereafter made, deviſed and publiſhed by authority of this act, by the K. Majeſty in writing under his highneſſe ſeale, ſhall be of as good ſtrength, vertue and effect, as if they had been had and made by authority of Parliament.

And foraſmuch as it is manifeſt by long experience, That the laws and ſtatutes already ordained for the ſaid Country, are in effect and for the moſt part agreeable to the lawes and ſtatutes of this his highneſſe Kingdom of England, and all, and every of the ſame obeyed with great alacrity: And for that after ſo long a quiet among them, any future change or innovation herein would be dangerous and for the abolition of diſtinction and difference between the ſubjects of England and Wales, His moſt excellent Majeſty tendering the common and conſtant good of the ſaid Country and Dominion of Wales, and for their poſterity for ever hereafter, is graciouſly pleaſed, That it may be enacted by his Majeſty, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled.

A repeal of that branch of 34 & 35 H. 8. 26.

And be it enacted by the authority of the ſame, That the ſaid recited branch of the ſaid act of Parliament, and every article, word and ſentence in that branch contained, be utterly repealed and made void and of none effect, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as if the ſaid branch had never been made nor contained in the ſaid act: And that the Kings Majeſty, his heirs or ſucceſſors, ſhall not by vertue of the ſaid clauſe or branch in the ſaid Act, at any time hereafter alter, change or reform any lawes, uſage or cuſtome, or make any new laws, for or concerning the ſaid Dominion or Principality of Wales.

The reſidue of that ſtatute confirmed.

Provided alwayes, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that all and every clauſe, article, and thing contained in the aforeſaid act of Parliament, other then the aforeſaid branch before recited, ſhall ſtand, remain, and be in as full force and effect, to all intents, conſtructions, and purpoſes, as if this act had never been had or made.

CAP. XI.

A Judgment given in Chancery for the revoking and annulling of certain Letters Patents (granted to Henry Heron for the ſole priviledg of ſalting, drying and packing of fiſh within the counties of Devon and Cornwal) confirmed. P R.

CHP. XII,

The ſtat of 7. Jac, cap. 5. enlarged, and made perpetual.

Co Inſt. 4. part, 174.

Whereas an Act intituled, An Act for eaſe in pleading againſt troubleſom and contentious ſuits, proſecuted againſt Juſtices of the peace, Mayors, Conſtables, and certain other his Majeſties Officers, for the lawful execution of their office, made in the ſeventh year of his Majeſties moſt happy reign of England, was made to continue but for ſeven years, and from thence to the end of the next Parliament, after the ſaid ſeven years which by experience hath ſince been found to be a good and profitable law.

The Stat. of 7 Jac. 5. made perpetual.

Be it therefore enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, that the ſaid act ſhall from and after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, be perpetual and have continuance for ever.

Church-wardens and Overſeers of the poor ſhall be comprehended within the purview of 7 Jac. 5.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that all Church-wardens, and all perſons called ſworne-men executing of the office of Church-wardens, and all overſeers of the poor, and all others which in their aid and aſſiſtance, or by their commandement, ſhall do any thing touching or concerning his or their office or offices, ſhall hereafter be enabled to receive, and have ſuch benefit and help by vertue of the ſaid act to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as if they had been ſpecially named therein.

And whereas notwithſtanding the ſaid ſtatute, the plaintiffe is at liberty to lay his action which he ſhall bring againſt any Juſtice of Peace, or other Officer in any foreign Country, at his choice, which hath proved very inconvenient unto ſundry of the Officers and perſons aforeſaid, that have been impleaded by ſome contentious and troubleſom perſons in Countries far remote from their place of habitations:

An Action brought againſt an Officer, ſhall be laid in the County where the fact was committed.

Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that if any action, bill, plaint, or ſuit upon the caſe, treſpaſſe, battery, or falſe impriſonment, ſhall be brought after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, againſt any Juſtice of peace, Mayor or Bailiff of City, or Town corporate, Headborough, Port-reve, Conſtable, Tithingman, Collector of Subſidy, or Fifteens, Church-wardens, and perſons called ſworn-men, executing the office of Church-warden or Overſeer of the poor, and their deputies, or any of them, or any other, which in their aid or aſſiſtance, or by their commandment, ſhall do any thing touching or concerning his or their office or offices for or concerning any matter, cauſe or thing, by them or any of them done, by vertue or reaſon of their, or any of their office or offices, that the ſaid action, bill, plaint or ſuit ſhall be laid within the county where the treſpaſs or fact ſhall be done and committed, and not elſe-where, and that it ſhall be lawful to and for all and for every perſon and perſons aforeſaid, to plead thereunto the general iſſue, that he or they are not guilty and to give ſuch ſpecial matter in evidence to the Jury which ſhall try the ſame, as in, or by the ſaid former act is limited or declared. And that if upon the tryal of any ſuch Action, bill, plaint or ſuit, the plaintiff or plaintiffs therein, ſhall not prove to the Jury which ſhall try the ſame, That the treſpaſſe, battery, impriſonment, or other fact or cauſe of his, her, or their ſuch action, bill, plaint or ſuit, was, or were had, made, committed, or done within the county, wherein ſuch Action, bill, plaint or ſuit ſhall be laid, that then in every ſuch caſe the Jury which ſhall try the ſame, ſhall find the defendant and defendants in every ſuch action, bill, plaint or ſuit, not guilty, without having any regard or reſpect to any evidence given by the plaintiff or plaintiffs therein, touching the treſpaſſe, battery, impriſonment, or other cauſe, for which the ſame action, bill, plaint or ſuit, is or ſhall be brought. And if the verdict ſhall paſſe with the defendant or defendants in any ſuch Action, bill, plaint or ſuit, or the plaintiff or plaintiffs therein become non-ſuit, or ſuffer any diſcontinuance thereof, That in every ſuch caſe the defendant or defendants ſhall have ſuch double coſts and all other advantages and remedies, as in and by the ſaid former act is limited, directed or provided.

The defendant ſhall have double coſts.

CAP. XIII.

The defects of the Statutes of 32 H. 8. 30. and 18 El. 14. for reformation of Jeofayles, ſupplied.

32 H. 8. 30.

18 El. 14.

Whereas in the two and thirtieth year of the reign of King Henry the eight of famous Memory, a good and profitable Act, entituled, an Act, concerning miſpleading Jeofayles, and Atturneyes, was made and enacted; And likewiſe another good and profitable law was made in the eighteenth year of the reign of our late Soveraign Lady Queen Elizabeth, intituled, An act for reformation of Jeofayles, by which lawes many delayes of Judgments were prevented, and yet notwithſtanding, many things have, and dayly do fall out, not yet provided for nor remedied by the lawes before mentioned:

Cro. Car. 165, 189, 203, 278, 311, 480.

Divers Jeofayles by ſuits of Law prevented and reformed.

Be it therefore enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That if any verdict of twelvemen or more, ſhall hereafter be given for the plaintiffe or demandant, or for the defendant, or tenant dayly in Aſſiſe, vouchee, pray in aid, or tenant by receit, in any action, ſuit, bill, plaint, or demand in any Court of Record, the Judgement thereupon ſhall not be ſtayed nor reverſed, by reaſon of any variance, in forme only between the original Writ or Bill and the Declaration, Plaint or Demand, or for lack of an averment of any life or lives of any perſon or perſons, ſo as upon examination the ſaid perſon be proved to be in life, or by reaſon that the venire facias, habeas corpora or diſtringas is awarded to a wrong officer, upon any inſufficient ſuggeſtion, or by reaſon the viſne is in ſome part miſawarded or ſued out of more places, or of fewer places then it ought to be, ſo as ſome one place be right named, or by reaſon that any of the Jury which tryed the ſaid iſſue is miſnamed, either in the ſirname or addition in any of the ſaid writs, or in any return upon any of the ſaid writs, ſo as upon examination it be proved to be the ſame man that was meant to be returned, or by reaſon that there is no returne upon any of the ſaid writs, ſo as a pannel of the names of Jurors be returned and annexed to the ſaid writ, or for that the Sheriffs name or other officers name having the return thereof, is not ſet to the returne of any ſuch writ, ſo as upon examination it be proved that the ſaid writ was returned by the Sheriffe or Underſheriff, or any ſuch other Officer, or by reaſon that the plaintiffe in an ejectione firmæ, or in any perſonal action or ſuit, (being an infant under the age of one and twenty years) did appear by Atturney therein, and the verdict paſſe for him, Any law, cuſtome, or uſage to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Certain caſes excepted.

Provided alwaies, and be it further enacted, That this act, or any thing therein contained ſhall not extend to any writ, declaration, or ſuit of appeal of felony, or murther, nor to any indictment or preſentment of felony, murther or treaſon, nor to any proceſſe upon any of them, nor to any writ, bill, action or information upon any popular or penal Statute: Any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

CAP. XIV.

In Informations of Intruſion the Subject is allowed to plead the general iſſue, and to retain poſſeſſion till trial.

In informations of intruſion the ſubject may plead the general iſſue, and retain the poſſeſſion till trial.

Where the King, out of his prerogative Royal, may enforce the ſubject in informations of intruſion, brought againſt him, to a ſpecial pleading of his Title; The Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, out of his gracious diſpoſition towards his loving Subjects and at their humble ſuit, being willing to remit a part of his ancient and Regal power, is well pleaſed that it be enacted; And be it enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That whenſoever the King, his heirs or ſucceſſors, and ſuch, from or under whom the King claimeth, and all others claimeth, and all others claiming under the ſame title under which the King claimeth, hath been or ſhall be out of poſſeſſion, by the ſpace of twenty years, or hath not, or ſhall not have taken the profits of any lands, tenements or hereditaments, within the ſpace of twenty years, before any information of intruſion brought, or to be brought, to recover the ſame; That in every ſuch caſe, the defendant or defendants may plead the general iſſue, if he or they ſo think fit, and ſhall not be preſſed to plead ſpecially, and that in ſuch caſes the defendant or defendants, ſhall retaine the poſſeſſion he or they had at the time of ſuch information exhibited, until the title be tried, found or adjudged for the King.

And be it further enacted, That where an information of intruſion may fitly and aptly be brought on the Kings behalf; That no Scire facias ſhall be brought, whereunto the Subject ſhall be forced to a ſpecial pleading, and be deprived of the grace intended by this act. Stat. 17. Ed. 2. 13.

CAP. XV.

Upon Indictments of Forcible Entries, reſtitution of poſſeſſion ſhall be given in certain caſes not formerly provided for.

Co. Inſt. 4. p. 176.

Reformation of poſſeſſion ſhall be given to avoid entries with force in tenure for years, &c.

BE it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That ſuch Judges, Juſtices, or Juſtice of the Peace, as by reaſon of any Act or Acts of Parliament now in force, are authorized, and enabled upon enquiry, to give reſtitution of poſſeſſion unto Tenants, of any eſtate of Freehold, of their Lands or Tenements, which ſhall be entred upon with force, or from them with-holden by force, ſhall by reaſon of this preſent Act, have the like, and the ſame authority and ability from henceforth (upon Indictment of ſuch forcible entries, or forcible with-holdings before them duly found) to give like reſtitution of poſſeſſion unto tenants for term of years, Tenants by Copy of Court-Roll, Guardians by Knights Service, Tenants by Elegit, Statute Merchant, and Staple of Lands or Tenements, by them ſo holden, which ſhall be entred upon by force, or holden from them by force, St. 5. CAP. XVI.

The limitation of certain actions for avoiding of Suits in Law.

Writs of Formedon ſhall be ſued within 20 years.

FOr quieting of mens Eſtates, and avoiding of Suits, Be it enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, That all Writs of Formedon in Deſcender, Formedon in Remainder, and Formedon in Reverter, at any time hereafter to be ſued or brought, of, or for any Manors, Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, whereunto any perſon or perſons now hath, or have any title, or cauſe to have or purſue any ſuch Writ, ſhall be ſued and taken within twenty years next after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament: And after the ſaid twenty years expired, no perſon or perſons, or any of their heirs, ſhall have or maintain any ſuch Writ, of, or for any of the ſaid Manors, Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments; and that all writs of Formedon in Deſcender, Formedon in Remainder, Formedon in Reverter, of any Manors, Lands, Tenements, or other Hereditaments whatſoever, at any time hereafter to be ſued or brought by occaſion or means of any title or cauſe hereafter happening, ſhall be ſued and taken within twenty years next after the title and cauſe of action, firſt deſcended or fallen, and at no time after the ſaid twenty years: And that no perſon or perſons that now hath any right or title of entry into any manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments, now held from him or them, ſhall thereinto enter, but within twenty years next after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, or within twenty years next after any other title of entry accrued: And that no perſon or perſons ſhall at any time hereafter make any entry into any lands, tenements, or hereditaments, but within twenty years next after his or their right or title, which ſhall hereafter firſt deſcend or accrue to the ſame; and in default thereof, ſuch perſons ſo not entring, and their heirs, ſhall be utterly excluded and diſabled from ſuch entry after to be made: Any former Law or Statute to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Entry into land, &c. ſhall be made within 20 years.

Infants Femes covert, &c. excepted.

Provided nevertheleſſe, That if any perſon or perſons that is or ſhall be intituled to ſuch writ or writs, or that hath or ſhall have ſuch right or title of entry, be, or ſhall be at the time of the ſaid right or title, firſt deſcended, accrued, come or fallen within the age of one and twenty years Feme covert, non compos mentis, impriſoned, or beyond the Seas, That then ſuch perſon and perſons, and his and their heir and heirs, ſhall or may, notwithſtanding the ſaid twenty years be expired, bring his action, or make his entry as he might have done before this Act: So as ſuch perſon and perſons, or his, or their heir and heirs, ſhall within ten years next after his and their full age, diſcoverture, coming of ſound mind, enlargement out of priſon, or coming into this Realm, or death, take benefit of, and ſue forth the ſame, and at no time after the ſaid ten years.

The limitation of certain perſonal actions.

Cr. Car. 115, 141, 160, 245, 295, 381, 405, 513, 533.

And be it further enacted, That all actions of Treſpaſſe, Quare clauſum fregit, all actions of treſpaſſe, detinue, action ſur trover, and replevin for taking away of goods and cattel, all actions of account, and upon the caſe, other then ſuch accounts as concern the trade of Merchandize between Merchant and Merchant, their factors or ſervants, all actions of debt, grounded upon any lending or contract without ſpecialty; all actions of debt for arrearages of Rent, and all actions of aſſault, menace, batter, wounding and impriſonment, or any of them, which ſhall be ſued or brought at any time after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall be commenced and ſued within the time and limitation hereafter expreſſed, and not after (That is to ſay) The ſaid Actions upon the Caſe (other then for ſlander) and the ſaid Actions for Account, and the ſaid Actions for Treſpaſſe, Debt, Detinue and Replevin for Goods or Cattel, and the ſaid Action of Treſpaſſe, Quare clauſum fregit, within three years next after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, or within ſix years next after the cauſe of ſuch actions or ſuit, and not after: And the ſaid actions of treſpaſſe, of aſſault, battery, wounding, impriſonment, or any of them, within one year next after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, or within four years next after the cauſe of ſuch actions or ſuit, and not after: And the ſaid action upon the Caſe for words, within one year after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, or within two years next after the words ſpoken, and not after.

Their limitation after Judgment or Outlawry reverſed.

And nevertheleſs, be it enacted, That if in any the ſaid actions or ſuits, Judgment be given for the Plaintiff, and the ſame be reverſed by error, or a verdict paſſe for the Plaintiff, and upon matter alledged in arreſt of Judgment, the Judgment be given againſt the Plaintiff, that he take nothing by his plaint, writ or bill; or if any the ſaid actions ſhall be brought by original, and the Defendant therein be outlawed, and ſhall after reverſe the Outlawry, That in all ſuch caſes the party plaintiff, his heirs, executors or adminiſtrators, as the caſe ſhall require, may commence a new action or ſuit, from time to time, within a year after ſuch Judgment reverſed, or ſuch Judgment given againſt the plaintiff, or Outlawry reverſed, and not after.

After Judgement or nonſuit in a Quare clauſum fregit, the plaintiff is barred to renew the ſuit.

Cro. Car. 264.

And be it further Enacted, That in all actions of Treſpaſſe, Quare clauſum fregit, hereafter to be brought, wherein the defendant or defendants ſhall diſclaim, in his or their plea, to make any title or claim to the land in which the treſpaſſe is by the declaration ſuppoſed to be done, and the treſpaſſe be by negligence, or involuntary, the defendant or defendants ſhall be admitted to plead a diſclaimer, and that the treſpaſſe was by negligence, or involuntary, and a tender or offer of ſufficient amends for ſuch treſpaſſe before the action brought, whereupon, or upon ſome of them, the plaintiff or plaintiffs ſhall be enforced to joyn iſſue; and if the ſaid iſſue be found for the defendant or defendants, or the plaintiff or plaintiffs ſhall be nonſuited, the plaintiff or plaintiffs ſhall be clearly barred from the ſaid Action or Actions, and all other ſuit concerning the ſame.

In Actions of ſlander the plaintiff ſhall recover no greater coſts then damages.

Cro. Car. 163, 307.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That in all Actions upon the Caſe for ſlanderous words, to be ſued, or proſecuted by any perſon or perſons in any the Courts of Record at Weſtminſter, or in any Court whatſoever, that hath power to hold plea of the ſame, after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, if the Jury, upon the trial of the iſſue in ſuch Action, or the Jury that ſhall enquire of the damages, do find or aſſeſſe the damages under forty ſhillings, then the plaintiff or plaintiffs in ſuch Action, ſhall have and recover only ſo much coſts, as the damages ſo given or aſſeſſed amount unto, without any further increaſe of the ſame: Any Law, Statute, Cuſtome or Uſage to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Infants, Femes-covert, &c. excepted.

Provided nevertheleſs, and be it further enacted, That if any perſon or perſons, that is, or ſhall be entituled to any ſuch Action of treſpaſſe, detinue, action ſur trover, replevin, actions of accounts, actions of debts, actions of treſpaſſe for aſſault, menace, battery, wounding, or impriſonment, Actions upon the Caſe for words be, or ſhall be at the time of any ſuch cauſe of action given or accrued, fallen, or come within the age of twenty one years, feme covert, non compos mentis, impriſoned, or beyond the Seas, that then ſuch perſon or perſons ſhall be at liberty to bring the ſame Actions, ſo as they take the ſame within ſuch times as are before limited, after their coming to, or being of full age, diſcovert, of ſane memory, at large, and returned from beyond the Seas, as other perſons, having no ſuch impediment, ſhould be done. CAP. XVII.

None ſhall take above the rate of eight pounds for the loan of an hundred pounds for a year.

WHereas at this time there is a very great abatement in the value of land, and other the Merchandizes, wares and commodities of this Kingdom, both at home, and alſo in foreign parts, whither they are tranſported; And whereas divers Subjects of this Kingdom, as well the Gentry as Merchants, Farmors and Tradeſmen, both for their urgent and neceſſary occaſions for the following their Trades, maintenance of their ſtocks and imployments, have borrowed and do borrow divers ſums of money, wares, merchandize and other commodities; but by reaſon of the ſaid general fall and abatement of the value of land, and the prices of the ſaid merchandize, wares and commodities; and intereſt in loan continuing at ſo high a rate, as ten pounds in the hundred pounds for a year, doth not only make men unable to pay their debts, and continue the maintenance of Trade, but their debts daily increaſing, they are enforced to ſell their lands and ſtocks at very low rates, to forſake the uſe of Merchandize and Trade, and to give over their leaſes and farms, and ſo become unprofitable members of the Common-wealth, to the great hurt and hinderance of the ſame.

He that taketh above the rate of 8 l. for the loan of 100 l. for a year, ſhall forfeit treble the value of the money, &c. ſo lent.

Be it therefore Enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, That no perſon or perſons whatſoever, from, and after the four and twentieth day of June, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord, One thouſand ſix hundred twenty and five, upon any contract to be made after the ſaid four and twentieth day of June, ſhall take directly or indirectly, for loan of any monies, wares, merchandize, or other commodities whatſoever, above the value of eight pounds for the forbearance of one hundred pounds for a year, and ſo after that rate, for a greater or leſſer ſum, or for a longer or ſhorter time: And that all bonds, contracts, and aſſurances whatſoever, made after the time aforeſaid, for payment of any principal, or money to be lent, or covenanted to be performed, upon or for any Uſury, whereupon, or whereby there ſhall be reſerved, or taken, above the rate of eight pounds in the hundred as aforeſaid, ſhall be utterly void: And that all and every perſon and perſons whatſoever, which ſhall after the time aforeſaid, upon any contract to be made after the ſaid four and twentieth day of June, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord, 1625, take, accept and receive, by way

Co.lib. 12. 69.

way or means of any corrupt bargain, loan, exchange, cheviſance, ſhift or intereſt of any wares, merchandize, or other thing or things whatſoever, or by any deceitful way or means or by any covin, engine, or deceitful conveyance, for the forbearing, or giving day of payment for one whole year, of, and for their money, or other thing, above the ſumme of eight pounds for the forbearing of one hundred pounds for a year, and ſo after that rate for a leſſer or greater ſumme, or for a longer or ſhorter time, ſhall forfeit and loſe for every ſuch offence the treble value of the monies, wares, merchandize, and other things ſo ſent, bargained, ſold, exchanged or ſhifted.

A Scrivener that takes above the rate of 5. s. for the forbearing of 100 l. for a year, or above 12 d. for the renewing of a Bond, ſhall forfeit 20 l. and impriſonment for half a year.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every Scrivener and Scriveners, Broker and Brokers, Solicitor and Solicitors, Driver and Drivers of bargaines for contracts, who ſhall after the ſaid twenty fourth day of June, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord, 1625, take or receive, directly or indirectly, any ſumme or ſummes of money, or other reward or thing for brocage, ſoliciting, driving, or procuring the loan, or forbearing of any ſum or ſums of Money, over or above the rate or value of five ſhillings for the loan, or forbearing of one hundred pounds for a year, and ſo ratably, or above twelve pence for making or renewing of the Bond or Bill, for the loan or forbearing thereof, or for any counter-Bond or Bill concerning the ſame, ſhall forfeit for every ſuch offence twenty pounds, and have impriſonment for half a year; the one moiety of all which forfeitures to be to the King our Soveraign Lord, his Heirs and Succeſſors; and the other moiety to him or them that will ſue for the ſame, in the ſame County where the ſeveral offences are committed, [illegible] not elſewhere, by action of debt, bill, plaint or information, in which no eſſoyn, wager of law, or protection to be allowed.

The continuance of this Act.

This Act to continue for the ſpace of ſeven years, from the ſaid four and twentieth day of June, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord, 1625, and ſo to the end of the firſt Seſſion of Parliament then next following.

The practice of Uſury diſallowed.

Provided, That no words in this Law contained, ſhall be conſtrued or expounded to allow the practice of Uſury, in point of Religion or Conſcience. 3 Car. 4. made perpetual. Stat. 20 H.3. 5. 3 H.7.6. 11 H.7.8. 37 H.8.9. 5 Ed.6.20. 13 El.8.

CAP. XVIII.

The Stat. of 4 Jac. 2. continued, and in part altered.

Whereas in the fourth year of the Reign of our Soveraign Lord, the Kings Majeſty that now is, there was amongſt other, an Act made and entituled, An act for the true making of Woollen Clothes, which in and by the ſaid Act is to continue in force and effect but unto the end of the firſt Seſſion of the then next Parliament: Foraſmuch as the ſaid act is found by experience to be very neceſſary, expedient and beneficial for the common-weale, both in the providing for the ſeveral and reſpective lengths, breadths and weight of the ſeveral ſorts of Woollen cloths mentioned in the ſaid Statute, as alſo in the avoiding the mixture of Flocks, Thrums, and other deceiveable things in the making of Woollen-clothes, ſaving in thoſe points whereunto the additions and alterations in this preſent act do extend: Be it therefore enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the ſame act above remembred, and all and every the branches, clauſes, proviſions in the ſame contained, and which are not in this preſent act Altered, Repealed, Diſcontinued or Enlarged, ſhall continue and be from henceforth in full force and effect, until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

4 Jac. 2. continued.

And whereas in, and by the aforeſaid act, it was amongſt other things enacted and provided, That it ſhould or might be lawful to, and for any perſon and perſons, lawfully exerciſing the Trade or Art of a Clothier, or making of Clothes, to make flocks, thrums, and Lambs wooll into Cloth of one only kind or making, which ſhould contain in length, being throughly wet, between twelve and thirteen ſuch yards and inches, as in the ſaid ſtatute had been mentioned, and in breadth one yard at the leaſt within the liſts, and being clean ſcowred, thicked, milled, and fully dyed, ſhould weigh fifteen pounds the piece at the leaſt: Be it Enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the ſaid clauſe or proviſion for the making of Flocks, Thrums, and Lambs wooll into cloth, ſhall be from henceforth diſcontinued, or repealed and void: And further, whereas ſince the making of the ſaid act many ill diſpoſed perſons, for their owne private gain and lucre, and in deceit of the buyers of cloth, and to the diſcredit, and diſcrediting of good cloth, have uſed to mixe, and put flocks and thrums, and alſo noyles and hairs, and other deceiveable things, into, within, and upon the broad woollen clothes, mentioned in the ſaid Act; which ſaid broad Woollen clothes be of far greater length, breadth, and eſtimation, then be thoſe clothes whereinto the ſaid flocks, thrums and Lambs wooll in and by the ſaid act have been permitted to be put into: And by the means of the mixing and putting in, or upon ſuch broad clothes, of the ſaid flocks, noyles, thrums, hair and other deceiveable things, into, and within, or upon the ſaid broad woollen cloathes, the ſaid broad woollen Clothes be much abuſed and diſcredited, and the buyers of ſuch broad woollen clothes couzened, deceived and abuſed.

The clauſe of 4 Jac. 2. concerning the making of thrums, &c. into cloth, repealed.

For reformation of which foreſaid wrongs, abuſes and miſdemeanors, Be it Enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That from henceforth no perſon or perſons ſhall mixe or put any flocks, noyles, thrums, hair, or other deceiveable thing or things, or any yarn made of the ſaid deceiveable thing or things, into, within, or upon any broad woollen cloth or clothes, upon pain to forfeit only five pounds and no more, for every ſuch broad woollen cloth, into, within, or upon which any ſuch flocks, noyles, thrums, hair, or any other deceiveable thing or things ſhall be put into or uſed, the ſaid forfeiture to be to the uſe of the poor of the pariſh where ſuch deceiveable cloth ſhall be made.

He that puts thrums, &c. into cloth, ſhall forfeit five pounds.

Searchers of cloth may enter into any mans houſe to find deceiveable cloth.

Two or more Juſtices of Peace may grant their Warrant to bring before them any perſon ſuſpected for making deceiveable cloth.

And for the better finding out of every ſuch deceiveable thing and things, mixed or put into, or upon, or to be mixed, or put into, or upon any broad woollen cloth or clothes, contrary to the true meaning of this Law; Be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall and may be lawful to and for any the Overſeer or Overſeers, Searcher or Searchers of cloth, of, or within the ſeveral pariſh or pariſhes, or Town or City where ſuch deceiveable cloth or clothes ſhall be made, or ſuſpected to be made, from time to time, to enter into any the houſe or houſes, ſhops, mill or mills, chambers, or other rooms of any Clothier, or perſon or perſons ſuſpected to have made any ſuch deceiveable broad woollen cloth, to view, ſearch, and ſee all or any their woollen cloth or clothes, and the mixture of their wools for clothes to be made; And alſo it ſhall be lawful for any two or more Juſtices of the Peace within the County, or within the City, Borough, or Town corporate, where ſuch deceiveable cloth ſhall be made, or ſuſpected to be made, upon information or complaint of any of the ſaid Overſeer or Overſeers, Searcher or Searchers, or any other, of their knowledge or ſuſpition of any ſuch offence, to grant their Warrant, to call before them any perſon or perſons whatſoever, that ſhall be thought in their diſcretions fit to diſcover any ſuch offence, and to examine upon Oath ſuch perſon or perſons for the tryal and better finding out of the offence aforeſaid; And if upon ſuch examinations it ſhall be found by teſtimony of two witneſſes or more, or by the confeſſion of the party or parties offending, that any ſuch offence or offences, have been committed, as aforeſaid, then the party or parties that ſhall ſo confeſs his or their ſaid offence or offences, or who ſhall be found to have offended, ſhall remain convicted of ſuch his offence or offences: And that then it ſhall and may be lawful for the ſaid two Juſtices to certifie ſuch offence or offences unto the Church-wardens and Overſeers (for the time being) of the poor of the pariſh or pariſhes where ſuch deceiveable cloth or clothes ſhall be made, under the hands and ſeals of the ſaid Juſtices.

Upon certificate of the Juſtices, that the party is convicted for making of deceiveable cloth, the Church-wardens &c. ſhall levy the forfeiture.

In default of diſtreſs the party offending ſhall be committed to the common Gaol.

43 Eliz. 2.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That immediately from and after ſuch certificate ſhall be delivered to any of the Church-wardens and Overſeers of the poor of any pariſh or pariſhes, where ſuch offendor or offendors ſhall dwell, and Warrant by them made to the ſaid Overſeers and Church-wardens, for the levying of the ſaid forfeiture: It ſhall and may be lawful to and for the ſaid Church-Wardens and Overſeers for the time being, or any of them, or for the ſucceſſor or ſucceſſors of them the ſaid Church-Wardens and Overſeers, to levy the ſumme or ſummes of money which by the ſaid Certificate and Warrant, ſhall appear to be forfeited, by way of diſtreſſe and ſale of the offendors goods, rendring to the party ſo offending, the overplus which ſhall ariſe by the ſale of ſuch goods, more then the forfeiture for ſuch offence or offences ſhall amount unto: And in defect of ſuch diſtreſſe, it ſhall be lawfull to and for the ſaid two Juſtices of peace to commit the party or parties ſo certified to have offended, to the common Gaol, there to remain without bail or mainpriſe, until payment ſhall be made of the ſaid ſum or ſums ſo forfeited, to the ſaid Church-wardens and Overſeers, or ſome or one of them, to the uſes aforeſaid, who ſhall yearly be accountable for ſuch ſum or ſums ſo received, and levied at ſuch times, and in ſuch manner, as the ſaid Church-wardens and Overſeers are to account for other monies, which they are to collect to the uſe of the poor, by force of an Act of Parliament made in the three and fortieth year of the reign of the late Queen Elizabeth. And that if any action or actions ſhall at any time or times hereafter happen to be brought or commenced againſt any perſon or perſons, for taking of ſuch diſtreſſe or diſtreſſes, or for, or about any matter or thing concerning the ſame, that then it ſhall and may be lawful to and for every ſuch perſon or perſons, againſt whom ſuch action or actions ſhall be brought or commenced, to plead the general iſſue, and to give in evidence, and to be allowed double coſts, in every reſpect and degree, as in, and by the Statute of the ſeventh year of the Kings Majeſties reign of England that now is, entituled, An act for eaſe in pleading againſt troubleſome and contentious ſuits, proſecuted againſt Juſtices of the peace, Mayors, Conſtables, and certain other his Majeſties Officers, for the lawful execution of their Office, is already provided and enacted.

The Officer being ſued, ſhall be allowed to plead the general iſſue, &c. and recover double coſts. Stat. 7 Jac. 5.

4 Jac. 2.

And whereas divers clothiers be, and are of late time much troubled and grieved, by and with ſeveral ſearchers, aulnegers, and viewers of clothes, who after that clothes have been ſearched, viewed and ſealed by the ſearchers and overſeers of the ſeveral pariſh and pariſhes, where ſuch cloth and clothes have been made, and alſo by the Kings aulneger of cloth, or by his deputy, do nevertheleſs for their own gain and lucre, review or ſearch again the ſame clothes, to the great trouble, diſturbance and hinderance of the ſaid clothiers, the loſs of their market, and ſale of their cloth, although towards the end or concluſion of the ſaid act of the fourth year of the Kings Majeſties reign of England that now is, aforeſaid, it is mentioned, that after ſuch cloth be once lawfully ſearched, and lawfully ſealed, the ſame be not compelled to be further viewed, ſearched, meaſured or ſealed.

The Searcher that ſearcheth, &c. cloth already ſearched, &c. ſhall forfeit five pounds.

Be it therefore likewiſe enacted by the authority aforeſaid that the ſaid overſeers and ſearchers authorized by the ſaid laſt mentioned Statute, or by any former act to ſearch, view and weigh any of the ſaid clothes, for the lengths, breadth and weight of the ſaid clothes, ſhall and may certifie the ſame by their ſeales affixed to ſuch clothes, and with the word Faulty thereon ſtamped (if there be cauſe) and that none of the ſaid clothes, being formerly ſearched viewed, weighed and ſealed by the ſaid Overſeers and Searchers of the Pariſh, Town, or place where the ſaid clothes ſhall be made, ſhall afterwards be viewed, ſearched, or weighed by any other perſon or perſons, officer or officers whatſoever, contrary to the ſaid ſtatute made in the ſaid fourth year of his Majeſties reign, upon pain of forfeiture of five pounds to the party grieved, who ſhall and may ſue for, and recover the ſame by bill, plaint, or information, at or in the General quarter Seſſions of the peace to be holden for the County, City, or Town Corporate wherein ſuch offence ſhall be committed, wherein no eſſoine, protection, priviledge, or wager of Law ſhall be allowed.

All Woollen clothes ſhall be ſearched, &c. before they be ſold.

Provided alwayes, and be it further enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That all and all manner woollen clothes, of what nature, kind, or name ſo ever they be, or ſhall be of, to be woven in any City or Town corporate, within the Realm of England or Dominion of Wales, from and after forty dayes, next after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall be ſearched, tryed, and ſealed by the ſeveral and reſpective overſeers of cloth, appointed, or to be appointed, of, or for the Cities and townes corporate, or of, or for ſome of the places or pariſhes in them, where the ſame clothes ſhall be woven, before ſuch clothes ſhall be ſold, or offered to be ſold.

The meaſure of Tentors for clothes made in Yorkſhire.

Searchers ſhall make ſearch of tentors in Yorkſhire.

And be it further enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That from and after forty dayes next after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, no tentor or tentors for broad clothes to be made within the County of York, to be ſold, ſhall have, or ſhall or may be allowed any further chaſe or liberty, for or to be under barr of ſuch tentor or tentors, than only halfe a quarter of a yard at the moſt: And that no tentor or tentors for narrow clothes to be made within the ſaid County of York, to be ſold, ſhall have, or ſhall or may be allowed any further chace or liberty for or to the under barre of ſuch tentor or tentors, than only halfe of a halfe quarter of a yard at the moſt: And that the Overſeers and Searchers of cloth or any of them appointed, or to be appointed within the ſeverall and reſpective pariſhes in the ſaid county of York, ſhall upon the penalties of their Recognizances taken, or to be taken by vertue of the Statute made in the nine and thirtieth year of the reign of the late Queen Elizabeth, or of any other Statute, make due ſearch and view of the tentors to be uſed in the aforeſaid county of York: And if they or any of them ſhall happen to find any tentor or tentors, uſed contrary to the true meaning of this act, that then they ſhall forthwith deface, or cauſe to be defaced ſuch tentor or tentors.

Stat 39 El. 20. The party offending the ſecond time for having a tentor contrary to this act, ſhall forfeit xl. s.

And be it further enacted, That if any perſon or perſons whoſe tentor or tentors hath been, or ſhall be once defaced, ſhall eftſoons offend, contrary to the true meaning of this act, that then ſuch perſon or perſons ſo offending, ſhall for every his or their offence, contrary to the true meaning of this act, forfeit and loſe the ſumme of forty ſhillings of good and lawful mony of England, to ſuch uſes and behoofes, and to be levied and recovered in ſuch manner and forme, and by ſuch means, to all intents and purpoſes, as before in and by this preſent act it is limited, appointed and enacted, for the ſumme or forfeiture of five pounds, to the uſe of the poor in this act before mentioned.

Every Overſeer of cloth ſhall ſet his name upon the ſeal of cloth.

Preſſing of Clothes between hot-planes ſhall be puniſhed with like forfeiture as preſſing them with a hot-preſſe.

And be it further enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That every Overſeer of cloth, appointed by any former Law, now in force, to fixe unto any kind of clothes a ſeale of lead, ſhall from and after forty dayes, next after the end of this preſent Parliament upon the penalty of their reſpective Recognizance, taken or to be taken by vertue of the ſaid Statute, made in the nine and thirtieth year of the reign of the ſaid Queen Elizabeth, or of any other Statute, engrave or ſet, or cauſe to be engraved or ſet, in and upon every of their reſpective ſeals of lead, which they ſhall fixe unto any cloth, by them reſpectively to be ſealed, his or their Chriſtian and Sirname; and that no cloth or clothes to be ſealed with any ſeale of lead, which ſhall want ſuch engraving or print, as aforeſaid, ſhall be taken or allowed to be ſufficiently ſealed, within the compaſs of any former Law or Statute: And furthermore whereas of late years divers ſubtil and naughty means and devices have been invented and practiſed for the preſſing of woollen Cloth of all ſorts, by heating of thick boards or planks, and laying the ſame under and above the Cloth, in the cold preſs, and alſo by putting of thin, or ſeeling boards, and paſt-boards, being made very hot, into the cutties or plates of Clothes, and then preſently putting the ſame into a cold preſs, and by divers other cunning ſleights and inventions, by which deceitful practices and devices, the chapmen or buyers of the woollen cloth of this Kingdom are deceived, and wronged, and the woollen Cloth of this Kingdome it ſelf is diſgraced, and held and reputed very deceitfull, to the great prejudice and ſcandal of the Cloth of this Kingdome: Be it further enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That all and every the preſſing of any kind or ſort of woollen Cloths, by or with ſuch ſubtil and deceitfull means as aforeſaid, or by or with any other the like ſubtil or deceitful means or device, by or with any heat of fire, which ſhall be uſed or practiſed at any time or times after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall be taken and ſhall be expounded and adjudged to be preſſing with a hot preſs, and ſhall be puniſhed and puniſhable with the like forfeitures, and in like ſort, to all intents and purpoſes as the preſſing with the hot preſs is puniſhable by any former Law or Statute.

Stat. 5 Ed. 6. 6. The penalties for want of length, &c. of Cloth ſhall be diſtributed into three parts. Stat. 5 Ed. 6. 6. 4 & 5 P. & M. 5. 27 El. 17. 35 El. 7. & 9. 43 El. 10. 4 Jac. 2.

43 El. 2.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all penalties and forfeitures for want of length, breadth, and weight of Cloth or Clothes, limited by any former act now in force, or by this preſent act, ſhall be diſtributed into three equal parts, whereof one third part ſhall be unto the ſaid Overſeers and Searchers, finding and certifying the ſaid default of length, breadth, and weight, as aforeſaid, to be recovered by them, at or in the general quarter Seſſions of the peace, to be holden for the County, City, or Town corporate, where the offence therein ſhall happen to be done or committed, by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, wherein no eſſoine, protection, priviledge, or wager of law ſhall be allowed: And the other parts thereof, ſhall be unto the poor of the pariſh where the ſaid Cloth or Clothes ſhall be made, to be levyed by way of diſtreſs, and ſale of the offendors goods in default of ſufficient diſtreſs, rendring to the party the overplus by the Church-wardens and Overſeers of the poor of every ſuch pariſh, from time to time reſpectively, (which ſaid Church-wardens and Overſeers are in ſuch manner to accompt for the ſame, as for any other ſums, which are by them to be collected to the uſe of the poor, by force of the ſaid Statute made in the foreſaid three and fortieth year of the reign of the ſaid late Queen, are by them to be levied and accompted for:) The ſaid former act, or any other act to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding: This act to continue till the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament. 3 Car. 4. CAP. XIX.

A further deſcription of a Bankrupt. The Statutes of 13 El. 7. and 1 Jac. 15. enlarged.

FOraſmuch as daily experience ſheweth, that the number and multitude of Bankrupts do increaſe more and more, and alſo the frauds and deceits invented and practiſed for the avoyding and deluding the penalties of the good Lawes in that behalf already made, and the remedy by them provided: And for that divers defects are daily found in the former Statutes made againſt Bankrupts, both in a deſcription of a Bankrupt, as alſo in the power given to the Commiſſioners for the diſcovery and diſtributing the Bankrupts eſtate, to the great encouragement of evil minded perſons, the hindrance of traffique and commerce, the great decay, overthrow and undoing of many Clothiers, by whom many thouſands of the natural born ſubjects of this Realm be from time to time in all parts of this Kingdome ſet on work: All which do tend to the general hurt of this Realm: For remedy whereof, Be it enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That all and ſingular the aforeſaid Statutes and Lawes heretofore made againſt Bankrupts, and for relief of Creditors, ſhall be in all things largely and beneficially conſtrued and expounded for the aid, help, and relief of the Creditors of ſuch perſon or perſons as already be, or hereafter ſhall become Bankrupt.

Lawes made againſt Bankrupts ſhall be beneficially conſtrued for the Creditors.

And that all and every perſon or perſons uſing, or that ſhall uſe the trade of merchandize, by way of bargaining, exchange, bartering, cheviſance, or otherwiſe in groſs, or by retail, or ſeeking his, or her living, by buying and ſelling, or that ſhall uſe the trade or profeſſion of a Scrivener, receiving other mens Moneys or Eſtates into his truſt, or cuſtody, who at any time after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall either by himſelf, or others by his procurement, obtain any protection or protections, other than ſuch perſon or perſons as ſhall be lawfully protected by the priviledge of Parliament, or ſhall prefer or exhibit unto his Majeſty, his heirs or ſucceſſors, or unto any of the Kings Courts, any petition or petitions, bill or bills againſt his or her creditor or creditors, or any of them, thereby deſiring or endeavouring to compel or enforce them, or any of them, to accept leſſe than their juſt and principal debts, or to procure time, or longer dayes of payment, than was given at the time of their original contracts, or being indebted to any perſon or perſons in the ſum of one hundred pounds or more, ſhall not pay, or otherwiſe compound for the ſame, within ſix moneths next after the ſame ſhall grow due, & the debtor be arreſted for the ſame, or within ſix moneths after an original Writ ſued out to recover the ſaid debt, and notice thereof given unto him, or left in writing at his, or their dwelling houſe, or laſt place of abode, or being arreſted for debt, ſhall after his or her arreſt, lie in priſon two moneths or more, upon that, or any other arreſt or detention in priſon for debt; or being arreſted for the ſum of one hundred pounds or more, of juſt debt or debts; ſhall at any time after ſuch arreſt eſcape out of priſon, or procure his enlargement, by putting in common or hired bail, ſhall be accounted and adjudged a Bankrupt to all intents and purpoſes: And in the ſaid caſes of arreſt, or lying in priſon for ſuch debt or debts, or getting forth by common or hired bail, from the time of his or her ſaid firſt arreſt.

Who ſhall be deemed a Bankrupt.

And be it further Enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the like Commiſſions, orders, benefits and remedies, which are and be provided and limited by the ſaid former Acts of Parliaments, made in the thirteenth year of the late Queen Elizabeth, and in the firſt year of the reign of our Soveraign Lord the Kings Majeſty, againſt any Bankrupts, in them, or either of them deſcribed, or for, or concerning his, her, or their lands, tenements, hereditaments, fees, annuities, offices, goods, chattels, wares, merchandiſe and debts, or any of them, ſhall and may be had, purſued, taken, and expounded againſt ſuch perſon and perſons as are herein, and hereby declared, deſcribed or expreſſed to be Bankrupts, and againſt his, her, and their lands, tenements, hereditaments, fees, annuities, offices, goods, chattels, wares, merchandize and debts, in ſuch manner and form, as the ſame ought, and might have been, if the perſons herein declared, deſcribed, or expreſſed to be Bankrupts, had been by the ſaid Statutes, or either of them, deſcribed to be bankrupts, to all intents and purpoſes whatſoever.

Commiſſions, Orders, &c. provided by 13 El. 7. & 1 Jac. 15. ſhall be purſued againſt him that is deſcribed to be a bankrupt by this act.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſame orders, benefits and remedies, which are, and be provided and limited by this preſent act, againſt any bankrupts, in, or by this act declared, deſcribed or expreſſed to be Bankrupts, or for, or concerning his, her or their lands, tenements, hereditaments, fees, annuities, offices, goods, chattels, wares, merchandizes, and debts, or any of them, or the diſcovery of them, or any of them, ſhall from henceforth be had, purſued, taken and expounded againſt ſuch perſon and perſons, as are declared or expreſſed to be Bankrupts, by the ſaid former Acts of Parliament, or either of them, and againſt his, her, and their lands, tenements, hereditaments, fees, annuities, offices, goods, chattels, wares, merchandizes and debts, in ſuch manner and form, as the ſame ought and might have been, if the perſons in the former Statutes, or either of them, deſcribed to be Bankrupts, had been mentioned and deſcribed to be Bankrupts, in, and by this preſent act.

Orders, &c. provided by this act ſhall be purſued againſt him that is deſcribed to be a Bankrupt by 13 El. 7. & 1 Jac. 15.

And whereas by the former Lawes, the Commiſſioners appointed have power to examine the Bankrupt himſelf, and ſuch perſon or perſons as are ſuſpected to have, or detain any of the eſtate, goods or chattels of the Bankrupts, but ſome doubt have been made whether the Commiſſioners have power to examine the Wives of the Bankrupts, touching the ſame, by reaſon whereof the Bankrupts Wives do daily conceal and convey away, and cauſe to be conveyed away much part of their Husbands Moneys, Wares, Goods, Merchandize and other Eſtate, to perſon or perſons unknown to any but ſuch Wives, by by reaſon whereof much of the Bankrupts Eſtate is concealed, and detained from the creditors.

The Bankrupts wife may be examined by the Commiſſioners.

For clearing therefore the ſaid doubt, and avoiding the inconveniences aforeſaid, Be it declared and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That after ſuch time as any perſon ſhall by the ſaid Commiſſioners, executing the ſaid Commiſſion, or the greater part of them, be lawfully adjudged or declared to be a Bankrupt, the ſaid Commiſſioners executing ſuch Commiſſion, ſhall have power and authority to examine upon Oath the wife and wives of all and every ſuch Bankrupt, for the finding out, and diſcovery of the eſtate, and eſtates, goods and chattels of ſuch Bankrupt or Bankrupts, concealed, kept, or diſpoſed of, by ſuch wife or wives, in their own perſons, or by their own act or means, or by any other perſon or perſons. And that ſhe and they, the ſaid wife and wives, ſhall incur ſuch danger and penalty for not coming before the ſaid Commiſſioners, or for refuſing to be ſworn and examined, or for not diſcloſing the truth upon her, or their examination or examinations, as in, and by the ſaid former Lawes, or either of them, is already made and provided againſt any other perſon or perſons in like caſes.

The Bankrupt that fraudulently concealeth his goods, or rendreth not ſome juſt reaſon why he became Bankrupt, ſhall be ſet upon the pillory, and loſe one of his ears.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any Bankrupt ſhall upon his, or her examination or examinations, to be taken before the ſaid Commiſſioners, executing the ſaid Commiſſion, be found fraudulently or deceitfully to have conveyed away his, or her goods, chattels, lands, tenements, offices, fees, rents or annuities, or other eſtate, or any part thereof, to the value of twenty pounds or above, to the end and purpoſe to hinder the execution of this Statute, or of any other the aforeſaid Statutes, or thereby to defraud, delay or hinder his or her Creditors of the ſame, and ſhall not upon his or her examination, diſcover unto the ſaid Commiſſioners, and (if it lie in his or her power) deliver unto the ſaid Commiſſioners, all that eſtate, goods and chattels, ſo fraudulently and deceitfully conveyed away, as aforeſaid, or by him or her, his or her means, kept or detained from the ſaid Commiſſioners, or that cannot make it appear unto the ſaid Commiſſioners that he or ſhe hath ſuſtained ſome caſual loſs, whereby he or ſhe is diſabled to pay what he or ſhe then owed, ſhall or may be indicted for ſuch fraud or abuſe at the Aſſiſes or general Seſſions, to be holden before the Judges of Aſſize, or Juſtices of the Peace of the County or place where he or ſhe ſhall become Bankrupt: And if upon ſuch indictment or indictments the Bankrupt be thereof convicted, he or ſhe ſo convicted ſhall be ſet upon the Pillory in ſome publick place, for the ſpace of two hours, and have one of his or her ears nailed to the Pillory, and cut off.

The Commiſſioners may break open the Bankrupts doors. &c.

And for that ſome doubt is conceived, whether the Commiſſioners in caſe of reſiſtance, have power by the former Lawes to break open, or cauſe to be broken open, the houſe or houſes of ſuch Bankrupts, which if they have not, the remedies by the former Lawes given, will be to little effect: Be it therefore enacted, That in execution of the ſaid Commiſſion, it ſhall be lawful, to, and for the ſaid Commiſſioners, or the greater part of them, or any other perſon or perſons, Officer or Officers, by them, or the greater part of them, to be deputed, and appointed by their warrant or warrants, under their hands and ſeals, to break open the houſe or houſes, chambers, ſhops, ware-houſes, doors, trunks or cheſts of the ſaid Bankrupt, where the ſaid Bankrupt, or any of his or her goods or eſtate, ſhall be, or reputed to be, and to ſeize upon, and order the body, goods, chattels, ready money, and other eſtate of ſuch Bankrupt, as by the ſaid former Lawes are limited and appointed, whether it be by impriſonment of his or her body, or otherwiſe, as to the ſaid Commiſſioners, or the greater part of them, ſhall be thought meet.

The Bankrupts goods ſhall be ratably divided notwithſtanding any judgement, recognizance, &c.

And for the better diviſion and diſtribution of the lands, tenements, hereditaments, goods, chattels, and other eſtate of ſuch Bankrupt, to, and amongſt his or her Creditors, Be it enacted, That the Commiſſioners, or the greateſt part of them, ſhall, and may examine upon Oath, or by any other wayes or means, as to them ſhall ſeem meet, any perſon or perſons for the finding out, and diſcovery of the truth and certainty of the ſeveral debts due, and owing, to all ſuch Creditor and Creditors, as ſhall ſeek relief by ſuch courſe of Commiſſion to be ſued forth, as aforeſaid: And that all and every Creditor and Creditors, having ſecurity for his or their ſeveral debts, by Judgment, Statute, Recognizance, ſpecialty with penalty or without penalty, or other ſecurity, or having no ſecurity, or having made attachments in London, or any other place, by vertue of any cuſtome there uſed, of the goods and chattels of any ſuch Bankrupt, whereof there is no execution or extent ſerved and executed upon any the lands, tenements, hereditaments, goods, chattels, and other eſtate of ſuch Bankrupt, before ſuch time as he or ſhe ſhall or do become bankrupt, ſhal not be relieved upon any ſuch Judgment, Statute, Recognizance, Specialty, Attachments, or other ſecurity, for any more then a ratable part of their juſt and due debts, with the other Creditors of the ſaid Bankrupt, without reſpect to any ſuch penalty or greater ſum contained in any ſuch Judgement, Statute, Recognizance, ſpecialty with penalty, Attachment, or other ſecurity.

Cro. Car. 149.

The Commiſſioners may proceed when the Bankrupt by fraud makes himſelf accomptant to the King.

And be it further enacted, That if it ſhall happen, any the lands, tenements, goods, chattels, debts, or other eſtate of any Bankrupt, to be extended, after ſuch time as he, or ſhe is become a Bankrupt, by any perſon or perſons, under colour or pretence of his or their being an Accomptant, or any way indebted unto our Soveraign Lord the Kings Majeſty, his heirs or ſucceſſors, that then it ſhall be lawful, To, and for the ſaid Commiſſioners, to examine upon Oath, whether the ſaid debt were due to ſuch Debtor or Accomptant, upon any bargain or contract originally made, betwixt ſuch Accomptant and the ſaid Bankrupt, the ſaid Debtor and Accomptant, and his, or their ſervants: And if ſuch bargain or contract was originally made, to, and with any perſon or perſons, than the ſaid Debtor or Accomptant, or for the uſe and truſt of any other perſon or perſons, then it ſhall and may be lawful, to and for the ſaid Commiſſioners, or the greater part of them, to order and diſpoſe of all ſuch lands, tenements, hereditaments, goods, chattels, and debts ſo extended as aforeſaid, to and for the uſe of the creditors, which ſhall ſeek relief by the ſaid Commiſſion; And that the order and diſpoſition of the ſaid Commiſſioners, or the greater part of them, ſhall be good and available againſt the ſaid extent, and againſt all perſons claiming from, by, or under the ſaid extent: and that ſuch perſon and perſons, to whom the ſaid Lands, Tenements, Goods and Chattels ſo extended, ſhall be bargained, ſold, granted or aſſigned by the Commiſſioners aforeſaid, or the greater part of them, ſhall have good remedy, to have, demand, and recover the ſame, and againſt ſuch perſon and perſons who ſhall detain the ſame: And for that it often falls out, that many perſons before they become Bankrupts, do convey their goods to other men, upon good conſideration, yet ſtill do keep the ſame, and are reputed the owners thereof, and diſpoſe the ſame as their own:

Be it Enacted, That if at any time hereafter, any perſon or perſons ſhall become Bankrupt, and at ſuch time as they ſhall ſo become Bankrupt, ſhall by the conſent and permiſſion of the true owner and proprietary, have in their poſſeſſion, order and diſpoſition, any goods or chattels, whereof they ſhall be reputed owners, and take upon them the ſale, alteration or diſpoſition, as owners, that in every ſuch caſe, the ſaid Commiſſioners, or the greater part of them, ſhall have power to ſell and diſpoſe the ſame, to, and for the benefit of the Creditors, which ſhall ſeek relief by the ſaid Commiſſion, as fully as any other part of the Eſtate of the Bankrupt. And for the better payment of debts, and diſcouraging men to become Bankrupts:

Goods in the poſſeſſion, &c. of the Bankrupt, are liable to pay his debts, notwithſtanding any former grant, &c.

Be it further Enacted, That the ſaid Commiſſioners, or the greater number of them, ſhall have power by vertue of this act, by deed indented and enrolled, within ſix moneths after the making thereof, in ſome of his Majeſties Courts of Record at Weſtminſter, to grant, bargain, ſell and convey any manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments, whereof any Bankrupt is, or ſhall be in any wayes ſeized of any Eſtate in tail, in poſſeſſion, reverſion or remainder, and whereof no reverſion or remainder is, or ſhall be in the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs or Succeſſors, of the gift or proviſion of his Majeſty, his Progenitors, his Heirs or Succeſſors, to any perſon or perſons, for the relief and benefit of the creditors of all ſuch Bankrupts; And that all and every ſuch grants, bargains, ſales and conveyances ſhall be good and available in the Law to ſuch perſon or perſons, and their heirs, againſt the ſaid Bankrupts, and againſt all and every the Iſſues of the body of ſuch Bankrupts, and againſt all and every perſon and perſons, claiming any eſtate, right, title or intereſt, by, from, or under the ſaid Bankrupts, after ſuch time as ſuch perſon ſhall become Bankrupt, and againſt all and every other perſon and perſons whatſoever, whom the ſaid Bankrupt by common recovery, or other wayes or means might cut off, or debar from any remainder, reverſion, rent, profit, title or poſſibility, into or out of any the ſaid manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments.

A grant of the intailed lands of the Bankrupt ſhall be good.

And be it further Enacted, That if any perſon that now is, or hereafter ſhall become a Bankrupt, have heretofore granted, conveyed or aſſured, or ſhall at any time hereafter, grant, convey or aſſure any lands, tenements, hereditaments, goods, chattels, or other Eſtate, unto any perſon or perſons, upon condition, or power of redemption at a day to come, by payment of money, or otherwiſe, That it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the ſaid Commiſſioners, or the greater part of them, before the time of the performance of ſuch condition, to aſſign and appoint, under their hand and ſeals, ſuch perſon or perſons as they ſhall think fit, to make tender or payment of money, or other performance, according to the nature of ſuch condition, as fully as the Bankrupt might have done; And that the ſaid Commiſſioners, or the greater part of them, ſhall after ſuch tender, payment or performance, have power to ſell and diſpoſe of ſuch lands, tenements, hereditaments, goods and chattels, and other eſtates ſo granted, conveyed, or aſſured upon condition, to, and for the benefit of the Creditors, as fully as they may ſell or diſpoſe of any the Eſtate of the Bankrupt.

Conditional Eſtates granted by the Bankrupt, may be redeemed by the Commiſſioners.

Provided further, That no purchaſor, for good and valuable conſideration, ſhall be impeached by vertue of this act, or any other act heretofore made againſt Bankrupts, unleſſe the Commiſſion to prove him or her a Bankrupt, be ſued forth againſt ſuch Bankrupt within five years after he or ſhe ſhall become a Bankrupt.

The Commiſſion ſhall be ſued forth within five years.

Provided further, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this act, and all other acts of Parliament heretofore made againſt Bankrupts, ſhall extend to ſtrangers born, as well aliens as denizens, as effectually, as to the natural born Subjects, both to make them ſubject to the Lawes as Bankrupts, as alſo to make them capable of the benefit or contribution, as creditors by thoſe Lawes. Stat. 34 H.8.4. 13 El.7. 1 Jac.15. 14 Car.2. cap.24.

Strangers ſhall take advantage of this, and all other Lawes againſt Bankrupts.

CAP. XX.

None ſhall prophanely ſwear or curſe.

FOraſmuch as all prophane ſwearing and curſing is forbidden by the Word of God, Be it therefore enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That no perſon or perſons ſhall from henceforth prophanely ſwear or curſe: And that, if any perſon or perſons ſhall at any time or times hereafter offend herein, either in the hearing of any Juſtice of peace of the County, or of any Mayor, Juſtice of peace, Bayliff, or head Officer of any City, or Town corporate, where ſuch offence is, or ſhall be committed, or ſhall thereof be convicted by the Oaths of two witneſſes, or by confeſſion of the party, before any ſuch Juſtice of peace of the County, or head Officer, or Juſtice of the peace in the City or Town corporate where ſuch offence is or ſhall be committed; To which end, every Juſtice of peace, and every ſuch head Officer ſhall have power by this act to miniſter the ſame Oath: That then every ſuch offendor ſhall for every time ſo offending, forfeit and pay to the uſe of the poor of that pariſh where the ſame offence is, or ſhall be committed, the ſumme of twelve pence. And it ſhall alſo be lawful for the Conſtable, Church-wardens, and Overſeers of the poor of that pariſh, by

He that prophanely curſeth or ſweareth, ſhall forfeit xii. d. to the uſe of the poor.

The Conſtable, &c. ſhall levy the ſaid forfeiture.

by Warrant from ſuch Juſtice of the peace, or head Officer, to levy the ſame ſum and ſums of money, by diſtreſſe, and ſale of the offendors goods, rendring to the party the overplus. And in defect of ſuch diſtreſſe, the offendor, if he or ſhe be above the age of twelve years, ſhall by warrant from ſuch Juſtice of the peace, or head Officer, be ſet in the ſtocks by three whole hours; but if the offendor be under the age of twelve years, and ſhall not forthwith pay the ſaid ſum of twelve pence, Then he or ſhe, by warrant of ſuch Juſtice of peace, or head Officer, ſhall be whipped by the Conſtable, or by the parent, or maſter in his preſence.

The Officer being ſued, ſhall plead the general iſſue.

And be it further enacted, That if any ſuch offendor ſhall commence any ſuit in Law againſt any Officer or other, for ſuch diſtraining, ſale of goods, whipping, or ſetting in the ſtocks, the defendant or defendants may plead the general iſſue, and give the ſpecial matter in evidence to the Jury at the tryal. And if it be found againſt the plaintiff, or that the plaintiff be non-ſuit, the defendant or defendants ſhall be allowed good coſts, to be taxed by the Court.

This offence ſhall be proſecuted within twenty dayes. This Act ſhall be read in the Church twice every year.

Provided nevertheleſſe, That every offence againſt this Law, ſhall be complained of, and provided, as aboveſaid, within twenty dayes after the offence committed.

And it is alſo enacted, That this act ſhall be read in every pariſh Church by the Miniſter thereof, upon the Sunday after Evening prayer twice in the year.

Provided, That this act ſhall continue until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament, and no longer. 3 Car.4. Continued until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

Hoſtlers, or Inholders ſhall make no horſe-bread.

37 Ed. 3. 3. 13 Rich. 2. 8. 4 Hen. 4. 25. 32 Hen. 8. 41.

BE it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That one Statute made in the ſeven and thirtieth year of the Reign of the late King Edward the third, made for the great dearth that then was in many places of the Realm, of poultry, and concerning the prices of poultry: And ſo much of one Statute made in the thirteenth year of the Reign of King Richard the ſecond, as provideth, that no Hoſtler make horſe-bread in his Hoſtrey, nor without, and that the aſſiſe thereof ſhall be kept, and that the weight be reaſonable, after the prices of the Corn, in their Markets, and that the ſame Hoſtlers ſhall ſell Hay and Oats, after a reaſonable price, ſo that they take but one half-peny over the common price in the market: And ſo much of one Statute made in the fourth year of the reign of the late King Henry the fourth, as doth concern the putting in execution of the part of the Statute made in the thirteenth year of the reign of King Richard the ſecond, that is before ſpecified: And one Statute made in the two and thirtieth year of the reign of King Henry the eight, intitled, An act concerning the baking of horſe-bread, be from henceforth repealed, made void, and of none effect.

The foreſaid ſtat. repealed. Hoſtlers, &c. ſhall make no horſe-bread. They ſhall ſell provender according to the Market.

And be it further Enacted, That no Hoſtler or Inholder, ſhall at any time after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, make horſe-bread in his Hoſtery, nor without, but Bakers ſhall make it, and the aſſiſe ſhall be kept, and that the weight be reaſonable, after the price of the corn and grain in the Markets adjoyning; and the Hoſtlers or Inholders ſhall ſell their horſe-bread and their Hay, Oats, Beans, Peaſe, provender, and alſo all kind of victual, both for man and beaſt, for reaſonable gain, having reſpect to the prices, for which they ſhall be ſold in the Markets adjoyning, without taking any thing for litter.

They may make horſe-bread, when no Baker dwells in the ſame Town.

Provided alwayes, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That from henceforth it may and ſhall be lawful for every Hoſtler and Inne-keeper, dwelling in any Town or Village, being a through-fare, or a common paſſage within this Realm, and being no City, Town corporate, or Market Town, wherein any common Baker, exerciſing the occupation of baking, and that hath been apprentice at the ſaid occupation by the ſpace of ſeven years, is dwelling, To make within his houſe horſe-bread, ſufficient, lawful, and of due aſſiſe, according as the price of grain and corn now is, and hereafter ſhall be from time to time: Any thing herein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

If they make it not of due aſſiſe, they ſhall be puniſhed by the Juſtices, &c.

And be it further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if the horſe-bread which any of the ſaid Hoſtlers or Inne-holders ſhall make, be not ſufficient, lawful, and of due aſſiſe, according to the price of grains and corn, as aboveſaid; Or that if any of them ſhall offend in any thing contrary to this act, then the Juſtices of Aſſize, Juſtices of Oyer and Terminer, Juſtices of the peace in every Shire, Liberty or Franchiſe within this Realm, Sheriffs in their turns, and Stewards in their Leets and Law-dayes, ſhall have full power and authority to enquire, hear and determine the ſaid defaults and offences of the ſaid Hoſtlers and Inne-holders, hereafter to be committed againſt the form of this preſent Statute. And the Hoſtler or Inne-holder for the firſt offence, ſhall be fined according to the quantity of the offence; And if being once convicted, he ſhall again offend, for the ſecond offence he ſhall be impriſoned for the ſpace of one moneth, without bail or mainpriſe; And if he ſhall a third time offend, being thereof convicted, he ſhall ſtand upon the Pillory, without being redeemed for money; And if he ſhall offend after the Judgment of the pillory given, he ſhall be fore-judged for keeping any Inne again.

CAP. XXII.

The Statutes of 3 & 4 Ed.6.21. and 5 & 6 Ed.6.14. explained.

3 & 4 Ed.6.21. 5 & 6 Ed.6.14.

WHereas in a Parliament holden at Weſtminſter in the third and fourth years of the reign of the moſt excellent Prince of happy memory, King Edward the ſixth, It was enacted, That no perſon or perſons after the Feaſt of the Annunciation of our Lady then next coming, ſhould buy to ſell again, any butter or cheeſe, unleſs he or they ſold the ſame again by retail in open ſhop, fair or market, and not in groſſe, upon pain of forfeiture of double the value of the ſame butter and cheeſe ſo ſold, contrary to the tenor of the ſaid act.

In and by which Act it is provided and enacted, That the ſaid word of retail mentioned in the ſaid act ſhould be expounded, declared, and taken only where a wey of cheeſe, or a barrel of butter, or a leſſe quantity, and not above, ſhould be ſold at one time to any perſon or perſons in open ſhop, fair or market; and that to be done without fraud or covin:

And whereas alſo by one other act made in a Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, in the fifth year of the Reign of the ſaid late King, it was enacted (amongſt other things) That whatſoever perſon or perſons ſhould ingroſſe or get into his hands any butter or cheeſe within the Realm of England, to the intent to ſell the ſame again, ſhould be accepted, reputed and taken to be an unlawful ingroſſer, and ſhould loſe and forfeit the value of the ſaid goods: In which act there is no proviſo for retailers at all; By occaſion whereof, the traders for butter and cheeſe for the City of London are continually vexed and moleſted by common informers, ſometimes upon the one ſtatute, and ſometimes upon the other, to their great loſs and charge:

Now for that by daily experience it is found, that the Traders of butter and cheeſe for the City of London, which fetch and provide the ſaid butter and cheeſe out of divers Counties, upon their great travel, charge and adventure, for proviſion of the ſaid City, and of others thereunto reſorting, and there ſell the ſame in their ſhops in open market, not only for the general uſe and ſervice of the ſaid City, and the Countries adjoyning, but alſo for any occaſion which may be offered for the better expedition of his Majeſties ſervice; As alſo for victualling of ſhips which daily are victualled from this port of London, which poſſibly cannot be performed by the ſmall quantities aforeſaid, and according to the ſaid ſtatute:

And whereas the common Informers finding that the letter of the ſaid ſtatute extendeth againſt ſuch as do ſell above the quantity of a wey of cheeſe, or of a barrel of butter at one time, though it be in open ſhop, fair or market; and that in the other act no proviſo at all is made, as aforeſaid, for retailers, have of late years much troubled the Traders of butter and cheeſe within the City of London, with many informations, as well upon the one ſtatute as the other, and have gotten ſeveral ſums of money for compoſition of them, albeit they then were and are men that have been apprentices, trained up in the ſaid trade, and have no other living or trade of life, to their great hinderance and impoveriſhment:

For remedy whereof, be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the ſaid Acts, or any of them, or any other Statute, Law, Ordinance or other proviſion whatſoever heretofore, for, or concerning the ſale of butter and cheeſe in open ſhop, fair or market, or the providing or buying of any butter or cheeſe, ſhall not in any wiſe extend to any perſon or perſons, being Cheeſe-mongers, or Tallow-Chandlers, free of the ſaid City, and having been brought up as apprentices by the ſpace of ſeven years, trading in butter and cheeſe, for ſuch butter and cheeſe and either of them, as he and they ſhall utter and ſell within London and the liberties thereof, or within the Borough of Southwark, or the City of Weſtminſter, for the victualling of any of the Shipping of his Majeſty, his heirs or ſucceſſors, or for the Ships of any other his Majeſties Subjects, or to ſuch butter or cheeſe which he or they ſhall ſell by any quantities at one time, and to one perſon, not exceeding four wey of cheeſe, or four barrels of butter, without fraud or covin, ſo as he or they ſell the ſame in open ſhop, fair or market: Any thing in the ſaid Acts and Statutes, or any of them to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The aforeſaid Acts ſhall not extend to London, Weſtminſter or Southwark.

Provided nevertheleſſe, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if the Juſtices of the peace of any of the Counties of this Realm of England, or the Dominion of Wales, at their quarter-Seſſions of any of the ſaid Counties, ſhall declare and publiſh in open Seſſions, that the Traders aforeſaid in butter and cheeſe ſhall forbear to buy any butter or cheeſe, for any time within the ſaid County or Counties, or within any parts or places of the ſame, that then for and during the time of ſuch reſtraint, the ſaid Traders in butter and cheeſe that ſhall buy any ſuch Butter or Cheeſe, and ſell the ſame again by retail, contrary to any the acts aforeſaid, ſhall not be freed of, or from any the penalties of the ſaid acts, but ſhall be ſubject to the ſame, as if this Act had never been made.

The Juſtices of peace may reſtrain the traders in butter and cheeſe to buy thoſe commodities in the Country.

This Act to continue unto the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament. 3 Car. 4. Continued until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament. Stat. 2 & 3 P. & M. 5. Stat. 19 H. 6. 8. 14 Car. 2. ca. 26.

CAP. XXIII.

Suits commenced in inferiour Courts, ſhall not be removed into ſuperiour Courts, unleſs, &c.

VVhereas there now are, and long time have been divers Courts of Record in divers Cities, Liberties, Towns corporate and elſewhere, ſome of them being far remote from Weſtminſter, others from the Court of grand Seſſions in Wales, which were principally ordained for the eaſe and quiet of ſuch as ſhould have occaſion to ſue there for debts, duties and wrongs, ſo that they might with ſmall expences receive juſtice according to the merits of their cauſes, in thoſe inferiour Courts, without being compelled to travel to Weſtminſter, or the Court of the great Seſſions in Wales: But of late divers of his Majeſties loving Subjects, having for juſt and true debts, and other good and lawful cauſes commenced Suits in ſuch inferiour Courts, and proſecuted their actions and ſuits many times ready for tryal, and the ſame cauſes being for the moſt part of ſmall value, have been removed into ſome of his Majeſties Courts at Weſtminſter, or the Court of the great Seſſions in Wales, and being remanded by Procedendo into the ſame inferiour Courts, where the action or ſuit was firſt commenced, the ſame have been again oftentimes removed into the ſame, or other of his Majeſties Courts at Weſtminſter, or Court of the great Seſſions in Wales, to the intolerable delay of Juſtice, and great expences of money, and loſſe and trouble to thoſe which juſtly and honeſtly by ſuch Actions and Suits have ſought only to recover or get ſatisfaction for debts, duties or wrongs, owing, due or done unto them:

No Writ to remove a ſuit commenced in an inferiour Court, ſhall be obeyed, unleſs it be delivered unto the Steward, &c. of the ſame Court before Iſſue or Demurrer joyned.

For remedy whereof, Be it enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and by the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That no Writ or Writs of habeas corpus, Certiorari, or any other Writ or Writs, Proces or Proceſſes whatſoever, other than Writs of Errour or attaint to be ſued forth after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, by any perſon or perſons whatſoever, out of, or from any of his Majeſties Courts at weſtminſter, or the Court of the great Seſſions in Wales, or out of any other Court or Courts, having, or pretending to have power to award ſuch Writs or proceſſes to ſtay or remove any action, Bill plaint, Suit, or Cauſe brought, commenced or depending, or hereafter to be brought, commenced or depending in any Court or Courts of Record, within any City, Liberty, Town corporate or elſe-where, which have, or ſhall have Juriſdiction, power or authority to hold Plea in that Action, Bill, Plaint, Suit, or Cauſe: The ſame cauſe of Action, Bill, Plaint or ſuit ariſing or growing within the ſaid City, Liberty, Town corporate, or Juriſdiction, ſhall after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament be received or allowed by the Stewards, Judge or Judges: or Officer or Officers of the Court or Courts, wherein, or to whom any ſuch Writ or Writs ſhall be directed and delivered: but that he and they ſhall and may proceed in the ſaid cauſe or cauſes, as though no ſuch writ or writs were ſued forth or delivered to him or them, except that the ſaid writ or writs be delivered to the Steward or Stewards Judge or Judges. Officer or Officers of the ſaid Court before Iſſue or Demurrer joyned in the ſaid cauſe or cauſes ſo depending, or to be depending in ſuch Court of Record, in any City, Liberty, Town corporate, or elſe-where, having power to hold ſuch Plea, ſo as the ſaid Iſſue or Demurrer be not joyned within ſix weeks next after the arreſt or Appearance of the Defendant or Defendants to ſuch Action or Suit commenced.

A Suit once remanded, ſhall never afterwards be removed.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any ſuch Action Bill, Plaint, Suit or Cauſe, which is or ſhall hereafter be brought, commenced, or depending in any ſuch Court of Record, in any City, Liberty, Town corporate, or elſe-where, ſhall after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament be removed or ſtaid by any ſuch Writ or Writs, Proceſs or Proceſſes, to be ſued forth or out of any of his Majeſties Courts at Weſtminſter, for the Court of the great Seſſions in Wales, or any other Court as aforeſaid, that if afterwards the ſame Action, Bill, Plaint, Suit or Cauſe ſhall be remanded or ſent back again by any Writ or Writs of Procedendo, or other writ whatſoever that then the ſame Action, Bill, Plaint, Suit or Cauſe, ſhall never afterwards be removed or ſtaid before Judgement, by any Writ or Writs whatſoever to be ſued forth, or out of any of his Majeſties ſaid Courts at Weſtminſter, or the ſaid Court of great Seſſions in Wales, or any other Court as aforeſaid, any Law, Statute, Cuſtome, Uſage or Reſtraint to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

A Suit when the thing in demand exceeds not five pounds, ſhall not be removed.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if in any Action, Bill, Plaint, Suit, or Cauſe, not concerning Free-hold or inheritance, or Title of Land, Leaſe or Rent, which ſhall be brought, commenced, or depending in any ſuch Court of Record, or any City, Liberty, Town corporate, or elſewhere, if it ſhall appear, or be laid in the Declaration, that the Debt, Damages, or things demanded, doth, or ſhall not amount to, or exceed the ſumme of five pounds, That then ſuch action, Bill, Plaint, Suit or Cauſe ſhall not be ſtayed, nor removed into any of his Majeſties courts at Weſtminſter, or other courts, as aforeſaid, by any Writ or Writs whatſoever, to be ſued or proſecuted forth, or out of his Majeſties ſaid courts at Weſtminſter, or other courts as aforeſaid, other than Writs of Errour or Attaint: Any Law, Statute, uſage, Cuſtome or reſtraint, to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

This act ſhall only extend to Courts in Liberties, &c. and when the Steward is an Utter Bariſter.

Provided alwaies that this act ſhall extend only, to ſuch courts of Record, in Cities, Liberties, Townes corporate, and elſewhere, and for ſo long time only, as there is or ſhall be an Utter-Bariſter of three years ſtanding at the barr, of one of the four Innes of Court, that is or ſhall be Stewards, Under-ſteward, or Deputy-Steward, Town-clerk, or Judge, or Recorder of the ſame inferiour Court, or that is, or ſhall be from time to time Aſſiſtant to ſuch Judge or Judges of ſuch inferiour Courts, as ſhall not be Utter-Barriſters of ſuch ſtanding, as is aforeſaid, and there preſent, in which ſuch Actions, Bill, Plaints, Suits or Cauſes, is or ſhall be brought, commenced, or depending, and not of Councel in any Action, Suit or cauſe then depending in the ſame inferiour Court; Any thing in this preſent act, or any law, or other Statute, Uſage, Cuſtome, or Reſtraint, to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Cro. Car. 79.

This Act ſhall not extend to admit any foreign Plea.

Provided that this act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to any Action, Bill, Plaint, Suit or Cauſe, wherein any ſuch Forreign or other Plea ſhall be pleaded, as could not be tryed or determined within the Juriſdiction of ſuch inferiour courts.

CAP. XXIIII.

The lands of him that dyes in execution ſhall be chargeable with the debts,

FOraſmuch as heretofore it hath been much doubted and queſtioned, if any perſon being in Priſon, and charged in Execution, by reaſon of any Judgment given againſt him, ſhould afterwards happen to dye in Execution, whether the party at whoſe Suit, or to whom ſuch perſon ſtood charged in execution at the time of his death, be for ever after concluded and barred to have execution of the Lands and goods of ſuch perſon ſo dying.

And foraſmuch as daily experience doth manifeſt, that divers perſons of ſufficiency in Real aud Perſonal Eſtate, minding to deceive others of their juſt debt, for which they ſtood charged in Execution, have obſtinately and wilfully choſen rather to live and die in priſon, than to make any ſatisfaction according to their abilities: To prevent which deceit, and for the avoyding of ſuch doubts and queſtions hereafter, Be it declared, explained and enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That from and after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, the party or parties, and at whoſe Suit, or to whom any perſon ſhall ſtand charged in execution for any Debt or Damage, recovered, his or their Executors or Adminiſtrators may after the death of the ſaid perſon ſo charged, and dying in execution, lawfully ſue forth, and have new Execution againſt the lands and tenements, goods and chattels, or any of them, of the perſon ſo deceaſed, in ſuch manner and form, to all intents and purpoſes, as he or they, or any of them might have had by the Lawes and Statutes of this Realm, if ſuch perſon ſo deceaſed had never been taken, or charged in Execution.

A new execution may be awarded againſt the lands of him that dies in execution.

Provided alwayes, and be it declared and enacted, that this act ſhall not extend to give liberty to any perſon or perſons, their Executors or Adminiſtrators, at whoſe Suit or Suits any ſuch party ſhall be in execution, and die in execution, to have, or take any new Execution againſt any the lands, tenements, or hereditaments of ſuch party dying in Execution, which ſhall at any time after the ſaid Judgment or Judgments be by him ſold bona fide, for the payment of any his Creditors, And the mony which ſhall be paid for the lands ſo ſold, either paid or ſecured to be paid to any of his Creditors, with their privity and conſent, in diſcharge of his or their due Debts, or of ſome part thereof: Any thing before in this act to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

This act ſhall not extend to lands ſold bona fide.

CAP. XXV.

No advantage ſhall be taken againſt the Kings Patentees, or tenants, for non-paymant of rent, &c.

FOraſmuch as the Kings Majeſty, out of his gracious diſpoſition, is and ever hath been averſe from taking any advantage, howſoever lawfull and juſt, againſt any of his Subjects, growing by any forfeiture, breach of condition, or ſtrict interpretation of his Highneſs grants, or Letters Patents, or the Grants or Letters Patents of any of his Royal Predeceſſors, of any manors, Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, and yet the Grantees or Patentees deriving their eſtates, by, or from his Majeſty, or his Predeceſſors, have been too apt and ready to exact the advantage of ſuch forfeiture, where his Majeſty himſelf, or his Predeceſſors have not required the ſame, which hath been ever held an unequal and extream courſe, and hath many times been relieved by ſuits in Courts of equity, though with the great charge and trouble of the parties endangered thereby.

For remedy whereof, as well where the King, as any of his Predeceſſors or Succeſſors hath granted, or ſhall grant the ſaid manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments, or any part thereof or the reverſion of any part therof, to any other, as where the reverſion, remainder, or eſtate thereof, is, or ſhall be in the Kings Majeſty, or his ſucceſſors, in the right of the Crown of England, or Dutchie of Lancaſter, or otherwiſe, his Majeſty of his abundant grace towards his loving Subjects, is graciouſly pleaſed that it be enacted; and be it enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, by, and with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporall, and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That if any perſon or perſons, bodies politick or corporate, having, holding, or poſſeſſing, or which hereafter ſhall have, hold, or poſſeſs any manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments, by vertue, or colour of any original Grant or Leaſe, or aſſignments of the ſame, made by the Kings Majeſty or any of his Predeceſſors, or to be made by any of his ſucceſſors, for any number of years, for life or lives, in Fee-tail, or Fee-ſimple, or other Eſtate, whereupon any rent, ſervice, or other duty hath been, is, or ſhall be reſerved, or payable with or under any condition or limitation of re-entry, Ceſſer, or to be void for default of payment of ſuch rent, or performance of ſuch ſervice or duty, heretofore hath made, or any other by, from or under whom he claimeth, hath made, or any which hereafter ſhall have hold, or poſſeſs, ſhall make any default therein, and yet after ſuch default made, ſuch rent, ſervice, or other duty hath been, or ſhall be anſwered, paid, or done unto his Majeſty, or any of his Predeceſſors or Succeſſors, into his, or their Receit of the Exchequer, or Dutchy of Lancaſter, or court of Wards, or to any other having authority to receive the ſame, as the caſe ſhall require, before any advantage of ſuch forfeiture or cauſe of forfeiture hath been or ſhall be taken, and before any Commiſſion awarded to inquire, or other Proces iſſued touching the ſaid forfeiture, or non-payment of rent: That in all ſuch caſes, no advantage ſhall be taken by his Majeſty, his heirs or ſucceſſors, of, for, or by reaſon of any ſuch forfeiture or cauſe of forfeiture.

No advantage ſhall be taken againſt the Patentees or Tenant of the King for default of payment of rents, &c.

And be it further enacted, That no perſon or perſons claiming, or which afterwards ſhall claim, by from, or under his Majeſty, or any of his Predeceſſors, or Succeſſors, at any time after ſuch cauſe or title of forfeiture given, ſhall in any wiſe have or take any benefit or advantage, by reaſon, means, or colour of ſuch default made, or to be made; but that every ſuch eſtate forfeited, or forfeitable by means or occaſion of ſuch default of payment of rent, or performance of ſervice, or other duty, ſhall be adjudged to continue and have its being, as if no ſuch default or cauſe of forfeiture had been had or made, any Law, cuſtome, or uſage to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

CAP. XXVI.

It is Felony to levy a Fine, ſuffer a Recovery, &c. in anothers name not privy thereto.

VVhereas it is of late grown to be a great and general grievance to his Majeſties Subjects within the Realm of England, and the Dominion of Wales, that many lewd perſons of baſe condition, for very little reward or recompence, have of late years uſed, and ſtill do uſe to levy Fines, and ſuffer recoveries of Lands, and other Hereditaments, to acknowledge Statutes, Recognizances, Bayles and Judgments, in the name or names of any other perſon or perſons, not privy or conſenting to the ſame, which hath, and daily doth turn to the great inquietation, charge, trouble, and undoing of many of the good Subjects of this Kingdom: And the rather, for that there is no remedy in Law to reform theſe and the like abuſes.

It ſhall be Felony to levy a Fine, ſuffer a Recovery by covin, in anothers name.

This Felony ſhall not corrupt the blood, nor take away Dower.

Cro. El.

For remedy whereof, Be it enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That all and every perſon and perſons, which at any time after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall acknowledge, or procure to be acknowledged, any Fine or Fines, Recovery or Recoveries, Deed or Deeds inrolled, Statute or Statutes, Recognizance or Recognizances, Bail or Bails, Judgment or Judgments, in the name or names of any other Perſon or Perſons not privy or conſenting to the ſame, and being thereof lawfully convicted or attainted, ſhall be adjudged, eſteemed and taken to be Felons, and ſuffer the pains of death, and incur ſuch forfeitures and penalties as Felons in other caſes convicted or attainted, do by the Laws of England loſe and forfeit, without the benefit or priviledge of Clergy to be allowed to any ſuch Offendor or Offendors. Provided alwayes, That ſuch attainder ſhall not be any corruption of Blood, nor loſſe of Dower to the Wife, but the next Heir ſhall have the Lands, whereof ſuch perſons attainted dyed ſeized, and ſuch Wife her Dower, as if no ſuch attainder had been had.

An Attorney may do it for another man.

Provided alwayes, and be it likewiſe enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act ſhall not extend to any Judgment or Judgments, acknowledged by any Attorney or Attorneys of Record, for any perſon or perſons, againſt whom any ſuch Judgment or Judgments ſhall be had or given.

CAP. XXVII.

The deſtroying and murthering of Baſtard Children prevented.

Whereas many lewd women that have been delivered of Baſtard Children, to avoid their ſhame, and to eſcape puniſhment, do ſecretly bury or conceal the death of their Children, and after, if the Child be found dead, the ſaid women do alledge, that the ſaid Child was born dead, whereas it falleth out ſometimes (although hardly it is to be proved) that the ſaid Child or Children were murthered by the ſaid women, their lewd Mothers, or by their aſſent or procurement.

It ſhall be murther for a mother to conceal the death of her Baſtard child.

For the preventing therefore of this great miſchief, Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That if any woman after one moneth next enſuing the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, be delivered of any Iſſue of her body, Male or Female, which being born alive, ſhould by the Laws of this Realm be a Baſtard, and that ſhe endeavour privately, either by drowning, or ſecret burying thereof, or any other way, either by her ſelf, or the procuring of others, ſo to conceal the death thereof, as that it may not come to light, whether it were born alive or not, but be concealed; In every ſuch caſe, the ſaid Mother ſo offending ſhall ſuffer death, as in caſe of murther, except ſuch Mother can make proof by one witneſs at the leaſt, that the Child (whoſe death was by her ſo intended to be concealed, was born dead: And this Act to continue untill the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

CAP. XXIX.

All Leaſes made or to be made by the moſt excellent Prince Charles of the Dutchy Lands of Cornwall, confirmed.

IN moſt humble wiſe beſeecheth your moſt moſt excellent Majeſty, your humble and obedient Son and Suppliant, Charles Prince of Wales, Duke of Cornwall and of York, and Earl of Cheſter, That whereas your ſaid Suppliant is ſeiſed of the ſaid Dukedom of Cornwall, and the Poſſeſſions thereof, of a ſtate of Inheritance, under a ſpecial form of limitation differing from the ordinary Rules of Inheritance at the Common Law, whereupon ſome queſtions do grow, whether Leaſes made by your ſaid Suppliant, of any Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, parcel of the ſaid Dutchy, or annexed to the ſame, ſhould be good and effectual in Law longer then your Suppliants life: for avoiding of which doubt, and to the end ſuch perſons as have taken, or ſhall take Leaſes from your Suppliant, may be ſure to have good Eſtates, and ſo to be encouraged to beſtow charges in the building and maintaining of their Houſes, and good manuring of the Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments ſo demiſed, or to be demiſed to them.

May it pleaſe your moſt excellent Majeſty, That it may be ordained and enacted by your Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled; And be it ordained, eſtabliſhed and enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That all Leaſes made, or to be made by your ſaid Suppliant, of any Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, parcel of the Poſſeſſions of the ſaid Dutchy of Cornwall, or annexed to the ſame, ſhall be good and effectual in Law, according to the purport and content of the ſaid Leaſes; againſt your Majeſty, your Heirs and Succeſſors, and againſt your ſaid Suppliant and his Heirs, and againſt all and every perſon and perſons that ſhall inherit or ſucceed according to the ſaid limitation, or otherwiſe.

All leaſes made by Prince CHARLES of the Dutchy lands of Cornwall ſhall be good.

Except they be made for above 31 years, or three lives.

Provided alwayes, That every ſuch Leaſe ſo made, or to be made, of any Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments in Poſſeſſion, be or ſhall be made, by Deed indented, and but for three lives or fewer, or for one and thirty years or under, or ſome other term of years, determinable upon one, two, or three lives, and not above: And if ſuch Leaſes be made in Reverſion, that then the ſame, together with the Eſtates in poſſeſſion, do not exceed three lives, or the term of one and thirty years, and not in any wiſe diſpuniſhable of waſte; And ſo as upon every ſuch Leaſe, be, or ſhall be reſerved the ancient or moſt uſual Rent, or ſuch Rent as hath been yielded or paid for the greater part of twenty years next before the making of the ſaid Leaſes, and was or ſhall be reſerved, due and payable, by or to him or her that had, or ſhall have the Inheritance, or other Eſtate of the ſaid Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments: And where no ſuch Rent hath been reſerved, or payable, that that then upon every ſuch Leaſe there be or ſhall be reſerved a reaſonable Rent, not being under the twentieth part of the clear yearly value of the Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments contained in ſuch Leaſe.

All Covenants, &c. contained in ſuch Leaſes either made or to be made, ſhall be good.

And be it further Ordained and Enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That all Covenants, Conditions and Reſervations, and other Agreements contained in every ſuch Leaſe ſo made, or to be made as aforeſaid, ſhall be good and effectual in Law, according to the words and contents of the ſame, as well for and againſt them to whom the Reverſion of the ſame Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments ſhall come, as for and againſt them to whom the ſaid Leaſes ſhall come reſpectively, as if your Suppliant at the time of the making of ſuch Covenants, Conditions and Reſervations, and other Agreements, had been ſeiſed of an abſolute Eſtate in Fee-ſimple, in the ſame Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments. Saving alwayes to all and every perſon and perſons, bodies politick and corporate, their Heirs and Succeſſors, Executors, Adminiſtrators and Aſſigns (other then your Majeſty, your Heirs and Succeſſors, and other then your Suppliant and his Heirs, and all and every perſon and perſons that ſhall inherit or ſucceed, according to the ſaid limitation, or otherwiſe) all ſuch Rights, Titles, Eſtates, Cuſtoms, Intereſts, Terms, Claims and Demands whatſoever, of what kind, nature, or quality whatſoever, of, in, to or out of the ſaid Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, or any of them, as they or any of them had or ought to have had before the making of this Act, to all intents and purpoſes, and in as large and ample manner and form, as if this Act had never been had or made, This Act or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding. CAP. XXXII.

The River of Thames ſhall be made navigable for Barges, Boats and Lighters, from the Village of Bercot in the County of Oxon unto the Univerſity and City of Oxon.

The conveniences of having the river of Thames navigable to the City of Oxford.

WHereas the clearing and effecting of a paſſage for Barges, Boats and Lighters, by the River of Thames, to the Univerſity and City of Oxon, will be very convenient for conveyance of free-ſtone, commonly called Oxford ſtone, or Heddington ſtone, from Bullington Quarre, near the ſaid City and River of Thames, by the ſaid paſſage to the City of London, and other parts, and moſt profitable and neceſſary to and for the ſaid Univerſity and City of Oxon, for conveyance thereby of Coals, Fewel, and other neceſſaries to the Univerſity and City, whereof there is now very great ſcarcity and want, and far greater hereafter like to grow, if ſome help therefore be not made and provided: And alſo the ſaid paſſage will be very behovefull for preſerving of the High-ways, leading to and from the ſaid Univerſity and City, and other parts thereabouts, which now by continual carriages by Carts are ſo worn and broken, that in Winter ſeaſon they are for travellers dangerous, and hardly to be amended and continued paſſable, without exceeding charge: And whereas the ſaid River of Thames for many miles beyond the ſaid City of Oxford, weſtward, is already navigable and paſſable for Boats of good burthens and contents, and likewiſe is already navigable for Barges from London to the Village of Bercot in the County of Oxford, being within ſix or ſeven miles of the City of Oxford, whither and from whence, by the carriage of Stone, Iron, and other proviſion by Carts, the High-wayes are ſpoiled, as aforeſaid: And whereas the ſaid River may eaſily be made paſſable and navigable for Barges, Boats or Lighters, between the aforeſaid Univerſity and City of Oxford, and the Village of Bercot aforeſaid, by removing ſome lets and impediments, by which means the ſaid Univerſity and City of Oxford ſhall be greatly relieved and helped: Be it therefore ordained and enacted by the Kings Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in Eight Commiſſioners ſhall be appointed to make the River of Thames navigable from Oxford to Bercot.

this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the Lord Chancellor, or Lord Keeper of the great Seal of England for the time being, at any time after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall and may at the requeſt of the Chancellor of the ſaid Univerſity, or his Vice-Chancellor for the time being, appoint and authorize, by Commiſſion under the great Seal of England, eight Commiſſioners, whereof four to be of or for the Univerſity aforeſaid, to be choſen by the ſaid Chancellor of the ſaid Univerſity, or his Vice-Chancellor for the time being, and by them or either of them to be nominated and certified to the aforeſaid Lord Chancellor, or Lord Keeper of the great Seal of England; and four to be of or for the City of Oxon, to be choſen and nominated by the Mayor, Bayliffs and Commonalty of the ſaid City of Oxford for the time being, and to be certified by them as aforeſaid; which ſaid Commiſſioners, or the more part of them, ſhall have full power to cleanſe, ſcowre, open and make navigable the ſaid River of Thames from the ſaid City of Oxon to the Village of Bercot aforeſaid; And for that purpoſe, to dig the Banks of the ſaid River or other Ground, Ditch, Brook or Stream, near thereunto adjoyning, and to cut away all Trees and roots of Trees that may be hurtful or hinderance to the ſaid paſſage, and to open, prepare, or make all Wears and Locks or Turnpikes fit for the ſaid paſſage, and to remove any thing that ſhall be any impediment or ſtop to the clearing and making of the ſaid paſſage; and likewiſe to cut, ſcowre, or open any other Stream or Water-courſe, that ſhall be moſt convenient for making the ſaid paſſage or River navigable; And likewiſe to make and erect any Wharfs, Locks, or Turnpikes, or Pens for water, in or near the ſaid River or Paſſage, that ſhall be fit or neceſſary for the ſame, and to bring, lay, and work all materials requiſite for the making, erecting, and repairing of the ſaid Locks or Turnpikes, upon the banks or ground near the ſaid River or Paſſage.

The Commiſſioners ſhall agree with, and ſatisfie all parties that may be damnified by the works.

And for that the doing of the things aforeſaid may be prejudicial to the inheritance and profit of divers perſons, Bodies politick or corporate, that have Land adjoyning to the ſaid River or Paſſage; Be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Commiſſioners aforeſaid, or the more part of them, before they do meddle with the Lands, Inheritance or Poſſeſſion of any perſon or perſons, Bodies politick or corporate, ſhall firſt agree with ſuch perſons, or Body politick or corporate, for the loſs and damage that any of them ſhall any way receive by the making of the ſaid Paſſage, or any thing concerning the ſame: And if the ſaid Commiſſioners, or the more part of them, and the Party or Parties, Owner of ſuch Lands, Inheritance or Poſſeſſions, cannot agree touching the value thereof, that then the three next Juſtices of Peace of the County where the Land doth lie, being no parties, nor dwelling within the Univerſity or City of Oxon, nor intereſted in the ſoyl, dwelling neareſt to the ſaid Land or Inheritance; Or in their default, the Juſtices of Aſſiſe of the ſaid County of Oxon ſhall determine, appoint, and ſet down what and how much ſatisfaction every ſuch perſon or perſons, Body politick or corporate, ſhall have for or in reſpect of the ſaid loſſes, ſo by him or them to be ſuſtained: And the ſaid price, or value ſo ſet down by them, ſhall bind all parties; which agreement or order ſo made, ſhall be ſet down in writing under the Hands and Seals of the ſaid Commiſſioners and Parties, upon the Agreement between them made, or of the ſaid Juſtices of the Peace, or Juſtices of Aſſiſe of the ſaid County, which ſhall ſet down the ſaid price for ſatisfaction, within three moneths after the firſt reſort unto them for that cauſe, according to this Act: And the ſame to be kept among the Evidences of the ſaid Univerſity, and to be regiſtred in the Lieger-Book of the ſaid Univerſity, and to be inrolled in the Court of the ſaid City of Oxford: And that then upon payment of ſuch ſum or ſums of money ſo agreed upon or ordered, as aforeſaid, or tender thereof made, with purpoſe to pay the ſame, It ſhall then be lawful to and for the ſaid Commiſſioners, or the more part of them, to dig and make, or cauſe to be digged or made, the ſaid Locks, Wharfs, Paſſage, or do any ſuch other act for which any ſuch Agreement or Order ſhall be made, as aforeſaid.

The Commiſſioners may tax the Univerſity and City of Oxford at reaſonable ſums for the effecting of the ſaid paſſage.

And for that the ſaid Paſſage cannot be effected and maintained without great charge, and that the principal benefit thereof will redound immediately to the Univerſity and City of Oxford aforeſaid, Be it therefore further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Commiſſioners, or the more part of them, by this preſent Act ſhall have full power and authority to Tax and Aſſeſſe the Inhabitants within the ſaid Univerſity and City of Oxon, or within either of them, and Suburbs thereof, and Bodies politick and corporate within the ſame, at ſuch reaſonable ſums and payments for the purpoſes aforeſaid, as they in their diſcretion ſhall think meet: the ſaid ſums, and every of them, to be diſpoſed and employed for and towards the bearing of the charge of making and maintaining of the ſaid paſſage.

They may conſtitute orders for the uſage of the ſaid paſſage.

And whereas the ſaid Univerſity and City are the Procurers of the ſaid paſſage, Be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That the Commiſſioners aforeſaid, or the more part of them, by vertue of this Act, ſhall have power and authority from time to time, with the conſent of the Vice-Chancellor of the ſaid Univerſity, and Mayor of the City of Oxford for the time being, to ordain and make Orders and Conſtitutions for the good and orderly uſage of the ſaid paſſage, and for all Locks, Weares, or Turnpikes thereof, to be made and maintained at the charge of the Univerſity and City of Oxon, aforeſaid: And for all Boats, Boat-men, Paſſengers, Wharfs, Carriages, and rates for Carriages, by, or through the ſaid paſſage, and all things concerning the ſame: And to ſet, lay, and execute ſuch reaſonable pains and puniſhments upon the Breakers thereof, as they ſhall think fit. Nevertheleſs, the Juſtices of Aſſiſe of the ſaid County of Oxford for the time being, upon complaint made to them by any perſon grieved with the ſaid Taxations, Aſſeſſements, Charges, Orders, Conſtitutions, Pains and Puniſhments, or any of them, ſhall and may abridge, moderate or reform the ſame, as they ſhall find juſt cauſe.

When any of the Commiſſioners fail, the Lord Chancellor, &c. may appoint others.

The Commiſſioners may appoint Collectors of the Tax.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That when any of the ſaid Commiſſioners ſhall happen to die, or become unfit for the Service, that then, and ſo often, it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the Lord Chancellor, or Lord Keeper of the great Seal of England, for the time being, from time to time to ſupply, appoint and authorize one Commiſſioner, or ſo many Commiſſioners to be nominated, choſen and certified as aforeſaid, out of, and for the ſaid Univerſity or City reſpectively, as ſhall make and fill up the full number of eight Commiſſioners: And that the Commiſſioners aforeſaid, or the more part of them, by the authority of this Act, ſhall have full power to chooſe, nominate, and appoint one or more ſuch perſon or perſons, as they ſhall think fit, to collect, gather, and lay out the ſaid ſeveral ſums; and the perſon and perſons ſo appointed, ſhall gather and take up the ſaid ſums aſſeſſed, by diſtreſs and ſale of Goods of every perſon refuſing to pay the Tax or Aſſeſſement impoſed upon him, reſtoring to the perſon whoſe Goods ſhall be ſo diſtrained the overplus (if auy be) of the price thereof, being ſold. And for that the ſaid paſſage from Bercot aforeſaid, to the ſaid City of Oxford, is againſt the ſtream, the Barges, Boats, Lighters, or other Veſſels, muſt of neceſſity in ſome places, and at ſome times, be haled up by the ſtrength of Men, Horſes, Winches, Engines, or other means in that behalf convenient; Be it therefore enacted by the authority of this preſent Act, That it ſhall and may be lawful to and for Watermen, Boatmen, Bargemen, and other helpers of them, in convenient places, to have and uſe Winches, Ropes, and other Engines, aud with the ſame by ſtrength of Men and Horſes, or either of them, going up the Land or Banks near the ſaid River or Paſſage, through the ſaid paſſage, without the hinderance, trouble, or impeachment of any perſon or perſons, to draw or hale up the Barges, Boats, Lighters, or other Veſſels, doing none other harm, then only by going or treading upon the ſaid Land or Banks near adjoyning, as aforeſaid.

The Boatmen, &c. may go on land to hale their Boats, &c.

A proviſo for the tax of the Univerſity and City.

Provided always, That no priviledged perſon of the Univerſity of Oxford ſhall be taxed, as aforeſaid, without the conſent of two or more of the Commiſſioners of or for the ſaid Univerſity, nor any Free man inhabiting of or in the ſaid City, or the Suburbs or Liberties thereof, ſhall be taxed as aforeſaid, without the conſent of two or more of the Commiſſioners of or for the ſaid City.

The courſe and channel of Thames ſhall not be diverted.

Provided alſo, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall give power and authority to the ſaid Commiſſioners, or enable them to do any act or thing, whereby the ſaid River of Thames ſhall be diverted or turned out of his ancient courſe or channel wherein the ſame now runneth, or to draw more water thence then ſhall conveniently ſerve for the ſaid paſſage.

3 Jac. 20. repealed.

And be it further enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That one Act of Parliament made in the third year of the Kings Majeſties Reign, the twentieth Chapter, (intituled, An Act for clearing the paſſage by water from London to, and beyond the City of Oxon) ſhall be from henceforth utterly repealed, and of none effect,

CAP. I.

There ſhall be no Aſſemblies for unlawful Paſtimes upon the Lords-Day.

FOraſmuch as there is nothing more acceptable to God than the true and ſincere Service and Worſhip of him according to his holy Will, and that the holy keeping of the Lords-Day is a principal part of the true Service of God, which in very many places of this Realm hath been, and now is prophaned and neglected by a diſorderly ſort of People, in exerciſing and frequenting Bear-baiting, Bull-baiting, Enterludes, common Playes, and other unlawful Exerciſes and Paſtimes upon the Lords-Day: And for that many Quarrels, Bloodſheds, and other great inconveniences have grown by the reſort and concourſe of People going out of their own Pariſhes to ſuch diſordered and unlawful Exerciſes and Paſtimes, neglecting Divine-Service both in their own Pariſhes and elſewhere: Be it enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That from and after forty dayes next after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, there ſhall be no Meetings, Aſſemblies, or concourſe of People out of their own Pariſhes on the Lords-Day within this Realm of England, or any the Dominions thereof, for any Sports and Paſtimes whatſoever; nor any Bear-baiting, Bull-baiting, Enterludes, common Playes, or other unlawful Exerciſes and Paſtimes uſed by any perſon or perſons within their own Pariſhes, and that every perſon or perſons offending in any the premiſſes, ſhall forfeit for every offence three ſhillings four pence, the ſame to be employed & converted to the uſe of the poor of the Pariſh where ſuch offence ſhall be committed: And that if any one Juſtice of the Peace of the County, or the chief Officer or Officers of any City, Borough, or Town corporate where ſuch offence ſhall be committed, upon his or their view, or confeſſion of the party, or proof of any one or more witneſs by Oath, which the ſaid Juſtice or chief Officer or Officers ſhall by vertue of this Act have authority to miniſter, ſhall find any perſon offending in the premiſſes, the ſaid Juſtice or chief Officer or Officers ſhall give Warrant under his or their Hand and Seal to the Conſtables and Church-wardens of the Pariſh or Pariſhes where ſuch offence ſhall be committed, to levy the ſaid penalty ſo to be aſſeſſed, by way of diſtreſs, and ſale of the Goods of every ſuch Offendor, rendring to the ſaid Offendors the overplus of the money raiſed of the ſaid Goods ſo to be ſold; And in default of ſuch diſtreſs, that the party offending be ſet publickly in the Stocks by the ſpace of three hours; And that if any man be ſued or impeached for execution of this Law, he ſhall and may plead the general Iſſue, and give the ſaid matter of Juſtification in evidence. Provided, That no man be impeached by this Act, except he be called in queſtion within one moneth next after the ſaid offence committed. Provided alſo, That the Eccleſiaſtical Juriſdiction within this Realm, or any the Dominions thereof, by vertue of this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not be abridged, but that the Eccleſiaſtical Court may puniſh the ſaid offences, as if this Act had not been made: This Act to continue untill the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament, and no longer. 3 Car. 4. Unlawful Meetings and Paſtimes on the Lords Day forbidden.

Every perſon uſing any unlawful paſtimes on the Lords Day, ſhall forfeit 3 s. 4 p. to the poor of the Pariſh.

After conviction by warrant from a Juſtice, &c. the Conſtables, &c. may levy the penalty, &c.

General Iſſue. Limitation of this action.

The Eccleſiaſtical Juriſdiction not abridged.

CAP. II.

All Leaſes to be made within three years by the Kings Majeſty of the Dutchy-Lands of Cornwall confirmed.

2 Jac 29.

WHereas the King our Soveraign Lord, being in the life-time of his Royal Father of bleſſed memory, ſeized of the ſaid Dukedom of Cornwall, did bargain and contract for Leaſes and Eſtates to be made of divers Meſſuages, Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, parcel of the ſaid Dukedom of Cornwall, which Leaſes and Eſtates his Majeſty was enabled to have made in his Fathers life-time, by an Act of Parliament made in the laſt Seſſion of Parliament, intituled, An Act to enable the moſt excellent Prince Charles to make Leaſes of Lands, parcel of his Highneſſe Dutchy of Cornwall, or annexed to the ſame. And becauſe his Majeſty having received divers Fines and ſums of Money, according to the ſaid Contracts, and having entred into treaty with divers others for like Eſtates, the finiſhing of which Contracts, and making the ſaid Leaſes, was prevented by his Majeſties acceſs to the Imperial Crown of this Realm, is graciouſly pleaſed for the good of his poor Tenants of the ſaid Dutchy Lands, to proceed to the full accompliſhment of the Contracts, and Leaſes of the premiſſes.

Be it therefore Enacted by our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the Authority of this preſent Parliament, That all Leaſes to be made within the ſpace of three years next enſuing by our ſaid Soveraign Lord the King, by Letters Patents, Indentures, or other Writings under his great Seal of England, or Seal of the Court of Exchequer, of any Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, parcel of the poſſeſſions of the ſaid Dutchy of Cornwall, or annexed to the ſame, ſhall be good and effectual in Law, according to the purport and content of the ſaid Leaſes, againſt our ſaid Soveraign Lord the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, and againſt all and every perſon or perſons, that ſhall hereafter have, inherit, or enjoy the ſaid Dukedom of Cornwall, by force of any Act of Parliament or other limitation whatſoever.

All Leaſes to be made within three years by the King, of the Dutchy Lands of Cornwall ſhall be good.

Provided alwayes, That every ſuch Leaſe ſo to be made, of any Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments in poſſeſſion ſhall be made but for three Lives, or fewer, or for one and thirty years or under, or ſome other term of years determinable upon one, two, or three lives, and not above. And if ſuch Leaſes be made in Reverſion, That then the ſame, together with the Eſtates in Poſſeſſion, do not exceed three Lives, or the term of one and thirty years, and not in any wiſe diſpuniſhable of waſte; And ſo as upon every ſuch Leaſe ſhall be reſerved the ancient or moſt uſual Rent, or ſuch Rent as hath been yielded or payed for the greater part of twenty years next before the making of the ſaid Leaſes, and ſhall be reſerved due and payable, by, or to him or her that ſhall have the Inheritance or other Eſtate of the ſaid Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments. And where no ſuch Rent hath been reſerved or payable, that then upon every ſuch Leaſe, there ſhall be reſerved a reaſonable Rent, not being under the twentieth part of the clear yearly value of the Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments contained in ſuch Leaſe.

Except they be made for above 31 years or 3 lives, &c.

The ancient Rent to be reſerved, and if none anciently, a reaſonable Rent.

And be it further Ordained and Enacted by Authority of this preſent Parliament, That all Covenants, Conditions and Reſervations, and other Agreements contained in every Leaſe ſo to be made as aforeſaid, ſhall be good and effectual in Law, according to the words

All covenants, &c. contained in ſuch Leaſes ſhall be good.

The right of others ſaved.

and contents of the ſame, as well for, and againſt them to whom the reverſion of the ſame Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments ſhall come, as for and againſt them to whom the ſaid Leaſes ſhall come reſpectively: As if our ſaid Soveraign Lord the Kings Majeſty at the time of the making of ſuch Covenants, Conditions, and Reſervations, and other agreements, were ſeiſed of an abſolute and indefeizible Eſtate in Fee ſimple, in the ſame Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments: Saving alwaies to all and every perſon and perſons, bodies politick and corporate, their heirs and ſucceſſors, executors, adminiſtrators and aſſigns, other then our ſaid Soveraign Lord the Kings Majeſty, and his Heirs, and all and every perſon and perſons that ſhall hereafter have, inherit, or enjoy the ſaid Dukedome of Cornwal, by force of any act of Parliament, or other limitation whatſoever) all ſuch rights, titles, eſtates, cuſtoms, intereſts, terms, claims and demands whatſoever, of what kind, nature or quality ſoever, of, in, to, or out of the ſaid Manors, Lands, Tenements, or hereditaments, or any of them, as they or any of them had, or ought to have had before the making of this act, to all intents and purpoſes, and in as large and ample manner and form, as if this Act had never been had or made: This Act or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

4 Jac. 5.

The Inne-keeper, &c. that permits a foreigner to tipple in his houſe, ſhall incur the penalty provided by 1 Jac. 5.

WHereas in the laſt Parliament it was enacted, That if any perſon or perſons, whatſoever his or their habitation or abiding be, ſhould after be found, upon view, or his own confeſſion, or proof of one witneſs, to be tipling in any Inne, Ale-houſe, or Victualling-houſe; ſuch perſon or perſons ſhould be thenceforth adjudged and conſtrued to be within the Statutes of the firſt and fourth years of the late Kings Majeſties reign, King James of famous memory: The one entituled, An act to reſtrain the inordinate haunting of tipling in Innes, Ale-houſes, aud other Victualling-houſes: And the other entituled, An act to repreſs the odious and loathſome ſin of Drunkenneſs, as if he or they had inhabited and dwelled in the City, Town corporate, Market town, Village or Hamlet, where the Inne, Ale-houſe or Victualling-houſe was, or ſhould be, where he or they ſhould be ſo found tipling, ſhould incur the like penalty, and the ſame to be in ſuch ſort levied and diſpoſed, as in the ſaid act is expreſſed, concerning ſuch as there inhabit, but no puniſhment by any or either the ſaid Acts, or by any other Statute, is inflicted upon the Inn-keeper, Alehouſe-keeper, or Victualler, that permits, or ſuffers ſuch perſon or perſons, not there inhabiting, to tipple in his Inne, Alehouſe, or Victualling-houſe: For remedy whereof, Be it enacted, That every Inn-keeper, Alehouſe-keeper, and other Victualler, that at any time after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament ſhall permit and ſuffer any perſon or perſons, not inhabiting in the City, Town corporate, Market Town, Village or Hamlet, where ſuch Inne, Alehouſe or Victualling-houſe is or ſhall be, to tipple in the ſaid Inne, Alehouſe or Victualling-houſe, contrary to the true intent of any or either of the ſaid former Statutes, the ſaid Inn keeper, Alehouſe-keeper and Victualler ſo offending, ſhall incur the ſame penalty, and in ſuch manner to be proved, levied and diſpoſed, as in the former Statute of the firſt year of his ſaid late Majeſties reign is appointed for permitting ſuch to tipple as dwell in the ſame City, Town corporate, Market Town, Village or Hamlet.

Vintners and Victuallers to be within this and the other Statutes.

And be it further enacted, That the keepers of Taverns, and ſuch as do ſell Wine in their houſes, and do alſo keep Inns, or Victualling in their houſes, ſhall be taken to be within the ſaid two former Statutes, and alſo within this Statute.

Anno Reg. CAROLI, Regis Angliæ, Scotiæ, Franciæ, & Hiberniæ, Tertio.

AT the Parliament begun at Weſtminſter the Seventeenth day of March, Anno Dom. 1627. in the Third year of the Reign of our moſt gracious Soveraign Lord, CHARLES, by the Grace of God, of England, Scotland, France and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith, &c. And there continued until the Twenty ſixth day of June following, and then Prorogued unto the twentieth day of October next enſuing: To the high pleaſure of Almighty God, and to the weal-publick of this Realm, were enacted as followeth.

A Declaration of divers Rights and Liberties of the People to the Kings moſt Excellent Majeſty.

Humbly ſhew unto our Soveraign Lord the King, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons in Parliament aſſembled, that whereas it is declared and Enacted by a Statute made in the time of the Reign of King Edward the Firſt, commonly called Statum de Tallagio non concedendo, That no Tallage or Aid ſhall be laid or levied by the King or his Heirs in this Realm, without the good will and aſſent of the Archbiſhops, Biſhops, Earls, Barons, Knights, Burgeſſes, and other the Freemen of the Commonalty of this Realm; And by Authority of Parliament holden in the five and twentieth year of the reign of King Edward the third, it is declared and Enacted, That from thenceforth no perſon ſhould be compelled to make any Loans to the King againſt his will, becauſe ſuch Loans were againſt reaſon, and the Franchiſe of the Land; And by other Lawes of this Realm it is provided That none ſhould be charged by any Charge or Impoſition called a Benevolence, nor by ſuch like charge: By which the Statutes before mentioned, and other the good Lawes and Statutes of this Realm, your Subjects have inherited this Freedom, That they ſhould not be compelled to contribute to any Tax, Tallage, Aid, or other like charge, not ſet by common conſent in Parliament.

Yet nevertheleſs, of late, divers Commiſſions, directed to ſundry Commiſſioners in ſeveral Counties, with inſtructions, have iſſued; by means whereof your People have been in divers places aſſembled, and required to lend certain ſums of Mony unto your Majeſty, and many of them, upon their refuſal ſo to do, have had an Oath adminiſtred unto them, not warrantable by the laws or ſtatutes of this Realm, and have been conſtrained to become bound to make Appearance and give Attendance before your Privy Council, and in other places; and others of them have been therefore impriſoned, confined, and ſundry other ways moleſted and diſquieted: And divers other Charges have been laid and levied upon your People in ſeveral counties by Lord-Lieutenants, Deputy-Lieutenants, Commiſſioners for Muſters, Juſtices of Peace, and others by command or direction from your Majeſty, or your Privy Council, againſt the laws and free Cuſtoms of this Realm.

And where alſo by the Statute called The great Charter of the Liberties of England, It is declared and Enacted; That no Freeman may be taken or impriſoned, or be diſſeiſed of his Freehold or Liberties, or his free Cuſtoms; or be outlawed or exiled, or in manner deſtroyed, but by the lawful judgement of his Peers, or by the Law of the Land.

9 H. 3. 29.

And in the eight and twentieth year of the reign of King Edward the third, it was declared and Enacted by Authority of Parliament, That no man, of what eſtate or condition that he be, ſhould be put out of his Land or tenements, nor taken, nor impriſoned, nor diſherited, nor put to death, without being brought to anſwer by due proceſs of Law:

28 Ed. 3. 3.

Nevertheleſs, againſt the tenor of the ſaid Statutes, and other the good Laws and Statutes of your Realm to that end provided, divers of your Subjects have of late been impriſoned without any cauſe ſhewed: And when for their deliverance they were brought before Juſtices by your Majeſties Writs of Habeas corpus, there to undergo and receive as the Court ſhould order, and their keepers commanded to certifie the cauſes of their detainer, no cauſe was certified, but that they were detained by your Majeſties ſpecial command, ſignified by the Lords of your Privy Council and yet were returned back to ſeveral Priſons, without being charged with any thing to which they might make anſwer according to the Law.

And whereas of late great Companies of Souldiers and Mariners have been diſperſed into divers Counties of the Realm, and the Inhabitants againſt their wills, have been compelled to receive them into their houſes, and there to ſuffer them to ſojourn, againſt the Laws and Cuſtoms of this Realm, and to the great grievance and vexation of the People:

And whereas alſo by Authority of Parliament, in the five and twentieth year of the reign of King Edward the third, it is declared and Enacted, That no man ſhould be fore-judged of life or limb againſt the form of the Great Charter and Law of the Land; And by the ſaid Great Charter, and other the Lawes and Statutes of this your Realm, no man ought to be adjudged to death but by the Laws eſtabliſhed in this your Realm, either by the Cuſtoms of the ſame Realm, or by Acts of Parliament: And whereas no offendor of what kinde ſoever, is exempted from the proceedings to be uſed, and puniſhments to be inflicted by the Laws and Statutes of this your Realm; Nevertheleſs, of late divers Commiſſions under your Majeſties great Seal have iſſued forth, by which certain perſons have been aſſigned and appointed Commiſſioners, with power and authority to proceed within the Land, according to the Juſtice of Martial Law, againſt ſuch Souldiers and Mariners, or other diſſolute perſons joyning with them, as ſhould commit any Murther, Robbery, Felony, Mutiny, or other outrage or miſdemeanor whatſoever, and by ſuch ſummary courſe and order as is agreeable to Martial Law, and as is uſed in Armies in time of War, to proceed to the trial and condemnation of ſuch Offendors, and them to cauſe to be executed and put to death according to the Law Martial:

25 Ed. 3. 4.
2º Ed. 5. 3.

By pretext whereof ſome of your Majeſties Subjects have been by ſome of the ſaid Commiſſioners put to death, when and where, if by the Lawes and Statutes of the Land they had deſerved death, by the ſame Laws and Statutes alſo they might, and by no other ought to have been judged and executed.

And alſo ſundry grievous Offenders, by colour thereof claiming an exemption, have eſcaped the puniſhments due to them by the Laws and Statutes of this your Realm, by reaſon that divers of your Officers and Miniſters of Juſtice have unjuſtly refuſed or forborn to proceed againſt ſuch offenders according to the ſame Laws and Statutes, upon pretence that the ſaid Offenders were puniſhable only by Martial Law, and by authority of ſuch Commiſſions as aforeſaid; Which Commiſſions, and all other of like nature, are wholly and directly contrary to the ſaid Laws and Statutes of this your Realm:

The Petition.

They do therefore humbly pray your moſt excellent Majeſty, That no man hereafter be compelled to make or yield any Gift, Loan, Benevolence, Tax, or ſuch like charge, without common conſent by Act of Parliament; And that none be called to make anſwer, or take ſuch Oath, or to give attendance, or be confined, or otherwiſe moleſted or diſquieted concerning the ſame, or for refuſal thereof; And that no Freeman, in any ſuch manner as is before mentioned, be impriſoned or detained; And that your Majeſty would be pleaſed to remove the ſaid Souldiers and Mariners, and that your People may not be ſo burthened in time to come: And that the foreſaid Commiſſions for proceeding by Martial Law, may be revoked and annulled; And that hereafter no Commiſſions of like nature may iſſue forth to any perſon or perſons whatſoever, to be executed as aforeſaid, leſt by colour of them any of your Majeſties Subjects be deſtroyed, or put to death, contrary to the Lawes and Franchiſe of the Land.

All which they moſt humbly pray of your moſt excellent Majeſty, as their Rights and Liberties, according to the Laws and Statutes of this Realm; And that your Majeſty would alſo vouchſafe to declare, That the awards, doings and proceedings, to the prejudice of your People, in any of the premiſſes, ſhall not be drawn hereafter into conſequence or example: And that your Majeſty would be alſo graciouſly pleaſed, for the further comfort and ſafety of your People, to declare your Royal Will and Pleaſure, That in the things aforeſaid, all your Officers and Miniſters ſhall ſerve you according to the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, as they tender the Honour of your Majeſty, and the Proſperity of this Kingdome. CAP. I.

A reſtraint of divers abuſes committed on the Lords Day.

A Carrier, &c. that travels upon the Lords Day, ſhall forfeit 20 s.

Butchers that ſell or kill victual upon that Day, ſhall forfeit 6 s. 8 d.

After conviction, and by warrant from a Juſtice, &c. the Conſtables, &c. may levy the ſaid Forfeitures to the uſe of the poor; or they may be recovered by Suit.

Foraſmuch as the Lords Day, commonly called Sunday, is much broken and prophaned by Carriers, Waggoners, Carters, Wain men, Butchers and Drovers of Cattel, to the great diſhonour of God, and reproach of Religion; Be it therefore enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and by the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That no Carrier with any Horſe or Horſes, nor Waggon-men with any Waggon or Waggons, nor Car-men with any Cart or Carts, nor Wain-man with any Wain or Wains, nor Drovers with any Cattel, ſhall after forty dayes next after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, by themſelves, or any other, travel upon the ſaid Day, upon pain that every perſon and perſons ſo offending ſhall loſe and forfeit twenty ſhillings for every ſuch offence: Or if any Butcher by himſelf, or any other for him, by his privity or conſent, ſhal after the end of the ſaid forty days kill or ſell any Victual upon the ſaid Day; That then every ſuch Butcher ſhall forfeit and loſe for every ſuch offence the ſum of ſix ſhillings and eight pence; The ſaid offences, and every of them, being done in view of any Juſtice of Peace, Mayor, or other head Officer, of any City or Town corporate, within their limits reſpectively, or being proved upon Oath by two or more witneſſes, or by the Confeſſion of the party offending, before any ſuch Juſtice, Mayor, or head Officer, within their ſeveral limits reſpectively, wherein ſuch offence ſhall be committed; To which end every ſuch Juſtice, Mayor, or head Officer, ſhall have power by this act to miniſter an Oath to ſuch witneſs or witneſſes: All which ſums or penalties ſhall or may be levied by any Conſtable, or Church-warden, by Warrant from any ſuch Juſtice or Juſtices of the Peace, Mayor, or other head Officer, as aforeſaid, within their ſeveral limits where ſuch offence ſhall be committed or done, by diſtreſs and ſale of the offenders, goods, rendring to the party the overplus; or ſhall be recovered by any perſon or perſons that will ſue for the ſame, by Bill, plaint, or information, in any of his Majeſties Courts of Record, in any City or town corporate, before his Majeſties Juſtices of the peace in their general Seſſions of the Peace: All which forfeitures ſhall be employed to and for the uſe of the poor of the Pariſhes where the ſaid offences ſhall be committed or done, ſaving only that it ſhall be lawful to and for any ſuch Juſtice, Mayor, or head Officer, out of the ſaid Forfeitures, to reward any ſuch perſon or perſons, that ſhall inform or otherwiſe proſecute any perſon or perſons offending againſt this preſent Act, according to their diſcretions, ſo that ſuch reward exceed not the third part of the Forfeiture: Provided that ſuch Bill, Plaint, or Information ſhall be commenced, ſued and proſecuted in the County, City, or Town corporate, where ſuch offence ſhall be committed and done, and not elſewhere, wherein no Eſſoin, Protection or Wager of Law ſhall be allowed to the Defendant. Provided always, That it ſhall be lawful for any Conſtable or Church-warden, that ſhall have any Suit or Action brought againſt them for any Diſtreſs by them or any of them to be taken by force of this preſent Act, to plead the general Iſſue, and to give the ſpecial matter in Evidence: Provided likewiſe, That no perſon or perſon whatſoever ſhall be impeached by this Act, unleſs he be thereof queſtioned within ſix moneths after the Offence committed. Provided further, That this Act ſhall not in any ſort abridge or take away the Authority of the Court Eccleſiaſtical. This Act to continue to the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament. Stat. 1 Car. 1. Continued and made perpetual. 17 Car. cap. 4.

CAP. II.

A reſtraint of paſſage, or ſending any perſon beyond the Seas to be Popiſhly bred.

Foraſmuch as divers ill affected perſons to the true Religion eſtabliſhed within this Realm, have ſent their children into foreign parts to be bred up in Popery, notwithſtanding the reſtraint thereof by the Statute made in the firſt year of the reign of our late Soveraign Lord King James of famous memory: Be it Enacted, That the ſaid Statute ſhall be put in due execution: And be it further Enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That in caſe any perſon or perſons, under the obedience of the King, his heirs and Succeſſors at any time after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall paſſe or go, or ſhall convey or ſend, or cauſe to be ſent or conveyed, any Childe, or other perſon, out of any of the Kings Dominions, into any the parts beyond the Seas, out of the Kings obedience, to the intent and purpoſe to enter into, or be reſident or trained up in any Priory, Abbey, Nunnery, Popiſh Univerſity, Colledge or School, or Houſe of Jeſuits, Prieſts, or in any private Popiſh Family, and ſhall be there, by any Jeſuit, Seminary Prieſt, Friar, Monk, or other Popiſh perſon, inſtructed, perſwaded or ſtrengthened in the Popiſh Religion, in any ſort to profeſs the ſame, or ſhall convey or ſend, or cauſe to be conveyed or ſent, by the hands or means of any perſon whatſoever, any ſum or ſums of Money, or other thing, for or towards the maintenance of any Childe, or other perſon, already gone or ſent, or to go, or to be ſent, and trained and inſtructed, as is aforeſaid, or under the name or colour of any Charity, Benevolence or Alms, towards the relief of any Priory, Abbey, Nunnery, Colledge, School, or any Religious Houſe whatſoever: Every perſon ſo ſending, conveying, or cauſing to be ſent and conveyed, as well any ſuch Childe or other perſon, as any ſum or ſums of Money, or other thing, and every perſon paſſing or being ſent beyond the Seas, being thereof lawfully convicted, in or upon any Information, preſentment, or Indictment, as is aforeſaid, ſhall be diſabled from thenceforth to ſue or uſe any action, bill, plaint, or information, in courſe of Law, or to proſecute any Suit in any Court of Equity, or to be Committee of any Ward, or Executor or Adminiſtrator to any perſon, or capable of any Legacy or Deed or Gift, or to bear any Office within the Realm; and ſhall loſe and forfeit all his Goods and Chattels, and ſhall forfeit all his Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, Rents, Annuities, Offices and Eſtates of Freehold, for and during his natural life.

1 Jac. 4. He that goes himſelf, or ſends any other beyond the Seas to be trained up in Popery, &c. ſhall be diſabled to ſue, &c. and ſhall loſe all his goods, and ſhall forfeit all his lands, &c. for life. Stat. 27 El. 2. Stat. 3 Jac. 5.

Provided alwayes, That no perſon ſent or conveyed as aforeſaid, that ſhall within ſix moneths after his return into this Realm, conform himſelf unto the preſent Religion, eſtabliſhed in this Church of England, and receive the Sacrament of the Lords Supper, according to the Statutes made concerning Conformity in other caſes required from Popiſh Recuſants, ſhall incur any the penalties aforeſaid.

A convert ſhall not incur the penalties aforeſaid. Stat. 27 El. 2.

And it is Enacted, That all and every of the Offences againſt this Statute may be enquired, heard and determined before the Juſtices of the Kings Bench, or Juſtices of Aſſize, or Gaol delivery, or of Oyer and Terminer of ſuch Counties where the Offenders did laſt dwell or abide, or whence they departed out of this Kingdom, or where they were taken.

Provided alſo, That if any perſon or Child, ſo paſſing, or ſent, or now being beyond the Seas, ſhall after his return into this Realm, conform himſelf to the preſent Religion, eſtabliſhed in the Church of England, and receive the Sacrament of the Lords Supper, according to the Statutes made for or concerning Conformity in other caſes required from Popiſh Recuſants, for and during ſuch time as he or ſhe ſhall ſo continue in ſuch Conformity and obedience, according to the true intent and meaning of the ſaid Laws and Statutes, ſhall have his or her Lands reſtored to them again.

CAP. III.

The Forfeiture and Puniſhment of him that keeps an Alehouſe without Licence.

Whereas, by an Act made in the fifth year of the reign of King Edward the ſixth of famous memory, intituled, An Act for keepers of Alehouſes to be bound by Recognizance, amongſt other things, it is enacted, That if any perſon or perſons, other then ſuch as ſhould be from thenceforth admitted and allowed by the Juſtices mentioned in the ſaid Act ſhould after the day in the ſaid Act limited, obſtinately, and upon his own authority, take upon him or them to keep a Common Alehouſe or Tippling-houſe, or ſhould, contrary to the commandment of the ſaid Juſtices, or two of them, uſe commonly ſelling of Ale or Beer, That then the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, or two of them (whereof one to be of the Quorum) ſhould, for every ſuch offence, commit every ſuch perſon or perſons ſo offending to the common Gaol within the ſame Shire, City, Borough, Town corporate, Franchiſe or Liberty, there to remain without bayl or mainpriſe by the ſpace of three dayes: And before his or their deliverance, the ſaid Juſtices ſhall take recognizance of him or them ſo committed, with two ſureties that he or they ſhould not keep any common Alehouſe, Tippling-houſe, or uſe commonly ſelling of Ale and Beer, as by the dicretion of the ſaid Juſtices ſhould ſeem convenient: And the ſaid Juſtices ſhould make Certificate of every ſuch Recognizance and Offence, at the next Quarter Seſſions that ſhould be holden within the ſame Shire, City, Borough, Town corporate, Franchiſe, or Liberty, where the ſame ſhould be committed or done, which Certificate ſhould be a ſufficient Conviction in Law of the ſame offence: And the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, upon the ſaid Certificate made, ſhould in open Seſſions aſſeſs the Fine for every ſuch Offence at twenty ſhillings, as by the ſaid Act may appear: Which Law hath not wrought ſuch Reformation as was intended, for that the ſaid Fine of twenty ſhillings is ſeldom levied, and for that many of the ſaid Offenders, by reaſon of their poverty, are neither able to pay the ſaid Fine of twenty ſhillings, nor yet to bear their own Charges of Conveying them to the Gaol; and moreover, do leave a great charge of Wife and Children upon the Pariſhes wherein they live; In regard whereof, the Conſtables and other Officers are much diſcouraged in preſenting them, and the Offendors become obſtinate and incorrigible.

5 & 6 Ed. 6. 25.

He that keeps an Alehouſe, &c. without licenſe, ſhall forfeit 20 ſ.

For remedy whereof, Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That if any perſon or perſons, after forty dayes next enſuing the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall upon his own authority, not being thereunto lawfully licenced, take upon him or them, to keep a common alehouſe, or Tippling houſe, or uſe commonly ſelling of ale, or Beer, Cyder, or Perry, that then every ſuch Perſon or perſons ſhall for every ſuch offence forfeit and loſe the ſum of twenty ſhillings of currant mony of England, to the uſe of the poor of the pariſh where ſuch offence ſhall be committed, The ſame offence being viewed and ſeen by any Mayor, Bailiff, or Juſtices of Peace or other head Officer, within the ſeveral limits, or confeſſed by the party ſo offending, or proved by the oath of two witneſſes, to be taken before any Major, Bailiffe, or other head Officer, or any one or more Juſtice or Juſtices of the Peace, who by vertue of this act ſhall be authoriſed to miniſter the ſaid oath to any perſon or perſons that can or will juſtifie the ſame, being within the limits of their ſaid Commiſſion; The ſaid penalty to be levyed by the Conſtables or Church-wardens of the pariſh or pariſhes where the ſaid offence ſhall be committed; Who ſhall be accountable therefore to the uſe of the poor of the ſaid pariſh by way of diſtreſs, to be taken and detained by warrant or precept, from the ſaid Major, Bailiffe, Juſtice or Juſtices, or other head Officer, by whom the ſaid offence ſhall be viewed, or before whom the ſame ſhall be confeſſed, or proved as aforeſaid: and for default of ſatisfaction, within three dayes next enſuing, the ſaid diſtreſs to be by the ſaid Conſtables or Church-wardens appriſed and ſold, and the overplus to be delivered to the party or parties offending, and this to be only for the firſt offence. And if ſuch offendor or offendors ſhall not have ſufficient Goods and Chattels whereby the ſaid twenty ſhillings may be levied by way of diſtreſs, as aforeſaid, or ſhall not pay the ſaid ſum of twenty ſhillings, within ſix dayes after ſuch c conviction as aforeſaid, That then the ſaid Mayor, Bayliffe, Juſtice or Juſtices, or other head Officer, before whom the ſaid Offendor ſhall be convicted as aforeſaid, ſhall commit all and every the ſaid offendor or offendors to ſome Conſtable or Conſtables, or other inferiour Officer or Officers, of the City, Borough, Town, Pariſh or Hamlet, where the offence ſhall be committed, or the party apprehended, to be openly whipped for the ſaid offence, as the ſaid Juſtice or Juſtices ſhall limit or appoint.

The Conſtables or Church-wardens ſhall levy the ſaid forfeiture to the uſe of the poor.

The party that is not able to pay the forfeiture ſhall be whipped.

The Officers neglecting to puniſh the offendor ſhall be impriſoned or pay ten ſhillings.

And be it Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any Conſtable or inferiour Officer ſhall neglect to execute the ſaid precept or warrant, or do refuſe, or do not execute by himſelf, or ſome other to be by him appointed, upon the offendor the puniſhment limited by this Statute, that in that caſe it ſhall and may be lawful for the ſaid Mayor, Bayliff, Juſtice or Juſtices of peace, or other head Officer, to commit the Conſtable or other inferiour Officer ſo refuſing, or not executing the ſaid puniſhment by himſelf or ſome other, to the common Gaol of the ſaid County, City, or Town corporate, there to remain, without bail or mainpriſe, until the ſaid Offendor or Offendors ſhall be by the ſaid Conſtable or Conſtables, or other inferiour Officer ſo refuſing, or not executing the ſaid puniſhment, or ſome by his or their procurement, puniſhed and whipped, as is above limited and declared, or untill he or they ſo neglecting or refuſing, ſhall have paid the ſum of forty ſhillings of lawful money of England, unto the uſe of the poor of the pariſh for their ſaid contempt.

For the ſecond and third offence the offendor ſhall be committed to the houſe of correction.

And be it further Enacted, That if the ſaid Offendor or Offendors being an unlicenſed Alehouſe-keeper, ſhall offend in any the premiſſes the ſecond time, and be thereof lawfully convicted in manner and form aforeſaid, That then the ſaid Mayor, Bayliff, Juſtice or Juſtices of the peace, or other head Officer ſhall commit him, her, or them unto the houſe of Correction, there to remain for the ſpace of one moneth, and be dealt withal as idle, lewd and diſorderly perſons. And if ſuch perſon or perſons ſhall again offend, and ſhall be thereof convicted, as aforeſaid, that then the ſaid offendor and offendors, for every ſuch offence, ſhall be committed unto the ſaid houſe of Correction, as aforeſaid, there to remain until by the order of the Juſtices in their general Seſſions for the County, City, Borough or Franchiſe, he, ſhe, or they ſhall be delivered from thence.

The offendor puniſhed by this Act, ſhall not be again puniſhed by 5 & 6 Ed. 6.25. & contra.

Provided alwayes, That ſuch Offendor or Offendors as ſhall be puniſhed by vertue of this act, ſhall not be puniſhed again for the ſame offence by the former act, made in the fifth year of King Edward the ſixth afore-mentioned. And that ſuch offendor or offendors as ſhall be puniſhed by vertue of the before mentioned act, made in the fifth year of King Edward the ſixth, ſhall not be puniſhed again for the ſame offence by vertue of this preſent act, nor any thing therein contained.

Alehouſes kept in the time of Fairs excepted.

Provided alwaies, That in ſuch Towns and places where any Fair or Fairs ſhall be kept, That for the time only of the ſame Fair or Fairs, it ſhall be lawful for every perſon or perſons to uſe common ſelling of Ale or Beer in Booths, or other places there, for the relief of the Kings Subjects that ſhall repair unto the ſame, in ſuch like manner and ſort as hath been uſed and done in times paſt, this act, or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding. CAP. IV.

Divers Statutes made perpetual, others continued, and ſome others repealed. When Corn may be tranſported, &c.

1 El. 17.

BE it Enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That one act made in the firſt year of the reign of the late Queen Elizabeth, entituled, An act for the preſervation of Spawn and fry of Fiſh, except the proviſo in the ſaid act mentioned, that the ſame act ſhall not extend to the Rivers of Tweed, nor Waters or Rivers, whereof the Queen was anſwered of any yearly rent or profit, nor to Farmers, Owners or Occupiers of the Rivers of Wye, Uske, and other Rivers in the ſaid proviſo mentioned or contained.

One act made in the thirteenth year of the reign of the ſaid late Queen Elizabeth, entituled, An act touching leaſes of Benefices, and other Eccleſiaſtical Livings with Cure, together with all and every explanations, additions, and alterations thereof, or of any of them, or to any of them, made by ſeveral Statutes, in the fourteenth, eighteenth, and three and fortieth years of her ſaid late Majeſties reign. 13 El. 10. 27 El. not Printed.

And one act made in the ſeven and twentieth year of the reign of the late Queen Elizabeth, intituled, An act for the maintenance of the Peer and Cobb of Lyme Regis in the County of Dorſet. 3 Jac. 8. The four acts abov. mentioned, made perpetual.

And one act made in the third year of the reign of the late King James, entituled, An act for the avoiding of unneceſſary delayes of Executions, be by authority of this preſent Parliament made perpetual, and ſhall from henceforth ſtand in full force and effect, and be put in due execution for ever hereafter. 21 Jac. 17. made perpetual.

And be it alſo enacted by the ſame authority, That one Statute made in the one and twentieth year of the reign of the late King James, intituled, An act againſt Uſury, which act was to continue for the ſpace of ſeven years, from the four and twentieth day of June, which then ſhould be in the year of our Lord, One thouſand ſix hundred twenty and five, and ſo to the end of the firſt Seſſion of Parliament then next following, be alſo by authority of this Parliament made perpetual.

Michaelmas Term abbreviated.

Inconvenience of Michaelmas Term being ſo ſoon after the Feaſt of Saint Michael.

WHereas the Term of S. Michael, commonly called Michaelmas Term, doth begin ſo ſoon after the Feaſt of Saint Michael, that it is generally found to be very inconvenient to his Majeſties ſubjects both Nobles and others, as well for the keeping of the Quarter-Seſſions next after the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel, and the keeping of their Leets, Law-dayes, and Court-Barons, which they can by no means attend, in regard of the neceſſity of their coming to the ſaid Term ſo ſpeedily after the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Arch-Angel, to appear upon Juries, and to follow their cauſes and ſuits in the Law, the ſame time being the chief time of all the year for the ſowing of Land with Winter Corn, and for the diſpoſing and ſetting in order of all their Winter Husbandry and buſineſs, and for the receiving and paying of Rents; And in many parts of this Kingdom Harveſt is ſeldom or never Inned till three weeks after the ſaid Feaſt.

Therefore the Kings moſt Excellent Majeſty, out of the Princely care that he hath of all his loving Subjects, having a ſpecial care to the encreaſe and continuance of their wealth and good Eſtates, by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporall, and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, Ordaineth, Enacteth and Eſtabliſheth, That in the ſaid Michaelmas Term there ſhall be ſix common dayes of Return only, and not above; that is to ſay, The firſt day of the Return thereof ſhall be, and be called A die Sancti Michaelis in tres Septimanas; The ſecond day of Return of the ſame Term, ſhall be, and be called, A die Sancti Michaelis in unum menſem; The third day of Return of the ſame Term, ſhall be, and be called, In Craſtino animarum; The fourth day of Return of the ſame Term, ſhall be, and be called, In Craſtino Sancti Martini; The fifth day of Return of the ſame Term, ſhall be, and be called, In Octabis Sancti Martini; And the ſixth day of Return of the ſaid Term, ſhall be, and be called, A die Sancti Martini in quindecem dies.

In Michaelmas Term ſhall be ſix common Days of Return, only.

And that the ſame dayes of Return ſhall be obſerved in all the High Courts of Record of our Soveraign Lord the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors hereafter to be holden at Weſtminſter, or other place or places at the aſſignment or appointment of our Soveraign Lord the King, his heirs and ſucceſſors; And that from and after the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Arch-Angel next coming, there ſhall not be, nor be called any dayes of Return in Octabis Sancti Michaelis, nor a die Sancti Michaelis in quindecem dies, nor either of them; And that the ſaid Term of Saint Michael yearly for ever, from and after the ſaid Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel next coming, begin in and upon the ſaid Tres ſeptimanas Sancti Michaelis, whenſoever it ſhall happen to fall (except it be on the Lords Day, commonly called Sunday, and then on the morrow next after) for the keeping of the Eſſoins, Proffers, Returns, and other Ceremonies heretofore uſed and kept in like manner and form, as hath been uſed to be done in the day of the Return, commonly called, Octabis Sancti Michaelis, and that the full Term of Saint Michael ſhall yearly for ever, from and after the Feaſt of Saint Michael next coming, in all the aforeſaid Courts of Record begin, and take his commencement upon the quarto die of the ſaid tres ſeptimanas Sancti Michaelis, and not before, as formerly it hath been uſed upon the quarto die of Octabis Sancti Michaelis, except it be on the Lords day, commonly called Sunday, and then on the morrow next after.

The Return dayes to be obſerved.

Two return-dayes taken away.

When the Term ſhall begin.

And be it further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if after the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel next coming, any Writ in any real Action, other than Writs of Entry for common Recoveries, and Writs of right of Advowſon, and Writs of Dower, Unde nihil habet hereafter mentioned, come in, and be returnable in his Majeſties Court of Common Pleas, in the day of Return of Tres ſeptimanas Sancti Michaelis, then day ſhall be given in Craſtino Purificationis beatæ Mariæ; And if a die Sancti Michaelis in unum menſem, then in Octabis Purificationis beatæ Mariæ; if in Craſtino animarum, then in Quindena Paſchæ; if in Craſtino Sancti Martini, then a die Paſchæ in tres ſeptimanas; if in Octabis Sancti Martini, then a die Paſchæ in unum menſem; if in Quindena Sancti Martini, then in quinque ſeptimanas Paſchæ; if in Octabis Sancti Hillarii, then in Craſtino Aſcenſionis Domini; if in Quindena Sancti Hillarii, then in Craſtino Sancti Trinitatis; if in Craſtino Purificationis beatæ Mariæ, then in Octabis Sanctæ Trinitatis; if in Octabis Purificationis beatæ Mariæ, then in Quindena ſanctæ Trinitatis; if in Quindena Paſchæ, then a die ſanctæ Trinitatis in tres ſeptimanas; if a die Paſchæ in tres ſeptimanas, then a die Sancti Michaelis in tres ſeptimanas; if a die Paſchæ in unum menſem then a die Sancti Michaelis in unum menſem; if a die Paſchæ in quinque ſeptimanas, then in Craſtino animarum; if in Craſtino Aſcenſionis Domini, then in Craſtino Sancti Martini; if in Craſtino ſanctæ Trinit. then in Octabis ſancti Martini; if in Octabis ſanctæ Trinitatis, then in Quindena ſancti Martini; if in Quindena ſanctæ Trinitatis, then in Octabis ſancti Hillarii; if a die ſanctæ Trinitatis in tres ſeptimanas, then in Quindena ſancti Hillarii.

How dayes ſhall be given on Writs in real Actions, other then Writs of Entry, Right, or Advowſon, or Dower.

And for the more ſpeedy proceeding in Writs of Dower, and Writs of Entry for common Recoveries, to be ſued and proſecuted, by Writs of Entry, or Writs of Right of Advowſon: Be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if after the ſaid Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel next coming, any Writ of Dower Unde nihil habet, or any Writ of Entry, whereupon a common Recovery is to be ſued, or Writs of Right of Advowſon be returnable, a die Sancti Michaelis in tres ſeptimanas, then a day ſhall be given in Octabis Sancti Martini; if a die ſancti Michaelis in unum menſem, then in Quindena ſancti Martini; if in Craſtino animarum, then in Octabis ſancti Hillarii; if in Craſtino Sancti Martini, then in Quindena Sancti Hillarii; if in Octabis Sancti Martini, then in Craſtino Purificationis beatæ Mariæ; if in Quindena ſancti Martini, then in Octabis Purificationis beatæ Mariæ; if in Octabis Sancti Hillarii, then in Quindena Paſchæ; if in Quindena Sancti Hillarii, then a die Paſchæ in tres ſeptimanas; if in Craſtino Purificationis beatæ Mariæ, then a die Paſchæ in unum menſem; if in Octabis Purificationis beatæ Mariæ, then a die Paſchæ in quinque ſeptimanas; if in Quindena Paſchæ, then in Craſtino Aſcenſionis Domini; if a die Paſchæ in tres ſeptimanas, then in Craſtino Sanctæ Trinitatis; if in Menſe Paſchæ, then in Octabis Sanctæ Trinitatis; if in Quinque ſeptimanas Paſchæ, then in Quindena Sanctæ Trinitatis; if in Craſtino Aſcenſionis Domini, then a die Sanctæ Trinitatis in tres ſeptimanas; if in Craſtino Sanctæ Trinitatis, then a die Sancti Michaelis in tres ſeptimanas; if in Octabis Sanctæ Trinitatis, then a die Sancti Michaelis in unum menſem; if in Quindena Sanctæ Trinitatis, then in Craſtino Animarum; if a die Sanctæ Trinitatis in tres ſeptimanas, then in Craſtino Sancti Martini.

How dayes ſhall be given in theſe Writs.

Provided nevertheleſs, and be it likewiſe enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That in all Writs of Dower, Unde nihil habet, after iſſue joyned, it ſhall not be needful or requiſite to have above fifteen dayes betwixt the Teſte and Return of the Venire facias, or any other Proceſs to be ſued out for the tryal of the ſaid iſſue, but that the Writ of Venire facias, and other Proceſs after Iſſue joyned, until judgment be given, having only fifteen dayes between the Teſte and Return thereof, ſhall be good and effectual in Law, as is uſed in perſonal Actions: any Law, Statute or Uſage to the contrary heretofore notwithſtanding.

In Writs of Dower after iſſue joyned, fifteen dayes between the Teſte and return ſufficient.

And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That from and after the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel now next coming, the ſaid day of Return, called Craſtino Aſcen-ſionis Domini, ſhall be a good and perfect Return, to all intents and purpoſes, as any other of the ſaid dayes of Return before mentioned is or hath been uſed, notwithſtanding there be not fifteen dayes between the quarto die of the ſaid Return of Craſtino Aſcenſionis Domini, and the Eſſoin day of the Return of Craſtino Sanctæ Trinitatis.

Craſtino Aſcenſionis a good return. The Eſſoin dayes.

Writs in perſonal actions, having day from tres Michaelis, till Craſtino Aſcenſionis, good.

And be it further enacted, That all Writs and Proceſs in perſonal Actions hereafter to be made out of any of his Majeſties ſaid Courts at Weſtminſter, and having day from tres Michaelis, until Craſtino Animarum, ſhall be good and effectual in Law, notwithſtanding there be not fifteen dayes betwixt the quarto die of the ſaid tres ſeptimanas Sancti Michaelis, and the dayes of Eſſoin of Craſtino Animarum; Any Law, Statute or Uſage to the contrary heretofore notwithſtanding.

Proviſo for writs returnable 1641. Exp.

Provided alwayes, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all Writs and Proceſs to be made, from and after the Feaſt of Eaſter, in the year of our Lord God 1641. Returnable in Octabis, or Quindena Sancti Michaelis now next enſuing, or having dayes betwixt any of the ſaid Returns, ſhall by force of this Act have day, unto tres ſeptimanas Sancti Michaelis next, and the parties to the ſaid Writs and Proceſs ſhall then appear, and plead, and proceed thereupon, to all intents and purpoſes, as if the ſaid Writs and Proceſs had been made returnable a die Sancti Michaelis in tres ſeptimanas.

Writs of Summons ad Warrantizandum, upon common Recoveries, and writs of Right of Advowſon abridged to five Returns.

And whereas before the making of this Act, all Writs of Summons ad Warrantizand. againſt the Vouchees upon Common Recoveries had in writs of Entry, and writs of Right of Advowſon, were made for nine Returns incluſive; Now for the more ſpeedy perfecting of ſuch Recoveries, Be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That from and after the ſaid Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel next, all and every ſuch writs of Summons ad Warrantizand. upon the appearance of the Tenant to every ſuch writ of Entry, and writ of Right of Advowſon, ſhall and may be made, and abridged to five Returns, as writs of Summons, ad Warrantizand. in writs of Dower, Unde nihil habet, heretofore have been uſed and accuſtomed.

Common Writs and Proceſs to keep the aforeſaid Returns.

And it is further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all common Writs and Proceſs, as well perſonal as mixt, which ſhall fortune to be returnable in the ſaid Michaelmas Term, ſhall have and keep the ſaid Returns of A die Sancti Michaelis in tres ſeptimanas, a die ſancti Michaelis in unum menſem, in Craſtino Animarum, in Craſtino Sancti Martini, in Octabis Sancti Martini, and a die Sancti Martini in Quindecem dies, or any of them.

Special dayes may be appointed as have been uſed.

Provided alwayes, and it is further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That in ſuch and like caſes, and proceſs, as ſpecial dayes have been uſed to be appointed and aſſigned, and given for the returning of writs and proceſs; It ſhall be lawful to the Juſtices of every of the Kings ſaid Courts of Record, for the time being, in all the proceſs by them awarded, to aſſign & appoint ſpecial days of Returns, as by their diſcretions ſhall be thought convenient.

Dayes in Aſſiſe of Darrein Preſentment, and in plea of Quare Impedit, and in Attaint, not contrary hereto ſhall be firm.

Provided alſo, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the dayes in Aſſiſe of Darrein preſentment, and in Plea of Quare Impedit, limited and appointed by the Statute of Marlebridge, and alſo the dayes to be given in Attaint, limited in the Statute made in the fifth year of the reign of the Noble King Edward the third; And alſo in the Statute made in the three and twentieth year of the reign of the late King Henry the eighth of worthy memory, being not contrary to the Tenors of this Act, ſhall be holden firm and ſtable, and ſhall ſtand in their full force and effect.

Recital of Magna Charta, and ſeveral Statutes. St. 3. lt. 7. 1. 5 E. 3. cap. 9.

WHereas by the Great Charter many times confirmed in Parliament, It is enacted, That no Freemen ſhall be taken or impriſoned, or diſſeiſed of his Freehold or Liberties or Free Cuſtoms, or be outlawed or exiled, or otherwiſe deſtroyed, and that the King will not paſs upon him, or condemn him but by lawful Judgment of his Peers, or by the Law of the Land; And by another Statute made in the fifth year of the reign of King Edward the third, It is Enacted, That no man ſhall be attached by any accuſation, nor fore-judged of life or limb, nor his Lands, Tenements, Goods nor Chattels ſeiſed into the Kings hands againſt the form of the Great Charter, and the Law of the Land; and by another Statute made in the five and twentieth year of the reign of the ſame King Edward the Third, It is accorded, aſſented, and eſtabliſhed, That none ſhall be taken by petition, or ſuggeſtion made to the King, or to his Councel, unleſs it be by Indictment or Preſentment of good and lawful people of the ſame Neighbourhood where ſuch Deeds be done, in due manner, or by Proceſſe made by Writ Original at the Common Law, and that none be put out of his Franchiſe or Free-hold, unleſs he be duly brought in to anſwer, and fore-judged of the ſame by the courſe of the Law; and if any thing be done againſt the ſame, it ſhall be redreſſed and holden for none. And by another Statute made in the eight and twentieth year of the reign of the ſame King Edward the Third, It is amongſt other things Enacted, That no man of what eſtate or condition ſoever he be, ſhall be put out of his Lands or Tenements, nor taken, nor impriſoned, nor diſ-inherited, without being brought in to anſwer by due proceſs of Law: And by another Statute made in the two and fortieth year of the reign of the ſaid King Edward ward the Third, It is Enacted, That no man be put to anſwer without preſentment before Juſtices, or matter of Record, or by due proceſs and writ original, according to the Old Law of the Land; and if any thing be done to the contrary, it ſhall be void in Law, and holden for error. And by another Statute made in the ſix and thirtieth year of the ſame King Edward the Third, It is amongſt other things Enacted, That all pleas which ſhall be pleaded in any Courts before any the Kings Juſtices, or in his other places, or before any of his other Miniſters, or in the Courts and places of any other Lords within the Realm, ſhall be entred and enrolled in Latine: And whereas by the Statute made in the third year of King Henry the ſeventh, power is given to the Chancellor, the Lord Treaſurer of England for the time being, and the Keeper of the Kings Privy Seal, or two of them, calling unto them a Biſhop and a Temporal Lord of the Kings moſt Honourable Council, and the two Chief Juſtices of the Kings-Bench and Common-Pleas, for the time being, or other two Juſtices in their abſence, to proceed as in that Act is expreſſed, for the puniſhment of ſome particular offences therein mentioned. And by the Statute made in the one and twentieth year of King Henry the Eighth, the Preſident of the Council is aſſociated to joyn with the Lord Chancellor and other Judges in the ſaid Statute of the third of Henry the ſeventh mentioned, But the ſaid Judges have not kept themſelves to the points limited by the ſaid Statute, but have undertaken to puniſh where no Law doth warrant, aud to make Decrees for things having no ſuch authority, and to inflict heavier puniſhments than by any Law is warranted:

3 H. 7. cap. 1.

21 H. 8. cap. 20.

All matters examinable in the Star-Chamber may be examinable and redreſſed by the Common Law.

And foraſmuch as all matters examinable or determinable before the ſaid Judges, or in the Court commonly called the Star-Chamber, may have their proper remedy and redreſs, and their due puniſhment, and correction by the Common Law of the Land, and in the ordinary courſe of Juſtice elſewhere; and foraſmuch as the reaſons and motives inducing the erection and continuance of that Court do now ceaſe; and the Proceedings, Cenſures and Decrees of that Court, have by experience been found to be an intolerable burthen to the Subject, and the means to introduce an Arbitrary Power and Government; And foraſmuch as the Council-Table, hath of late times aſſumed unto it ſelf, a power to intermeddle in Civil cauſes and matters only of private intereſt between party and party, and have adventured to determine of the Eſtates and Liberties of the Subject, contrary to the Law of the Land, and the Rights and Priviledges of the Subject, by which great and manifold miſchiefs and inconveniencies have ariſen and happened, and much incertainty by means of ſuch proceedings hath been conceived concerning mens Rights and Eſtates; For ſetling whereof, and preventing the like in time to come:

Court of Star-chamber and all its powers diſſolved.

Be it Ordained and Enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the ſaid Court commonly called the Star-Chamber, and all Juriſdiction, Power and Authority belonging unto, or exerciſed in the ſame Court, or by any the Judges, Officers or Miniſters thereof, be from the firſt day of Auguſt, in the year of our Lord God, One thouſand ſix hundred forty and one, clearly and abſolutely diſſolved, taken away, and determined; and that from the ſaid firſt day of Auguſt, neither the Lord Chancellor, or Keeper of thr Great Seal of England, the Lord Treaſurer of England, the Keeper of the Kings Privy-Seal, or Preſident of the Council, nor any Biſhop, Temporal Lord, Privy-Councellor, or Judge, or Juſtice whatſoever, ſhall have any power or authority to hear, examine, or determine any matter or thing whatſoever, in the ſaid Court commonly called the Star-Chamber, or to make, pronounce, or deliver any Judgment, Sentence, Order or Decree, or to do any Judicial or Miniſterial Act in the ſaid Court: And that all and every Act and Acts of Parliament, and all and every article, clauſe, and ſentence in them, and every of them, by which any juriſdiction, power or authority is given, limited or appointed unto the ſaid Court commonly called the Star-Chamber, or unto all, or any the Judges, Officers or Miniſters thereof, or for any proceedings to be had, or made in the ſaid Court, or for any matter or thing to be drawn into queſtion, examined or determined there, ſhall for ſo much as concerneth the ſaid Court of Star-Chamber, and the power and authority thereby given unto it, be from the ſaid firſt day of Auguſt repealed, and abſolutely revoked and made void.

Like Juriſdiction in ſeveral other Courts repealed and taken away.

And be it likewiſe enacted, That the like juriſdiction now uſed and exerciſed in the Court before the Preſident and Council in the Marches of Wales, and alſo in the Court before the Preſident and Council eſtabliſhed in the Northern parts: And alſo in the Court commonly called, the Court of the Dutchy of Lancaſter, held before the Chancellor, and Councel of that Court: And alſo in the Court of Exchequer of the County Palatine of Cheſter, held before the Chamberlain and Council of that Court; The like juriſdiction being exerciſed there, ſhall from the ſaid firſt day of Auguſt, One thouſand ſix hundred forty and one, be alſo repealed and abſolutely revoked and made void, any law, preſcription, cuſtom or uſage; Or the ſaid Statute made in the third year of King Henry the ſeventh, Or the Statute made the one and twentieth of Henry the Eighth, Or any Act or Acts of Parliament heretofore had or made, to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding: And that from henceforth no Court, Councel, or place of Judicature ſhall be erected, ordained, conſtituted or appointed within this Realm of England, or Dominion of Wales, which ſhall have, uſe or exerciſe the ſame, or the like juriſdiction, as is, or hath been uſed, practiſed or exerciſed in the ſaid Court of Star-chamber.

No Court or Councel to have the like Juriſdiction.

Be it likewiſe declared, and enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That neither his Majeſty, nor his Privy-Councel, have, or ought to have any juriſdiction, power or authority, by Engliſh Bill, Petition, Articles, Libel, or any other Arbitrary way whatſoever, to examine or draw into queſtion, determine or diſpoſe of the lands, tenements, hereditaments, goods or chattels, of any the Subjects of this Kingdome: But that the ſame ought to be tryed and determined in the ordinary Courts of Juſtice, and by the ordinary courſe of the Law.

The King nor his Privy Councel ſhall have no Juriſdiction over any mans Eſtate.

Penalties upon great Officers and others for the firſt offence.

Second Offence.

Third offence.

And be it further provided and enacted, That if any Lord Chancellor, or Keeper of the great Seal of England, Lord Treaſurer, Keeper of the Kings Privy Seal, Preſident of the Council, Biſhop, Temporal Lord, Privy Councellor, Judge or Juſtice whatſoever, ſhall offend, or do any thing contrary to the purport, true intent and meaning of this Law, Then he, or they, ſhall for ſuch Offence forfeit the ſum of Five hundred pounds of lawful Money of England, unto any party grieved, his Executors or Adminiſtrators, who ſhall really proſecute for the ſame, and firſt obtain Judgment thereupon, to be recovered in any Court of Record at Weſtminſter, by Action of Debt, Bill, Plaint or Information, wherein no Eſſoine, Protection, Wager of Law, Aid-Prayer, Priviledge, Injunction or Order of reſtraint ſhall be in any wiſe prayed, granted or allowed, nor any more then one Imparlance. And if any perſon, againſt whom any ſuch Judgment or Recovery ſhall be had as aforeſaid, ſhall after ſuch Judgment or Recovery, offend again in the ſame, then he, or they, for ſuch Offence, ſhall forfeit the ſum of One thouſand pounds of lawful Money of England, unto any party grieved, his Executors or Adminiſtrators, who ſhall really proſecute for the ſame, and firſt obtain Judgment thereupon, to be recovered in any Court of Record at Weſtminſter, by Action of Debt, Bill, Plaint or Information, in which no Eſſoine, Protection, Wager of Law, Aid-Prayer, Priviledge, Injunction, or Order of Reſtraint, ſhall be in any wiſe prayed, granted or allowed, nor any more then one Imparlance. And if any perſon againſt whom any ſuch ſecond Judgment or Recovery ſhall be had, as aforeſaid, ſhall after ſuch Judgment or Recovery, offend again in the ſame kind, and ſhall be thereof duly convicted, by Indictment, Information, or any other lawful way or means, that ſuch perſon ſo convicted ſhall be from thenceforth diſabled, and become by vertue of this Act incapable, Ipſo facto, to bear his, and their ſaid Office and Offices reſpectively, and ſhall be likewiſe diſabled to make any Gift, Grant, Conveyance, or other diſpoſition of any of his Lands, Tenements, Hereditaments, Goods or Chattels, or to take any benefit of any Gift, Conveyance or Legacy to his own uſe.

Treble damages to the party grieved.

And every perſon ſo offending ſhall likewiſe forfeit and loſe unto the party grieved, by any thing done contrary to the true intent and meaning of this Law, his treble damages, which he ſhall ſuſtain, and be put unto, by means or occaſion of any ſuch act or thing done, the ſame to be recovered in any of his Majeſties Courts of Record at Weſtminſter, by Action of Debt, Bill, Plaint or Information, wherein no Eſſoin, Protection, Wager of Law, Aid-Prayer, Priviledge, Injunction or Order of Reſtraint, ſhall be in any wiſe Prayed, Granted or Allowed, nor any more then one Imparlance.

Every perſon committed contrary to this Act, ſhall have an Habeas Corpus.

Treble damages in default.

And be it alſo provided and enacted, That if any perſon ſhall hereafter be committed, reſtrained of his Liberty, or ſuffer impriſonment by the Order or Decree of any ſuch Court of Star-Chamber, or other Court aforeſaid, now, or at any time hereafter, having, or pretending to have the ſame, or like juriſdiction, power or authority to commit or impriſon as aforeſaid; Or by the Command or Warrant of the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs or Succeſſors in their own Perſon, or by the Command or Warrant of the Council-board, or of any of the Lords, or others of his Majeſties Privy-Council, That in every ſuch caſe, every perſon ſo committed, reſtrained of his liberty, or ſuffering impriſonment, upon demand or motion made by his Counſel, or other imployed by him for that purpoſe, unto the Judges of the Court of Kings Bench, or Common Pleas, in open Court, ſhall without delay, upon any pretence whatſoever, for the ordinary Fees uſually paid for the ſame, have forthwith granted unto him a Writ of Habeas Corpus to be directed generally unto all and every Sheriffs, Gaoler, Miniſter, Officer, or other perſon, in whoſe cuſtody the party committed or reſtrained ſhall be, and the ſheriffs, gaoler, miniſter, officer, or other perſon in whoſe cuſtody the party ſo committed or reſtrained ſhall be, ſhall at the return of the ſaid Writ, and according to the command thereof, upon due & convenient notice thereof given unto him, at the charge of the party who requireth or procureth ſuch writ, & upon ſecurity by his own Bond given, to pay the charge of carrying back the priſoner, if he ſhall be remanded by the Court, to which he ſhall be brought, as in like caſes hath been uſed, ſuch charges of bringing up, and carrying back the Priſoner, to be alwayes ordered by the Court, if any difference ſhall ariſe thereabout, bring or cauſe to be brought the body of the ſaid party ſo committed or reſtrained unto and before the Judges or Juſtices of the ſaid Court, from whence the ſame Writ ſhall iſſue in open Court, and ſhall then likewiſe certifie the true cauſe of ſuch his detainer or impriſonment, and thereupon the Court within three Court-dayes after ſuch return made and delivered in open Court, ſhall proceed to examine and determine whether the cauſe of ſuch commitment appearing upon the ſaid return be juſt and legal, or not, and ſhall thereupon do what to Juſtice ſhall appertain, either by delivering, bailing or remanding the Priſoner. And if any thing ſhall be otherwiſe wilfully done or omitted to be done by any Judge, Juſtice, Officer, or other perſon aforementioned, contrary to the direction and true meaning hereof, That then ſuch perſon ſo offending ſhall forfeit to the party grieved, his treble damages, to be recovered by ſuch means, and in ſuch manner, as is formerly in this Act limited and appointed for the like penalty to be ſued for and recovered.

To what Courts this Act ſhall extend.

Provided alwayes, and be it Enacted, That this Act, and the ſeveral clauſes therein contained, ſhall be taken and expounded to extend only to the Court of Star-Chamber, and to the ſaid Courts holden before the Preſident and Councel in the Marches of Wales, and before the Preſident and Councel in the Northern parts; and alſo to the Court commonly called the Court of the Dutchy of Lancaſter holden before the Chancellor and Councel of that Court: And alſo in the Court of Exchequer of the County Palatine of Cheſter, held before the Chamberlain and Councel of that Court; And to all Courts of like Juriſdiction to be hereafter erected, ordained, conſtituted or appointed as aforeſaid; And to the Warrants and directions of the Councel-boards, and to the commitments, reſtraints and impriſonments of any perſon or perſons made, commanded or awarded by the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs or Succeſſors in their own perſon, or by the Lords and others of the Privy-Council, and every one of them.

And laſtly, provided, and be it Enacted, That no perſon or perſons ſhall be ſued, impleaded, moleſted or troubled for any offence againſt this preſent Act, unleſs the party ſuppoſed to have ſo offended, ſhall be ſued or impleaded for the ſame within two years at the moſt after ſuch time wherein the ſaid Offence ſhall be committed.

Offenders of this Act ſhall be impleaded within two years after any offence.

CAP. XI.

A Repeal of the Branch of a Statute primo Elizabethæ, concerning Commiſſioners for Cauſes Eccleſiaſtical.

WHereas in the Parliament holden in the firſt year of the Reign of the late Queen Elizabeth late Queen of England, there was an Act made and eſtabliſhed, Intituled, An Act reſtoring to the Crown the ancient Juriſdiction over the State Eccleſiaſtical and Spiritual, and aboliſhing all Foreign Power repugnant to the ſame; In which Act, amongſt other things, there is contained one Clauſe, Branch, Article or Sentence, whereby it was Enacted to this effect; Namely, That the ſaid late Queens Highneſs, her Heirs and Succeſſors, Kings or Queens of this Realm, ſhould have full power and authority by vertue of that Act by Letters Patent under the great Seal of England, to aſſign, name and authorize, when, and as often as her Highneſs, her Heirs or Succeſſors, ſhould think meet and convenient, and for ſuch, and ſo long time as ſhould pleaſe her Highneſs, her Heirs or Succeſſors, ſuch perſon or perſons being natural born Subjects to her Highneſs, her Heirs or Succeſſors, as her Majeſty, her heirs or ſucceſſors ſhould think meet to exerciſe, uſe, occupy and execute under her Highneſs, her heirs and ſucceſſors, all manner of Juriſdictions, Priviledges and Preheminence, in any wiſe touching or concerning any Spiritual or Eccleſiaſtical Juriſdiction within theſe her Realms of England and Ireland, or any other her Highneſs Dominions and Countries, and to viſit, reform, redreſſe, order, correct, and amend all ſuch Errors, Hereſies, Schiſms, Abuſes, Offences, Contempts and Enormities whatſoever, which by any manner Spiritual or Eccleſiaſtical Power, Authority or Juriſdiction, can, or may lawfully be reformed, ordered, redreſſed, corrected, reſtrained or amended, to the pleaſure of Almighty God, the increaſe of vertue, and the conſervation of the Peace and Unity of this Realm. And that ſuch perſon or perſons ſo to be named, aſſigned, authorized and appointed by her Highneſs, her Heirs or Succeſſors, after the ſaid Letters Patents to him or them made and delivered, as aforeſaid, ſhould have full Power and Authority by vertue of that Act, and of the ſaid Letters Patents under her Highneſs, her Heirs or Succeſſors, to exerciſe, uſe, and execute all the Premiſſes, according to the tenor and effect of the ſaid Letters Patents, matter or cauſe to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

St. 1 Eliz. 1.

And whereas by colour of ſome words in the aforeſaid Branch of the ſaid Act, whereby Commiſſioners are authorized to execute their Commiſſion according to the tenor and effect of the Kings Letters Patents, and by Letters Patents grounded thereupon, the ſaid Commiſſioners have, to the great and inſufferable Wrong and Oppreſſion of the Kings Subjects, uſed to fine and impriſon them, and to exerciſe other Authority not belonging to Eccleſiaſtical Juriſdiction reſtored by that Act, and divers other great Miſchiefs and Inconveniences have alſo enſued to the Kings Subjects, by occaſion of the ſaid Branch and Commiſſions iſſued thereupon, and the executions thereof: Therefore for the repreſſing and preventing of the foreſaid Abuſes, Miſchiefs and Inconveniences in time to come;

Judgment.

WHereas divers Writs of late time, iſſued under the Great Seal of England, commonly called Ship-Writs, for the charging of the Ports, Towns, Cities, Boroughs and Counties of this Realm reſpectively, to provide and furniſh certain Ships for his Majeſties Service: And whereas upon the Execution of the ſame Writs, and Returns of Certioraries thereupon made, and the ſending the ſame by Mittimus into the Court of Exchequer, Proceſſe hath been thence made againſt ſundry perſons pretended to be charged by way of Contribution, for the making up of certain ſums aſſeſſed for the providing of the ſaid Ships, and in eſpecial in Eaſter Term, in the thirteenth year of the Reign of our Soveraign Lord the King that now is, a Writ of Scire facias was awarded out of the Court of Exchequer, to the then Sheriff of Buckingham-Shire, againſt John Hampden Eſquire, to appear and ſhew cauſe, why he ſhould not be charged with a certain ſum ſo aſſeſſed upon him, upon whoſe appearance and demurrer to the proceedings therein, the Barons of the Exchequer adjourned the ſame Caſe into the Exchequer-Chamber, where it was ſolemnly argued divers dayes, and at length it was there agreed by the greater part of all the Juſtices of the Courts of Kings Bench, and Commons Pleas, and of the Barons of the Exchequer, there aſſembled, That the ſaid John Hampden ſhould be charged with the ſaid ſum ſo as aforeſaid aſſeſſed on him; The main Grounds and Reaſons of the ſaid Juſtices and Barons which ſo agreed, being, that when the Good and Safety of the Kingdom in general is concerned, and the whole Kingdome in danger, the King might by Writ under the Great Seal of England command all the Subjects of this His Kingdome at their charge to provide and furniſh ſuch manner of Ships with Men, Victuals and Munition, and for ſuch time as the King ſhould think fit, for the defence and ſafeguard of the Kingdome from ſuch danger and peril; and that by Law the King might compel the doing thereof, in caſe of refuſal, or refractorineſſe, and that the King is the ſole Judge, both of the danger, and when, and how the ſame is to be prevented and avoided; according to which Grounds and Reaſons, all the Juſtices of the ſaid Courts of Kings Bench, and Common Pleas, and the ſaid Barons of the Exchequer, having been formerly conſulted with by his Majeſties command, had ſet their Hands to an extrajudicial Opinion, expreſſed to the ſame purpoſe; which Opinion, with their Names thereunto, was alſo by his Majeſties command inrolled in the Courts of Chancery, Kings Bench, Common Pleas, and Exchequer, and likewiſe entred among the Remembrances of the Court of Star-Chamber, and according to the ſaid Agreement of the ſaid Juſtices and Barons, Judgment was given by the Barons of the Exchequer, That the ſaid John Hampden ſhould be charged with the ſaid ſum ſo aſſeſſed on him; And whereas ſome other Actions and Proceſſe depend, and have depended in the ſaid Court of Exchequer, and in ſome other Courts againſt other perſons, for the like kind of charge, grounded upon the ſaid Writs, commonly called Ship-writs, all which Writs and Proceedings as aforeſaid, were utterly againſt the Law of the Land.

Shipmony and proceedings thereupon contrary to Law.

Be it therefore declared and enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, and the Lords and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the Authority of the ſame, That the ſaid charge impoſed upon the Subject, for the providing and furniſhing of Ships, commonly called Ship-money, and the ſaid extrajudical Opinion of the ſaid Juſtices and Barons, and the ſaid Writs, and every of them, and the ſaid Agreement or Opinion of the greater part of the ſaid Juſtices and Barons, and the ſaid Judgment given againſt the ſaid John Hampden were, and are contrary to, and againſt the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, the right of property, the liberty of the Subjects, former reſolutions in Parliament, and the Petition of Right made in the third year of the Reign of his Majeſty that now is.

St. 3 Car. 1. Petition of right to be obſerved. Judgments and proceeding touching ſhip-money and all entries, records and inrolments thereof made void.

And it is further declared and enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That all and every the particulars prayed or deſired in the ſaid Petition of Right, ſhall from henceforth be put in execution accordingly, and ſhall be firmly and ſtrictly holden and obſerved, as in the ſame Petition they are prayed and expreſſed; and that all and every the Records and Remembrances of all and every the Judgment, Inrolments, Entry and Proceedings, as aforeſaid, and all and every the proceedings whatſoever, upon, or by pretext or colour of any of the ſaid Writs, commonly called Ship-Writs, and all and every the Dependants on any of them, ſhall be deemed and adjudged to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, to be utterly void and diſannulled; and that all and every the ſaid Judgment, Inrolments, Entries, Proceedings and Dependents of what kind ſoever, ſhall be vacated and cancelled in ſuch manner and form as Records uſe to be that are vacated.

CAP. XV.

Touching Incroachments and Oppreſſions in the Stannary Courts.

E. 1. Charter.

Explained 50 E. 3.

WHereas King EDWARD the firſt of famous memory, did for the Amendment of the Stannaries in the County of Devon, grant divers Franchiſes and Liberties to the Tinners there: And whereas in the Parliament in the fiftieth year of King EDWARD the third, upon the Petition of the Commons of the County of Devon, certain Branches and Articles of the ſaid Charter were explained in manner following, That is to ſay, whereas one Article of the ſaid Charter is in theſe words following, viz. Sciatis nos ad emendationem Stannariarum noſtrarum in Com. Devon. ad tranquilitatem & utilitatem Stannatorum noſtrorum prædictorum earundem Conceſſiſſe pro nobis & hæredibus noſtris, Quod omnes Stannatores prædicti operantes in Stannariis illis quæ ſunt Dominica noſtra; dum operantur in eiſdem Stannariis, liberi ſint & quieti de placitis nativorum, & de omnibus placitis & querelis Curiam noſtram & hæredum noſtrorum qualitercunque tangen. Which Charter ſo declared, was repeated again; And in the eighth year of the Reign of King Richard the ſecond commanded to be put in execution.

8 R. 2.

And whereas the ſaid King EDWARD the Firſt made the like Charter to the Tinners in the County of Cornwall, which Charter was in the foreſaid Parliament upon the Requeſt of the Commons of the County of Cornwall declared in the ſame manner and words.

The like charter to Tinners in Cornwall. Declaration.

Abuſe of liberties.

And whereas the Tinners of the Counties of Devon and Cornwall have by vertue of the ſaid Charters enjoyed divers and great Liberties, and are quit from all Tolls, Tollages, Aids, and other Cuſtomes in the Villes, Ports, Fairs and Markets, within the ſaid Counties reſpectively: Which great Liberties do of right belong to the working Tinner, working without fraud or deceit in the Stannaries aforeſaid, and not to any other nor elſewhere working, and were granted to the ſaid Tinners for their encouragement in their Works: And whereas of late years ſundry Inhabitants within the ſaid Counties, and others, to entitle themſelves to the ſaid Liberties, have by fraud and covin, for ſmall or no conſiderations, bought and acquired, and do buy and acquire to themſelves decayed Tin-workes, and ſmall and inconſiderable parts in the ſame and other Tin works; which abuſes are done principally to inable the ſaid falſe and fained Tinners, to vex and ſue their Neighbours in the Stannary Courts, where for the moſt part the Defendant is unjuſtly debarred his Coſts, although the cauſe be adjudged with him, and the Juriſdiction of the Stannaries hath, contrary to ancient Right and Uſage, and the ſaid Charters been endeavoured to be extended out of the places where the Tinners do work, through the whole Conntics of Devon and Cornwall reſpectively, which is no way for the benefit of his Majeſty, but for the ſingular lucre of ſome private perſons: And whereas by the ſaid abuſes great inconveniences do follow, (That it is to ſay) the Inhabitants of the ſaid Counties are miſerably vexed, oppreſſed and impriſoned, his Majeſty defrauded of his Aids and Cuſtoms, and the Lords and Owners of Fairs, Markets, and other Franchiſes of their Tolls and Duties, and the Government of the Country exceedingly confounded and eluded, the ſaid falſe and fained Tinners claiming when they liſt to be Tinners, and when they liſt to be Foreigners; beſides, that if timely proviſion be not made, the certain decay of his Majeſties profit in the Tin-works will enſue, for that the ſame being divided into ſo many hands and parts cannot conveniently be ſet on work, nor contribution raiſed for the working the ſame.

The former declarations confirmed.

In locis ubi operantur, how expounded.

None but Tinners to be ſued, unleſs by working Tinners.

Be it therefore Enacted by his Majeſty, and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, That the ſaid Declarations be henceforth held and duly obſerved with this, that the words of the ſaid Charters and Declarations, In locis ubi operantur, be expounded of the Ville, Tithing and Hamlet, where ſome Tin-work in work is ſcituate, and not elſewhere, and no longer then the ſame Tin-work is or ſhall be in working. And if any perſon or perſons that ſhall be ſued in the ſaid Stannaries, ſhall ſwear, or tender his or their Oath in the ſaid Court where he or they ſhall be ſued, that he or they are not, nor is, nor at time of the Suit commenced was not, nor were a Tinner or Tinners, then ſuch Defendant or Defendants ſhall be forthwith diſcharged of ſuch Suit, unleſs that the Plaintiff or Plaintiffs do forthwith make Oath that the ſaid Plaintiff or Plaintiffs is or are true and working Tinners, without fraud or deceit: and that the cauſe of his or their Suit aroſe within the ſaid Stannaries, or concerneth Tin or Tin-works. And if any perſon being not re vera, and without fraud, a working and labouring Tinner, in or about ſome Tin-work, ſet on work within one half year next before his Suit, ſhall ſue, proſecute, or implead in any the ſaid Courts, or before the Warden, Vice-warden, or Steward of the ſaid Stannaries, any perſon or perſons that is or are not a Tinner or Tinners at the time of ſuch Suit commenced, Then the Defendant and Defendants in every ſuch caſe, ſhall have his and their Action at the common Law, againſt ſuch perſon ſuing or proſecuting, wherein he ſhall recover ten pounds, and his damages and coſts of Suit; Provided that ſuch Action be brought within two years next after the action or ſuit brought in the ſaid Stannary Courts, or before the ſaid Warden, Vice-warden or Steward.

Perſons ſued by others ſhall have their action.

Such action to be brought within two years.

Coſts in Stannary Courts.

And be it declared and enacted, That in all caſes where the Plaintiff or Defendant, Plaintiffs or Defendants, are to have coſts by the Laws or Statutes of this Realm, there alſo the ſaid Plaintiffs and Defendants ſhall have the like coſts in the Stannary Courts. And in regard that the ſaid Charters were granted for the eaſe and advantage of the Tinners, and not for their diſadvantage or oppreſſion, and yet divers of them who for ſpecial Reaſons have deſired to ſue at the Common Law, have been reſtrained;

Tinner may ſue forfeitures at the common Law.

Be it declared and enacted, That it ſhall be lawful to and for the ſaid Tinners, if they think fit, to ſue any Foreigners at the common Law; the ſaid Charter, or any Uſage to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Abuſes of poor Bailiffs in the Stannaries.

And whereas the Bailiffs of the ſaid Stannary Courts are very numerous, and are perſons of ſmall or no credit, and yet upon their return that any perſon is become Surety for any other upon Arreſt by Proceſſe out of the ſaid Courts, ſuch perſon who ſometimes knows nothing of the matter, is by falſe Returns of the ſaid Bailiffs made liable to the debt or demand, which Bailiffs, by reaſon of their poverty, are often not reſponſible, and ſo the party without remedy:

How ſureties may be ſued.

Be it enacted, That no perſon or perſons be charged or troubled as Surety by any Return of any Bailiff or Bailiffs of the ſaid Stannaries, unleſſe that the perſon or perſons returned Surety or Sureties, ſhall in the preſence of two witneſſes ſubſcribe or ſign a note in writing, that ſuch perſon or perſons is or are become Surety or Sureties; which note ſhall mention the Names of the Plaintiffs and Defendants in the Suit, and the ſum or damages in demand, and the nature of the Action, and ſhall be ſigned or ſubſcribed by the ſaid Witneſſes, and returned and filed in the Court out of which ſuch Proceſſe ſhall iſſue, and no Bailiff or Bailiffs of the ſaid Stannaries ſhall be admitted as Witneſſes to any ſuch note.

And whereas in the ſaid Stannaries it is uſed, that if the Bailiffs return any Perſon arreſted, that if ſuch perſon make default at the day, he ſhall be condemned, and Execution is ſuddenly awarded, when as often the party was not arreſted:

No Defendant ſhall be condemned on a Bailiffs return, unleſs on a note ſubſcribed by the party.

Bail.

Be it further Enacted, That no Defendant ſhall be condemned upon ſuch Return for not appearing, unleſſe alſo a Note under the Hand or Sign of the Party arreſted, and ſubſcribed by two ſuch Witneſſes, as aforeſaid, be returned into the ſaid Court, at or before the day of Appearance; and the ſaid Bailiff or Bailiffs ſhall take but four pence for every ſuch Note as aforeſaid; and it is provided, that none ſhall be bailed upon arreſt there till he give ſuch Note.

Reſcous.

And in caſe any the ſaid Bailiff or Bailiffs ſhall return a Reſcous againſt any Perſon or Perſons, he or they ſhall be admitted to Traverſe the ſaid Return; which Traverſe, if it be found with him or them ſo Traverſing, then he or they ſhall be no further troubled or occaſioned by reaſon of ſuch return.

CAP. XVI.

For the certainty of the Meets, and Bounds of the Forreſts.

St. 1 Ed. 3.

WHereas by Act of Parliament made in the firſt year of the Reign of the late King EDWARD the Third, It is Ordained, That the old Perambulation of the Forreſt in the time of King Edward the Firſt, ſhould be thenceforth holden in like form as it was then ridden and bounded, and in ſuch places where it was not bounded, the King would that it ſhould be bounded by good Men and lawful:

And whereas for many Ages paſt certain Meets, Meers, Limits and Bounds of the Forreſts, have been commonly known and obſerved in the ſeveral Counties wherein the ſaid Forreſts lye:

And whereas of late divers Preſentments have been made, and ſome Judgments given, whereby the Meets, Meers, Limits and Bounds of ſome of the ſaid Forreſts have been variouſly extended, or pretended to extend beyond ſome of the ſaid Meets, Meers, Limits and Bounds ſo commonly known, and formerly obſerved; to the great grievance and vexation of many Perſons having Lands adjoyning to the ſaid Meets, Meers, Limits and Bounds ſo commonly known, and formerly obſerved: And whereas of late time ſome

Endeavours or Pretences have been to ſet on foot Forreſts in ſome parts of this Realm, and the Dominion of Wales, where in truth none have been nor ought to be, or at leaſt have not been uſed of long time: For remedy thereof, may it pleaſe your moſt Excellent Majeſty, That it be Declared and Enacted by Authority of Parliament:

What ſhall be the Meets and Bounds of Forreſts.

And be it Declared and Enacted by the Kings moſt Excellent Majeſty, and the Lords and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the Authority of the ſame, that from henceforth the Meets, Meers, Limits and Bounds of all and every the Forreſts reſpectively, ſhall be to all intents and purpoſes, taken, adjudged, and deemed to extend no further reſpectively, then the Meets, Meers, Limits and Bounds which in the ſeveral Counties reſpectively, wherein the ſaid Forreſts do lye, were commonly known, reputed, uſed, or taken to be the Meets, Meers, Limits and Bounds of the ſaid Forreſts reſpectively, in the twentieth year of the Reign of our late Soveraign Lord King JAMES, and not beyond in any wiſe, any Perambulation or Perambulations, Preſentments, Extents, Surveys, Judgments, Records, Decrees, or other matter or thing whatſoever to the contrary notwithſtanding: And that all and every the Preſentments ſince the ſaid twentieth year made, and that all and every other Preſentment and Preſentments, and all and every Judgment and award upon, or by reaſon or pretext of any ſuch Preſentment or Preſentments, and all and every Perambulation and Perambulations, Surveys, Extents, and other Act and Acts, at any time heretofore had or made, by which the Meets, Meers, Limits or Bounds of the ſaid Forreſts, or any of them, are, or are pretended to be further extended then as aforeſaid: And alſo all and every Preſentmentment of any perſon or perſons at any Juſtice ſeat, Swainemote, or Court of Attachments, for, or by reaſon, or by colour of any Act or Acts whatſoever done or committed in any place without, or beyond the ſaid Meets, Meers, Limits or Bounds reſpectively, ſo commonly known, reputed, uſed, or taken as aforeſaid, and all and every Fine and Fines, and Amerciament and Amerciaments, upon, or reaſon or colour of any ſuch Preſentment or Preſentments, ſhall from henceforth be adjudged, deemed, and taken to be utterly void, and of no force or effect, any Law, Statute, Record, or Pretence whatſoever, to the contrary notwithſtanding.

20 Jacob.

Preſentments contrary hereunto ſhall be void.

No place where no Juſtice-ſeat, Swainemote, Court or Attachment, &c. hath been within ſixty years, ſhall be accompted Forreſt.

And be it further Enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That no place or places within this Realm of England, or Dominion of Wales, where no ſuch Juſtice-ſeat, Swainemote, or Court of Attachment have been held, or kept, or where no Verderers have been choſen, or regard made within the ſpace of ſixty years next before the firſt year of his Majeſties Reign that now is, ſhall be at any time hereafter judged, deemed, or taken to be Forreſt, or within the Bounds or Meets of the Forreſts; But the ſame ſhall be from thenceforth for ever hereafter De-afforreſted, and freed, and exempted from the Forreſt-Laws; Any Juſtice-ſeat, Swainemota, or Court of Attachment held or kept within, or for any ſuch place or places, at any time or times ſince the beginning of His Majeſties ſaid Reign, or any preſentment, enquiry, act or thing heretofore made, or hereafter to be made or done to the contrary notwithſtanding.

For aſcertaining of Meets, &c Commiſſions ſhall be iſſued.

Provided alſo, and be it further Enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That for the better putting into certainty all and every the Meets, Meers, Bounds and Limits of all and every the Forreſts, as aforeſaid, The Lord Chancellor, or Lord Keeper of the Great Seal of England for the time being, ſhall by vertue of this Act upon requeſt of any of the Peers of this Kingdom, or of the Knights and Burgeſſes of the Parliament, or any of them, grant ſeveral Commiſſions under the Great Seal of England, two Commiſſioners to be nominated reſpectively by the ſaid Peers, Knights and Burgeſſes, or any of them, to enquire of, and find out by Inqueſts of good and lawful men upon Oath, and by the Oaths of Witneſſes to be produced at the ſaid Inqueſts, and by all other lawful means, all, and every the Meers, Meets, Bounds and Limits of the Forreſts reſpectively, which were commonly known to be their Meers, Meets, Bounds and Limits reſpectively, in the ſaid twentieth year of the Reign of our late Soveraign Lord King James: And to return the Inqueſts ſo taken into the Court of Chancery; and that all and every the Sheriffs, and Bailiffs, of, and in every County wherein any ſuch Inqueſts ſhall be ſo taken; And all and every the Verderers, Forreſters, Rangers, and other Officers of the Forreſts reſpectively where any ſuch Officers be, ſhall be aſſiſtant, and attendant to the execution of the ſaid Commiſſions, according as by vertue of the ſaid Commiſſions reſpectively they ſhall be commanded; And where no ſuch Officers are, or where ſuch Officers be, if they, or any of them ſhall refuſe, or neglect ſuch aſſiſtance and attendance as aforeſaid, Then the ſaid Commiſſioners ſhall, and may proceed without them in the execution of the ſaid Commiſſions.

Forreſts ſhall not extend beyond the Meets, &c. ſo returned.

And be it further Enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That the Forreſts whereof the Meets, Meers, Limits and Bounds be ſo returned, and certified by vertue of any the ſaid Commiſſions as aforeſaid, from thenceforth ſhall not extend, nor be extended, nor be deemed, adjudged, or taken to extend any further in any wiſe then the Meets, Meers, Limits and Bounds that ſhall be ſo returned and certified: And that all the Places and Territories that ſhall be without the Meets, Meers, Limits and Bounds ſo returned and certified, ſhall be, and are hereby declared to be from thenceforth free to all intents and purpoſes, as if the ſame had never been Forreſt, or ſo reputed; Any act or acts, matter or thing whatſoever, to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

Grounds re-afforreſted ſhall be excluded.

Tenants, Owners &c. of lands excluded ſhall enjoy their ancient Commiſſion, &c.

Provided nevertheleſs, and be it Enacted, That the Tenants, Owners and Occupiers, and every of them, of Lands and Tenements which ſhall be excluded, and left out of the Meets, Meers, Limits or Bounds of the Forreſts to be returned, and certified by vertue of any the ſaid Commiſſions, ſhall, or may uſe, and enjoy ſuch Common, and other profits and eaſements within the Forreſt, as anciently or accuſtomably they have uſed and enjoyed: Any thing in this preſent Act contained, or any Act or Ordinance made in the three and thirtieth year of King Edward the firſt, or any Cuſtome or Law of the Forreſt, or any other matter or thing to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

The Office of Clerk of the Market allowed and regulated, for the reformation of Weights and Meaſures.

Grievances by Clerks of the Market, and inequality in Weights and Meaſures.

FOraſmuch as the undue execution of the Office of Clerk of the Market hath been very grievous unto divers of his Majeſties moſt loving Subjects, who have been much troubled by unneceſſary Summons, and charged with exactions of divers ſums of Money, by colour of the ſaid Office, and in regard the ſaid evils have partly ariſen by means of an inequality of Weights and Meaſures throughout this Kingdome, and by granting and letting to Ferme the ſaid Office of Clerk of the Market, and the Execution thereof in and through all or the moſt of the ſeveral Counties of this Kingdom for great ſums of Money, which the ſaid Fermors or Grantees, by their unjuſt and undue proceedings in the ſaid Office, do extort from his Majeſties Subjects again, to their great impoveriſhment, and yet little or no redreſs at all in their ſaid Weights or Meaſures, or any benefit thereby accruing to his Majeſty: For remedy whereof, and for regulating of all Weights and Meaſures according to the true intent of this Statute, and the other Statutes in that behalf formerly made and provided, and preventing the ſaid inconveniencies.

There ſhall be but one Meaſure, one Weight, and one Yard. St. 9 H. 3. 25. 14 E. 3. 12. 27 E. 3. 10.

Be it therefore Enacted by the Kings moſt Excellent Majeſty, the Lords and Commons of this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the Authority of the ſame, That from henceforth there ſhall be but one Weight, one Meaſure, and one Yard, according to the Standard of the Exchequer throughout all the Realm, as well in places priviledged, as without: Any Uſage or Cuſtome to the contrary notwithſtanding: And that every Meaſure of Corn ſhall be ſtriked without heap: And whoſoever ſhall ſell by, or keep any other Weight, Meaſure or Yard, then as aforeſaid, whereby any Corn, Grain, or other thing is bought or ſold, after ſix moneths after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall forfeit for every ſuch offence five ſhillings, being thereof lawfully convicted by the Oath of one ſufficient Witneſs, before any Juſtice of Peace, Mayor, or other head-Officer of the County, City or Town Corporate reſpectively, where the ſaid Offence ſhall be committed: Who by vertue of this Act ſhall have power to adminiſter an Oath in that behalf: Which ſaid ſum or penalty of five ſhillings ſhall be levyed by the Church-wardens and Overſeers of the Poor of the Pariſh, or ſome or one of them where ſuch Offence is or ſhall be committed, to the uſe of the Poor of the ſame Pariſh, of the Goods and Chattels of ſuch Offendors by way of Diſtreſs and Sale of the Offendors Goods, rendring the Overplus to the party ſo offending. And in default of ſuch Diſtreſs, it ſhall be lawful for any Juſtices of Peace, Mayor, or other head Officer of the County, City, or Town corporate reſpectively, to commit the ſaid party to the Priſon or Gaol, there to remain without Bail or Mainpriſe, untill he ſhall pay ſuch ſums of Money forfeited, as aforeſaid.

Forfeiture.

How to be levyed.

Clerk of the Market his limits.

And be it further Enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That no Clerk of the Market of the Kings Houſe which now is, or hereafter ſhall be, or of the Prince His Highneſſe, his Heirs or Succeſſors, which is or ſhall be Duke of Cornwall, or His or Their Deputy or Deputies, ſhall hereafter execute his or their ſaid Office or Offices reſpectively, in any part of the Kingdom, but only within the Verge of the Kings Court where it ſhall then reſide for the time being. And that it ſhall be alwayes hereafter lawful for any Mayor, or other head-Officer of any City, Burrough or Town Corporate, or for any Lord or Lords of Liberty, Liberties or Franchiſes, his or their Deputy or Deputies, or Agents, according to their ſeveral Liberties and Juriſdictions, to have full power to execute the ſaid Offices reſpectively, as they ought or might have done before the making of this Act; And for the more eaſe of his Majeſties Subjects.

Mayor, head-Officer, and Lords of Liberties have power as Clerks of the Market.

Forfeiture of Clerks of the Market for offences.

Be it further Enacted, That if any Clerk of the Market within his aforeſaid Precincts and Limits of the Verge of the Kings Houſe only, or any Mayor, or other Officer whatſoever, who by vertue of this Act ſhall have power to inquire of any Abuſes in Weights and Meaſures, ſhall ſeal or give allowance unto any other Weight or Meaſure, Weights or Meaſures, other then according to the ſaid Standard of the Exchequer, or ſhall upon reaſonable requeſt and warning, refuſe to ſeal or give allowance unto ſuch Weight or Meaſure, Weights or Meaſures, as are according to the ſaid Standard of the Exchequer, paying only ſuch Fee or Fees for ſuch allowance, as by the Statute or Statutes, or by ancient cuſtom, are in that behalf formerly provided and allowed, and no more; That then the ſaid Clerk of the Market, Mayor, and other Officer or Officers, of ſuch City, Burrough or Town, and the ſaid Lord and Lords of Liberty or Liberties, and his and their Deputy and Deputies and Agents reſpectively, ſhall forfeit for every ſuch Offence, five pounds, to be levyed as aforeſaid, to the uſe of the poor of the Pariſh where ſuch offence is, or ſhall be committed.

And be it further Enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That if the Clerk of the Market, his Deputy or Deputies, or Agents within the Verge aforeſaid, or any Mayor, or any other Officer or Officers of any City or Town, or any Lord or Lords of Liberties, his or their Deputy or Deputies, Agents or Aſſigns reſpectively, ſhall take or receive of any of his Majeſties Subjects, by colour of the ſaid Office, any common Fine or Fines, or any Fees, other then are formerly allowed by the Statute or Statutes, or ancient Cuſtome in that behalf made or uſed, ſhall take any Fee or Fees, or other ſum of money, Reward, or conſideration, for the Making, Signing or Examination of any Weights or Meaſures which have been formerly Marked or Sealed, or ſhall Impoſe or Aſſeſs, or cauſe to be Impoſed or Aſſeſſed any Fine or Amerciament, Fines or Amerciaments without a due and legal tryal of the Offences, for which the ſaid Fine or Fines, Amerciament or Amerciaments are Impoſed or Aſſeſſed, or ſhall otherwiſe miſdemean himſelf in the execution of his ſaid Office, and be thereof lawfully convicted, He ſhall forfeit for the firſt Offence, whereof he ſhall alſo be ſo lawfully convicted, five pounds; And for the ſecond Offence, ten pounds; And for the third Offence, and every other Offence afterwards twenty pounds, to be levyed as aforeſaid, to the uſe of the poor of the Pariſh where ſuch Offence ſhall be committed.

Forfeiture for taking unlawful dues or fees.

And be it Enacted, That whoſoever ſhall be fined or amerced by vertue of this Act, ſhall not be again fined or amerced for the ſame Offence, by vertue of any former Law or Statute.

St. 13 R. 2. 4. Perſons fined by this Act not to be fined upon any former law.

Provided alwayes, That this Act or Statute ſhall not extend to the Rents of Ferms or Lands, or any Corn or Grain, due or payable to any Lord or Lords, or any Colleges, Houſes, or other Societies, by vertue of any Leaſe or Leaſes, or other Covenant or Agreement, but that the ſame during the continuation of ſuch Leaſe, Leaſes, or other Agreements, ſhall be payed, delivered, and performed in ſuch meaſure and form as the ſame hath been payed, delivered and performed, before the making of this Act: And that ſuch meaſure, that is commonly called Water-meaſure, in any Ports, Maritime Towns, or other places, ſhall be ſtill uſed and continued as formerly the ſame hath been; Any thing in this Statute contained to the contrary hereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Rents of ferms of corn excepted.

Water meaſures to be continued.

Provided alſo, That no Juſtice or Juſtices of the Peace, Mayor, Bailiff, or other head-Officer, Church-wardens, Overſeers, or any other authorized by this Statute for the due execution thereof in any point, ſhall be ſued, impleaded, or otherwiſe impeached, for doing or executing their ſaid Offices reſpectively: And if any Suit or Suits hereafter ſhall be commenced againſt them, or any of them, their Agents or Aſſiſtants, touching the premiſſes, That then it ſhall and may be lawful for them, and every of them ſo ſued, or troubled in any Court or Courts whereſoever, to plead the general Iſſue, Not Guilty, and to give this Statute in Evidence, or any other ſpecial matter in Evidence.

The general iſſue may be pleaded.

And in caſe by, or upon this Law, they or any of them ſhall be found not guilty, or the Plaintiff be Non-ſuited, the Defendant or Defendants ſhall recover treble Coſts againſt the Plaintiff for his unjuſt vexation.

Treble coſts for unjuſt vexation.

CAP. XX.

None ſhall be compelled to take the Order of Knighthood.

VVhereas upon the pretext of an ancient Cuſtom or Uſage of this Realm of England, That Men of full age, being not Knights, and being ſeiſed of Lands or Rents, of the yearly value of forty pounds, or more (eſpecially if their Seiſin had ſo continued by the ſpace of three years next paſt) might be compelled by the Kings Writ, to receive or take upon them the Order or Dignity of Knighthood, or elſe to make Fine or the diſcharge or reſpite of the ſame; Several Writs about the beginning of his Majeſties Reign iſſued out of the Court of Chancery, for Proclamations to be made in every County to that purpoſe, and for certifying the Names of all ſuch perſons, and for ſummoning them perſonally to appear in the Kings preſence before a certain day, to be there ready to receive the ſaid Order or Dignity: Upon return of which Writs, and tranſmitting the ſame with their Returns into the Court of Exchequer, and upon other Writs for further inquiry of the names of ſuch perſons iſſuing out of the Court of Exchequer, Proceſs by Diſtringas was thence made againſt a very great number of perſons, many of which were altogether unfit, in regard either of Eſtate or quality, to receive the ſaid Order or Dignity, and very many were put to grievous Fines, and other vexations for the ſame, although in truth it were not ſufficiently known how, or in what ſort, or where they, or any of them ſhould, or might have addreſſed themſelves for the receiving the ſaid Order or Dignity, and for ſaving themſelves thereby from the ſaid Fines, Proceſſe and Vexations: And whereas it is moſt apparent that all and every ſuch proceedings, in regard of the matter therein pretended, is altogether uſeleſs and unreaſonable; May it therefore pleaſe your moſt Excellent Majeſty, that it be by authority of Parliament declared and Enacted.

Writs iſſued for perſons to take the order of Knighthood.

Returns.

Diſtringas.

Fines.

And be it Declared and Enacted by the Kings moſt Excellent Majeſty, and the Lords and Commons in this Parliament aſſembled, and by the Authority of the ſame, That from henceforth no perſon or perſons, of what Condition, Quality, Eſtate or Degree ſoever, ſhall at any time be diſtrained, or otherwayes compelled by any Writ or Proceſs of the Court of Chancery, or Court of Exchequer, or otherwiſe by any means whatſoever, to receive or take upon him or them reſpectively, the Order or Dignity of Knighthood, nor ſhall ſuffer or undergo any Fine, Trouble or Moleſtation whatſoever, by reaſon or colour of his or their having not received, or not taken upon him or them the ſaid Order or Dignity: And that all and every Writ or Proceſſe whatſoever, and all and every proceeding which ſhall here-

No perſon ſhall be compelled to take on him the order of Knighthood, not undergo any fine for that cauſe.

after be had or made contrary to the intent of this Act, ſhall be deemed and adjudged to be utterly void: And that all and every proceſs, proceeding, and charge now depending by reaſon or colour of the ſaid pretended Cuſtom or Writs aforeſaid, or of any the Dependants thereof, ſhall from henceforth ceaſe and ſtand, be and remain diſcharged and utterly void; Any former Law or Cuſtom, or any pretence of any former Law or Cuſtome, or any other matter whatſoever to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding. Stat, 1 E. 2.

CAP. XXI.

Liberty for bringing in of Gun-powder and Salt-peter from Foreign parts, and for the free making of Gun-powder in this Realm.

Miſchiefs by prohibiting importing of Gunpowder.

WHereas the Importation of Gun-powder from foreign parts hath of late times been againſt Law prohibited, and the making thereof within this Realm ingroſſed, whereby the price of Gun-powder hath been exceſſively raiſed, many powder-works decayed, this Kingdom very much weakned and indangered, the Merchants thereof much damnified, many Mariners and others taken Priſoners, and brought into miſerable Captivity and Slavery, many Ships taken by Turkiſh and other Pirates, and many other inconveniences have from thence inſued, and more are likely to enſue, if they be not timely prevented:

Liberty to all to import Gunpowder.

Be it therefore Declared and Enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, and the Lords and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the Authority of the ſame, That it ſhall and may be lawful, to and for all and ſingular perſons, as well Strangers as natural born Subjects of this Realm, to import and bring into this Kingdom any quantities of Gun-powder whatſoever, paying ſuch Cuſtoms and Duties for the ſame, as by authority of Parliament ſhall be limited and ſet down.

All Subjects may make and ſell Gunpowder, and import Salt-peter.

And be it further declared and enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall and may be lawful, to and for all and ſingular his Majeſties Subjects of this his Realm of England, to make and ſell any quantities of Gun-powder, at his and their will and pleaſure, and alſo to bring into this Kingdom any quantities of Salt-peter, Brimſtone, or any other materials neceſſary or requiſite for the making of Gun-powder.

Penalty for putting in execution Letters Patents, Proclamations, &c. againſt this liberty.

And laſtly, Be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons, from and after the tenth day of Auguſt, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God, One thouſand ſix hundred forty and one, ſhall put in execution any Letters Patents, Proclamation, Edict, Act, Order, Warrant, Reſtraint, or other Inhibition whatſoever, whereby the Importation of Gun-powder, Salt-peter, Brimſtone, or other the materials aforementioned, or any of them, from foreign parts, or the making of Gun-powder within this Realm, ſhall be any way prohibited or reſtrained, That then the ſaid perſon and perſons ſo offending, ſhall incur and ſuſtain the pains, penalties and forfeitures contained and provided in the Statute of proviſion and premunire made in the Sixteenth year of King Richard the Second.
